MIKE DYDO IS ATHLETE OF YEAR IN BEACON'S ANNUAL BALLOTING

by MORGAN DAVIS, Sports Editor

MIKE DYDO, senior, was round intercollege athlete was selected from a field of seventeen contestants to be 1958-59 Athlete of the Year.

For the four years that Mike has been active in school athletics he has been held in high regard by both the Coaches and BEACON staff, but his real value to both the baseball and football teams didn’t appear in a lot of weight, he did fill it with the今年的חשבונאות, and determinations. He was selected a little earlier in the year to receive the Howard W. Ball Award for excellence in athletics. His strong outfielder’s arm was utilized to the maximum this year when he took on the regular role of pitcher for the Blue and Gold diamond men. He has a winning season going so far and is still more impressive at the plate when he gets his usual collection of double and triples.

Balloting for the honor took place earlier this week, with the Miss Homan has chosen, scenes Sports Publicity, coaches and the Sports staff of the Beacon turning in their votes.

Economics Club Plans Sunday ‘Spring Outing’, Lists Many Activities

by Carmella Insalaco

The Economics Club will hold its annual spring outing this Sunday at Rummage Grove. This outing will be held at a cost of approximately $1.50 to all members invited at a small charge.

Chaperons will be Mr. Ferrar and Mr. Elliot. Many activities are being planned by the outing committee, such as an egg-throwing contest. Food will consist of minute steaks, hamburgers and soft drinks, and will be available throughout the day.

Sports will include softball, football, bowling, quizzes, and card playing. Music will be provided for dancing.

Morgan Thomas is chairman of the outing. Assisting him are Mr. Thomas, Mr. Paul Jankoski, Cornelia Insalaco, Bob Jones, Dave Rankovsky, Peter Buck, Louis Bier- s, and Carol Thomas.

Every one will have his own transportation; however, any club member willing to offer a ride is asked to contact Peter Buck. Those desiring a ride will meet at Pickering Hall at 11:30 Sunday morning.

The club holds two outings every year, one in the fall and one in the spring. The last outing was also held at Rummage's Grove.

CROWNING OF CINDERELLA TO CLIMAX FORMAL DANCE

Letterman Shoe Shines In Fund-Raising Effort by Steve Cooney

The annual Letterman’s Shor- shine Days are here again! The Lettermen will each take their turn shining and polishing shoes until five o’clock today on Chase lawn for only twenty-five cents.

The Shoeshine Days are held each year by the club to help raise money for their annual scholarship to an incoming freshman. Girard Se- nior, 135th, wrestler, was recipient of the award for this present year. The rest of the money for the half- tuition scholarship comes from pro- ceeds from the Christmas and April Showers formal and other fund- raising campaigns.

Fred Williams is in charge of this year’s shoeshine campaign. All students and students are urged to visit the shoeshine stand before closing time today.

MERGER POLL RESULTS TO BE POSTED IN LIBRARY

Opinion polls on the consolidation proposal were taken at the stu- dent body this week by the Wilkes Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Wilkes College Institute of Local Government.

The purpose of the survey was to determine the exact wishes of the student body on consolidation.
LITERARY MAGAZINE APPEARS NEXT WEEK

A somewhat sterner and exten- sively bristled edition of the Beacon appears on the Wilkes campus next week. This is the result of the art magazine of the college has been constructed to contain diversified and quality which should prove interesting to the reader.

The sixty-eight page edition will be prefaced with an editorial and a letter from President of Wilkes, upon completion of its suc- cession. The contents are Included in the contents is a section of art and music expression, contributed by

Michael Cruikshank, Jim Connell, and Pat Hynes. A cartoon

-induced for the words of Thomas Wolfe. The illustration of

"Blas Speak to Me in the Night," has been mitted by Audrey Bartlett, senior student and professional il-list and organist.

A selected group of short stories, seven, which were submitted by students of Dr. Philip Rizzo, occu-

Barbara Poris has contributed a novel, "The Game of the Great Game," which reveals its meaning through sharp dialogue around a character.

Helen Klint's "Blind Date" is a tale of two young people and a great amount of insight into the character of two young at the present time.

Other stories are: "A Success through the Story" and "The Eberd" and "Soldier" by Jim Cores.

A theological essay, "The Old Testament," has been written by Scott Bowers, and contributed by Gordon Roberts, and poetry of varied nature by Pat Perriello, Kay Bland, and Steven Stevens, and Harvey Stammer is also included in the remaining materials in the publication.

It is significant to note that this issue is a continuation of last year's Beacon and now a larger publication than those in the past, and also organized a masthead committee, and staff, and enlarged its exchange program with many colleges and universi-

CINDERELLA BALL TONIGHT (continued from page 1) L. Riding Hood, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Alice in Wonderland, and Hansel and Gretel will be presented to the public, all stories, by students. The show was executed by Howard Allen, who will add color and dimension to the story presentations.

Another unusual feature of the dance will be the seating arrangements. Instead of conventional groupings, ten tables will be arranged in semi-circles around each fairy tale scene, so that each table may include a fairy tale character for each table sym-

ton. Owners of sunburst yellow, coral, lemon yellow, and melon pink will provide a cheesy ceiler for "The Play of Catlin Hall.

EDITORIAL

Observations of An Editor

With the announcement of the Beacon Athlete of the Year and the big story of Cinderella dominating the front page, we suddenly realize that there is only one more week of classes left for the ‘58-59 school year; consequently there is only one more week of meetings in the Beacon. We have recently used a new beacon in the form of an editor in chief. This beacon has an editorial devoted to the thank you’s and congratulations befitting the occasion of off with the old, and on with the new Edition. In the beacon, we hope to give the readers some of the feelings and experiences we have garnered through editing twenty-nine issues of the Beacon — more than any other Beacon ever had.

Unknow to most students, we were plunked down into the Editor’s chair back on May 2, 1958 when we took over unofficially. We were given this responsibility by those students who over the years had filled in day after day behind their convictions or to support their ideas. We do not make this statement as an authority on the subject, but as students who have been involved in the actions of students in connection with not only the Beacon, but also with other campus activities.

Our editorial policy this year has been definitely liberal, or even a trifle on the leftist side, if you wish, but we had a purpose in mind when we started to "see off" on a few things. We perhaps, will not have proved something that could have gone by, but we did so because we wanted to make people think. We wanted to get students so annoyed that they would sit down and think for themselves, where they would realize that some things were not as they should be on campus.

Letters, We Don’t Get Letters

We made it a point to be around the Commons when the Beacon came out, and really it was just a part of our social activities. Either one of two things happened; the people we criticized ran for cover or they came at us like madmen threatening to kill us. We have few letters answering our editorials did we get? TWO. What happened to the rest? We are inclined to think that the people who were so threatened to the extent of being overcome by us, overemphasized some things, were afraid to defend themselves, they were afraid to refute us, afraid to express their side publicly, afraid to hang behind their convictions.

Through the twenty-seven issues this year, we have re-tved ten Letters to the Editor altogether this figure excludes our original comments associated with the Beacon or addressed to the Editor. As we mentioned above, only two of these letters criticized us for picking out the bad spots on campus. This is not a criticism of the Beacon, but the fact remains that Wilkes students, as compared to other college students, will not stand up for what they think is right. It stands to reason that students do things because they think they are correct in their actions, but when we proceeded to criticize those actions, the students responsible just crawl away to sulk instead of wanting to know how they feel.

Dr. Farley Wouldn’t Like It?

Just as Wilkes students refuse to defend themselves, they also give up without even trying. Again, this is just our opinion based on what we have seen during our tour of duty. Many times we have seen groups of students sitting in the buildings where someone comes up with a brilliant idea — something that would raise school spirit and dispel some of the gloom that sometimes surrounds the campus. The idea grows, with others catching the enthusiasm until the whole thing seems wonderful. Then some dispirited, disillusioned and work-loading students begin to criticize the idea, particularly reminds us that Dr. Farley wouldn’t like it and there goes another idea out the window even without a decent burial. We frankly think that Dr. Farley would be amazed at the results to which our students would go if we did not report to dislike things he never even heard of and we don’t think that this is his fault. We think that the kill-joys on campus are only one of the problems that face Wilkes, and are afraid to try something new. Many times we have been a member of a group that was sure that the admiration for the idea was the result of an over-emphasized thing, they have never heard of a sensible idea that when, the administration had stopped.

Editorial advocates the plan that everyone having an idea go rushing up to Chase Hall with a chip on his shoulder and demand that he be given his way. We merely suggest, merrily perhaps, that next year students ask before they give up an idea. You may be surprised to find that the Administration is composed of rather broad-minded and sensible people who are interested in the best for Wilkes, just like the students should be.

Dr. Farley's H-O-M-E

"I can’t bear a fool," said the barrister to the witness.

"Yes, sir, mother could," said the witness.

Danny: "Mother, may I have a nickel for the old man who is crying?"

"Yes, dear, but what is the old man crying about?"

"He got some salty peanuts, five cents a bag." said Danny.

Instructed: "Shay, pardon me, officer, but where am I?"

"You are at the corner of Broadway and Forty-Second St." said the officer.

"My sister is a very lucky girl," said the woman, "She goes to a party last night where they played a game in which the men had to either kiss a girl or eat a nickel, and she ate a nickel of a box of cho-cholate. Is that, how was your sister lucky?"

"She came home with a nickel of a box of chocolate."

WILKES COLLEGE BEACON
SALUS IS NAMED “OUTSTANDING” AT JAYCEES’ AWARDS BANQUET
by Robert Staunton
The first annual Awards Dinner of the Wilkes chapter of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Junior Chamber of Commerce was held last week at the Plains American Legion Home. The affair was in honor of those members who had shown prominent skills in the previous year in performing their chapter duties.

Wilkes will actively participate in the annual Wilkes-Barre Fine Arts Festa, which will begin next week. On Wednesday, a three-act comedy, entitled "The Recreants" will be presented. Members of its cast include Philip Lawler, James Mizioz, Martin Brennan, Steve Cooney, David Kaith, John Zarzetti, Alan Plantier, and Tony Dokovitch. (The players who will work in the Fine Arts Festa include members of the Wilkes Summer Theatre Group.

The Recreants will be presented in St. Stephen’s auditorium. The general public is invited to attend the program, and college students are especially urged to take in the presentations.

Members of the Wilkes Club will also perform in other productions of this year’s Fiesta. On Saturday the original opus, “Prince of the Green Winds,” will be presented. Bill Peters is the director of this production to be enacted next week. Other plays by Wilkes players will include a recitation of a paper by Jeannie Babie. The paper, entitled “All About Me,” is a collection of original poems by Mr. Alfred Groh, and will be recited on Public Square, Wilkes-Barre.

The Wilkes-Barre Fine Arts Festa was started two years ago, and is now considered to be an annual affair. Miss Annette Evans, Assistant Director of Student Services, was most pleased with the performances of the Jaycees last year, and as a result, has asked the club to repeat their sterling portrayals.
Selody, Williams Lead Recruits to Victories; Gavenus Notches No. 6

Ray's Recruits, National League intramural softball champions, won the College championship on Tuesday with a 14-9 win over the Blivets. Monday's game was the second of the three-game playoff and gave Ray's a 2-0 lead in the series. The Blivets were without their three shortstop Ken Selody, who was the big gun in the series for the Recruits, and who was hit by a fly ball. Ken Selody was hit by a fly ball.

In Tuesday's contest, the Recruits had 11 hits as leadoff hitter and scored four runs in the first inning after Selody, with 116 points, led off with a double. The Blivets were unable to score and were down 4-0 at the end of the first inning.

On Wednesday, the Recruits took over after Selody's hit and scored two runs in the eighth inning. The Blivets won 14-9, but the Recruits scored 10 runs in the first inning, and Selody, with 116 points, led off with a double. The Blivets were unable to score and were down 4-0 at the end of the first inning.

The Recruits were led by Bob Januszko with 116 points and Sam Petre, with 116 points, in the first set, while the Blivets were led by Bill Michaels, with 116 points, and Ron Rehak, with 116 points. The Recruits scored 10 runs in the first inning, and the Blivets were down 4-0 at the end of the first inning.

Tennis Team
Home Tomorrow, Drops 6-3 Match
by David Kline
Tomorrow the Wilkes College tennis team will meet the Juniata Indians in their first home meet. A youthful Wilkes team will attempt to overpower the experienced squad of Juniata courtmen at 2 p.m. in Kirby Park. The Colonials are confident of a win because of valuable experience gained through six games played on foreign courts this year.

Last Thursday the Colonials played the over-rated Susquehanna Crusaders, but lost, 6-3. Led by Dirk Dunlap and Paul Bleifer, the team showed their potential power but dropped the match, 6-3. In the singles Jim Swaback showed his best form of the season but dropped the set, 7-5. Ira Himmel then lost a close set, 6-4, 10-8.

Paul Bleifer turned the tables on the Crusaders when he defeated his man by the score of 6-4, 7-5. Dunlap followed with another win, 6-0, 6-4, 7-5. Bill Wall then lost a tight set, 4-6, 6-4, 9-7. Jack Thomas was outscored, 8-4, 8-4.

In the doubles, the combination of Dunlap and Bleifer proved decisive over their opponents, 6-4, 9-7. The combinations of Himmel-Swaback and Thomas-Haimer then ended in closely contested matches.

On Tuesday the team was overshadowed by the Ursinus Bears, 7-0. The doubles match of Himmel and Bleifer was lost when on the winning combination was 6-3. The team got off to a poor start when Jim Swaback lost, 6-0, 6-0, to the Grizzlies' number-one man.

NOTICE
All members of the intramural co-ed bowling league are invited to attend the post-season party on Wednesday, May 29. Bowlers who have won trophies will receive them at this time. Special season attendance awards will also be made. Cost of the affair will be $1.00 per person. Bowlers may bring guests. Site of the party was not definitely decided at press time.

BASEBALL Nine Meet Dutchmen Tomorrow
by Ray Yoncheus
Tomorrow the Colonials will meet the Lebanon Valley Dutchmen at Amersville, Pa. The Dutchmen are coached by Frank Eichberger and feature their attractive returning lettermen Art Ford and Doug Ross, pitchers; Karl Wesley and William Glaser, outfielders; and Darryl Myers, second baseman.

Bill DeLiberty, the team captain, who harangued Wilkes on the football field and the basketball court, will be missing from the Dutchmen's lineup. DeLiberty is not playing this season on doctor's advice.

Wilkes defeated Lebanon Valley last year, 4-2.

Today the diamondmen open their final home stand against Albright College and close out the home season with Ursinus the following day. Albright boasts a 5-1 record as of last week, with victories over Gettysburg and Ursinus. Firehailer Fred Dietzel is responsible for a majority of the Lions' wins and has struck out 15 batters in each of the last three games.

The Lions park plenty of wallop in their lineup with all stickers capable of hitting a long ball. Last campaign the Colonials trimmed the Lions by a score of 6-2.

Today the team completes the home season against the Ursinus Bears at Atrillery Park. Game time is 4 p.m. The Colonials will be out to make it two in a row over the Bears, having won, 9-2, last season.

Rider Nips Colonels
Last Saturday Wilkes came close to stunning Rider outfit but finally succumbed to the Broncs, 6-5. Rider jumped off to a three-run lead in the second inning on a walk, two singles and a double. The Bears' answer came by a second baseman Bob Haist. Wilkes came back with two runs in the third when Ron Goobic singled and scored on John Harvey's ground-out.

Rider scored two more runs in the fourth and the Colonials matched them in their half of the inning. Ralph Hendershot led off with a single and Bobby Ontko reached first on a throwing error. Bobby Ontko was base on an error, both men advanced on a throwing error and Jerry Lawrence slashed a single to bring home both runners.

In the fifth, Harvey hit a 430-foot double, advanced to third on an infield hit by Ontko, and scored on a hit by Sam Zarrick.

Wilkes threatened in the seventh, loading the bases with two out, but a runner was out at home attempting to score on a wild pitch. Goobic, Hendershot, Ontko, and Lawrence had two hits apiece for the Colonials.

Monday the team went down to defeat at the hands of a powerful Rider outfit in an abbreviated contest, 10-2. The game was called after six innings because of rain. The Bombers unloaded 13 hits to put the game out of the Colonials' reach. Jerry Lawrence once again carried the team through with two base hits. He has accomplished this feat in the last five games, as did Paul Bleifer. One of Aquilina's hits was a double to drive in a run.

Jerry Harvey and Sam Zarrick collected the only other Wilkes hits.
