Misericordia Theatre 3 Presents Final Show; Ballet to Be Featured

by Steve Cooney

The third and final production of College Misericordia's "Theatre 3" series will be presented in the Irem Temple Monday evening at 8 p.m.

"Theatre 3" is an organization founded by the college to import to the Valley programs of cultural interest that would not ordinarily be available locally. Monday evening's program will be Ruth Page's Chicago Opera Ballet, starring Melissa Hayden, prima ballerina on leave from the New York City Ballet Theatre. The ballet troupe travels with its own orchestra, scenery, and costumes, and they are currently on a cross-country tour with their elaborate production.

There will be no general admission tickets sold for this one-day program. Tickets were originally sold in a block of three for the entire series at an economical rate, but reserved seats may be acquired by calling the "Theatre 3" office at College Misericordia.

Cherry Tree Chop Next Friday Night

by Ralph Price

Next Friday night the Letterman's Club will sponsor the Cherry Tree Chop. Admission for the affair is fifty cents, and the dancing will be from nine to twelve. Music will be supplied by records.

One of the many interesting features of the affair will be the log-sawing contest. In this contest Dr. Farley and Dean Ralston will defend their title against two students. Two years ago Dr. Farley and Dean Ralston won the contest. They did not compete last year, but they are still considered the champions.

Another faculty member, Dr. Michelini, will defend his championship in the cherry pie-eating contest. This contest holds particular interest because Dr. Michelini has never been defeated in this event.

This dance, as you may have guessed, is being held in commemoration of the birth of George Washington. Its many points of interest should assure a good time to all those in attendance.

Romantic Theme For Sweetheart Prom; Color, Music Combine To Set Scene

Dean Hawkins To Speak Here

Hampton Institute Dean
Featured at Next Assembly

by Frances Olack

Next Tuesday the guest speaker in the student assembly will be Thomas Hawkins, Dean of Men at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia. Since next week is Brotherhood Week, Dean Hawkins will deal in his speech with this theme.

Dean Hawkins, a native of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is a graduate of Howard University and served as assistant dean at that institution. For many years he has maintained his present position at Hampton Institute, which is one of the oldest colleges for Negroes and ranks second to none in academic reputation among Negro colleges.

Dean Hawkins is known for his outstanding achievements with students in the area of development of integrity and character. He is an associate of the great clergyman, Howard Thurman. He is also a close personal friend of our own Dean Ralston.

Each year the students at Wilkes and Hampton have exchange visits. It was because of the fine impression Dean Hawkins made upon Wilkes students during this annual visit that he was invited to speak to our assembly. The public is invited to attend.

Debaters at King's; Four-Man Team Entered In Garvey Tournament

by Jay Olexy

A four-man debate team consisting of Barry O'Connell, Brent O'Connell, Frank Riofski, and Jerry Kulesa is slated to represent Wilkes in this weekend's Garvey Memorial Debating Tournament sponsored by King's College.

This is the 10th consecutive year that the King's tourney tourney is being held, and a total of 39 teams from the eastern part of the U.S. will take part in the two day event ending tomorrow evening.

The tournament was recently named in honor of Vincent Garvey, Jr., former King's debater from Forty Fort, who was killed in an airplane crash a few years past while serving in the U.S. Navy. Garvey was also president of the Debate Union at King's.

The King's debaters will be after their second consecutive victory this year after having taken first place in last week's Johns Hopkins Tournament, at which Wilkes also participated.

At the Johns Hopkins Tournament, the Wilkes team of Frank Riofski and Roberta Feinstein finished with a record of two wins and four losses. They defeated Rosemont and Lehigh while bowing to King's, Dartmouth, Johns Hopkins, and Rochester. This was Riofski's first intercollegiate varsity debate since joining the team last November.

The overall team record for this year now stands at nine wins and four losses.

Men Receive Gifts At Leap Year Dance; Queen in Spotlight

by Mary Frances Barone

Timid pink, American Beauty red, and Persian melon will dominate the scene of tonight's Sweetheart Formal, the annual Valentine dance sponsored by Theta Delta Rho. An imported wrought iron love seat surrounded by flowers, will be in the center of the floor. Dreamy mood music, provided by Herbie Green and his orchestra, will complete the romantic effect of the theme.

Mary Ellen Zwiebel, chairman of the favors committee, has announced that there will be a surprise for the escorts. In following with the tradition of leap year, the boys will be given favors. Special decorations will be present on the tables for the belles of the ball.

General chairman Marty Menegus is being assisted in this affair by Nancy Palazzolo, chairman of the heart committee. Nancy has been selling hearts on campus engraved with the names of each couple attending the formal.

Among the other chairmen of the dance is Emille Roat, who is in charge of the ceiling decorations. She has selected a three-tone color scheme for the ceiling; Nancy Tinklepaugh, who is chairman of the backdrop, is keeping the theme of the scene a secret; Peggy Churchill is the chairman of lobby decorations. Doris Gademan is acting as decoration co-ordinator and will blend all the decorations, while Ann Curley is taking care of the table decorations.

Other assistants for the semi-formal are Leona Baiera, tickets; Judy Powell, refreshments; and Betsy Tubridy, invitations and chaperones. The chaperones are Miss Cole and Dr. Jessee.

During the intermission, the Sweetheart Queen will be selected. Miss Cole will draw the winning ticket for the selection of the Queen. College dignitaries will present gifts to the chosen Queen.

Tickets will be sold at the door, and the price of admission is $3.00 per couple. Dancing will be from 9 to 12. No corsages are necessary.

School Spirit Discusses Book, Spring Weekend

by Wayne Thomas

The sale of booster ads to aid the Amnicola was among the topics discussed at the School Spirit Committee meeting on Tuesday. Anyone desiring to be a yearbook booster may do so by presenting his name to a member of the School Spirit Committee or to a member of the Amnicola staff, together with a fee of $1.00.

Plans for Spring Weekend were also discussed at the meeting. The committee is recommending to the Student Government that the Spring Weekend be held on the weekend of May 6 or May 13. Numerous suggestions for parties, a picnic, and a parade were discussed as well as plans to possibly hold it in conjunction with the Cinderella Ball.

The next School Spirit Committee meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 23, at 6:30 p.m. on the second floor of the Bookstore.

Evaluation Team Visits School, Random Interviews of Students

Wilkes College faculty and students will act as hosts to an evaluation team from the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools during the first three days of next week. The purpose of the program is to secure a constructive and objective picture of the College and to seek to discover ways and means by which the total effectiveness of the institution can be improved.

The visit is the logical climax to a year and one half of effort on the part of the faculty, alumni, and students to try to assess the worth of the College and to discover both its strong and weak points. Our efforts will now be supplemented and strengthened by the observations and recommendations of representatives from other colleges and universities.

Dr. Frank Piskor, Vice-President for Academic Affairs, of Syracuse University, will serve as chairman of the visiting delegation. Among the other collegiate institutions represented on the twelve man team will be Cornell, University of Rochester, St. Lawrence University, Niagara University, Queens College, Morgan State College, and Houghton College. There will also be representation from the State Department of Public Instruction. A further characteristic of the team is that it is composed of trained and experienced specialists in college affairs such as librarians, business managers, deans of instruction, presidents, and professors.

During the three day period all aspects of Wilkes College will come under the observation of the evaluation team. Classrooms and laboratories will be visited; individual students and faculty members will be interviewed; meetings will be held with such diverse groups as the Student Government, the Administrative Council, and academic departments; the library, the dormitories, and other physical facilities will be evaluated; and the general policies and procedures of the College will be subject to close scrutiny.

An evaluation represents a cooperative effort on the part of the member colleges of the Middle States Association to improve the quality and effectiveness of American institutions of higher education. Each member of the Association secures the advantages of such a study by colleagues from other colleges to assist in every ten years, and this stimulus serves to keep the institution from becoming static and complacent.

Membership in the Association is also a symbol of stature and acceptability among American colleges, and such membership is not granted until the particular school has proven its merits to the satisfaction of its fellow institutions. Membership is also of great importance to the students of a college because acceptance into graduate school, job opportunities, and transfer to other colleges is facilitated by such recognition.

Wilkes College has had the distinction and advantage of continued accreditation by the Middle States Association since its very earliest days as a junior college. George Elliot, chairman of the faculty evaluation committee, stated yesterday in an interview: "We anticipate the visit of Dr. Piskor and his associates with great interest and enthusiasm. We feel that much constructive progress has already been accomplished by the work we have done in our self-evaluation project, and we believe that further benefits will certainly come from observations and recommendations of the visiting team. I am certain that all of us will display the traditional hospitality of Wilkes College and that we will be honest and sincere in all of our individual dealings with the visitors. If we proceed in our daily activities in the same natural and unaffected way as we always do and if we indicate a genuine interest in the affairs of Wilkes Col-

About Evaluation

The presence of the Middle States evaluation team on campus next week (see story, p. 1) is not an invasion by a Gestapo group, nor does it suggest the students may use the group as means of "fixing somebody's wagon." These educators will be here to take an objective look at the College, its policies, activities, personnel, and other factors which total up to the concept of a college.

Not a "final exam" or any other type of competition for which a relative grade is awarded, this visit will point out the areas where improvement is needed and will reveal other areas where this institution has achieved notable standing.

When the evaluators approach students, they will question them about normal, routine affairs and they should be answered in a frank, but objectively truthful manner. This is not an opportunity to complain needlessly about fancied injustices, but a good chance for serious-minded students to help a group of professional educators arrive at opinions which may well turn out to be beneficial to Wilkes.

Number 50,000

A milestone of sorts was reached recently in the College library when volume number 50,000 was recorded. Its appearance was unobtrusive enough as Mrs. Thom, one of the library assistants, slipped the book in under Mr. Ermel's eyes. Under the pretense that something was amiss with the machine which records each new acquisition, she was able to secure Mr. Ermel's aid. When he had stamped the volume, his face lit up as he saw the string of zeroes marking the occasion. No special celebration occurred, the workers just went on about their duties. Approximately 70 books each week are processed in this manner, we are pleased to see this growth.

Your Yearbook in Difficulty

Our sister publication, the Ammicola, is having its troubles this year. Actually, they have only one serious problem — money. Their method of overcoming this deficit is simple and effective. They hope that by the sale of "booster" or patron advertising, they will be able to give you what you would like to see, the best yearbook in the history of Wilkes. It's not impossible, nor is the help of the staff seeks unreasonable. For one dollar, the patron's name is listed in the patron section.

Special five dollar patron ads will also be taken. Organizations are asked to take ads as a sort of "thank you" for their places in the yearbook. This is not to be construed as "payola" to the Ammicola. Rather, it should be seen as a good chance for campus groups to come to the aid of another; especially one whose finished product is a lasting memento of college days.

The School Spirit Committee is taking active part in soliciting these ads. Your ad will be taken by Doris Gademan or Jim Stephens, or by any member of the committee.

Anniversary Wishes

The unofficial School of Journalism for our Beacon staff is located in the heart of town, at Schmidt's Printery. The proprietor of the establishment, Stanley E. "Pop" Schmidt, has spent over a half-century in the printing business. For a good many years, he and his two sons, Leo and Ed, have nursed the Beacon along.

Next week, "Pop" will enjoy a double celebration when he marks his 48th wedding anniversary on Valentine's Day, February 14, and his 70th birthday anniversary two days later. The entire staff of the Beacon joins in wishing "Pop" and his wife many more happy years as well as expressing our sincere and grateful thanks for a practical education.

Silver Opinion Contest Awards

During the months of February and March, Reed & Barton, silver-smiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which scholarship awards totalling $2050 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities.

Eyeglass Campaign Extended by Econ. Club; Hailed as Big Success

by Wayne Thomas

The Economics Club has extended its eyeglass drive another week in order to accommodate students who wish to make further contributions to the collection. The campaign, which began about one month ago, has been highly successful on campus. The collections were made through the use of collection boxes placed at strategic points on campus.

The glasses will be sent to the "New Eyes for the Needy" organization in Shorthills, New Jersey, where they will be processed and given to needy individuals.

The eyeglass collection throughout the community which has been made simultaneously with the campus drive has also been extended.

There Is An Answer

by Michael Bianco and Gordon Roberts

Khrushchev is trying to bluff America and the free world into co-existence with the threat of nuclear war. Recently the Soviet head denounced the stand taken by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on co-existence, German unification, and West German nuclear re-armament. Adenauer was smeared because he is the number one enemy of the Communists and clearly sees the issues facing Western Germany and the free world today.

The Communists attempted to create a crisis situation by placing extreme pressure upon the West to recognize the East German government and to unify Germany under quasi-Soviet terms. To this end, the Communist underground inspired anti-Semitic demonstrations in several West German cities. The whole strategy was to arouse resentment against Adenauer and his government, thereby threatening stability both within and outside of Western Germany.

More recently, Khrushchev called Adenauer "another Hitler," an aggressor and a foe of peaceful co-existence. Khrushchev went on to say that the Chancellor was a tyrant and a man who, if unchecked, will become another dictator just like Hitler. Khrushchev fails to see that the Communist drive for power is more tyrannical and dictatorial than the worst shades of Hitler's era.

It is no accident that the Communist Party has made Adenauer the target of their attack, nor is it an accident that 200,000 magazines and newspapers are distributed three times a month in Western Germany by the Soviet Embassy.

The Central Intelligence Agency reported that the East German government spends close to twenty million dollars per year on Communist propaganda. This divisive propaganda is sent to West Germany in the form of magazines, newspapers, radio and television broadcasts. East German television stations have "adopted" the same channel as the West German stations so that viewers in the West receive East German transmissions. By 1964, forty-four more transmitters will be built to advance the range of the East German broadcasts. The Communists know they have a free hand because they jam our broadcasts while we allow their programs to pass freely to the West.

Adenauer is the bulwark that Communists are striving to destroy. He had ideological clarity which is the real force against the spread of Communist ideals. Chancellor Adenauer said in the New York Journal-American recently: "Moral Re-Armament has given most valuable stimulation to uniting Europe. Unless this work (MRA) is carried forward, peace in the world cannot be maintained. MRA has become a household word in post-war Germany."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer needs the support of the United States and the free world — the defense of Western Europe is at stake. For the Communists have an ideological commitment — world domination. Unfortunately the West is still groping for one. If you do not believe me you might heed the words of Admiral Seaton and Admiral Standley, former Chief of Naval Operations and the United States Ambassador to Moscow: "The choice for America is Moral Re-Armament of Com-

Lockerroom Chatter

by RAY YANCHUS, Sports Editor

Wilkes College basketball fans are seeing an unprecedented record being established this season on the local hardwoods. For the first time in the annals of Wilkes basketball there will be two players finishing the season and their careers with more than 1,000 in their kitties. Guard George Gacha, an outstanding performer for the Colonels for four years, became the third player to turn the trick when he registered his 1,000 point in the Dickinson game last month. Gacha now stands at a total of 1163 tallies for his career. He started the season with 881 in the till and has scored 282 to date in the 1959-60 campaign.

The other player in line to join the ranks of the record book makers is Bernie Radecki, 6' 2" forward from Ashley. Radecki has accumulated a total of 987 points over his four-year stint on the cager squad, needing only 13 more to put him into the select group. Tomorrow night very well could be the time when a new record is made at Wilkes as the basketball team plays Elizabethtown. Radecki has been put on the draft list of the Eastern Professional League and has received letters from several teams in the league, the last being from the Wilkes-Barre Barons who are claiming him as a territorial draft choice.

By the way, the two other players to score over a 1,000 points in their Wilkes careers were Len Batrone who holds the all-time record with 1690 and George Morgan who turned the trick in three years to finish around the 1,100 mark.

Basketball never knew better days at the college than the enthusiasm accorded the team by the local crowd during the last two home games. During the Lafayette game the entire gym actually rose as a body and screamed wildly as the home team tied the mighty Leopards, 40-40. Ah, sweet music! Then to prove that this outburst was not a freak occurrence a throng of senior boys led by the one and only Dick Salus showed up at the Scranton game with bells and a big bass drum. The spirit of this group seemed to spread to the confines of the entire gym and the place was throbbing throughout the evening. Who said that spirit was dead at Wilkes?

The persons most pleased with the added spirit shown in the past week, if you care to ask them, are the players themselves. Call it what you like — psychological effect, playing for the grandstand, or school spirit — but the team, or any team for that matter, seems to function better when they know that the people present are interested, truly concerned with the final outcome.

Defeat at a time like this seems to hang a 1,000 times heavier and no one wishes to avoid this situation more than the players or participants who are the center of attraction. To the victors belong the spoils, the teams want the spoils just as the fans do and the spoils come a lot faster and easier when there is cooperation. Remember that word — COOPERATION! It may hold the key to the future sports at this college.

Swimmers, Matmen, Cagers See Action at Home Saturday

Mermen Meet MSC; Suffer Loss at ESSC, Protest Lycoming 'Win'

by Donald B. Hancock

The swimming team begins a full day of sports activity for Wilkes tomorrow when they meet Millersville State College at 2 p.m. at the YMCA pool.

Millersville sports an early season victory over Lycoming and as a result of the splashers' close match with the Warriors last Saturday there is an indication of stiff competition in tomorrow's dual.

Last Wednesday the Wilkes swimming team lost its opening meet of the season to an overpowering East Stroudsburg State College team by a score of 61 to 32 in the victors' pool. The mermen's efforts to give Coach Pinkowski a victory in their first meet under him were thwarted by the strong East Stroudsburg team.

Carl "Ironman" Havira, the only triple winner of the day, turned in the outstanding performance of the meet as he took first place in the 200 yard individual medley, 200 yard butterfly, and the 200 yard breaststroke events.

Art Eckhart accounted for six points as he captured second places in the 50 and the 100 yard freestyle events. Shovlin and Bender hauled in four points as they took second and third places respectively in the 220 yard freestyle. Gerry Mohn accounted for three additional points for Wilkes as he took second place in diving. Pat Shovlin took third in the 200 yard backstroke and in the next event, the 440 yard freestyle Bender took second to gain three more points for Wilkes.

Defeat Lycoming

Saturday the Wilkes swimming team traveled to Williamsport and there defeated the Warriors of Lycoming College in a meet, the results of which are being protested by Wilkes to the Middle Atlantic Conference.

The protest arose with the disqualification of both teams in the 400 yard freestyle relay and the official's decision to have the event swam again.

The Colonels swam the event again and lost it. However, as far as Wilkes is concerned, it won the meet by a score of 44 to 39, protesting the last relay.

Again, "Hummer" Havira was the outstanding performer of the day as he hauled in fifteen points through his efforts. Pat Shovlin and Art Eckhart accounted for six points each; Gerry Mohn, five; Bender and Rolfe, four each; Hungartner, two; and Lesiuk and Donn, one point each.

Lycoming, F & M Out to End Streak

by George Tensa

After highly successful exhibition ventures to West Point and University of Pennsylvania, the Wilkes wrestlers return home for their scheduled dual matches against Lycoming and Franklin and Marshall. The Colonel matmen meet an undefeated Lycoming squad tomorrow night as the curtain-raiser of the twin bill and then engage the ever-strong F&M grapplers at 7 o'clock in a dual meet on Wednesday.

The Lycoming Warriors come to Wilkes with an unblemished record and an urge to "dump" the defending MAC champions. They are led by 137-lb. Harry Romig, outstanding wrestler in last year's MAC tournament, who returns to action for the first time this season. Bob Pak, MAC champ at 147 lbs., is lost to the school for the remaining part of the season because of academic difficulties.

The F&M squad features 123-lb. co-captain Cleon Cassel who is undefeated this season in seven matches and 147-lb. grappler Neil DeLozier who has compiled a 6-1 record season.

The squad has a five win, two loss record with impressive victories over Harvard, Princeton, and VMI. Their losses have been to Springfield College and Syracuse University.

Hofstra is the only common foe on the Lycoming schedule and the Warriors ran roughshod over the Hofstra matmen, 28-7. F&M and Wilkes have no common foe but, as usual, both matches should really be the top wrestling matches of the year.

Blitzkriegs in First; Lewis Leads Parade Of High Games with 611

by John Nork

The Smashers' short-lived stand in first place ended Sunday night as they went in defeat, 3-1, at the hands of the Blitzkriegs. The victory put the Blitzkriegs into first place, and put the Smashers into a second place tie with the Gutterdusters.

The Pinbusters started their road to revenge after suffering a humiliating clean sweep defeat a week ago. They took 3 points from the Kingpins. Other action saw the Gutterdusters and Flatballs in an even split, 2-2.

The second half must have some added charm attached to it because there are some interesting scores being turned out. Bill Watkins is a fine example with his 224-551 for his victorious Blitzkriegs. Fred Jacoby, 192-522, was second high for his team. John Sapiego was high man for the losing Smashers with a 192-527. Aid in vain was given by Mark Adelson, 168-449.

The last place Kingpins saw their duo from Nanticoke, Adam Gajewski and Jerry Kulesa, roll a 194-482, 179-449, respectively. The Pinbusters' usual supporters, Emil Petrsek and Dave Sokira, came

Hoopsters Face E-town; Host Lycoming on Wed., Score Win Over Rutgers

A revitalized and impressive Wilkes College basketball team plays host to Elizabethtown College tomorrow night in the second part of a wrestling-basketball doubleheader to be held at the college gym. Game time is slated for 8:30.

The Colonels who have been just short of spectacular in their last four games will be seeking victory number eight for the season and their third win in a row, following triumphs over Scranton and Rutgers of South Jersey.

Elizabethtown comes to Wilkes with a 4-8 record not including two games played earlier this week and have lost their last 5 games.

The Blue Jays will be without the services of their number one scorer, freshman Bill Bechtold from Jim Thorpe, Pa., who was forced out of competition for the remainder of the season because of academic difficulties. Bechtold was averaging 16.6 points per game.

Scoring duties for the Blue Jays will fall on the next two point-getters in the starting lineup, co-captains Bob Geiger, averaging 16.1 per game, and Glenn Bruckhart with an 11.2 mark through the first 11 games.

Last year Wilkes lost to Elizabethtown, 84-79.

Wednesday night Coach Davis' cagers will be part of another doubleheader when they meet the Lycoming Warriors in a return contest on the home hardwoods.

The Colonels were victorious against the Warriors early in the season when they won at Williamsport, 70-64.

Saturday's Results

The cagers produced their second consecutive victory and the third win in the last four games when they beat Rutgers of South Jersey last Saturday, 88-73, at Camden, New Jersey.

Wilkes led throughout the contest and sported a 13-point lead at half-time.

Big Bernie Kosch was high man for the Colonels as he collected 6 field goals and 7 fouls for a total of 19 points. Kosch also gathered in 12 rebounds in a fine display of backboard work.

Bernie Radecki was second in scoring honors with 17 markers and led all rebounders with a total of 16 for the game.

George Gacha, senior co-captain of the squad, was named to last week's starting all-star team for small colleges on the east coast. The honor is awarded each week by the ECAC. Gacha scored a total of 67 points in three games to pace the nominees on the team. He also had 10 rebounds. Gacha was the second Wilkes player to be named to the ECAC squad this season. Bernie Radecki grabbed the laurels last month.

through again with a 180-518 and 187-516.

As a further example of fine performances and scores, Dan Lewis topped a 212-611. Incidentally Lewis had two two-hundred games Sunday. Bernie Shupp of Chem Club fame registered a 210-513 for his Gutterdusters. Jerry Chisarick sparked his Flatballs with a 202-596. Chisarick also had a pair of two-hundred games. Dick Barber helped his Flatballs with a 166-488.

Repeating his triple win in the Lycoming meet, "the Hummer" took the 160 yard individual medley, 200 yard butterfly, and 200 yard breaststroke.

A stalwart of the swimming team since the sport was reorganized on the intercollegiate level here at Wilkes three years ago, Carl is captain of this year's team.

On February 3, the team met defeat at the hands of Marywood, 50-33, and on February 6, Marywood won again, 45-37.

I-M. BASKETBALL

by Thomas Evans

Action reached a fever pitch this week in intramural basketball as the Rowdies strengthened their hold on the top spot in the National League, while the American loop was thrown into a practical four-way tie by the defeat of Gore Hall.

A good team effort led the Kookies to an upset win over Gore Hall, 54-42. Sharp inside shooting by Frank Smith who was high scorer with 20, aided by the fine playmaking of Walt Ciolek and Tom Evans were featured by the Kookies.

Barre Hall moved into a tie for first place by winning two games. On Tuesday they squeezed past Warner Hall, 42-35. Hunt with 14 and Budd with 13 led Barre while Chew was high for Warner with 12.

Ashley gained a tie for first place by downing the Globetrotters in a surprisingly close contest, 48-42. Al Schneider, former Wilkes jayvee ace, led Ashley with 19.

Warner came through with their first win of the season as they crushed Butler, 49-21. Chew and Pappucci with 12 were high for Butler while Guitteg had 15 for Warner.

In the National League the Rowdies continued to roll toward the championship by smearing the Rejects and the Scorpions. Big Frank Spudis with 21 and fearsome Fred Williams with 13 led the Rowdies to a 62-44 win over the Rejects.

The Sidewinders took sole possession of second place by beating the Hot Rods, 67-55. John Matthey continued his league-leading scor-
