New President of Economics Club

MEMBERS TO VISIT THE PLANT TUESDAY

By TED WOLFE

At a recent meeting, the Economics Club elected the following members to office:

President: Eugene Repotski

Vice-President: John Higgins

Treasurer: Frank Wheeler

At the same meeting, 25 new members were admitted to the Club. This number brings the membership to a total of 60. The new members were given an outstanding welcome by the Club officers.

history of its activities.

At the request of the club on November 11, Mr. Repotski, who is an assistant economics professor, will address the students and show magnificent pictures of his work done in one of Standard's plants.

Recently the Club members were addressed by Attorney David H. Flood. At present, the Club is planning to visit the New York Stock Exchange and the Chase National Bank.

LET'S ATTEND TONIGHT'S GAME

At the outset of the fall semester over 1,000 student passes were issued for use at the Wilkes College Athletic contest. Yet figures received from the Dean's Office reveal that only 394 students attended the game with Keystone, while only 290 were present at the contest with New York A & M, making a total of 534 students for the two home games played. If this trend of indifference continues, there will be more football players in the stadium than student fans. These figures disclose an appalling lack of school spirit. Only a team with the spirit and drive that would be able to tomak such a splendid record in the face of this deplorable student apathy. Not only do most Wilkes students lack college spirit, but they fail to recognize food ball. It is an accepted fact, that the Colonels play the best football in the nation. Students, however, have stated that they prefer to attend high school football games because they have color. Such an attitude is difficult to understand, for if these same students would attend the Wilkes games, they would fill stands consequently adding all the color and spirit of a high school contest. Moreover, they would see a grade of ball far superior to that played by any secondary school.

It's time to wake up! Wilkes students unanimously voted to have a football team. If the team is wanted, it certainly should be attended. Moreover, if anyone doubts the capabilities of the Wilkes gridders, he should make it a point to attend tonight's game. If he is present, we're sure he will be convinced his failure to attend previous games has been a mistake. No one should miss tonight's game with Lycoming College.

We have a fast strong, alert team. Be alert enough to see for yourselves.

AMERICA'S GREAT HERITAGE

At 8:45 yesterday morning, America's Heritage in the shape of the Freedom Train rolled into Wilkes-Barre. This train, brought into our valley those precious documents which expound our American way of life. The people here had an opportunity to gaze upon the original documents that shine like beacons in the history of the world. Perhaps never again will the people in the valley get a chance to see, in their original form, the Declaration of Independence, U.S. Constitution, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and other famous documents. The young school children also had an opportunity to see history in the making. The stay of the Freedom Train was so short that many people fail to see it. Last night it moved out of Wilkes-Barre and on across the nation to give hundreds of thousands of Americans an insight into the soil, fields and industries of the great wheat plains of the middle west and the giant forests of the Pacific, a chance to see the backbone of "Our American Heritage."

WILKES BEACON Invited To Enter S. S. Contest

FIRST PRIZE $500.00

The editors of TOMORROW magazine have invited the students of Wilkes College to participate in the Second Annual College Writers Short Story Contest. The contest will be open until December 31, 1937.

The best short story will win a first prize of $500 and the next two will receive a $100 and $50 prize. All manuscripts submitted will be considered for publication, and the editor has the right to alter or correct the possibility that no winners will be announced. All manuscripts will be satisfactory for publication. The magazine pays $125 and has previously afforded the entrants an additional $500 for the work of some of the winners.

The fact that TOMORROW magazine has drawn high acclaim and respect from the literary world is an indication that this contest will be followed closely by young writers who desire to see their work in print.

The board of judges will be composed of two famous authors and critics, Professor Mark Schorer of the University of California, and Professor E. W. Fry of Dartmouth, and two prominent editors of publishing concerns, Professor F. B. M. Estlin and Mr. Mc Cormick of Doubleday. The judges will be selected in collaboration with the writer's name, print, and college attended. Each entry must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and should be addressed to:

ALUMNI NEWS --

The Alumni Association is planning a Alumni Day on December 27, 1947 at Hotel Sterling, Co-chairmen of the event are John Novak and Charles C. Rosenblum. All alumni and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Among the Wilkes Alumni who have accepted teaching positions is Paul Elvidge, who will take a position at Bucknell University. Ruth Birk is a junior high school teacher in Philadelphia. Ruth Evans and Alberts Novak are teaching in the high schools of their home towns. Another alumna teaching in the Philadelphia schools is Louise Rumfard.

Announcement was recently made that Doris Smith, South Cornwall, has been appointed Medical Secretary to Mitchell Davis of this city. Jane Magro married Robert Lawton on June 26 in Wilkes-Barre. They will reside in Chicago.

Rita Wertheimer is taking her B.A. degree in Education at the University of Missouri. Jeannie Doris is a student at Scranton State Teachers Hospital. Andrew Kerr are at Lehigh University. Herbert Ashley is engaged in mechanical engineering. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Calmar are at the University of Illinois, while Walter is working on his Ph. D. in Chemistry.

Carol Ruth is a junior editor for the American Institute of Physics in New York City. Tom Trethaway has accepted a position at Scranton Hospital. Alice Rothwell is teaching English at Harriburgh.

Wilton Students Reported Missing

No Reward Offered

Rein has reported, but what has happened to Professor Feelfewell?

Many requests have been received asking for more of the popular college columnist. Famous Grandpa and Grandma Feelfewell, Jock Feelfewell, Jr., Dorothy Feelfewell, and Kay Klaxon, Kay Klaxon, and Dorothy Feelfewell, and William Feelfewell. Willer wishes to make it known that he can write an article on the Feelfewell columns, and he does not want to see his columns appear in any other magazines or newspapers. Upon further investigation it was revealed that he is not going to print any columns of his either. This is one of the few instances in which the Editor agreed completely with himself.

The question remains; will there or will there be no more of the Feelfewell columns?

If, by some odd accident, Professor Feelfewell reads this notice he will be happy to write his columns and begin to scribble.

Thousands View Freedom Train
By RUSI WILLIAMS

Thousands of Wyoming Valley residents greeted the Freedom Train at an official welcoming excerpts, high-lighted by prominent speakers and colorful high school bands, yesterday morning at the Northampton Street station in the direction of the Lehgly Railroad.

Promptly at 9:00 A.M., ceremonies began with Rev. Hess, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Gilchrist, crack the General Chairman of the Freedom Train Committee, Wadus William Henry, who after speaking, started the program proper by having Louis, a member of the Nativity of St. Stanislaus Band, sing The Star Spangled Banner. Father Francis Costello, of the St. Mary's Church on South Washington Street, gave the invocation and the playing of the national anthem, which was followed by Mary Students from St. Joseph's Academy, Northampton, singing the National Anthem.

Members of the Mayor's Alum Group, including students from Wilkes College, Quaker City's journalism classes were then given a preview tour of the train's exhibits. Students of the Valley schools started their tour. The city and state police, the city firemen, and the train's police and capable crew efficiently handled the large crowd, which overflowed onto Northampton Street and Sullivan Avenue.

Of particular interest to the students of Wilkes College was the copy of the 45th edition of the North Briton which was edited by John Wilkes. A placard below the paper states: "Wilkes, a stout champion of personal freedom, was later consistent friend of American colonists in their struggle for self-government."

A copy of the first book printed in America, the Bay Psalm Book dated 1646 and original of the most important documents in the country's history, were on the public display.

Chinese Students To Arrive Soon

Misses Irene Wang and May Way, Chinese students who were admitted to Wilkes College for the fall semester, are expected to arrive here in the institution sometime next week.

Both girls finished school in China and applied for admission to Wilkes College several months ago. They arrived after making their way from the United States by a long trip and the occasion of their admission to this college, they were given a warm reception and a joyful reception by the students and faculty of the college.

It was expected that they would arrive in time to participate in the activities of the fall season, which began October 10th. It is expected that they will attend all classes and take all the same courses as their American classmates.

SPORTS BEACON

By TOM MORAN

Boy is this writer glad that he didn’t have to come forth with a few of those brilliant predictions last week. Being saved of writing a limb two weeks in a row would be too much for any prophet to take. And just as sure as term papers follow semester’s we’ve had Pickles to shellack National Junior College by 40 points since the Doylestown crew only beat New York A & M eleven by a 7 to 0 count.

From deep in the crystal sphere comes this startling wild stab at what the score should be if they pay any attention to this department: Wilkes 13, Lycoming 7.

Joe Marino, who resides in the Boy’s Dormitory, spent considerable time not too long ago trying to organize a Wilkes College boxing team, but the school officials couldn’t quite see it. Why not? After all, there must be some place in the valley—with two beak bustin’ gyms, one over the Strand Theatre and the other in the Heights section of the city—for such an organization to train. As far as opponents are concerned, there are plenty of them. Let’s look into it.

Unofficial word from the Wilkes College football managers state that football players—starting with Friday night’s game—will drink a new brew guaranteed to pep up the boney structures. It’s called Amina Cola. Early reports have it that the stuff is more powerful and more effective than Oskamanzola—which loses its punch in wet weather.

Tonight will be the last time this year that Wyoming Valley football fans will have a chance to watch a grid game under the arc lights when Wilkes will battle against the visiting student’s gridiron battle out with Lycoming Colle, formerly Dickinson Seminary of Williamsport.

Unlike most of our games this season, with the exception of Army Junior Varsity and King’s College, tonight’s engagement will be a tough battle. Lycoming will come to the coal regions well fortified with experience ball players and quite a bit of the know how when it comes to lugging the old pigskin. Don’t be surprised if the Colonels don’t run away with the show tonight. As was mentioned earlier in this column the score will favor Wilkes by about six points.

THE AXE SHARPENING DEPARTMENT—Last year it was John Murphy, who was then sports editor of the King’s Crown, and now his two guys by the handles of Litller and Kehdi who have decided to enter their complaint in the last issue of the Crown about this department. Tonight Wilkes by six touchdowns over the Northampton Street college.

Murphy passed on to better things and in all probability these two will pass on to the back of a dancing briefcase, tells us that he has completed arrangements for a little engagement on November 26 at the West Side Armory, which will see two of the top misters of the country, Tony Pellone and Gene Shian, in a 10-round world welterweight bout. Al Florez’s postmates will make up the undercard and fans will probably see such top-flight boxers as Tony Jess, Tony Baldoni, and Bobby Lloyd of Kingston, who scored his 12th straight win at St. Nick’s Arena in New York last Monday night.

The Wilkes College Letterman’s Club will hold an important meeting in the Chase Hall Lounge on Monday night at 7. Paul Thomas, secretary of the organization, has requested that all members of the Letterman’s club attend as this meeting will be held for the purpose of discussing the social calendar to be formed by the group for the next two semesters. Nomination of officers will also be held.

COWBOYS, KATIES RECORD TOUCH FOOTBALL WINS

The third week of competition in the Wilkes College Intramural Touch Football League finds two clubs in a dead heat for the top place. Both squads have a season’s record of 0 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie.

The Cowboy six is holding down the second place spot with a three win record of 0 losses and 1 tie. The Katies are in third place sporting a three week mark of 1 win, 1 loss, and one tie. Filling out the rest of the league standings are the Radicals, Clowns, Colonels, Acorns, and Dorm, none of whom have as yet won a contest.

The two league leaders have displayed plenty of power in their early contests, but one of the lower place clubs have promise of developing into strong aggregations as experience ripens the participants of the six-man touch football activity. Neither of the two top-place clubs have met the Katies club which may turn out to be one of the most powerful in the league. Wednesday the Katies registered the biggest score yet recorded in the league by defeating by a 28 to 6 count. The Katies failed to score in the first half but opened up with a pair of house assault in the second frame to rack up four six-pointers and two extra points.

Also on Wednesday the IRC tipped off another pair of wins to 0 against the second place Cowboy club. The IRC scored one in each period to take its second straight win of the season.

Magazine Agency Established Here

A student magazine agency has been established on the campus. This agency was conceived at the start of the fall semester when a representative of Time Inc., with the consent of the College Administration, added Wilkes to its list of designated college titles for the nation. Magazines that are offered through this agency are: Time, Life, Fortune and the Architectural Forum. These publications may be secured at the greatly reduced annual rates of: Time $4.75, Life $4.25, Fortune $5.00, Architectural Forum $1.00. Along with the Time chain, the agency is also set up to process orders for over six hundred other leading American Magazines.

The authorized representative for the Student Magazine Agency at Wilkes College is Joe Savitz.

Wilkes Favored To Win Fifth At Kingston Field

KICK-OFF 8:00 P. M.

By TOM MORAN
Beacon Sports Editor

Old Man Winter will be patiently waiting to lock the door on the Wyoming Valley’s 1947 night football after tonight’s game when Coach George Balston’s blue and gold Colonels will play host to Lycoming College eleven at 8 in Kingston Stadium.

Still two games away from completing this year’s schedule Wilkes gridiron will be fighting hard to get back into the win ball after their six deadlock against National Junior College of Dunleistown last Saturday afternoon. To date this season the Colonel aggregation has compiled a record of four wins, one loss, and one tie. Tonight the Rambos will be fighting for the privilege of recording the next entry in the win column.

Unlike several of the past contests, tonight’s battle will see both teams about evenly matched. Lycoming, known until this year as Dickinson Seminary of Williamsport, is nobody’s fool on the gridiron and a sample of the power hidden in the down-state’s grid machinery was demonstrated in its contest against Wyoming Seminary three weeks ago when Lycoming handed the favored prep school eleven an 8 to 6 tamping.

From all reports Lycoming possesses a top-notch offensive and isn’t lacking too much in the defensive side of the game. Tony Miele, who gave Wilkes a bucketful of worries last year, even though the local lads emerged victorious 20 to 6, is back in the quarterback berth this season and can be counted upon to be just about number one fly in Coach George Balston’s quartet.

The Colonels’ defense on the Colonels’ side of the fence both defensively and offensively the club looks good. Several times during past contests weak spots have cropped up, but some quick work on the part of the institution’s mentor remedied the trouble.

The line has been playing excellent ball all season. Such regulars as Bob Gorgas, George Lewis, Walter Hendershot, Sammy Elias, and Gerard Washko have been playing fine ball. One of the advantages this year’s club has had is in the second and third strings linemen. They are all experienced ball players who can be counted on to play first class ball. Captain Knapich, Jim Trumbower, Bill Lance, Norty Odshinski, Ed Gill, Bill Eckert, Henry Heinenman, Mel Barry, Gerald Manning, Bill Borman, Elliott Gates, Charlie Knopp, and Ted Borton are all on the list of reserves who may see action against Lycoming.

LEE VINCENT

The Spanish Club will hold a 10th Costume Ball at the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Sterling on Friday night, November 21. Lee Vincent, probably the Valley's most popular orchestra, will provide music for the affair from 9 to 1. Vincent's orchestra has played for many of Wilkes's dances in the past, and enjoys great popularity both here and in the neighboring towns. As an added attraction to the program there will be a professional floor show patterned after a Spanish theme. Tangos and Sam- bula will also be featured.

Three prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. One each will be given to the smartest and the weirdest with the most attractive costume and one to the person with the most unique costume. There will be no admission charge for Wilkes students.

Chairsman for the dance is Norman Baum, who will be assisted by the following:

Posters, Trudy Johnson, Art Spangler and Judy Howard.

Prizes, Leon Markowitz and Lee Weberberger.

Publicists, Russell Williams, Sheldon Fried and Thomas Latsky.

Pep Sing, Sheldon Fried, Vincent Macri and Robert Byrd.

At the conference, was read. Mr. Carey suggested that the letter be referred to some interested organization and the matter be investigated.

Mr. Templeton stated that the audit of the books is completed and Mr. Bocci suggested that a treasurer's report be given at each meeting of the Council, no decision being reached on his motion.

Mr. Bocci asked the aid of the Council in publicizing the last two football games and Mr. Templeton appointed Paul Callahan, John Burak, and Marita Sheridan to a committee for that purpose.

A temporary committee for co-ordinating the activities for which will be held Tuesday, November 18, was appointed. Henry Collins and Paul Thomas will be in charge of the junior class, John Burak will be in charge of the sophomore class, and Charles Templeton and Brody will be in charge of the freshmen.

CLAYTON BLOOMBERG

Many people in our valley, like people all over this country of ours, love good music. But are there any really good places where people can go for good music when they go out for fun? Not many. And yet there are some wonderful places.

The Spanish Club's 10th Costume Ball on Friday night, November 21, with the Valley's best-known orchestra, is a fine example of just such a place.

The Spanish Club is a student-run organization that has been in existence since 1937. It has been responsible for many of the best dance events at Wilkes, and its members have always been active in supporting the arts.

The Spanish Club's 10th Costume Ball is a perfect example of how the club can bring together music and fun. The music is provided by the Valley's most popular orchestra, and the dance floor is filled with everyone enjoying themselves.

The Spanish Club's 10th Costume Ball is a great way to spend an evening with friends. Whether you're a music lover or just want to have fun, this is the place to be.

The Spanish Club's 10th Costume Ball is a perfect example of how music can bring people together. So join us for a night of fun and music at the Spanish Club's 10th Costume Ball!
I. R. C. ADOPTS POLICIES AT LIVELY MEETING
By EUGENE MAYLOCK

At the last regular meeting of the International Relations Club, the following aims and policies were adopted:

To aid in the promotion of an understanding among nations toward the purpose of securing world peace.

To educate and to arouse interest among the students in international affairs.

To make the students realize that the problems besetting the world are intimate owing to the difference in the economic institutions and governmental systems of the nations of the world, and that there are many solutions to each problem.

To acquaint the students with the proper methods of conducting and redressing international problems.

To develop powers of leadership in the students as they are our future civic leaders.

The aforementioned aims and policies are included in the preamble of the new constitution of the IRC which was presented to the club at its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Attendance reached a high peak at this meeting because of the presence of many of the disband "IRC-ers" who expressed the opinion that the unusually large attendance was caused by the calling of the student council political campaign committee.

Compared to other meetings, this gathering was particularly wild. The activities surrounding the old bic on immediately went into action as the result of a combination of parliamentary techniques and irresponsible behavior. The result was presided over by the capable chairman Ralph Carey. Several times during the meeting "Tex" Trammel rose to the floor to reprimand the members who were resorting to dilatory and capricious tactics to disrupt the meetings.

During the discussion period, which was conducted in a subdued atmosphere, the IRC went on record as opposing the stand-ardized college textbooks and equipment of countries in the western hemisphere. In the opinion of the club, the present world political and economic situation makes this idea indefensible.

Plans are tentatively formulated for a joint meeting with the IRC of Bryn Mawr University, and probably a meeting will be held sometime during this month.

Harry Lohr, manager of the IRC intra-mural touch football team, announced that the IRC will present another craft athletic team.

Since the Livingston-Wilkes football game will be played on the day of the joint meeting, the IRC meeting will be postponed to Monday night at the usual time and place. Students should consult the bulletin boards for information pertaining to the make-up of the team.

No further information is available at this time.

The entire conference, entitled "Politics and Economics," was held Saturday afternoon with a welcome address by Mr. Harry A. Sprague, President of State Teachers College.

The main feature for the morning was an address and general discussion of "Our Iloeological World Policy" at which time Felix Wittmer presided as speaker.

During the afternoon the group had their choice of several discussions, Mr. Straton and Trammell bringing the following subjects: "Understanding Soviet Russia" and "Our Political World Policy". George S. Costain of the ILR School, and Columbia University, was the speaker on "Understanding Soviet Russia". Harry E. Gideon, President of Brooklyn College, was the speaker for "Our Political World Policy".

The following officers were elected: Pref. A. H. Homan (Bucknell), V. Pre. J. B. Baranski (Bucknell), Sec. J. W. Smith (Bucknell), Tres. A. Zito (Bucknell)."
Choral Club Makes Plans

At the recent Choral Club elections Rosemary Zukor was re-elected president; Leon Gilbert, vice-president; Janet Rogers was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Betty Jane Reece and Robert Levine were elected librarians.

As has been the custom, the Choral Club has made tentative plans to appear at various local events this season. Even with the decrease in membership, the Club is looking forward to a successful year.

The membership in the Choral Club has dropped from 60 to 44 members since last year. This decrease necessitates urging the student body to join the group now. Any person can do so by merely coming along to the next rehearsal (which will be posted on the bulletin board) and then continuing as a steady member. It would not take much more than the present resistant spirit in the Choral Club to bring the group to its full strength. Join now and make the Wilkes Choral Club one of the finest musical organizations in Wyoming Valley.

MANUSCRIPT STAFF MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Manuscript staff Monday at noon in the Manuscript office in Chase Hall. All staff members are requested to be present as the plans for the new edition of the magazine will be discussed.

The administration has announced that Mr. Alfred Groh, member of the Wilkes College faculty, has been appointed Director of the College Theatre Group.

Manuscript Ready For Contributions

The Manuscript is now ready to accept contributions for this semester's edition. Any Wilkes student may submit as many contributions as he desires. Any type of article that is original and well-written will be considered for publication. Contributions may be left at the Manuscript box in the office or at the Manuscript office in the basement of Chase Hall. All additions contributions may be submitted to any member of the staff. Those now on the staff of the literary magazine are Thomas Jenkins, Miriam Golightly, Edythe Rudolph, Troy Johnson, and Joe Hudak.

Following the plan set down in the by-laws of the literary magazine, the editors of the Manuscript will select several students who will be added to the staff at the recommendation of the faculty members of the English Department. The faculty members of the department will select the editors a list of names of those sophomores, juniors, and seniors who excel in English composition and the appreciation of true literature. From the recommended list of names the Manuscript editors will select a staff consisting of four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores.

Theatre Group Plans Staging Of "Antigone"

The Greek play ANTIGONE has been chosen for the next dramatic production of the Wilkes theatre group. Casting of the production, however, depends upon the availability of a cast capable of handling such a difficult undertaking.

Two years ago a production of ANTIGONE was first produced in this country by Katherine Cornell in New York. It was an instant hit. The play is based on an early drama by the Greek writer Sophocles, and has been revised by J. A. Senoff and adapted by Lewis Landford. Created in the modern idiom, ANTIGONE is very timely in its ideas and universal in its appeal. The story of the play is particularly effective today in a world where people are required to take a definite stand against the many opposing forces of evil. This original thought has been preserved in the translation.

The story of ANTIGONE represents, through the characters of Antigone and Creon, the conflict between democratic and totalitarian ways of life. During the German occupation of Paris, the Germans allowed ANTIGONE to be produced because they felt it advocated their ideas of totalitarianism. The French produced ANTIGONE because, to them, it advocated those same principles of Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity.

This Greek chorus is retained to serve as a link between the audience and the characters. Basically, ANTIGONE is the story of a woman who gives up the man she loves rather than abandon her convictions.

As yet no definite date has been set for the first performance. Nevertheless, plans are being arranged for the performance at the Chase Auditorium.
