Important Actions Taken By Council

Armstrong Elected To Body, Committee Plans Constitution

Five actions taken by the Student Council at its meeting on November 27 were presented for presentation to the Council. This action was taken on the recommendation of the Students Council, president of the Council, of a committee to draft a permanent constitution. As members of this committee, Mr. D. Armstrong, president, John R. Gold, Joseph Salaburg, and Alexander Curnow.

The drafting committee was requested to consider the advisability of using the present name "Student - Faculty Congress." Since both faculty and students participate in the deliberations and sessions of the body, it is believed that the latter would be a more appropriate name than the former.

The members hope to have the report of the school year next year for a permanent constitution for the body. They hope that the chairmen of the faculty and by members of the faculty, and the chairmen of the Student Council, John S. Gold, chairman of the drafting committee.

Definite policies respecting the choice of the officers of the several student organizations have been established. In some cases this applies to the possession of special skill, the body has been able to see that students are not equally talented in the matter of managing the performances given by the Dramatic Society, or in the matter of editing the school paper. Here is a definite question which with the committee appointed to draft the constitution must be answered.

"Closely related to this question is the matter of being able to make students in extra-curricular activities. Perhaps it will be far more effective to institute a point system and set up a maximum number of points a student may earn in any one semester. If some such plan should be adopted, it will be necessary to evaluate in terms of points all the offices in the several organizations. This is a subject to which careful thought must be given. The drafting committee will not be embarrassed in its work by rigid instructions. The members of the committee will doubtless approach this question with open minds.

The REGISTRAR SAYS:

The Forum

O Temporal! O Mores!

What on earth are we coming to? It's getting so harmless, law-abiding citizens cannot repair to the library of Alma Mater for a quiet study in peace and study any more. On all sides we hear of college students cf animated conversation, and other nonsense. The students seem unconcerned, but they haven't, by misfortune, stumbled upon a Chinese kindergarten.

To our humble attempt to admonish the offenders by telling them that quiet should be observed in libraries, by keeping a cold stare or a curdled lip. Mise aside, we are useless in our efforts to tell these stubborn individualists gently, but firmly, that they have no business to control their tongues a little more, and not to give the impression that they are descendants of the builders of the Tower of Babel. Perhaps it would help matters to order them to leave the library, and ask them to invite visitors to remain in the library if they can make babies behave.

Sophocles.

Does anyone know of a satisfactory definition for certain annoying, egotistical, intolerable, innominable, self-centered, pejorative, contemptible individuals who cause the disturbance in the library, and who become hypochromatic, igniting, incorruptible, poisoing, disgraceful, disinablistic, and innocently aggrieved? If Miss Hughes is down on quiet feet, what are they to do?—Xanthippus.

As I See It

Library Hours
School days: 7:30 to 5:10
Librarians: 9:00 to 5:00

Reserve books: 30 cents for each hour overdue.

One-week books: five cents for each day overdue.

Reserve Book Regulations
Reserve books go out at 4:00.
If there be more than one copy, one copy only goes out at 4:00.
If there be ten copies, five may go out at 2:30, four at 4:10, and one at 4:30.
Reserve books are due at 8:00 the following morning.

Because of the unfortunate disappearance of books from the reserve section, it has become necessary to adopt a new procedure. A student desiring a book from the reserve section must first take the book from the reserve book shelf. Then he must fill out a reserve book slip and give this to the librarian or the library assistant.

When through with the books, the student must return the book to the reserve section of the library. When the last student has returned the last reserve book, the reserve section is to be closed.

The Reserve Register
No reserve books may be taken from the reserve section of the library.

Mr. Sophomore

Because of the great demand for The Glen Stampede, the circulation department is forced to reserve two copies of the two issues.
J. C. DEBATING SOCIETY MEETS

Plans Are Being Made For Long-Awaited Activities.

At the second general meeting of the Debating Society last Thursday evening, Dr. L. E. Millich, coach of debating, gave a short talk in familiar terms to the members with the general program of the club. After a discussion concerning possible subjects for debate, the coach appointed James Ramsey, Edward Hartmann, and Robert Price to investigate topics and report to the next meeting. The subject for consideration is the munitions trade, the socialization of medicine and the government power program.

Ambrose Saricak, a member of last year's squad, gave a brief talk on the merits and methods of brief-drawing. The society will meet at 3:15, when each member will be expected to present a specimen brief.

Views of the Radio Question

The movement to purchase a radio or the idea of the College gaining momentum and has won widespread approval among the students. Various members of both classes have expressed the opinion that a radio would be a benefit and a pleasure, but in order to purchase an acceptable set, it will be necessary for the students to contribute 25 cents.

James Miller, vice-president of the sophomore class, has expressed the opinion that "a radio would be a practical and an aesthetic blessing." He has also observed that all students not in the junior or senior classes can obtain a radio at Roy's.

The chairman, president, Alex- ander Curnow, says: "Our present victory is hardly adequate for our needs. The sum of twenty-five cents is insufficient to buy a radio at Roy's."

Radio "Tune" was further expressed by Bob Beach, who feels that our class should add the "pay" that a radio would put into our league.

James Milliken, a member of the sophomore class, says: "If all members of the Junior College have a radio, I think it's a great idea."

Dr. Eisenhauer has given his approval to the plan with the condition that the radio, if purchased, must be used under the conditions set forth by the administration.

The first meeting of the freshman class remarked that "a radio is a wonderful, truly profitable enjoyment for our leisure time."

Maxwell Edwards, who is in large part responsible for this movement, says: "Now is the time for action; we have talked about a radio long enough."

It is hoped that some definite steps will be taken to collect a fund without delay.

Christmas Merry-Making

Now all our neighbours' chimneys smoke, and Christmas logs are burning; Their ovens they with baked meats choke, and all their spits are turning. Without the chimney fire to spoil; And, if for cold it had to die, We'll burn it in a Christmas pie. And evermore be merry.

Then wherefore in these merry days Should we, I pray, be duller? No, let us sing some roundelay. To make our mirth fuller, And whilst thus inspired we sing, Eat all the fine things we bring. Woods and hills and everything
