Administration Okays Budget

Reservations On Manuscript & Bid, SC Group Advises

By HELEN M. KRAECHENFELD

The budget for the school year 1955-56 as prepared by the Student Council was presented to the Administrative Council on Wednesday afternoon, and was approved with minor reservations.

A Student Council committee consisting of Melvin Loeb, Chet Miller, Helen Kranichfeld, and Millie Gittens attended the meeting in order to explain the Student Council's reasoning in preparing the budget and to answer any questions which the Administration might raise.

The only item on the budget which met with some disagreement was the proposal for allocation for the Manuscript. It was the feeling of the Manuscript Committee that $100 increase over last year's budget for that activity should be justified. (Last year the Manuscript received an appropriation of $400, but spent only 70% of the amount the Manuscript request was for.)

In addition to discussing the appropriations, two other questions were raised by the Student Council members. The first of these concerned the Debating Society. Because of the rising cost of this activity each year, and because of the unknown amount of help the Council receives from the Debaters, the Student Council wished to investigate the possibility of obtaining a “Administrative administrative aid” to the Society. The fund does directly benefit the students, or at least those who may wish to participate in the Debating Society each year, and this amount would be increased by the Administration if necessary. Members of the Administration have expressed the opinion that this would not be a fair arrangement, since each of the activities usually claims an increase in expenses yearly, and the Debating Society would not be treated in a special way.

The other matter brought up by the Student Council was concerned the possibility of establishing a scholarship fund with the balance left in the Student Activities Fund at the end of the year. (Formerly, any money left over was credited automatically to the general fund of the school.) Dr. Varich stated that the scholarship fund is always in need of money, and it was believed possible for the Council to contribute to it so desired. He added that the amount might be designated in the catalogue so the student body will know the money which they pay into the Student Activities Fund will be used to benefit the students, whether or not it is spent

INTER-DORM COUNCIL TO REVIEW PROBLEMS

Another council has been added to the growing list of student deliberative bodies at the College.

Wilkes dormitory students have formed an inter-dormitory co-ordinating group to consider those problems pertaining to residential students.

Irwin Kaye, Ashley Hall resident, will serve as the organization's head.

Formation of the inter-dormitory group recognizes the existence of certain problems exclusively arising in regard to dormitory students, as, for example laundry or catering service.

The group will also co-operate in co-ordinating activities among the College's six dormitories, plans to co-operate with the deans in matters concerning the dormitories.

The co-ordinating committee will serve also as a general information advisory group.

Other members of the committee in addition to Kaye are: Frank Mclintock, Hall; Patricia Yost, Anita Cherlins, Carolyn Beekly; from Sterling Hall, Connie Kamaruan, Carolyn Goeringer, and Miriam Thompson, representing women's residences.

Men's dormitories are represented on the co-ordinating group by Kay and Richard Jones, Ashley Hall; Frederick Krohle and James Moser, Warner Hall; Niel Turzick, Dick Murray and Chip Freeman, Wecker Hall; and Mike Wein- burg and Bill Share, Butler Hall.

GERMAN STUDENTS TAKE NATIONAL TEST; HELP SET STANDARD

Third semester German students at Wilkes will aid in establishing a national level for the advanced placement of freshman students in foreign languages by completing a national collegiate test prepared to test the abilities of college students who have completed courses on the elementary level.

Mr. Elwood Disque, head of the foreign language department announced the tests will be administered on Thursday.

In many college subjects freshmen may by-pass elementary courses if scores in placement tests taken at the time of admission indicate this is possible and advisable.

The placement tests are prepared by a national testing agency and standard levels of attainment are set nationally. Colleges throughout the country are periodically asked to administer comprehensive tests to advance students, when these tests are graded, a nationwide average student attainment level is established.

If a freshman, with a good high school background, is able to achieve a score comparable to the national third semester average he may be placed in an advance course.

Not many students are familiar with this.

Some German students feel in the face of modesty, some from anger, and most from the corner of depression.

HARDING HALL NEW LOCATION AFTER 9 YEARS

The Wilkes College Bookstore has a new home.

As the final phase of this year's building plan, the freshman class yesterday moved the store to its permanent residence on South Franklin Street, across the campus from Chase Hall where the Bookstore has been located for the past nine years.

Froshmen loaded with packages paraded down South River Street, across South Street and up South Franklin Street to the store's new site.

They were accompanied by the College Band, under the direction of Bob Moran.

Millie Gittens, associated with the Bookstore for over nine years, was driven in an open car at the rear of the parade. Millie, who now serves as manager of the store, has been with the College for eleven years.

The frosh made several trips with supplies to Harding Hall, now comprising the parade. Heavy equipment was moved in tracks by the regular maintenance crew. The Bookstore will be housed in the rear of Harding, occupying rooms which served as kitchen and lunch counter last year when Harding Hall was employed as a stack bar.

Entry to the new Bookstore will be through the side door, facing the driveway on the north side of the building.

At present, classes are being conducted in the front of the building. No plans have thus far been announced changing the location of these classes.

NOV. 15 DEADLINE SET FOR YEARBOOK PICTURES

All people who plan to graduate in December or May 1956 should have their pictures taken by Bert Hubbard if they wish to be in the 1956 Annual.

The pictures are being taken at the Bert Hubbard Studio in Kingston.

An appointment is made between now and November 15.

History Club Active; View World Affairs

Wilkes History Club yesterday held its third in a series of discussions of foreign nations led by students from the areas.

Yesterday's speaker was Seth Amah, of the Gold Coast, who answered questions of members and visitors after the discussion. Other speakers within the last few weeks have been Henriette Abenhmosh and Youssef Kon, who discussed French Morocco and Korea.

The club plans to continue these discussions, as well as to procure films or other interesting material from history or today's historical events in the world.

Several field trips are also scheduled, according to George Silinski, president of the club, who noted that one to Gettysburg in December is already definite.

Discussions have been held in Burre Hall, are open to the student body.

What's In A Name?

Three weeks ago the BEACON announced that the College's new cafeteria was not to go nameless.

It was decided at the time to permit the student body to assist in selecting a name for the building, and the BEACON passed the information along. We also picked to serve as a clearing point for suggested names.

The students were to submit names to the BEACON, which would then provide them out on the students interested in the collection. The dean's were anxious to co-operate; the BEACON was anxious to co-operate. To date the student body has suggested 30 names, which have been submitted to the professor in charge of the questionnaire to report the campus for them, and of which two were even vaguely intelligent enough to be presented to a serious-minded public.

Now we do not propose to insult the student body by printing here school spirit, but we do wonder just what, if anything, the student body is going to do to seize the opportunity to help the people up above help them, their own business.

And if they consider it business to disagree with us in this matter, that's also their right, and they are quite welcome to tell us or our fellow-students in so our Letter to the Editor section.

It's planned to debate the subject, and since the students have now been given the opportunity to implant any system which is put into effect, it just might conceivably help if they bothered to form themselves a little.

PARKING STICKERS DELAYED BY CHANGES, LACK OF ROSTERS

Parking stickers for autos issued by the BEACON have been held for two weeks in the possession of the students immediately. Issuance of the stickers has been left on the possibility of student rosters, and appointment to be made in the stickers themselves.

Distribution of the stickers must wait until complete lists of students with three-hour parking spaces are made. Purpose of the lists is to prevent issuance of stickers to unauthorized drivers and to others who are probable to be laid off.

It was announced earlier in the week that students with two-hour parking accounting laboratories will be included in this year's plan of co-operation with Wilkes-Barre, and will be processed on South River Street.

The plan is a modified continuation of the one agreed upon last semester by the Beacon and the City of Wilkes-Barre.

In addition to Accounting students, the agreement for this year will cover students with three-hour courses in Biology, Chemistry and Economics.

STICKERS will probably be available...

VISITORS TO DISCUSS HONOR SYSTEM CHANGES IN ASSEMBLY TUESDAY

Honor system discussions, which snowballed at the College during the fall, are to be made by student representatives at the assembly through the efforts of a committee who planned a new assembly program, when five students air their views before the student body.

Chairman of the student assembly is Paul H. Geary, who announced that Jessie Cooper will be the first speaker in the program, which will be held at five p.m. tomorrow. The program will be more than two hours in length.

AIDS ON WILKES FUND AID TO P.E.N. STUDENTS, ELLIOT LOCAL HEAD

The Wilkes Foundation, an endowment fund for students at Wilkes College, Thursday morning, offers a $250 to students who are planning to attend the American Broadcasting Company's television network for the fall semester.

The award was announced by Paul H. Geary, who is the Chairman of the Television Licenses Committee. The award will be given to one student who is registered for a full-time course in the fall semester.

The student who is awarded the $250 will be selected for his work in the field of broadcasting and for his promise of success in the field.

Vice President Richard Nixon will be the final speaker at the assembly.

Masquerade to Have Local TV, Radio Coverage; Cliff Brothers to MC Uncrowning Ceremony

By JANICE SCHUSTER

For the first time in history of Wilkes College, an upperclassman will be crowned Homecoming King by a freshman. This unusual event will take place at the Masquerade Ball on Saturday night, and the victim will be Sophomore Class President Dave Vann.

Vann has bravely consented to sacrifice of this honor in exchange for a chance to play the sadistic prince who fells the faithful ticket is drawn at the dance and his number is up.

Vann's masquerade will be one of the many attractions at the big event. At least 6000 people, all members of the faculty have been invited to put on their Happy Face, and join in the fun.

Prizes will be awarded and everyone will be eligible to win, since costumes (plus a fee of fifty cents) are necessary to gain admission to the gymnasium funhouse.

The '66 class of sophomore will play for the masqueraders from eight-thirty until midnight with a dance marathon.

During intermission, Cliff Brothers will emcee a half-hour radio program to be heard over WBAZ; television cameras will film the proceedings for a three-minute newscast.

Freshmen are compelled to come to the dance wearing costumes, doing, and regulating ties.

If they do not comply with the orders to attend, the bashing period will begin until they do.

All upper-classmen will be permitted to have freshies attended until the uncrowning ceremony takes place.

The ceremony, in charge of the triumvirate, will be held by freshmen who have been accepted by upper-classmen as worthy members of the student body, to be considered on the same level as the three-fifths of the class.

To publicise the ball, members of both classes have paraded through town in costumes, with sandwich signs announcing the dance to the public.

The street-masqueerers were Sam Lowe, Dave Schoenfeld, Judy Bolfkin, Ted Jones, Bob Kosar, Alene Kemp and Janice Schuster.

Co-chairmen for the dance are Bob Thomas and Dave Vann.

Committees are headed by Barbara Hullinger, decorations; Cliff brothers and Janice Schuster, publicity; Larry Groninger, photos; Dave Schoenfeld and John Stande- tuckers, Sam Lowe, band, and Ed Kotula, uniforms.

Wilson Fellowship, he becomes a Danforth Fellow without a stipend, but with other opportunities. The fellowships are cordially invited to apply at the same time for the Danforth Fellowship. If a man receives the Danforth Appointment, he enjoys the advantages of the Wilson Fellowship.

Petrilak, Rescigno Tied As "Athletes" in Weekly Ballots

COACHES, SCRIBES MAKE DUAL AWARD; FIRST IN HISTORY

A tie created in this week's ballots, which honors made it necessary for the first time in the 30-year history of the voting, the by the team教练 and sports scribes and the only solution to the problem was to name both athletes.

Petrilak was chosen for his remarkable performance against Elizabethtown and Bucknell. He has started in both games. The Bucknell this week that he was named Athlete of the Week.

Not only was Petrilak sure-handed on drives aimed at the Colonels net, but managers who faced them in the fullbacks to "shut him up" are now in mid-air. The goalie is the only man on the team allowed to use his hands.

Winning honors at Wilkes is no surprise. Petrilak was voted Athlete of the Week because he is the best goalie in the conference. He has won letters in base- ball, football and basketball, and as soccer. He learned most of his sports at Hanover Township High School.

A major in elementary education, he is currently employed at the Wilson plant in Kingston. He will graduate in February, and after leaving the Army, he has been named Athlete of the Week on occasions in the past.

Petrilak is probably the fondest man in the Wilkes New Jersey, and his father, a baby girl.

Rescigno Half a Team

Rescigno, who has performed in last week's Trenton win was a choice at WEC. He also ran from the ballcocks to the point of the athletes.

His performance has scored twice, once in the Bha game and again in the Trenton last week. The Ithaca tally was the only score for the Blue and Gold forces in that conference game, which was a field goal by Rescigno. His total, compared to the grand total, is about half.

In his 18-year career with Bucknell, Rescigno has scored two, once in the Ithaca game and again in the Trenton last week. The Ithaca tally was the only score for the Blue and Gold forces in that conference game, which was a field goal by Rescigno. His total, compared to the grand total, is about half.

While Petrilak was chosen as the Athlete of the Week, Rescigno was named for his teamwork in the Colonels' win over Elizabethtown.

The Colonels' offensive, which consists of fine fullbacks to "shut him up" is in mid-air. The goalie is the only man on the team allowed to use his hands.

In light of recent events, it is necessary to name both athletes.

The DEAN’S CORNER

By GEORGE ELLIOTT
Acting Dean of Men

One of the encouraging signs of growth and progress here at the school has been the continuing talk about the possibilities of establishing a Greek system. It is the sort of goal that any man of ideals and of faith in the perfectibility of humanity can support. The successful operation of such a system would be the greatest tribute we could receive to the rightness of what we have been trying to accomplish here at Wilkes College.

One thing each of us has to consider, however, is the meaning of the word, "system." A system is something more than an organizational plan or a body of rules. We must not delude ourselves into confusing our thoughts to a modus operandi or to the possible administration of such an idea. A system implies a coherent whole, some form of rational and regular interaction or interdependence among ideas, principles and facts. I underline the word, "principles," because I feel that the omission of this foundation-stone would defeat any system.

Group honor is dependent upon and is the meaning of the indivi- dual honor. Each person involved must believe that his personal honor is many times more important than grades he might receive or success he might achieve. He must believe that the true measure of a man is his integrity; that a man without honor is an incomplete man, a man to be pitied. He must believe that honesty is the chief美德 at certain times and doffed at others.

He must not delude himself into the idea that there are degrees of dishonesty. A man is trustworthy, or he is untrustworthy; he is honest, or he is dishonest. And man tries always to uphold a code of personal honor, and needs no policeman or vigilante group to enforce it.

When and whether an honor system comes to Wilkes College de- pends upon you, the individual stu- dents. Certainly it cannot and will not be superimposed upon you by either the faculty or the administration. At that time the establishment of such a system will be easy. Its success will be assured. Are you ready for the challenge?

"BLOOMER GIRL" CHOSEN FOR THEATER SONG Wilkes College will present the musical, "Bloomer Girl," which was adapted from the Broadway musical "The '93 Curtain" on Tuesday. The musical is slated to open in April and will be the first sponsored by the college. The other was "Girl Crazy" presented last year at the Irem Temple.

"Bloomer Girl" will be given by members of the musical group in a special performance in cooperation with the Wilkes College music department. Mr. Alfred Batterson, the college director and advisor, will handle the staging of the musical, and Mr. John Detroy, head of the music department, will handle all musical arrangements.

Management Grow, together with Ellis, Hallo, and Makkink, is at Congshill High School in Wilkes- Barre. Mr. Groves teaches humanities relations, Ellis, bookkeeping; Hallo and Makkink, history.

The students work on an individ- ual basis, will finish their program after Christmas.

Biology Club Hears First Guest Speaker The first of a series of lectures presented by the Wilkes College Biology Club was held on Tuesday night at the College of Hail. Dr. Al- vina Funke, the guest speaker, lectured on "Sterility in the Male and its Prevention."

A crowd of about one hundred and fifty people consisting of re- presentatives from King's, Missis- suagi, and Wilkes College General Hospital, was in attendance, in addition to members of the Biology Club.

In a brief but interesting speech, Dr. Funke, who is an intern at Wyoming Valley General Hospital, pointed out the causes for sterility in the male and female and showed that there is hope for the sterile married couple.

The audience showered their inter- est by asking questions, by asking him questions about sterility im- mediately following his speech.

Mid-Semester Grades Due in Chase Today Dean George Elliott announced this week that the distribution of mid-semester grades this year would follow the same procedure as last year.

The only grades that will be sent to the homes of the Wilkes' students during the second half of weeks will be the D's and the F's. The grades will be posted on the campus. Up to last semester it was the practice to send home all grades in the mid-term reports.

4 SENIORS APPOINT 8 COUNCIL MEMBERS; PROMISE FILMLED

In his campaign speech for senior class president, George "Bo" Bat- ton stated that if elected he would see that an executive council was set up.

Well, Batton has been elected, and his council, consisting of elec- ted senior representatives from the major fields of study, has been or- ganized.

Headed by Henry Goetzman, class vice-president, its functions are to aid in planning class activities and to discuss class business before pre- senting it to class meetings.

The following were elected to the council by the senior class: Com- merce and Finance, Nancy Brown and Joe Wise; Education, Carl Van- dyke and John Batterson; Social Work and Humanities, Helen Rubison and Hiram Rosenblatt; Biology and Chemistry, Dave Luchich; Liberal Arts, Joan Shoemaker and Glenn Carey.

Batterson appointed Ben James to head the class ring committee and Mickey Weinberger to direct the gift committee, which will help decide what the class will present the school as the traditional gift.

ELIAS-DEARDEN WED GROOM STAR WHEELER The Beacon extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellis this month.

Mrs. Ellis is the former Miriam Deard- en who graduated from Wilkes last June with a B.A. in Commerce and Finance. She serv- ed as an secretary of the senior class.

"Jerry" will receive his B.S. in Education this February. He was captain of the varsity wrestling squad and was a sports reporter for the Beacon.

by the Student Council for projects in the spring of 1955.

It was noted by a member of the Council that 30% of the $1,000,000 of the entire budget goes to the Ammonia, and it was questioned whether this expenditure is justi- fied. After a brief discussion it was decided that the school's year- book is a most essential part of the campus, and should be supported as such.
