Wilson Fellowsships Awarded
To Future College Professors

PRINCETON, N.J., March 10—The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation awarded 24 fellowships to recent graduates of colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada as Woodrow Wilson Fellows for 1963-64, the largest number ever elected by the Foundation in its 15-year search for promising prospective college teachers.

In announcing the 61-2 winners, Sir Hugh Taylor, President of the Foundation, estimated the total value of this year’s awards at $3,000,000.

The fellowships cover the first year of graduate study and are meant to help students move swiftly into teaching, with the aim of making a possible career. Nominations for these highly-competitive awards are made by members of the students’ professors. Selection of fellows is also done by 15 regional committees drawn from the academic profession.

Winners were chosen from 1,043 nominees, representing a 21 percent increase over last year and a five-fold increase since the program was launched by Woodrow Wilson at the Princeton University in 1939.

"The unprecedented increase in the number of nominees," Sir Hugh said, "has enabled us, after the keenest of competitions, to recruit young people who can join the ranks of outstanding college teachers, particularly those who had never thought of a professional career, or at least had waited to start it.

More than 23 fields of study, nearly all in the humanities and social sciences, are represented by this year’s winners. Those in mathematics and natural sciences account for 13.9 percent of the total. The winners, of whom 28.2 percent are women, will be enrolled in 94 different graduate schools in this country.

The Foundation accorded Honorable Mention to 1,014 others. A list of their names, fields of study, and their undergraduate colleges has been sent to the dean of all graduate schools in the United States and Canada and to the Foundation’s faculty representatives on 1,126 campuses throughout the country. This is an attempt to recognize all of those that most of those winning Honorable Mention will receive alternate awards either directly from universities or from other organizations.

Day-to-day operations of the fellowship program and the Foundation’s educational and public service activities are supported by contributions from the National Education Association, the American Federation of Teachers, and the Ford Foundation. Funding for the program is based on donations from the Ford Foundation and other funds.

In addition to the awards for first-year graduate study, the Foundation also presented a subvention payment of $2,000,000 to the various graduate schools where Woodrow Wilson Fellows enroll. Three-fourths of the fund must be used for second-year awards to graduate students who have already completed at least one year of study at Woodrow Wilson. The remainder may be used at the discretion of the graduate schools to support students in their second year of study, to aid in reducing their loans, to defray expenses for honors programs, to support research, or to improve their program of study.

Since the fellowships program began, the Foundation has elected a total of 3,668 Woodrow Wilson Fellows, including those announced today.

Playboys Ice Down Lead: Bankovich Narrowly Misses League High

In intramural bowling competition Sunday evening the Playboys cooled off the red-hot Boozers as they administered a 4-0 whitewash on the team which last week established one of the highest team totals in the league's competition. The Playboys' record now stands at 14 wins and two losses for a .715 percentage and four points behind the leaders. Bill Watkins maintained his league-leading average as he bowled a 176-521. Butch Kaplan led the Boozers with 165-450.

Balls 4, Alley Cats 0

The Alley Cats had to forfeit four points to the Screwballs because of a shortage of bowlers. The bowling which the teams did do affected only the players' averages and not the team scores.

Alley Cats: Jerry Zeller 161-440, Al Johnson 134-381.

Tornadoes 317, Pinbusters 179

The Tornadoes won their second place tie with the Pinbusters as they completed last two games but had to settle for a tie for total pins. Jerry Chisarick rolled a 204-513 for the Tornadoes. Turner was high man for the Pinbusters with 203-513.

Boonies 2, Guttermasters 2

Gavenas, Roski Lead Cagers in Finale
83-68 Win Over Rider

The basketball team finished its 7-14 season on a good note as it defeated Rider College, 83-68, at Rider last Saturday night. Team co-captains Clem Gavenas and Ron Roski were playing their final games and came through in fine fashion. They accounted for 47 points between them and Roski hauled in 18 rebounds, just three short of the Middle Atlantic Conference record in that department. Harvey Rosen, leading foul shooter in the nation, continued his usual scoring as he scored 24 points. He completed 12 of 13 fouls as the Colonels enjoyed a good night in that department. Rider had the edge in the field goal shooting and actually lost the game to the foul line as they made only seven out of 33. Three of the Davinzen hit the 20 mark in scoring; Ron Roski had 26, Ronen 24 and Clem Gavenas. Tom Plugh had eight and Steve Gerko four to round out the Colonels' scoring for the evening.

Collegians Sing for Students
In Thursday’s “Happy Hour”

A program of varied musical selections will be presented by the Collegians of Thursday’s assembly program at 11 a.m. in the gymnasium. The male chorus, under the direction of Robert Eke, assistant music major, has performed on numerous occasions for various colleges and community groups.

Thursday’s program will include “Baboes Sing On” by Grieg, “The Creation” by Richter, a Fred Waring arrangement of “O Brother Man,” York’s “Once to Every Man and Nation,” a medley from Rodgers and Hammerstein’s “The Sound of Music,” and “Blow the Wind Southbound” by Arnold.

In addition to these, three numbers featuring solos from the group will also appear on the program. These include: “Russian Folk Songs” by Ender with solo by Roderick Nutaitis, “Songs of the Sea” by Stanford featuring Dick Probert as soloist, and Wagner’s “Shaman- dook” in which Don Jones will have the solo part.

Walter Uma, a junior music major, will accompany the group. The accompanists are Mickey Wheeler, president; Robert Evans, vice-president; Harry Owens, secretary; Dave Meins- tein, treasurer; and Dave Ley and Robert Kondreskas, librarians.

EYEGLASS DRIVE PROGRESS
The Economics Club’s annual eyeglass collection campaign is proceeding well, and the contributions have been good. Jim Allen, chairman of this phase of the collection, and members of the Eyeglasses Committee personally manned pickup stations throughout the campus.

The eyeglasses collected were sorted, cleaned and displayed on Public Square by the American Optometric Society. Students and others who were fortunate to discern discarded spectacles will find containing various glasses on campus next week.

EXCHANGE WEEKEND
All students who are interested in attending this weekend’s activities at Hampton Institute, April 21-23, please stop at the main bulletin board.

As soon as you cannot keep any- thing, you can’t have anything.
Do you realize that we can no longer teach that everything that goes in must come out?
One reason I don’t drink is that I want to know when I am having a good time.
