Spring Reveries

I would like to know who has my Psychology test. If it is returned now, I shall be asked not to gossip about it. This is an awful dumb time of the year to borrow a book anybody. Why didn't you do it at the beginning of the year?

We hope that by the time the Engineers have their dance the victor will be fixed. Everyone wants it. Why? Perhaps there's a lot of things wrong.

Such silly questions I ask!

We know the Engineers will make a noble success of their social endeavor tomorrow evening. They are rated for being wily wolves and the dance won't be that exclusive.

I take time now to predict the success of the next and final production of the Dramatics Society. All the members of the cast assure you a brilliant and distinctive evening.

When asked his opinion, Mr. Lottus stated that the cast would do well to clean up the auditorium after they were done.

God, I hate this job! After this I have to go to play practice. No matter where you go, Mark or Barlicker or your mother, they always ask about your column? No. 63 John to u. r. c.

Why doesn't E. E. Scureman return the pencil etc., which she has borrowed from you, over the course of six years— and what on earth does she do with it?

The above, I think, is a fitting finish for such a column as this lindnipe.

Mr. Myers' Poem

O climb with me, my lissome maid, To the moon, and the stars, and the skies. Where love has long in fancy played Aa, my maid, shall play with you.

And shall sing, my maid, to you, Thus never a July (Essay Con), And drift along in the wealth of blue, To the moon, through the milky Wyoming.

And you shall be as one with me, With a kiss that confers all. And we shall live in fantasy, In a three room flat and a hall.

Awakening

Dawn sends the curtain of the night And bathes the earth with searching light. Against the background of the trees The dew has knifed a saffron raze.

The birds fling passegio to the sky All things with wings to one made Burst into voice. The day is here. But my heart life can never rear. Last night my baby died. M. P.

Myers' Poems Published

Robert Myers, a freshman at Bucknell University Junior College, has had two poems accepted by "Bucknell Verse," written by students of Bucknell University and published under the auspices of the Poetry Club of the Women's College. The titles of Myers' poems are: "Moth at Dunk," "Scrub Pine," "Butterfly Wings," and "Hera.

Copies of "Bucknell Verse" are on sale at the college registrar's office. The price is fifty cents per copy.

Shannon's Essay in Contest

Mr. Donald Stillman selected Edson Shannon's essay, "Dires," to be entered in the Atlantic Monthly Magazine Contest. Shannon's essay was chosen from those submitted by Mr. Stillman's English Class. The essay, "Dires," describes the writer's reflections upon witnessing a graduation ceremony. Shannon, an sophomore, is the editorial staff of "Bison Stampede."
Social Notes

Don't Forget The Engineer's Hop

From A Bow-legged Gal To Her Knock-Kneed Paw

Dear Dad,

It's a long time to write because too many things are about to happen. The Engineers' Hop tomorrow night is next on the list.

I guess I've told you that the Dramatics Society are to produce "The Clean-Up" on May 16. One interloper thing is that the play is being held for the ticket sales again this time. On Thursday, the 27th, Robert Armstrong won $7.50 on the last one. Irma Hewett, too, got something over $5. They both encouraged the rest of us by telling us they were out to win again. But I figured that we all have an equal chance, and when you know what happens when a bow-legged person puts her mind to something. An opportunity to win $5 or more makes me perk up my ears. But don't scold, Dad. Really there is another motive for my efforts. I am a little straight-forwardly as I know—well, you know what happens when a bow-legged person puts her mind to something. The other is to seriously consider the possibilities, too, so wish me luck. I'm out for gold.

Ruth, your loving daughter

Visit "Cap and Dagger" Workshop

Victor Navikas and David Williams, accompanied by Professor Keller, visited the work shop of "Cap and Dagger", the campus dramatic organization at Lehigh University yesterday.

Navikas is designing the scenery for "The Clean-Up" which will have charge of its construction. Williams is serving as general assistant to Navikas and, next year, will become his successor, taking complete charge of the work in stagecraft.

Final Debate Planned

Arrangements are being made with Professor Arthur L. Brand to conduct a campus-wide debate, for a debate between the Bucknell University and Junior college teams. According to Dr. Irving, the debate will be conducted between the Juniata College team, this debate, which will be the last of the season, is to be conducted by the Orange or the Parliamentary styles rather than the usual Oxford or Cambridge styles, those who will represent the Juniata College in this context have not yet been selected.

Pre-Med Students Seek Medical College

Bucknell Graduate Conducts Group Through Philadelphia

The Pre-Med Club of the Junior College traveled to Philadelphia on Wednesday, April 17, to inspect the Jefferson Medical College. The trip was made in concert with Deed Sherry, Charles Burns, Professor Tazaker, and Mr. Polite.

Leaving Wilkes-Barre at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, the group encountered heavy snow storms on the mountains, but arrived safely in Philadelphia at 10:30 a.m. From the Clinton Hotel the members of the group went to the Jefferson Medical College, where they were met by Mr. Harry Moses, a former Bucknell student and now a sophomore at the medical school. Mr. Moses conducted the group on a tour of inspection through the chemical and biological laboratories, the lecture halls and the library, which is one of the best medical libraries in the United States. Later Mr. Moses spoke briefly to the group on the best method of preparing for entrance into a medical school. The visitors also heard a lecture by an orthopaedic surgeon in the well-known Philadelphia sculpture.

After lunch the group returned to the amphitheatre to witness an operation for the removal of a brain tumor from a young lady. The operation, performed by four famous surgeons, lasted three and one-half hours.

Main members of the group returned to Wilkes-Barre Wednesday night, but Edwin Scherz, Alice Smolens, Madeleine Sewall, and Dorothy Beuthe remained in Philadelphia until Thursday.

Sen. Baine's Society's Contest Nears Close

The attention of those desiring to enter the prize contest to select a school song, which the Sen. Baine Society is sponsoring, is directed to the fact that the time limit set by the society is rapidly drawing to a close. Entries will be received until 2:35 p.m. F. R. on Friday, May 10.

The rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Write a song to the tune of the Bucknell Alma Mater.

2. Select a symbol or nom-de-plume and send it at the bottom of the song. (Do not sign your own name to your entry.)

3. Place your own name with the symbol or nom-de-plume on a separate piece of paper and seal in separate envelope.

4. Deposit both in the box which will be placed in the library for this purpose.

Professors McCrossen, Keller, and Stillman will act as judges. The result of the contest will be announced at the second annual dinner-dance to be held on the evening of May 23.

GALSON BROS. PROS.
The Lounge And Gamma Chi To The Editor: At the beginning of the year a pleasant airy room was set aside for the Bucknell University Junior College women students. It was then merely a room filled with sunshine and girls, most of whom were strangers to each other. When the room saw friendships rapidly developing, it knew that things would begin happening, because a group of women can seldom get together without some sort of action. One evening the room almost crackled with its pluses in seeing that it contained comfortable maple furniture in addition to the sunshine and girls. Perhaps it was worried for awhile at the combination, but it soon laughed at the noisy ambition that would allow no organization that it might be meaningful for long. It was an "I told you so" expression the day things began really to happen with the forming of the Beta Gamma Chi sorority composed of every woman student with Jean Armstrong at the helm. And things did happen. One evening the room was closed by the rule-crowned ladies pairing there to lay aside a wrap or powder a nose. The Beta Gamma Chi was having a dance. It wasn't long until sunny light was made possible at all times in the room by the addition of lamps and a mirror. A group of people bought with money earned from the dance.

The room was crowded at the delightful tea given for Miss Hughes by the Beta Gamma Chi. Then the girls gave a tea for Mrs. Stillman, who had been made to cool to one of our professors. The room decided that Saturday was great thing.

Very few knew the recent soap-box orations attempted by several of the girls. A finished by Lorina Holbrook with much fire and force. Walls don't talk for itself.

Now the room barbers enthusiasm and a good fellowship atmosphere in addition to girls, sunshine, and furniture. It is sure that the Beta Gamma Chi organization that you're going to hear more of. It's written on the wall.

See You At The Hop

Bucknell University

At Wilkes-Barre, Penna.

The Bucknell University Junior College at Wilkes-Barre is a branch of Bucknell University. The admission requirements at the Junior College are the same as the admission requirements at Lewisburg. Credits earned at the Junior College are Bucknell University credits; they will be accepted wherever Bucknell University is recognized.

Bucknell University has widened its campus to include the Wyoming Valley. Two full years of college work may be taken at the Junior College. The courses offered to freshmen and sophomores at Lewisburg are duplicated at Wilkes-Barre. The University has equipped expensive, modern laboratories at the Junior College in order that satisfactory courses in science may be given. No other institution offers such facilities in Wilkes-Barre. The Junior College is rapidly building up a library of its own under the direction of a professionally trained librarian.

Bucknell University also offers a wide variety of late afternoon and evening courses at the Junior College Building in Wilkes-Barre. Such courses are offered for both graduate and undergraduate credit.

The Bucknell University Junior College has an exceptional faculty. Every member of the staff has had graduate training; several have received doctor's degrees from the leading universities of America. The faculty includes men who have come from the graduate schools of Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Chicago, Cornell, Stanford, Duke, Virginia, and Michigan.

For further information, consult the Registrar, George R. Fain, 29 W. Northampton Street, Wilkes-Barre, Penna. (Telephone W-B 2-6300.)

A catalogue or special bulletins will be mailed upon application to the Registrar.
