

SIXTY-THREE NAMED TO DEAN'S LIST

M. Homan Best Dressed Co-ed

by M. J. Klawonn

Miss Mary Homan was voted the best dressed co-ed on the Wilkes campus in a special election early this week. Miss Homan and Miss Joan Llewellyn received an equal number of votes in the original election earlier this month thus necessitating the second, or runoff, election.

As winner of the Wilkes contest, Miss Homan will now compete via the photograph method with winners of similar Glamour-sponsored elections held throughout the country during the past month. Judges will choose ten national winners from pictures sent in by the college newspapers who co-operate with Glamour Magazine in running the contest.

If Miss Homan is selected as one of the ten national winners, she will be the guest of Glamour in New York City. During her stay she will reside at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and participate in Glamour's College Fashion Show.

Miss Homan, a sophomore majoring in Commerce and Finance, resides in McClintock Hall during the school year. She has been active in Theta Delta Rho, the Student Council and her class council. Her variety of talents is shown by her design and construction of the backdrop for the recent TDR Valentin semi-formal.

Miss Homan will be photographed on campus in three outfits, a date dress (semi-formal or formal), a campus outfit, and an off-campus daytime dress. These pictures will be sent to Glamour Magazine where they will be judged to find the top ten national winners.

The judges will use a criterion of ten points in considering the photographs of the contestants. These ten points include good figure, well kept hair, carefully used make-up, good grooming, imagination in managing a clothes budget, and a real understanding of her fashion type.

CUE 'N' CURTAIN CASTS FOR PLAYS

by Pat Ide

The casting for Cue 'n' Curtain's three one-act plays has entered the final stages. The productions will be held on March 17, 18, and 19 in Chase Theater.

The one-acts will be directed by students who wish to gain experience in the field of directing.

Steve Cooney, director of The Unseen, has announced that Judy Richardson and Sandra Unger have been selected to play roles in the comedy.

Noel Coward's Ways and Means, which will be directed by Steve Poleskie, will feature Nashama Rosenbaum and Robbie Stevens. Miss Rosenbaum was originally scheduled to direct the third one-act production, however she has decided to move aside in favor of Don Henry who will direct The Cask of Amantillado. The only lead cast for this play is Gene Stickler who will have a prominent part.

NOTICE

There will be a BEACON meeting today at noon on the main floor of 150 South Franklin Street.

FELLOWSHIP GIVEN TO VANN

Dave Vann, an active student on campus, has been awarded a fellowship by the Rotary International to study economics at a university in Asia. He was recommended for the fellowship by the Wyoming Rotary Club.

Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vann of Wyoming. He will receive his bachelor's degree in June.

He was president of his class for three years, president of the Wilkes Chapter of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations, and national vice-president of the CCUN. He has been chairman of both the School Spirit Committee and the Orientation Committee and represented Wilkes at Hampton College, Hampton, Virginia. Last year he received the Student Body Leadership Award here on campus for his outstanding participation in school activities.

The announcement of the fellowship came on the 53rd anniversary of the world-wide organization of Rotary. It is one of 113 fellowships from 30 countries selected for advanced study abroad by the Rotary Foundation. The applicants are selected for the award on the basis of high scholastic standing, leadership ability, interest in world affairs, and the ability to make friends easily. They must be between the ages of 20 and 29 years old, hold a college or university degree, and know the language of the country in which they will study.

In addition to activities on campus, Vann has been active in the Methodist Youth Fellowship, on the Inter-Church Council, and is a member of the Wilkes College Chapter, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Development Drive Surpasses Its Goal

by Bill Zdancewicz

The Wilkes College 25th Anniversary Development Campaign ended victoriously last Friday, as 200 community leaders and workers of the Campaign submitted their reports at the final session in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Sterling.

Subscriptions of $26,632 were reported at the meeting, bringing the grand total to $502,387.

Final reports submitted were: general solicitation $12,346, for a total of $29,372; special gifts $7,063, for a total of $458,148; alumni $5,265, for a total of $11,865; and student gifts, $1,958, for a total of $3,002. The total faculty contributions was listed as $6,714.

General chairman of the campaign Gilbert McClintock presided at the session, with Dr. Robert M. Kerr conducting the reporting of alumni teams, and Louis Shaffer conducting the Special Gifts reports. Edmund Kotula, president of the Student Council, reported the student contributions.

As each member reported his contributions, everyone sat tense and uneasy, impatiently waiting for the figures to be totalled. Many of the reports were in the hundreds of dollars, but as the evening progressed, the balance of $25,000 needed to reach the goal of $500,000 seemed far away.

Then, Ed Kotula reported an addition of $1,958 representing student contributions. This total brought the student contributions up to $3,002. General chairman Gilbert McClintock expressed his sincere thanks to the students for their effort, and all persons in attendance warmly expressed their appreciation with an ovation in applause.

After Kotula made his report, a balance of $4,675 was needed to reach the set goal. The report of the Special Gifts Committee was made, which amounted to $7,063. This amount met the goal and exceeded it by $2,387.

The Wilkes male chorus, under the direction of Sam Lowe, entertained at the final report meeting, and, in addition to their musical offerings they submitted pledges of $25 which amounted to $500. The total contribution of the Collegians to the campaign was $525, a $25.00 group pledge was made at the onset of student contributions.

Director of the Campaign John C. Koch remarked about the success of the campaign, saying, "This has been a tremendous merger between 'town and gown,' and because of its success, the community and college will go forward."

Three Seniors, Lone Freshman Achieve Perfect 4.0 Averages; 32 Men, 31 Women Attain 3.25

by Marion J. Klawonn

Sixty-three students have achieved averages of 3.25 or better during the fall semester of study. This average qualifies them to be included on the Deans List, which was released to the Beacon last Tuesday by Deans Gertrude Doane and George Ralston.

LATE NEWS FLASH!

Harold E. Stassen, Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania in the next election, will be guest speaker at the CCUN Model General Assembly, Friday, March 28. His topic will be "Disarmament". Mr. Stassen has served as advisor to President Eisenhower on disarmament.

Students are invited to attend the Model Assembly to be held at the college gymnasium, 7-9 P.M. on the 28th of March.

Arrangements for Mr. Stassen to speak at the CCUN Assembly were made by Dave Vann, a senior at Wilkes, who also arranged Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's visit to the college last semester.

DEBATERS AT BOSTON FOR NATL. TOURNEY

by Jim Eidam

Wilkes' two-man debating team, Fred Roberts and Bruce Warshal, left yesterday afternoon for Boston, where they will participate in the Brown University National Invitational Tournament, which will be held today and tomorrow.

One of the most difficult tournaments in which the Wilkes team participates, the Boston tournament includes participants from many of the nation's major colleges and universities — Harvard, Princeton, Notre Dame, Fordham, and Pittsburgh, among others. Six rounds of debate, plus semi-final rounds which include the top four teams, plus the final round, comprise the tourney. Contests in oration, debating, and oral interpretation will be held.

The team will debate alternately on the national debating topic: "Resolved: That the Requirement of Membership in a Labor Organization as a Condition of Employment Should Be Illegal."

This will be the two-man team's first appearance at the Boston tournament. They have appeared this year at the Harvard Invitational Tournament and the Johns Hopkins Invitational Tournament at Baltimore, securing 5-1 records at both meets. To date, the two-man team has a record of 22 wins and 3 losses.

Forthcoming activities for the debaters include preparing for the state championship tournament, to be held at Grove City March 13-15. The four-man team will seek to retain its state championship title at this meet. The novice debaters are currently preparing for a novice tournament to be held at Scranton University in the near future.

NOTICE

Fred Wall has announced that the cafeteria will be open evenings until 8 for the convenience of night students. A complete menu will be offered.

Four students attained a perfect 4.00 average, which is termed excellent. These students are: seniors Francis Gallia, Harold Shannon, Bruce Warshal; and freshman Marie Honcharik.

Other students attaining an average of 3.25 or better include: Barbara Bachman, 3.40; Edward Baker, 3.69; Richard Brown, 3.60; Joseph Cardone, 3.44; William Davis, 3.81; Gwen Evans, 3.60; Peter Gale, 3.40; Arlene Gallia, 3.38; Ronald Gautresu, 3.39; Michael George, 3.53; Robert Gercak, 3.80; Evelyn Godleski, 3.33; Martha Hadsel, 3.25; John Heim, 3.38; Lynne Herskovitz, 3.33; Arthur Hontz, 3.25; Gale Hughes, 3.44; Lois Jago, 3.25; Janet Jones, 3.49; Frederick Joy, 3.38; Jean Kaswinkel, 3.60; Naomi Kaufer, 3.40; Marion Laines, 3.60; David Lear, 3.50; Virginia Leonardi, 3.75; Patricia Levandoski, 3.47; Marianne Levenoski, 3.50; Eva Levy, 3.78; Kenneth Lewis, 3.82.

Marsha Mason, 3.82; Sylvia Mauro, 3.56; John Maylock, 3.56; Martha Menegus, 3.56; Barry Miller, 3.56; Edward Milowicki, 3.40; Samuel Mines, 3.77; Irving Moses, 3.44; Loretta Nadler, 3.47.

William Peters, 3.38; Peter Pisaneschi, 3.41; William Raub, 3.56; Marcia Rizzo, 3.50; Frederick Roberts, 3.80; John Saba, 3.27; Sally Schinderman, 3.53; Leo Sheporaitis, 3.65; Janet Stahl, 3.38; Margaret Stevens, 3.81; Morgan Thomas, 3.35; Joan Tierney, 3.31; Ronald Tremayne, 3.33; John Trojanowski, 3.33; Judith Warnick, 3.53; Norma Wentz, 3.81; Judith Whitman, 3.87; William Williams, 3.83; Patricia Yost, 3.32; Joanne Yurchak, 3.44; Harold Schuler, 3.60.

BE A SPORT...

BE A PATRON!

Next week the Amnicola Business Staff and the class representatives will be asking you to become a patron of the 1958 Amnicola. What does being a patron mean?

As a yearbook patron, your name is printed along with your classmates on the Amnicola Patron page. Many of the fellows and gals, use only their first names. The nice thing about a patron is that it costs only $1. Every student receives an Amnicola, and your patron dollars help defray the cost. Be a sport — be a patron. Be sure the representative receives the correct spelling of the name, just as you wish to see it in print.

AMNICOLA NOTICE

All juniors, sophomores, and freshmen who have not yet done so may have their yearbook pictures taken next week.

The photographer will be in the basement of Chase Hall from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M. Monday through Friday of the coming week. No appointment is necessary. The cost is $1.00. This is definitely the last chance for underclassmen pictures.

EDITORIAL

A Tremendous Success

Last Friday evening was one of victory for the Wilkes Family. The Development Drive achieved its goal and went over the top by $2,387. This to us, is one of the most commendable projects engaged in by the community and the students in recent years.

The students' contribution of over $3000 gave the total the added boost needed to make the campaign a success. Faculty members, admittedly being paid less than average, found it in their wallets and in their hearts to give $6,714.

If this isn't a showing of loyalty, we would like to see one. Even the alumni, out of school and enveloped in their own interests, found the time and the money to contribute.

We would like to extend special congratulations to the 200 community leaders who gave their time unselfishly in soliciting, to the people who gave special gifts, to the faculty and students, to the organizations on campus that gave as groups, and to the Student Council who supported the drive.

Most of all, we express our sincere gratitude to the people of Wyoming Valley who realize that education is a necessity in building a lasting and prosperous community. Their generosity will long be remembered as a high point in the history of Wilkes.

To everyone who contributed, we say thank you.

"This is for rugged Americans who believe in the old fashioned virtues of independence."

We are acquainted with an aged war veteran's widow who lives on a paltry government pension. She has a small bank account saved from her husband's insurance to cover her burial expenses. She has steadfastly refused to touch it preferring to go without the necessities of life in order to know that she will not be buried at taxpayers' expense.

Despite the urging of social workers who insist that she must spend all of her savings — for television sets or luxuries — it makes no difference to them — before she can receive any assistance, she has remained adamant. They tell her that they will give her a monthly income, take care of all her funeral expenses — that what she has saved won't cover the cost anyway. Her answer is: "I am an American, I wasn't brought up that way."

Now she is ill, requiring medical attention as frequently as six times a month.

What will you give to make her Christmas brighter and to show that you admire the kind of old-fashioned American spunk that stands on its two feet and will have no truck with government hand-outs?"

This editorial recently appeared in a local newspaper; and since it is representative of the rather fuzzy sentiment expressed in the editorial pages of many small town or conservative newspapers, it merits rather critical consideration from someone who does not accept its tenets. This criticism is particularly important now because these arguments may be used to justify the curtailment of welfare expenditures intended to offset increased defense allocations.

The writer, it seems, is implicitly very much in favor of old fashioned "American" independence, and he praises the aged widow who exhibits it by persevering without government hand-outs. He also subtly exhibits his distaste at supposedly unconscientious social workers who have attempted to prod the widow into giving up her principles.

Instead of examining the provisions of the public assistance laws, suffice it so say that they have been mentioned in a bad light by the editor and perhaps even misapplied by their administrators. But the crux of this whole philosophical position is not so much unbending individualism as traditionalism — a type of status quo thinking summed up in the editor's protestation for the woman: "I wasn't brought up that way."

I am afraid that many people still refuse to recognize the fact that things change. Society in an increasingly complicated world has assumed the obligation of providing for the individual who cannot provide for himself. And rightly so.

Even the facts of this case are inconsistent with the principle of independence espoused by the editor. The widow has accepted the government relief due her as a veteran's wife. Moreover the editor has himself compromised his theme of rugged individualism by asking the public for charity for the woman. This deficiency of rationality is all too prevalent in the arguments of most conservatives, and should argue against their position.

When a choice between charity and government assistance is necessary and if, as the editor wishes,

Letter to the Editor . . .

Dear Editor,

It has come to my attention that on the recent trip to Rutgers, a few of our basketball players met with an unfortunate mishap. It involved two cars in a near-collision. Let's hope that this will impress upon our administrators the importance and necessity of a bus for transporting our athletes to contests away from home.

It is inconceivable that a college the size of Wilkes College does not have a bus for this purpose. Our players must drive their cars to the games, many times on treacherous roads, and then upon arrival compete with the players who merely had to either walk or drive a short distance to the game. It is only natural that our athletes are going to be tired and nervous after such journeys.

The expense involved seems very high, but is it really high when thinking in terms of a possible fatal tragedy?

This was not the first time something like this occurred, since I believe they were almost involved in an accident on the trip to Ithaca earlier this year. It is not fair to expect athletes who are bringing recognition to their school to drive to the games, and I think that it is high time that the school either purchase a bus or rent one for each athletic contest away from home.

Sincerely yours,
William Duffy

RETAILING GROUP TOUR

Members of the college Retailing Group will tour the Boston Store this afternoon, from 1:00 to 3:00 P.M. The first project of the Group this semester, the tour represents an opportunity for the members to become better acquainted with behind-the-scenes retail operations in relation to textbook interpretations.

Mr. Ronald Michman, retailing instructor and faculty advisor of the Retailing Group, will accompany the students on the tour.

DEVELOPMENT

Dr. Eugene S. Farley, key speaker of the evening, expressed his gratification at the increasing amount of friends which have come to the college's side since his arrival here 22 years ago. In his remarks, Dr. Farley said, "This campaign projects what we have been doing and will do — projecting ahead. The gift itself ends, but the friendship and support continues. Outstanding gains will show in the college and the up-growing economy of the community as a result of these efforts."

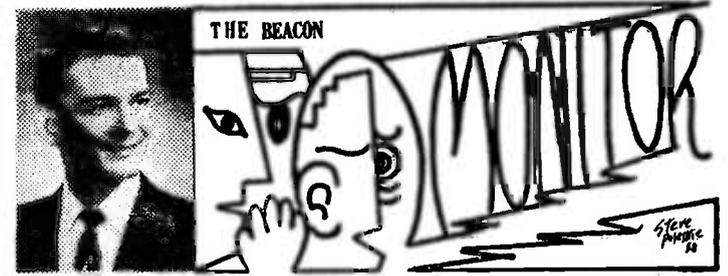

Dr. Farley reviewed the development of Wilkes College, highlighting the successful campaigns of past years, including two during the war period.

One such campaign was held to acquire an endowment of $500,000 to acquire a state charter, since the college had neither church nor state support. Wilkes achieved independence from Bucknell University AFTER its first class was graduated, thus acquiring the unique record of accreditation without interruption since its founding.

The final report meeting of the campaign concluded with several musical selections by the Collegians and in response to an enthusiastic reception, they sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" as an encore.

The encore selection by the male chorus was quite appropriate in light of the successful campaign, and, their rendition of the 'Hymn' was exceedingly stirring and impressive. It seemed to signify to all persons in attendance — A Job Well Done!

one of the overriding considerations must be for the feelings of the recipient; then it seems to me better to receive help as a matter of right from the government representing society in its obligations to its members, rather than from alms-minded individuals. Therefore, while I admire the old lady's courage I refuse to accept her reasoning as seconded by the editor.

Welcome

We want to welcome the visiting wrestlers from colleges and universities throughout the East, who are at Wilkes for the 1958 Middle Atlantic Wrestling Tournament to be held today and tomorrow. Welcome to our ivy surroundings, covered in spots with Mother Nature's snow . . . now turning black and finally going away.

In Print . . . At Last!

An organization exists on campus which, up to the present, has shied away from any publicity. We wish to give recognition to this group and make known their accomplishments over the past three years. We are speaking about the Wilkes Chapter of the Wilkes-Barre Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Now in its third year, the Wilkes Jaycees represent an organization which, through its efforts, aids the members for training in leadership, citizenship, civic and collegiate betterment, and community welfare. The members strive to promote the civic, industrial and educational activities of the college and community, and aim to promote good-will and mutual understanding among its members, the college, and the people of Wyoming Valley. Their purpose may seem detailed and far-reaching, but, a historical review will reveal that they are accomplishing this purpose and, in return, gaining experience for future undertakings.

Recently the members completed a parking project, resulting from a two-year investigation, relevant to a possible solution to the traffic situation in the city. Their report will not be submitted to the Idea Committee of the W-B Junior Jaycees.

In December the Wilkes Jaycees were active in projects to aid the Annual Orphans' Shopping Tour in Wilkes-Barre. They participated in the "Toll-Gate Collection," and the selling of Christmas Stockings. In January, the W-B Jaycees held their meeting in Stark Hall, at which time, the college chapter acted as host for the occasion. They also conducted a tour of the Science Hall after the meeting.

The Wilkes Jaycees will take an active part in the Parade of Progress to be held in April at the Kingston Armory. Their plans include: assisting Wilkes with the college historical development booth, and operating a Raffle Booth — selling chances for a portable television set.

The present project of the Group is to supervise the collection of various types of articles which will prove helpful to patients at the Retreat State Hospital. Plans are in the formulative stage, so, further publicity of his project will appear in later issues of the Beacon.

The Wilkes Jaycees meet every Tuesday in Sturdevant Hall and once a month they have a dinner-meeting, at which time they have a civic leader as a speaker for the occasion.

We want to welcome the Wilkes Jaycees to the realms of publicity and wish them good luck on their future projects.

College and Community

On Monday of this week, Wilkes students belonging to the Student Musicians Group of the Mozart Club of Wilkes-Barre, presented a musical narration at the monthly meeting of the Mozart Club. Audrey Bartlett and Wayne Walters participated in a narration concerning the composers Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms. Audrey, Wayne, and Jean Pyatt performed a musical selection, James Connell played the piano, Mary Ann Kachmar played the violin, Bill Peters presided, and solos were performed by Jean and Wayne.

Students and faculty of the college, as well as the public, attended the performance which proved entertaining and educational.

Audrey Bartlett presented an Lenten organ recital Wednesday morning at St. Stephen's Church in Wilkes-Barre.

PINBUSTERS REMAIN UNBEATEN; HOFFMAN'S 233 GAME SETS MARK

The Pinbusters held their vise-like grip on first place in intramural bowling Sunday with a 4-0 win over the Rose Tatoes. Dan Lewis, as usual, sparked the victors with a fine 214-602 series. Lewis is far ahead in the individual average race.

Hillard Hoffman recorded the season's high game when he led the Kampus Keglers to a 4-0 win over the Butler Bombers with his 233 final effort. The win moved the Keglers into second place, six games behind the 16-0 record of the Pinbusters, and one game ahead of the Tatoes, who replaced them in third place.

The Teetotalers picked up four wins from Sam Weinstein's Losers. Paul Katz led the way with 204-457. The Teetotalers moved into fourth place, two games behind the Tatoes, three behind the Keglers, and 9 behind the league leaders.

The scores:
Pinbusters: Dan Lewis, 214-602; Emil Petrsek, 185-507; Bob Morris, 182-505; Don Wilkinson, 135 & 110; John Sapiego, 152 & 139; and Mary Homan, 97 & 123.

Rose Tatoes: Fred Petrini, 182-481; Ron Phillips, 174-465; Jim Ross, 171-438; Joe Ackourey, 142-403; Rose Weinstein, 134 & 130; and Fran Bishop, 132.

Kampus Keglers: Pete Maholik, 183-535; Max Greenwald, 171-533; Hill Hoffman, 233-494; John Macri, 153-417; Chuck Kirchener, 156-416; and Len Gonchar, 176 & 131.

Butler Bombers: Ken Selody, 155-458; Ira Himmel, 158-446; Rich Urion, 138-366; Warren Schmidt, 136-357; and Dave Roebuck, 127-309.

Teetotalers: Paul Katz, 204-457; Dick Myers, 169-446; Hall Shaver, 137-405; Mim Thomson, 159-388; and Stash Yurkowski, 144-343.

Losers: Irv Moses, 157-419; Len Glassberg, 154-411; and Sam Weinstein, 158 & 118.

Two Wilkes Swimmers Seek Honors in MASCAC Tourney at Bucknell U.

Completing a week of championship quests by Wilkes teams, the swimming team will send two representatives to the Middle Atlantic championships at Bucknell tomorrow. Carl Havira and Pat Shovlin, the two top distance men on the newly organized tank team, will seek individual honors in the 15-school meet.

The two Colonels will be accompanied by Clete Miller who will act as coach and manager of the Wilkes delegation.

Havira, twice named Athlete of the Week for his spunky performances, will try for honors in two events, the 200-yard breast stroke and the 200-yard butterfly stroke. Shovlin will swim the 200-yard backstroke.

Medals will be awarded to the top four men in each event; Miller is hopeful that the Colonel duo will be successful in bringing a couple of those medals back with them.

Title Defense Begins Tonight, Weekend Tourney Has 17 Teams Challenging Colonels' Position

by Dick Myers, Sports Editor

Tonight at 6:00 P.M., 17 colleges and universities from the Middle Atlantic Colleges Athletic Conference will attempt to dethrone the Colonels as conference wrestling champions at the Wilkes gym. The Reesemen won the title last year, 52-50, over a strong Muhlenberg team at Gettysburg.

PITCHERS, CATCHERS TOLD TO REPORT FOR WORKOUTS

Coach John Reese, hardly finished with his spectacular year at the helm of the wrestling squad, is preparing for baseball and has announced that he would like to see all pitching and catching hopefuls in the gym on Monday afternoon at 4:00 P.M.

Because the cagers will still be working out, Reese wishes to see the prospective batterymen only, calls for the rest of the baseball team will be announced later.

rated as favorites for the team title, with Dickinson seen as the "dark horse."

The Colonels will enter four unbeaten men in the tournament. Bobby Morgan, new record-holder for the Colonels, has a 10-0 record this year, with seven pins and three decisions to his credit in the 123-pound class. Keith Williams will be out for the 130-pound title. "Skeeter" has won nine bouts this year and was tied once, has been unbeaten in 15 bouts, won second place in last year's 123-pound class.

Co-captain Jim Ward goes into the 137-pound battles with a string of 30 consecutive dual meet wins behind him. Jim was beaten in the final half-minute of last year's 130-pound championship bout.

Dave Thomas, at 157 pounds, is the other Colonel co-captain, and boasts a winning streak of twelve, nine this year. He also suffered a draw during this season. He finished second at 157 in the 1957 tourney.

Walter Glogowski will be the Wilkes 177-pound entrant. Last year Walt finished third in the MASCAC tourney's 167 division.

Only one individual champion is expected to return to do battle, Muhlenberg's Don Simpson. Simpson took the 147-class crown last year, will wrestle at 157 pounds.

Awards will be made for team championship, first-, second-, and third-places, and for the tourney's most outstanding wrestler. Dick Padula, MASCAC 137-pound champion, now graduated from Ursinus, won the latter award the two previous years.

Semi-finals begin tomorrow afternoon at 2, consolations at 7, final championship bouts after the consolations. Admission is 50 cents for students, 75 cents for adults on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. The final rounds are 75 cents for students, $1.00 for adults, and no activities passes will be honored.

BOB MORGAN BREAKS RECORD, WINS 'ATHLETE OF WEEK' TITLE

Bobby Morgan's name has been entered in the Wilkes record book for his undefeated season on the mat team. He has plenty of company in that category, but his point total is equalled by none. He recorded ten wins during the 1958 season, three on decisions, the rest on falls for a grand total of 44 points, three more than the record 41 made last year by Jim Ward.

Morgan picked up his last five points on a forfeit win when his Fairleigh-Dickinson opponent was ineligible. He wrestled the larger heavier man for exhibition and won a good bout, 9-8. Even had the bout not been forfeit, the three points for the decision would have broken the 41-point mark.

The wiry senior has returned this season after a two-year absence from Wilkes, but he took up the mat sport right where he left off in 1955. While at Wilkes that year, he grabbed second place in the 117-pound class of the "Four-1" tourney in Cleveland and took second in the National YMCA tourney's 125-pound division later the same year.

In the 1954-55 season, the 24-year-old Mountain Top native became the first wrestler to be awarded the Beacon's "Athlete of the Week" title. This is the second time he has been named this year.

Bob is a Wyoming Seminary grad, at which school he won two letters in wrestling and showed his tournament potentialities by going clear to the finals in the National Prep School championships.

The 123-pound ace faces one of his severest tests when he seeks the Middle Atlantic Conference title in that weight division tonight and tomorrow here at the Wilkes gym.

Matmen Topple Knights By 28-8 Score as Four Keep Records Unmarred

Getting back into form, the grapplers proved themselves ready for tournament battles when they whipped the Knights of Fairleigh-Dickinson by a 28-8 score last Saturday night.

The match was the opener of the season's third doubleheader and both Colonel squads came through unscathed. Wilkes has not lost one of the home bargain-bill affairs in two years.

Four Colonels remained unbeaten for the year, and accounted for 20 of the team's total. Bobby Morgan's five forfeit points gave him the new all-time Wilkes scoring record of 44 points on ten wins in ten bouts; six of those victories were on pins.

Jim Ward stretched his unbeaten string to 30 with a second-period fall, Keith Williams registered a pin for his fifteenth straight win, and Ward's co-captain Dave Thomas remained victorious over twelve dual meets with a fall in the 157 bout.

Freshman Marv Antinnes continued his splendid work, turning in a beautiful performance with a 3-0 shutout in the 167-pound class, and 177-pounder "Tiger" Walt Glogowski waited only a few seconds to turn in a second-period fall over his man.

The regular season is now completed for the grapplers. They won nine bouts, lost only one and show a three-year record of 29 wins, one draw and one loss.

They are considered favorites to repeat in this weekend's MASCAC wrestling championship tourney.

ROYALS TRIM CAGERS IN M.A.C. ELIMINATION

Last night at Bethlehem, the Colonels suffered an 82-62 loss to the Scranton U. Royals in the first round play of the MASCAC elimination tournament, knocking them out of contention for the Northern Division crown. The loss was costly in more ways than one as ace center George Morgan, a conference scoring leader, suffered a sprained ankle early in the game and had to leave.

The Colonels stayed with the Royals throughout the first half which ended at 41-all, even led in the opening moments of the second, but Ed Kazakavich, Division scoring leader, sparked a rally to put Scranton in the lead and they broke away for good.

Sophomores Bernie Radecki and George Gacha carried the bulk of the Wilkes scoring load. Radecki hit for five goals and six fouls for 16 points, Gacha had seven goals and a foul for 15. Mikolanis chipped in with 10, Bob Turley had nine.

The victorious Scrantonians will meet Wagner, who defeated Hofstra in the opening game, on Monday for the Division title. At a site to be determined next week, the winner of that game will meet the winner of the Franklin and Marshall-Drexel tilt for the right to represent the conference in the NCAA post-season tourney.

The Colonels will attempt to get back on the winning trail when they resume their schedule at East Stroudsburg on Monday evening at 8:00 P.M.

Exceed Old Record

The Colonels exceeded the old record for consecutive wins last Saturday when they won their seventh straight, over Philadelphia Textile, by an 87-83 margin. On the strength of Big George Morgan's first-half splurge of 26 points, the local enjoyed leads up to 15 points and closed out the first-half eleven points to the good, 46-35. George finished with 31.

Just before the half ended, Ralph Hendershot had the ball inside the side margin, some 50 feet from the Colonel bucket. A quick glance at the clock showed that time was just about out, so Ralph let one fly — from 50 feet — and the near-capacity crowd went wild when the ball skimmed the ceiling and zipped through the cords for a two-pointer at the buzzer.

Play at Lafayette Wednesday
Next Wednesday the cagers resume regular-season play with the Leopards of Lafayette at Easton. Next week they will conclude their schedule with a Saturday conference game at Reading with the Albright Lions.
