Admiral Will Direct 'Seeds of Suspicion'

Members of CUE’s ‘Curtain’, the college drama club, have decided to present four one-act plays to students, parents, and friends next month. The dates will be the 3rd, 4th, and 5th of December, and the place—Chase Theater. All the plays will be student-directed, and, of course, Wilkes students will be cast in the productions.

A second production, dramatized by John McGrecky, will be directed by Larry Conover. The play has a present-day setting; the plot centers around Harold Mummery's suspicion that someone wants to poison him with arsenic. A little color is added to the story in a character called Dimhorne, a deliberately slow-spoken chemist, who represents Harold's co-conspirators.

Marion Laines will be one of the featured players in this play.

Dr. Hugo V. Malley

Texas X-Featured at WC ‘Harvest Hop’

Scalbond Band To Play Tonite At Econ Dance

By Mary Louise Onfer

The economists of Pickering will “grand right and left” to the gym tonight to sponsor their “Harvest Hop”. The social dance of the year, will start at 9 and last until 12. The Premier Pioneers, a well-known band of the Scalbond area, will supply the music for the initial theme, and the group will dance with Texas X doing the calling.

The Economists Club plans to go all out to decorate the gym in a harvest atmosphere. It won’t be exactly a cornucopia, a few corn cobs, hay bales, and perhaps, even a few leafless trees.

Xmas’ new entertainment at intermission, the club will present a pageant.

This election proved that military heroes are still popular in the United States. This was a personal candidate for Eisenhower, and the decision for the voter was between Eisenhower and the Democratic party. The voters decided by voting for Eisenhower on the one hand and the Democratic Congress on the other. An interest in the fact that this was a personal victory is the fact that Eisenhower did not take the Republican Congress into office with him, partic-ularly in the House of Representatives. It is the House that usually reflects the political temperament of the people, and usually voting for the president. This is the first time in history that a presidential candidate was actually a military hero, that a president was not able to carry the House. There have been four times when the president was not able to take the Senate, the last time being 1912. Eisenhower’s popularity and glories are not transferable, and his name is not magic. It does not run off other party candidates.

Another indication of a personal victory, according to Dr. Malley, is that in the Republican National Party Convention in 1932 and 1934, party stalwarts made it quite plain that Eisenhower votes could not win without Eisen- hower.

Dr. Malley brought out several other points. Third was that there is a tie of imagination in the voting for the Republican candidates, and groups were highly impressed by the presidential statement that we would not be involved in war.

The fourth point was that there were two real issues in this case, page. Basically, Stevenson and Eisenhower both modern, and had the same views on domes- tic and foreign problems. Stevenson try to manufacture some last-minute issues, such as his II -book which he did not get much mileage out of these coincided.

Local and quaintish "real" young lady, a story is told of the well known fact (?) that a mortal can never recover love of a leprechaun. "How to Propose", a hilarious comedy by Carl Tahler, and "If Men Played Cards As Women Do", another short comedy, were also selected by members of the club and Mr. Groh to round out the program.

How to Propose opens with a lecturer in front of the curtain, speaking on the subject in the title. The curtain parts; on stage, actors illustrate the lecturer’s remarks. Shirley Reedley (she is directing this play) guarantees that the audience will laugh till the audience are rolling in the aisles.

LETTER TO STUDENTS FROM COLLEGE HEAD

To: All Students

Your response to the appeal of the United Fund was one of the most encouraging experiences that I have had during my years at Wilkes. You demonstrated a sense of social responsibility that is rare and will be remembered by every community.

Leaders of the United Fund have already thanked me for your fine response. In passing on their thanks to you, I wish also to express my great grati- tude for your fine work.

You have established a tradition which, I hope, will guide all of us in the future.

Gratefully yours,

GREGG S. FARLEY President

Scalbond Band To Play Tonite At Econ Dance

A Colonial “C”Barvan” to next week’s game against Moravian College.

The trip is under the auspices of the school spirit committee, and the main event of the affair is Dave Polley, Ashley X. J. Madden.

Tentative plans call for depart- ing from the campus at 11 A.M. on Tuesday. The trip will be done at a leisurely pace, but plenty of time is allowed to make sure that the group will arrive at the game safely and on time. Those caravans have already been enjoyed by those who have traveled in them and the plans call to make this one of the best ever.

Those interested in securing a ride to this game should contact Dave Polley, Ashley X. J. Madden.
The C. C. U. N.

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations is a student organization, designed to acquaint students with the United Nations and its purposes, aims and accomplishments. The group is striving to create and develop a well-informed American public.

Specifically, it is seeking to encourage an awareness of United Nations policy in the U. N. It is creating and channeling student opinion on campus colleges and relaying these views to the U. N. It is a student educational organization which summarizes and expresses student opinions of the clash of various channels in our national and international government.

The resolutions adopted by the annual Leadership Institute are signed by member groups sent to the State Department and the United States Mission, as well as to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, with the approval of the American Association for the United Nations and two members are accredited to its research affiliate. It is accredited with the U. S. Mission to the United Nations as an official non-governmental organization.

As an educational organization and for college students, the Council is well worth the time and effort of the above-mentioned, well-informed American public.

The college has two members of high standing in this organization, Dave Oman and Ahmed Kazimi. Presently they are trying to organize a C.C.U.N-affiliated group on campus. We heartily endorse this action and urge those interested in international government to contact Dave or Ahmed for further information.

Wilkes College should have a voice in this organization. Let's start now.

Student Suggestions

The suggestions received in the Spirit Committee's poll of students taken in assembly were quite diverse. There were the jokes, of course, but there were also many who sincerely wanted to see changes in the social activities program. The suggestions have not all been tabulated and analysed as yet, but from a sampling of them, we see much that there are students who feel there is a lot of room for improvement.

But it doesn't stop at that. After the views of the campus are fully organized and reported, the problems will still remain. Someone will have to work on them to make the changes we want.

And it will probably be the same few who do all the work. These are the sincerely interested students who really are interested in the changes. They may be the ones who are the most devoted to the spirit of the Wilkes College experience.

One had a chance to express their views in the poll and everyone can have a chance to see their proposals carried out, but it takes work lots of it.

So those who want to see a better social activities program, this is your call. Are you coming? The School Spirit Committee wants YOU!

Letters to the Editor

To the Freshmen and Sophomores:

Because some students may be confused about the purpose and content of the Wilkes College magazine, the Maroon, we would like to explain what the editorial staff plans to do with the magazine this year.

The Maroon is a magazine which will interest, with its English majors, but all students; they desire to produce a magazine which everyone can be proud of; they want to publish a magazine to every student.

In the past the editorial staff published only written material such as poetry, short stories, and essays. As a result, those students who are not writing such literature discovered that the magazine did not reflect the total student creative interest. This year the staff hopes to present more interest in the variety of students, who can paint, design, photograph, or do some creative work. They plan to publish not only written material, but also reproductions of students' paintings, designs, drawings, and musical compositions. In fact, we feel that the staff believes that the Maroon will reflect the creative ideas of the common man as well as ideas of a few people.

The staff desires to turn the Maroon into an art magazine which will contain not only literary material but also paintings, designs, drawings, and musical compositions. Perhaps the staff believes that the Maroon will not only express the creative ideas of the common man but reflect their varied artistic interests.

What the staff wants to produce is a magazine which will produce something that each student expresses himself, whether it be in writing or in some other form. They hope to make it possible to have people, some majoring in engineering, some in art, have some students who like to create something, whether it be by taking a photography, painting a picture, design, making a building, composing a musical piece, writing a short story, poem, or essay, will submit what they think is good to the Maroon. Those students who are not only interested in the production, then, the editorial staff hopes that the Maroon will grow and prove worth to the students.

The Campus Party is here for the benefit of you, the only way we can accomplish anything is to have your suggestions and our cooperation. Opposition is good, when it is constructive, creative, and of a wise attitude in mind and done with a friendly attitude.

Veterans: This is your chance to have a voice in campus policy. Your suggestions will be listened to. Our main idea is to give more representation to more people. Here's your chance.

The Party is always open to your constructive ideas. You're invited guest at the next meeting.

Sincerely yours,

William Smolowits
Chairman Committee
Pro tempore

C. C. U. N.

Beacon

Attention: Animal Editor

Dear Sir:

In recent weeks, I have seen my friends Sam and Sonny wearing a bright red tie with a white slash typewriter. From my cave in Ashley Hall, I have wandered through the forest, the trees, and the shadows. Much ado about nothing.

— J. D. Bar

(Animal Editor's note: AMEN)

WILKES COLLEGE — Beacon

A newspaper published each week of the regular school year by and for the students of Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Subscription: $1.00 per semester.

Editor: Thomas Myers Asst. Editor: Norma Jean Davis Art Editor: Janice E. Tener Business Mgr.: Bob Chase Miss. Sally V. Shilts Advertising: Dick Bailey Photographer: Dan Gavlas Faculty Adviser, Mr. J. F. Connolly Editorial and business offices located on third floor of 129 South Franklin Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Manufactured by Mechanical Dept.: Schmidt's Printers, near 55 North Main Street.

TUESDAY: 11:00 A.M., Student Assembly

COLEGIANS TO SING FOR FACULTY PARTY

by Richard J. Myers

The Colegiants will entertain the faculty and guests at the Faculty party which will be held at the cafe- teria.

Sam Love, director of the Male Chorus, announced that several vocal numbers will be included in the program for this group. These include "The Jingle Bells," "Owner of the Mystery Bag," "San Francisco," and "The Night before Christmas." The first shows of "The Jingle Bells" are scheduled for four weeks.

A little variation for these and other performances, the men are working on several new songs. In addition, the group is planning to perform a Christmas song. Love is adding a few selections from this group to the annual Christmas season. The first of these, "It's not the cheer of the angelic, spiritual, Mary Had a Baby," is planned.

Love notes that the members of the Colegiants were selected on the basis of effort to be more prompt and faithful in their attendance. Several of the men have been absent from the Monday night rehearsal, which is the most important rehearsal of the week.

WORKSHOP PROGRAM CONTINUES AT CHASE

Members of C. N. "Curtain" currently are "all-outer" this semester. On Monday evening of this week they stressed that the third workshop of the year was a special night. At this time many of applying character makeup was demonstrated to members by Mrs. Bilotti.

The meeting was remarkably successful and the members of C. N. "Curtain," but no "outters" were to be found. All workshops are run by Miss Bilotti and are presented in theater, and those members who want to "in" might find them especially helpful after graduation.

The next workshop, which will be taught by Larry Groninger, is scheduled for Monday, November 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chase Theater. Studying set design, members will learn the first truly elementary service education in making a set. It has been presented at the second workshop on Tuesday, November 13.

The three workshops of the month of November will be on stage ethics; the date is Monday the 15th of November.

Where do you suppose psychiatrists go when they are not prescribed?

Smart politicians don't Feel their oats

Until St. P. counted All for us
THETA DELTA RHOadopts
OFFICIAL SORORITY SONG

Highlighting Theta Delta Rho's meeting last Tuesday night in McClinton Hall was the announcement of the sorority's social calendar.

Forget Me Not, a song by Ann Faust and Norma J. Perisiani, was introduced to the sorority. Miss Faust, who wrote the maus, is a senior at Wilkes majoring in Music Education, while Miss Perisani, who wrote the lyrics is an alumna. After singing the song several times, the Wilkes women unanimously voted to adopt the song as the official sorority song.

Some of the projects scheduled for this semester are the All-College Tea on November 16, Cardinal Party on November 28, Christmas Buffet on December 15, and a sports dance on January 22.

Charity projects for the year were also outlined. This year, the girls of TDR plan to have a Christmas party for the "old folks" visit Children's Wards in local hospitals during the Yule season, and present a scholarship to some deserving freshman girl. Sorority members are also interested in making ban-

Campus Party Sets Policies

A new method of nominating class officers was introduced to interested members attending the meeting of the Campus Political Council Thursday night. John Schmid, who has taken it upon himself to form a co-op group, is chairman of the party set-up.

Schmid, who admitted that the political party is in its early stage, has limited membership to members of the freshman and sophmore classes.

However, one student attending the meeting represented Smulovitz, said to be considering a political party since the constitution of the organization, printed in last week's "The Beacon." The organization for Wilkes College..."

It's rhyme time! With a fresh batch of

MAILEY ON ELECTIONS

(Continued from page 1) that everybody was something. The verdict was for a Republican president and a Democratic Congress. The verdict was one for moderate policies and moderate politics. The solid vote of confidence went to Eisenhower and to the Democratic party. This means that in 1956 the American voter is still a moderate man, and that the demissim influence in Congress will be middle-of-the-road. And therefore under these conditions, a divided Congress and Presidency ought not to necessarily cause paralysis in government."

Glinsky Kromm is chairman of the dance. There will be no admission charged at this annual dance. Free refreshments will be served. Bill Smulovitz spoke on the Campus Party.

Dean Balston also recommended that the council select a committee to meet with the deans in order to discuss plans for freshman housing next year.

Quotable Quotes

Fred Krohle: "I don't mind you breathing into my face. I just need a key. You wouldn't have to break in to see him because the key was told: 'No matter whether I play on the black or the white keys, you always sing in the middle.'"

Neil Dadulsky: "Shape up or ship out!"

Dr. Vujica: "You didn't know what I mean? Probably don't know me."

Mrs. Mulcaine, teacher of English programs aimed at propagating the sort of the human race: "Just think of all the queer ducks that wouldn't exist. Wouldn't it be a dull world."

Marin Jones, head of the soccer game: "If everybody that cheered that was present, nobody could have a fun night."
B. YOKAVONUS ‘ATHLETE OF WEEK’, Gridders at Bridgeport
PLAYED FULL GAME AGAINST P.M.C. Tonight; Seeking 2nd Win

Hanover Twp. Native Stars at Center Spot In Colonels’ 6th Loss

The laurels for Athlete of the Week go to Bob Yokavonus, starwart center of the grid squad. Bob was honored for his fine play against Penna. Military College last week. He played all 60 minutes of the contest and was one of the leaders of the Colonels defense.

Yokavonus, or “Yok” as his teammates nicknamed him, has been starting at center all season and has been playing a hard, driving game. The pivot spot is one of the most important in the single-wing offense and "Yok" plays it well.

This is only the second year of intercollegiate football for the 1954 graduate of Hanover Township High, but he has shown that he is no less a man than many bigger men. Bob’s drive and determination make up for his lack of height.

Bob is a sophomore pre-med student and is active in campus organizations. In high school he earned letters in football, wrestling and track.

—I—

FOOTBALL
Coach: Russell R. Pitton
Home Field: Kingston H. S. Stadium

10—Holden College Wilkes 2
17—Lebanon Valley Wilkes 2
18—Widener College Wilkes 2
21—Duquesne
23—Lycoming
24—George Mason
26—Po. Military College Wilkes 2
November
13—Muhlenberg
17—Moravian
19—Bridgeport
20—Gettysburg
2—Wilkes Barre

You are cordially Invited to attend
An Arthur Murray Dance Party
Why?
see a beautiful dance recital by the Arthur Murray dancers and receive a FREE lesson.

Dancing lessons can be arranged to suit your school program. Total cost for a complete 20 hour course is just $11.00, which includes ALL DANCES.

When? Friday, November 16th
Where? Wilkes College Gym, 4 P.M.
COME AS YOU ARE!

Jerry Loewen, Tackle, Expected to Present Threat to Opposition

The Wilkes Colonels travel to Bridgeport, Conn., tonight to engage the Purple Knights from the University of Bridgeport.

The Colonels will be looking for victory number two, while the Knights will be going after their first win of the season.

The game should be a closely fought battle. The Blue and Gold were a much improved team in their loss to P.M.C. last Saturday. If the Colonels could play a type of ball they played last week they will give the Knights a very tough battle tonight.

Wilkes is led by a good, fast running attack and a strong middle of the line.

The Colonels have a fine tackle in the person of Jerry Loewen, a native of the state. He has played very consistent ball this season and his 210 pounds make the opposition think twice about using his side of the line.

Jerry has a good passing attack and a very fine receiver in end Bill Meade. The Colonels will be ready up for this contest. They want the homecoming bout to be a great. The season is quickly drawing to a close, and a victory is sorely wanted.

Bridgeport lost to the Cadets of P.M.C., 26-6. The Blue and Gold fought valiantly but lost by a 28-13 score which may or may not indicate what the outcome of tonight’s game will be.

Both teams want this game and it should be a hard fought contest for that simple reason.

Last year Bridgeport and Wilkes played a 4-4 draw and all reports indicate that both clubs are manned as well as they played last year, if not better.

This will be the next to last game for the Colonels. Next week they travel to Bethlehem to play Moravian.

For Complete Shoe Service
City Shoe Repair
18 W. Northampton St. Wilkes-Barre

RICHMAN CLOTHES
23 South Main Street
MAKERS OF RICHMAN CLOTHES

ACE ‘Dupont’ CLEANERS
We use the “Dupont” Cleaning Method
PHONE 1 HOUR SERVICE
Phone VA 4-655
210 S. River St. Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

PA. PENN BARBER SHOP
3 BARBERS AT YOUR SERVICE
Soda — Candy — Tobacco

JORDAN
Est. 1871
Men’s Furnishings and Hats of Quality

9 West Market Street
Wilkes Barre, Pa.
Final Home Soccer Game Tomorrow
Season Finale Comes Tuesday At Muhlenberg

The Wilkes College booters will close their 1956 season at home when they take on Philadelphia Textile at Kirby Park, tomorrow afternoon at 2 P.M.

The Colonels are looking for their fourth straight winning season. They must beat Textile and take Muhlenberg next Tuesday if they want to bring their season record to 4-4-1. Right now, the record stands 3-3-1.

The Blue and Gold had an added interest when the East Stroudsburg game was cancelled last Tuesday because of a mixup in the schedules.

This will be the first game for the booters in two weeks and the last appearance before a home crowd for three top-notch booters.

Ahmed Kazimi, Jim Stocker and Bob Chase will be missed by soccer coach John Beese, but there is a bright side to the story.

Next year promises to be a great one for the Colonels. Now most of the boys have a year or two of experience under their belts and they know the finer fundamentals of the game.

Nick Giordano, Bob Sokol, Dave Thomas, Bill Loyd, Tony Bianco, Ed Masson and all the rest of the team should have gained valuable experience and will be ready to go next year.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS DECEMBER 1-ST

Wilkes basketball coach Eddie Davis has been very pleased with the early progress his team is making as they get ready to open the cage season on December 1 at Ithaca.

The Colonels lost four members of last year’s first string but some new freshman prospects look promising.

The team will be built around the leading scorer of last year, 6-4 center George Morgan.

Also returning from last year’s team will be possible starters Bob Sokol, Walt Tomach, Elmer Seysker, Tony Angiski, Eddie Birnbaum, and Jerry Ertman.

Some of the new freshmen that have pleased coach Davis are: Bob Tuver, Bob Gajoch, Garbo, Frank Minion, Bob Mugford, Bernie Rudicki, and John Kuhn.

“They may not have great height,” reported Davis, “but it should be one of the fastest and best ball handling clubs ever to grace the Wilkes basketball program.”

Open A CHARGE ACCOUNT At POMEROY’S

For All Your School And Personal Needs

Ahmed Kazimi
Jim Stocker

Colonels Bow to Cadets In Last Home Contest; Rescigno, Walsh Score

An improved Wilkes gridiron squad put a scare into a highly rated Pennsylvania Military College team before bowing, 25-13, last Saturday afternoon at Kingston Stadium.

Wilkes struck first in the opening quarter when tailback Ronnie Rescigno went over from the one, capping a 56-yard drive. Ron had picked up 36 of the 36 yards gained in the scoring drive.

Wilkes held the powerful invaders until late in the second period. P.M.C. then scored twice before the half, one time on a 70-yard pass play that caught the Colonels’ secondary asleep on its feet.

The Cadets tallied once more in the third period to make the game 11-6 with P.M.C. on top.

But the Colonels, for the first time this year, came battling back. Jim Walsh went right through the middle of the Cadets’ line for the second tally. Rescigno carried the ball over for the conversion.

The game was the last home affair for the Colonels this year.

Between the Halves

by Cliff Kobland, Sports Editor

STATISTICS

Seven games are in the books, with one win and six defeats as the results of this season’s play on the gridiron. But most everybody knows these unpleasing statistics.

We have some other statistics which are not as well known about the men who have donned the Blue and Gold for the past seven Saturdays.

The little white kid, Ronnie Rescigno leads in about every department there except pass receiving and punting.

Ron has carried the ball 112 times this year and has gained 495 yards. But he has lost 124 to leave him with a total of 368 net yards gained.

Ron’s understudy, Dick Wenzlau, is right behind Ron in passing and total yardage. Woz has passed 27 times completing 8, one of those passes being a 70-yard touchdown pass.

Rescigno has passed 46 times completing 10. His passing yardage is 109 yards, while Dick has gained 125 yards through the air lanes.

On the receiving end of those aerials, Neil Dudarks is ahead with 12 passes caught for 220 yards and one touchdown. The other end, Joe House, has caught seven passes for 90 yards.

Punting leader is Tom Topy. Tom has kicked 14 times for an average of 47 yards a punt. Sam Poma has kicked 32 times for a 36.8 average.

The leading scorer is Rescigno with 5 TD’s and one extra point. Al Manaraki, Neil Dudarks and Jim Walsh have one touchdown each, while Dick Wenzlau has kicked the only extra points the Colonels have made.

Injuries have hurt two men who could give Rescigno a fight for the passing and ground-gaining honors.

Art Tambur and Ray Yanouch have both missed the last three games. Still, Tambur is second in ground-gaining and Yanouch a close third in passing yardage. Ray most likely could have added more power to the Wilkes air attack had he not been injured. Him would have made it up for the serious lack of a passer that the Colonels need.

As a team the Colonels are weakest both, offensively and defensively, in the air. The opposition has tried 80 passes, completing 45 and they have eight touchdowns through the air. Wilkes has tried 94 passes completing 19 and the Blue and Gold have 3 TD’s through the air.

On the ground, Wilkes has gained 913 yards in 270 carries while the Colonels’ opponents have 1123 yards in 367 carries.

All told, Wilkes has scored 39 points to its opponents’ 181.

There are five men who play every game and never get their name mentioned in the statistics.

They are the guards, tackles and the center. These men certainly don’t play for the glory but they are the men who get battered and bruised. The linemen will be discussed in full next week.

Wilkes Women to Begin Intramural Competition As Supplement to WAC

The famous
Bostonian
Shoes
for men and boys are at
THE OH HUB
HARRY M. BISHOFF & BROS.
WILKES-BARRE

THE FAMOUS WAC

Women’s athletic clubs are not limited to just the men any more. The Wilkes Women’s Athletic Clubs, most prominent being the Women’s Athletic Club, has announced that student interest in this athletic activity is spreading rapidly. Many athletes who were interested in participating in the intramural program, where as players, managers, time-keepers, and scorers, are urged to see either phys. Ed. to speak with Coach Sheats for information.

Those interested in intramurals are also reminded that participation in two intramural sports will fulfill the requirements for membership in the Women’s Athletic Club.

Officers of the W.A.C. are: Phyllis Walsh, President; Barbara Federer, Vice-President; Grace Major, Secretary; Martha Elston, Treasurer.

Have you noticed the smile on Millee Gittens’ face since election day? She knows that the first time those girls come to Wilkes will be on October 29th.

GOLDEN TROJANS COP INTRAMURAL GRID TITLE

Wilkes Trojans, as usual, won the 1956 intramural football league championship.

But the big surprise of the year was the Weckesser Hall victory, their first in seven years.

The victory gave the Weckesser men the dormitory championship with a 21-15 win over Butler Hall.

Bill Duffy and Leo Davis paced the victors, while Morgan Davis had a 100-yard touchdown run for the losers.

In other last week play, the Snakes were won by forfeit over Weckesser, Trojans forfeit over the Snakes, and Shawnees swamped Butler, 46-6, with Danny Lynn, Frank Mickelson and Roger Lewis leading the attack.

This year’s all-star team as picked by the man in charge of the intramural league, Bill Morris, is as follows: Dick Morris and Bob Rahl of the Trojans, Danny Lynn of the Snakes, Millie Gittens of the Shawnees, Joe Ludgates of the Snakes, Lou Davis and Bill Weckesser of the Trojans, and Morgan Davis of Butler.

The Final Standings:

Golden Trojans 4 0
Shawnees 3 1
Weckesser 1 0
Butler 0 4

The results:

Golden Trojans 12 0
Weckesser 42
Butler 27
Shawnees 32 27
Forfeit over Snakes 107

Shawnees 27
Snakes 6
Weckesser 12
Trojans 27
Butler 6
Snakes 119

Golden Trojans 38
Weckesser 12
Trojans 27
Butler 105
Shawnees 6

Open A CHARGE ACCOUNT At POMEROY’S

For All Your School And Personal Needs

W.A.C.

Mr. President; Barbara Federer, Vic-President; Grace Major, Secretary; Martha Elston, Treasurer.

The famous Bostonian shoes for men and boys are at The Hub, Harry M. Bishoff & Bros., Wilkes-Barre.

The Gold Leaf Inn, 100-year-old Manchester tradition, is the home of the W.A.C. and many other intramural sports.

Open A CHARGE ACCOUNT At POMEROY’S

For All Your School And Personal Needs

W.A.C.

Mr. President; Barbara Federer, Vic-President; Grace Major, Secretary; Martha Elston, Treasurer.

The famous Bostonian shoes for men and boys are at The Hub, Harry M. Bishoff & Bros., Wilkes-Barre.
Bob Sclaff, right, winner of last week's football prediction contest, is presented with his prize by Harry Hershey, of the Varsity Shop. Bob is a junior and resides in Hanbecke Creek.

Don't forget to submit your entry at the Varsity Shop TODAY. Guess the score of the Wilkes-Bridgeport game and fill out the blank from last week's BEACON.

INTERESTS MEASURED

CONTINUOUS TOWARDS the Chop's part in one two-act opera, which are to be performed in co-operation with the Wyoming Val-

itary Philharmonic Orchestra in the St.

One of these is an American work, written by Kurt Weil. It is the first in the series and is a tragedy. The score is written by Jenice, a soprano;

Brando, a tenor, who is Jenice's lover; and the Prescher, bass.

Another opera is called "Gian

ni Schicchi", by Puccini. Although it was written in the Italian language, the local group will perform it in English. Mr. Liva thinks the story is so interesting that he won't want any of it to be lost to any of the audience because they do not understand Italian. The story opens with all relatives of a dead man weeping and wailing supposedly because of their deep sorrow. Then his will is read and it is announced that he left his money to a young girl, all his money to monasteries; the worst of all, 12 turkeys to currying. Gianni Schicchi, a lawyer, is hired by the old man's survivors to try to re-direct the public from out in making a new fake will. This one is in opera, the audience can be expected to enjoy and remember.

The workshops for both opera will be hosted by Betty Thorpe, a Wilkes student, and Mr. Liva, the director of the opera. Bob Sclaff, right, winner of last week's football prediction contest, is presented with his prize by Harry Hershey, of the Varsity Shop. Bob is a junior and resides in Hanbecke Creek.

Don't forget to submit your entry at the Varsity Shop TODAY. Guess the score of the Wilkes-Bridgeport game and fill out the blank from last week's BEACON.

INTERESTS MEASURED

CONTINUOUS TOWARDS the Chop's part in one two-act opera, which are to be performed in co-operation with the Wyoming Val-

itary Philharmonic Orchestra in the St.

One of these is an American work, written by Kurt Weil. It is the first in the series and is a tragedy. The score is written by Jenice, a soprano;

Brando, a tenor, who is Jenice's lover; and the Prescher, bass.

Another opera is called "Gian

ni Schicchi", by Puccini. Although

it was written in the Italian language, the local group will perform

it in English. Mr. Liva thinks the story is so interesting that he won't want any of it to be lost to any of the audience because they do not understand Italian. The story opens with all relatives of a dead man weeping and wailing supposedly because of their deep sorrow. Then his will is read and it is announced that he left his money to a young girl, all his money to monasteries; the worst of all, 12 turkeys to currying. Gian

ni Schicchi, a lawyer, is hired by the old man's survivors to try to re-direct the public from

out in making a new fake will. This one is in opera, the audience can be expected to enjoy and remember.

The workshops for both opera will be hosted by Betty Thorpe, a Wilkes student, and Mr. Liva, the director of the opera.

Buildings and lots of students are present at the Wilkes College Bookstore. The bookstore is located at 92 West Green Street, Nanticoke.

Bob Sclaff, right, winner of last week's football prediction contest, is presented with his prize by Harry Hershey, of the Varsity Shop. Bob is a junior and resides in Hanbecke Creek.

Don't forget to submit your entry at the Varsity Shop TODAY. Guess the score of the Wilkes-Bridgeport game and fill out the blank from last week's BEACON.

INTERESTS MEASURED

CONTINUOUS TOWARDS the Chop's part in one two-act opera, which are to be performed in co-operation with the Wyoming Valley Philharmonic Orchestra in the St.

One of these is an American work, written by Kurt Weil. It is the first in the series and is a tragedy. The score is written by Jenice, a soprano; Brando, a tenor, who is Jenice's lover; and the Prescher, bass.

Another opera is called "Gian ni Schicchi", by Puccini. Although it was written in the Italian language, the local group will perform it in English. Mr. Liva thinks the story is so interesting that he won't want any of it to be lost to any of the audience because they do not understand Italian. The story opens with all relatives of a dead man weeping and wailing supposedly because of their deep sorrow. Then his will is read and it is announced that he left his money to a young girl, all his money to monasteries; the worst of all, 12 turkeys to currying. Gian ni Schicchi, a lawyer, is hired by the old man's survivors to try to re-direct the public from

out in making a new fake will. This one is in opera, the audience can be expected to enjoy and remember.

The workshops for both opera will be hosted by Betty Thorpe, a Wilkes student, and Mr. Liva, the director of the opera.