Econ. Club Aids Needy; Plans Stock Purchase by Gisela Zalewski

Members of the Economics Club are sponsoring a "New Eyes For the Needy" organization which will last throughout January and February. The idea is to collect all types of used eyeglasses including sunglass frames, regardless of their condition. These glasses will then be sent to the "New Eyes For the Needy" organization in Short Hills, New Jersey, where they will be repaired, reground and donated to needy individuals. Last year over three thousand pairs of glasses were collected, a total which the club has set as its goal for this year's campaign. Chairman Joseph Durishan stated that interested students may deposit their used glasses in the various boxes located on campus. The club is receiving off-campus publicity from area newspapers, and TV and radio stations in connection with a telephone answering service. Various organizations, such as the Girl Scouts, have also offered their support.

Investing Committee

Sixteen members of the Econ Club have formed a stock committee which will invest individual contributions, and by next semester will be prepared to offer recommendations for the purchase of stock. The club has an estimated $6700 for this purpose.

An interest in stocks prompted the club's field trip to New York on Friday, January 8. Thirty-five members, with chaperon John Hutson of the Commerce and Finance Department, left via Metrom Lines at 6:30 a.m. Upon arrival in New York they toured the Stock Exchange, the Federal Reserve Bank, NASDAQ, and the Standard Oil Building. Bill Morris was chairman of the affair.

The Wilkes delegation will probably represent the tiny African country of Ghana. This is the first year that Wilkes has been invited to this Northern Canadian Assembly Meeting which will take place in Montreal on April 6. The Wilkes delegation will include Peggy Churchill, Gary Deloite, Heddy Horbachewski, Richard Lewis. Not shown in picture is Jay Oley, alternate delegate.

Winter Carnival at P.M.I.; Varied Sports Planned

by Marilyn Krackenbush

The big event on the Wilkes College Jaycees' second semester agenda is "Bob Clark Day," scheduled for Thursday, January 28.

The affair, honoring Mr. Bob Clark, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will include a dinner at the Hotel Sterling to which all Jaycee chapters in the surrounding counties will be invited. Special guests, in addition to Mr. Clark, will be Mr. Harry Light, president of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. George Ruskett, Wilkes-Barre Jaycees head.

A committee of three, consisting of John Matthey, Frank Steck, and Jim Morgan, is presently making plans for the day.

Awards Banquet

Another project in which the Wilkes Jaycees are participating is the Distinguished Services Award Banquet, being held by the Greater Wilkes-Barre Junior Chamber of Commerce. Frank Steck is chairman of the affair, which centers around the honoring of the young man selected as outstanding in the Valley.

Letters on this subject, applications are sent to the local employers and social organizations who submit names of members of their organizations whom they deem worthy of the award. The nominations are limited to men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-five, and the final selection is made by a panel of judges, whose names are well known in the community.

Applon to H.S. Students

The Jaycees are also undertaking an interest in regional high school students in Wilkes College. They are inviting the students of a different high school to each home sports event as their guests, in the hope of better acquainting them with the college.

Also on the very well filled Jaycee calendar is the assembly program of April 8. The Jaycees hope to engage a prominent local speaker but the choice has not yet been made.

Student Govt. Guests At Men's Club Dinner

by Mary Frances Biosse

Members of the Student Government recently expressed their views on student values and current issues at a meeting of the Men's Organization of the First Presbyterian Church.

The issues discussed were: Vice President Richard Nixon's role in which certain names of the steel strike. Communist Russia's interpretation of "co-existence" religious influence on college life, and student integrity.

Student Government president Gordon E. Roberts was asked to discuss the role and function of the Student Government at Wilkes. He explained its purpose, its advisory capacity to the administration, and its meaning to the student body.

Mr. Balkson, advisor of the Student Government, introduced the following members to the men's group: Paul Klein, Rhea Polk, Judy Butchko, John Hosage, Jim Stephens, Gwen Gould, Beverly Major, and Gordon Roberts.

Roberts concluded the session by thanking Mr. Balkson for making First Presbyterian Church facilities available to Wilkes and for the interest in the college which they have exhibited in the past.

Education Group Meets; Constitution Main Topic

by Wayne Thomas

The Northeastern Student Pennsylvania Education Association met last Saturday morning at 10:30 in the College Commons. Plans for the revision of the District PSEA constitution were discussed. The revision would concern the election of members and which members would be allowed to vote at the meetings.

It was decided that each representative present would take a copy of the constitution to his respective chapter and ask for suggestions. These suggestions would then be taken back to the next meeting of the Student PSEA which will be held on February 27 in the Commons at 10:30 a.m.

Wilkes was represented at Saturday's meeting by Miss Jessie Roderick, sponsor of the Education Club; Doris Gideman, Joan Leeher and Ms. Thomas. Other representatives from Scranton University, College Misericordia, and Marywood were in attendance.

Treasurer of Delta Kappa Gamma, a sorority of women college students, was also present. She was invited by the officers and sponsors of the Wilkes Education Club to its annual feature luncheon at the new Campus Inn. The event will begin at 1 p.m. and continue until 3 p.m.

Dancing and Dining, Skiing and Skating Featured on Agenda

by Fred Jacoby

The annual Winter Carnival will be held Thursday, January 28, at Pocono Mountains Resort. Indoor and outdoor activities have been planned for the event which will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 11 p.m.

Dick Barnes and Mike Armstrong, co-chairmen of the affair, announced that outdoor facilities available to interested persons include ice-skating, skiing, sledging and basketball. Ice skates and ski boots will not be provided by the Inn. Skis, a limited number of sleds, "flying saucers," and toboggans will be available.

The Inn has a frozen pool near the main building for those who wish to skate. This pool will hold only thirty. However, a pond approximately one mile away is large enough to accommodate everyone. A shooting contest is to be held on the basketball court which will be free to all Carnival-goers.

Persons who do not consider the Pocono mountain air inviting, especially for ski enthusiasts, will be interested to know that ping pong and pool tables, as well as shuffleboard, tennis, croquet, and shuffleboard, will be available. The floor will hold forty couples and consequently, approximately 250 persons. Music will be provided by Joe Nardone and the All Stars. A full bar will be available to comply with regulations. Under no circumstances will beer, liquor, or wine be brought on the premises.

The management of the Inn will strictly police and eject offenders. A curfew of 11:30 p.m. has been imposed by the management of the establishment.

A car caravan will be formed at Pocono Mountains Resort at 9 a.m. Maps and other data for those not familiar with the Pocono Mountain area will be distributed by the Student Government.

The Inn also provides cafeteria-style food service, as well as a snack bar. Food prices are moderate in both cafeteria and snack bar.

Letter to the Editor...

Dear Sir:

There are many girls who are dissatisfied with the prevailing conditions. In the beginning of the semester, we brought our complaints to the attention of the gym suite, rather than use those that we had used in high school. Fortunately, our efforts were successful.

As a result, there was a strain which was completely unwarranted. Then we were informed that we were required to take showers. Although this rule was put forth with the best of intentions, it was enforced, approximately a week ago. This led to mass confusion. There was also a great lack of privacy in the showers.

The first activity that we undertook was the playing of children's games. These games were specifically designed for young children and are not interesting to any but, possibly, elementary education majors. After being sufficiently bored, some of us succeeded in getting our hands on the lounge chairs and secretaries for the harried examinees.

We really didn't believe that, though. We conspired the poor lad with the idea that if conditions do change at all, they will probably get worse.

On Advertising

This week's issue brings up a matter we had intended to mention earlier, the Beacon's student rates for advertising. The Student Activity Budget and the administration of the Sasser Winter Carnival, has bought an ad in the paper for the dual purpose of encouraging maximum student participation and trying to head off a repeat performance of objectionable behavior.

Any organization or individual on campus may make use of the advertising space in the Beacon for a pittance. An average of two dollars per column inch for their ads, students who wish to advertise their activities may do so at 50 cents per column inch.

Naturally, the newspaper will do all in its power to see that every activity gets adequate coverage, but there is a great difference between what we, as editors, believe sufficient, and what the public, case by public, is likely by fairly standard journalistic practices. Stories must be written in a general framework concerning to the event.

Advertising, on the other hand, has the publicity chairmen from the restrictions of journalistic "who, what, when, and why" whose attitudes agree that advertising as a whole is something that can be done with a healthy degree of independence. That is, the chairmen may advertise his affair with no more restrictions than those imposed by the newspaper's common sense and good taste.

Some time ago, a professor -- who shall remain nameless -- started work with us this year. One of the generally argumentative class, publicity is limited by fairly standard journalistic practices. Stories must be written in a general framework concerning to the event.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Wadeck Takes Scoring Lead; Named to E.C.A.C. All-Star Squad

Bernie Wadeck, senior co-captain of the basketball team is this week's athlete. Wadeck has been an outstanding performer for Coach Eddie Davis this season and has earned the Beavers' award for the second time in less than a month. He was Athlete of the Week on December 18, 1959.

Wadeck was chosen for his sensational play that led the Beavers to their first win and Dickinson games. Against Moravian he tied 16 points to lead all Wilkes scorers. 20 of these came in the first half as he led the Beavers to a 20-10 lead in the first half. All this was accomplished even though the hard-working forward was suffering from intestinal flu that finally caught up with him in the second half.

Most of Wadeck's baskets came on long jump shots from beyond the foul circle and he drew the applause of the Moravian fans as he continued his ball through the hoop. He again proved to be the big man in the Wilkes attack against Dickinson as he scored 22 points to pace the Colonels. One high spot of the long jump shot stood out as the big factor in the game.

Wadeck was also top rebounder for the Colonels on both ends of the floor. For his fine work in both games Wadeck was named to last week's first team on the All-Star squad for small colleges. This is the highest honor that a college basketball player can receive in east coast competition. The all-star team is chosen each week by a board of ECAC officials on the basis of a player's performance over the span of games played during the week.

Grapplers Face Hofstra; Dutchmen Undefeated, Stroudsburg Next Foe

Coachee Joe's boys face one of their stiffest tests tomorrow afternoon when they wrestle a powerful Hofstra squad at Hampden Park at 4 p.m.

Hofstra is undefeated so far this season and is considered to be one of the main threats to Wilkes Middle. With Scholler, Kirk, West and Fong, they hold wins over Fairfax-Light, 25-5, and Gettysburg, 26-5.

The Dutchmen roster is loaded with talent and the heavy weight area which produces some of the best collegiate grapplers in the country.

Wilkes triumphed over the Dutch last season at Ice, 20-17.

Coach Reese figures to send Yen-US, Tauber, Talha, Rittenhouse, Antisses, and Sislak against the Long Island crew. Sislak may be a double threat and head back on knee injury he suffered in the Itha-ca meeting and will be a strong force to complete the squad.

The matmen will also see action against the Dutch. Rittenhouse Teachers College on January 27 at Stroudsburg and now a meeting between the two schools after an interval of two weeks of the Teachers College was available at press time.

Last Saturday the wrestlers won out over a tough Ithaca bunch by the score of 23-12.

The match was close and victory went to Wilkes in the strides. Glenn Rittenhouse pinned his man 2-1 on the 197-pound class bout. The win put victory out of Ithaca's reach and gave Wilkes its second victory of the season.

Wilkes started strong in the mat game. The results registered three victories. Brooker Yeakes, 123,5 lbs., decided his man 7-5, Sislak, pinned his opponent in 430, and Girard Seidner scored a 23 throw pin on his opponent in 1:35.

The Colonels lost the next two bouts to Glenn Rittenhouse. 181-175, lost 2-1, pinned his man 6-4 and made 1-1. Wilkes took the lead in the last bout in 38 seconds, 2-1, and won the match 27-16. Rittenhouse, who had won his match and Mark Antisses registered his second win in the tournament in the short time of 51 seconds. Ithaca won the final bout of the evenwrestling match in the closing minutes over Bob Sislak. Sislak was inured in the bout.

Farley Presented Service Award; Lauded as Community Leader

Dr. Eugene S. Farley was the recipient of the Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis Club Award for Outstanding Community Service. The Award was presented to Dr. Farley by Mr. Benjamin Badman, Jr., the president of the Kiwanis Club, at the club’s annual Ladies Night program which was held last Thursday at the Hotel Sterling.

The presentation was "as a symbol of the esteem of the entire community." Dr. Farley was praised as a leader of the college and community activities. An account of Dr. Farley’s community service was given by Mr. Badman who revealed that the educator became president of Bucknell Junior College in 1929 and since then he has directed its transformation into a mature, accredited Wilkes College with a superior faculty, a commodious campus, and hundreds of loyal graduates.

Trudeau was also paid to Dr. Farley’s numerous civic activities — the Outerhoh Library, the Boy Scouts, the Family Service Association, the United Fund, the Playgoers Club, the Women’s Association, the Philharmonic Orchestra, the Sesquicentennial Commission, the Wyoming Valley Hospital, the Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Relations Committee of 190, and the Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis Club and its Student Loan Fund.

A telegram was received from the congregation of Temple Israel joining in the tribute to Dr. Farley "for his constructive and creative effort in the community.”

During his remarks, Mr. Badman pointed out that Dr. Farley has been "ready and willing to accept any job that was given to him for any worthwhile endeavor or cause in the community.” He also stated that the college president "had laid the ivy-clad walls of the college, but has gone out into the community and done things.”

Members of Dr. Farley’s family, Wilkes College trustees and the college administrative council were introduced by Reverend Dr. Jule Ayers. An assemblage of more than 150 persons witnessed the presentation.

You’re Invited To Attend
The Winter Carnival

CAR CARAVAN LEAVES PARRISH HALL PARKING LOT AT 9:00 A.M.

Much work has gone into planning this Winter Carnival for Wilkes students and their guests. In order to avoid embarrassment to individuals or the Student Body, your Student Government requests that the following be strictly observed by everyone:

Under NO circumstances will beer, wine or liquor be brought on the premises. The proprietors of this line have received orders from their intentions to police and to eject violators of this rule. Students can readily appreciate Student Government’s responsibility in this area.

It is expected that students will respect the privacy of Pocono Mountain Inn.

Needless to say, because of some unpleasant circumstances at Winter Carnival, students are pointedly advised that their conduct this year will largely determine whether this affair will remain on the social calendar in the future.
