Sen Baiu Plans Ambitious Program

Boys' Club To Initiate New Members Friday Night In Auditorium

The Sen Baiu Society held its first meeting of the year on Thursday, September 26. Charles Connors, president, presided over the meeting. Dr. Disque, the new faculty advisor was given a vote of confidence and welcome. A group of freshmen were present at the meeting. These freshmen were not as yet formally admitted to the club. Plans were formulated for an initiation ceremony and informal smoker. It is hoped that this event will take place Friday night of this week.

Several members of the club have started work on a playlet to be given in assembly at some future date. The club also intends to hold a dance this year during the Christmas holidays. A committee has been appointed to arrange plans for this occasion.

The Sen Baiu contributed in many ways last year to school life and this year promises to exceed its previous records. Meetings are held each Thursday in Room 314 at twelve thirty.

THE PRESIDENT SAYS—

Last year we had a wonderful organization that was a credit to the institution. The program of the this year's organization has been elaborately mapped out and it is up to the members of the club to make it a success. I hope that members of the both classes shall co-operate harmoniously. The executive committee is open to any suggestions or criticisms that in any way may benefit the association. In conclusion I hope that the club will contribute in a large way to a thorough enjoyment of school life.

Charles Xavier Connors.

Heath And Coughlin Address Student Assembly

The first few speakers on the assembly series which Dr. Eisenhower has arranged, have already addressed the students of the Bucknell University Junior College. On Tuesday, September 17, Reverend Paul S. Heath, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Wilkes-Barre, started the series of talks when he spoke at assembly. The following week Attorney Coughlin addressed the students of the Junior College.

In his talk Reverend Heath endeavored to show how closely allied are religion and education. He sited a humorous version of the Good Samaritan tale in showing that one must have intelligence in order to carry out correctly the teachings of the Bible. Reverend Heath stated that a person needs to have some education in order to be truly religious.

Attorney Coughlin addressed the students concerning the Constitution of the United States. He told about the events which led up to the forming of this great document, as well as the actual writing of the Constitution. Attorney Coughlin then told about the later history of the Constitution and explained various phases of it. Throughout his address he endeavored to impress upon the students the immense importance of the Constitution and just how great an accomplishment it was. Attorney Coughlin made an appeal to the rising leaders of the community to strive to protect and safeguard the spirit, as well as, the letter of the Constitution.

More of these programs are being planned and an effort will be made to bring before the Student Body many of the important leaders of Wyoming Valley.

Doctor Harr's topic will be "Current Banking Problems." An effort is being made to arrange special arrangements for transportation to Lewisburg.

Dramatic Groups To Produce One-Act Plays

RESIGNS POST

DR. HOMER P. RAINEY

Dr. Homer P. Rainey Resigns Presidency

Dr. Rainey Accepts Position As Government Educator

Dr. Homer P. Rainey has considered the opportunity for useful work in the direction of a national youth aid program ample enough to justify resigning the presidency of Bucknell University and to devote his entire time to the task. Dr. Rainey ranks among the younger University executives. He was 35 when he came to Bucknell after four years as head of Franklin College, Indiana. During Dr. Rainey's stay at Bucknell many improvements have been made and many more have been planned. Dr. Rainey leaves the University at a time when its freshman class has the largest enrollment it has had in many years. It was under his supervision the Bucknell University Junior College was brought into existence. The program which Dr. Rainey has directed has been one of constant expansion.

The work which Dr. Rainey will direct is a five-year study of the problem of American Youth, to be financed by a grant of $800,000 from the General Education Board. Special attention will be paid to the needs of youth whose schooling has ended at the age at which public school attendance ceases to be compulsory.

Dr. Rainey is no disparager of the American educational system. He has constantly, however, as president of Bucknell University, stressed the active part which the liberal college and education in general should take in preparing the coming generation to meet the problems of today and in fitting youth for its place in changing social and economic conditions.

STUDENT FACULTY COUNCIL

The Student Faculty Council at its first meeting on Thursday, October 3, held an election of officers. The following were elected: James Ramsey, president; Ralph Ford, vice-president; Irma Hewitt, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Eleanor Hunter, sophomore at Bucknell University Junior College, has the sympathy of the Bison Stampede staff in the recent loss of her mother. Miss Hunter returned from Ohio Wesleyan to attend Junior College.

KELLER IS ADVISOR

The Bucknell University Junior College Dramatic Society will hold a one-act play contest on Friday evening, November 1. All students of the Junior College both regular and special are eligible to participate. Rehearsals began about September 30. The winner of the contest will be selected by all the parents of Junior College students who are present at the contest. The students will be divided into three groups. One of the competing groups will represent sophomores and special students who have already credit for one year or more of college work. Freshmen and special students who do not already have credit for as much as one year of college work, are divided, for purposes of this contest, into two groups. These two groups are the Hither-Freshmen, living in Wilkes-Barre, Parsons, Hudson, Ashley, Plains and the Yon-Freshmen, all others. The Yon-Freshmen group are presenting Ryerson's "Cup of Tea". The play is directed by Shirley Dattner and production manager is William Atherholt. The cast is William Atherholt, Gordon Thomas, Mary Bell, Marie Kopicki.

Ticket sales for the one-act plays will begin very soon. Tickets will be twenty-five cents. Every person selling tickets will be given credit toward the money awards to leading ticket sellers after the next full length production.

Economics Club To Have Active Program

The Economics Club of Bucknell University Junior College have arranged in part their program for the year. The Economics Club is open to all students of the Junior College, regular and special. This organization has a two-fold purpose. First, it is the intention of the Economics Club to bring its members into contact with Wyoming Valley businessmen and community leaders. Second, it provides its members with opportunities for first-hand inspection of factories, mines, financial and mercantile establishments, and other business enterprises. These field trips comprise a good part of the Economics Club program.

A number of special features are planned for the coming school year. These include one joint dinner-meeting with the corresponding campus organization at Lewisburg, discussed elsewhere in this issue; and another joint dinner meeting at Wilkes-Barre. One joint field trip of a more extensive nature, is also being considered. An executive committee has been chosen, consisting of: William Orlandi, chairman; Jack Hurley, John Parkinson, Marie Kopicki, and Ruth Gibbons. For further announcements watch the bulletin board.

Exit Stampede

For what may be the last time you are reading "The Bison Stampede", an attempted literary effort upon the part of a very limited number of the students of Bucknell University Junior College. Last year when this publication had its birth many students were wildly enthusiastic. Last year when school closed three people remained active on the staff of the Bison Stampede. This year we have another story. It didn't take quite a year to cool the enthusiasm of prospective writers. The majority oozed out after the first assignment. For this reason, the showing, a decided lack of interest upon the part of the student body, the Student Council has decided to suspend the publication of "The Bison Stampede" until further notice.

It seems logical that any activity, which cannot command sufficient interest and depends upon the energy of two or three students for its existence is not a just return for the money expended in its functioning. "The Bison Stampede" costs each student $1.50 a semester or $3.00 a year. This expenditure seems unfair in the light of the above mentioned facts. This money could undoubtedly be appropriated for activities with a wider interest and appeal.

It's very probable that a desirable substitute can be found for "The Bison Stampede". Arrangements could be made with the "Bucknellian", the campus newspaper, to secure a certain space in that paper for Bucknell University Junior College news. There would be more interest this year in the "Bucknellian" because of the fact that many former students of our school are now on the campus. Whatever is done the Bison Stampede has joined the "vanishing American".

An Appeal

Mr. Forrest E. Keller, faculty advisor for the Dramatics Society, appeals for well considered suggestions from the student body concerning the Dramatics Society. Suggestions should contain opinions as to the organization of the Dramatics Society. This organization will be built around members who have shown keen interest in the past, as well as, those who promise to show interest in the future. Membership will be based upon this interest in dramatics as shown in their willingness to work. Officers of this club will be Thespians rather than politicians.

The Dramatics Society has definite functions in relation to play productions. It is the efficiency group where all of the detail work of production is worked out. All suggestions will be placed in the box outside of Mr. Keller's office 315 for either Dramatics Society or Economics Club. All suggestions in order to gain recognition must be signed by the full name of the writer.

ALUMNI NEWS

Justin O'Donnell, late political boss of Bucknell University Junior College, is continuing his skyrocketing career as an embryonic James Farley. Mr. O'Donnell has succeeded in getting himself elected as the representative of the Junior Class on the Student Council at Bucknell University at Lewisburg. Mr. O'Donnell is also president of the non-fraternity association. Mr. Tom Mayock, another alumni and one of O'Donnell's chief lieutenants (stooges), is representative of the non-fraternity association on the Student Council. Mr. Mayock may leave Bucknell University to go to the University of Pennsylvania.

Ambrose Saricks, editor of the Bison Stampede last year, was pledged by the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. Other pledges to various fraternities are: James Mollahan, Vincent Loftus, John O'Donnell, George Jacobs, Frank Alexander, and Julius Altman.

The following girls who have been at Bucknell University Junior College for one or two years have gone this year to the following schools.

FORUM

Dear Editor:

I am taking it upon myself to make an appeal to those higher up for assistance in obtaining a phonograph for the auditorium. A majority of the students of both classes have agreed that a move in this direction should be taken. The sophomores will remember the enjoyment derived from the phonograph last year. All students who are lovers of Terpsichore will agree with me that such a purchase would be well made. It is a fact that such an addition to the equipment of Bucknell University Junior College would encourage social activities, as well as aid students to become acquainted.

There are two methods by which such a purchase could be made. First, the money could be appropriated by the Student Faculty Council from the contingent fund. I can see no reason why such a use of the money should not be made. Second, if those in charge of this fund, are, for some obscure reason, not willing to appropriate the money for this purpose, the students themselves would probably consider it worth while to take up a collection for this cause.

I hope, in bringing this matter to the attention of the authorities and student body, I have helped along a cause worthy of occupying this space in the "Bison Stampede".

—Robert Mayock.

Where Woman Is Boss

When Eugene Wright traveled through the Sahara Desert he visited a Taureg village. Here the women act as the men of our day do; and the men, as the women. These women, with immense arms and bosoms, make the laws and declare war or peace. These waddling geese lay down the terms of matrimony, turn their husbands out of their tents, if they flirt. The husbands of these big women own no property, wear veils, act as nurses for the male children, and lose their camels if they are disobedient.

When Mr. Wright arrived at the Taureg camp, he was honored, as the women came to greet him, with their husbands and slaves following. These swishing creatures seated themselves in a circle, whispering and muttering before this strange white man. After Mr. Wright had been served tea, he became quite embarrassed and insulted because the women paid no attention to him nor to any other male present. But, when one is in a Taureg camp, he must eat his share after the wives have finished eating a dozen bulls or so.

One day, Mr. Wright rode through the hot, sandy desert with a youth of the Taureg camp. This young Taureg hadn't drunk a drop of water all day while journeying, even though the desert was like a furnace. When he arrived at the village, he squatted before the opening of a tent, and remained there all night, in the same position and condition. What was he doing? Why, he was courting a girl—only to become her slave later.

But this can't go on forever. Soon the French rule will reach this part of the Sahara, and men will finally assume their rights.

Basketball Has Early Start For '36 Season

Twenty Candidates Report For First Practice In Y. M. C. A.

Basketball, the major sport at Junior College, is to get under way very early this year. Coach Henry Peters has issued a call for candidates and practice is scheduled for every Monday and Friday afternoon. Only two men are left over from last year's squad and with a schedule as difficult as the one arranged for this season Coach Peters will have plenty of work.

The schedule arranged is one of the most difficult of any school in Pennsylvania. It includes practically all first rate teams. Some of the games scheduled are Wyoming Seminary, Temple Frosh, Colgate Frosh, Villa Nova Frosh Hun School, Pennington Prep., St. Thomas Frosh, East Stroudsburg State Teachers' College Frosh, McCann School, Dickinson Seminary, and Bucknell University Frosh.

Approximately twenty students have indicated their interest in the sport. Scott Mills, one of the two surviving players was elected captain last year by the 'varsity squad.

Debating To Announce Program In Near Future

The Debating Club under the guidance of Dr. Churchill is planning to have its reorganization meeting in the near future. At the present time Dr. Churchill is communicating with Professor Arthur Brandon of Lewisburg on the subjects for intercollegiate debate.

Last year, due to a late start, only a few debates were held, notably those with Elizabethtown College, Penn State, and two with Bucknell University. This year Dr. Churchill hopes to have a larger schedule, and with William Orlandi, Robert Renville, and Ralph Ford, returning from last year a highly successful season is looked forward to.

Any student who is interested in debating, and especially those who have had previous experience, is urged to make a contact with Dr. Churchill.

Ford Polls Large Vote In Sophomore Election; Gill Freshman President

During the first few weeks of school the freshmen and sophomore classes of the Junior College elected officers, who will represent them. The freshmen officers are chosen for the first semester only. Many different high schools of the valley were represented in the elections.

In the election of freshmen officers the graduates of Coughlin High School seemed to be preferred, three of the four offices being secured by students from that school. Joseph Gill was elected president of the freshman class, Frederick Miller was chosen vice-president, and James Mayock was named secretary. Judith Beehler of Meyer's High School was elected treasurer of the class of '39.

In contrast to the freshman elections every office in the sophomore class was filled with a graduate of a different high school. Ralph Ford of Edwardsville was elected president; Fred Semmen of Wanamie was chosen vice-president; Mary Huntley of West Pittston, secretary; and Ruth Gibbons of G. A. R. Memorial High School, treasurer.

The week following these elections another election was held to choose students to represent their classes in student council. The two persons chosen by the freshmen class were George Sauers and Donald McHugh. Three representatives were elected by the sophomores, these being Ruth Gibbons, Robert Mayock, and Jack Hurley. The two remaining positions in the Student Council were filled by two students, a man and a woman, elected by the women of the school and the men. The women chose Irma Hewitt as their representative and the men chose James Ramsey.

Glee Club Organizes And Elects New Officers

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Clark, choir leader of the first Presbyterian Church of Wilkes-Barre, has started its reorganization for the coming year. Although there were only a few members remaining from last year, Mr. Clark feels certain that this year's club will outdo any of the past. The response has been so great that at the present time there are thirty-five members in the club with many more expected.

The first meeting was held on Thursday September 26, in the auditorium. Plans for a weiner roast to be held on October 5 were completed. At this meeting the following officers were elected: Ruth Gibbons, president; Hilda Fletcher, vice-president; Margaret Richards, secretary; William Boyle, treasurer.

Mr. Clark has not as yet completed any plans for the club but many programs which are sure to be enjoyed by every one are anticipated.

WAR PETITIONS

During the past few weeks petitions have been placed in the office by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom to give the students of the Junior College who so desired, an opportunity to show their resentment against war by signing a petition advocating peace. So many of the students responded to this cause that more petition papers were called for.

The petitions were placed in the office at the request of Mrs. Charles N. Loveland, the wife of Wilkes-Barre's mayor. The main headquarters of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom is at 532 Seventeenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The faculty of Bucknell University Junior College were active during the past summer. Many did work at other institutions of learning and several travelled through various sections of the United States.

Mr. Daniel Gage, assistant professor of history, attended lectures at the Institute of Public Affairs at Denver University. Mr. Gage visited the "Cheyenne Frontier Days Celebration." This celebration is in reality the parent of all our modern rodeos and is an affair of great importance. Mr. Gage visited the Black Hills of South Dakota and examined the national memorial at Mount Rushmore. The artist in this undertaking is Gutzon Borglum. This work is supported by the Congress.

Mr. Forrest E. Keller spent most of the summer at the University of Chicago working on his doctor's dissertation.

Dr. Crook spent his vacation in Maine with much outdoors and physical work. Dr. Crook is completing a book to be published in November in honor of Professor Corner.

Dr. Eisenhower is scheduled to address the Kiwanis Club of Carbondale. Dr. Eisenhower spoke September 30, at the parent-teacher meeting at St. Johns.

A POEM

MY LECTURE CHAIR

O lecture chair, what incidents has been your lot to see;
What pranks, what jokes, what playful fun have taken place on thee?
How many times have joking students placed a tack on you
And laughed with glee to wait and see it run the victim through?

How many times have skillful hands maneuvered you about
With synchronizing that would take you from the chosen route
Of the posterior end of one who planned on resting there
And left him insecurely on the blank supportless air?

How often have unstable legs been slyly hid from view
To bring the unsuspecting pupil to his Waterloo
To lead him to believe that all was safe, and then before
He knew it, he was roughly placed upon the hard board floor?

How many times have other chairs when hidden in the dark
Sent a proper headline through a parabolic arc
To light some few feet farther on a hard unpadded spot
And wish the chair were some place where all good things are not?

But, none the less, I like you, chair; you served me in good stead.
When lecturer's words grow dull, you make a most alluring bed:
Which oft entices students to a dreamy, airy realm.
Now, likewise being tempted, I'll take the dream-ship's helm.

Bucknell University

At Wilkes-Barre, Penna.

The Bucknell University Junior College at Wilkes-Barre is a branch of Bucknell University. The admission requirements at the Junior College are the same as the admission requirements at Lewisburg. Credits earned at the Junior College are Bucknell University credits; they will be accepted wherever Bucknell University is recognized.

Bucknell University has widened its campus to include the Wyoming Valley. Two full years of college work may be taken at the Junior College. The courses offered to freshmen and sophomores at Lewisburg are duplicated at Wilkes-Barre. The University has equipped expensive, modern laboratories at the Junior College in order that satisfactory courses in science may be given. No other institution offers such facilities in Wilkes-Barre. The Junior College is rapidly building up a library of its own under the direction of a professionally trained librarian.

Bucknell University also offers a wide variety of late afternoon and evening courses at the Junior College Building in Wilkes-Barre. Such courses are offered for both graduate and undergraduate credit.

The Bucknell University Junior College has an exceptional faculty. Every member of the staff has had graduate training; several have received doctors' degrees from the leading universities of America. The faculty includes men who have come from the graduate schools of Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Chicago, Cornell, Stanford, Duke, Virginia, and Michigan.
