CHOPER, BUCHOLTZ VIE FOR U.S. CHAMPIONSHIP

State Champions at West Point Meet Today, Coach Kruger's Third Entry in Nationals

by Toni Scureman

Jesse Choper and John Bucholtz, members of the outstanding debating team in the state of Pennsylvania, are vying for national honors today at the National Invitational Debate Tournament at the United States Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.

Choper and Bucholtz are well known for their numerous debating victories in dual meets and tournaments. Their victories are a continuation of the record Dr. Kruger's teams have set in the years he has been coaching debate at the college.

The Wilkes debating team was one of six to qualify for the tournament from District VII. The district includes Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, states which are noted for their excellent colleges and universities.

The District VII colleges competing in the tournament are Princeton, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania (coached by Flannery), St. Peter's, and St. Joseph's, last year's runner-up, invited automatically. The schools qualified at the regional tournament held over a month ago when schools from the area competed for places.

As added competition Bucholtz and Choper will be striving to repeat or surpass the record established by Wilkes two years ago when J. Harold Flannery, Jr., now debating coach at Pennsylvania, and James Neveras missed first place in the Nationals by one point.

The debating team has been setting phenomenal records this year, having thirty-four wins to their credit and four losses.

At the recent contest at King's College, Wilkes walked off with the state crown, Pennsylvania Debate Championship. In addition, the team won first place in the Harvard Invitational Tourney (attended for the most part by "Ivy League" schools), and at the Bucknell University Good Neighbor Tourney.

The novice team seems to be following in the footsteps of its predecessor, having taken first at the University of Scranton Tournament.

Choper, who has been judged second best individual debater in the state, took first place at Bucknell and tied for top honors at Harvard. At Harvard, Bucholtz came in as third best speaker.

The national debate question, which has been used in all major competition this year, will be — "Resolved: That the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign nations."

Throughout the nation only 36 schools have qualified for the Nationals at West Point. The teams include: San Diego State College, University of Redlands (Cal.), UCLA, Florida, Miami, Idaho State, Augustana (Ill.), Southern Illinois, Illinois, DePaul, Notre Dame, Southwestern (Kan.), Kansas, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Also St. Olaf (Minn.), Southwest Missouri State, Dartmouth, Princeton, St. Peter's, Fordham, U. S. Military Academy, Duke, Oklahoma, Pacific University (Ore), Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Wilkes, St. Joseph's, South Carolina, Abilene Christian, Rice Institute, Vermont, Houston, College of Puget Sound (Wash.), and Wisconsin Teachers College.

The Wilkes College team, with Coach Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, left Wednesday afternoon for West Point.

Prof: "You students in the rear of the classroom please stop passing notes back and forth."

Student: "These are cards, not notes, Sir. We're playing bridge."

Prof: "Oh, excuse me."

April Shower Semi-formal Tomorrow Evening at Nine

Colonel's Queen will be Crowned And Presented with Gold Watch By Dean Ralston, Neil Dadurka

by M. L. Onufer

The Lettermen are making last-minute preparations for their annual Spring semi-formal, the April Showers Ball. This long-awaited event will be held tomorrow, Saturday evening, instead of on a Friday evening as was customary.

Walter Glogowski and Sam Puma, chairmen of the decoration committee, said the decorations will center around a Central Park theme. The backdrop is a scene of a horse-drawn surrey in Central Park with the familiar New York skyline in the background. Walter painted the backdrop.

The ceiling decorations will be a blue crepe paper sky dotted with white stars. The decorating committee and all voluntary assistants have been decorating the gym since last night. They expect to finish by Saturday afternoon.

The girls of the T.D.R. are returning the aid the Lettermen gave them at their Valentine semi-formal by handling the table decorations.

The highlight of the prom will be the selection of the "Colonel's Queen" at intermission. The queen will be selected by the Lettermen from the girls in attendance. Neil Dadurka, club president, and Dean Ralston, club adviser, will present the queen with a wrist watch donated by Morris Jewelers. Last year's queen was Mollie Beard, designer of the backdrop used at that prom.

Bob Sokol, program chairman, said Frankie Reynolds and his orchestra will supply music from nine to twelve.

The receiving line will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Thatcher, and Mr. Hoover, Neil Dadurka, and Bill Farish, general chairman of the affair.

Other committee heads are: Ron Rescigno, refreshments; and Rodger Lewis, publicity.

A no-corsage ruling will be in effect.

20 Council Nominees To Speak in Assembly Seeking Class Offices

by Maryan Powell

The candidates for next year's Student Council will give their nominating speeches in Tuesday's assembly. Each class will vote for four members in Chase Theater next Thursday.

In the Freshman class there are seven people vying for the position. Lynn Boyle, Dick Salus and Mary Homan are incumbents seeking re-election. The other nominees are: Moncie Miller, Francis Steek, Alan Jones and George Reynolds.

The Sophomore class has six students seeking election. Rose Weinstein is the only incumbent. Others nominated from the Sophomore class are: Ann Bates, Barbara Federer, Tom Ruggiero, John Salia and John Schade.

Four of the seven people running in the Junior class have been re-nominated. They are: Ginny Brehm, Mary Matthey, Ed Kotula and Ron Tremayne. Joe Oliver, John Scandale and Bob Scally are the other people seeking election.

COMPETITIVE TEAMS WILL DONATE BLOOD

Wilkes College students are once again given the opportunity to save a life as well as to contribute to a college insurance program on Tuesday, May 14, Wilkes College Blood Donor Day.

Along with the advantages that students will gain by donating blood at the local blood bank, a new type of intramural competition will be introduced at Wilkes. John Reese has asked all club and organization heads to stimulate interest within their respective groups to donate blood in teams.

The winning clubs will be chosen on the number of pints of blood donated and the percentage of club members participating in the drive. The results will be published in the May 17 issue of the Beacon.

In the last blood drive, held in December, a total of 97 pints were donated. This amount, however, was far below the quota.

It is hoped that this drive will exceed its quota, since it is advantageous to keep a large reserve ready. Eight families of Wilkes students have so far used the blood insurance program.

Survey Shows Progress

by Bill Zdancewicz

Reports from the Retailing Group concerning the traffic survey show progress is being made. Returns of the transportation survey totaled over seven thousand, and these are ready for tabulation by the Committee.

Throughout the last two weeks the group has been working on the second phase, business firms. They encountered little difficulty with the firms. Some returns have been received, and all are expected to be in by the end of this week.

Beginning Monday, parking lots of the central district will be surveyed by the group. Following this last phase, all information will be grouped and presented along with a guide booklet to the Mayor's Traffic Committee.

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM GIVEN BY BIOLOGISTS

by James Eidam

The Wilkes Biological Society was in charge of the weekly assembly program on Tuesday, with six of its members discussing the influence of science upon civilization.

Gloria Dran's topic was "Science and the Arts". She related how important the interaction has been between science and the various arts, such as music, photography and painting. Science has contributed to each of these fields, which have, in return, made contributions to the scientific world.

Sam Puma discussed "Science and War", and stated that there is no casual relationship between the two. Science is just as capable of producing atoms for peace as it is for war.

"Science and Economics" was discussed by Andrew Evans, who related the problem of the backward and progressive nations of the world today, and the influence of science upon economic growth.

Art Meyer, in "Science and Government, related the amount of government legislation made necessary by scientific advancements.

John Saba spoke on "Science and Religion", and told that they are not necessarily antagonistic fields of study, but should work together to improve the life of mankind.

Concluding remarks on the scientist's place in our society was given by Les Weiner, who was chairman for the program.

HAMPTON STUDENTS TO VISIT CAMPUS IN EXCHANGE PROGRAM

by M. L. Onufer

Wilkes College will be hosts to several visitors from Hampton Institute (Virginia) next weekend. This is the second exchange program between Hampton and Wilkes.

Just before the Easter vacation Les Weiner, Jim Moser, Richard Morris, and Bill Farish accompanied Dean Ralston to Hampton. The Beacon carried a report by Les Weiner.

The exchange program was set up last year to try to establish a better understanding of the "races". The results of the program were extremely successful last year and it was decided to continue it.

Hampton and Wilkes are approximately the same size, but Hampton has a much larger residents population. As Les mentioned in his interview, there were many opportunities for informal bull sessions and the students discussed several problems including segregation. In this living together the students had a chance to understand each other better.

No plans have yet been made for the Hampton visitors, but they'll probably be similar to those of last year, which included an all-day outing to Dr. Farley's farm. The boys who visited Hampton heard many favorable reports on this events.

It is hoped that all Wilkes students will do their part to give the Hampton visitors a similar impression this year.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBIT

The Photographic Society of America is exhibiting their Traveling Print Show in the reading room on the first floor of the library. This display contains pictures which should be of special interest to science students.

DEAN BECOMES DADDY OF SEVEN-POUND BOY

Dean of Men George Ralston has become a daddy a month sooner than he had expected to welcome the new arrival. The smiling dean's wife, the former Helen B. Hawkins, gave birth to seven-pound John David Ralston on Easter Sunday at the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital in Kingston.

The new member of the Ralston household was not expected until next month, but being "a chip off the old block", he evidently does not believe in procrastination.

Mrs. Ralston had planned a trip to Harrisburg last Sunday, not a trip to the hospital. The couple were to have visited the dean's parents at the state capital for the holidays.

Early Sunday morning, Mr. Ralston was guest speaker at the Sunrise ceremonies at Mountaintop; and his lovely wife, a popular vocalist throughout the Valley, sang in the choir in church.

The holiday trip was to follow the services, but little John David altered these plans when he came into the world that afternoon at three o'clock. He even surprised the doctor who was out of town at the time.

Mrs. Ralston holds an A.B. in Music from Wilkes and has taught at the college. Mr. Ralston is presently working on his Ph.D. from Columbia University.

Just the Facts

At least one person has seen fit to enter a protest with the Beacon concerning the proposed tuition increase, although there has been much comment about it on campus, nearly all against it.

While we can appreciate the position of the Administration to some extent, we cannot be said to be very strongly in favor of the proposal. The average student, as well as the family man, is faced with tightly strained budgets. Most student incomes are from unskilled jobs, where pay scales are lagging behind the cost of living. That is, lagging even further than those of college faculty members. The squeeze is on.

The main bone of contention among the students is the 22% increase in tuition fees in the last two years. That's a big jump; then to increase it to a total of 44% over the four-year period is really piling it on.

Granted that an education at Wilkes was the biggest bargain in education (up until two years ago), today the situation is somewhat different. Many students want to know just how different it is.

We suggest that the Administration present the facts to the students — all the facts. How can an intelligent decision be reached any other way? If the students had facts and figures on salaries of department heads, instructors and other members of the faculties of Wilkes and comparable, small, independent liberal arts colleges, along with their tuition rates, a fair and satisfactory decision should be reached.

Our Circulation is Weak

Our circulation is weak and we are not referring to our blood stream at the moment. The circulation department of the Beacon needs some help. While most students do manage to get to the Dining Commons some time on Friday to pick up a copy of the paper, there are many who can't. Since there are usually no extra copies left on Monday, many persons are deprived of seeing one.

Someone is needed to pick up copies of the paper when it is delivered from the print shop Friday morning and take them to various distribution points around the campus. Besides this, help is needed in mailing copies to advertisers and subscribers.

Since next year the business manager will also be in charge of the circulation department, this would be a good starting point for someone with ambitions for the business manager's job. The work is not hard, nor does it require a great deal of time, but it is one of the very necessary functions of any paper.

Anyone interested in a job on the circulation staff, get in touch with any member of the editorial or business staffs.

MRS. VUJICA TO HEAD LIBRARIAN MEETING

The spring meeting of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Library Association will be held May 4 at the University of Scranton. Mrs. Nada Vujica, head librarian at Wilkes and president of the association, announced that the main theme will be "Librarians, How to Get Them".

Mrs. Vujica stated: "It is necessary to interest young people in library work and to acquaint them with the interesting opportunities and professional challenges in this field. Librarianship requires a background of education in social work, psychology, and communications as well as a sincere interest in books and people."

Speakers will include Miss Agnes Krarup, president of the Pennsylvania Library Association, and Mr. Cyril Kane, guidance counselor at Scranton Central High.

Mrs. Vujica extends an invitation to any student interested in library work to attend this meeting. Further information may be obtained from her.

Letter to the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

I am the wife of a junior student. My husband is pursuing his college education under the G.I. Bill. I am writing in protest to the proposed increase in tuition.

I read your editorial "Higher Education" in the April 12 issue. The cost of going to Wilkes is high enough for a man with a wife and child. His monthly G.I. check is only $160. How can he pay his tuition, buy his books and support a family on that? He already has one outside job and an increase would force him to look for a better paying job, a second job, or to give more hours to the one he now has.

As it stands now, he has very little time for his wife and child. Working and studying take up all of his time and he still does not have enough time for his studies. How is he to get the full benefit of his education when he has to take so much time away from his studies to work?

The college has had much publicity in the papers with the fund-raising grants, etc. Why doesn't more of this money go to the faculty? Why don't they lower the tuition for the ex-G.I.? Perhaps we should write to the government and ask them for a raise to cover the already-once-raised tuition?

Alas, none of these seem possible so I must put my baby in the hands of someone other than his mother for the day and go to work myself to support Wilkes College.

It is a shame that colleges are depriving boys and men of education because of the high cost of education. If tuitions keep going up, what will it cost twenty years from now to put our son through college? And besides, a family man of today cannot get a good job without an education.

"One good point to keep in mind is that a person's education is one of the most important phases of his life." I suggest that the college reconsider its proposal seriously before increasing the tuition again.

Three-Act Performances Of 'The Shoemaker's Holiday' On Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Cue 'n' Curtain will present its annual spring production on May 1, 2 and 3. The Shoemaker's Holiday will be first given as a benefit performance for high school students on May 1. It is directed by Mr. Al Groh, who is assisted by Nan Karnilowicz.

The Cue 'n' Curtain will present the Elizabethan comedy in costuming of that period. Arlene Martin is chairman of the costume committee. Other committee chairmen are: Daisette Gebhardt and Carl Ernst, make-up; Bill Schlingman, property; Andy Evans, publicity; Don Henry, lighting; Paul Abrams, stage manager.

Andy Evans

The cast includes: Fred Whipple, Andy Evans, Bill Smulowitz, Merri Jones, Jackie Oliver, Carole Herwig, Phyllis Judge, Fred Malkemes, Gene Stickler, Steve Cooney, Peter Gale, Don Henry, Bill Schlingman, Robert Stevens, Dave Kistler, John Macri, George Richards, and Sam Dilcer.

The Shoemaker's Holiday is a spirited and boisterous comedy about the gentle craft of shoemakers. The play has been a favorite of audiences since it was first presented at Queen Elizabeth's Court in 1599. The play is about a master shoemaker who becomes a sheriff and aids a mayor's daughter to marry a titled gentleman after a rough course of true love.

Simon Eyre (Fred Whipple) hires an apprentice shoemaker, Lacy (Peter Gale), who turns out to be the disguised nephew of the Earl of Lincoln (Fred Malkemes). One of the shoemaker's journey-men, Firk (Andy Evans), tricks the mayor, played by Steve Cooney, and the Earl into standing outside the wrong church in order that Lacy and Rose (Jackie Oliver) can get married.

The plot touches a modern theme. Men are drafted and have to leave their jobs and their sweethearts. A father refuses to permit his daughter to marry the man she loves. A young girl, believing her husband to be missing in action, consents to wed a wealthy suitor and on her way to the church meets him on his return from France.

Fund Campaigns

Wilkes-Barre Attorney Joseph J. Savitz is in charge of the drive, with 175 class managers working for him. The drive ends June 30.

STATISTICS RELEASED IN SOFTBALL LEAGUES

The Wilkes intramural softball leagues got underway just before the Easter vacation, featuring high-scoring and heavy slugging.

In the American League opener, the Econ Club took a 14-8 drubbing administered at the hands of the Champs. Reynolds was the winning pitcher for the Champs, with Coates offering assistance in the fifth inning. Weiss was the backstop. The loss went to Seymour.

Glogowski and Lamoreaux were the big guns in the Champs' line-up as the team batted around three times to score eleven runs in the fourth inning.

In other American League action, Marleen's Monsters, behind sturdy mound work by John Macri, took the measure of the Butler Bombers, 13-4, using only seven men. Dick Myers was the catcher. The Monsters' attack was led by Myers' 3-run homer. Hall Shaver contributed another round-tripper to complete the scoring.

The Dirty Rotten Lowdown Hombres blasted a 24-7 win over the Probation Nine in last Monday's action in the American loop. The battery for the Hombres was Mugford and Sokol. Mugford got the win for the Hombres, John Gavazzi took the loss. Home runs were hit by Davis, Roberts, Steck and Klein.

The Butler Bombers failed to put in an appearance and forfeited to the Econ Club.

On April 11, the National League saw the Club 20 win by an 18-4 count over the Eagles. Jenkins was the winning pitcher. Home runs in that game: Wanko, in the first inning; Ambrose, Masonis and Jenkins in the third. Wanko hit a three-run triple in the fourth.

The Spanish Flyers, in one of the closest games of the young season, took the measure of the Sleepers, 5-3. Elmer Snyder pitched and won for the Flyers, contributing a four-bagger to his own cause. Tony Bianco also hit a round-tripper for the Flyers.

The officials working the games were: Paul Katz, Pete Perog, and Bob Martin.

The both leagues saw action yesterday and Wednesday, but the games were not completed in time to appear in the Beacon. Results of those games will be published next week.

Next week's games are as follows:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tuesday, April 30:
Marleen's Monsters vs. Probation Nine.

Champs vs. Butler Bombers.
Thursday, May 2:
Marleen's Monsters vs. Champs.
Econ Club vs. Hombres.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Monday, April 29:
Club 20 vs. Phonies.
Spanish Flyers vs. Incinerators.

Wednesday, May 1:

Colonels Meet Hofstra and Scranton On Fox Hill Fairways at Two P.M.; Six Trios to Enter Round-Robin Play

The Colonels of the Fairway take to the Hills this afternoon, Fox Hill, that is. In the opening match of their second year in intercollegiate golf, the Colonels will take part in a round-robin triple meet with Hofstra and Scranton.

Six men will participate for each team. There will be six threesomes, with one member of each team in each trio. The tee-off time for today's match is 2 P.M.

BASEBALL TEAM WINS

George Gacha, appearing in his role as relief hurler, helped his team-mates with a hit, and a steal of home in the "lucky" seventh inning of Wednesday's darkness-shortened 8-3 victory over the Scranton Royals.

Ronnie Rescigno had three hits and scored twice to lead the Colonels in their third win of the season.

With the field very slow due to the heavy rains earlier in the day, the Colonels took advantage of the poor fielding conditions in turning in the big five-run seventh inning.

The winning pitcher was George Gacha, whose record is now 2-1. The loser was Kazavich, who has two losses and no wins.

Diamond Squad on Road Tomorrow Afternoon in Search of Fourth Win

The Colonel sluggers journey to Williamsport tomorrow in an attempt to repeat their 23-3 rout of the Warriors last year.

The Lycoming nine, still smarting from the humiliation of that defeat, will be trying their best to atone for their inept showing. They have already posted a win over a strong Lebanon Valley team this season.

The Colonel batting power has been a real revelation this season. Aside from the weak showing in all but the lucky seventh frame of the Ithaca game, the whole lineup has shown considerable strength, right down to the bottom of the order.

Pitcher Eddie Birnbaum has made tremendous improvements since his first assignment against Moravian. The southpaw hurler has been able to turn in several fine innings of air-tight pitching and has shown good presence of mind at bat as well.

George Gacha has been a sturdy relief pitcher and has also done some good hitting.

Following their defeat at Moravian, the Colonels took consecutive wins over Rider and Albright. In the Rider game, Birnbaum was the starter and winning pitcher, Gacha relieved in the sixth to preserve the 5-2 win.

Lefty "Porky" Hoats started against Albright and went five and two-thirds innings. Gacha came in with the scored tied at 6-6 and received credit for the 7-6 victory.

The power was held somewhat in reserve against their next opponents, the Ithaca Bombers. Many fielding breaks for both teams led to a high-scoring game which went to the Bombers by a 6-5 count on the strength of their ninth-inning rally.

ASK ABOUT OUR COLLEGE CLUB

Scranton, coached by Rev. William Herlihy, took a close match from the Colonels last year.

Hofstra is coached by Dick Gordon, full-time sports publicity director for that school. They have had consistently fine golf squads, and from advance reports, this year will be no exception.

For the Colonels, Coach Curtis has been pleasantly surprised by the showing of freshman Art Belles, who hails from Fernbrook. The former Dallas-Franklin athlete has had plenty of golfing experience, thanks to his days as a caddy, and may be just the man Curtis has been looking for.

Ed Mikolaitis, Hanover Township grad, is a definite starter, and should be one of the top three men. He is also one of the most promising newcomers to the squad.

Returnee and team captain Bud Serafin will lead the squad.

Dave Polley has qualified for the match, and has been slowly whipping into shape. If he gets his swing "grooved", he should go far this year.

Bernie Danchek was unable to participate in the qualifying rounds until late yesterday, but he is considered a very strong possibility as a starter. Bernie has met the Scranton squad on two previous occasions last season.

Freshman Pete Perog of Bogata, New Jersey, has a well-grooved swing, should be getting his scores lower very soon, and will complete the six-man team for the Colonels.

Although the weather delayed practice quite a bit this Spring, the squad looks better than last year's, and can, with a few good breaks, turn in some wins.

All Colonels home matches will be played at the Irem Temple Country Club. The first home match is scheduled for May 14 with the Royals from Scranton providing the opposition.

Next action for the team is the Middle Atlantic Medalist play at Mount Union on May 10-11.

SOPHOMORE DINNER - DANCE AT MAYFAIR SUPPER CLUB

The Sophomore Class will step out to an evening of dining and dancing in one of the year's liveliest social events.

The dinner-dance will be held Tuesday evening, April 30, at the Mayfair Supper Club at 7:00 P.M.

After-dinner entertainment takes on a big-city aspect with the floor show headlined by Alis Lesley. Miss Lesley is the female answer to "rock 'n' roller" Elvis Presley, and has been a performer in many clubs in the New York area.

Other acts include a ballroom dance team and a comedy act, both of which have appeared on television.

Following the entertainment, there will be dancing until 1 A.M.

Invitations are being sent out, and a reply is necessary to fix the amount of meals to be prepared.

The bargain bill-of-fare includes choice of roast beef or lobster tail dinners, with all beverages included, at a cost of two dollars per person.

Sophomore president Reggie Mattioli has named Tom Ruggiero as head of the ticket committee.

Other committee chairmen are: tickets, Rose Weinstein; publicity, Janice Reynolds, chairman, and Nick Siecko, Ann Bates, Marion Christopher and Jean Broody; and Barbara Federer is in charge of the refreshments.

Money will be payable at the door, but reservations must be made immediately.

VILLANOVA GETS DORAN

John Doran, senior political science major, has been accepted by Villanova Law School. John plans to continue his studies at the University in September.

The Hanover Township High School graduate was notified that he has also been awarded a councilorship, as well as a full scholarship to the law school.

John entered Wilkes in September, 1953, and was on the college's debate team as a freshman. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doran, reside in Ashley.

Junior Class Dinner-Dance May 3rd; RSVP Deadline Today at Five O'clock

CHEER SQUAD TO BE CHOSEN THURSDAY

The selection of 1957 cheerleaders will be made on Thursday, May 2 at eleven o'clock in the gymnasium instead of choosing them yesterday as had been previously planned.

Those who are trying for a position on the cheering squad will have another week to practice the cheers before the final decisions are made by the judges: Mrs. Doane, Millie Gittins, and the two veteran members of the squad, Alison Rubury and Judy Menegus.

Applications Due Monday

Francis J. Salley, adviser for the Beacon, has issued a reminder that applications for the positions on the editorial staff of the Beacon must be in his hands not later than Monday, April 29.

Positions available are: editor-in-chief, assistant editor, sports editor, and business-circulation manager.

AMNICOLA APPLICATIONS

Applications for positions on the editorial and management staff of the Amnicola will be accepted until Friday, May 3.

Anyone interested in becoming editor, assistant editor, art editor, copy editor or business manager for the publication should write a letter of application and send it to Mr. Cathal O'Toole, either through the mails or directly through the College mail room before the May 3 deadline.

W.V.H.S. DISPLAY

The Wyoming Valley Historical Society has set up a display on mining geology, history and archeology on the first floor of the library.

Experience in these positions is helpful, but not necessary. Letters may be sent to Mr. Salley through the mail, or placed in his slot in the mail room.

Dinner Set for 6:30; Dancing Will Follow From Eight to Twelve

by M. L. Onufer

The date for the mailing of the R.S.V.P.'s to the Junior Class dinner-dance has been extended. The invitation committee, headed by Rita Matiske, decided that this was necessary because many of the class members overlooked their invitations during the Easter vacation.

The committee rescheduled the deadline for five P.M. today. The R.S.V.P.'s should be placed in Dave Vann's mailbox. Dave also mentioned that anyone making a reservation and failing to use it will be required to pay the full price of the dinner. That is the price which it costs rather than only the sum which the individual member pays.

Class members failing to make reservations for the dinner can still attend the dance which will follow. This begins at eight P.M. and an invitation is not necessary for admittance.

Rita also requested that class members planning to attend with more than one couple should specify so by placing a list in Vann's mailbox so that suitable seating arrangements can be made.

The affair will be held Friday evening, May 3 in the American Legion Home (Post 132) on North River Street. Flowers will be given to all girls who attend.

THIS HOMBRE lives in a Dallas palace. He's got oceans of oil, carloads of cattle—and plenty of Luckies, too. But if he's always begging for a match at light-up time, this affable gent becomes a Vexin' Texan! Give him credit for knowing his brands, though: a Lucky tastes like a million bucks—two million, in Texas! That's because a Lucky is all cigarette . . . nothing but fine, mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Try a Lucky right now. Reckon you'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

STUCK FOR DOUGH?
START STICKLING!
MAKE $25

We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used! So start sticking—they're so easy you can think of dozens in seconds! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
