FRESH GET CHANCE TO PRODUCE AS THEY PRESENT ENTERTAINMENT, DANCING IN BEHALF OF CHARITY

by Richard J. Myers

Tonight the Class of 1963 has its first big chance to show what it can do on an organized unit when it presents the campus kickoff for the United Fund charity drive. Music, singing, and dancing will be the order of the evening in the first project of the new class.

SPUDIS NAMED TO "ALL EAST"

by John Thomas

With the election of Franklin Spudis to the student co-chairman of the Wilkes College Student Senate, the big shot has been cast in the leadership of the student body. The junior accounting major has been elected by the students to serve as the student co-chairman for the leadership term, which expires at the end of the current academic year.

Frank Spudis

will be presented to Mr. Russell Putten before the close of the drive. Since the United Fund Drive is an annual affair whose purpose is to eliminate countless small campaigns, it is hoped that everyone will be as generous as possible. Unfortunately, last year Wilkes fell short of its $3500 quota by almost $600. Let's not see a repeat performance this year! How about a little drive behind the drive? One vote—a year—you'll never miss it!

BONFIRE PLANS SET, HANOVER H.S. SITE

The first bonfire of the year will be held next Friday night at Hanover High School's field. The car caravan going to the blaze will converge in front of Chase Hall heading south.

All drivers are urged to be in front of Chase by 7:30 so that a line stretching from Chase to the Sterling Hotel can be formed in orderly style.

Maps showing the route of the cavalcade will be posted on the bulletin boards on campus.

College Quota Set at $3,400, Student and Faculty Gifts Will Aid Community Effort

by Marilyn Krakencelis

The Wyoming Valley United Fund Drive, which received its official kickoff Tuesday night at Kingston Stadium, is now in full swing here at Wilkes. Chase again, the co-chairman of the Wilkes Drive is Dr. Charles Reif, with Gordon Roberts as his student co-chairman.

This year the college quota is $3,400 of which $200 to $300 is expected to be contributed by the student body and the remainder by the faculty and employees of Wilkes. In order to solicit contributions, the students have been divided into groups and will have special committees to contact each student personally.

Everyone is urged to give a minimum of one dollar. Clubs and organizations on campus will make collective contributions which will be added to the quotas.

SUCCEEDED IN RECORD-BREAKING VOTE, Constitution Is Passed

by Sue Snoop

The senior class broke all recent records Wednesday when they trooped to the polls to elect the officers of the class. The election was held under the supervision of Junice Reynolds, president, vice-president, and secretary, respectively. One hundred and forty-eight seniors voted for an estimated 87 per cent—the highest percentage among the four classes.

The voting for treasurer in the senior class was in a tie between Bob Payne and Dick Bailey. Thus necessitating a run-off election which will be held on Thursday, October 31, in the Chase Theater from 9:50 until 1:00.

The junior class was represented by 145 voters who re-elected John Mullal as president; Carl Havria, vice-president; Frank Steeck, treasurer; Money Hall, secretary.

The seniors, 162 strong, elected Bill Davis president; Richard Kilmen, vice-president; Dot Ford, treasurer; Ariett Gallo, secretary.

Suffice it to say that seventy-four per cent of the freshman class cast their first college ballots in electing Victor Tuoskki their first president. Ralph Finley was chosen vice-president by a landslide, while Andy Lowen and Estelle Manos were elected treasurer and secretary respectively.

The amended constitution was accepted by an 87 per cent majority of the voters. An estimated 10 per cent voted against the document.

LAWRENCE STRESSES SUPPORT OF STATE'S HIGHER EDUCATION

Pittsburgh's Mayor David L. Lawrence, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, addressed the student body of Wilkes College at noon, Tuesday, October 7, on the law of Chase Hall.

Lawrence's visit to Wilkes was sponsored by the college Student Council. Members of the council met with Mayor Lawrence and members of his party in Dr. Farley's office. Among those present were: Mrs. Robert Lowy, Mrs. Samuel Rosenberg, Dr. Barthe, Dr. John Davis, County Chairman, Senator Martin Murray, Mr. A. B. Hunter, and Miss Genevieve Blatt.

Mayor Lawrence called for "an awakening of all Americans to the crises we face in higher education." He praised George M. Leader for his program for higher education, which failed to be enacted in the last session of the General Assembly.

Once again, Governor Leader demonstrated his alert awareness of the challenges of our times when he conceived his program for improving educational opportunities for Pennsylvania's young people," Lawrence asserted. "It is important that we make sure that his program and the many others which have been proposed for this purpose will be enacted into laws and not just_balls to the wall."

Laytongis??

Well, what happened? All of a sudden everyone was speechless, or should we say songless. The response to the usual, expected, routine hymn singing in assembly was worse than we could have anticipated. We expect all sorts of excuses ranging from "I didn't hear the number announced" to "I didn't have a book." Gosh, we feel sorry for you, poor little children, so helpless and defenseless by everything, even common reason. It must have been extremely difficult for those who had to say the closing line.

All we have to say at this point is "thank Allah" that the assembly program did not include some dignity from the community. What a sorry sight that would have been.

While we are on the subject of assembly, we can't help but think of the selections that were given in such earnest voices last Tuesday. What promises were made? We wish we had a tape recording of the entire program to play back next April or May. We are not being facetious, but how many times have we heard the same things promised each year?

For three years we have sat, squirming, in the gym listening to the same old story about including the Vets in class activities, getting together with the dorm students, etc., etc. That MAY be the year for such promises to be fulfilled, we sincerely hope so.

It was refreshing, however, to hear someone, other than a dozen columnists and writers, declare that the resident students were more active in school affairs than day students.

Tell Us More

The United Fund Campaign gets its official start on campus tomorrow. The United Fund and the gym. All proceeds from this dance will go into the fund.

The rest of the money expected from the college will, we hope, come from each and every student. All of us will be asked to contribute to this fund. This isn't much to expect from the students as we see it.

Let's back this drive, we have a lackluster reputation around the community in connection with this annual affair because of last year's miserable showing. Let's get back on the right side of the ledger!

Lawrence said, "More than half of the State's general fund budget goes into education in this Commonwealth. There can be no doubt that we must provide more funds, at every level of government if we are to have the school buildings, the curricula, the teaching resources, and the teachers we need to properly educate the young people of Pennsylvania."

"Although the Congress recently extended the Federal financial aid to education, that alone will not remain the Federal Government's responsibility nor the Federal Government's leadership in this area."

"We have to have an education system that is no longer tied to the political ideologies. We must have an educational system that is able to compete with other states and that will prepare the students of Pennsylvania to become the leaders of tomorrow."

"The United Fund is a step in the right direction towards achieving this goal. It is a step towards providing the financial support necessary to maintain a high-quality education system in Pennsylvania."

Tug-O-War May End the Freshman Persecution; Class Planned UF Dance

by Larry Sautta

Today may be the last day of the UF dance. The freshman class won the tug-o-war planned to take place at halftime at the Wilkes-P.C. homecoming on Saturday, Nov. 3. If the upperclassmen win the tug-o-war, the parade will go on for two more weeks.

Many of the meetings which freshmen have participated in during the past two weeks are included in the Homecoming program. On Monday, September 29, freshman nominations for class offices and student government were held. On Tuesday, September 30, the nominating committee of the Freshman Class was appointed, which will be responsible for organizing the dance. This committee will meet in the beginning of their meeting to prepare for their duties. They will be responsible for organizing the dance for the upperclassmen.

During the past week, the upperclassmen have held two large receptions. The freshmen have been invited to these events and have enjoyed themselves. The next meeting of the freshmen will be held next week.

A final tribunal is scheduled for Friday, October 10, at 12:00 in the gym. If the freshmen lose the tug-o-war, future tribunal dates will be announced.

School spirit is so exclusive that they have bars on the windows to keep people out.

LOU DAVIS RUNS ROUGHSHOD TO GAIN 'ATHLETE' AWARD

Soccer Star Shines In Tilt Against Jays, Thwarts Many Threats

The soccer-fest with Elizabeth-town last Saturday was the place to see Athlete of the Week, Lou Davis in action. The Colonels, although edged out in a real squeaker, lived up to pre-season estimates of having a real powerhouse when they unleashed the pent-up furies exhibited by fullback Lou Davis.

Although the Wilkes booters did not rise to their full potentialities in the first half, they were kept in the game by the determination of this sturdy player who attempted almost single-handedly to stem the concerted attacks of the Blue Jays. Lou's tremendous efforts were limited to the first half, where it was estimated that he halted at least eleven key goal tries by the opposition; he also formed the apex of the Wilkes wedge that smashed back in the second half.

Wilkes' own 'Lou the Toe' spearheaded the drives that culminated in goals by teamates Giordano and Havira. The legs of Carl Havira, All-Conference Honorable Mention last year, hurt the Colonels' chances in the second half, but 'the Toe' assumed Carl's responsibilities also with seemingly no extra effort.

Lou spent 17 months in France with the U.S. Army after graduating from Williams Penn Charter School. He played on the truck team in high school and played football and basketball in the service.

He is a junior Commerce Finance student and an active member of the Lettermen's Club and a native of New Hope, Pennsylvania.

BONFIRE continued from page 4 hour until 8:45. The caravan will then return to campus where all will attend the band festival in the gym.

Honored guests in the parade will be the Homecoming Queen and the two princesses who will reign over the festivities. Also at the fire will be the coaches and captains of all athletic teams on campus, if ill goes well.

Miss Mary Louise Spinelli is general chairman of the affair. Miss Spinelli has been working for some time planning the fire and the program. Assisting her are: Mike Bianco, physical arrangements; Betty Houchens, publicity; Gene stickler, cars; Dave Schoenfeld and George Watson, constructive material; and Charles Grymko, police escort and lighting.

SECOND QUARTER ACTION — Soccer team's 3 to 2 loss to Elizabethtown. Lou Davis stops a determined attack by heading an intended pass to Lenny Manning, hidden behind Davis. Others in the picture are: Fritz Zimmerman, outside left, and Bob Hoar, also hidden by Davis, center forward for the visitors, and the Colonels' Lou Zweisbl in the right.

BOOTERS LOSE ON WEDNESDAY, 2-0

BY JIM HENIGIAN

Wilkes booters were defeated 2-0 at the hands of Stevens Tech last Wednesday. The booters outclassed their opponents with some superb play by Nickie Giordano and Joe Morgan, but ran into a series of bad luck plays in the second half when Tech did all of its scoring.

The kickers had at least 7 good opportunities to score but seemed to run into last-second bad breaks. The injury last week to outside right Carl Havira seemed to be another determining factor in the upset.

Last Saturday in a Middle Atlantic Conference tilt, the Wilkes soccer team dropped their hopes of an experienced Elizabethtown team by a 3-2 score.

The visitors scored early and hung on in the final quarter by a determined defensive effort to gain the victory. The Colonels rallied in the second half, after looking very sluggish in the opening half, but lacked the drive necessary to put in the winning goal in the closing minutes of the fourth stanza.

The Elizabethtown squad scored their first goal on a corner kick play with the ball being booted home by Fritz Zimmerman, a wingman for the visitors. Inside right Joe Tedjia led the second effort on the Colonels' goal, banged home the second score late in the first period.

Reserve lineman Jim Wise scored the third goal in the second period on a superb pass play from Carl Havira, who led the Colonels off the field.

The Colonels surged back in the second half when with only a minute and a half gone, Carl Havira bunched the first Wilkes score. Nick Giordano scored the second goal only a minute later, on a penalty kick.

The score of backs Lou Davis and Joe Morgan and Goalie Bob Payne were the bright spots in a game that was quite competitive. The Wilkes lineup never got a chance to go to work, for the Elizabethtown team led the Colonels bottled up all afternoon.

Newcomers Don Pierce and Bob Chad showed good defensive ability, and Linsman Lou Zweisbl showed plenty of drive and spirit.

by Richard J. Myers

Returning home to seek again their first win of the year, the Colonels play host to Pennsylvania Military College tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in Kingston Stadium. The Pinkowski men have gone winless in three attempts, but hope that movie fans will come to watch their team add to the knotty problems that keep them rewinding their potential.

By Don Hancock

After suffering a 3-2 defeat at the hands of a strong Elizabethtown team, the soccer team took tomorrow's journey to Staten Island, New York, to play Wagner. Tomorrow's game will be the first meeting of the two teams and is a second game of a three-game road stand for the Colonels booters.

Coach Jim Ferris has been working hard to eliminate the team's weaknesses which were brought out in the opening game Saturday. Inexperience, which plagued the backfield throughout the game, was the principle fault. It can be eliminated only through continued practice and hard work and as anyone can attest, experience is a bitter but nevertheless excellent teacher.

Carl Havira, outside right and scorer of Wilkes' only goal, reinjured his right ankle and was limited in action in Sunday's game but expects to be in condition for tomorrow's game.

With continued excellent play on the line and constant improvement of the backfield through experience and coaching, the team will be a hard one to beat tomorrow at Staten Island.

If you are unfamiliar with the Colonels team, you may want to see the Colonels' team on Saturday afternoon of the week to watch the men drive up and down the 120-yard gridiron. They work hard and, like all other campus activities, need your support and avid interest.

"What did you have for lunch?"
"Fifty hamburgers."
"You mean you eat 50 hamburgers all by yourself?"
"Yeah, and that guy helps me."
"Doesn't that make you sick?"
"It helps."
"Put down that Jukebox, Mother, you're too old to carry a tune."

by Bill Michaels

Spudis electrified the crowd at Belsheim when he shrewdly analyzed a lateral handoff playing play, cut between the two Blue and Gray backs, pilfering the pigskin, and trotted madly to a 75-yard score.

Fumurer again tallied the touchdown of the Colonels' ground game, running in a series of vipers, but Michaelis blocked a punt to set up the Colonels' second touchdown on a 27-yard field goal.

The Colonels, bolstered by the return of two inter alia last week, had a hard time getting the offense going at the beginning, and after the Colonels scored, they were held scoreless for the rest of the game. The Colonels scored first in 13 straight power plays then quarterback Ed Critch hit end John Opson with a 75-yard TD pass. In 20 while losing 12, they pushed over the Belsheim line.
THREE STUDENTS’ PAINTINGS ARE DISPLAYED AT SCRANTON

Three Wilkes students, Marianne Levensonkie, Marie Realmuto, and Steve Poleskie, were recently informed that their paintings have been accepted for participation in the Regional Art Exhibition. This announcement was announced on October 9 from 9 to November 9. The judges for the show included Richard J. Dyer, Director of the Minneapolis Art Institute; Bertha A. Quay, Director of the New York City; and the artist David Bishop, of New Jersey, who during the period of 1910 to 1914 was closely associated with the group called "the N.Y. Abstract." Mary Realmuto, a dorm student and art major, has entered threeboards of oil paintings in the exhibit entitled "Composition No. III", "Composition No. IV", and "Out of the Mist." Mary became interested in abstract art while in high school and has continued this interest through college.
