TDR Plans Bake Sale; Valentine Semi-Formal Will Be Held Feb. 12

by Jean Shofranko

TDR's first meeting of the new year, held Monday evening at McClintock Hall, buzzed with plans for the pending bake sale and Valentine semi-formal.

TDR members will exhibit their culinary masterpieces at a bake sale to be held Saturday, January 30, at Pomeroy's Department Store, fifth floor. Baked goods, including cookies, cakes, breads, and candies, will be sold from 10 a.m. until the supply is exhausted.

Claire Handler, general chairman of the affair, announced that members contributing goods must bring them to McClintock Hall on January 29. Since dormitory students and other coeds will be unable to bake goods for the affair, members agreed that each person who does not contribute food will have the opportunity to contribute money which it would have taken to make a particular item. Thus, all members will be able to take an active role in the project, designed to supply needed funds for the Valentine semi-formal.

Semi-Formal

Next on the agenda was the Valentine semi-formal, to be held Friday, February 12, in the gymnasium. Herbie Greene will supply music for dancing from 9 to 12 at the traditionally girl-ask-boy, boy-ask-girl affair.

Although plans are well under way, general chairman Marty Menegus reported that a chairman for the ceiling committee is still needed. Miss Menegus also commented that this affair provides an excellent opportunity for members to begin fulfilling membership requirements for next semester.

Coeds wishing to work on committees of their choice may do so by seeing the following committee heads: backdrop, Nancy Tinklepaugh; table, Anne Curley; lobby, Peggy Churchill; refreshments, Judy Powell; invitations and chaperones, Betsy Tubridy; coat check, Mary Beth Brown; tickets, Leona Baiera; programs, Carol Thomas; favors, Mary Ellen Zewibel; hearts, Priscilla McCormick; decorations co-ordinator, Doris Gademan.

Members who ordered shirts and pins may pick them up at McClintock Hall where Jane Palka is presently holding them.

Winter Carnival On January 28; Caravan Leaves at 9

Final arrangements for the Winter Carnival were made Tuesday night at the Student Government meeting when an outline for a car caravan to Pocono Mountain Inn was revealed.

The annual between-semester outing will be held throughout the whole day on January 28, the Thursday following the completion of Fall semester final examinations. Always well attended and well received by the students, the annual day of winter sports will start as soon as the caravan arrives. Departure time for the early attendants at the Carnival will be 9 a.m.

Students wishing to leave at this hour are asked to be prompt so that an orderly trip to the Poconos will be possible.

Dick Barnes and Mike Armstrong are general co-chairmen for the event. Paul Klein and Gordon Rob-

Vujica's "Beat" Talk At Last Assembly Meets Student Approval

Dr. Stanko Vujica, chairman of the college philosophy-religion department, was enthusiastically received as guest speaker at Tuesday's assembly.

In his address, "The Beat Generation and the Careful Young Man," Dr. Vujica contrasted the seriousness of Russian writers such as Dudintsev and Pasternak with the frivolousness of such western philosophers as the existentialists and members of the "beat generation."

Explaining the "beat phenomenon," Dr. Vujica presented colorful quotations from "beat" literature in which the "square," a slave to commodities and conventions is scorned.

The "beat" practice voluntary poverty and unconventional living and spend their time writing and reading poetry, painting, meditating and listening to music. They seize the present, living it to the fullest extent in order to gain every ounce of enjoyment.

Dr. Vujica pointed out that the "beat" philosophy contains a grain of truth for it rebels against the commercialized civilization of the machine and atomic age in which man becomes a slave to gadgets.

Concluding, Dr. Vujica said, "In dramatizing certain evil tendencies of our society, the 'beat' generation may be doing the 'square' a service by shaking him out of his complacency. The tragedy is that these rebels have nothing more constructive to solve the problems of the Atomic Age."

Sponsored by Ed Club "Town, Country Dance"

The Education Club's annual farmer and modern dance will be held next Friday evening in the gym from nine to twelve.

The theme for this year's affair is "The Town and Country Dance," and the gym will be decorated in accordance with this theme.

Music will be furnished by The Statesmen with the calling handled by Joe McKeown. Admission will be the usual fifty cents.

Program chairman of the club Betty Purnell will act as general chairman of the dance. Further information will be found in next week's Beacon.

Biology Professor's Work to Be Read at Florida Science Meeting

Dr. Sheldon G. Cohen, associate professor of Biological Research, will have a paper presented next week at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Allergy in Miami, Florida. It will be presented during the Scientific Program between January 11 and 13.

The paper is entitled "Serotonin and Histamine-Effecting Agents and Experimental Vascular Sensitization." It is based on studies conducted in the Department of Biology by Dr. Cohen and Theresa Sapp, research assistant.

Research grants from the Northeastern Pennsylvania Heart Association and the National Heart Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service supported these studies. The investigation was concerned with an attempt to evaluate some of the possible pathologic - physiologic mechanisms associated with allergic reactions that may result in involvement of the heart, blood vessels, and kidneys in experimental animals.

Dr. Cohen pointed out that as yet there are no apparent applications to human disease but it is hoped that studies of this type may indicate some leads to effective drugs in an attempt to control such allergic cardiovascular reactions.

He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Allergy, a member of the Academy's Research Council, and Chairman of the Committee for the Study of Food Allergy.

Louis Armstrong Signs Jazz Concert Contract For April Show Here

by Gloria Zaludek

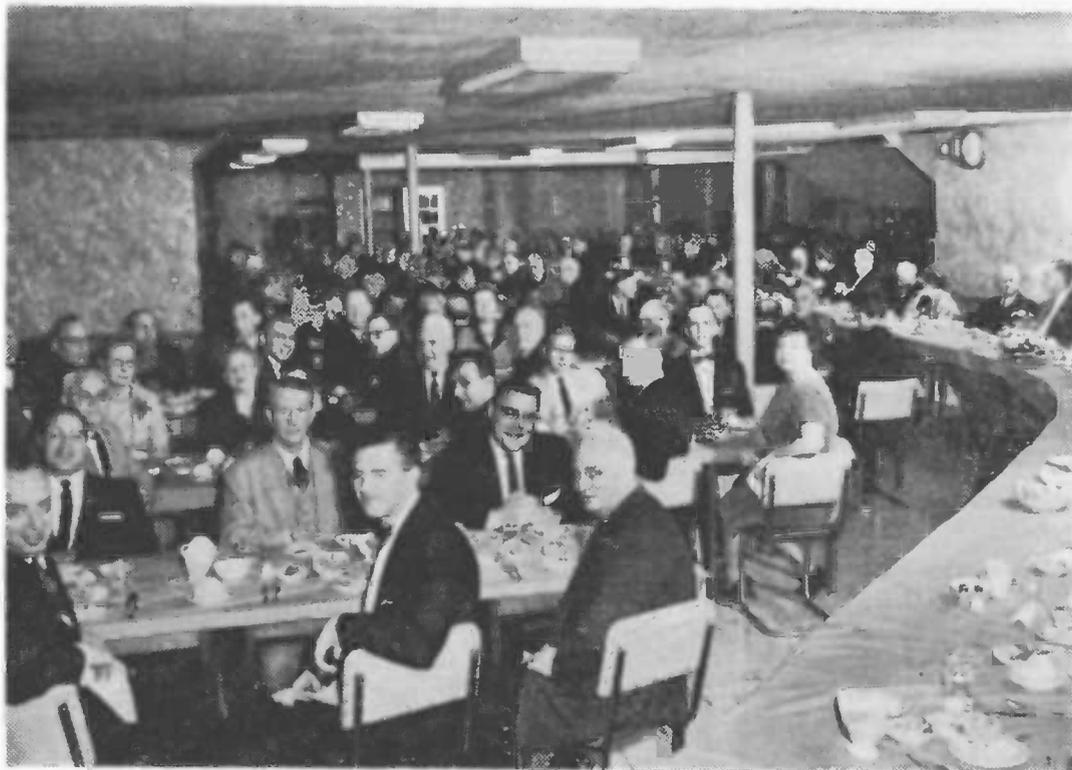

The junior class will sponsor a Jazz Concert in the gym on Saturday evening, April 30. The two-hour show will star Louis Armstrong, the "Good Will Ambassador of Jazz", and his All Stars.

Featured in the jazz group will be: Velma Middleton, Peanuts Hucko, Billy Kyle, Danny Barcelona, Trummy Young, and Mort Herbert. Armstrong, who recently appeared at Carnegie Hall, is now conducting an all-college tour throughout the United States.

Gil Davis, president of the Junior Class, announced that plans for the concert, this year's class project, were begun early in November by a planning committee headed by Barry Yocum. Final contracts were signed by the end of December.

The class will also sponsor "Donkey Basketball" — a rematch of the faculty versus the athletes — early in March. Last year seventeen hundred spectators attended the basketball match, and the profit, $340, was donated to the General Hospital Building Fund. Besides these affairs, the class has also presented the "Cemetery Swing" the "Dog Patch Squeal," and the "Mardi Gras" processor

ADMIRAL STARK HONORED AT DINNER

Shown above is the crowd of over 200 who were here Wednesday night to honor Admiral Harold R. Stark, newly seated Chairman of the Board of Trustees for Wilkes College. Board member Frank Burnside addressed the assemblage on the Admiral's contributions to the college, the community and the nation. Dr. Farley highlighted his naval career and aid to the college. Admiral Stark's reply emphasized Wilkes' key role in the future of the nation.

EDITORIAL

Buddy, Can You Spare A Dime?

The name Dr. Jonas E. Salk is now recognized around the world. The man responsible for the Salk vaccine has become one of medicine's great figures and his name is a household word.

Yet 17 years ago, back in 1942, Jonas E. Salk was just another name on an application blank, another young research scientist, requesting fellowship assistance to study viruses. An award of $2,100 was granted.

A little over 10 years later this man announced to the world the first effective means of preventing a disease that had left human wreckage strewn across the face of the globe for centuries.

The $2,100 invested in 1942 in Jonas E. Salk was an investment of the American people through the March of Dimes. Since 1938 more than 8,000 other young Americans have been aided in training through March of Dimes fellowships and scholarships.

Dr. Salk is not the only famous "alumnus" of the professional education program of the The National Foundation. A Nobel Prize winner, Dr. Frederick Robbins, of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, was also a one-time "student" of this program.

In 1959 The National Foundation started two new programs to help the Salks of tomorrow. Through a new fellowship program it will give resident and practicing physicians opportunities for advanced training in rheumatology or in the treatment of patients suffering from birth defects of the central nervous system, both part of The National Foundation's new program.

In the health professions there is never any unemployment problem. The reason is that there simply are not enough of these skilled medical workers to fill the need.

According to recent figures, there are now some 460,000 nurses caring for the sick; but at least 56,000 more are needed. There are 8,550 physical therapists; but 5,000 more are wanted. There are 5,800 occupational therapists; but 14,000 more are needed. There are 5,000 medical social workers; but 6,500 more could be used. There are 227,000 doctors, but not enough new ones are being trained. And most of the other health professions are equally understaffed.

To alert college students to the unlimited opportunities open to them in the health fields and to aid some of them to get the training necessary, The National Foundation is now supporting a multi-million dollar Health Scholarship Program.

In the summer of 1959 the first 403 of these scholarships were awarded to students throughout the nation. In 1960 The National Foundation will offer more than 500 Health Scholarships. Each scholarship will pay $500 a year, or a total of $2,000 for four years of college training in five key health fields of medicine, medical social work, physical therapy, nursing and occupational therapy.

For prospective medical social workers, scholarships will be awarded starting with the junior year of college and extending through the two years of required graduate work. For prospective physicians, scholarships will be awarded to college upperclassmen who have been accepted for admission to medical school.

Health Scholarships, which are made possible through the New March of Dimes, are open to students in every state. Application blanks for these scholarships, which must be filed before April 1, can now be secured from the local chapter of The National Foundation.

The Health Scholarship Program represents a tremendous March of Dimes investment in human resources. It is the first of its kind ever attempted on this scale. The cost is estimated at $12,000,000 over a 10-year period. But through it, thousands of young Americans will be trained for jobs worth doing and those jobs will be waiting for them wherever they choose to work.

New Year's Day Wedding For Nesbitt Faculty Member

by the BEACON Staff

Dick Myers, chief whip-cracker at the Beacon office, has met his match at last through his New Year's Day marriage to the former Lois Tremayne.

According to our reports of the big occasion, the poor young thing considered to enter wedlock with our illustrious Simon Legree a short nine days before old 1959 made his exit. In the hectic week, the couple found a vacancy at 81 W. Northampton St., behind Weiss Hall, in the apartments maintained by the College for married students.

The nuptials took place at Christ Lutheran Church, City, the Rev. Raymond A. Reed officiating. A reception for close friends and relatives was held at the Adams Room, Hotel Sterling. No invitations were issued for the short-notice affair.

Mrs. Myers was graduated from Wilkes in 1957 with a B.S. in Nursing Education, received her R.N. from the Wyoming Valley Hospital School of Nursing, and is a graduate of Westmoreland High School. She formerly lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tremayne, Chase Road, Trucksville.

Presently she serves as instructor at the Nesbitt Hospital School of Nursing.

The Editor will leave Wilkes in June with an A.B. in English. He is a veteran of three years in the Army Security Agency, spent two years in the Philippine Islands as a sergeant at Clark Air Force Base.

Following the ceremony on the clear, crisp first day of the year, the couple honeymooned in New York; however, both were back in

There Is An Answer

Dishonesty is contagious; it multiplies with alarming speed. A nation needs defense against subversion from within and attack from without. Dishonesty weakens a nation's strength through the personal actions of its citizens. What about America?

It does not take long to realize that absolute honesty is not suffering from overuse today. Realization of corruption in high and low places comes so thick and fast that they leave us numb with apathy. We need to find a production line of character, and fast.

According to FBI reports there is an army of 7,500,000 persons engaged in crime in our country. The cost of crime comes down on every man, woman and child in an average of over $200 per year.

Perhaps you congratulate yourself that you have not robbed a bank or committed a murder, or forged a check, but the cutting of moral corners comes for most of us in more subtly concealed forms; the mother who tells the bus conductor her child is half-fare when he is in fact overage and is surprised when the same child starts to lie to her; the man who boasts about smuggling items through customs and is indignant when his son smuggles out of his cellar the best bottle of scotch and out of his humidor his choicest cigars; the woman whose tongue cuts across the group and robs other women of their reputations; more commonly, the students who pass and receive answers to zoology exams; the chemists who collaborate on unknown reports and quantitative analysis; the students who copy reports from encyclopedias; those who "doctor up" personal information for self-esteem.

Dishonesty no less prevalent lies in the masks we wear to dress up our personalities. Most of us have worn one among our friends. Dishonesties we condone in ourselves we condemn in others. We are horrified when others do blatantly what we do quietly but we often forget that as dishonesties multiply in a nation they undermine its character and destroy its strength. We preach wrath against a condition we have helped to create.

The meaning of absolute honesty will be plain to everyone who seeks it. There may be doubtful areas where you need advice. There are likely to be more areas about which there are no doubts. Start with them. Think out the restitution you need to make in order to put right the path. The guiding light from God will show you what, how, and when restitution should be made. Does absolute honesty pay? Those who pioneer in absolute honesty may not need immediate cash dividends, the dividends will come in inner peace. They may come in the certainty that we have done what we were meant to do. They will, above all, come in the solid peace of eternal life.

Matmen Meet Ithaca, Cagers Dickinson

Bombers Boast Strong Squad of Veteran Men; Colonels Win Opener

by George Tensa

The first half of Saturday's twin bill at the Wilkes gym will find Coach John Reese's Colonel matmen clashing with an ever-strong Ithaca College wrestling squad, while the Colonel hoopsters entertain the Dickinson College basketball team in the nightcap.

The Ithaca mat squad comes to Wilkes seeking revenge for the 17-13 victory the Wilkes grapplers won last year. Coach Herb Broadwell has six returning lettermen to give the Bombers another strong mat team. They are exceptionally strong in the lower weights, 157-lb., and heavyweight classes.

Last week the Ithaca grapplers edged out the tough Syracuse University squad, 16-15.

Most of the Ithaca wrestlers come from Ithaca High School which has one of the best high school wrestling systems in the country. The Ithaca matmen work out with Cornell, the wrestling pride of the Ivy League, so their personnel are always in top shape.

The Colonel wrestlers enter this match with a 33-3 victory over Lebanon Valley's wrestling team. Coach John Reese's charges showed their best in the initial match of the season with Capt. Joe Morgan, Brooke Yeager, Dick Stauffer, Glen Rittenhouse, Gerard Senick, and Marv Antinnes turning in falls. Bob Sisljan won a decisive decision in the heavyweight class.

Returning to the Blue and Gold lineup for the Ithaca match will be 157-lb. MAC titlist Ted Toluba. Ted was hampered by a sprained shoulder but showed he was back in top shape by capturing third place in the Wilkes Open Wrestling tournament.

Also in the Wilkes lineup will be Marv Antinnes, runner-up in the 177-lb. division of the Wilkes Open. Marv became the first Colonel grappler ever to enter the tourney finals with decisive victories over some of the East's top wrestlers. In the battle of fullbacks, Al Rushatz of West Point, edged out the Colonel pride to win the 177-lb. title.

ANTINNES TAKES 2-ND IN TOURNEY

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Marv Antinnes, Wilkes College 177-lb. wrestler, is this week's Beacon award winner as a result of his fine showing in the 28th annual Wilkes Open Wrestling Tournament. Antinnes finished in the runner-up spot in the 177-pound division of the tourney and achieved the highest standing ever gained by a Wilkes wrestler in the local event.

Antinnes' continuous victories during the preliminaries, quarter finals, and semi-finals helped the Colonels to amass a total of 30 points in the tournament and a tie for fourth place with Yale. Antinnes also gained points for Wilkes with his second-place finish, highest standing ever attained by the host team.

Antinnes, who formerly wrestled at Forty Fort, became the first Wilkes matman to reach the finals of the tourney. In the course of his early matches he defeated Bob Hall of Bloomsburg, decided John Jayne of Cornell, pinned Gus Miller of Michigan, and decided Bob Rohm of Bloomsburg, 4-1, to qualify for the finals against Al Rushatz of West Point.

Rushatz beat Antinnes in the finals, 4-1.

Antinnes has won his only dual match this season. He pinned Paul Longreen of Lebanon Valley in 5:43 in the Wilkes wrestling opener on December 18.

During his freshman and sophomore years Antinnes wrestled at 167 pounds, compiling a 9-1 record in dual meet competition and a second-place finish in the MAC Tourney as a freshman.

As a sophomore in 1959 he had a 7-0 record and won the MAC championship in the 167-pound class, beating previously undefeated Dave Murdock of Bucknell.

Antinnes is also well known to Wilkes fans for his exploits on the gridiron. During the past year, he ranked among the first ten in scoring, rushing, and total offense in the northern division of the MAC football loop.

Antinnes starred in football and track at Forty Fort High School in addition to being an outstanding wrestler. He was PIAA champ of District Two and won 12 dual matches to go undefeated in his senior year. He lost in the PIAA regionals to the same boy who beat him in this season's open tournament, Al Rushatz.

Antinnes is a junior at Wilkes majoring in secondary education.

INTRAMURAL RESULTS AND SCHEDULE

Intramural basketball swung into action on Monday night as the American League played their initial games. The Kookies, Gore, and Barre emerged victorious.

The Kookies beat Butler, 64-63, in overtime as Ceolik hit for 27 and Yoblonski 18 for the winners and Kehrl 29 for the losers.

Gore Hall defeated the Falcons, 52-42, and was paced by Davis with 14 and Aquilino with 13, while Cordora had 15 for the Falcons.

Barre Hall won over the Globetrotters, 47-32. Capo scored 12 and Hunt 11 for the winners. Lamoreaux had 11, along with Eckert for the losers.

Red Devils to Provide Opposition for Cagers; 'Hounds Topple Wilkes

Coach Eddie Davis' cagers take on Dickinson College tomorrow night in the second part of a wrestling-basketball doubleheader at college gymnasium. The game is scheduled to get under way at 8:30.

Coach Joe DuCharme in his fifth season at Dickinson will be out to make it two in a row over the Colonels, having won last year's game at Carlisle, Pa., 96-74.

Included in the Dickinson lineup will be seven lettermen, of which four are holdover starters. John Valenti of Wilkes-Barre, last year's captain and playmaker was lost through graduation.

Another local product paces the Dickinson attack this season. He is Joe Elinsky, last year's leading scorer and rebounder. Elinsky hails from Nanticoke, Pa. Last season Elinsky averaged 14.5 points per game.

Back again with Elinsky are forward Ray Cromer, Hanover, 6-0 junior, and guards Gene Becker, York, 6-2 sophomore, and Neil Paxson, Westfield, N.J., 6-2 senior.

Fifth man will be Byron Quann, Harrisburg, a reserve last year. A 6-3 junior, he is counted on to give the Red Devils improved rebounding.

Michael Hermann, Middleburg, 5-9 junior, and Neal Lovsnes, Carlisle, 6-0 senior, are the other lettermen.

Another local point of interest about the Dickinson team is that Coach DuCharme once coached basketball at Wyoming Seminary for four years before he assumed the mentor duties at the Carlisle institution.

Wilkes hopes to get back on the winning track in their own gym. The Colonels have dropped their last two home games to Wagner and Lebanon Valley, usually a hard trick to pull against Coach Davis' boys on their favorite hardwoods.

On Thursday the Colonels play the Harpur Colonials at Binghamton, N.Y. Last year Wilkes defeated Harpur at home, 95-73.

Wednesday's Results

Wilkes dropped an 102-83 decision to Moravian College Wednesday night at Bethlehem.

The Colonels played the game close in the first half and led for a major part of the period. However, eight quick baskets by Ducky Potter and freshman Dick Kosman gave the Greyhounds a 47-43 half-time lead.

Bernie Radecki paced the Wilkes offense in the first half with 20 points.

Wilkes never caught up to the Greyhounds in the second half as the home team got hot and piled up a comfortable margin to go on to win the game.

Potter scored 28 and Kosman 30 for Moravian, while Radecki had 26 and George Gacha 21 for the Colonels.

Spirit Comm. Considers Candidates for Colonel; Plans Spring Weekend

by Wayne Thomas

It was announced at the meeting of the School Spirit Committee on Monday that several applications have been received for the position of Wilkes Colonel. When chosen, the Colonel will appear at all athletic events attired in a costume which will be provided by the School Spirit Committee.

Jim Stephens, chairman of the committee, announced that approximately eighty students participated in the Christmas Caroling program which the committee sponsored on December 15. The committee was aided by the residents of Chapman Hall who provided refreshments for the affair. The entire evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

The Committee is presently preparing to aid the Amnicola through its patrons sales. The committee will also welcome any suggestions for a program for Spring Weekend which will be held in April. These suggestions may be placed in the School Spirit mailbox in the basement of Chase Hall.

Because of the busy pre-final schedule, the committee will not meet next week. All representatives and interested students are asked to watch the bulletin board for the announcement of the first meeting of the spring semester. All campus organizations are requested to send at least one representative to the School Spirit Committee meetings.
