Chinese Actress To Speak Tuesday

Chinese Theoretical Problems Here for Next Assembly Program
by Lynne Dente

One of the most prominent women of today is the guest speaker at the last assembly program of the semester, Tuesday at 11.

Li Ling Ai, lecturer, writer, and actress will speak to the students on a topic which should be of interest to them.

Li Ling Ai, a lover of theatre to lovers, a companion of Chinese and Western Theatre. The title of her lecture is "Behind the Embroidered Fan." Li Ling Ai, who was born in Hankow, distinguished Chinese actress, graduated from the University of Harvard. Following her graduation she went to China, where she did research work on the Chinese Theater and directed plays for the Fine Arts Institute. She has since traveled all over the world.

Vujica's "Beat" Talk At Last Assembly Meets Student Approval

Dr. Stanko Vujics, chairman of the college philosophy-religion department, was enthusiastically received as guest speaker at Tuesday's assembly.

In his address, "The Beat Generation and the Careful Young Man," Dr. Vujics contrasted the seriousness of Russian writers such as Dostoevsky and Pasternak with the frivolousness of such western philosophers as the existentialists and members of the "beat generation."

Explain the "beat phenomenon," Dr. Vujics presented colorful quotations from "beat" literature in which the "square," a slave to conventions and convention is decorated.

The "beat" practice voluntary poverty and unconventional living and spend their time writing and reading poetry, painting, meditating and listening to music. They seize the present, living it to the fullest extent in order to gain every ounce of enjoyment.

Dr. Vujics pointed out that the "beat" philosophy contains a grain of truth for those who rebel against the commercialized civilization of the machine and atomic age in which man becomes a slave to gadgets.

Concluding, Dr. Vujics said, "in dramatizing certain evil tendencies of our time, the "beat" generation may be doing the square a service by shaking him out of his complacency. The importance of this is that these rebels have nothing more to offer but an insight into the problems of the Atomic Age."

Sponsored by Ed Club "Town, Country Dance"

The Education Club's annual farmer and modern dance will be held next Friday evening in the gym from nine to twelve.

The theme for this year's affair is "Town and Country Dance," and the gym will be decorated in accordance with this theme.

Music will be furnished by The Statesmen with the calling handled by Joe McKeown. Admission will be the usual fifty cents.

Program chairman of the club Betty Furr will act as general chairman of the dance. Further information will be found in next week's Beacon.

Dr. Sheldon G. Cohen

Sponsored by Ed Club "Town, Country Dance"

Dr. Sheldon G. Cohen, associate professor of Biological Research, will have a paper presented next week at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Allergy in Miami, Florida. It will be presented during the Scientific Program between January 11 and 13.

The paper is entitled "Serotonin and Histamine Effective Agents and Experimental Vascular Sclerotomy." It is based on studies of Biology by Dr. Cohen and Theresa Sapp of research associates.

Research grants from the Northeastern Pennsylvania Heart Association and the National Heart Institute of the U.S. Public Health Service supported these studies.

Dr. Cohen's investigation was combined with an attempt to evaluate some of the possible pathologic-physiologic mechanisms associated with allergic reactions that may result in involvement of the heart, blood vessels, and kidneys in experimental animals.

Dr. Cohen pointed out that as yet there are no apparent applications of this type of work. However, it is hoped that studies of this type may result in the development of drugs in an attempt to control such allergic cardiovascular reactions.

The American Academy of Allergy, a member of the Academy's Research Council, is also a member of the Committee for the Study of Food Allergy.

Louis Armstrong Signs Jazz Concert Contract For April Show Here

by Gloria Zaludek

The junior class will sponsor a Jazz Concert in the gym on Saturday evening, April 30. The two-hour show will star Louis Armstrong, the "Greatest Voice of All Time."

Featuring in the jazz group will be John Maldonado, Frank Wilt, Joe Walter, Billie Sumney, Hammett, and Joe Horne, drummer, who recently appeared at Carnegie Hall, is now touring the United States.

Dr. Cohen, the president of the Junior Class, said that plans for the concert, this year's class project, had been arranged by a planning committee headed by Barry Tocum. Final contracts were signed by the end of December.

The class will also sponsor "Donkey Basketball," a rematch of the faculty versus the athletes, early in March. Last year, one hundred and seventy-two students attended the basketball match. The profit $800, was donated to the General Hospital Building Fund. Besides these affairs, the class has also sponsored the "Community Singing."
Buddy, Can You Spare A Dime?

The name Dr. Jonas E. Salk is now recognized around the world. Wrestling, Hockey at 7; Basketball at 8:30; Dickinson has become one of medicine's great figures and his name is a good word.

Yet 17 years ago, back in 1942, Jonas E. Salk was just another name on an application blank, another young research scientist, requesting fellowship assistance to study viruses. An award to him was promised.

A little over 10 years later this man announced to the world the first effective means of preventing a disease that had left human wreckage strewn across the face of the globe for centuries.

The $2,100 invested in 1942 in Jonas E. Salk was an investment in the knowledge of some people through the March of Dimes. Since 1938 more than 8,000 other Americans have been aided in training through March of Dimes fellowships and scholarships.

Dr. Salk is not the only famous "alumnus" of the professional education program of the National Foundation. A Nobel Prize winner, Dr. Frederick Robbins, of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, was also a one-time "student" of this program.

In 1939 The National Foundation started two new programs to help the scientists of tomorrow. Through a new fellowship program it will give resident and practicing physicians opportunities for advanced training in rheumatology or in the treatment of patients suffering from the central nervous system, both parts of The National Foundation's new program.

In the health professions there is never any unemployment problem. The reason is that there simply is not enough of these skilled medical workers to fill the need.

According to recent figures, there are now some 460,000 nurses caring for the sick; but at least 50,000 more are needed. There are 5,500 psychiatric professionals, 5,000 medical doctors. There are 5,800 occupational therapists; but 14,000 more are needed. There are 5,000 medical social workers; but 6,500 more could be used. And not enough new ones are being trained. And most of the other health professions are equally understaffed.

To help university students to the unlimited opportunities open to them in the health fields and to aid some of them to get the training necessary, The National Foundation is now supporting a multi-million dollar Health Scholarship Program.

In the summer of 1959 the first 403 of these scholarships were awarded to students throughout the nation. In 1960 The National Foundation Food Health Scholarships.

Each scholarship will pay $500 a year, or a total of $2,000 for four years of college training in five key health fields of medicine, medical social work, physical therapy, nursing and occupational therapy.

For prospective medical social workers, scholarships will be awarded to college upperclassmen who have been accepted for admission to medical school.

Health Scholarships, which are made possible through the New Deal, as well as through the great generosity of individuals and extended through the two years of required graduate work. For prospective physicians, scholarships will be awarded to college upperclassmen who have been accepted for admission to medical school.

The Health Scholarship Program represents a tremendous March of Dimes investment in human resources. It is the first of its kind on this scale. The cost is estimated at $12,000,000 over a 10-year period. But through it, thousands of young Americans will be trained for jobs worth doing and those jobs will be waiting for them wherever they choose to work.

New Year's Day Wedding For Nesthill Faculty Member

by the BEACON Staff

Rick Myers, chief whip-cracker at the Beacon office, has met his match at last through his New Year's Day marriage to the former Lois Tremayne.

According to our reports of the big occasion, the poor young thing considered to enter wedlock with our illustrious Simon Legree a short nine days before old 1959 made his exit. In the hectic week, the couple found a vacancy at 11 N. Hawthorn St., behind Weiss Hall, in the apartments maintained by the College for married students.

The nuptials took place at Christ Lutheran Church, City, the Rev. Raymond A. Reed officiating.

Mrs. Richard J. Myers

reception for close friends and relatives was held at the Adams Room, Hotel Sterling. No invitations were issued for the short-notice affair.

Mrs. Myers was graduated from Wilkes in 1957 with a B.S. in Nursing Education, received her R.N. from the Wyoming Valley Hospital School of Nursing, and is a graduate of Westmoreland High School. She formerly lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tremayne, Chace Road, Trucksville.

Presently she serves as instructor at the Nesthill Hospital School of Nursing.

The Editor will leave Wilkes in June with an A.B. in English. He is a veteran of three years in the Army Security Agency, spent two years in the Philippine Islands as a clerk at Air Force Base. Following the ceremony on the floor, crisp first day of the year, the couple honeymooned in New York; however, both were back in their classrooms bright and early on Monday.

Myers is the brother of the groom and former Beacon editor, was best man; Ruth Ellen Tremayne, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Dr. David L. Hoats, Vineland, N.J., Wilkes '55; S. h e r w o o d Wilson, P.M. '57, and Daniel A. Llewellyn, Wilkes '60, were ushers.

Stanley Yorksworth, Wilkes '58, was soloist, and William D. Peters, Wilkes '60, was organist.

NEXT ASSEMBLY

work in connection with this dramatic research.

Miss AJ, who is the only Chinese woman writer in China, is now writing a book. She has also been appointed by the number of the Board of Hawaii State Federation of Republican Women.

Dishonesty is contagious; it multiplies with alarming speed. A nation needs defense against subversion from within and attack from without. Dishonesty weakens a nation's strength through the personal actions of its citizens. What about America?

It does not take long to realize that absolute honesty is not suffering from overuse today. Realization of corruption in high and low places comes as think that it has been with us all along. We need to find a production line of character, and fast.

According to FBI reports there is an army of 7,200,000 persons engaged in crime in one country. The cost of crime comes down on every man, woman and child in an average of over $200 per year.

Perhaps you congratulate yourself that you have not robbed a bank or committed a murder, or forged a check, but the cutting of moral corners comes for most of us in more subtly concealed forms; the woman who tells the bus conductor her child is half-fare when he is in fact overage and is surprised when the same child starts to lie to her; the man who boasts about smuggling items through customs and is indifferent when his son smuggles out of his cellar the best bottle of Scotch and out of his humidor his choicest cigars; the woman whose tongue cuts across the group and robs other women of their reputations; more commonly, the students who pass and receive answers to zoology exams; the chemists who collaborate on unknown reports and quantitative analysis; the students who copy reports from encyclopedias; those who "doctor up" personal information for self-esteem.

Dishonesty no less prevalent lies in the masks we wear to dress up our personalities. Most of us have worn one among our friends. Dishonesties we condone in ourselves we condemn in others. We are horrified when others do blastedly what we do quietly but we often forget that as dishonesties multiply in a nation they undermine its character and destroy its strength. We preach wrath against a condition we have helped to create.

The meaning of absolute honesty will be plain to everyone who asks for the areas you need. There is likely to be more areas about which there are no doubts. Start with them. Think out the rest you need to make in order to put right the path. The guiding light from God will show you what, how, and when restitution should be made. Does absolute honesty pay? Those who after years of hard work, have managed to build a solid personal lives.

(Ed. Note.—The authors have pamphlets, entitled "Ideology and Conscience," available for students wishing further information on Moral Reinforcement. Inquiries addressed to them may be placed in the BEACON mailbox, basement, Chase Hall, and they will act on such requests.)

BIBLE

Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down; for the Lord upholdeth him with His hand. (Psalm 37, 24.)

Be a man's thoughts and acts ever so evil, he is not beyond redemption as long as he lives, as his life will redeem the God of life. It will never be withdrawn from him as long as he constically seeks forgiveness.

Matmen Meet Ithaca, Cagers Dickinson

Bombers Boost Strong Squad of Veteran Men; Colonels Win Opener

by George Tolan

The first half of Saturday's twin bill at the Wilkes gym will find Coach John Rease's Colonels men dealing with an ever-stronger Ithaca College wrestling squad, while the Colonels hosters entertain the Dickinson College basketball team in the nightcap.

The Ithaca mat squad comes to Wilkes seeking revenge for the 17-13 victory the Wilkes grapplers won last year. Coach Herb Broadwell has six returning lettermen to give the Bombers another strong mat team. They are exceptionally strong in the lightweight, 157-lb., and heavyweight classes.

Last week the Ithaca grapplers edged out the Lehigh University, Ivy league, squad, 16-15.

Most of the Invaders' wrestlers come from Ithaca High School which has one of the best high school wrestling teams in the country. The Ithaca matmen work out with Cornell, the wresting pride of the Ivy League, so their personnel are always on top shape.

The Colonels enter this match with a 23-3 victory over Lebanon Valley's wrestling team. Coach John Rease's charges showed their best in the initial match of the Ithaca tourney, defeat of the Bucknell, Bob Stukey, Glenn Ettish, Gerard Senick, and Marv Antinnes turning in falls. Bob Slifian won a decisive decision in the heavyweight match.

Returning to the Blue and Gold lineup for the Lebanon Valley tourney will be 157-lb. MAC (tall) Ted Toluba. Ted was hampered by a sprained shoulder but showed he was top shape by capturing third place in the 157-lb. weight class.

Also in the Wilkes lineup will be Marv Antinnes, runner-up in the 177-lb. division of the Wilkes Open, March 25. Antinnes is a Colonel grappler ever to enter the tourney finals of decisive victories over some of the East's top wrestlers.

In the battle of kill-offs, Al Robichaux of Lebanon Valley and an ex-Colonel pride to win the 177-lb. title.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Morv Antinnes, Wilkes College 177-lb. wrestler, is this week's Beccon award winner as a for his fine showing in the finished in the runner-up spot in the 177-pound division and the highest standing ever gained by a Wilkes wrestler in the local event.

Antinnes' continuous victories during the preliminaries, quarter finals, and semi-finals helped the Colonels to amass a total of 20 points in the tournament and a tie for fourth place with Yale. Antinnes also gained points for Wilkes with his second-place finish, highest standing ever attained by the host team.

Antinnes, who formerly wrestled at Forty Fort, became the first Wilkes matman to reach the finals of the tourney. In the course of his early matches he defeated Bob Hall of Bloomsburg, decided John Jayne of Cornell, pinned Gus Miller of Michigan, and decided Bob Rohm ofBloomsburg, 6-4, to qualify for the finals against Al Rusthau of West Point. Rusthau beat Antinnes in the finals, 4-1.

Antinnes has won his only dual match this season. He pinned Paul Longstreet of Lebanon Valley in 5:43 in the Wilkes wrestling opener on December 18. During his freshman and sophomore years Antinnes wrestled at 107 pounds, compiling a 9-1 record in dual meet competition and a second-place finish in the MAC Tourney as a freshman.

As a sophomore in 1959 he had a 7-0 record and won the MAC championship in the 107-pound class, beating previously undefeated Dave Murdock of Bucknell. Antinnes is also well known to Wilkes fans for his exploits on the gridiron. During the past year, he ranked among the first ten in scoring, rushing, and total offense in the northern division of the MAC football loop.

Antinnes starred in football and track at Forty Fort High School in addition to being an outstanding wrestler. He was PIAA champ of District Two and won 12 dual matches to go undefeated in his senior year. He lost in the PIAA regionals to the same boy who beat him in this season's open tournament, Al Rusthau.

Antinnes is a Junior at Wilkes majoring in secondary education and has been a basketball team member since 1962.

Coach Eddie Davis' cagers take on Dickinson College tomorrow night in the second part of a wrestling-basketball doubleheader at college gymnasium. The games are scheduled to get under way at 8:30.

Coach Joe DuCharme, in his fifth season at Dickinson will be out to make it two in a row over the Colonels, having won last year's game at Carlisle, Pa., 96-74.

Included in the Dickinson lineup will be seven lettermen of which four are holdover starters. John Vaiming of Wilkes-Barre's captain and playmaker was lost through graduation.

Another local product places the Dickinson attack this season. He says of the game as a whole, "We are very strong in the backcourt and the scorers and rebounders. Ellison hails from Nanticoke, Pa. Last season Ellison averaged 14.5 points per game.

Biem and Ellison are for-ward Ray Cromer, Hanover, 6-0, junior, and guards Gene Becker, York, 6-2, sophomore, and Neil Pax-son, Westfield, N.J., 6-2 senior.

Tenth man will be Byron Quinn, Harrisburg, a reserve last year. A 6-3 junior, he is counted on to give the Red Devils improved re-bounding.

Wednesday's Results

Another local point of interest about the Dickinson team is that Coach DuCharme once coached basketball at Lebanon Valley. This year's Seminary for four years before he assumed the mentor duties at the Carlisle institution.

Wilkes hopes to get back on the winning track in their own gym. The Colonels have dropped their last two home games to Wagner and Lebanon Valley, usually a hard trick to pull against Coach Davis' Colonels.

On Thursday the Colonels play the Harspur Colonels at Hamburgh, N.Y., last year Wilkes defeated Harpur at home, 96-73.

Wilkes dropped an 82-80 decision to the Moravian College Wednes-

The Colonels played the game earlier in the season as a main part of the major period. However, eight quick baskets by Reedy Potter of Wilkes, seven by Kehrli of Lebanon Valley, and six by Debowsky of Lebanon Valley, gave the Greysounds a 47-48 half-time advantage. Bernice Koelke added the Wilkes offense in the first half with 20 points.

Wilkes never caught up to the Greysounds in the second half as the home team got hot and piled up a comfortable margin to go on to the victory.

Potter scored 28 and Kehrli scored 26 and George Gacha 21 for the Colonels.

'Manuscript' Deadline February 15; Film Tickets Now on Sale

by Cynthia Nagler

Deadline for all short stories, poetry, essays, and other art and musical material for the Manuscript is February fifteenth. The Manuscript Association is only able to accept contributions to the student body only.

Within the next week, the Manuscript Association will put up a display of other collegiate literary magazines and newspapers. Viewers in the association have agreed on the good reading material in these periodicals. They are representative of many well-known universities and colleges.

There are several foreign contributions in the collection from England, Australia and Canada. The display will be located in the main lobby of the library and students may borrow them for reading there.

The film society of the Manuscript will be formed for next semester. Students may purchase season tickets for a minimum price which includes all full length features. The movies to be shown will be announced at a later date.

Practical Politics Internships Available from Mailey, Hoover

Applications for internships in practical politics are now available through Mr. Arthur McManus. These internships are divided into three separate groups:

1) Internships during a period of six weeks with congressmen from Eastern Pennsylvania in their offices. The first period for the internship will commence in May 59 and will be completed on June 10, with students being paid at the rate of $75.00 per week.

2) Internships for an eight-week period with the state committee staff in Harrisburg. One party has already agreed to the program, and negotiations are being made with the other. The pay is at least $60.00 per week. Applications must be in by May 28, and internship will commence July 16 and conclude September 1.

3) Internships in selected Pennsylvania counties in county headquarters for the period August 25 to November 8. Successful applicants will work from August 22 to about September 16, thereafter the intern will be expected to spend up to 15 hours per week in the program. A total of $375.00 will be paid for the entire period, and students will be paid on a bi-monthly basis.

All three types of internships are open to undergraduates who can submit applications for the first and second type of internship, but will be limited to the top three applicants. Students should have had some background in political science or political science majors. Interns will be assigned to the political party of their choice.

Applications may be obtained at Frat Hale, room 231, or from Dr. M. George Black. All applications must be completed in triplicate and must include a letter of recommendation. Internships will be completed by April 30.

National Teacher Exam Students To Be Given on Feb. 13

The National Teacher Examination, prepared and administered by the National Testing Service, will be given at 160 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 13, 1955.

Any one day's testing session a candidate may take the Common Examination or the Special Examinations in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, Mathematics, Science, and a two or two of twelve Optional Examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. The course which a candidate is to take is given the school system in which he is seeking a position. Candidates who complete the first day will be notified by the Board of Educational Testing of the time of the second day's testing.
