Baseball Team Plays
Coughlin High School

The Junior College baseball team played Coughlin High School at the Scott Street diamond. Coughlin won, 8 to 5, with the final score followed almost five hits in five innings. Coach Harry Haroutunian followed men for this game: Andrew Cigakis, Robert Duel, William Wark, first base; Nicholas Gobich, shortstop; Simon Russin, second base; Scott Mills, third base. In the outfield were James Molinahian, Charles Conners, Robert Duell, Joseph Sfakian and Captain Vincent Loftus. Pitchers were Robert Remezycky, Robert Myers, and James Myres. Gobich of Bucknell scored three hits, Bob Pymerch pitched for the Junior College.

The schedule for the remainder of the season has not yet been definitely arranged. A double header will be played with Wyoming Seminary on May 30.

ANNUAL CONVOCATION PLANNED

Exercises To Be Held June 6
In Auditorium

The first annual convocation of Bucknell University Junior College will be held on Thursday evening, June 6, according to a brief announcement by Dr. John W. Rice, dean of the college, which program has yet been planned. The di- rector will work along with the Committee to make arrangements for this import- ant occasion. Dr. Homer F. Raley, President of Bucknell University, will be the main speaker. The "Bison Stampede" will publish full details of the program in the next issue.

"THE CLEAN-UP" SCHEDULED FOR PRODUCTION ON THURSDAY, MAY 16

"The Clean-up," by Barry Connors, will be presented by the Dramatics So- ciety of the Junior College in the auditorium Thursday, May 16. This will be the final production of the school Thespians. Forrest E. Keller, director of dramatics, in a recent interview declared that he was well prepared for the work of the play and feels that their efforts are worthy of the support of the entire student body.

Changes in the personnel of the cast have been made since the cast was first announced in a previous issue of the "Stampede." Irma Hewitt has replaced Elaine Hinton in the character of Mrs. Asewell, a publicist. Miss Hinton was recently involved in an automobile accident. Robert Raffini, '33, has been cast in the role of Brooks Cadwell, a capitalist. Robert Hart, '37, will portray the important role of the politi- cal reporter. Unfortunately, the security to Kenzer Molloy, who, living in Haste- ton, found it impossible to attend its sufficient number of rehearsals. Hart, who gives to this role a highly individualized interpretation, will take the more up-to-date Jimmie Weller, an up-and-coming politician, who is not so well known for her performance as Prince William County's Creek in "The Hasty Band," presented by the Bucknell Play- ers in January.

Scenes used in the last edition the part of Nina Bucknaster, candidate for governor, will be played by Ellen Neubauer. Scenium, Edson Shannon will be John Bucknaster, Nina's husband. Joe Lord, a Bucknell alumnus; Dorothy Marsee, from Collin- ther; Melina Davis as Mrs. Cliff Col- lins, one of the Hearst Islanders; Mr. Woodruff, a civic leader; and Thomas and McDonald will prob- ably play Robert Mr. Woodruff, a civic leader; and Thomas and McDonald will prob-ably play Robert.

Further information on the play will be published in the next issue of the "Stampede.

Twentv-Two Enter Tennis Elimination

Complete Schedule Arranged For Varsity Court Season

At a special meeting of the ten- nis committee, held on April 29, all the members of the team were present. Thomas was elected captain of the team, starting the season with the players thus far selected for the team include Duncan Thomas, John Mc- Donald, and Joseph Scumma. Dennis Thomas and McDonald will prob- ably play Robert Mr. Woodruff, a civic leader; and Thomas and McDonald will prob- ably play Robert.

In preparation for a strenuous sea- son, twenty-two candidates for the tennis team began elimination matches last Friday, April 26. The matches were held at Xerick Court and Bear Creek, will be continued until six members are placed in the tour- nament. Seeds placed in the elimina- tion tournament are John McDonough, Joseph Lord, Thomas Mayock, Robert Melson, George Anthony (all members of last year's team), and Duncan Thomas. These veteran players are re- ceiving active competition from a pro- mising group of candidates, including Robert Mayock, Ripple Schumaker, Victor Navraka, Robert Beach, Joseph Scumma, and Thomas Warkowski. Milton Charrowitz, James Ramsey, Albert R e t h a, Harrison Harvey, Willard Woodrow Vincent, and Joseph O'Donnell, and William Belsinger, on the committee for arranging schedules was ar- ranged by Joseph Lord, manager of the tennis team.

Faculty To Plan Program Series

Informal Speeches Outlining Study Fields Will Be Given

John S. Gold, assistant professor of zoology, and Dr. Francis W. B. Hall, assistant professor of history, were appointed speakers in a series of assembly programs planned by the faculty. Professor Gold spoke on "Animals in History?" Thursday, April 25, and the speakers will be professors WILKIN H. Crook, Irving L. Churchill, and Verne B. Hall.

An important series of assembly pro- grams will be presented by the faculty of Bucknell University Junior College beginning on Tuesday, April 20. During this series different members of the faculty will discuss the student body, the various branches of, and the possibilities for work in, the different fields of study with which they are con- nected. The purpose of the programs is to acquaint the students with these various fields and to help them to choose carefully the field in which they will do special work and to plan wisely their work in those fields. The programs, as planned, should be of special interest to upperclassmen of the Junior College. There are students who are now ready to pursue special work in particular subjects during their junior and senior years. Fresh- men also should be aided by the series of informal talks in planning their future college work.

In the past these programs have been urged, therefore, to make a special effort to be present at every assembly program on and after Tuesday, April 20.

An important registration and the student council have voted full approval of the plan. Definite arrangements for the programs will be announced later.

Engineers Sponsor First Spring Dance

Jenico's Orchestra To Play For "Hop" Tomorrow Evening

The first school social since the spring vacation will be the Engineer's Hop sponsored by the Student Engineer- ing Society of Al Jenico's ten-piece band, a colorful organization which has a wide following among dance lovers of the Valley. The dance will be informal and will last from eight p.m. until twelve midnight. Tickets are fifty cents each.

The committee in charge of the arrangements, are Anthony Yodis, Albert Stewart, and William Belzinger, has worked diligently to make the hop, the first school dance since the successful Sen Hatu dance last February 16, one of the most successful school events of the year. As an added feature, the committee has planned a few surprises in the way of amateur performances to add to the enjoyment of those attending.

The chaperone for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schuyler. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frontenac; Mr. and Mrs. Victor B. Hall and Miss Iva E. DeWitt. Dance programs done in past green week dances have been planned for those who do not care to dance.

The committee has announced that the expense of the dance has been very satis- factory. A large attendance is expected, as this dance is one of the last social functions of the year.

Ticket Sale Contest

Scheduled By Society

The executive committee for the Dramatics Society's play, "The Clean- Up" has announced that the same arrangements will be in force for the coming production as were used for "The Queen's Husband." A ticket sale contest will be spon- sored, the average price of the ticket will be about fifty per cent of the net receipts to be realized among the five students hav- ing the highest sales. A ticket sale contest is open to all students, Twenty-five cents is paid for each ticket sold and those tickets sold for the three one-act plays will be subtracted in the total. Each contestant will receive half credit in this contest.

The ticket sale contest has been renewed for this production because of the success of the project when used in January. In the former contest the winners were awarded prizes of $75.00, $50.00, $25.00, and $15.00 in cash. The possibilities for students to earn a win- ning price by selling tickets or by competing in the final dramatic produc- tion of the year are just as great as they were before.

Dr. Tasker Honored

Dr. Roy C. Tasker, assistant profes- sor of biology, will be honored early this week that he was elected to mem- ber of Sigma XI, honorary science fra- ternity. Members of the group are restricted to graduate science students, is a signal honor granted to Dr. Tasker on the basis of his scholarship and "high scholarship and in ichthyology. The subject of his- tory was the "Evolution of the Flatfish" Transformation of the Congenii" and was in the Flatfish-minnow Flatlycope- us Maculatus."

A New Physics Text

From GALILEO TO COSMIC RAYS: by Harvey Brace Leemon; with photographs by the author and illus- trated by Mrs. Chichia Lasley; Pub. by the University of Chicago Press, Chicago.

This is not a textbook in the ordinary sense. It is rather an enticingly, cleverly illustrated, and interestingly written series of the broadest field of Physical Science. It immediately gains and holds the reader's interest by the simple and direct style of the text and by reference to the everyday events of life. It illustrates the most legible and illuminating type for the discussion of the many objects we encounter in daily life. The book is so written by means of the useful lenses the object depicted may be described in shapes or dimensions, to the advantage of the observer. The material lecture course for those students interested in the cultural aids of science this book would be invaluable. It is replete with illustrations and descriptions supplied with references to more comprehensive readings.

The book is divided into five sections. The present installment follows the usual textbook procedure, commencing with Mechanics, then consid- ering Heat, Electricity and Magnetism, and completing the work with two sec- tions not usually so constituted, Electri- city and Matter, and Waves and Radiation.

The equations, inseparable from the presentation of such a subject, are backed up by animated call for identifying the object or by a common object of this field, forming the problem ex- position. Usually, there are illustrative problems to further aid in "putting the ideas into perspective."

The concept of Energy is emphasized and the reader is introduced to the extension of the chapters. The repetition is well placed and clarified well this most fundamental subject.

The approach to Electricity and Magnetism is historical in character and emphasis is placed upon the ex- periments as well as upon their dis- coveries. The common experiences used for illustrating the general idea are both restful and the ideas must of necessity be formulated into a whole by analogy, and illustration of a broad- er character.

The latter two parts of the book deal with Electricity and Magnetism and with Waves and Radiation, and are separated by a section of Bush-Hull diagrams, which are published under the auspices of Rop- er and Gable, and "The Kelvin" of Sir Daniel. The titles of Myers' prayers are: "Moth at Dunk," "Scrub Pine," "Butterfly," and "Hear!"

Copies of "Bushnell Verse" are on sale, and Mr. Register's office. The price is fifty cents per copy.

Shannon's Essay in Context

Mr. Donald Stillingdon selected Edward Shannon's essay, "Dirge," to be entered in the "Atlantic Monthly" essay contest. Shannon's essay was chosen from those submitted by Mr. Stillingdon's class for consideration. Shannon, a sophomore, is on the editorial staff of "The Bison Stampede."

Don't Forget The Engineer's Hop

Review And LOOKING AHEAD

Excerpts from "Gasa Bucknelliaenium" — Honorary Degrees, 1935-1936, Bucknell University. The Sigma Nu Sigma

In the second semester of the school year 1934-1935, which furnished so much outstanding talent to Bucknelli- u's "Hail of Fame," there appeared an organization bucknellian Sigma Nu Sigma. This exclusive club had the self-styled privilege of branding, "sharks," as the game was in tag, and was formed primarily for the pur- pose of bettering Bucknellian athletic recreation. Among its members were Willard O. "Bill" Reiff, "America's Male Sweetheart" of stage and screen fame; and James Ramsey, one of the best and most popular "old men" of Bucknell. There is no one with any brains around the school anywhere who can name our room and commune chief with our own name.

Social Notes

Dr. Tasker spent the spring vacation in Ibiza, which he visited with friends and where he did research work in the Cornell University laboratories.

Eleanor Scurman entertained at an afternoon tea at her home on Saturday, April 22. The following persons were present: Jean MacKeelby, Helen Arneri, Beverly Harris, and Les Devore.

Peggy Austin, Iris Hewitt, Betty Bit-tenbender, Mary Huntley, Agnes Wolf.

Jean Arneri and John Harris and Joseph Cavan, Sallie Hinton, Melissa Davis, Marjorie Richards, Fletcher, Ruth Gibbons, and the hostess, Mrs. Scurman, were present.

Sallie Hinton, who was injured in an automobile accident, has returned to school after having been confined to her home for several days with an ingrown knee.

Jimmy Williams spent several days of the vacation as the guest of friends in Philadelphia. Other students visiting in Philadelphia were Gerard Gold- en and Robert Mayock.

Helen Arneri sailed on April 10 for a ten-day cruise to Bermuda.

Jean MacKeelby spent a vacation in Atlantic City.

Annie Sheeseman visited friends in Cornwall, N. Y., for several days during the vacation.

Don't Forget The Engineer's Hop

From A Bow-legged Gal To Her Knock-Kneed Paw

Dear Dad,

I haven't much time to write because too many things are about to happen. The Engineers' Hop tomorrow night is next on the agenda.

I guess I've told you that the Dramatic Society is planning to produce "The Clean Up" on May 14. One interesting thing is that they're holding the ticket sales again this time. Remember Jean Armstrong won $75.00 on the last one. Iris Hewitt, too, got something over $5. They both discouraged the rest of us by telling us they were out to win again. But I figured that we all have an equal chance, and well, we all knew what happens when a bow-legged puts her mind to something.

An opportunity to win $5 or more makes me perk up my ears, but don't count on it. Ready there is another motive for my efforts. I offer this as straightforwardly as I know - with a blush and all for this, one of my last chances to back and boost a Junior College enterprise. The off-ran-ran spirit wills strong when I think of the fun I've had here. The other kids seem to be seriously considering the possibilities, too, so wish me luck. I'm out for gold.

Bye,

Your loving daughter,

"Bow-Legs"

Vistit "Cap and Dapper Workshop"

Victor Navikas and David Williams, accompanied by Professor Keller, visited the work shop of "Cap and Dapper," the campus dramatic organization at Lewisburg yesterday.

Navikas is designing the scenery for "The Clean Up" and will have charge of its construction. Williams is serving as general assistant to Navikas and, next year, will become his successor, taking complete charge of the work in stagemaker.

Final Debate Planned

Arrangements are being made with Professor Arthur L. Brander, associate director of debating, for a debate between the Bucknell University and Juni- or College teams. According to Dr. Irwin L. C. Mallory, director of the Junior College team, this debate, which will be the last of the season, is to be con- ducted on a topic other than the usual Oxford type. The debaters who will represent the Junior College in this contest have not yet been selected.

Pre-Med Students See Medical College

Bucknell Graduate Conducts Group Through Phila. School

The Pre-Med Club of the Junior Col- lege traveled to Philadelphia on Wed- nesday, April 17, to inspect the Jeffer- son Medical College. The trip was made in the company of Charles Burns, Professor Tasker, and Mr. Paint.

Leaving Wilkes-Barre at 8:40 a. m. on Wednesday morning, the group encoun- tered heavy snow storms on the mountains, but arrived safely in Phila- delphia at 10:20 a. m. From the Clin- ton Hotel the members of the team went to the Jefferson Medical College, where they were met by Mr. Harry Mose, a former Bucknell student and now a professor at the medical school. Mr. Mose conducted the group on a tour of inspection through the chemical and biological laboratories, the lecture halls and the library, which is one of the most beautiful medical libraries in the United States. Later Mr. Mose spoke briefly to the board and introduced the group at the amphitheater, where the school's visitors' center was witnessed an operation for the removal of a brain tumor from a' young lady. The operation per- formed by four famous surgeons, lasted three and one-half hours.

Many members of the club returned to Wilkes-Barre Wednesday night, but Edith Schreyer, Alice Shands, Made- line Sears, and Dorothy Beals were present in Philadelphia until Thursday.

Sen Bauli Society's Contest Nears Close

The attention of those desiring to en- ter the prize contest to select a school song, which the Sen Bauli Society is sponsoring, is directed to the fact that the time limit set by the society is rapidly drawing to a close. Entries will be received until 1:30 P. M., on Friday, May 10.

The rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Write a song to the tune of the Sen Bauli Alma Mater.

2. Select a symbol or non-de-plume and sign it at the bottom of the song. (Do not sign your own name to your entry.)

3. Place your own name with the symbol or non-de-plume on a separate piece of paper and seal in separate envelope.

4. Deposit both in the box which will be placed in the library for this pur- pose.

Professors McCrossen, Keller, and Stillman will act as judges. The result of the contest will be announced at the second annual dinner-dance to be held on the evening of May 29.

Bucknell University

At Wilkes-Barre, Penna.

The Bucknell University Junior College at Wilkes-Barre is a branch of Bucknell University. The admission requirements at the Junior College are the same as the admission requirements at Lewisburg. Credits earned at the Junior College are Bucknell University credits; they will be accepted wherever Bucknell University is recognized.

Bucknell University has widened its campus to include the Wyoming Valley. Two full years of college work may be taken at the Junior College. The courses offered to freshmen and sophomores at Lewisburg are duplicated at Wilkes-Barre. The University has equipped expensive, modern laboratories at the Junior College in order that satisfactory courses in science may be given. No other institution offers such facilities in Wilkes-Barre. The Junior College is rapidly building up a library of its own under the direction of a professionally trained librarian.

Bucknell University also offers a wide variety of late afternoon and evening courses at the Junior College Building in Wilkes-Barre. Such courses are offered for both graduate and undergraduate credit.

The Bucknell University Junior College has an exceptional faculty. Every member of the staff has had graduate training; several have received doctor's degrees from the leading universities of America. The faculty includes men who have come from the graduate schools of Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Chicago, Cornell, Stanford, Duke, Virginia, and Michigan.

For further information, consult the Registrar, George R. Faint, 29 W. Northampton Street, Wilkes-Barre, Penna. (Telephone W-B 2-6330.) A catalogue or special bulletins will be mailed upon application to the Registrar.
