ADMITTED 33 new students for 1957-58 year.

The total enrollment is 3,512, with 1,865 at the Wilkes College.

CLASS OFFICES

The class officers are: President, John J. Connaire; Vice-President, Charles R. Cram; Secretary, Mary E. Biddle; Treasurer, Richard A. Moore.

TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS were admitted to the institution.

The new students will be enrolled in the various departments of the college, including business, engineering, education, and the arts.

The admission procedure is as follows:

1. Application for admission to the college is made through the registrar's office.
2. The applicant must present a high school diploma or equivalent.
3. A personal interview with the admissions committee is required.
4. A satisfactory scholastic record is necessary.

The admission process is designed to ensure that all students are well-prepared for the academic rigor of the college.

The college prides itself on providing a challenging and supportive learning environment for all students.

If you have any questions or need further information, please feel free to contact the admissions office.

Sincerely,

TREMYAN URGES UPPER CLASSES TO JOIN IN FROSH HAZING PROGRAM

EDITORIALS—

Progress

One of the most significant events ever to take place in the history of Wilkes College will occur Friday at 4:30 when the Admiral Harold R. Stark Science Hall will be dedicated. As students we will have the opportunity and privilege to witness the first phase in the development of a new Wilkes College, for we have reached an era of expansion.

As we watch history being made next Friday, we can look back at the record of Wilkes' development and marvel at the rapid progress the college has made. However, this progress would be nullified if we failed to make the most of it, not only for ourselves, but for Wilkes as an educational center in the community.

From classrooms in a rented office building we have advanced to a 125-room dormitory. Facilities are available, mainly because the Administration and Board of Trustees have worked hard to make a dream a reality.

We can show appreciation to our benefactors by attending the dedication ceremonies next week.

Welcome Frosh

Speaking of new additions to the college, the Beacon welcomes the three hundred and fifty new freshmen who are now being oriented into college life. This year's class appears to be just as business minded as the college will gain much from their enthusiasm in the same way that they will benefit from the college.

Cooperation at Its Best

The Beacon tips its hat to our Kingston students and the community of Kingston for the wonderful spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm displayed in its recent Centennial program.

Lebanon Valley Day

Frosh must do their part to make sure that the annual Lebanon Valley football game between Wilkes and Lebanon Valley is a success.

Dr. Dunn, the college physician, will be in his office in Harding from 12 to 2 daily. He will be contacted when urgent.

Council Takes Reins; Name Days Scheduled by Student Committee

by Marion Klawon

The Student Council has taken over the reins of having this year in an attempt to revive the campus tradition. Representatives have been chosen from each class to make up the formerly all sopho- moric more traditional. It is hoped that, with this plan, all the upperclassmen will be able to do their part in helping to carry on the tradition and make it more of a success than it has been in past years.

The Council appointed representative groups have been making plans for the three-week hazing period since last spring. This week the frosh have been required to wear full regalia, next week actual hazing will begin with a full program of scheduled events.

Saturday will be "Bathroom Day." All frosh will carry full umbrellas and to clothes from class. At the time, a "Bathroom Dance" will be held on Chase Lawn.

Tuesday will be "Cleanup Day." Frosh will clean up the buildings and toothbrushes all day and then move in a "Bathroom Dance" and to site.

Friday has been dedicated to the shoes on campus. Frosh will carry shoe brushes and will be upon request by upperclassmen.

Thursday has been named "Best

"Ham"—A group of amateur radio fans on campus are endeavoring to organize a Wilkes College "ham" club. The members of the club are forced to ask for donations of equipment, no matter how outmoded, to help get them on their feet.

"Ham" operators are not enthusiastic and will be of little help in emergencies. They have proved their value to the nation in time of distress.

"Ham" operations are in participation in the Civil Defense communications system. For obvious reasons, the telephone cannot be expected to fulfill the needs of disaster communications. Amateur operators need no elaborate wire connections, rather, they use the airwaves for their contacts. Throughout the country, "hams" have worked with Civil Defense groups, providing a means to contact people. They have proved their value to the nation in time of distress.

Less vital, but infinitely more enjoyable is the opportunity to contact other similar stations all over the world. These stations are waiting to exchange ideas and pleasantries. It will only take the flick of a switch to make contact, but that first switch, and the accompanying equipment is needed.

Dorm Dining Schedule

Due to the increased number of dorm students this year, George Elliott has announced that dinner will be served at two different hours every night.

Mr. Elliott, in cooperation with the TDC, has divided the dorm and assigned dining hours to each section. Those in dorms 1 and 2 have their dinner at 6 o'clock. Those in dorms 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 have dinner at 7 o'clock.

The next two weeks while the other dorms will be served at 6 o'clock. The purpose of this plan will be to eliminate the long delays caused by the large number of students eating at the same time.

At Dr. Dunn, the college physician, will be in his office in Harding from 12 to 2 daily. He will be contacted when urgent.

Ron Tremayne, chairman of the Student Council, has stated that the Student Council feels that this plan will appear in the Franklin Handbook and any additional rules not set down by the council, and they are required to be in attendance at all tribunal meetings.

The Student Council has also made this statement: "Beware of girls who want to date every Tom, Dick, and Harry.

The Legal Word

Speaking of Sam, we understand that since he has been evicted from his log cabin home on Northampton Street, he has petitioned the court to have his name changed. Say it isn't so, George."

This column, dear readers, is the product of over six years of observations as we write the columns. During these years we have seen many people come and go, or like Art Hoover, come and stay. This will be our last 15 weeks of writing this opportunity to give you the helpful information of his kind. This is our "putting shots".

The Wild Folks

On the alumni scene, we find that Mike Lewis, late of the Poet's Corner and even later of the U.S. Navy, packing his bags for Columbia University Law School. His wife, Joan Zawolski Lewis, has returned to campus to complete her final year, but when she isn't keeping on eye on Mike, Jr.

Likewise Barbara Tanaki Rentchler, '57, stays home with her son, Jay, while husband John completes his last two years of study.

Irma Biccomi Moltlovis, former nursing education student, now putting her training to work on her own family, twin boys, born July 5.

Bill and Nancy Dow, June graduates, living at Meadowcrest, Trucksville, while Bill works for the method.

June and Ivan "Jonki" Falk back in Red Bank, N.J., following a honeymoon tour across the 48s. Jonki is teaching in Red Bank and also working as a newspaperman.

Jack Curtis, former Public Relations Director, slated to be teaching in the Harrisburg area.

The Glen Johnsans (Audrey Crole), '57 expecting another mouth to feed next year.

All We Know is What They Tell Us

As Sam Lover tells it, "the Frosh offer the second lead in the University of Pennsylvania's summer production of Witness For The Prosecution. Basil Rothshile has the lead. Don't ask me any more . . . All or nothing?"

Around the Block

Joe Oliver, senior Student Council member, has become known throughout the Freshman Class as the "pursuing attorney". On Tuesday in the Commons, Joe was having a frosh girl friend. While she buttoned low before him, with your figure, you need it?" She promptly squelched him; "Yours needs it worse!"

Joe says that the frosh have good spirit and are all good sports. He is looking forward to the Frosh Rally, and will probably make a "I'm offering sports . . . All or nothing?"

This is the last one — Joe Oliver to co-ed: "I'd rather take my dog out than you; at least she sits close to me in the car."

Jim and Sara Lowes are still picketing after working the summer together in the Poconos. Carol "Rebel" Herwig became engaged to Bill Bridger, manager of Oak Grove House, resort hotel where he worked this summer with Lehigh football team.

Ned Delude and Bill "Biff" Blinken leave for Marine O.C.S. on Sunday. Ned is expected in town this weekend on his way to Columbus for the big football game at Hottle's via an occasional post card. Latest from Reno.

We Wonder Who:

Will accomplishes the nucleus of Dr. Krugger's top-notch debate team this year?

will be the first to be called "on the carpet"?

will be crazy enough to run for Senior Class President against Dave Varn?

is Parliamentarian of the Student Council?

will be the second person called "on the carpet"?

will make it to town for the fall sports?

will think's it's cute to have some of the frosh walking around the campus with their pants legs rolled up? Wears John H. Osborne's name? Will be Paul "Sam" Katz' bowling buddy this year? Ah, boys, those were the days!

Joe Sam Weckesser so well this summer?

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK, SCANDALE IS APPROVED AS SC PARLIAMENTARIAN

By M. J. Klawon

The Student Body has voted to hold its first regular meeting of the year on the Common in Tuesday. Several major topics were discussed by the representatives, among them the schedule for the forthcoming class elections. On next Thursday, all the classes will nominate their candidates for office.

The candidates are required to make their campaigns known in assembly on October 1 and elections will be held on Thursday, October 3.

Candidates for class officer positions are:

President: John Scandale
Vice President: Bob Reese
Secretary: Bob Brets
Treasurer: Linda Phillips

The Council, consisting of the senior class, will start work on the finalizations of their plans, and Ed Kotula was appointed to chair the committee.

John Scandale

work on the budget committee.

Ralph has agreed to be the Council adviser and that John Scandale is approved as the Council's Parliamentarian. Gatto also announced that permanent office has been set up for the Council on the second floor of 150 Franklin St.

Test plans for the Uni Fund were discussed. With this year's packing, the total collection last year was six hundred dollars for the election. The Council hopes that class competition again will be prominent, for each class will be published in the Beacon during the entire length of the campaign.

Also discussed was the new written constitution of the organization, which will be given to each member of the Council, and they will discuss it at the next meeting.

The next meeting will also entail the election of a constitution committee.

Two standing committees were appointed by Council president Ed Kotula; they are for music, Barbara Fedele, and for journalism, Jon Oliver, and public

GROUP MAKES PLANS by Bill Zdansky

The Retailing Group plans for this semester will once again complicate the theoretical knowledge gained in class with nothing to study, as it has done in the past. Their activities will be directed by Mr. H. K. Kodner, a visiting instructor, who has been added to the ranks of the Retailing Group this semester.

In a recent interview Mr. Michaud claimed that in addition to the established format, the following items will be added: prominent retailers will be secured to speak at meetings, and tours will be arranged of retailing establishments to view both selling and behind the scenes operations.

Presently, the college's statistics class is compiling the data which was collected by students during their Traffic Survey, conducted last semester.

 Notices will be posted for meetings of the group, and students interested in joining are welcome to attend.

DORMITORIES ADDED IN WILKES EXANSION

by Audrey Hrstinger

Hall to the girls? They have been ever since campus is, and the girls flag of victory gained by the class of 1962 has become more popular. A good number of the girls in this class has now realized that their best years are yet to come. The women's dormitory now has more private rooms and other improvements, and has set the pace for the other dormitories.

Mr. George Elliot, a familiar face on campus, is head of this division.

Our other dorms are guided by three new arrivals: Mr. Abigail, a history major from the University of Pennsylvania; Mr. Luther Crow- ford of Wescott, Mr. James Langdon of Culver, and Mr. Ronald Miller of Girl's. These people and a total of sixty-nine students.

DEAN OF MEN GEORGE RALSTON RETURNS TO GRID COACHING JOB

by John Cook

George Ralston looks like an athlete. He is the compact body of the man who has spent considerable time on the playing field—hard and firm, capable of instantaneous execution of the demands of the mind. This semester he will put to good use the experience gained through a half lifetime of playing and coaching in the performance of his duties as head coach of the Wilkes football squad.

By no means a newcomer to sports at Wilkes, Dean Ralston serves as Director of Athletics for the school. Four years of varsity football and baseball at Susquehanna High prepared him for participation in the same sports at the University of North Carolina, as a result of which he received a Grail Scholarship. Incidentally, while at the university, Dean Ralston roomed with George Stirnweiss, who was later to achieve fame as second baseman for the New York Yankees.

World War II saw Dean Ralston in khaki, and in 1946 he was discharged from the Army with the rank of major, whereupon he came to Wilkes and was appointed Director of Athletics. That fall, he spark-plugged the football team with uncommon zeal, leading the squad to an impressive undefeated, untied record. Again in 1949 he produced a superlative team, the highest-scoring in the state for that season.

In 1955 Dean Ralston left Wilkes for a period of one year to study for his doctorate at Columbia University, returning not only with his degree, but also with a wife, the former Mrs. Helen Bitten Hawkins. During his absence Mr. Russell Perton served as head grid coach. A graduate of Wilkes and president of both his class and the Letterman’s Club in his senior year, Mr. Perton had worked under the Dean as an assistant coach for two years.

An advocate of sports for everyone, Dean Ralston believes that such activities constitute an intrinsic part of education, providing opportunities for development not available in the classroom. Quoting a former president of Harvard College, the Dean referred to sports as “probably the best lab in college,” a place to develop such virtues as sacrifice, self-discipline, and self-reliance. During the course of a 60-minute football game, a quarterback is required to make a minimum of 103 instantaneous, unaided decisions, probably more than those made by a business executive in a month.

Dean Ralston intends to employ a basic single-wing attack this year, as he has in the past.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING SEASON TO OPEN OCTOBER 6 AT J.C.C.

The Intramural bowling season is tentatively scheduled to begin operations in the newly renovated Jewish Community Center alleys on Sunday, October 6.

All persons interested in participating are urged to get their names on the list posted on the bulletin board outside the cafeteria.

Because of the new automatic pin-setters, the price of the games has been raised by the JCC to 65 cents. Shoe rental is 15 cents. The trophy fund fee will remain at 5 cents per game, in spite of the rising costs of trophies in the past year. Because of the automatic alleys, however, the necessity for tipping pinboys has been abolished, making the cost of bowling this season only slightly higher than last.

A handicap method of scoring will be employed this year, it was announced by student director Dick Myers. Instead of allowing more powerful teams to roll up huge margins over less fortunate ones, the averages of each team member will be added before the contest, and two-thirds of the difference in the totals will be awarded to the lesser team. That figure will be that team’s handicap for the entire three-game series.

For the first night of bowling, the first game will be played with no handicap. For the second contest, two-thirds of the difference in total pinfall will be awarded to the lesser team as their handicap for that game, then for the final match, the “spot” will be determined by the totals of the first two games combined.

From the first night until the end of the season, a running record will be kept of all bowlers, averages, and total pinfalls. A form listing the official league averages of all bowlers will be issued to each team captain immediately preceding each series.

If sufficient bowlers are available, two leagues will be formed. With the automatic equipment, the JCC is open earlier than in the past, and both leagues will be able to bowl at the same time, giving everyone a chance to bowl every week rather than once every two weeks, as the hand-set game made by Dick Myers, Sports Editor

The traditional function of editorial commentary is the passing out of bouquets and/or brickbats. With the start of a brand-new publication year this function is, in his short, both pithy and plentiful.

First and foremost, our sincerest thanks and compliments to Marlien Hogan, whose artwork graces the otherwise spick, span, take-up taken over by our permanent staff.

Our compliments and congratulations to the administration for realizing the importance of sufficient talent and experience in the backfield. This realization is epitomized in the naming of Dean GeorgeRalston to the post of head football coach. It has been this writer’s opinion for many years that no gridiron team, regardless of its ability, should be forced to prop itself up in the backfield for a sixty-minute grind of grueling body contact without enough men to do the job.

Dean Ralphson is an old hand at whipping even the most inexperenced line into a well-knit unit of growing demons. Coach Picton is now free to direct his time to his real love, the backfield. Things are looking up for Wilkes football. The Colonels may not win every game this year, may not even win any, only the Fates of Football can determine.

We can look, however, for a more self-confident, determined, spirited eleven this year; one that is secure in the knowledge that there is someone around who takes an interest in each phase of the game, rather than the “one-arm paperhanger” sort of thing detrimental to well-oiled football machine.

NOW THE BRICKBATS

There has been a startling lack of interest in the fortunes of the less successful Wilkes athletic teams in the past. Sometimes a gentle push in the right direction is needed. It is a part of enthusiasm among student body that inhabits the whole campus. This was evident last season with the highly successful wrestling and basketball teams.

There is no earthly reason why the football team, good or bad, should not get the same support. There is a strong suspicion in some quarters, too, that the good fortunes of the above-mentioned winning teams was, at least in part, due to the tremendous support offered by the fans. What more proof is needed?

Along the same lines, there is an alarming amount of physical laziness noted among the students. There are quite a few men on campus who have played high school football and have no real reason for not talking part in the College’s varsity sports; yet these people blindly allow themselves to get run-down, overweight, and completely out of condition. In this respect, it might be said, Mr. Ediss is striking his nose where it does not belong. The truth of the matter is, though, that such people are not only being unfair to their own persons, but are also being unfair to their classmates, their College, and the community, which has provided them with the means of getting their education.

It is a shameless waste of talent, leads to general apathy in the student population, and waste of all, gives the College a very poor repute for grade in what is otherwise one of the finest small Colleges in the entire eastern seaboard.

LETS GET BEHIND OUR ATHLETES

Next week, at 8:00 P.M., the football team plays the Lebanon Valley Flying Dutchmen in the new Kingston Stadium. The game is sponsored by the Kingston Professional League for the benefit of their Underprivileged Children’s Fund. It would be a fine thing, indeed, if the stands were packed with loyal Wilkes fans. Let us get the season off to a roaring start.

Tonight the Wilkes College grid squad journeys to Hempstead, Long Island, to open their 1957 football season against the Fighting Blue Devils of Hofstra.

Soccer Team Shapes Up

Under New Head Coach

First Game October 5
by Jim Heneghan

The major change to be found in the Wilkes soccer team is the player personnel, but in the head coaching. This is the debut year of James Ferris as head coach here at Wilkes. Last season, Ferris was the assistant coach under John Reuse.

The new coach was graduated from Wilkes College in 1956 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Secondary Education. During his undergraduate days, Coach Ferris earned varsity letters in soccer, baseball and basketball. He served as co-captain of the basketball team in his senior year and filled the same capacity on the base teams in his junior and senior years.

In recognition of his great sports accomplishments at Wilkes, Coach Ferris received the Benson Award of the Year, and was named to the Howard W. Davis Award in his junior year.

While on the campus the new men, Hofstra, coached by "H-W-D-Y" Myers, uses a basic split-T offense with variations from a straight-T. Myer’s coaching staff is comprised of eleven returning lettermen. In spite of the rough schedule of small colleges they face, Hofstra turned in a very creditable and 3 record last year, including the 24-13 stomping of the Colonels.

Kienzle, coach of Wilkes College GeorgeRalston is again at the helm of the Colonels football machine. Greeting him on his return were twelve lettermen from last season and some four freshmen.

The Wilkes team will operate out of its usual single-wing formation. A combination of smooth, pass and pass, and tense drills throughout the past three weeks, and judging from the spirited sessions, they are going all out to stone for last year’s record, or even better. The first goal in mind: to win one of nine games.

MEET THE TEAM

For the convenience of our readers, the team is listed below in alphabetical order:

Wearing number 1 is Wisconsin native Sam Puma, who has been on the sidelines for two seasons. Dick Weznik, number two, is a graduate of the College of St. Thomas where he was a stalwart. Marv Antimina, number three, last year was awarded a trophy as the outstanding Wilkes player of the Autumn Bowl game at Lebanon Valley.

Way Kryazinski, number 25, is a Wilkes native. He is a fine backfielder for the last two seasons. Dick Weznik, number 18, was a member of the Colonels from 1954-55. His father, Frank Weznik, was a head football coach at Cushing High School in Maine.

Wearing number 40 is the team's reliable right tackle, co-captain Ron Rescigno of Long Island, New York. The 6-foot, one hundred and one-inch, 160-pound senior, was thrice named to the Little All-American, once as a member of several teams to their own names.

In the middle of all the action will be, we suspect, a lot of Bob Tola- ver, number 70, a 195-pound center from Wilkes-Barre.

Fred Williams, number 65, at 190 pounds, will wear number 66 while holding down one of the halfback slots. Also a guard at 175 pounds, will wear number 55.

Number 70 will be carried by his older brother, Mike Dydo. The 25-year old native of Askan is to be back for his third year as tackle.

Fred Williams, 230-pound sophomore guard, is a native of Wellsville, N.Y., Bernard Wahall of Wyoming, a 214-pound sophomore tackle will also be a part of the tackle line.

Ron Ero-Jani, Allen town, will be the center, and Illis Kisor, the right tackle.

New Faces

Among the newcomers driving for a berth on the starting eleven are: Leo George, 190-pound end from Lockington, Mass.; Bob Smith, 200-pound guard from Longmont, Colo.; Marvin Antimina, 170-pound center from Forti Fort; Jim Winakre, a 170-pound backfielder from Los Angeles; Russell Kisor, Nanticoke, will have number 55.

As soon as the teams' captains have been drawn up, a meeting of teams' captains will be called for the purpose of arranging a schedule between the two teams. Any questions concerning the playing of the league will be answered at that time.

All bowlers are urged to register at once individually on the bulletin board. Those who have teams already made up are urged to contact Dick Myers immediately, and not forget about that score.
GRADUATE TESTS SCHEDULED
General Exams Given By E.T.S. Are Required By Many Universities

The admission test for Graduate study will be administered on campus by a number of graduate schools or divisions throughout the country, will be offered on four dates during the coming year, according to the Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the tests. During the 1956-57 year, many students took the test in partial satisfaction of admission requirements for graduate business schools which require its taking.

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each business school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the admission test for graduate study in business and when. Since many business schools select their entering classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to the 1958 classes are advised to take the test as early as possible.

The test is not designed to test specific knowledge in specialized academic subjects, but should under graduate training should provide sufficient preparation to answer the test questions. Sample questions and information regarding the administration of the test are given in a Bulletin on the Graduate Test.

The test will be administered on November 5, 1957, and February 6, 1958, at the Educational Testing Service, and applications and fees must be filed with the Bulletin on Graduate Test, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, N.J., at least two weeks before the testing date in order to allow the ETS time to complete the necessary arrangements.

ELEVEN STRAIGHT-A STUDENTS ON SPRING TERM DEAN'S LIST

by M. L. Osnser

Eleven three point students were among the eighty-seven spring semester dean's list students according to official announcement. These included six members of last year's graduating class, two each of the classes of '58 and '59, and one member of the class of '60.

They were: John Buchols, Joyce Chappell, Owen Evans, Betty Jane Ellenreiss, Francis Gallis, Thomas Kazka, Jean Kwame, John Li, Richard Miller, Richard Myers, Jerome Stiles, and Marilyn Williams.

PROGRAMS

Boothes Shaping Up

Dickson, Tom Jenkins, Dave Poley, Bill Lloyd, Seth Amash, Carl Haven, Clarence Michaels, Nick Giordano, and Maurice Hurley.

The greatest blow to the team has been the loss of Bob Bobek, the team's top goalie. The big hole in the goal should be ably filled by returning veteran Bob Payne. If Payne needs help there are four newer goalies waiting to move into the position. They are Ben Jenkins, Phil Baker, Paul Mnikola and John Wicklund. Ivan Pappanocholas is the most promising of the newcomers in the forward line.

The team's first game is at Elizabethtown on October 6, the first home game is on October 9 with Philadelphia Trestle. The Wilkes booters play only two home games in a seven game schedule. Because of the small schedule the team is unable to vie for the Middle Atlantic States Conference Championship.

lical. Groh announced that positions were available for stage workers in the lines of lighting, set designing, costumes, and make-up.

STOCK EXCHANGE

Some lucky Wilkes student may get to be a stockbroker before the semester is over.

The four-semester course promised for Remington Rand's "Share of America" contest, in which the winner gets stocks of his choice of an equal value to a share of every company which appears on a common stock exchange. Entry blanks are at any Remington sales counter and will also be found in advertisements in Life, Look, The Saturday Evening Post, The Reader's Digest, and in newspaper supplement.

If Remington Rand had held this contest 20 years ago, when it turned over $50,000 in prizes to shavers, financial authorities estimate that the $150,000 of prize money could have purchased stocks that would have a value today in the millions.
