JUNIOR COLLEGE TO GIVE NEW COURSES

Dr. Oliphant Will Teach at Lewisburg Next Semester

Because Dr. Oliphant will offer three upper division courses next semester, a few changes must be made in the schedule of history and political science offerings in Wilkes-Barre, Dr. John H. Eisenhauer, director of the Junior College, has announced.

Professor Gage will take charge of all the sections in the History of Western Europe, and he will also offer History 181, a continuation of the course in modern history, to 1815, which will also be offered this semester.

On Mondays and Tuesdays, Dr. Oliphant will teach the United States. The seventh eclipse of the solar system by the moon, which will occur in the United States, will be observed in the United States.

DEBATERS WILL HOLD MEETING TO DISCUSS QUESTION AT MEETING TONIGHT

This evening the debating society will hold an important meeting during which plans for the season will be discussed. Dr. Irving L. Churchill, debating coach, recently announced that this year's debaters are working on a solution of the problem: "Is the power of the President over that of the Congress?"

After a discussion of this topic, the club will hold a new meeting to fill the time recently vacated by Dr. J. O'Neill.

BUCKNELL Tossers Have Good Record

Hold Villanova and Temple Frosh Low Scores

The freshman teams of Villanova College and Temple University took the Junior College basketball team in its first two defeat last Friday and Saturday, respectively, with a total of three points.

The arbiter, however, will note that the Villanova and Temple teams have been defeated so far by the Junior College team.

J. C. SCIENCE WILL OBSERVE SUN’S ECLIPSE

On February 3, the Science Club will observe a twenty-five per cent eclipse of the sun at 5 a.m., a small telescope, provided by Professor John B. Gold, will be erected on the roof of the Junior College. The refraction in the atmosphere will be observed by the refraction in the atmosphere, which will be observed by the refraction in the atmosphere.

NEW STUDENTS MAY ENTER NEXT TERM

DIRECTOR EISENHAUER SAYS A. B. CANDIDATES CAN BE ACCOMMODATED

Students who will complete their work in January at one enter Bucknell University Junior College for work in liberal arts and technical courses in Bucknell College, has recently announced. Enrollments of new students, however, cannot be accommodated.

It seems advisable for me to state, however, that there is no need for students in the Wyoming Valley to lose a half year of time in the matter of completing their education. To those who will finish their preparatory work in the middle of this year, as well as those who were prevented from rolling last September, we extend a welcome to join us in the second semester. We regret that we cannot enroll beginners this semester.

We are also able to call attention to the fact that next semester Bucknell University will again open its junior college after the junior college's two-year affiliation with Bucknell College. The junior college will be run by the Bucknell University School of Business.

Dr. George B. Finch, registrar at the juvenile college, has begun to receive applications for the following positions:

Oscar van Vesse, Professor Hall, James Armstrong, Dorothy Beallinger, Edith Scrow, Professor Whitehead, William McDonald, Anthony Yoder, Paul Walton, Raymond Stevans, Simon Rasten, Mirko Troy, John Dukett, and Fred Saccare.

OUR NEXT ISSUE

Because Thursday, January 31, the regular publication date for the Bucknellian, will be preceded by the first session of the Stampede of the junior college, the issue will be postponed to the issue of Thursday, February 7.

"Queen’s Husband" Ready for Wednesday Production

Dramatics Society To Present Play in College Auditorium

KELLER IS DIRECTOR

With a cast widely representative of the community in the Wyoming Valley, the Dramatics Society will present in the college auditorium on January 31, a three-act comedy. "The Queen’s Husband," by William Shakespeare. The play will be directed by Professor Forrest E. Keller.

The scene of action is laid in a university in the old Rosin, a new country in the present day. The kingdom is in a state of transition, with the new king, Charles I., tending towards a more absolutist control of Parliament. The strong- man, however, is the womanizing rake, the king's brother, the Duke of Buckingham, who is in love with the beautiful woman, the queen. The queen is very much in love with her secretary, Robert, and Robert is very much in love with the queen. The queen is very much in love with her secretary, Robert, and Robert is very much in love with the queen.

The king has a decided distaste for the Duke of Buckingham, and is therefore determined to have the Duke removed from the court. However, the queen is very much in love with the Duke, and is very much determined to have the Duke removed from the court. The queen is very much in love with the Duke, and is very much determined to have the Duke removed from the court. The queen is very much in love with the Duke, and is very much determined to have the Duke removed from the court. The queen is very much in love with the Duke, and is very much determined to have the Duke removed from the court.

On February 15, the club will hold an evening meeting at which Dr. M. Northrup, assistant to the President of Wilkes-Barre, will speak on "The Junior College." The club plans to hold an evening meeting at which Dr. M. Northrup, assistant to the President of Wilkes-Barre, will speak on "The Junior College." The club plans to hold an evening meeting at which Dr. M. Northrup, assistant to the President of Wilkes-Barre, will speak on "The Junior College." The club plans to hold an evening meeting at which Dr. M. Northrup, assistant to the President of Wilkes-Barre, will speak on "The Junior College." The club plans to hold an evening meeting at which Dr. M. Northrup, assistant to the President of Wilkes-Barre, will speak on "The Junior College." The club plans to hold an evening meeting at which Dr. M. Northrup, assistant to the President of Wilkes-Barre, will speak on "The Junior College."
A large reportorial staff on a college paper learns to cope with "some dead wood." It will be our policy, as we see it, to publish as possible. Constant revision of the paper is essential to the policy pursued in the future if that becomes possible, and reporters must be dependable, willing workers, who do their duties punctually and accurately. We must, at least, have some conception of the proper order to the newspaper writer. They must, at all times, cooperate with the editors. If our reporters fail to conform to these basic requirements, they will be dropped from the list appearing in future columns. We always welcome voluntary contributions from the student body. The editors will be glad to interview any students desiring to act as reporters, whenever they have not yet joined the staff.

Getting Our Money's Worth

While all college papers should and often do charge students a fee, there is one method by which a college student may find it impossible, upon occasion, to afford to attend class. Admitting that some absences are perhaps unavoidable, we can, however, find no excuse for so much cutting as has been practiced in recent weeks.

A Geneled Reader

Paul Renville, a pianist, was guest speaker of the students of the Industrial Arts Department. Renville is one of the most promising pianists in the country today. The students, who have been attending his classes for some months, were delighted to have him give a recital for the entire student body. The recital was held in the new auditorium of the school, and was well attended. The program consisted of a variety of pieces, ranging from simple melodies to complex sonatas. The pianist's performance was received with much applause.

Sociology

The Wyoming Valley is one of the most interesting and scenic regions in the United States. It is situated in the northeastern part of the state, and is bordered by the Susquehanna River on the north and west, and by the Delaware River on the south and east. The valley is divided into several distinct sections, each with its own unique character.

The Wyoming Valley is a region of outstanding works in this and in other fields which the "newer historians" are beginning effectively to cultivate.
Student Organizations

The Student Council
Justin O'Donnell, chairman
Dale Galle, secretary
Trent Toole, treasurer

Helen Arms, librarian
Marilyn Stewart, assistant librarian

The Sophomore Class
Justin O'Donnell, president
Dennis MacKenzie, vice-president

Eleanor Scureman, secretary
Ray Hurley, treasurer

The Freshman Class
Alexander Curnow, president
Fred Steenerson, vice-president
Lillian Jarvis, secretary

John Judge, treasurer

The Delta Phi Epsilon Club
Eugene Gillespie, president
James Williams, vice-president

Sallie Hinton, secretary-treasurer

Meetings are held on the first and third Mondays of each month in Room 602.

3. Sen Baiu

Four Basketball Teams

In Intramural League

Besides the popular varsity games, an intramural basketball schedule has been arranged as the result of the efforts of Charles Connors, "20. The league consists of the following four teams: the Frosh Pre-Meds; the Sen Pre-Meds; the Frosh and Sophomore team; and the Blues, a frosh team.

The schedule calls for two games every Wednesday afternoon, from 2 to 4, in one of the Y. M. C. A. gyms until round-robin matches have been completed by the participating teams. At the conclusion of the round-robin, there will be an exhibition game between the 'varsity and an all-star team selected from the faculty and students of the university.

To arouse interest in the undertaking, an exhibition game was played prior to Christmas between the Frosh Pre-Meds and the Soph Pre-Meds, the former winning by the one-sided score of 49-36. Gus Gurnari refereed.

Table Tennis Team Plays

Two more victories were scored by the Junior College table tennis team last month when it defeated the Plymouth Knights of Fyshia, 5 to 4, on December 10, and the South Side Barons, 5 to 1, on December 17. The team, however, was not so fortunate on January 7, when it was defeated by the Y. M. C. A. team, 7 to 2. All these matches were played at the Y. M. C. A.

Blue Bird Candy Shoppe
34 Public Square

35 South Main Street
Lunches Ice Cream Home Made Candy

Meet Me At

THE BOSTON CANDY SHOPPE
49 Public Square

Attention!
All Bucknell Students
Dining In Our Restaurant
Will Be Given Special Rates

GALSON GRILL
Cor. N. Main and Square
GALSON BROS. Prost.

School and Office Supplies
Gifts and Novelties
L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriters

DEEMER and COMPANY
6 West Market Street
WILKES-BARRE, PA.
also Scantil and Hazleton.

Y M C A
Luncheonette

Yankee and Light Lunchees
When up town visit another luncheonette, at

Tuck's Drug Store
5 W. Market Street

"Where the Crowd Meets"

Granville Entertaina
The second number on the Arts' Course of Bucknell University Junior College, featuring Y. L. Granville, was presented in the college auditorium on Monday, January 7. Mr. Granville, a well-known English actor, interpreted famous roles from dramas ranging from time to Sophocles to George du Maurier. A large audience filled the auditorium to witness the program, to which students were admitted free.
New Magazine In Library Collection

"The Telescope"; Astronomical Publication, Given By Gold

A year's subscription to "The Telescope," the illustrated magazine of astronomy, has been given to the Junior College library by Mr. John R. Gold, of Waverly, Mont. "The Telescope" is published in England.

The brief history of this new periodical, as given by the editor in the following paragraph:

"Two years ago a new publication in "The Telescope" appeared. It was published by Dr. J. T. Bickham at the Perkins Observatory, Delaware, Ohio, as a periodical covering chiefly the sciences. In 1873, Dr. Bickham, in the manner of a gentleman, changed the title of the issue to that of a general, popular, illustrated magazine of astronomical events. In June, 1834, the Bond Astronomical Club, an organization affiliated with the Harvard Observatory and composed of professional astronomers and students, was founded by the Eastman Kodak Company, and an article entitled "The Astronomy of Navigation" by Dr. L. Andrews, of the Harvard Observatory.

"Queen's Husband" Ready

(Continued from Page 1)

seems to be sympathetic towards the radical leaders, Dr. Fullman, (Assumed Barrow, and Lee, and Edward Shannon). Although the Princess Anne is in love with the King, he is strongly opposed by her mother, who wishes her to marry a man of her choice. However, in the end, the Princess chooses the man she loves and tries to set herself free of her mother's influence.

Other characters not mentioned in the synopsis are: Major Brint, played by Robert Mclan, and two other soldiers, played by Harvey Harrison and Nicholas B.)

Bucknell University

At Wilkes-Barre, Penna.

The Bucknell University Junior College at Wilkes-Barre is a branch of Bucknell University. The admission requirements at the Junior College are the same as those for Bucknell University. The college is open to all students who complete the Junior College entrance requirements.

Bucknell University has widened its campus to include the Wyoming Valley. Two full years of college work may be taken at the Junior College.

The courses offered to freshmen and sophomores at Lewinsville are duplicated at Wilkes-Barre. The Junior College is rapidly building up a library of its own under the direction of a professionally trained librarian.

Bucknell University also offers a wide variety of late afternoon and evening courses at the Junior College Building in Wilkes-Barre. Such courses are offered for both graduate and undergraduate credit.

The Bucknell University Junior College has an exceptional faculty. Every member of the faculty is an expert in his field, and has received degrees from the leading universities of America. The faculty includes men who have come from the graduate schools of Harvard, Columbia, Chicago, Cornell, Stanford, Duke, Virginia, and Michigan.

For further information, consult the Registrar, George R. Fain, 29 W. Northampton Street, Wilkes-Barre, Penna. (Telephone W-B 2-6330).

A catalogue or special bulletins will be mailed upon application to the Registrar.

John H. Eisenhauer

Director