FEBRUARY DEADLINE
SET BY “MANUSCRIPT”

The editorial staff of the Manuscript, literary and art magazine of the college, has announced that February 27 will be the deadline for accepting contributions for this year’s publication.

The association encourages contributions in the following forms: short story, poetry, essays of one’s own, literary criticism, history, and art work. Material should be submitted to any member of the Manuscript staff before the deadline, or it may be left at the Manuscript contribution box, which is located at the rear entrance to the Library.

In past publications, essays of a factual nature and discussions related to sciences, social sciences, and humanities have been included. The art work in the past two years has been in the areas of paintings and sculpture.

Both students and faculty can write for publication.

FILM SOCIETY

Subscriptions to the Manuscript Film Society, which is planning its first showing on Friday, February 20, are still available from members of the society and are sold each day at noon in the first floor lounge of the dining commons. The sale will last until Feb. 28, and the cost of a ticket, which admits the bearer to six films, is two dollars.

NOTICE!

There will be an important “Beacon” meeting today at noon in the “Beacon” office, 119 South Franklin Street. All members are required to attend.

NOTICE!

Orders for class rings will be taken by Dick Roberts next week at the Bookstore. Orders will be taken at the times that are listed on the bulletin boards on campus. Anyone who has not ordered his ring and plans to do so should see Dick Roberts as soon as possible.

The Valentine Formal, one of the big social events on campus, will be held next Friday in the gym. The city’s best tailors are expected to give away the T.D.R. sorority on Friday, February 13, in the gym from 9 to 12. The “good news” is that this dance is a girl-ask-boy affair. A satirical nature will be favored and pink decorations will also help to add color to the evening.

Good news for the women of Wilkes: A semi-formal Valentine dance, held by the H.O. sorority, will be held on Friday, February 13, in the Wilkes gym. All proceeds from the dance and the sale of the General Hospital Building Fund. The entertainment will start at 8 p.m. and last until 11 p.m. and will include fifteen dancing stars. In this year’s show, Howard, star of the television show, Hit Parade, and the Broadway music, Say, Darling. Lee Vincent’s orchestra and the Monitor ladies will supply the background music for the show.

For the rock ‘n’ roll group, Frankie Avalon and the Blue Astronauts can be counted on to keep things rockin’ in the gym. The following stars will appear with their latest releases: Quaker City Boys with “Tootie,” Bobby DeFano with his recording of “Teen Leader” and the Garrett with “House of Love” (see him on the Dock Clark Show, Saturday night), Tony D’Noble, Lee Andrews and the Hearts with “Bobby,” Jamie Zero with “Dana with “Lonely,” the Fabulous Jetties with “I Love to Love You,” Stevens, the Bridgette Sisters, Larry Hoise with “Wall Flower,” and finally Sonny Vito (this one is a must) with “Who.” These stars and their records can be heard regularly on WILK.

The students are urged to sell for $1.00 now but will cost $1.25 at the door. Tickets can be obtained at Green’s Candy and Gift Shop, the Square Record Shop, Boston Store Record Shop, and the T.D.R. Book Store, Zwaner’s Record Company, and Kresse’s Record Department on Main Street.

Additional information is available at the secretary’s office.

Students are urged to sell tickets for the V.F. and to see friend and classmates at the Valentine Formal.

Miss Sylvia Dworski, Ph.D., of the Wilkes faculty, was named recently to Who’s Who in America. The National publication of the A. N. Marquis Publishing Company of Chicago.

Debaters Seventh In Hopkins Meet

Two representatives of the Wilkes College debating team, Fred Roberts and Roberts Feldman, returned from Baltimore to the Hopkins College on January 30. In a field of forty teams the Wilkes debaters placed seventh with a total of 270 points.

The topic debated was “Resolved: That future nuclear war should be prohibited by international agreement.” Roberts and Feldman lost the first round and beat Hopkins in the second.

In competition Wilkes defeated Northeastern and Navy in the first round. In the second round which paired women against men, Maryland and Wheaton defeated the Wilkes representative.

Later, in another round, Wilkes rallied to defeat St. Michael’s New Hampshire and Johns Hopkins.

In this year’s tournament Roberts, with a total of 141 points ranked eleventh in the individual events. Feldman won the best speaker’s award.

Collegians Plan Trips Seeking Tenor Soloist

The Collegians, musical ambassadors of good will for the College, are planning trips in the near future. The first of these, a jaunt to Green Park Union High School, near Harrisburg, is another in a series of distant performances in the eighties history of the chorus.

Now numbering thirty-five, the male choral group has been invited to downstate by a charter member of the Collegians, Jack Curtis, now teaching in Green Park.

Another former member of the chorus, Jerry Levy, presently teaching at Phillipsburg, New Jersey, has made tentative plans to have the group sing for a student assembly at his high school.

Locally, the group, under the direction of junior music major Bill Peters, has sung at the Hotel Casey in Wilkes-Barre, at the State College Rotary meeting at Hotel Stirling during the past ten days. They have presented concerts at several area schools and are scheduled to appear at Wilkes-Barre Township, Kingston, Westmoreland, and Plymouth High Schools.

Peters has announced that the chorus is still in need of tenor voices in particular and especially needs a tenor or baritone soloist. Anyone interested in trying to join the chorus is urged to contact Peters.

In addition to her teaching duties, she has worked as a translator for the Strategic Information Of Latin America, as a secretary in the Yale University French Department; as a summer English Language Center, and translator for the French Mission in the United States.

She received her B.A. degree from Connecticut College, with highest honors, in 1955; then returned to New York for a summer degree with distinction from the same College the following year. She attended the University of Paris as a Yale French Travelling Fellow, and the Spanish Language Institute of Madrid.

In 1949 she received her Ph.D. in Romance languages as a visiting Fellow at Yale.

Among her publications are her Master’s essay and Ph.D. dissertation devoted to the works of French novelist and short story writer, (reproduced on page 6).

Improvements Needed

Registration again proved to be a more confusion— even after all the improvements have been installed. The choice of classes was enthusiastically approved by those who managed to get to the gym at 7 a.m. on Friday and therefore got first choice. Those who could not get there, or those whose names don’t begin with R to Z, there was much dissatisfaction.

The A to M lines wound around the jam-packed gym, out the door and back to Chaver Zedek Synagogue, while the rest of the alphabetically lucky ones marched right into the gym, up to the registrar’s table and on to the best classes.

We can not see why: 1) the alphabetical distribution was not checked beforehand and made more equal; or 2) why there were not more registrar’s tables — perhaps one on each side of the gym.

We fully realize that to have more tables means more people will have to be paid for working; that is if the system of employment continues. On this topic there are several suggestions. The first and foremost is to have TDR, a service organization, or the Lettermen, volunteer members to assist in giving out total registration forms at two tables. This would free experienced personnel to help at the finance desk, and also facilitate the possibility of having a more equal breakdown of the alphabetical lines.

The second suggestion calls for a club or organization on campus, such as the Student Government or the Economics Club, for instance, get together and volunteer to assist in the registration.

The finance line, usually the worst in the entire process, was improved considerably with the use of already printed receipt tickets. However, this line could be speeded up by instituting a new system. Perhaps payments could be made due by the week before registration. For those who could and would pay, the line would be eliminated. For those who do not pay before registration, the usual long grumbling line would be the only solution.

There could possibly be a separate table set up for those who have paid, or for those who have tuition scholarships and do not need to pay the line just to some one that you do not pay tuition is annoying to any student.

On the whole, registration this year was better than ever — just as the movies; but like the movies, improvement is not impossible.

Oh, Say Can You See

Wilkes College is by far the most patriotic institution in the United States. This statement can be made without restriction if one considers the fact that the American Flag is rarely, if not taken, from its station atop the flag pole on Class Day.

Students who leave the library at 9:30 at night have the opportunity to admire our beautiful red, white and blue through the illuminated windows. Neither rain nor shine nor night will deter us from our whole-hearted patriotism.

‘Nough said?

Letters To The Editor:

Since a few Student Council actions have recently come in for questioning, let us remind them of the beginning of the new semester that the Student Council Constitution provides a means of effective protest against certain decisions. According to that section a Court of Appeals, made up of two faculty members and two students, may vote to override the Student Council subject only to a two-thirds vote of the Court’s final decision. The procedure for getting a matter before the Court is relatively simple; just give a written brief containing a summary and analysis of the facts presented on the matter before the Council. The Council in turn shall also file a summary of the case pre-testing its reasons and the minutes of the matter was argued. The Court may, before rendering a decision, require further investigation before a hear-

Dear Editor:

It was brought to my attention that some individual in our student body had placed a false notice on the blackboard in Pickering Hall to the effect that the Student Council would hold a meeting on Tuesday, February 3. The notice was also signed with the names of two of the S.M.A. members.

I can not help questioning the motives of those responsible for that notice. I am also sure that that person would not have the courage to send his guilt to me personally or to any other member of the S.M.A. Chapter.

In view of the above, I would suggest that students whose character shows disregard for the rights of others are in the minority at Wilkes.

With regret,

DINES OR HALF-DOLLARS

The Editor

Dear Editor:

We are writing this to the students of Wilkes-Barre, a very rich Texas oil millionnaire who said to his son, "Dan, my boy, I'm giving you a barrel full of dimes, or a barrel of similar size souvenirs." Which would you take?

If you wanted the most money, you'd take the barrel full of dimes. Being much smaller and thinner than a barrel half filled. The barrel half filled would contain about 750 dollars. If the amount in the barrel was about $1,200, which would you take?

What do you think of this situation?

Accomplishments of Year Are Reviewed by Council

by Jim Eldam

Bob Pitel, senior commerce and finance major, officially took over the reins and responsibilities of Student Government at the close of the regular semester. Additional activities were included in the dinkings of Gordon Roberts, who was elected to the Vice-Presidency for the coming year.

Returning President Bob Morris presided for the business session, calling the meeting to order at 5:20 p.m. Paul Klein offered a prayer after which minutes of the previous meeting were read by Martha Metzger, Secretary.

Bob Washburn, Winter Carnival chairman for the ’60-’61 year, made a brief report of the affair, reporting that some people did not abide by the request of the PWL. He has a small class of nine assistants, and the work through the day was well orga-

Much of the meeting was devoted to a recapitulation of the progress made in the Student Government during the past semester under theuw leadership. In a prepared written report, the accomplishments and various unfinished projects were presented. Due to an extensive freshman orientation program, the numerous government-sponsored social activities, the student leaders’ meetings, the political speeches, and various policies adopted for a smoother functioning of government are among the many accomplishments reviewed.

Bob Morris

Bob Morris, a junior history major, expressed the belief that the government had worked well, and that students and faculty were well satisfied with the operation of the government. He said that the members of the council devoted a great deal of time and energy to the various projects in order to make the government more efficient and better attuned to the needs of the students.

The group also discussed possi-

I.C.G. MEMBERS PREPARING FOR REGIONAL CONFERENCE

by Sue Smoak

Executives from ten college chapters of the Northeastern Region of Intercollegiate Conference on Government and Politics will meet in the Commons Sunday at 2 o’clock.

The executives will plan for the Northeastern Region Conference to be held at Lebanon on March first. During the Sunday meeting, Rules and Strategy Committee will be officially appointed.

John Salva will represent Wilkes on the Rules Committee and Gordon Roberts will be on the Strategy Committee.

After the Sunday meeting, the individual college I.C.G.’s will appoint five committees to prepare mock bills which will be presented for debate and discussion at the March first meeting. Those bills that are accepted at that meeting will be presented at the state I.C.G. chapters of the Northeastern Region of Intercollegiate Conference on Government and Politics will meet in the Commons Sunday at 2 o’clock. And Snoop, Labor, Industrial, Agricultural and National Resources, Mike Bisco, chairman, Frank Steck, Jay Zook, John Cook, Ira Himmel and Pat Shovlin.

FUN WITH FIGURES

A BOREDOM REMEDY

If you can add four-digit numbers, do long division and smile when you have an overripe potato, talent required to be a skillful amateur magician. You can go straight for a prize at the Fourth of July and enter your friends...just by using simple mathematical techniques suggested by engineers of Interchemical Corporation.

Start by learning the way to "guess" a secret number. Ask someone to think of a number (his age, date of graduation, anything). Write the number down and, now have him take his number and:

a. multiply it by 2
b. divide by 2

c. multiply by 8

2. subtract 2

3. subtract 8

4. subtract 11.

Ask him his result. As soon as you have it, you can tell him his original number. How? Just take his result and subtract. Then divide by 2. Works every time.

In the magic world of numbers, things aren’t always what they seem. Few people realize, for example, what a tremendous difference exists between two large numbers such as 100,000 and a billion. If you counted one number every second, it would take five days a week, you’d pass 100,000 in less than two weeks. But if George Washington had been counting at the same rate of speed, he would have been 92 years old — he wouldn’t even be three-quarters of the way to a billion if he were able to count today!

If you know that a stack of 100 one-dollar bills is 1½ inches thick, but did you know that the tallest building in the world, Mt. Everest, is 29,035 feet high, and the highest mountain in the world, Mt. Everest, is 19,300 feet high. It’s a whole world of numbers, isn’t it? Here’s a brain teaser for you. Put your family in a race to see who can get the answer to this problem. What is the greatest number that you can double, add 2, and get the same number, with its digits reversed?

Answer: Find the 5-pint bottle and pour its contents into the 8-pint bottle. Fill the frugent bottle sufficiently to fill the 5-pint bottle, then pour it into the 8-pint bottle. But the latter bottle can only hold 5 pints, leaving two pints left in the smaller bottle.

Ask someone to write down on a piece of paper four numbers: 1, 2, 3, and 4.

b. the year of some other big event in his life—graduation, marriage, etc.

c. how old he’ll be on December 31st this year.

d. the difference between the year of the big event in (b.) and his age in (c.).

Ask him to add up his four numbers, write a number on a piece of paper, fold the paper, and lay it on the table. Tell him that you will open your folded scrap paper and:

Noted Czech Statesman Will Be Featured at Next Assembly Program

by Connie Stokowski

The Honorable Stefan Osuský, the noted statesman, will make an appearance at Wilkes as guest speaker at the February 10th assembly program.

Dr. Osuský, who has been described as an economic expert and brilliant diplomat, will present a talk entitled "The Way of the Past." Our speaker is well qualified to expound on this subject, for he has had a diverse and renowned background.

In World War I Osuský was the youngest collaborator of President Thomas Masaryk and was one of the first of the Czechoslovaks. From 1920 to 1937 he represented...

177-Pounder Impressive, Leads Team to 3rd Win in 15 Scans of 2nd Round

Walt Glogowski is this week's recipient of the "Athlete of the Week" award. He pinned Jerome Lewkov, CCNY's prime 177-pounder in 3 minutes and 15 seconds to lead the Colonels' matmen to a 27-15 victory and the season's third win.

This is a typical performance by Walt, whose electrifying style of wrestling has made him a great favorite of the fans. He has great strength but also possesses quick, cat-like movements which have led the followers of the Colonels' wrestling team to nicknamed him "Tiger."

"Tiger." Walt is also an active member of the Lettermen's Club, Education Club, and the CCUN. He is a graduate of Plymouth High School where he earned letters, three each in wrestling and track. He captained both teams in his senior year and earned third place in the State finals for javelin where he has a 160-foot vault. He has earned letters in wrestling for the past three seasons.

BIO CLUB WHIPS PINBUSTERS, 3-1; PLAYBOYS NARROW GAP TO THREE

The following Pinbusters dropped three points to the Bio Club Sunday night, while the second place Playboys closed the gap on a 3-1 win over the last place Teetotallers in the intramural bowling league.

Dan Lewis, captain of the Gold-bricks, got a new season's high mark of 604 with games of 229, 222, and 215, but his team lost a 3-1 decision to the Raiders.

Next week, the Playboys are not scheduled for a fast match between the Playboys and the Teetotallers, who split the first two games. The Playboys took the third game by 48 pins however, and took the fourth point for total pins by a margin of 71.

Dick Myers was high man for the match, leading the Teetotallers with 150-530. Warren Demmer was high for the victors with 179-477.

Ron Kennew and Fred Mountey contributed 162-683 and 154-428 to the winning total, while Gene Brewster and Lois Tre-

Emil Petrasnek was high man for the Pinbusters with 248-615, but the Bio Club took the last two games and overtime a 10-pin defi- nition to over total pins by 26 pins.

For the winners, Bill Hoffman led the way with 197-502, and Rose Strong went 192-512 and a big 215 to help secure the upset. Other scorers: Marty Tamey 167-479, Lee Humphreyy 179-492, John Maylock 120 and 106, and Bob Harvey 125-480.

Bill Watkins and John Sapiego piled up 210 and 223, and 3-1 over 5 total losers. Watkins rolled 177-605, Sapiego 196-602.

Other scores: Fred Jacoby 175-492, and Don Wilkinson 164-418.

Raiders 3, Goldbricks 1

Bob Hewitt led the Raiders with 183-475 in their 3-1 win over Lewis' Goldbricks. Florence Kronblatt was right behind with 179-472, Pete Maholik had games of 194 and 144, Lee Glassberg 177 and 147, Larry Choper 167 and 120, Bob Liato 125 and 116, and Andy Lowenberg 125.

Hoosters Home; Oppose Broncs After Four Losses

The Wilkes cagers encounter two tough foes this weekend in an attempt to return to winning ways and to bring their 3-won-7-loss record nearer to the 500 mark. Standing mid-point in their schedule with ten games played and ten more to come, the Colonials still have an excellent opportunity to finish the season with a winning campaign but the Warriors are hurting badly with early season injuries to key players but will rush to grease up over the Christmas vacation.

Coach Tom Layden’s squad will be led by high scoring forward Jack Madden who is averaging 18 points per game and guard Richie Pietrowski with 15 points per contest. The Colonials have added some help from two new transfer students, foot, 8-inch Jack Pilger and Frank Kopf who joined the club at the start of this semester.

This weekend the Wilkes hoosters take to the road again in an attempt to break the away-court jinx. The Colonials will match west baskets with the East Stroudsburg Warriors at 7:00 p.m. in the State Teachers College fieldhouse in Stroudsburg.

The Broncs are coached by Richard Luire and are not enjoying one of their better seasons. Dick classed by the low of high scoring Charlie German, last year’s mainstay. Although the squad is comprised with only one returning letterman, John Kreyos, junior forward.

Lack of height and depth has hurt Coach Luce’s chances of a winning campaign but the Warriors will have the added advantage of playing on their home hardwoods which could eventually be the deciding factor and make for a hard fought contest.

The Lafayette Leopards proved to be too much for the Wilkesmen Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. The majestic home court. Showing a decisive advantage in height, the Leopards sounded the death knell on the Colonials by the score of 107-75. The entire game can be summed up with a look at the foul shot attempts; Lafayette attempted 54 free throws to 24 for Wilkes.

Vacation Results

The past week proved to be disastrous for the Blue and Gold as they played three of the top opponents in the Middle Atlantic Conference and were handed defeats by all three. On January 24 Wagner College of Staten Island downed the Wilkesmen, 70-62, on their home floor. Although the Colonials fought hard and played on even terms in the first half, Wagner came back strong to take the contest. The Scranton Royals invaded Wilkes on January 28 and emerged victorious by an 82-69 count with big Ed Kazalasky proving to be the determining factor with 25 points. Saturday, January 31, the Morris Greyhounds sent the Davismen to the dance floor with a 65-30 thumping. The Greyhounds were led by “Ducky” Potter who netted 30 points in the afternoon encounter.

The Wilkes trio of Fran Mikolanis, George Gacha, and Bernie Radocki performed well in all three games. Mikolanis tallied a total of 143 points while Gacha poured in 41 tallies through the net and played fine defensive ball. Gacha added 32 points to the total plus his excellent generalship in leading the playmaking of the squad.

Splashes Hoping For Reversal Of Close Losses To Lycoming

The once defeated Colonel splashes get their first real chance to win tomorrow as they meet the Lycoming Warriors at 2:00 p.m. in the Wilkes-Barre Y.M.C.A. In their last meet the Warriors defeated Millville.

Last year Lycoming took advantage of the youthful team from Wilkes and defeated them in two close contests by narrow margins. This year, even with the loss of their ace short distance sprinter, Clete Miller, the aquatic team has been refreshed with new blood in the form of Art Ekhart, freshman sprinter, and Jake Zook, an experienced looking sophomore with plenty of talent.

“Ironman” Carl Havira will also be present to take his estimated fifteen points, the maximum number possible in a swimming meet. Another old end, Pat Shovlin, will be expected to pull in the backstroke event for at least one first place, while letterman Bernie Wahalis, a distance man, will be known as “Big Wheels”. The Lycoming men will be known as “Little Wheels”.

The Colonials are eager to pull off a victory at least the closest margin of wins this season. Coach Picton is having particular trouble in the diving department, Freshman Art Ekhart will be expected to show off his best efforts in the near future.

The weekend during finals gave rise to the possibility of a narrow margin win of the season as the nata- tors from Scranton University failed to field sufficient men for their scheduled meet with Wilkes.

Leopards Test Streak, Reesemen Vie for Win And Undeated Season

by Richard J. Myers

Tonight night at 8:00 p.m., the grapplers take on the Leopards of Lafayette in the last wrestling meet of the season. They will put up a four-must winning streak on the line, a streak extending to the final contest of the 1968 season, when they defeated Fairleigh-Dickinson.

Last year the Colonials trounced the Leopards with a score of 22-0, a shutout for their 23rd consecutive victory. Four days later, they had the spring training by the rugged Millersville Marauders edge them out, 13-12.

Joe Morgan, at 137 pounds this year, took a great 4-1 win at Lafayette last year, out of the hands of the Silverstein after taking about one minute to finish the match.

Ted Tolula set the Wilkes fans buzzing when he turned in his third straight pin this year, pinning sophomore Phil Rodman in 37 seconds of his first period after a scoreless first round.

Captain Walt Goligowski showed by winning over the formidable whipwind brand of wrestling when he came from behind to pin Jerry Zito of the Leopards at the end of the first round, 2-0. Walt and his captain for the second period, only to be taken down before the period was over, a fall which was in a matter of three seconds.

Joe Morgan, at 137 pounds this year, took a great 4-1 win at Lafayette last year, out of the hands of the Silverstein after taking about one minute to finish the match.

Senior Jack Inower, co-captain of the校区, turned in the only win of the night against the 147-pound bout with Ron Binkowski. The score of the bout was 1-1, but Inower had a time advantage and saved the point in the last minute.

Gerard Sienicki took a sturdy 130-pound, Ron Alter, by an 8-3 decision in the 147-pound bout with RonAlter. The score of the bout was 9-3, but Inower had a time advantage and saved the point in the last minute.

Mary Antunes displayed fine riding ability to register a 5-2 decision over Jerry Derr in the 147-pound class, and heavyweight Bob Biskan took a 3-0 win from the Wilkesman in the 215-pound class.

The Colonials are eager to pull off a victory at least the closest margin of wins this season. Coach Picton is having particular trouble in the diving department, Freshman Art Ekhart will be expected to show off his best efforts in the near future.

The weekend during finals gave rise to the possibility of a narrow margin win of the season as the nata- tors from Scranton University failed to field sufficient men for their scheduled meet with Wilkes.

COHEN ATTENDS CONVENTION DEVOTED TO ALLERGIES STUDY

Sheldon G. Cohen, M.D., associate professor of biological research, will leave this morning to attend the 15th annual meeting of the American Academy of Allergy to be held next week in Chicago.

Dr. Cohen is a member of the Governing Board of the Academy Research Council and he was appointed Chairman of the Section for the study of food allergy by Francis Lowell, newly elected president of the Academy.

At the morning session on Monday, February 3, Dr. Cohen will present an original research paper entitled, “Immune Sera in the Study of Food Antigens.” Thirty-th resear original research papers prepared by research workers and physicians from universities, medical schools, and teaching centers throughout the U.S. will be presented at the 15th annual meeting of the Academy.

Dr. Cohen’s original investigation involved animal experimentation and was related to certain problems in allergic reactions to fish and shellfish. Dr. Cohen explained the research project he has divided into three parts. “First,” he said, “we found that in some instances that certain vitamins, minerals, and pharmaceutical products of fish origin, were capable of causing allergic reactions. We then studied the relationships between edible fish and shellfish that would explain allergic reactions in susceptible individuals.”

“Certain water insects are used in the preparation of commercial products are used as food for tropical fish and goldfish. We studied the properties of these insects that would indicate their potential in causing reactions in people who are allergic to related edible shellfish such as crab, lobster, and shrimp.”

In the collection and study of water insects, Dr. Cohen was assisted by Dr. Charles Reif, head of the Biology Department. John Backer, senior pre-medical student, assisted in the study of fish allergy. During the past few years, Dr. Cohen has been engaged in research at Wilkes under the sponsorship of the American Academy of Allergy, in addition to the research program sponsored by the Northeastern Pennsylvania Heart Association and the National Heart Institute of United States Public Health Service.

NOTICE!

Anyone interested in working on the Business Staff of the Beacon is requested to see either Peggy Salvatore or Jay Zook. The Business Staff meets Friday afternoon, third floor, room 325.

A guy walked into a local department store last week and complained about an all-year shirt he had bought. He explained what the trouble was. "Why it's not really dirt," he explained. "I've worn it only three weeks and it's dirty already..."

Be it ever so homely, there's no face like your own.
