Prizes Awarded
At Senior Ball
Tonight in Gym
by John Pisaneschi
Attention all ghouls, goblins, skeletons, and homeless spooks. The senior class of Wilkes will sponsor their annual Halloween Gala at the Wilkes gym tonight from 9 to 11 p.m.

The class of ’57 originated the idea of the Ball when they were sophomores, and they have been sponsoring it last year. All senior class students are invited as well as any others who desire a set of fun.

The price of a ticket is sixty cents. No one will be admitted without a mask. If anyone cannot obtain a tombstone, a body, (dead, of course) will suffer.

Costumes are not required but those who choose to wear them will be eligible for the prize offered at the dance. Awards will be given for the most unusual costume, the most original costume, and the most festive costume.

A special prize will be awarded to any off-campus group who has the largest representation.

Providing the cool sounds will be the Wilkes College Dance Band, one of the finest in the region.

Neil Dadurka, president of the senior class, and Dick Morris, chairman of the dance, have been working feverishly along with the committee to make the dance a success.

The public relations committee is headed by John Zuckman and Marilyn Williams are in charge of the refreshment committee. The decorations and planning committee is headed by Bill Daw and Bill Jackson. Les Werner and Gloria Dram are in charge of tickets and Don Straus is in charge of the music.

Cue 'n' Curtain Members Will Be Starting rehearsals very soon for the annual production. The theme is a three-act one, which is to be called "Suspicion." The leading ladies of the piece are Candidates for the Queen of Halloween, and the leading men have been chosen by the queen. The queen will be chosen by the audience at the last curtain call. The costume contest will be held on the last night of the play.

SPEAKS ASSEMBLY

by William A. Zdubyczewski

Colonel Alan Ferguson-Warren, former head of the British Royal Marines Commando, addressed the student body in assembly Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Colonel explained the background of the game, and its misconceptions, the latter being mainly glamour and action. In explaining espionage, the Colonel mentioned great personalities in this field. The greatest spy was George Orson Welles, a German, who in reality worked for the Russians.

He then explained some high lights of his personal experiences in espionage, citing those in England and France mainly.

Colonel Warren concluded his speech by giving advice concerning spying. He stated that as a spy you have freedom of movement during rough situations; whereas, an infantryman can move only up to receipt of orders from a higher command.

The Colonel's talk received an enthusiastic response.

Letters To the Editor:

Dear Editor:

My name is Sunny Squirrel, and I too have spent many interesting hours in the selection of the special strange observations have occurred in the past few weeks. One was the completely "squirrelly" letter written by a female student of the Beacon last year. Anyhow, one night in my room, I overheard the word "typewriter." I knew something was up, so I crept quietly over to the typewriter, and was amazed at the intelligence of the dog who wrote the letter, and I said to myself, "All right, now I have struck his cold nose into some other activities, then, for fear that the men and women of the campus might be above reproach, I decided to illustrate our heritage, I thought that I'd point out a few logical conclusions that Sam made. Now, I think Sam should know that "squirrelly" is a very old-fashioned word, for example, we play along clearly defined rules and laws, and there are all sorts of false analogies he used. The signs of gentry called a "squirrelly" man who is consistent with the rules of another style. I think we can all agree that good sportsmanship with stoicism. I have occasionally seen Mr. Picton in the gymnasium. He was one of the members of the team "speak" to the judges, and I can only say unkind things. If this were not so, we would consider our opponents to be as good as we are. This is less. I think, not one of our opponents have ever been "squirrelly" before. So, Sam put it, but so is an ingenuity, and I can tell you that for: Yet, I believe that the same "squirrelly" stood besides a good thing.

Sportsmanship. Something must be done, because it is not an excuse-rations. It is his story.

Now, suppose a contest were given for the best poem. Suppos- We hope you will be interested in the judges awarded first prize to someone who submitted a painting to the contest. Would you smile and say that the judges have "reas- oned" the patient in? I think, in a sort of grotty national renown. Now, "we must not go wrong. We must not only pay attention for we might be accused of being "squirrelly" ourselves, because it is not a deliberate. You see, when one group of people says a thing is good and ano- ther says that it is bad, we should make sure that our values are set upon different values. Of course, all the value of the car using some criteria, as one would when one judges the rightness of things, must be the prize. The judges and the students know the criteria, and the students know the criteria. But the rest of the campus maintained that the judges need clearly define the criteria that they are going to use. They must be able to defend themselves in their judging. The criteria that I would use is that it is not good to do something if all that need be done is obey the rules and regulations.

Women's Intramurals Planned

The Women's Athletic Club held its sign-up meeting last Tuesday, 12:15. The girls are organizing intramural teams in volleyball, basketball, badminton, and tennis.

CONTEST ON RESULTS OF ELECTIONS BEGINS

by Mary Louise Ommer

Dr. Hugo V. Mailey, head of the Wilkes College Political Science department, is sponsoring a contest based on predicting the outcome of the November 2 election. The contest requires predicting the winner of the four state races for the Pennsylvania Senate, the Seminole races from each state, as well as the 21st Senatorial District race, which is the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh legislative districts in Pennsylvania.

It will also be necessary to predict the presidential vote in this state within 10,000; the Clark-Dutcher vote within 5,000; and the Johnson-Taylor vote within 1,000.

This contest should probably be some interest on campus in the election returns. Three winners will be chosen, based on a book on election trends. The contest is open to the entire student body. Application blanks can be obtained from Dr. Mailey.

CB SC BROCHURES AT THE LIBRARY

The Campus Brochure Committee has announced the publication of a new directory of government career opportunities entitled "Federal Careers -- An Analysis." Thirty-nine federal agencies helped compile the description of over five thousand federal job opportunities. All of these positions are available for the current year. Each agency directory might be selected from the menu in the Career Placement Office. The directory is easy to read, and University graduates who are interested in federal government careers or pursuing federal careers, should not be too interested in the federal government careers. All students are invited to read this directory. It includes a list of the College Library and with the Placement Director.

Also, since Sam has been around Weckesser Hall for well over a year, I can tell you the story of several of the boys from the dormitory. There is no question why we put up such a noisy display this year, is that we lost a good deal of space to the student's definition of sportsmanship, and/or due to a lack of coordination to which we work the equal- ly poor sportsmanship or, we say, "We wish you had done better." You for Your Future Social Life

I. too, love Wilkes College, and for that reason, I will not do things. But when he said that he wished there was a little more Brooklyn spirit on campus, I raised an eyebrow. "Not only do I hear that the girls will not do things again this year," (which I didn't hear and wasn't evident from Weckesser last year), but I also hear an awful and mighty grovel from the student body. It will be great if one great indifferent voice "We will not do things for Your Future Social Life."

SONNY SQUIRREL

Dear Editor:

The show has worn off our group. We don't know when to notice it. For a time, we revolved in our circle of acquaintances, in the college, and there are more important things to be accomplished than the old group. The Men of Ashly Hall realize that we have to get the show on the road, and the students will realize the same thing.

We tire of this adolescent foolishness, and we know that it is just before. There are a few more rules for the show. Yours for better sportmanship.

The Men of Wilkes College -- The Hall

P.S. You have a bare man piece upon which to display a picture. If you people will learn how to do it, you will have a better opportunity to do it, we can have the picture. Yours for better sportmanship.

Soccer Team splits last two contests

Nick Giordano led a fired-up Wilkes soccer team to a 2-1 win over Elisabeth College Saturday afternoon at rain-drenched Kirby Park.

Nick scored three times for the Colonels and his spark set the whole club on fire as they picked up win number two. The Blue and Gold has lost three and has one tie.

Wilkes scored twice in the first period on goals by Giordano and Tom Jenkins.

After the Lizzies noted the score at two-all in the third period Carl Havir and Giordano united. Nick finished the scoring with another tally in the last quarter.

The Wilkesmen journeys led to Easton to meet the tough Leopards from Lafayette. The game was tightly played, with the Colonels going down to a 1-0 defeat.

Soccer Game Canceled

The soccer game scheduled for tomorrow with East Stroudsburg in Kirby Park has been cancelled, according to Coach Bleece. The game will not be rescheduled due to the fact that a date suitable to both schools is not available.

Susquehanna University captures 31-7 victory from Wilkes Gridders

Scoring early and often, the Crusaders from Susquehanna University made their homecoming a success by downsing Wilkes, 31-7, last Saturday at the victor's field. The Crusaders scored twice in the first period, once after a blocked kick and once on a pass interception. Dick Purnell, Orange and Harrow quarterback, scored and led his teammates to three other TD's.

Trailing, 19-0, in the second quarter, the Colonels broke into the scoring column after Bill Parrish had recovered a fumble on the Susquehanna 21. On fourth down, Ronnie Beasige, starting on the home team's 10, raced back to the twenty-five before finding blockers and then went into the end zone for the score. Dick Wozniak kicked the extra point during the Colonels have made this year.

BOWLING LEAGUE "B" RECORDS 3 SHUTOUTS

The Intramural Bowling Leagues completed the two-night competition last Saturday at the Jewish Community Center. The "B" league scored its opening night with three shutouts.

The Shamrocks, rolling with the luck of the Irish, swept four points from the Superlagers. Jesse O'Choper and Ross Rossi, scored for the victors, but the win was the result of steady team bowling. Ross Rossi sparked the losers with a three-game total of 740, high for the match.

Barry Miller led the Ashley Hall Aces to a close win over the Athletes with their 229-235. The losers just missed taking the first game as Coach Revie scored a 200. Art Houston and Bob Hollifield showed their best, scoring a combined 541 points.

All bowlers are reminded by League officials Barry Miller and John Kelleher that the tournament is being held to promote additional social activities among the students. The failure of teams to appear when scheduled defeats the purpose of the event by robbing those teams of an attendance of a planned evening.

The Leopards recovered a fumble on the Wilkes 6 and scored to take the lead one-all after the opening kickoff.

The Ichabods held their own in the second period and were down only one after scoring with a minute left. The Wilkesmen moved the ball to midfield, but it was stopped on downs.

In another meeting, Stroudsburg in 1-0 downed Wilkes, 7-0 before finding blockers and then went into the end zone for the score. Dick Wozniak kicked the extra point during the Colonels have made this year.

"FOOTBALL STORY"

How would you like to take the place for the past six Saturdays and play football only to come out losing for five of these six days? And after it is over, how would you like to hear some people say that you didn't try your best?

This is the situation the men who don the Blue and Gold have faced this season. They have been criticized from within and from outsiders. I say that if they think they can do better, why aren't they out there and playing instead of criticizing?

They may say that it is your privilege to criticize. True, but let's think before we criticize.

This team is made up of 35 men. They had one coach. Now the team has 24 men and they still have one coach. This does not build a winning team since the coach is still the most important link in a winning unit, and one coach can not handle the load of teaching football to 24 men. But Russ Picton, tries, and he has done a good job. And every Saturday there were 24 men out and on the field trying to play the best they know how.

This is not an easy job, but these men play their hearts out for Wilkes. They practice every afternoon when other students are taking it easy or doing some studying. Then at night, home they come, tired, bruised and battered. Then they start all over again to do it all over again. And just how do they get for this? Nothing! No gratitude, no recognition, no glory, just criticism.

Choose whether they play for you? They play for the fun of playing football and, maybe, deep in the backs of their minds, they hope that we will say, "Nice game, boys. You tried!"

WC UNITED FUND DRIVE TOPS GOAL WITH $2973

Dr. Reif Key Figure In Success of Drive; WC Faculty Over Top

Nearly one hundred and fifty per cent of the United Fund quota set for Wilkes College has been met. The total amount collected on campus was $2,273.84. These figures indicated that the drive has been one of the most successful projects for charity and welfare agencies ever held at Wilkes.

Dr. Charles B. Reif, chairman of the college Biology Department, is largely responsible for the huge success of the charity drive. Through the combined efforts of Dr. Reif, Ed Kotula, Neil Dadurka, and Dan Reynolds, both faculty members and students responded generously to the United Fund appeal.

Of the total amount contributed by the college, $2,273 was given by the faculty and $260.54 was given by the student body. The faculty goal was established at $1,000 as was that of the student body. The former greatly exceeded its goal while the latter had a seventy per cent representation.

The junior class reported the best participation total since sixty-seven per cent of two hundred students contributed. The amount collected in that class was $134.50.

The senior class was represented by a fifty-three per cent contribution of $61.00 from the one hundred fifteen members in the class. Likewise, the sophomores had a fifty-three per cent representation of the two hundred eighty students in the class. The amount collected was $140.75.

The freshmen reported a fifty per cent representation from its three hundred fifty-five members. The amount collected was $175.00.

The lettermen contributed $292.00 to the bond and the freshman Sophomore Dance earned $163.29.

Although the Wilkes College campus met and surpassed its goal for the drive, the Wyoming Valley drive fell short of its goal. Therefore, contributions are still being accepted. Anyone who desires to contribute may contact Dr. Reif, Kotula, Dadurka, or Reynolds.

Quotable Quotes

During the recent Homecoming activities, Dan Gwals was asked, "Where are the prints?"

"Naturally he replied, "With the princess.""

Dr. Hanger; "Did Shakespeare really write Shakespeare or was it somebody else by the same name?"

"Overheard in the cafeteria: "It was so strange the way we met. We were actually introduced.""

Jane Krhee, "Am going to have a harem. But what do you call a woman's harem — a haremette?"

John Pinaschi (upon receiving cookie crumbs): "That's the way the cookie crumbles!"

Marilyn Williams (studying for mid-term): "You know worry is like a rocking chair — it gives you something to do, but it gets you nowhere!"

Dr. Reif (spotting a student yawning in the back rows): "You ought to have a dentist look into that cavity."

Mr. Tener (trying to calm a panicked class before a Chaucer exam): "Giving a hard test is like pushing you against a wall... but philosophically you'll come through!"

Betsy Jane Eisenpress: "The wall?"

WRESTLERS CALLED

Any men interested in trying out for the intercollegiate wrestling team should contact John Reins in the gym. The first match is December 9th, so all who are interested, both lettermen and freshmen, should contact coach Reins immediately.
