FROSH DINNER-DANCE TOMORROW EVENING

Tropical Night Club
To be Theme of Event, Smorgasbord Featured

The everyday atmosphere of the Wilkes College cafetorium will be transformed into the exotic atmosphere of a tropical resort. This change will begin at 7:30 p.m. as the Freshmen class holds its first dinner-dance event of the year. The dinner will be smorgasbord style, and, according to Bob Moran, no expense has been spared on refreshments. Because of the rush on supplies, what will be in store for the frosh are roast beef with gravy, custard dessert, bread salad, brook trout, and chicken salad.

Following dinner, there will be dancing to the music of Bob Moran and his Ivy Lungs. The downtown dance studio group will play their selection and their dates, and the tickets are $3.50 per couple. No "dags" will be allowed.

Janet Charleston, general chairman of the dinner-dance announced that decorations will feature palm trees, orchids, and other authentic leis from Hawaii for everyone. A variety of small tables will be available for dancing.

Music

A rendition of "A-Minor." The Concerto in A-Minor, played by Paul Thompson, will be marked by a successful conclusion. W.C. Vose, director of music education, will conduct the orchestra.

Tickets will be sold at the door.

Janet Cornell Featured
At Music Dept. Recital
Last Sunday Afternoon

by M. L. Gasperi

The annual departmental recital held another of its Sunday afternoon recital series in the auditorium of the college gym. Featured on the program was Janet Cornell, a freshman music education student. Janet played Liszt's Concerto in E-Flat, the "Sonatine" by Chopin, and "The Barcarolle" by Debussy.

Featuring along with her were three ch ld musicians from the Scranton music community. These were: Vanjo Nosan, four-year-old pianist; Patricia Tipton, six-year-old violinist; and William Barbini, eight-year-old violinist.

The college symphonette under the direction of Ferdinand Livo, music department chairman, accompanied the performers.

THE Girls' Chorus provided entertainment at a coffee hour sponsored by the Wilkes Faculty Women on April 3 in the Commons.

The Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Stephen's Church, the program will begin at 4 P.M. Mr. John Detroy, head of the music department, presented an excerpt of the program for the benefit of the students.

The program of the scholarship fund is to provide funds for capable students who would be deprived of a college education if financial support were not made available.

The fund was established by Mrs. A. Moore to provide a scholarship for a student who would not otherwise have the opportunity to attend college. The fund has been maintained by the Board of Trustees of the college, and is administered by the music department.

Arthur's Church, the program coordinator, will serve as chairman of the program committee.

C.C.U.N. AT PRINCETON FOR MODEL ASSEMBLY

Members of the Collegiate Council on Model United Nations at Wilkes University this morning attended the annual Model Assembly scheduled there this week.

The Wilkes group, which will represent Morocco, will take a stand on the traditional positions the North African country has staked out in the United Nations. Mary Frances Goshert, fresher, will take part in the women's ex-

In the debating, the same team that reached the finals last year will speak in the 1957-58 Model Assembly. Barbara Wood and Bruce Walsh are on the affirmative side and Jeanne Chopp on the negative.

The twenty-three entries, four of which represent the entire Model Assembly, will be judged on the merit of the models that shall take part in the national tournament. For the model Wilkes, there are St. John's University, Pennsylvania, and Pennsylvania State University. The model team is coached by John DeCicco, head of the English department. Harold "Nick" Finney, who has the distinction of winning the state championship in the Model Assembly, will be the contest chairman for the year.

The events began in the Main Building of King's College opposite the City Hall. As the days go by, the model will continue to hold discussions, and the last day they will be invited to attend and urge the Wilkes team to victory.

FUND DIRECTOR SAYS

DRIVE NEAR'S GOAL

by Coral Breynt

Russ Pitton, director of development and organizer of the Wilkes Scholarship and Loan Fund, has announced that the fund will reach its goal of $40,000 if all the outstanding cards are turned in. The scholarship committee is now working on the number of cards not yet submitted, and all workers are urged to contact someone in certain they are reported. Mr. Pitton announced that the goal will be attained. The 250 cards still outstanding will total a little over 5,000. When final reports are received.

Mr. Pitton remarked that this was the shortest campaign ever to be held, only 2 weeks. He estimates the number of cards outstanding to be 250,000, and as the number of cards outstanding.

Recently Gov. Leader asked the State Legislature for $175,000,000, a figure that would add to the sum reported over 80 percent of the total to be divided between the commonwealth's total budget. Mr. Oliver concluded by saying that as college students we are the only ones who can make this country great. No other person is as important as we are in the community to which we belong.

Mr. Oliver predicted that this will be one of the most important events in the history of the college. The 250 cards still outstanding will total a little over 5,000. When final reports are received.

LIVA WILL PERFORM AT WORLD PREMIERE

Ferdinand Liva, member of the music department, will tour England and the Continent this spring to make guest appearances with some of the famous English orchestras. Among these are the Royal Philharmonic in London, the Amsterdam Philharmonic in Holland, and the Berlin State Opera Orchestra. Liva will begin his tour in May. During his London tour, Liva will present the world premiere of two modern tone poems, one written by a Pennsylvania composer.

Liva will also introduce Muczino.

LIVE IS PRESIDENT AT FRIDAY'S DANCE

Sam Lowe, popular campus personality, was elected President last Friday at the first college presidential Ball which was sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Lowe was one of two men seeking this title. The other nominees were: Paul Katz, Tom Lally, Ed McCauley, Dave Phillips, Col, Dave Vann, Neil Talburt, Don Reynolds, and Tom Myrick. Mr. President, a junior music major, is best known on campus for his work as director of the Male Chorus. Lowe, a past member of the Student Council, is vice president of his class and an active member of the class council. He is a member of the basketball team.

Various gifts, donated by local merchants, were presented to Mr. President and his First Lady. Lowe received a skirt, two sets of sport knits and tie clasps, a watch chain, and a wallet. Jean Brody, the First Lady of the affair, received a Wilkes College key, a travelling case, and a bouquet. The dates of the other nominees received similar keys.

The affair was highlighted by the Hub, Kay Stores, Gowan Novelty, the Hub's Gift Shop, and a Friend.

Final voting for the title of "Mr. President" was held last night at a gathering of the dance. Each ticket had a space for two votes—in case a couple disagreed as to whom they wished to vote for, separate votes could be cast. Lowe, a resident of Warner Hall and a former Valley resident, now lives in Philadelphia.

CHEERLEADERS CONTINUE TO HOLD THURSDAY DRILLS

Judy Menegus and Alison Roson are now back on campus and are trying to obtain one of the open positions on the team.

Judy announced that tryouts will be held, as usual, on Thursday at 3:00 p.m. in the gym. After Easter vacation, the winners will be selected and the team will be ready for the season. It is still not too late to try out for the squad.

SPRING FASHION SHOWING PRESENTED BY SORORITY

Many Popular Styles Modeled by Students in European Settings

 Theta Delta Bue presented its annual spring Fashion Show last Wednesday night in the gym before a crowd of approximately two hundred.

The show was centered around a European theme and featured scenes such as beginning the journey, life aboard ship, a cocktail party, a tour of Paris, and a day at the beach.

The clothes for the production were furnished by the Hub Women's Shop and the Bob Women's Shop, and were selected with the needs of the college student in mind. The models consisted of Judith Waze, Brenda Sherrard, and tailored suits to cocktail dresses, evening gowns, and tuxedos.

In the way of men's clothes, Ivey League suits with jackets and slacks combinations, and completely washable nylon suits were featured.

The model also dressed the students at the end of the tour back on board ship. Commander Europe, it seemed, had inspired the romantic interests of some of the students, and consequently, an informal shipboard wedding was planned. The bride was to wear a snow white evening gown and sandals of white shoes.

Entertainment was prepared at the request of the faculty in the form of two vocal soloists and a trumpeter. Wayney Walters and Jean Pratt did excellent jobs with songs such as Hello Young Lovers, Starlight Serenade, and On the Street Where You Live, while the trumpeter, a former student, was dân Edwards, Carroll Davenport, and Age

O'TOOLE PAINTINGS DISPLAYED
AT GALLERY BY ART LEAGUE

The paintings of Cathol O'Toole, chairman of the art department, are being displayed in colors, and prints sponsored by the Art League of Wyoming Valley. The showing began last Monday in the Little Gallery and will end tomorrow. The gallery is open daily from 11 to 5, and there is no admission charge.

Before coming to Wilkes in 1955, Mr. O'Toole studied art at the University of Glasgow, Scotland, and in the United States studied at the schools of the National Academy of Design. He has studied under Leon Kroll and Hans Hoffman in New York, and under Andre L'Hote and Stanley W. Hayter in Paris.

Mr. O'Toole worked in the commercial field and taught at Finch Junior College and Columbia University.

Throughout his entire artistic career, Mr. O'Toole has been the recipient of many awards. He has received a Pulitzer travelling scholarship, a fellowship to the Louis Comfort Tiffany Foundation, and in 1944 was elected a National Academician as a painter. He has received invitations for three years to the Carnegie International Exhibition in Pittsburgh and twice to the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C. His works have been included in the Survey of Contemporary Print Making in the United States, the New York World's Fair, and the Golden Gate Exhibition in San Francisco.

Two pictures in the present exhibition have won prizes. Influences was granted an anonymous prize by Allied Artists of America in 1941 and Things Around Us received the Carl J. Bloemen prize of the Saltmarsh Club in 1949.

UTILITIES WORK

Connection for new water and gas service for Wilkes College is being made by the Scranton-Spring Brook Water Service Company. These new lines will service the college's science building which is now under construction. The work is being done on South River Street between Northampton and South Streets.

Quiz Winner O'Hanlon
To Discuss Shakespeare
At Tuesday's Assembly

by Toss Scarsen

Redmond O'Hanlon, a New York policeman, has not only proved that Shakespeare can be fun, but also has won fame and a small fortune in the popular TV quiz show, "$64,000 Question," with his wit and knowledge of the Stratford bard.

Wilkes is most fortunate in having the country's most popular Shakespeare expert to speak at next week's assembly. Throughout the country Mr. O'Hanlon has been giving lectures which have been exceptionally well received because of his complete mastery of the subject and his entertaining manner of delivery.

In his lectures Mr. O'Hanlon revives the humor in Shakespeare's plays which a restless student might easily miss. He has been compiling a "Dictionary of Shakespeare Word Play," in which he classifies more than 35,000 puns he has uncovered.

Mr. O'Hanlon gives a delightful dissertation on the fascinating heroines which appear in the famous dramas. He also delves into the battle over the authorship of Shakespeare's works comparing the testimony of the opponents.

His treatment of the dramas in without doubt an informative aid in the layman's understanding of Shakespeare. Whether the students are familiar with the playwright's works or not, they can not help but find the lecture entertaining and most interesting.

RETAILERS CONDUCT SURVEY
ON TRAFFIC NEEDS OF CITY

What is the purpose behind the traffic survey being conducted by the Retailing Group of Wilkes? How will it affect the student body? These questions have been asked by many at Wilkes.

The main purpose of this survey is to examine the existing traffic conditions, parking and transportation facilities, and to relate them to the needs and requirements of central city of Wilkes-Barre.

EDUCATION CLUB SOCIAL

The Education Club will hold a social meeting on Tuesday, April 9 at 7:30 in the cafeteria. Beth Keed, chairman of the social committee, stated that the seniors who now are student teaching will be the guests and will tell the group of their experiences in the classroom. This is the first of the monthly socials which the club hopes to have.

Shakespeare's works comparing the testimony of the opponents. His treatment of the dramas is without doubt an informative aid in the layman's understanding of Shakespeare. Whether the students are familiar with the playwright's works or not, they can not help but find the lecture entertaining and most interesting.

Those students who drive cars to school have realized the need for more efficient parking lots. The general public, civic groups, and business firms have also been interested in improving Wilkes-Barre's traffic facilities.

During the survey, the group has polled a number of areas. Just what they hope to gain by each phase? By asking bus riders questions concerning the use of public transportation; to increase the use of this service by transit companies. They hope to show the results to the transit officials, thereby, to begin attempts at improving the situation.

By questioning business firms, determination of parking requirements for principals and employees of these same facilities for commercial parking could be established.

The club has also made a thorough investigation of public parking facilities. The results will be used to reduce the inefficiency of these facilities.

The pollsters stressed the fact that traffic conditions affect all of us whether we drive daily or not. No one likes to drive in heavy traffic; nor one likes to be concerned with inadequate parking facilities.

This study is based on the premise that in order to be a city to grow it is dependent on attractive transportation conditions and within the city. To keep pace, parking and transit needs must be recognized and met.

EASTERN EDUCATORS TO MEET AT WILKES

The Eastern Conference of the Pennsylvania Business Educators Association will be held Saturday at Wilkes. Their one-day conference will be "A Forward Look at Business Education."

The session will open with a general meeting at 9:30 A.M. Kenneth Shultz, William Penn High School, York, president of the association, is chairman of the one-day conference.

Featured speakers at the conference are Dr. Bancroft L. Forkner, professor of education, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City, who will discuss "Is Business Education an Idle Boondoggle" and Dr. Eugene P. Bertin, assistant executive secretary of Association, Harrisburg, who will discuss "Is Business More Than Bread."

Individual sessions will include: typewriting, office practice, and sales, general business, bookkeeping, etc., and lunch will be served in the college cafeteria.

Golfers Prepare to Go To Country Club for Pre-Season Practice

Golf coach John Curtis has announced that arrangements are being made for the golf team to get workouts on the home course, the North Shore Country Club. The team's equipment will arrive soon, and the men will be able to get out on the links for some practical drills and the use of the greens.

Curtis has said that the team is getting into shape and shows promise of becoming a contender for the Mid-Atlantic crown. Especially heartening for the coach is the continuing improvement of Bob John Reese's worst inventory the application of new people to the team went frame, Automatic Programming.

Why Tom chose IBM

How does a senior like Tom, who was interviewed by at least twenty companies while in college, select his future employer? "In my own words," says, "the choice was easy, IBM offered the best opportunities. I knew IBM was about doubling its sales every five years—and when I considered the tremendous growth potential of the computer industry itself—I had no trouble making up my mind.

"Besides, I was impressed by the caliber of IBM personnel. They had a broader outlook and an approach to mand. "We are designing and implementing a system to link eleven reporting centers to Headquarters by wire transmission," Tom reports. "Data transmitted to Headquarters by this system will be coordinated and then processed by an IBM 650 electronic computer."

Rain Halts Tournaments for Another Week

Old Man Weather has dealt the Wilkes tennis team a cruel blow. The managers of the City Parks system have not been able to get the courts into playing condition to date, and will probably not be able to do so for another week or ten days.

A tentative match with the Riders was cancelled before leaving the team with its original schedule of three matches.

The first three will be on April 20 at the Kirby Park courts, should the grounds be in playing condition by that date. They will follow with a road (continued on page 5)

What's it like to be

A Systems Analyst at IBM?

Two years ago, college senior Thomas Wheeler asked himself this question. Today, a Systems Analyst in IBM's Data Processing Division, Tom reviews his experience and gives some pointers that may be helpful to you in taking the first, most important step in your business career.

"What I probably like most about this job," says Tom, "is that you're never tied down to one desk and the same routine. There's always a new problem...a new approach needed...new people to meet and work with."

But first, what does a Systems Analyst do? "Briefly, we study a customer's present system—payroll, inventory control, billing or whatever—and convert it to a mechanized system using either conventional IBM business machines or IBM's high-speed electronic computers."

Tom works out of the IBM Baltimore office with some of America's biggest companies as its customers. Graduated from Johns Hopkins in August, '55, with a B.S.I.E., he came immediately to the IBM-Thompson train- ing period, Tom studied IBM's Punched Card and Electronic Data Processing Machines. He learned their uses, their applications, and was instructed in the theories and methods of data processing.

Diversified Assignments

A leading aircraft company was Tom's first major assignment. At the Bellwood, official of the contract department, he explained, "was to analyze the application of IBM's latest electronic computers to the problem of decreasing the flow of materials and machines used to fill Government contracts."

Then came a short, but highly satisfying assignment. At the Ballwood, for the Army Quartermaster Corps, Tom set up a "SOAP" system (System for Optimized Automatic Programming) de-

At the control panel of IBM's 650 business which I can best describe as professional.

"My future? It looks good—very good. I've already resolved two serious issues in less than two years, and I realize IBM and the electronic computer field are expanding, my future is both assured—and rewarding!"

IBM hopes this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to be a Systems Analyst in the Data Processing Division. There are equal opportunities for E.E.,'s, L.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians, Liberal Arts majors, and Business Administration graduates in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Service Assistance. Why drop in and have a talk with IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply you with brochures and tell you what IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, the IBM Management Trainee Team has been, P. H. Budig, will be happy to answer your questions. Just write him at IBM, Room 11904, 250 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

SPORTS SPURTS
by DICK MYERS, Sports Editor

The deadline for entries in the Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference individual match singles championship is Monday, April 15. Two men on campus so far have expressed a willingness to represent Wilkes in these events. They are Bill Tremayne, Intramural All Events Handicap Champion; and Pete Poray, member of the First-place Rose Tattoo’s of the Handicap Tournament and of the Mixed Masters champions of the Fall-term league.

These men would like to hear from any other interested parties. The tournament will be held May 4 and 5. Sixteen men will qualify to enter the semi-finals. The eight winners will then meet in head-to-head competition, bowling under the Petrometer point system.

The school of the winning bowler will receive the beautiful 22-inch V. Louis Collegiate Trophy, which becomes permanent if won three years in succession. The winning bowler will receive a smaller replica of the trophy for permanent possession, in addition to a gold medal.

A tournament could be run on the same basis as the Easterns mentioned above, with the top man being declared the Wilkes College champion bowler.

Depending on the number of bowlers, an entrance fee could be set to purchase trophies for the winners and runners-up. Anyone ready to do a little more bowling this year, contact this writer before next Wednesday.

THE SILENT SPORT

If it’s good enough for the Sports pages of the New York Times, it should be worthy mention in the Wilkes Beacon. The “it” in this case being chess.

With considerable interest being shown in the endless games observed on campus, perhaps a tournament in this less strenuous sport would appeal to the members of the student body.

Several of the players have mentioned such a proposal from time to time, and we feel that perhaps some action can be initiated if the matter is given a bit of publicity.

Failing in this goal, it may be possible for the devotees of “moody” to find their way into a formal campus organization devoted to the instruction of novices, lectures, intra-organizational competition, and perhaps even intercollegiate games in the future.

Just a suggestion.

PLAY BALL! ... WITHOUT UMPS?

Once again, a call for archers in the intramural softball league. Today is the last day for archers in the tourney to get their orders in. If you are interested in participating, please contact the campus recreation office on the third floor of Chase Hall, or contact me.

GOLFERS TO PRACTICE

The experienced men on the squad.

The announcement that the men will soon be working on the team greens should heighten interest in the pre-season activities, since it means that the men will be able to get some real experience with intra-squad competition.

The rules under which meets will be held show that the old best-ball partner system will be abolished this year. Instead, the six team members will tee off in order of their placement in qualifying eliminations, and the individual match play rules. There will be one point for the first nine holes, one point for the second nine, and one point for all 18 holes. The possible score, therefore, will be 18 points per contest.

Coach Curtis is still looking for team members. Anyone interested is trying out for the team may see Mr. Curtis in his office on the third floor of Chase Hall, or may contact any member of the team.

WM. KONDRAIT SPEAKS TO RETAILING GROUP

Mr. William Kondrait, merchandising manager of The Baroody Hardware, Hutchinson of S & H green stamps, was the principal speaker at an open-forum Wednesdays evening at Sturdevant Hall. The Forum was sponsored by the Retailing Group.

The opening address was given by Mr. Eric Steen, moderator of the discussion. He explained many interesting aspects concerning trading stamps. Joel Reans, representative of the Sturdevant Hall, submitted then, presented current material regarding the stamps, and presented a summary of the recent article which appeared in Life magazine concerning this issue.

Mr. Kondrait opened his address with background information. He told the story of the S & H Company. In regard to this, details of some persons toward stamps, etc., he is responsible, three past sections of our economy, the department stores, homes, and large chain food stores, etc. He mentioned information, but all three succeeded mainly because the general public wanted them.

He mentioned several advantages of retailing stamps, increase in sales volume, increase of profit margins, aids in building good relations with customers, and are given on cash sales, the stamps being in hours of capture. The time of a business, as stated by the speaker, is proven best by public acceptance.

Four Wilkes College band members traveled to Indiana (Pa.) last Thursday to attend the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Band Festival. John O. E. Jones, oboe, and Janet Jones, French horn, were named principal speakers of the Pennsylvania Bandmasters Association. The Association held meetings while the band was rehearsing for the concert which they presented Saturday night. Mr. Mark Hindsley, conductor of the University of Illinois Band, was guest conductor of the festival in which one hundred thirty-five members participated.

Cue 'n' Curtain's three one-act plays were seen by an estimated 225 students, faculty members, their guests and families on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

An all-female cast, headed by Merle Cohen, struggled with the very difficult March Wedding. The vehicle itself is not a very good one and the limited time at the disposal of director Andy Evans further hampered the student actors.

A steady improvement could be noted from first performance to last indicating that the players and director were doing their best with a difficult assignment.

The Maker of Laws was highly enjoyed by all the audience. The cast starred Steve Cooney in the title role, as King of Egypt. Steve's portrayal of the king who loses the game (although playing with his own credit card) showed great poise and considerate. The support performance from the first to last performance indicates a big future in store for Mr. Cooney. Submerged also featured a first rate performance from Wilkes' Baroody, Schlingman, freshman, had the audience in the palm of his hands with his portrayal of the cowardly submarine sailor. The role called for considerable stage business, displays, which carried out deftly.

As a whole, the three plays provided a pleasing and stimulating evening of entertainment for those in attendance.

ED. CLUB TO ATTEND ESST CONFERENCE

by Ruth Younger

The Education Club is planning to attend a joint conference of classroom teachers and Future Teachers of America chapter members at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on Wednesday, April 24.

Cats will leave Sturdevant Hall, South Franklin St., at 8 A.M. The conference will be in session all day.

This Spring Conference is anticipated to be very helpful for future teachers because they will hear discussions by teachers who have had experience in the classroom.

Discipline problems and personality problems in the schools concerning student-teacher relationships will be discussed by all the conference delegates.

All students are welcome to go to this conference with the Education Club. The cost of the conference will only be 52 cents per person which includes his dinner and his SAM Tours Tungsol Corp.

The Society for the Advancement of Management (SAM) recently took a field trip to the Tungsol Corporation in Weatherly, Pennsylvania. The fifteen members of the group who attended left campus at twelve and began their tour at one o'clock.

The club was first taken on a tour of the plant, after which a discussion period was held. During this the members of the club had an opportunity to ask questions of some company officials as the personnel manager, industrial engineer, chief accountant, and production engineer on the functioning of the plant.

The trip was one of many similar trips held by the club along with their policy to learn more about the practical functioning of management.

LAST CALL FOR TEAM ROSTERS IN SOFTBALL

John Reese, Director of Intramural Activities, has announced that today is the last chance for teams to enter for the softball. Mr. Reese has reported that as of Monday, eight teams were entered.

Still to be found are men who are willing to take on the chore of officiating these games. Any potential umpires on campus are urged to see Coach Reese in his office before 3:30 P.M. today.

Also lacking is a Student Di- rector of the league. Interested parties may see Mr. Reese at any time.

Tentative schedules have already been made, but the final schedules for release will not be made until all the team entries have been made.

Those active in these sports have already been completed, team captains will be notified, and the Bisons will publish the lists.

If the weather permits and the rosters are completed, Mr. Reese promises that competition will begin next week. Tuesday has been set as the target date.

"If beg your pardon, pretty Miss, But would you give me one small kiss?" Because why do, today is the day Because there's romance in the air Because you are so very fair! There is a lot in what you've said. Okay, kiss me . . . go ahead.

"Moral: Faint heart never won real satisfaction in smoking. If you like your pleasure BIG, smoke for real—smoke Chesterfield. Faint heart will grow more smoothly by ACCU-RAY, it's the smoothest tasting smoke today.

"Smoke for real ... smoke Chesterfield! $1.80 for every philosophy were adopted for public. tion, Chesterfield, P.B. Dept. 28, New York 46, N.Y.
