JUNIOR CLASS SEMI-FORMAL TONIGHT

Homecoming Queen Selection Today

Identity Concealed Until Next Friday; Activities Outlined

by Jim Edean

Junior Class semi-formal tickets will be chosen today by members of the Junior Class. The semi-formal will be part of the Homecoming festivities of next weekend. The Beacon will select the Queen and two other royal court members from among those names submitted by the student body in letters of nomination. The winners will be notified that they are members of the royal court; however, no one will be informed of the identity of the Queen until Friday.

Members of the Homecoming planning committee will be present in the Dining Commons at noon, and formulated plans for the semi-formal. Tom Ruggiero, the highlight Homecoming address, will be in charge of transportation for the Queen and her party, and the transportation charges will be met by the Homecoming planning committee. Tom and his ladies will be decorating for the bleachers for Saturday afternoon’s game, which will be in charge of the student Queen. The student Queen’s committee has been working diligently to achieve the mark.

Every student is expected to contribute at least one dollar (although any amount will be accepted). Considering that we have 4,200 students, the estimates expect to contribute approximately $850. The chairman hopes to raise the remainder of $650 through campus clubs and the United Fund Dance which the Biology Club has consented to sponsor.

Class competition is urged. Last year the Senior Class had 58 per cent participation, the Junior 67 per cent, the Sophomore 80 per cent, and the Freshmen 50 per cent.

Dr. Reif of the Biology Department is General Chairman of the drive at Wilkes, and Mr. George Balton is the Student-Faculty Co-ordinator.

Faculty Women’s Social

by Barbara Vose

The faculty women of Wilkes will hold their first coffee hour of the fall semester next Wednesday afternoon (2:00 p.m. in the Commons). All students and faculty members are invited to this informal gathering.

Mrs. Gertrude A. Doane, dean of women, is chairman of the affair. She will be assisted by Mrs. Hugo Matley and Mrs. Eugene Hammer.

So come and enjoy the coffee and缓解 these disturbances. If, as Mr. Riley mentioned, man cannot satisfy these needs and undergoes self denial that he becomes a neurotic individual. As such, Mr. Riley states, he often misstates emotional sickness for physical ailments.

The speaker then mentioned some of the problems of human and animal disease, and reviewed the history of treatment for those diseases. He pointed out that the cure of disease is not necessarily the result of the administration of a single drug, but rather the result of a combination of factors, such as diet, exercise, and rest. He also discussed the importance of early diagnosis and treatment of disease, and the need for continued research in the field of medicine.

MISS PHYLLIS RUBY

Diplomat will provide music; recording star Phyllis Ruby to entertain in nightclub scene

Tonight is the long-awaited event — the opening of the eleventh annual Homecoming season. Wilkes University will have its first dance in the new Student Center at 9 o'clock on Friday night. Miss Ruby, a genuine star and a lovely girl, will make this night one occasion to remember.

In choice seats are reserved ahead of time such as the procedure at the "Club Oasis". This arrangement will enable students to sit with the group of their choice. A maître d'hotel will be on hand to couple students to their tables, and will help students without reservations in their selection of a reserved table.

by Toni Souersan

Miss Phyllis Ruby is the feature attraction of the "Club Oasis" and is being identified as a night club entertainer. She has appeared in vaudeville and has been a member of the party bands in the Poconos, along the New Jersey shore and in Florida. She has also released a record, "Hey, There, Baby", on the Arlo label. She is a genuine star and will provide music for dancing.

To present the character of a night club, various members of the Junior Class will serve as waiters for the formal dressing refreshment. There will be cigarettes girls in the theme of course, coat-checking girls. The motif of the Club Oasis is a New England seaside resort and refreshments will be carried out with this idea.

Janice Reynolds, an active member of the Decoration Committee, has been holding "Palm Tree Parties" in the cellars of her new-owners, the Flicks and the Flicks. Sissy may get-togethers was the making of palm trees that the dance committee members of the sophomore class have been helping her in this undertaking.

The dance starts at nine o'clock and will last until midnight. The cover charge of three dollars may or may not be necessary and the dress is semi-formal.

Last year the junior class presented the "Presidential Ball" on an inaugural ball at which a "Mr. President" was elected. Sam Love, a member of the Ecology Club, was the honor. Club Oasis was initiated this year by the junior class.

The following committee members have been working to make the dance a success: Janice Reynolds, a member of the junior class, Janne Brody, flower girl; Karen Mar- ieneau, assistant floor leader; Tom Ruggiero, tickets; and Stan Bishop, publicity. The following Junior Class members have been asked to make reservations: Richard Bailey, Bob Brown, George Calhoun, Thomas Witter- strom, Maryellen Connell, Janice Reynolds, Frances Bishop, Jean Bishop, Susan Calhoun, Thomas Witter- strom, Allie D'Amico, and Tom Ruggiero.

The students have received late permission until two o'clock in the morning, and they could attend the Club Oasis dance.
MEMORIAL FUND PLAN DONATIONS LISTED

During the past two years, over $2500 has been given or pledged to the Class Memorial Fund of Wilkes College by members of the student body and recent graduates.

The agency which is responsible for the management of the Class Memorial Fund Plan — a plan conceived in their sophomore year — is their graduating class and adopted by every class in connection with the class of 1956. The plan was introduced by Dave Vann, a senior director of the fund.

Graduating classes since time immemorial have donated money to their colleges as a means of perpetuating the memory of their classes. Many times because of insufficient funds, the gift was of no consequence or of little value to the college. Usually, in order to raise a fund, each member of the senior class was assessed just when it could be afforded with the end of the year.

In addition, the gift was born out of the physical changes on the college campus.

After considering these problems, the class memorial plan was developed for use by the minimum of difficulty, and for the minimum of class direction, the funds are to be raised from an assessment of $1.00 per semester or $2.00 per year.

Upon the requisition of the class, the student treasurer of the college directed the comptroller to add $1.00 to each student’s tuition which would be retained without any sale of meals or physical changes on the college campus.

It has proved to be highly successful with only a minimum of financial strain on the individual student.

The class memorial funds follow:

Class Memorial Funds

Class of 1956... $497.00
Class of 1957... 591.00
Class of 1958... 596.57
Class of 1959... 565.00
Class of 1960... 564.00

TOTAL... $2,510.31

The class of 1956 also contributed a Trophy Case in addition to the Class Memorial Fund and an Alumni Fund. The Class of 1957 gave a globe as a gift to the college.

Each year the Memorial Fund is growing and the Alumni Fund in the Alumni, Alumnus magazine, so that everyone is informed of their class achievement.

The class funds of 1958 and 1959 are not yet completed and are still growing. The class of 1960 will begin the fund this year as voted upon by the class last spring.

As indicated by the class of 1956 regular annual alumni contributions, regular alumni contributions will be added to the class totals each year so that in that year, the graduating classes can see how much they have given to the college and how the memorial funds and purposes for which it was used. The cost of Class Memorial Funds is a way to make alumni giving a reality to the college and in the college in years to come.

Need New Shoes?

Tom McHale, who has been a regular advertiser in the Beacon to date, is offering a free pair of The Hub’s well-known Bostonian shoes to any lucky Wilkes underclassman who registers during the next week. A free pair of shoes? Why, yes! You may be the lucky winner of a pair of Bostonian shoes.

Give the United Way — Support the United Fund

Once again the college has made an appeal to every student to donate a very small amount of his spending money to a worthy cause, the United Fund Drive. This is the only time of the year that we are asked to donate money to any charity, but we are frequently given free public services, such as the Chest X-rays sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Department of Health.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

By Dick Bibler

No one here is particularly anxious to have another little man on campus. But, oh, what a difference a week makes!

A week ago we were all sitting around the fire in the cold and waiting for something to happen. Now, the fire is burning and we all seem to be enjoying ourselves.

What a difference a week makes!

“Big” art, “Big” rock, “Big” football — and “Big” people, too!

There is only one “us.” “We” exist in only one body and “our” opinions are the product of one mind. But “we” are “us” — and “we” are different.

In the early Nineteenth Century, the editors of a newspaper were written by one man, the editor. When he expressed his own opinions, he was simply stating his own personal philosophy and principles.

Since that time, editors have had to deal with the complexities of the modern world. They have had to deal with the complexities of the modern world.

For example, we do not agree with the majority opinion of the editors on the matter of the selection of the Homecoming Queen. We feel that the coronation of the Homecoming Queen should be a sacred and holy event. The coronation of the Homecoming Queen should be a sacred and holy event.

ADVANCE TICKET RECEIPTS BY LOCAL KIWANIS INDICATES CUE 'N' CURTAIN MUSICAL SUCCESS

College Production
Opening November 6; Costuming Completed
by Peggy Kratz
A full house is anticipated for the Friday and Saturday performance of Paint Your Town because of the advance ticket sale report given by the Kiwanis. The production will be given November 6, 7, and 8.

Tickets are going like hot cakes. One member of the Kiwanis sold eighty-six tickets. Add the ones sold by the Theta Delta Phi and the Male Chorus and a capacity audience is certainly assured.

One ticket is good for the three productions to be staged by the Cue 'N' Curtain. The season ticket costs $5.50 which is a bargain considering that the cost includes a Broadway musical and two dramatic plays.

College students can see the play on Thursday night with their activity passes. However, if they wish to see the play any other night, a ticket is necessary since the play is only on the campus performance.

Tickets returns can be made to Marian Laines who is in charge of ticket distribution. Besides being chairman, Marian is also in charge of the costume committee, as she is in charge of the Paint Your Town, and has a part in the production.

The cast was measured for costumes, and the costume committee is busy getting outfits ready for the opening night. Al Gromm is going to be in Philadelphia this weekend to check on renting costumes from the Costume Factory. The costume committee could not improve.

It will also be the job of this committee to be on hand during the performances in case a button is popped at the last minute before an entrance. Sewing on buttons is just another of the many jobs performed by the stage crew. The gauze backdrop for the play has been completed. A backdrop is essential in staging a play and no cost is being spared by the Cue 'N' Curtain in securing the best.

The pace is picking up as opening night draws nearer. In less than two weeks the work will be going on Paint Your Town, Cue 'N' Curtain's musical extravaganza.

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK ON CAMPUS

Plans are in progress for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's visit scheduled for Thursday, November 7. The regular Tuesday assembly period has been re-scheduled to Thursday for this week only, and the various clubs and campus organizations which meet Tuesday will hold their meetings on Thursday.

Mrs. Roosevelt will meet with members of the College CCUS prior to her appearance at the assembly. Dave Vann, president of the Wilkes CCUS, has announced that all members of the organization who have paid their membership dues before this date will have the privilege of meeting Mrs. Roosevelt personally at this time.

Mrs. Roosevelt is interested in the establishment of a chapter of the American Association of University Women in the Wyoming Valley. She is, at the present time, serving as the chairman of the board of directors of this organization, which is a parent body of CCUS. Her appearance at First Presbyterian Church will be on behalf of this association, and the meeting will be attended by many prominent local persons, as well as visitors from the Scranton area.

FRED KROHLE TO BE FETED

Fred Krohle, '51, will be feted at a party given in his honor by the Musical Society. This is the group of dorm students who dined with Fred while he was a resident of Warner Hall. Included are: Peggy Stevens, Peggy Saunders, Jani Kafka, Marion Stavos, Charles Jones, and Art Richards. The party will be held tomorrow evening in Perugino's on Main Street. Fred, co-Manager of the newspaper, will leave for the Army Monday morning.

BIOLOGISTS GIVEN 3200 BY MERCK CO.

A two hundred dollar research grant has been awarded to the Biology Club by Merck & Co. This brings the total amount available to the club for original research to five hundred dollars. These hundred dollars had previously been awarded by Union Chemicals. It was emphasized that b o t h companies that it is very unusual for industry to subsidize research on the undergraduate level. It is believed that Wilkes is the only undergraduate school in the United States to be subsidized. The topic for research submitted by the club convinced these companies that worthwhile work would be accomplished and both brooke proceeds in making these grants available.

The work will be done by members of the Biology Club who will be supervised by members of the Biology Department faculty.

RETAILING GROUP WELCOMES MEMBERS

by Bill Zahnwitz

New members were acquainted with the functions of the Retailing Group at a meeting last week in Russell Hall. Wayne Ross, co-ordinator, presided at the meeting and welcomed the new members.

The secretary, Joseph Leibman, read a list of the members that the Group participated last year.

A discussion was held concerning a regular meeting time and day which would correspond with the schedules of the members. The date that is set will be announced shortly.

It was decided to obtain the assistance of the Wilkes-Barre Merchants Association in securing a speaker for the Retailing Assembly program scheduled for November 9 at time required. The happy child is one who knows he hasn't been forgotten on this important holiday of Christmas.
GIORDANO EARN 'ATHLETE' AWARD WITH SPLENDID OFFENSE AT RIDER

Three-Year Letterman

Records Three Scores

In Booters' First Win

This week's Beacon Athlete is not a newcomer to the honor. Nick Giordano has been a senior three times before. Nick first won it as a freshman in 1950 and again took it twice in 1956, and it takes for the fourth time with his spirited, aggressive play in Wilkes' first victory of the season over Rider by a 5-0 count.

Nick banged home all three Wilkes tallies. His first one came on a head ball in the first period. The second came on a 15-yard kick in the third period. He ended the scoring for the day with a smashing kick from a scramble about five feet in front of the Rough Riders' goal in the fourth period. It was a very successful day for the junior center forward.

Nick is no stranger to the game of soccer, for he was born in Italy and learned the game at an early age.

A graduate of Kingston High School Class of 1956, he entered Wilkes the following fall and promptly made the soccer team. As an inside and outside left he lettered as a freshman, and as a center forward won his second letter as a sophomore. In the 1961 season he won an honorable mention berth in the Middle Atlantic States Conference Soccer Team. While living with relatives in Kingston Nick is striving for his A.B. degree in biology with future plans to attend medical school.

Of Raffle Ticket Sales

The chances for the Letterman's Raffle are selling like "hot cakes" and the success of the Letterman's scholarship program seems assured. Ticket Chairman Bernie Badello has stated that few books have been returned uncollected and there is a great demand for additional books.

This annual raffle here at Wilkes has a new look this year, for new prizes have been substituted for the previous years' prices of turkeys.

Two tickets to My Fair Lady, the top Broadway production at this time, is one of the new prizes to the prize list. These tickets, or the over-popular tickets to the annual service classic, the Army-Navy game, are the first prize.

The second prize winner gets the alternate tickets not chosen.

The third prize is also a new addition, the lucky person gets not one, but two actual prizes - tickets for the first and second games of the Wilkes Christmas' Formal and The Theta Delta Eke April Showers Ball.

So if you haven't bought your chances on these wonderful prizes, do it today. There are only two weeks left in the campaign.

The drawing will take place during the half-time festivities at the Wilkes College Homecoming football game with Lycoming on Saturday, October 26.

Colonels Take On Bears Tomorrow

BOOTERS TO MEET BUCKNELL, ELIGIBLE FOR M.A.S. PLAYOFFS

by Jim Hennigan

The booters will play Bucknell this afternoon at Lewistown, Pa., in a football game which is significant both as a test of the team's eligibility to the MACAC post-season play and as a valuable experience for the freshman eligibility to the MACAC post-season play.

The Bisons and Colonels have been in some thrilling games during their careers. Two years ago, for instance, the teams battled to a 2-2 tie in the last game of the season.

The Philadelphia Textile Institute has always been a very strong University and the Colonels team is loaded with talent and is the likeliest ball handling club the Wilkes booters will meet. The Colonels' game is provided by the foreign born players and the Philadelphia booters. That city is it self a hotbed of enthusiasm for soccer. Therefore, experienced players are always available.

The Colonels lost to the Textile team by a 5-1 count last year and are out to avenge the defeat come Thursday afternoon.

Coach Jim Perrin's booters appear to be in excellent physical shape for the coming contest with no apparent injuries. In addition, in excellent spirits after the 3-0 victory and have a right to be, for Coach Perrin has practiced the whole team in what he called a "team victory" over a rugged Colgate squad.

So with the first home game of the season, and an excellent one at that, being played at Kirby Park on Thursday, October 24, here is your opportunity to come out and cheer your booters on to their third victory. For this will be the first soccer match they have played in this new season or an old one, get out and root for your team on Thursday.

Resigns Rated Second in Rushing, Third for Total Yardage by EAC

Rutledge Beezley, who has been making news on the local score, has added the wire services to his local list of scores, including a punt from the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference. He was among the top five groundbreakers in the Small College division of the conference.

The release, received here last Saturday, was a vindication of the Philadelphia Sunday Inquirer, as well as having been mentioned in local columns.

The fleet-footed senior is second in yards gained in the alumni contest with a total of 215 yards on 60 attempts in his three games. In total offense (1,030) won by passing, punting, returns, and rushing), the "Rut" is third with 299 yards in 69 plays throughout the three games.

In total yardage, he is averaging nearly three yards per play, which is pretty fair ball-handling in any league. In plays in which he also has carried the ball, he is averaging 3.7 yards per play.

"The Colonels have fine players," Coach Ralston's single-wing attack has been playing like this for years, on his placement on this list of small college notables comes close to local grid fame. Even when he had been ill, his play suffered little and his performance when he gave in the Ithaca game, when he was on the shelf, is not free from the stomach that Ralston had him replaced under protest from the Ithaca coach and gave in after four minutes of the last game.

Ron, a senior and four-year veteran on the club, is no stronger to the various "All-Times", being named twice in the highly honored "Little All-American" team, and named last year to the "All Opponents" team by such football powerhouses as MONSE TResult.

RAT'S RECRUITS LEAD TO TOUCH GRIDDERS ON TWO CONSECUTIVE SHUTOUT VICTORIES

The eight-team intramural touch gridders, in the final week of play last Saturday, after taking the title of champions at the time of this writing, will be reviewed Sunday afternoon. The team that has carried on one game and Gore Hall opposing the 69's in the second game.

In the season's opener, Rat's recruited the Engineers by a 45-0 score. Joe Pantaleo and Joe Goldtage each carried three scores over the goal, while Ray Yanchus scored once. The other game of the day was billed as a grudge match between the Incinerators, last year's last game ball champs, and their old rivals, the Dirty Rotten Head coach.

The Colonels put the label of a 13-0 count. Bill James and Glenn Johnson were the scorers for the HOBMEN.

Cooper officiated the DRUH-JIN- Incinerators, while Ron Simms was the whistle-tooter in the Engineers. The second day of action saw a hard-fought, well-played contest and a 4-0 tie between the Versus and Gore Hall. The 69's, composed mainly of the 1956-57 ECAC, with the Ralston-Davis-Erwin trio, faced the Incinerators without injury. The Colonels failed to meet the Engineers, thus losing the battle.

In the other contest on Wednesday, Ray's Recruiting teams were in their second contest of the year. A 20-0 win over the HOBMEN, Simms and Cooper were the officials.

There was a question raised during the past few days over last year's outcome, itself, with the choice of a man who stopped twenty-some scores in a losing game over a man who scored three goals himself in the first win. The answer is now rather evident, but still needs possible clarification.

This is simple to do when one has concrete examples to use. Take the case of last season's honored guest who was on Saturday, the last day of the week. Any athlete who comes to or is eligible for the following is the game in which Nick Giosanno ran into the McAlpin Wednesday and for which he is this issue's "Athlete of the Week". It's required that you have played three games, say, games had no bearing whatsoever on last week's award winner. In fact, any game they have played.

For all we know, he might have been the outstanding player of Wednesday's contest and then would have been this week's winner.

Another case is the Beckon's announcement — for games ending the previous Saturday. That's all there is to it. For those of you curious about the method of selection, we must remind them that the men so chosen in no way reflect the opinions of coaches, other players, or fans in general. The "Athlete of the Week" feature is a Beckon project, and the men honored are chosen by the Beckon sports staff. In this matter, this writer has one vote, just as the player has. It is true that we do seek the opinions of Beckon and other players for advice in our selections, but these queries are personal, and are not only used as guides for the aid of one man in making his selection.

THE SAME OLD PROBLEM

The bowling league boasts the College League rolling in an absence-studded night last Sunday. This is particularly discouraging to everyone, for the league's existence but is quite annoying to the teams who had at least partial representation.

Anyone who agrees to participate in such an activity has obliga- tions enough to take on, and it is agreed that we should give ample notice of their inability to participate. Out of the eight teams that were supposed to be here to play again, two had notified their captains beforehand.

These two were the week's action, therefore, some confusion may have been the cause of the trouble. Even the members of the Faculty team were lacking in their co-operation. This is a good time to point out that there was not a word put into the published, team captains will be aware of all details regarding their league and, with the exception, will give the College a bad name with its community affiliates. Anyone who put his name on the list posted on the bulletin board has signed himself a part of the program; it should be up to the directors and team captains to face the embarrassments to which they were not invited last week.

Cliff Brackett, formerly a Wilkes and Jersey-Jersey professional football player, suffered a shoulder separation in the game with the Venango (Delaware) Bears. It was the Sharks' second game of the season, although the personal injury is not expected to be a serious one for the veteran.

Cliff Brackett, for many years, has been a member of the Jersey-Jersey professional football team and suffered a shoulder separation in the game with the Venango (Delaware) Bears. It was the Sharks' second game of the season, although the personal injury is not expected to be a serious one for the veteran.

On paper, the Colonels defense today should be able to hold the worse of the Wilkes booters to the "five-for-four" boys.

We have never seen these games they are held every afternoon from Monday to Thursday in the playing area in Kirby Park adjacent to the Wilkes soccer field. The teams are composed of six men, and some of the slightest differences from regular football should be mentioned. There is no tackling — a one-hand tag is used. All players are eligible pass receivers, lateral passing is permitted at any time, incomplete passes are treated as fumbles, the ball becomes dead when therunner is tagged.

Four down are allowed to reach the middle of the field, from there, four down allowed for a score. Points after touchdown may be scored on a pass or running play and the game is two points per touchdown. The games are divided into four quarters of 16 minutes each with one-minute time-outs between quarters, six minutes between halves.
