Debate Team
To Go to Brooklyn
After Initial Success

by Frances Olack

The debating team, coached by Dr. Arthur Conyngham, participated in the tenth annual Garvey Invitational Debate Tournament at King's College on February 12 and 13. The members of the Wilkes squad were: Affirmative: Barry O'Connell and Jerry Krause; negative: Brent and Francis Rinfski. This team is, in reality, a novice team, and this was their first varsity debate. The team compiled a 6-4 record, and placed eighth in a field of 33 teams. The affirmative team emerged victorious over NYU, St. John's, and Brooklyn College, and lost to Villanova and Georgetown. The negative team beat NYU, St. John's, and Marywood, and succumbed to Dartmouth and Scranton University.

The trophy is donated annually by Tom Fryman in memory of Vincent D. Garvey, Jr., Forty Fort, former King's debater and Navy ensign, who lost his life in the crash of a Navy plane several years ago. This year the event was won by St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia.

The next scheduled tournament in which a Wilkes team will be entered will be at Brooklyn College. Dr. Kruger emphasizes the fact that there are still openings for students interested in trying out will be welcomed. The national topic is: "That in the House Should Have The Power To Reverse Decisions Of The Supreme Court."

At Tuesday's Assembly

Class meetings scheduled for Tuesday have been canceled. A regular assembly will take place at the gymnasium sponsored by the Development Office of the college to familiarize the student body with the proposal of new athletic facilities.

Russell Picton, head of the Development Office will be in charge of the program and will be assisted by Mr. John Rees, Director of Athletics, and Dean George Ralston.

These members of the school administration will discuss in full detail what program is planned for the future use of the site in question. Slides will be shown to the proposals and facilities tentatively planned as part of the athletic plant of the college.

A question and answer period will follow the presentation of the program in which the students can approach the administration and gain a clearer idea of what the college expects to accomplish with the new addition.

$270,000 DEVELOPMENT DRIVE BEGUN

Last Monday night, the $270,000 three-phase Development Campaign of Wilkes College was inaugurated at a dinner in Hotel Sterling. The three phases include a fund to build additional facilities to train students in a graduate program of chemistry and physics. This is in connection with RCA's movement into the Valley.

Russell Picton, director of the campaign, indicated that the first phase of the drive was to acquire more funds to cover an estimated need of $250,000.

“Death of a Salesman”,

by Cynthia Hagley

Death of a Salesman, starring Frederic March, will be presented Thursday at 8 p.m. in the McCollum Gym. The show will cost 60 cents. During intermission at the film showing desserts will be served without charge.

The film society has had a good response to its ticket sale this semester. If the total program proves successful, there is a possibility that it could be a fall and spring semester project.

Deadline Moved Up

The Manuscript executive board has announced that the deadline for manuscripts to be submitted to the literary magazine is now February 28. All college students are encouraged to submit original literature, art, and music works.

They may also submit any term papers or other works which have been used in any course. The faculty members are urged to recommend submission of any papers which they have seen in the course of the last semester, and which they think would be of interest to the whole student body. Contributions to The Manuscript are not expected to be submitted.
Praise for a Change

We are accustomed to criticize each week when our edition reaches our public. Sometimes socially, frequently churlishly, often helpful, these criticisms point out to us our weaknesses and aid us in trying to improve our newspaper.

However, last week's issue, despite a glaring typographical error in the headline of the main story, brought praise for a change, and from an unexpected source. Remarking on our page one stories on our page one stories on King's and Misericordia activities, the Times-Leader Evening News, on Monday, said an editorial:

In promoting two major activities of Misericordia and King's, the official publication of Wilkes demonstrated the good relations that exist among the three higher institutions of learning. The development is as reassuring as it is stimulating.

This is not to imply a lack of school spirit. There is plenty of that and room for team work as well, as there is no conflict between friendly rivalry and neighborhood. Each has its place.

We are pleased that the editorial writer of the local newspaper has understood our intentions so clearly. We have always felt that the insane and childish refusal to recognize the existence of neighboring colleges is folly. Most of the remonstrations which formerly existed, especially between Wilkes and King's, stemmed from ill-considered, fancied injuries dating back to the days of sibling competition between the two. Relations with College Misericordia have always been cordial, including the athletic relationships between the Back Mountain College and our own girls' basketball squad.

We have often felt that a resumption of athletic competition between King's and Wilkes would be desirable, enjoyable, reasonably peaceful, and even profitable. The debate teams compete, the Student Government of both Colleges enjoy joint meetings and discussion groups, the Chemical Societies have particularly gratifying co-operation, and there is talk of the newly formed, fraternal and unofficious bowling team meeting King's bowlers in match game competition.

All these, viewed in retrospect, may be seen as "ice-breaking" co-operation in an inevitable direction towards resumption of other cooperation. Why? Perhaps, but the mind fairly reels at the possibilities of a King's-Wilkes football game for a Homecoming weekend for either or both colleges. We will continue to cherish this dream. If we can provide more evidence of friendly relations through our journalistic efforts, in addition to continuing friendly contacts in other areas, we will be quick to emphasize that evidence and make it public.

We hardly propose that such a revolution take place overnight, but we like the idea. Many people in the area like it, too. It's really not a bad idea.

There Is An Answer

by Michael Bianco and Gordon Roberts

LEST WE FORGET

"Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensably supported... it is that virtue of mankind which is necessary to government."

A global answer is being sought to a global problem. Recently in Kerala, India a fierce election battle took place between the Communists and the non-Communists for government control. The non-Communist faction won with Mannath Padmanabhan elected to head the Kerala government.

Mannath Padmanabhan, the man most responsible for the triumph of the Democratic forces over the Communists in the South India state of Kerala, said after his election to office, "The ideas of Moral Re- Armament inspired the victory." He urgently called for the sending to Kerala of an MRA ideological force to consolidate the victory.

The 88-year old leader of the united front said in a cable to Dr. Frank Buchman, initiator of the Moral Re-Armament: "We thank God for the democratic victory, yet the results indicate the Communist fortresses have not been pierced through. Ideological clarity alone can rout the tanker. We are grateful for the idea of Moral Re-Armament which inspired us to victory. MRA is needed more than ever to answer Communism completely by demonstrating a superior ideology available to all and winning men to God-inspired democracy."

By popular vote last week the people of Kerala, the former Communist ruled state, rejected Communism and put in power a united front of democratic parties. Five months ago, after the 28-month old Communist government was removed from office by President Frazad of India, Padmanabhan, who had headed the liberation movement, brought leaders of the bitterly divided religious and political factions to the MRA conference in Switzerland. There they found the unity and the ideological task force to Japan as an all-Japan tour. Kishi, you recall, signed a mutual defense pact with the United States and was received much opposition for this political-economic move. The Prime Minister would like to solidify his position against subversive elements by inviting an MRA task force to Japan at the appropriate time.

Kerala and Japan will determine whether Communism advances in highly literate and religious states or falls by the wayside as an outdated ideology as it has for the present in each of these states.

Student Gov't Invites I.C.G. Case; Will Meet with P.M.I. Officials
by Steve Cooney

Representative of the campus I.C.G. club asked the Student Government to reconsider its decision to deprive the club of its legislative status. He said that the move was taken in an effort to provide curbstoners at the organization's recent Friday night dance.

At this week's Student Government meeting, President Gordon Roberts, along with Dick Barnes and Mike Armstrong, will meet this Sunday with officials of the Pocono Mountain League to discuss the damages caused by members of the student body at the recent Winter Carnival.

The calendar committee reported that a new, centralized calendar for all school activities has been completed and that all campus organizations may find these calendars through a designated office and at Dean Raftoz's secretary's office. The freshest changes for the campus dates from May 6 to June 26. The May 6 date is now open, any interested club may send in a written application to obtain this date.

L.C.G. to Attend Regional and Distant Conventions in Future
by Steve Cooney

The college chapter of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government is making preliminary plans for two conventions scheduled for the near future.

A regional convention will be held at Marywood College on March 6, to make final arrangements for the state nominating convention which will be in April.

The state convention will be held in Harrisburg and this year will be geared to a mock presidential nominating assembly. Various chapters will support a candidate for the presidency. Caucus and balloting will be employed just as in a political nominating convention, the only difference being that this will be a two-party convention.

At the Marywood meeting the regional chapters will also run through a mock convention to get acquainted with the methods and various procedures.

It is interesting to note that as the 1956 assembly Wilkes' delegation backed Adlai Stevenson who later won the Democratic nomination. The college group sent a telegram to Stevenson and, he later mentioned this fact, quite happily, at a political rally on Public Square.

The L.C.G. club hopes to finance these convention trips by holding a candy sale for Easter.

"Some of today's movies should be pitied rather than censored," said Anna Herbert.

“Cherry Tree Chop” Tonight Seeks Champs In Log-Sawing Test
by Patsy Ross

Dr. Eugene S. Farley and Dean Raftoz were quite happy about the current new arrivals in a cherry pie-eating contest.

The fact that Dr. Farley and Dean Raftoz were not to compute last year is of no consequence because they won the contest two years ago. The group is still considered the champions.

Another championship will be defended tonight when Dr. Michelin takes special apparatus in a cherry pie-eating contest. This event is of particular interest because Dr. Michelin has been defeated.

The occasion for all of this meriment is in order. The Cherry Tree Chop which is being sponsored by the Letterman's Club. The dance is being held to commemorate the birthday of George Washington. For the small fee of 26.95 cents, you can dance to the dreamy music of records from nine to twelve and you can witness the exciting intermission events.

Why Use Eye Drops?

Though drops are essential in good eye care, few people understand the benefits they bring.

Eye drops are often the key to the prevention of blindness and even to the saving of the eye itself. The drop's ability to counteract or prevent defects, the group pointed out, does not cause any marked discomfort.

This information comes from a well-known eye physician, and a member of the conservation of vision committee of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Ophthalmics.

Dr. Hunt advises people to use his eye drops, one eye at a time, for a year for an eye checkup, just as they see their family doctor only once a year for a checkup for general dental attention. This is because an eye physician can often tell whether trouble is brewing in the eye before the signs of a serious disease are apparent.

A trained eye physician can detect, during the examination of the eye grounds, the beginning of many common diseases of the eye. Also, the eye is far enough advanced to be cured by medical means. He does this simply by dropping medicine called a mydriatic into the eye, which will dilate the pupil and permits the doctor to see the entire back of the eye and to see whether diabetes, hardening of the arteries, blood thinning, glaucoma, or other eye illnesses are presented.

Primary medical treatment or the eye is the removal of foreign bodies, to test for fungus infections, to treat the friction of the eyes, especially in the young, or to make the pupil small and lessen tension within the eye. Sometimes the physician uses an anesthetic to make the treatment a little easier for the eye.

Cagers Face Drexel; Extend Win Streak to 4 With Lynching Victory

The Colonels made it four in a row and five in their last six games when they knocked off Drexel, 70-61, Saturday. Bernie Reese, drink Director of Gacha, made a technical for the Colonels in the final seconds, and then both teams left the court to an ovation.

George Gacha led all scorers with 22 points on 11 field goals, 14 treys, and 6 free throws. Bernie Radecki added 16 points and pulled in 12 rebounds. They were joined in scoring by 15 marksmen, 9 in the first half.

The basketball team enjoys a week's vacation as the men rest up for the final drive of the season starting with Drexel Institute of Technology on Wednesday. The game will be played in Philadelphia with starting time listed for 8:30.”

The Colonels dropped behind 14-7 in the first half left after the Drexel contest and play their last home game next Saturday against Wilkes. This will be the first meeting with the Wilkes Colleens in the eight years of Colonels' competition with other southern division team the college has played.

Drexel has been in a nipp and tuck battle with the southern division with Urisan record. They took over the top rung last week to the Colonels cents three victor-ies to move into first place with a 6-2 record in conference. However, the Dragons were beaten in their last contest by Lebanon Valley, 74-64.

Wilkes dropped a 77-73 game to the Lebanon Valley, early this season. On Saturday, Bob Morgan, junior guard, leads the Dragons in scoring with an 18 point average per game, while junior forward, Rich Milner, is hitting the drive of the year this season.

Saturday’s Results

On Saturday the Colonels won their third game in a row as they scored a 96-73 victory over Elisabeth.

Lewis Leads Keglers

In Win Over Penn State; Meet Bloom Sunday

Dan Lewis led the bowling team in a close, 41-pin win over the Penn State Colleens Center Wednesday night at Lipsi Lanes. The win completed a sweep for Colonels sports as both wrestlers and cagers won earlier in the evening.

In another squad’s record is now three wins, one loss. The Keglers will be after their fourth win on Sunday at 1, when they meet Bloomburg once more. The match will be held at the Wilkes Colleens Central Lanes. Another match against the Central Lanes is also scheduled for the following Sunday.

Scoring

Wilkes took a bigger finisher on a fine 890 game. Dave Gondziook had 193, Lewis 191, and Bob Martin 186. The Keglers scored a 78-pin finish. “Oaf” Dysh, 187, and Jim Thomas, 182, led the State squad.

State nipped Wilkes in the second game, 196-194, on a fine 78-pin finish. The Wilkes lead. Andy Chervak was top man with 214. The Colonels were led by Jerry Chervak, 191, and Dan Lewis, who rolled 197.

In the final game, State took an early lead and threatened to pass the Colonels, but faltered in the late frames. Wilkes hung on, lost the game by 26 pins, but the early lead was enough for the total win.

Brooke Yeager

scored a 96-73 victory over Elisabeth.

The Colonels were at the top of their game, coming back from an early deficit and making the most of every opportunity. The victory over Elizabethtown was the fourth in a row for the Colonels, who are now 4-1 in conference play.

Summaries

The bowlers were an unofficial team, compete at their own expense against from other colleges, with similar intramural bowling p.r.g. and selected from the various teams that choose its bowlers by taking the top averages in the intramural league. When substitutes are needed, the next man on the list is used.

So far this season, the men have defeated Bloomburg twice, Penn State once and have lost once to Bloomburg. They have rolled a total of 1028 points, for an average 2588.38 per match, or 172.1 per man.

Lewis leads the scorers with 194 average on 2323 pins, has hit 226 for high game and 400 for high series, in his twelve games. Others:

WRESTLERS MEET MORAVIAN TOMORROW

Lockeroom Chatter

by RAY YANCHUS, Sports Editor

Involved last week with the records being set by the wrestling team and the victory streak of the cagers and also the individual records of Yeager, Stauffer, and Antiness along with the 1,000 point totals of Gacha and Radecki, there was an oversight on what the opposite sex of the college probably consider even a bigger event than all the above mentioned items. The girls’ basketball team won their first game in eight years!

Eight years without a drink of water is a long time to be dry and the drink that came to the scrappy bunch of Wilkes cows will finally be entered on the record books. In checking around the college as to when the female set last did win a game, the trigger-sharp brains of the many professors were unable to come up with an answer. Mr. Reese, Director of Athletics, and Dean Ralston, former DA, could not remember when the girls had ever won a game. So there it is the first official basketball win in the history of Wilkes College in girls’ intercollegiate competition.

A salute is appropriate at this time to the coach of the team, Miss Marta Zoolkowki, who is serving her first year as physical instructor of girls’ hygiene and also her initial season as basketball mentor. Miss Zoolkowki has her charges hustling, hustling so much that they drive the varsity team off the hardwoods to hold practice sessions, and who knows with two game remaining on the schedule her coaching may lead to victories that will establish an unbeatable record at Wilkes.

Unbeaten Greyhound Team Boasts 8 Straight Wins; Seeks Revenge, Beat F&M, 17-9, to Stay Unbeaten

by George Tessa

The matmen won their second tough match in less than a week when they defeated a strong Franklin and Marshall squad, 17-9.

The match was closed all the way with F&M jumping off to a 3-0 first period lead before the Colonels’ Vincent Brooke Yeager. Wilkes then went on to check out on Dick Steut- ler’s pin in 4:28.

Girard Sienicki then took a 5-2 decision in the 137-lb. class. Captain Joe Morgan was out, 8-0, but the Colonels won back a 1-2-2 win. Freshman Glenn Bittenhouse was put down on F&M’s captain Skip Taylor, 10-2.

Marv Antiness posted an 11-2 victory to put Wilkes ahead in the match, 14-9. Heavyweight Bob Kennedy put F&M’s captain and final man on the mats for F&M as he beat Cliff McClain, 2-0, to insure the Colonel victory.

Moravian Turnover

The next opponent for the Colonels will be the Moravian “Greyhounds” tomorrow at 4 in the college gym. The Moravian wresting team is coming in with an un- defeated slate in eight starts. Their last loss was a 5-0 defeat at the hands of Wilkes whom they defeated, 24-8. The Colonels defeated the Flying Dutchmen, 23-8, in their previous meet this season.

The Moravian squad will feature six undefeated wrestlers with Bill Rinker, a 148-pounder, as their chief man. Dave Bryan, Greyhound 177-pounder, comes to Wilkes with a 7-1 record including a victory over Dave Miller of Lebanon Valley.

Lycoming Meet

“How beautiful is victory but it is a good day to be at least the attitude of the throng of people who packed the gymnasium and when the score was tied, 11-11, the fever had reached its peak going into the heavyweight bout. Big Bob Sidian, the Colonels’ man, lost little time in bringing the battle to a lull in the third period when he overpowered Wilbur and applied a half-nelson hold for the win and the matmen of the house went wild.

The stories for the fabulous climax was set when the Warrior 177- pounder Bob Jones edged out Bob Morgan from a dead heat tied score. Wilkes hopeful was wrestling in his first college season on the mat as one of the top grappling of the Wilkes bright wrestling future.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK
Bob Sislian Pins Opponent in 2:30 To Give Malmen 16-11 Victory
by George Tessa

Whoever else in what we prize, appears a hero in our eyes! This is the story of Bob Sislian and his dramatic victory against Bob Wilbur, the Lycoming heavyweight, to give the Colonel a much-welcomed 16-11 victory.

Sislian’s win earns him this week’s Athletic Award as the outstanding feat of last week’s sports competition.

With the score tied, 11-11, and the Colonel winning skin hanging in the balance, “Big Bob” went to the mat to oppose John Wilbur, the lumbering Warrior grappler. Bob started fast by taking his opponent down, but being overmatched for victory, he lost Wilbur on a reversal. Sislian quickly got a fast inside switch to regain the top position. With two minutes, thirty seconds gone in the match, Sislian maneuvered the Warrior matman into a half-seasional and set the opponent’s shoulders on the mat to register a pin and win for Coach John Reese’s team.

Bob has been the Colonel heavyweight for the past two years and has always been a winner for the team. Many Gold grappers when a win was needed. A senior Biology major, Bob stands 6’5”, weighs 255 lbs. His match was fought on 215 pounds. The amiable grappler is a graduate of Kingston High School where he was a letterman in track, football, and wrestling. Track was Bob’s big sport in high school as he took the District 11 championship in the shot put.
