Best Debated Pairs Ends in Triple Tie

Debates Enter Hartford Tournament!

Monday, Dr. Kruger received a letter from James L. Kinsaid, President of the Hartford Invitational Tournament. John Boquith and Joseph Choper, Fred Roberts and Bruce Wharrel will make up the two teams representing the debate team. The winning team will accompany the other two to the tournament.

The two teams will meet in a final round Saturday evening in the debate hall. The debate will be the same one as the one held by the debate team and judges of the tournament. The debate will be a judgment of the affirmative material covered in the debate.

At the conclusion of the debate, Dr. Kruger said that the teams have worked hard to prepare for this debate and he has high hopes for the team's performance. The record for the teams this year is 25 wins and 11 losses. They won two tournaments and placed second in two others.

In conclusion, Dr. Kruger said, "Up until this issue was brought before the Senate, I was of the opinion that the Student Council was being run according to Robert's Rules of Order, but now I feel that my duty is to do the best I can to support my predecessors in this unprecedented action."

The other day, the reprimande of President L. Kruger for the excessive he incurred while obtaining the necessary funds was reversed.

Jim Stevens, engineering student, stated that the senator added his statement to the debate.

Co-chairman Daniel Coughlin and Nancy Morris are scheduled, along with their counterparts, to meet with the Senate during the course of the debate.

Best Friends Win in Girls' Softball

The members of the Softball team, who recently completed their season, have announced that they will be playing against a team from another college.

The girls have been practicing for weeks, and the game is expected to be a close one. The team has included some experienced players, and the game will be a good test of their skills.

The game is scheduled for this Saturday at 3 p.m. at the college's softball field. Spectators are welcome to attend and support the team.
Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Subject: The recent editorial on "Science achievements"

It would be appreciated if you could either explain the term "Science achievements" or state clearly to whom the letter of invitation was written, as some readers might wonder where he stands. If he wants to strengthen such a favorable impression, I suggest the following:

- Is there a common understanding of what is the purpose of joining a club? In such an attack on Wilkes groups which have enough spirit and pride in their college field, to display their own "lighter" social functions. Perhaps some people would like to see every college student adopt a similar style, but there are many who present any such pattern or regulation.

In my opinion, the organizations of this college should not be intimidated by those yielding the power of the resignation. But, just as they want to act as they see it, using names of their own choosing, which suit them (others, everyone else). More power to the individuals among us who publish original stories, not as long as they do not try to force others into their own, set mold.

Respectfully yours,

[Signature]

(Edited Note: We must admit that R. Cornelius has a point and we do not wish to state this, but we remain unconvinced. The originality is there, to be sure, but in the realm of minor intellectual level.)

LOCAL NEWSPAPER PRESS CLUB SPEAKER

Mr. John Bush, a member of the staff of the Wilkes Barre Sunday Press, was a guest of the Press Club at its last meeting. Mr. Bush is an alumnus of Wilkes and an ex-student of the English Department.

Mr. Bush's topic, "The Role of the College Student in the Modern World," will receive a good deal of much discussion in the period that followed. Mr. Bush felt that the need for college-trained and prepared people in the modern newspaper is becoming more and more. If the newspaper covers a wider range of material, and therefore, the reporters must show more of a background, must, with it. He personally feels that his own college education has constantly been a benefit to him.

One of the most frequent of the questions asked in the discussion was how to make a seemingly dull subject come to life. "This is not possible," Mr. Bush, who has a reputation for adding interest to news stories, explained, "in working for a weekly such as the Independent, it not only is necessary to make sure that the newspaper is written in a style that has been properly "knew," but also to let others see the "lighter" side.

He will continue the story closer to the reporter. He stated the need for a college-trained and prepared person to write a style of modern journalism and to reveal the strength of this from his own experience.

You needn't be an afraid of the person who does a lot of good and the story. When you can hear the thunder, the lightning hasn't struck yet, he did say.

One of the real problems in this busy and fast-moving world today is how to keep other people from using up your leisure time. He added.

Girls’ Chorus Plans Membership Drive

by Carol Bresnay

Girls’ Chorus Director Marilyn Carl has announced that the group now has approximately 35 girls on roll, but that any girls interested in joining are invited to do so as soon as possible. Rehearsals are held in Greeks Hall A, Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 3:15 P.M. sharp, and end at 3:50.

Since its organization in the fall of 1955, the chorus has made several successful appearances. Among these were programs presented for the Women’s Association of the Forty Fort Methodist Church, the Education Club of Wilkes, and the TDR Old People’s Party. The girls are well received and complemented on their lively presentation of selection.

The next singing engagement will be the faculty tea, tentatively scheduled for either the first or second week in April.

Basia Mieszkowski, 1956 graduate, was first director of the chorus. She was succeeded by Ann Faust, senior music major. Miss Faust is now teaching full-time in West Hatston Schools. Marilyn Carl, member of the Junior class, was recently appointed director, a new done a fine job with the girls.

Some of the numbers the girls are currently working on are Blue Moon, You Never Walk Alone, John Henry, Deep River, Welsh Lullaby, Lift Thine埃, and The Woman in the Shoe. Several new numbers are under consideration and will be added to the repertoire.

Group singing is pleasant relaxation, and all are invited to drop around during practice and sing along. Charter members of the chorus, as well as other regular members, are reminded to attend rehearsals regularly as not much time remains till the next engagement.

“The Gold Coast Votes’” was the title of the film shown yesterday in the Biology Building. The film was sponsored by the Film Club.

The Dominion of Ghana, which was the film about, is the world’s newest nation. It is composed of many states which were former British protectorates and colonies. The Gold Coast, a former colony which has had home rule since 1954, is a part of Ghana. This film is a documentary of the free elections held there.

Ghana and the Gold Coast, in contrast to the rest of South Africa which stands for segregation, while rule and suppression of the Negro, is the first all-Negro government in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND CAMPAIGN BEGINS TODAY; $60,000 GOAL
by John Pinanschi

Wilkes College scholarship fund campaign shifts into high gear to day seeking $60,000 for scholarships, it was announced by Gilbert S. McClintock, chairman of the Wilkes board of trustees.

Chairman of the campaign is P. E. Parkhurst, prominent city insurance broker and a member of the college board of trustees. A d kickoff luncheon is being held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Sterling today at 12:15 to formally open the campaign.

The drive, which will end on March 29, will be composed of nearly two hundred workers and of these, one hundred fifty will be actual campaign workers. Russell C. Pitson, director of development of the college, is in charge of the mechanics of the drive.

College trustees, Miss Mary Koons and Miss Annette Evans, will head the campaign workers, who have been assigned to twenty-five teams for the drive.

Due to requests for aid for promising and needy students, the college has found it necessary to raise its scholarship fund goal this year and said Mr. Parkhurst.

Last year’s scholarship campaign, headed by Harry F. Goeringer, succeeded in raising more than the designated goal, collecting some $51,000. In order to meet the need for the campaign this year has been expanded to include more workers and donors.

Chairman of the campaign stated that it has been gratifying, since the aid of the community has been enlisted, to note the interest and support friends have given us open the young people.

Two follow-up report sections are planned; the first of these will be held on March 28, and the second on March 29.

BOOK COLLECTION IN FINAL WEEK

Recent College Texts Sought by Wilkes CCUN To Aid Asian Students
by M.L. Ouwer

The campaign, "Books for Asian Students," is entering its final week after a push by many of the faculty and the students. The campaign has distributed their unwanted textbooks to this drive sponsored by the Wilkes Chapter of Phi Sigma S, the Asian students in the United States. Containers have been set up throughout campus in dorms, cafeteria, library, and bookstores, as a reminder to donate a book.

Many have so far responded to the drive, and many useful textbooks have been collected. But, perhaps, there are still many who have not taken this drive seriously. Everyone must have at least one unwanted book at home or in their dorm. Mary West, general chairman, asks everyone to try to donate a book during this final week.

The club is interested in collecting textbooks for the present, which have been used recently and are still usable. The drive will continue during the summer in the event that more books are needed for next year's classes.

ELLIO T TO SPEAK AT NEXT ASSEMBLY

At next week's assembly, Mr. George Elliott will give a speech entitled "The Right to be Free". In our present society there is a great emphasis on conformity. This is revealed by the latest in dress and actions, sneer at "eggheads," and the popular expression "following the crowd." Mr. Elliott feels that this is a lamentable situation and that compliance is most likely to come through the efforts of the small minority of non-conformists.

He is making a plea for tolerance for this small group who are generally misunderstood and frequently the object of ridicule.

morgan named athlete of week, receives award for third time hits 514 point total, leads team to finest performance in years george morgan, the colonel's high-scoring two-year veteran, led the season's athlete of the week off the third hand this year. in the final game against dolley, morgan scored a three-year personal best of 514 pins to lead all six players. morgan has scored a total of 18 strikes from the field in rolling up 514 points. morgan's highest game was a 206 in the third game, easily the best performance by a morgan player.

proving that this mark is no accident, due to the "sensation" type of scoring employed by some of the team. this is a new career high for morgan, who has hit for a percent total of 68.5 in 514 points, the highest ever recorded by a member of the morgan bowling team.

morgan has been the leading scorer for the davison all season. he has been a constant team player throughout the season, and his presence has been a defensive stand out in every game.

the morgan bowling team has managed to take away 20 rebounds on the season, and has scored a high of 476 in the final game. morgan says that he has learned to shoot with his left hand, a change that has helped him advance in both departments, making him a good candidate for "little all-american" honors.

the sports news of the season was morgan's success in the state bowling tournament at elkhart. he took the lead with a first game of 206, and finished with a second game of 140. morgan's performance helped the team to a second place finish in the tournament.

the final week of the season saw morgan take first in the season's athlete of the week award. morgan took first place in the season for the second year in a row, and was the highest scoring morgan player for the third year in a row.

ambassadors of goodwill

we have received several reports of high praise for the colonel mat players, who have been the most successful colonel team in years. the players have shown great sportsmanship and ability, and have been well-respected by all.

the officials of gettysburg college and of the middle atlantic conference have expressed their admiration for the behavior of the boys while they were staying down there for the tournament. one of the men stated that he had never seen such polite and careful men.

the tournament, which concluded with the victory of the boys, was an outstanding success. the boys were well-behaved, and managed to show a smiling "thank you," never asked for anything without saying "please." they were in general quiet, well-behaved, well-dressed and always a good example for the youth.

it seems that we have more reasons for pride concerning our team than ever before. although we know that the boys are generally a great bunch, it is nice to see that they have made such great gains. we are sure that those who have not seen the team will be impressed with what they will see.

THE KERNEL’S KORN

by Dick Myers

About this time of the year, we begin to look forward with a great deal of anticipation to our favorite sport, fishing. That’s a sport where it is questionable on which end of the line is the sucker. A guy spends a small fortune on tackle, line, reels, books, lines, and sinkers; then ends up spending five bucks at the fish market for the Friday meal, anyhow.

From the Far East comes the fish story to end them all. It seems that Payas-san took his two sons, Ah Mee and Ah Way, out for their first trip on his junk. All day long the net was producing the weirdest looking monsters ever caught in those waters.

Finally, at the end of the day, one of the most grotesque of these creatures jumped out of the net, grabbed Ah Way by the leg, dragged him overboard, and swam away. There wasn’t much the old man could do but go home. When he got there, his wife asked how the catch was. He showed her the monsters, and she exclaimed over the unusual variety he had caught. The old man said, "Those are nothing, you should have seen the one that got Ah Way.”

Then there’s the guy who just goes fishing for the halibut. He always has a whale of a time. Only trouble is, he gets a haddock from too much sun. Even though he’s somewhat of a shrimp, he’s what you call a reel sport. Claims he enjoys rowing his own boat because it holds up his mussels.

Then there’s the one about the mother shark wanting her children against taking the subway to school. She said they’d get jammed in like people.

One of her kids came home from school early. When she asked where the rest of her ladies were, she was asked, "Am I my brothers’ kipper?"

"Your girl is spoiled, isn’t she?" "No, it’s just the perfume she’s wearing.” San Diego State Aztec
