Junior Class Event Brings Living Legend Of World-Wide Fame

A living legend, Louis Armstrong, brings his golden horn and gravel voice to the gym tomorrow night for a two-hour jazz concert similar to those he has given before the critics and crowds of every European country. He used his brass to penetrate the "Iron Curtain," making the usual tours with the Moscow crowds on his most recent tour.

The 60-year-old giant of the musical world has been a part of the jazz scene since his teen years, when he played in gin-mills for a dollar a night. He now commands the top dollar wherever he goes and has played before standing-room only crowds since 1926.

When he toured the country in the twenties, he used his fantastic following as he barnstormed his way to fame with his improvisations of long-established hit music. He himself wacked one of Pan A11's top money-makers recorded including: "Shine," "Chittim," "I Don't Want to Settle for Least Love," and of course, his best known, "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Yankie Doodle Dandy

Like so many famous American musicians, he was born on the 4th of July, 1900, in an alley back streets of New Orleans, the birthplace also of jazz. His parents determined to make a musician from his early days and when the decline in jazz of the thirties put other musicians to work in big bands, Armstrong's jazz troupe went even greater in its way. More records and making more money, all put other group in the entertainment world.

No Quotes, Please

Several times a day he is called upon to give quotes, "Satchmo." They used to call him "Uncle Bulwinkle," he says, "then that got changed to Satchelmouth and then shortened to Satch." He adds that "Satchmo" was just a bit of "reverse English." Then the "Satchmo" and "Satch" put Satchmo in quotes, a request no musician can refuse unless honors.

Regardless of this adherence to the style-book, however, all his precise language is replaced by the praise even to the point of outright editorializing in straight news releases— if any such news can possibly be considered "straight news.

Armstrong is so patient, however, and even the wire services, State Department, students of jazz and music are quick to recognize and to give him untainted praise. The State Department, for one, considers him his best agent and at no costs the government.

The late Constant Lambert, distinguished composer, conductor and critic, described him as "the greatest virtuoso of his age." He himself pointed out what can be considered his whole musical philosophy. When asked what he thought of folk music, he replied gently, "Why, Daddy, I don't know no other kind of music but folk music— I ain't never heard a bassoon before.

"Free For All" Starts at Nine

by Mary Frances Barone

The juniors kick off a hectic week with the presentation of "Free For All." As the name would indicate, there is no charge for this affair. Gil Davis, president of the junior class, said the Beasges that the class is standing the expenses of tonight's sports dance so that no economic strain will be put on the students attending tomorrow's jazz concert.

Bob Amey, business education major from Allentown, has announced that the most dances will be provided by John Gavazzi and the Blue Notes.

Audience décor for the dance will follow the boxing theme. There will be a boxing area and dummies in the center of the floor.

During intermission Amey will introduce the exchange students from Hamption Institute. Records of Louis Armstrong will also be played. These records are the disk which will be raffled at the Armstrong jazz concert tomorrow evening.

The following are the chairs assisting Bob Amey: Ann Curley, decorations; Chris Lessom, refreshments; Mike Armstrong, publicity; and Joe Himay, band.

What makes "Satchmo" so appealing? Nobody has been able to put the answer into words, but a lot of happy people will be able to form their own opinions tomorrow night.

Debaters Place Second In Bucknell Tourney

by Patsy Ross

Last Saturday, the debating team traveled to Lewisburg to participate in the 15th Annual Good Neighbor Tournament conducted by Bucknell University. Three members of the team are novices debating in varsity competition. In spite of this, the Wilkes team brought home two individual speakers awards and a second place win based on overall team points.

The affirmative team, consisting of Robert F. Stenett, and Jerome Kraus, compiled 163 points, and the negative team, consisting of Breet O'Connell and Frank Rothkopf, compiled 160 points. This placed the teams only ten points behind the winning team from King's College. Robert F. Stenett, the first affirmative speaker on the team, was awarded a medal for being chosen the second highest affirmative speaker in the tournament.

Mr. Weed has striven throughout the year to achieve a full symphonic band sound, a blend of all the sections of the band. He has been aided by the member of the band who have been working exceptionally hard this past year.

Transform Gym Into Concert Hall

by Leona A. Bailer

The "King of Jazz," Louis Armstrong, will hit the town tomorrow night when he plays in concert with the "All-Stars," is being sponsored by the Wilkes Student Council. A great deal of work has been put into the affair by Gil Davis, Junior Class President, and Maury Jones, coordinator, and their committee chairmen.

Bill Shupert of "Shupert's Alley" over a neighbor to Wilkes University, will introduce Satchmo and his All-Stars. During intermission a number of his records will be raffled off.

The Stage

A special stage, 8 feet by 16 feet, has been constructed. This exceptionally large stage has been constructed so that everyone will have an opportunity to see the swing band. The stage will be illuminated by Ray Litman, lighting director, and George Watson, stage manager.

Seating Plan

The seating for the audience will consist of the bleachers and seats placed on the floor. A capacity crowd can be handled comfortably and in expected. Head usher in Van Cappe.

Tickets

Co-chairmen of the ticket committee are Hugh Gladstone and Andy Staley. The number on the reserved seats will correspond with the numbered seats on the reserved row which will be sold at the door. Head of the door committee is Bob Rubin.

Refreshments

Soft drinks may be purchased during intermission. Refreshment stations will be set up outside of the gym. Four exits will be provided, one in the kitchen, office, and lobby. The refreshment concession is being handled by Ashley Hall.

Parking

All students and guests are expected to cooperate with the Wilkes-Barre Police Department who will be on hand to handle the campus traffic. Because of the lack of parking facilities, the junior class requests students to leave as much space as possible for faculty and visitors.

Gordon Roberts, Jim Walters
Attend National Conference
by Mary Frances Baros
Longtime friends Gordon Roberts and Jim Walters represented Wilkes in Washington, D.C., where they were attending the National Student Conference on the Civil Rights Movement. Approximately 3,000 students from colleges and universities throughout the United States attended.

The conference was sponsored by the National Student Association, composed of student government presidents. A national committee selected Roberts and Walters to make this conference possible.

Jim Walters, president of the USNSA, presided over the general session. The speeches included a tribute to the All Souls Unitarian Church in Wilkes-Barre, which sponsored the conference, and "The Southern Movement in Perspective." Several speakers reported on their personal involvement in the Civil Rights Movement. The main speaker was Mahendra Patel, student president and graduate of Coventry University of India.

Next general session considered the topic "Northern Supporting Action." After the general session, Walters participated in various discussion groups. In these groups the delegates considered techniques for solving the Negro equality question.

The conference, according to the National Student Association, was called because of "the tremendous spread of the student demonstration movement."

To the South on February 1, 1969, has been attended by approximately 4,000 students representing 20 states, American Samoa and the District of Columbia. The conference ended on February 14, 1969.

"House of The Angel," Argentine Movie, Scheduled Next Week

by Jim Jackiewicz

A third film of the semester, "The House of the Angel," (La casa del angel), will be presented in Stark Hall by the Language Department on Wednesday from 8 to 9, and on Thursday from 11 to 12.

The movie is in Spanish dialogue with English subtitles. It was produced in Argentina and is the fifth film endeavor of director Leopoldo Torre Villazon. "La casa del angel" is based on the same title by Beatriz Guido, who is one of the most noted Latin American novelists.

The movie deals with the adolescence of a 15 year old upperclass Argentinian girl in the 1920's. She is aroused to free herself from her pedantic and stern mother who raised her in a background of strict puritanism when she meets a solitarily inclined young man who is also a victim of his rigid upbringing.

This film which was selected for exhibition at the Cannes International Film Festival and the London Film Festival in 1957, is an excellent example of Villazon's skill as a director. The London Times states, that "the film's atmosphere of prurience and moral decay is evoked with such authority as to leave no doubt of a rare and uncompromising talent."

SWEETEST AD-LINE!

Local “Society” Members Sing In Barber Shop Concert Parade

by George J. Tena

In the village barbershop the gaslighted audience four men: the barber and three of his customers. As the barber removes a hot towel from the face of his chair sit up, smiles and begins. As if this was the cue for which each had been waiting: the barber pauses, strikes his mustache, his eyes twinkle and he hums a sweet tenor; the man holding the Police Gazette stops reading an article on Anna Held and contributes a baritone; the man sitting in front of a shirt of ornately decorated mugs, adds a deep bass. Soon the room is filled with masculine voices singing in close harmony.

The gaslight of the "Gay Nineties" are gone but the Oral singing style of close four-part harmony has remained with us throughout the years and has become an accepted part of the American music heritage.

Because of the interest in barber shop quartet singing today, the barber-shoppers are organized into a national organization known as the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

This month the 20,000 balladists of SPEBSQSA are celebrating their 22nd anniversary. Among those are the 30 barbers of the Wyoming Valley Chapter.

The local group meets every Monday evening at the Kingston House. The group extends a "chordial" invitation to all music lovers to join them.

Among the festivities of the local organization will be the Annual Parade of Quartets which will be held at Kingston High School next Saturday. Headlining the Parade will be the Pittsburg, International Thelma, the Chaplin Bros., Malachi and the Delphonics.

Golfers Beat Lycoming For Initial Triumph; Januszko Regains Form

The Colonel golfers, led by the excellent shooting of Bob Januszko, captured their first victory of the season last Tuesday at the expense of Lycoming’s Warriors. The score was 152 to 184.

The match at the Williamsport Country Club was played on the opening day of the season, under trying weather conditions as the course was hit hard by rain and lightning throughout the afternoon.

Januszko earned his point record at 6 for 6 in sweeping all three points from his Lycoming opponent. His feat was never in the match as Bob fired a brilliant, six-over par 78, which included three birdees.

Equally impressive for the Colonels were freshman John Pierce and sophomore Rich Bellas. Pierce played remarkably steady golf as he shot 46 on each nine for an 18-hole score of 84 and a sweep of all three points. Bellas, playing along with Pierce fired a fine 89, his season’s best, as he was winning the Williamsport course for the first time, and this fact alone added immeasurably to the score.

Wilkes vs. Moravian

Last Friday, the Colonels suffered their third straight defeat as Moravian came out on top with a 157-105 score. Pete Persog and Bob Januszko provided the only scoring as they blanked their opponents by scores of 3-0.

Persog astounded himself as well as his opponent by sinking a wedge shot from 100 yards out on the tough par 3, hole number 2. Januszko beat Moravian’s Volko who was considered in many ranks to be one of the top players in Eastern college competition. Bob gave a good indication in this match that he is ready to return to the fine form he exhibited during his freshman year.

VOLLEYBALL NOTICE

The Volleyball NOTICE was announced recently by Pete Persog as the Dirty Sneakers will participate in the championship game on Monday, Saturday at 7 p.m. Each team will be the winner of its respective league during the season. The winner of Tuesday’s game will be the championship contender next week at the Wilkes gymnasium.

Dan Lewis Places High; Is Top Wilkes Bowler In National Tourney by Tom Dewey Evans

Dan Lewis emerged the only survived bowler in the eight Colonels bowlers who entered the National Collegiate Match Game Championship on Sunday. The blond bowler from Kingston smashed the pins for a blustering 158 average over eight games. When the bowlers left New York, Dan was among the top ten bowlers out of a field of two hundred. If his score held up, he will be the only Wilkes bowler to reach the semi-finals of the tourney.

However, there were still seven bowlers with scores still out. Dan Lewis will have difficulty until Dan might be eliminated.

The semi-finals will be held Saturday at Sokol’s in New York at the same Stadium Lanes. For his accomplishment, Dan would receive a trophy, plus a special bowling bag, and shoes.

Two bowlers, Dave Sokira and Emil Petrasek, just missed qualifying with average pins for respectable averages of 179 and 175. The rest of the bowlers had a good day and improved over their previous showing in the tourney.

The complete results are as follows:

Total Average

197: Dan Lewis 3-214, 120, 146, 155, 212, 153, 211

194: Jerry Chisicka 138, 130, 119, 109, 164, 196
189: Tom Evans 132, 165, 131, 189, 169, 178, 155, 169

Human Beans Take Two, Recruits Rally to Win; Deebe Pitches No-Hitter

The old familiar cry of "Play ball!" resonated throughout Kirby Park last week as thirteen intramural softball teams swung into action.

On Tuesday in the American League, Dr. Gaito's Human Beans crashed out of the gate by no-hitting Ashley, 8-0. Paul Deebe set Ashley down without a hit and then came back on Thursday with a two-hitter against Gore Hall. By virtue of this 19-4 win, the Human Beans clinched a tie for first place.

The Neotics overcame early jitters to scramble Gore Hall, 7-6, and then came back on Thursday to knock off the Undesirables, 4-3. Ashley broke into the win column on Thursday by trouncing the Aces by a score of 17-15. 话题搜索星罗棋布。bear

On Monday in the National League, last year's champions, Ray's Recruits, had a scare thrown into them when John Brennan, Plymouth fireballer, held them scoreless for two innings, while his Fearless Fifteen colleagues were cracking the ball around. However, the powerful latent basis of the Recruits erupted for ten runs in the fifth inning to win the game. Final score was 12-1.

Frank Spudis led the Rowdies to a 12-0 win over the Phonics. Spu- dis tossed a two-hitter and starred at the plate with four hits and five runs batted in.

The Blivits, led by the spectacular fielding of Gary Vandenberg and the pitching of Fred Moutan, dismantled the Mutants, 14-2.

The league is now in a three-way tie for the lead with Ray's Recruits, the Rowdies, and the Blivits. However, it is generally conceded that Ray's Recruits are not so strong as they were last year and contrary to rumor, they can be beaten.

Next week's schedule is listed below:

| May 2 (Monday) | Mutants vs. Phonics | Rowdies vs. Fearless Fifteen | Ray's Recruits vs. Blivits |
| May 3 (Tuesday) | Ace's vs. Demons | Undesirables vs. Ashley | Human Beans vs. Neotics |
| May 4 (Wednesday) | Mutants vs. Fearless Fifteen | Phonies vs. Blivits | Rowdies vs. Ray's Recruits |
| May 5 (Thursday) | Ashley vs. Demons | Ace's vs. Neotics | Undesirables vs. Gore |

Gacha, Mathews to Hustle; Hendershot, Folek Hot; Both Hitting Over .400

by George Tena

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock the baseball team will tangle with the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley in a doubleheader at Ambridge.

The Dutchmen edged the Colonels, 7-4, in a close contest last year. The Wilkes squad was hampered with sore-armed pitchers last year but are ready with strong front-line hurlers for this year's contest.

The starting assignments for the Blue and Gold will probably go to Göls, Gacha and Gene Mathews. The Colonels' chief hope in the long ball department will come from Ralph Hendershot, Walt Folek, Bobby Ontko, and Jerry Lawrence.

On Tuesday the Colonels will renew their long-standing battle with the Lycoming College nine. Last season the Warriors went down to defeat the Colonels twice, 5-4 and 7-1.

The Warriors have five starters back from last year's squad and are led by their left-handed pitch- er, Joe L. Lihn and Mar- lin Strohecker.

"Tramp" Is Final Play of Season; Original Comedy Begins May 9

Cue 'n' Curtain's final production of the year, "The Tramp," will be presented in Chase Theatre May 9 to 11 at 8:30 p.m.

"The Tramp" is an original comedy by Miss Myra Lynne Williams, a local high school teacher. Miss Williams' first play, "The Reciters," was presented as part of the Wilkes Summer Theatre program in 1958, and it was well received by the audience.

Directing the play along with Miss Williams will be Alfred S. Grob, Cue 'n' Curtain director, and William Crowder, a Wilkes graduate.

The cast of seventeen will consist of members of the community, high schools, Cue 'n' Curtain, and the college. Fred Malkemes, a '59 Wilkes graduate who has returned to the college to take education courses, will play the role of Reverend Evans.

Fred has taken part in many productions of Cue 'n' Curtain, and he probably will be remembered for Oscar-winning roles in " Annie Get Your Gun" and "Holiday."

Other major roles will be played by Bonnie Jenkins as Mrs. Evans; Phil Lawlor, Wynne Rowland (the tramp); Mary Frances Swigert, Lucy Jones; Steve Cooney, Judge Parry; Dave Aston, Morris Hughes; and Darlene Amir, Mrs. Thomas.

Others in the cast are Brenda Schild, Sue Vaughns, Gene Steckler, Mike Murphy, Roy Morgan, Vicki Bershad, Arnold Popek, and Kathleen Litten. Mike Litten will act as technical director for this final production with George W. Parry as stage manager.

A preview performance of the play will be given in the theater on Saturday, May 9, for the alumni of the club. The other three performances will be open to the public.

All students and faculty will be admitted free; for the people outside the college a donation of seventy-five cents will be asked.
