70 Students Named to Dean's List

Four Seniors, Junior, Sophomore
Maintain Perfect 3.0 Averages
All Four Varsity Debaters Qualify

Six students have obtained a perfect three-point average for the past semester, according to a list released to the Beacon this Tuesday by Deans Gertrude Doane and George Rolston. The students who established this perfect average include four seniors, a junior, and a sophomore.

The seniors include: John Bucholtz, Jesse Cooper, Bettjeene (Long) Eisenpreis, and Thomas Krak; and the junior and sophomore, respectively; see Francis Galia and Gwen Evans.

CUE 'N CURTAIN LISTS MELODRAMA TUESDAY
by Mary Powell
Joe Oller, director of The Drumhead, has announced that the final touches are being added to CUE 'n Curtain's melodrama which will be presented in Tuesday's assembly. The play, which promises to give one of the most outstanding assemblies of the year, has been reduced from a three-hour production to a one-hour play.

The drama, a different experiment for the club, will be staged in a unique manner. Part of the play will be narrated as well as dramatized. This narration will shorten the scenes without losing the main theme of the production. Only the essential scenery will be used.

Larry Amdur is the producer. Any interested students are invited to try out for the roles of the hero and Andy Evans plays the role of the villain. Daisy Gebhart, Shirley Bombardy, Evelyn Krohn, Dog Henry, and Fred Whipple are the other members of the cast. Gene Stickle will act as the narrator.

Arlene Martin has been elected secretary of the CUE 'n Curtain to replace Bob Luten, who is now working in New Jersey. Bob was responsible for the club's publicity which appeared in the Beacon last semester.

The number of reservations is limited; therefore, it is necessary to make them early.

KINGS POINT MAT MEET CANCELLED
George Baleston, College Director of Athletics, announced recently that the varsity meets scheduled between the Colonels and the Kings Point Merchant Mariners have been cancelled because of inclement weather.

Lettermen Dance Tonight
Will Feature Amplitudes

Athletes to Select Pick-playing Champion
At 'Cherry Tree Chop' by Mario Klownw

Timber! Here it come! The Lettermen's 'Cherry Tree Chop' will descend upon us all tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock in the gym. The Amplitudes will provide the George Washington's Day music for the dancers and the Lettermen will supply the free cherry pie to the merry makers.

The pick-playing contest will be held at intermission to entertain the audience. Two Lettermen will challenge a faculty member and two people from the audience.

So far, Neil Dadurka is the only Lettermen definitely slated for a position on the Lettermen's side. Bob Yakovides and Art Tambor are still leading candidates for the other opposition.

Holding down the faculty end will be Dr. Francis Michielin.

The other team will consist of volunteers from the audience. Any one who thinks he, or she, can polish off more pie than the Lettermen or the faculty is urged to try his luck.

Although the prizes for the contest were not announced, the Lettermen will undoubtedly think of something worthwhile for the winner.

Chief choppers for the affair are chairman Bob Sokol and Bob Gli-

T.D.R. WASHINGTON DAY TEA
FROM THREE TO FIVE TODAY
by Barbara Vose

Theta Delta Phi will hold its annual Washington Day Tea today in McClintock Hall from three to five o'clock. This is one of the events during the year to which the sorority invites the girls from the high schools in the area, in addition to the college women and women's students on campus.

The tea furnishes the women of Wilkes with an opportunity to acquaint the high school girls with Wilkes, the campus and the students.

Co-chairmen Grace Major and Ellen Kemp have asked Mrs. Doane to speak. Carol Dallan, chairman of decorations, said that the tradition of red, white and blue color scheme will be featured.

Other chairmen are Maryann Powell, refreshments; Barbara Fieder, tours; Judy Gomer, publicity; Mar-

FREE POLIO SHOTS DONATED TO WILKES

The college has offered free shots of the Salk polio vaccine, according to a recent announcement from the Office of the Deans.

In order to receive these shots, students must receive permission from their parents. Everyone is requested to have his vaccination form promptly, in order to facilitate scheduling of the inoculation.

The donors of the vaccine are a group of doctors from the Luzerne County Medical Association.

The polio vaccine is administered in three “shots.” The second is to be administered four to seven weeks after the initial inoculation and the third is to come about six months later.

Foreign Scholarships

In Several Countries Listed in Handbook

More than 7,000 international scholarships and fellowships are offered by governments, universities, foundations and other institutions in over 100 countries and territories. They are listed in the latest edition of Study Abroad, a handbook recently published by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

This total compares with the 1,000 scholarships and fellowships listed in the first edition published in 1948. It includes fellowships awarded by eight countries not previously listed as donors, among them the Republic of Korea, Mooricano and Panama.

The latest edition of Study Abroad lists the results of UNESCO’s annual survey of foreign student enrollments at universities and other institutions of higher learning throughout the world. A survey covering the years 1954-55 revealed that 130,000 students were studying outside their own countries.

The United States leads the world in the number of students from foreign countries. From the total of 34,237. For each such tourney will be attended by the Wilkes College Debating team.

MRS. ORREGO-SALAS RELATES PROBLEMS OF MODERN CHILE
by Marys Powell
"Chile Today" was the topic of an interesting and informative talk given at Tuesday's assembly by Carmen Orrego-Salas, prominent Chilean educator, social worker and lecturer. She is one of the eleven "World of Women" in Holiday Magazine's (1964-55) series of articles, in which the magazine chose women from round-the-world as illustrations and inspirations to women everywhere.

Carmen Orrego-Salas is married to Juan Orrego-Salas, who is recognized as the leading contemporary composer of Latin America. She has traveled widely in the United States and South America. She was formerly a social worker and presently she teaches English to adult classes of men and women at the Chilean North American Institute. Mrs. Orrego-Salas founded the first private nursery school in Santiago patterning it upon a New York Nursery School which her son, Juan, attended.

Mrs. Orrego-Salas told of life in Chile today. She stated that the most significant factor in Chile was the number of people who are seeking individualism. According to the speaker, each is trying to find "his place" as an individual and a citizen of Chile.

The speaker compared the educational system in Chile with the American system. The educational system of Chile is patterned after the French schools. That is, their high schools are called "collages" and their colleges are termed universitis.

The speaker referred to the fact that Chile's army was modeled after the German army and that its navy was patterned after that of the British.

According to Mrs. Orrego-Salas, the political situation in Chile is very loose and unformed. To make this point clear, she declared, in answer to a student's question, that "there are as many political parties in Chile as there are people." COM.

GEORGE MORGAN'S SCORING LEADS WIN HIM ATHLETE OF WEEK AWARD

Has 399-Point Total,
Threatens WC Record
For Season's Scoring

George Morgan, who has scored 399 points this season, captured this week's top athlete honors in the conference with those in his last five games, and was instrumental in helping the Crusaders to a 12-1 record with his 33 points against Lycome.

Far more important than his scoring ability, however, in his attitude toward the game. He has passed on many occasions when he would have tried difficult shots, thus depriving himself of the chance to "gun" for 30- or 40-point performances.

In addition, George took 16 rebounds in the Lycome game and can always be depended upon for at least that many in any game. He has been an essential part of the backboards in one contest.

Morgan has consistently led the team in scoring in every game played this year, except for a rare 15-point showing in a mid-season loss at Lycombe.

He is threatening an all-time Wilkes scoring record, held by Len Matrovecz. Should he keep up his present 25-point per game output, he will easily break this record this season.

The six-foot-one junior has recently announced that he is formulating the status of bachelor by graduating soon. He will take the "final plunge" when he completes his studies at Wilkes. He will retain the title of Bachelor, however, since he is seeking a degree in Commerce and Finance with a major in Business Administration.

SPORTS SPURTS

by DICK MYERS, Sports Editor

Tonight tomorrow at the Wilkes gym, the student body once again has a chance to get out for a bargain. Both the wrestlers and the cagers will see action, with the matmen closing their season against a strong Muhlenberg squad.

To date, the grapplers have amassed a total of 243 points in dual meets, while holding their opponents to 77, in ringing up nine straight victories for Millvilleville EF.

Leading the parade of scorers is Jim Ward with 36 points on three pins and seven decisions. Walt Glogowski has 24 on five falls and three decisions, while Jack Rovny has five pins to his credit, and has a total of 33.

The figures for the rest of the team clearly show the power balance of the Colonels: Neil Danduks, 38; Terry Smith, 27; Joe Morgan, 25.

Keith Williams has 15 points with his perfect record of three wins and three pins, while Dave Tomlinson has 3-1-1 with nine points. Dick Weiss is 2-1 for eight points. Bill Smith’s record is also 2-1-1 totaling 6 points, and John Weiss for his only appearance of the season giving him a 1-0 record worth five points.

Each balance speaks well for the training, coaching, and individual attitude of the team.

LET’S GO TO GETTYSBURG

Several of our friends have been on an errand in taking a trip to the Middle Atlantic tourney next month to provide moral support for the Colonels in this event. No plans have come out of the talks as yet, but we are open for suggestions and would appreciate hearing from anyone who would be interested in journeying to Gettysburg for this purpose.

The preliminary eliminations will begin on Friday, March 1 at 7:00 P.M. with the opening round on Saturday afternoon, and the championship rounds will be Saturday night. If sufficient interest is shown, a "Colonel’s Caravan" could be made up. For further details contact Bob Rutledge, Wilkes, or chairman of the Colonels.

WILKES ROUGERS OUT-CHERED

In last Saturday’s action against Susquehanna, it was interesting to observe that the relatively small crowd which followed the Crusaders to Wilkes-Barre made more concerted noise than the home fans.

The Colonels responded finally, but it would be nice to see more visiting teams with such enthusiastic supporters, if only to add some home cooking to the more spirited cheering.

"TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME"

The time is approaching when the crack of the bat and the cries of the ball players will start of another baseball season. To those of us who second-guess the diamond geniuses during the "hot" season, the beginning of February bring report of major league teams making their annual spaghetti to the Southland.

Here at Wilkes, we must wait a few more weeks before we can see evidence. And, if we could see evidence of the approach of the season, one need only visit the Wilkes gym any afternoon. Here he will find a ready-made horseshoe, working the muscles into shape and loosening the arms.

Coach John Reese, hardly relaxed with his mat chores, already has his eye in the distance, and is hoping for the blossoming of spring.

A welcome addition to his crop of flippers will be cager star George Gacha. George is a freshman with a name that will be heard in every college hall talker for two years, and is known to be a student of unconventional talent.

Third Twin Bill Begins at 7 P.M. With Mat Finale

Tomorrow night's double-feature attraction at the Wilkes gym will find the gridders closing out their home season and the cagers trying for their fourth consecutive win.

The Student Council, in an effort to promote further interest in the fortunes of the two teams, has designated the activities as "Booster Night."

To provide further interest to what should be an exciting evening of sport, the Wilkes band will be in attendance, and the full complement of cheerleaders will be present to lend the noise-making.

This will be the third such doubleheader of the year, giving the last opportunity to see the teams in action on the same program.

Matmen Meet Mules

In the current season's third doubleheader tomorrow night, the Wilkes wrestling team will make its bid for a third straight victory. If the team comes through with a victory, it will be the first undefeated wrestling team in the history of the college. It is the first time in the history of the athletic team at Wilkes in the past decade.

Muhlenberg, however, is pointing for an upset, and they will be in top shape. They will be led by the impressive number of men accepted in the past two years, Tom Billy.

The 1957-58 season promises to be an undefeated season, two of the wrestlers will be out to tie or break the record of most points scored by a WC wrestler in one year.

Another undefeated wrestler, who will be on the mat tomorrow night, is D. Neil Durdin, who will be in top shape and will be out to keep his slate clean.

To strengthen the team for this very important meet, Coach John Reese has placed Glogowski at 167, Dave Thursby at 177, and Terry Smith at 175.

Night's end found the top ranking of the season's record, may possibly be considered one of the favorites.

The Tourney begins on Friday, March 1. Semi-finals will be held on the afternoon of the following day, and the finals will take place Saturday night.

CAGERS WALLOP LYCOMING FOR THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY

On Wednesday night, the Colonels won their ninth out of the last thirteen cage contests, downsing the Lycoming Warriors, 74-53.

George Morgan led the team with 22 counters, George Gacha follow-

The game started very slowly, with neither team able to register a score until nearly three minutes had gone by.

Wilkes managed to take the lead on some fine floor play by Fran Mikolanski and timely taps by Bob Turley.

Both teams played a "hand-off" game for the most part, going twelve full minutes before George Morgan stepped to the foul line in the first infraction of the game.

Besides Morgan, only two other Colonels even got a chance to take a free throw. Gacha converted the two he tried, while Elmer Snyder sank one of his two.

Both of these men shot two fouls on single penalties, having been fouled while in the act of shooting.

Cagers Test Red Devils

While the "cases" tail of this doubleheader tomorrow night, the basketball team will try to close out the season with a win over Dickinson College.

The Red Devils, whose anemic 1-17 record changes their color to a rather pale pink, won their only game of the season from Susquehanna, strangely enough. It was their first outing of the year and they are, needless to say, hungry for a win and revenge.

This is only the second meeting of the two teams. The first game was won at Dickinson, by a score of 83-88.

Several local boys will be present in the Devils' lineup. John Valenti and Ralph Chase were both members of the Wyoming Seminary cage team.

Their coach, Joe D'Charme, is also a former Seminary man, hav-

Dave Eveson, former athletic director at the Seminary, is head coach.

THE KERNEL'S KORN

by Dick Myers

Reporters have reached this writer that one whose hobby is collecting unusual rocks and unusual rocks and unusual rocks, has his bathroom of his dorm. This guy has rocks in his head.

Even when a man moves into a town, the girls (bles 'em all) ask several questions. The athletic type asks whether he can do, the chorus girl asks how much money he has, the literary-minded asks what books he reads, the society girl asks from what family he comes, and the religious girl asks what church he attends. The guy is complying with all of these.

Incidentally, it has been safely observed that the negative personality can be developed in a dark room.

This being the reminder, men, that those days are becoming some sort of luxury. If you don't think so, just try to get your hands on one.

给予了 further along these lines, dating these days is like traveling an unfamiliar highway. Those soft shoulders and dangerous curves get you every time.
