Students Will Submit Letters of Nomination; Deadline Next Friday

by Tosi Scumran

Marion Klawonn, chairman of the Homecoming Queen selection committee, has announced that nominations for the 1958 Homecoming Queen will be accepted through Friday, October 3.

The editorial staff has set the deadline for the nominations on October 3.

Nominations are to be signed by the student, sealed in an envelope addressed to the Student Editor in Chase Hall. They may also be given to Miss Klawonn or another member of the editorial staff.

The selection of the fifth annual Homecoming Queen and two princesses will be limited to Senior girls, which does not include Freshman students. Three young women will comprise the court, the queen and two princesses. The court will be based on the highest number of votes.

When Miss Klawonn has received all of the nominations, the names will be listed on the ballot sheet which will be placed, sealed, in the mailboxes of the various organizations and clubs on campus.

It is stipulated that only the President of each organization vote for this year's queen. After making the selection, the ballot must be placed in the mailboxes. Students will not be returned to Miss Klawonn.

Miss and gold, a system of voting for the Homecoming Queen should remedy the situation of past years. Each organization will have a representative to cast their vote in the annual Homecoming Queen selection.

The queen and her attendants will be announced on Friday, October 15.

The Homecoming game between Ursinus and Wilkes will be held Saturday, October 15, in the new Kingston football stadium. The queen and her attendants will have a military escort at the game and will be crowned during the half.

The electors in choosing a Homecoming Queen should base their selection on personality, appearance, scholarship, and standing, and participation in extra-curricular activities. Last year's choice was Miss Mary Ann Burda, queen, and Misses Theresa Mazzarella and Joan Llewellyn, first and second princesses.

The Queen will be representing the Wilkes student body at alumni. It is hoped that she will be typical of the best Wilkes can offer, and that the student body will be proud to welcome her to their ranks next year.

guest speakers. Their talk and demonstration are entitled "The Roller Climax." All interested freshmen are cordially invited to attend this social to meet upperclassmen members of the class. Refreshments will be served, and any member of the freshmen class will be welcome to attend.

As Homecoming Approaches Us

We have been asked by Student Government President Bob Morris to head the committee in charge of selecting a Homecoming Queen and her attendants. Since this is our first try at anything like this, we hope that some little research on the subject and come up with the following set of standards for the selection.

First and foremost, the queen and the attendants this year will be selected from the senior class. This excludes terminal students. We have some very definite feelings about this regulation, most of them from the standpoint of the alumni, who the queen in advertisement is. It is agreed that the returnees who return for the annual Homecoming celebration will have contributed most of the present senior class. Few would remember present day junior or sophomores, if the returned group will remember sophomores or freshmen, hence the limitation to seniors.

The voting for the queen will be carried on in an entirely new way this year. This way will be the Honors Editorial Staff, com posed of about five students, selected the queen. This year, we will distribute a sealed bullet to all club and organization presi dent, deans, and members of the administration, and approximately thirty individuals will be in on the voting — there fore making it more fair to all concerned. Only the president of the organizations will vote, not the organizations themselves. This, we hope, will make vote-counting easier and at the same time, give more people a chance to take part in the selection. The queen and her attendants will again be selected with the following standards in mind: personality, appearance, academic standing, and participation in extra-curricular activi ties.

We feel that all of the above standards are fair in every respect, however, we are always open for suggestions on this or any other matters. If you have a complaint or a "good word" about some or any Bosconian policy, let us know — we are not mind readers.

The Usual Story

We have been informed through several sources that the Annicola stuff consists of the overwhelming total of four people. This tremendous show of spirit and cooperation completely amazes us.

How such a condition can exist on a campus of this size is beyond our comprehension and our imagination. The Annicola is a publication for all the students — not just the few overworked students who have to carry the load for the remaining eleven hundred people who attend Wilkes. We can see no valid reason for this lackadaisical approach to the only yearbook published on campus. We can say, through personal experience, that Editor Helen Miller does not believe in having the rock cock assistant editors, or even, to our knowledge, carry a whip.

Let's get with it — this is no attitude to be proud of. There are opportunities available on the Annicola, it's a shame to let them go to waste.

OPERA GROUP TO SING VERDI

The New York Opera Festival, presented by the Wagner Company of New York, will visit Wilkes- Barre, as has been announced today, during its transcontinental tour. It will be the troupe's 16th appearance here since 1945. The Festival is being sponsored locally by the Wyoming Valley Opera Guild, and is scheduled to appear at the Ives Temple on Tuesday evening, October 7, in Verdi's celebrated opera, "Rigoletto," in one performance only.

The reputation of the New York Opera Festival is a remarkable one. Originally all tours were presented under the name of the Wagner Opera Company, which was a reorganization of the late Charles H. Wagner's traveling troupe. Following the Festival's outstanding success at the Carter Barron Am phitheatre in Washington, D.C., when its first performances were presented during the Summer of 1945, it decided to add all future performances as the "New York Opera Festival," with the name of "Wagner Opera" being relegated to the background.

The more than three hundred singers in the group were auditioned, and re-auditioned, during the past year, and final selection was made on the basis of ability, appearance and experience. Included in the current roster of artists are singers who have appeared with the members of the New York City Opera Company, the NBC-opera group, the Lincoln-Judah Opera Company, and other leading operatic organizations. The professional performers are members of the only professional grand opera company operating in the United States and Canada.

Seats for the forthcoming en gagement of the group will be sold at Hildebrandt Music Store, 38 W. Market St.; Central Ticket Agency, Charles R. Butler, Wilkes-Barre; Mel ton's in Kingston, Wick's Jewelry Store, Scranton, and Melton's in Wilkes-Barre. Ticket prices range from $3.25 to $1.25 and tax included. Curtain time is at 8:30 p.m., and the curtain is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. to allow opera goers an opportunity to work around the school. Reservations open at the Hildebrandt Music Store, Wednesday. WILKES STUDENTS HAVE ART WORK DISPLAYED

A number of paintings by Stephen Poleskie of Wilkes, was selected by the judges, for the Wilkes-Barre Fine Arts Festival, Hailston Art League Outdoor Show, Pleasant Mountain Art Show at Strouds, Great Spruce Outdoor Art Club Show in New York. He also has a permanent exhibit at the Ross Commons Sum mer Theatre at Wind Gap.

For the fall season, Poleskie has been invited to exhibit at the Hunterdon County Art Center, Clinton, N.J. He will also exhibit in the members show of the Wyoming Valley Art League and in a juried show at the Center's Gallery in New York.

In January, Poleskie will have his first major one-man exhibit at Stranton's Everhart Museum.

Poleskie has been active in art work for over a while as a member of the Club of 'n' Curt. Several of his caricatures were presented in the Beacon and in prominent national journals.

Don Murray to Compete in Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Contest

By Jean Shiefranko

Don Murray, junior secondary education major, will represent Wilkes in the Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Contest, which will be held on October 8, in Chambersburg, Pennsyl vania. This contest is sponsored by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Pennsylvania.

Besides receiving a monetary a ward, the winner of the state contest will be eligible to enter the national contest sponsored by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of America.

The title of Murray's speech is, "The Alcoholics and the American Community," and deals with the crime of throwing alcoholism in jail and emphasizing psychological help for such unfortunate people.

Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murray, Brooklyn, New York, is a member of the Glee Club. His activities include membership in the debating society and the C.O.N. Last year Murray spoke to numerous local church and civic groups, headed the Wilkes delegation to the U.N. Model General Assembly, and represented Wilkes in the Pennsylvania State Oratorical Contest.

Many New Students Join Debate Squad

by Jim Eiden

Hoping to continue their impressive record, the Wilkes debating team, under the direction of Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, held its first session last Thursday.

Three members of last year's group have returned to form a nucleus of the present squad. They are Gwen Evans, senior student who tied for first speaker at the state tournament last year; Fred Roberts, member of last year's outstanding two-man team; and Bertha Feinlein, who was a member of the 1957-58 novice squad.

A large group of fresh and transfers have shown interest in debating, according to Dr. Kruger. Included in this group are David Weiss and Aaron Haste, upperclassmen transfer students, and Michael Blanco, Jerome Kraus, Herbert Williams, Wayne Thomas, James Muralti, Arnold Kishel, Nelson Pappucci, Robert Chamberlain, and Joseph Shams.

The squad will soon begin to use extensive research on the current topic: "Resolved: That the Further Development of Nuclear Weapons Should be Prohibited by Interna tional Agreement."

An active year is planned for the team. It is included among the Georgia group of tournaments are St. Joseph's, Philadelphia, the week-end of November 15; New York University, Bucknell, State Tournament at Scranton, Eastern Foren sic, Tournament and King's. Several novice tournaments are also on the agenda, as well as important nationwide two-man invitational tournaments.

Dr. Kruger extends an invitation to all students interested in debating to become affiliated with the squad. He has pointed out that no previous experience is necessary, as some of the top speakers in past years had lacked experience when they joined the squad.
FRANK SPUDIS NAMED TOP ATHLETE OF WEEK FOR OUTSTANDING PLAY

Teamwork, Alertness Gain "Beacon" Honors For Soph Lineman

Senior Frank Spudis is named first athlete of the week. Teamwork and alertness played a major part in his week’s selection of the Wilkes athlete of theweek.

Frank’s offensive blocks and more than sparkling defensive plays led him to recover two bad needed fumbles for the home team. His smashing line changes made the Ichabods a little more than slightly hesitant in running plays around the Wilkes right side of the line.

He graduated from Pittston High School in 1962 and started here at Wilkes in 1963 and has just last year returned to the academic scene after a brief sojourn into the working world.

Frank played three years of football and four years of basketball while attending Pittston High School.

His activity in tomorrow’s game with Lehigh Valley may be curtailed slightly due to the injury he received last week in the Ichabods game. He is, however, now awaiting the green light that will mean that he is completely physically fit for the game tomorrow.

College Football Adds New Rules; Old Style Blocking Now Illegal

by Ray Yanchus

Many Wilkes fans may have been a little confused last Saturday night over the new rules which prevail in college football this season. Because many of the students and “vicious” customers are well acquainted with local high school games, they tend to forget that college ball is played under somewhat different rules. Some of these rules have been revised for the 1958 season. Some of the major changes are listed for your enlightenment.

You may have wondered why there was a long string of players reporting to the referee before the start of the game. The reason is that each number must be recorded by the official and he checks to see if a player has been in the game during any given quarter returns only once during that period.

This year, a substitute may return to the game during the same quarter in which he entered. A substitution cannot be made when the clock is running; if a player enters the game, he must stay until the clock is stopped. However, if a player leaves the game before the clock has stopped, he may return to the game at any time.

This is expected to develop into an annual affair and if participation is good the seminaries may be extended from one to two weeks.

Eight Teams to Begin Title Race As Bowling League Opens Sunday

The 1958-59 Intramural Bowling League begins Sunday night at the Jewish Community Center. Rosters have been completed and team captains have been given a list of their participants for the season, which is composed of eight teams who will begin a 21-match triple round-robin season under slightly revised rules.

Teams scheduled to bowl on Alleys 1 and 2 will report to the JCC lanes early in the season. The list of players then will report to the JCC lanes later in the season as the season progresses. The list of players then will report to the JCC lanes as the season progresses.

The officials will keep a sharp eye on the type of blocking going on. Under the new rule, only one hand or forearm may be used to block. The hand must be in contact with the blocker’s body; the hand and arm must be kept behind the shoulder of the opponent throughout the entire block.

This rule does not apply to a “crash” or body block in which case the hand or arm is not required to be in contact with the body. In no case may the hands be locked. Penalty for infractions of blocking rules is fifteen yards.

The last major change to watch for is the new point-after-touchdown-scoring system. This rule helps the teams enter the “foot out of foot” category, since there is only one point allowed for the block. The less the point, the more points are given if runs or passes put the ball across the goal line.

All players will agree with the reasoning behind the new rules, but they will be with us for the coming season. Those who look for the return of free substitution or unlimited time-out will have to wait another year.

They will use any alleys which the attendant may direct.

When the teams scheduled to use those alleys arrive, they will have to wait until the early squad’s third game is finished. The reason for this feature is that the Center must keep two alleys open for member bowling at all times. The early hour for the two extra teams will compensate for the lack of available alleys.

Senior Class

by Jim Eldam

Nomination of eight seniors for president and eleven others for the three remaining offices highlighted a well-attended senior meeting Tuesday morning in Pickering Hall. T. Reginald Mattiology presented.

Presidential nominees are: Bill Simonovich, Rodger Lewis, John Kandleck, Bill Simouns, Dave Wasserstrom, Donald Brandt, Fred Roberts, and Mattiology. For vice president, Scott Trelaway, Tom Ruggiero, Mike Stanko, and Mike Goshic received nominations. Dick Bailey, Morgan Thomas, and Bob Payne are nominees for treasurer and Frank Bishop, Helen Klett, Jean Broady, and Janice Reynolds were nominated for secretary.

The meeting opened with reading of the minutes of the final junior class meeting last spring by Miss Bishop. Maryellen Connell reported on the financial success of last Friday’s class-sponsored dance.

Mary Louise Spinelli, head of the school spirit committee, asked for three volunteers from the class to serve on the committee as representatives of the senior class. Dave Schoenfeld, Carl Zookiski, and Mike Stanko will serve in this capacity.

Bob Morris, student government president, led a discussion of pertinent matters pertaining to the newly-revised constitution. Morris pointed to details in the new provisions which the constitution encompassed and answered questions from the floor, several dealing with student voting procedures. Morris pointed out the important provision which make a “2” an average mandatory for all class officers and student government members.

Announcement was made that election of class officers will be held on Wednesday, October 8 in Chase Theatre, instead of the originally-scheduled date.

Mr. Arthur Hoover was introduced as the class of one of the new advisers for the year. He presented a brief “pop talk” urging freshmen to assist their class in its program.

The next meeting of the senior class will be held October 9 at 11 a.m. in the gymnasium.

Junior Class

by Richard Myers

In appreciation of a year of extraordinary service, the juniors have virtually re-elected John Mulhall as their class president. In Tuesday’s meeting, Mulhall’s name was the first offered in nomination and no other member spoke in favor of another candidate. Following the closure of motion and its approval, the hall rang with applause as the class registered its satisfaction.

Vice-presidential candidates are Bob Beumer, Tom Bartol, Bob Wambish, and Carl Havry.

Money Miller, Pete Malahas, and George Brunson were nominated to run for secretary.

In a spirited round of nominations and declining, the slate of nominees was completed as Judy Martin, Bob Martin, Frank Steek, and Ron Bienkowski were named as candidates for the office of class treasurer.

The class adopted as its first project plans to make a Homecoming display and to provide decorated cars for the Homecoming parade.

Schoenfeld, Carl Zoolkoski, and G. Stickler head the committee for the program.

C. Havry explained the financial status of the class and Bob Wambish introduced the members to the changes and modifications to the Constitution.

Sophomore Class

by Peggy Krazs

Barry Yecum presided over the first meeting of the Sophomore Committee which was held in Stark 116.

The agenda for the meeting included the presentation of the class advisors, Mr. Welton Farrar and Mr. Benjamin Fister.

Bill Davis, the Sophomore Class Student Government representative, discussed the newly revised Constitution and pointed out the changes and facts pertinent to the student body. He especially remarked on the Court of Appeals and the fact that a “2” or “C” average is necessary for all class officers and students.

Nomination were taken for the following class officers:

President: Nick Gatto, Dick Derleth, John Mott, Kurt Roberts, and Dick Derleth.

Vice-President: Ray Litter, John Turner, Dick Kniffen.

Treasurer: George Watson, Sandy Unger, Dorothy Ford, Bill Hohler.

Secretary: Betsy Hoechle, Pat Belardini, Arlene Gallia, Peggy Krazs.

Nominations and elections also introduced the Student Government Committee. Jean Schok, Hoechle and Ed Kemp were elected to the committee.

The class was also informed that elections would be held on Wednesday, October 8, in Chase Theatre, instead of the following Thursday.

Freshman Class

The first meeting of the Freshman Class was held on Tuesday, September 22, with Dr. Reif, one of the class advisors, serving as temporary chairman.

First on the agenda of speakers was Barbara Pedersen, a member of the Freshman Advisory Committee.

Because the student body was on the Constitution October 21, Miss Federer stressed the importance of the students and the constitution in future years at Wilkes College. Gordon E. Roberta, chairman of the United Drive, announced that the first class project will be held October 21. This includes Freshman participation in a Dance.

Under Miss Spinelli’s direction the committee is working on improving student participation in forthcoming events. The committee will meet Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. at a place to be designated at a later date.

The School Spirit Committee is now concentrating on the first home football game, scheduled for October 4 with Elizabethtown. They urge your support in attending all future activities. The cooperation of the student body will be a vital factor for the success of the coming school year.

The Sophomore Class extended a special thanks to the T.D.R. cheering section who did a wonderful job Saturday, the first game of the year, and still shakers, purchased by T.D.R., were a colorful and enthusiastic addition which helped to stimulate interest in the game. A cheering section will be appointed for future games and will assist members at all home games. T.D.R. members are encouraged to bring their colors and sit in the section.

GRIDDERS TEST DUTCHEMEN TOMORROW

LOOK OUT, BEFIT!

by Jim Hennigan

Eight lettermen and five veterans of last year’s pledge are among the twenty-five candidates for this year’s edition of the Wilkes College soccer team. Head coach Jim Ferris is pleased with the turnout of veterans and newcomers and has high hopes for a winning season. The Colonels boast three wins, two losses and three ties on their 1957 record.

Backed up by this letterman line are three veterans, seniors Len Frankowski and Ed McCafferty and sophomore Lou Zwiebel. The strength of the Colonels line will enable Coach Ferris to alter the starters and rest them when necessary.

But the backfield is a different story, with only two lettermen and two veterans returning to fill five positions. Coach Ferris will find it necessary to experiment with newcomers to fill the vacancies.

IHAC bombard grid opener

An estimated 2,100 fans watched the Wilkes Colonels go down to a 27 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Ithaca Bombers. The Colonels fought hard and watched with dismay as Bob Ryan, Ithaca back, throw a pass from the Wilkes 40-yard line to score a stiletto pointer on the first play.

The gridders then settled down to a steady hard-pressing defense for the rest of the first half and stalled any threat the Bombers could produce. The pressing line and pass defense set up by the backfield nipped any touchdown threats in the bud.

After a series of injuries which saw veteran Fred King carried from the field with a fractured leg and veteran lineman Frank Spudis down with a sprain in his ankle, the coach put the ball over the goal for a score in the third period.

In the last period Ithaca tallied two more pointers via the ground route to add to their lead.

The Colonels tried seven passes and completed two as the Bombers completed only two out of their six attempts. End of the game statistical figures are: Ithaca, 5; Wilkes 0.

McCracken's Squad Boasts Heavy Line; Injuries Hurt Wilkes

by Richard J. Myers

Tomorrow afternoon the Colonels will make their second start of the season, seeking a win over the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley. The Annville, Pa., college will play host to the local eleven in the first game of the season for the Dutchmen.

Coach Ellis McCracken attended the Wilkes-Ithaca game last week, and despite the lopsided score of that contest, expressed some concern over the strength of their own squadline.

Under McCracken last year, the Dutchmen took three of six games, including a 21-0 win over Wilkes. This season, his fifth at the helm of the team, he has had a big response to practice sessions, with forty-four candidates.

Included among those several who have three seasons of varsity ball under his belt is a handful of other veteran lettermen.

His line is blessed with plenty of weight, bolstered by 210-pounder Neil Abrahams, who is one of McCracken’s top winners. Others are: Tom Kunkle at 220 pounds, and Keith Loucks, who tips the scales at an even 200.

The backfield comes in for its share of experienced men, led by the sensational Bill Delibery, who ran last year’s team from quarterback and kicked havoc on the Colonels with his sharp passing and nifty field generalship.

Backfield Delibery at quarterback is Frank Giovanni, Halfbacks Les Habets, Vern Magnuson, and Irv Legay are all hard runners as is Ed Slenczyk on fullback.

Wilkes will have to do without the services of two strong men possibly this year. Hurt in pre season Training are Steve Knecht and probably be out for the rest of the season.

Because of the injuries he received in the Ithaca game, Bob King, center, has joined other veterans from the Wilkes-Bane Club to seek revenge for his injury in the first game.

TheColonels will have to be in top shape to operate effectively next week against the Holy shaken up, Ithaca squad, and if desire for improvement and wish for revenge will help offset their smaller squad, the Wilkesmen might just spring a surprise on the Dutchmen tomorrow.

TUESDAY'S ASSEMBLY TO FEATURE HARPIST

by Richard J. Myers

Special feature at next Tuesday's assembly program will be the appearance of Miss Dophe Hellman, harpist. Miss Hellman's concert tours have placed her before a wide variety of audiences and she has become expert in mixing classical and popular music. Her college appearances have always been well-received and she has had equal success in formal concerts in such places as the Ruben Blew, New York, the Trotton, Washington, D.C., and the Bouf sur le Toit, Paris.

A special feature of many of her programs has been interpretations of Liadov's Music Box as Bach would play it, as Chopin would play it, and as Benny Goodman would play it. No final advance program has been sent here, but her program will probably contain classical works by Bachmanoff, Scarlatti, Tchaikowsky, Liszt, and Le- cuen, in addition to folk and popular songs.

Miss Hellman's appearance is made through the Assembly committee under the leadership of Gilbert Gregory. The committee has posted a complete schedule of assembly programs with an explanatory sheet listing the guest artists and their particular acts.

This year, the committee hopes to provide the students with the most interesting, enlightening, and educational program possible. Meetings of the committee will be announced on the bulletin board and suggestions, complaints or comments by students would be welcomed at the public sessions.

May, Kostenbauder Join Wilkes Faculty

by Steve Conney

Two of the many recent additions to our expanding faculty are Dr. Adnah Kostenbauder and Mrs. Betty May.

Dr. Kostenbauder, who resides on Melrose Avenue in Wilkes-Barre, is now associate professor in the mathematics department. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Rochester, and both his Master's and Doctorate in Mathematics at Syracuse University. It might be pointed out that there are few persons holding a Doctor's degree in Mathematics, so Wilkes is fortunate to have Dr. Kostenbauder on its faculty.

This is his first experience at a small college, and he mentioned that he found Wilkes much friendlier than the large universities where he taught. Dr. Kostenbauder taught at Syracuse University and Connecticut University before coming to Wilkes.

Mrs. Betty May is the wife of E. Russell May, who is also a member of the faculty. Mrs. May is a graduate of Purdue University, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from that institution. Besides her career at Wilkes, she is also a homemaker. She and her husband reside on Old River Road with their two sons, age eight and twelve. This is Mrs. May's first full year teaching, and she reported that she is enjoying it very much.

(Ed. Note: This is the second in a series of articles introducing the new faculty members to the students.)

C.C.U.N. Lists Events to Win New Members

by Mary Lou Bender

The Wilkes College Chapter of the College of the United Nations is a very active and worthwhile campus organization. This club maintains a close relationship with the U.N. and other college chapters throughout the United States.

The club, within itself, discusses the constantly changing world situation. As educated participants and possible leaders in the government of the United States and its importance as a world power, the C.C.U.N. offers you the opportunity to acquaint yourself with the policies of the United Nations.

Each year the Mid-Atlantic States colleges hold a Model General Assembly at one of the member schools. Each college sends eight students, representing one nation of the United Nations to the M.G.A. In this three-day convention, the C.C.U.N. members conduct a small scale assembly, which is extremely interesting and of great educational value.

One event which added to the prestige of Wilkes College was the 1958 M.G.A., which was sponsored by our chapter and held on our campus.
