United Fund Drive Opens On Campus

DeYoung, Koo, Edgerton Among New Faculty Members

by Leona A. Baiera

Robert H. DeYoung, Younsu Koo, and William L. Edgerton have been appointed to the faculty and administrative staff of Wilkes for the 1960-61 academic year.

Mr. DeYoung, Mt. Tabor, N.J., was named assistant Professor of Economics. DeYoung received his B.S. from the University of Rhode Island in 1949 and his M.A. from Columbia University in 1958. From 1950 to 1958 he was involved in the business world in the sales and managerial capacity. He is presently working on his doctorate.

Mr. Younsu Koo, Seoul, Korea, received his certificate in Civil Engineering from Wilkes in 1956. He received his B.S. in Civil Engineering from Swarthmore in 1958 and his M.S. in Civil Engineering from the University of Illinois in 1960. He has been a Research Assistant 1958-60 at the University of Illinois College of Engineering.

Dr. William L. Edgerton, Northfield, Vt., was named Professor of English. Dr. Edgerton was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1934 and received his doctorate from the same institution in 1951. Since that time he has been teaching English at Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont. From 1939 to 1942, he worked as reporter-promotion writer on the Philadelphia Record. He was Military Service Staff Sergeant from 1942 to 1945. He is affiliated with the Modern Language Association, Renaissance Society of America, and Renaissance Text Society.

Anthropologist At Next Assembly

by Cynthia Hagley

Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels of New York University will be the guest speaker at next Thursday's assembly. She is a nationally recognized authority on anthropology and social behavior.

Holder of such titles as "Woman of the Year", 1955; "Teacher of the Year", 1956; and "Outstanding Woman in Anthropology", 1958, Dr. Alpenfels has done research among the Modoc Indians and has made a study of the life of the Haida Indians of British Columbia.

The Modoc Indians are located in the general area of Northern California near Shasta National Park. They presented perhaps the greatest resistance to the United States Army of any Indian tribe subdued during the late nineteenth century.

The engagement of Dr. Alpenfels is part of the cooperative program with the Kiwanis Club which was initiated this year to provide students with more entertaining and informative assemblies.

IDC Dance Helps Student Union

by Patsy Rossi

The Inter-Dormitory Council is sponsoring the "Student Union Swing," which will be held this Friday evening from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. in the gymnasium. The Bill Jerome Quintet, a student musical group, will provide the music for dancing. Admission is fifty cents.

Peter Greenberg, president of the I.D.C., stressed the importance of a large attendance at the dance. All proceeds will be used to defray the costs of the student union which is to be located in the basement of Barre Hall. The student union will be available to dormitory and day students alike.

The committee chairmen working to make the dance a success are: Perry Spyrouples, tickets; Jules Heller, refreshments; Alice Powell, publicity; Claire Handler, decorations; Jane Palka, maintenance; and Tom Kanas, band. Other officers of the I.D.C. are Jane Rescorla, secretary, and Dave Peters, treasurer.

Puccini's La Boheme. A stellar cast includes Phyllis Curtin, leading soprano of the New York City Opera Company, and renowned Canadian soprano Lois Marshall, who will alternate in the role of Mimi. A company of forty-five, in costume with scenery, chorus, and orchestra will compliment this Boston Opera success.

Tickets for these outstanding productions may be purchased at the Boston Store and at other public locations.

Cue 'n' Curtain to Present "Matchmaker" In November

by Frances Olack

New costumes, greasepaint, freshly painted scenery, and special lighting effects keynote the preparations Cue 'n' Curtain is making in anticipation of its initial dramatic offering of the season, Thornton Wilder's farce comedy, "The Matchmaker."

"The Matchmaker," which will be presented in Chase Theater from November 16-19, is an adaptation of Wilder's earlier effort, "The Merchant of Yonkers." The plot of "The Matchmaker" revolves around an old, rich merchant who finally decides to marry. He subsequently employs a female matchmaker who becomes involved with employees of the merchant, the headwaiter of an expensive restaurant, and an assortment of other people. The encounter with the headwaiter moves this swift farce headlong into a hilarious climax of complications.

"The Matchmaker" employs 16 thespians, with some roles as yet not cast. There are nine male roles and seven female parts. Anyone interested in trying out for a part should contact Mr. Alfred Groh.

Mr. Groh, theatre advisor, announced the following committees for the forthcoming play: David Meinster, properties and furnishings; Romelle Gomba, costumes; Bianca Moscata, make-up; Warren Hartman, lighting; and Steve Robertson, publicity.

The officers of Cue 'n' Curtain include: Barry Gintel, president; Ray Litman, vice-president; Sue Vaughn, secretary; Judy Dwyer, treasurer; Warren Hartman, historian; and George Watson, permanent stage manager.

Dean Cole Speaks At First TDR Meeting; Sorority Plans Hayride

"Theta Delta Rho can either be a stumbling block or a stepping stone on your road of life," said Dean Cole at the first meeting of the sorority last Monday night in the Commons.

Dean Cole, club advisor, spoke to the group on the values of belonging to the organization. She referred to the sorority as a bag of tools which could add enrichment to a coed's life at Wilkes.

After Dean Cole's welcome, plans were made for a hayride and weenie roast which will be held at El Pocono Dude Ranch October 27. The event which is for sorority members and their dates will cost $1.75 per person.

As a fund-raising project the sorority will sell tickets for the Drama Guild presentation, "A Streetcar Named Desire", which will be held at the Jewish Community Center on November 1 and 2 at 8 p.m. and on November 3 at 9:10 p.m. The tickets are $1.00 and may be purchased from any member of the club.

The girls also voted to contribute a donation to the United Fund and made plans for a display for Homecoming Weekend and the decoration of the Dinner-Dance which will be held on October 15.

A coke party was held after the meeting.

Dorms, Classes, Clubs Involved in Spirited Competition; Goal Set at $1200

by Wayne Thomas

The annual campus student United Fund Drive got underway this week with a goal set at $1200. Al Kishel is general chairman of the 1960 drive. Under a new system in effect for the first time this year, the campus has been divided into five divisions. Each division will consist of several teams and an award will be presented to the team in each division which makes the greatest contribution in its respective group.

Drive Chairman

Albert Kishel

Division "A" is comprised of the men's dormitories, and the presidents of the dormitories will be responsible for solicitation in this group. The men's dormitory presidents are as follows: Edward Kemps, Ashley; George Gavales, Barre; Jay Keller, Butler; Paul Aquilino, Gore; Dave Gottshall, Hollenback; Robert Chew, Warner.

The women's dormitories from Division "B" and the presidents of the women's residences will be in charge of collections in Division "B". The women's dormitory presidents are: Peggy Churchill, Catlin; Janice Bronson, Chapman; Marty Menegus, McClintock; Pat Belardina, Sterling; Sue Vaughn, Weckesser; Marsha Hefferon, Weiss.

Solicitation in both the men's and women's dormitories will be on a per capita basis. That is, the award will be presented to the team in each division which makes the greatest contribution per person to the drive.

Division "C" is composed of the four classes. The United Fund representatives in the various classes are: Bill Morris, seniors; Richard Belles, juniors; and Brent O'Connell, sophomores. Freshman solicitation will take place at the tribunal meeting on Monday. It should be noted that solicitation in the classes will be from day students only, as the dormitory students will be requested to contribute through their respective dormitories. Competition between classes will also be on a per capita basis.

The contributions made by dormitory students will be credited to the individual dormitory, as well as to the classes of which the students are members. In this way, both the class and the dormitory receive credit for the individual's contribution.

Division "D" is compiled of all campus clubs and organizations other than the classes and dormitories. These contributions will be taken from the treasuries of the various organizations. The award in this division will be presented to the organization which makes the largest contribution regardless of the size of the club.

Division "E" is a special group which will include the profits realized from the United Fund Dance which will be under the direction of the Freshman Class.

Results for the entire college will be tabulated on a large thermometer which will be placed in the cafeteria. A gold plaque will be presented to the college if the goal of $1200 is realized. This award will be made in addition to the individual organization awards. In order to attain this goal, it is suggested that each student make a contribution of one dollar. A record will also be kept of the contributions of each team in each division and this data will be made available to students so that they will know the standing of their

Educational Testing Lists Dates of Law School Tests

The Law School Admission Test required of applicants for admission to a number of leading American law schools will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United States on the mornings of November 12, 1960, February 18, April 15, and August 5, 1961.

A candidate must make separate application to each law school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Law School Admission Test and when. The test is prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service. Sample questions and information regarding registration for and administration of the test are given in a Bulletin of Information.

The Bulletin (in which an application for the test is inserted) should be obtained four to six weeks in advance of the desired testing date from Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed applications must be received at least two weeks before the desired testing date in order to allow ETS time to complete the necessary testing arrangements for each candidate.

NOTICE

An important meeting of all BEACON staff members will be held on Tuesday at 6 p.m. at the BEACON office in Pickering 201. Members are asked to bring a copy of the first issue of the paper with them, if possible.

Misericordia Plans 'Theatre 3'

by Gloria Zahudek

College Misericordia begins its 1960-1961 theatrical season by once again raising the curtain on "Theatre 3", the organization which imports to Wyoming Valley professional performances of opera and dance, music and mime which could not ordinarily appear locally.

The premiere production, which will be presented in the Irem Temple Monday evening, October 10, will be the exciting Ballet Espanol Ximenez-Vargas of Madrid. New and imaginative ideas are brought to the dance theatre by the proudest of Madrid's dance companies, featuring two of the leading male dancers in the world today — Roberto Ximenez and Manolo Vargas.

These co-stars are supported by a company of twelve dancers, singers, and musicians headed by the beautiful Maria Alba, who joined the company this year.

The second "Theatre 3" presentation on Tuesday, December 13 will headline the superb pantomime artist Marcel Marceau and his Compagnie de Mime. Perhaps the most difficult and the least practiced of any of the spectacular arts, pantomime is the very essence of the theatre. Mr. Marceau has written concerning it: "Everything can be expressed through the art of mime, which shuns the deceitful words that raise barriers against comprehension between men."

The final theatrical offering on Friday, March 10th will be the most notable of all productions.

EDITORIALS—

Let's All Pitch In

With the distribution of this issue, the Beacon is proud to "kick off" the 1960 United Fund campaign on campus. The part we will play in this campaign will be minute compared to the roles which Al Kishel, the freshman class, and others have played in the organization of this year's drive.

Unfortunately, some members of the student body will show a lack of mature thinking when they are asked to make a contribution to this worthwhile organization. Many individuals will give a multitude of reasons why it is impossible or unnecessary to contribute. These same reasons are heard every year. What these people fail to realize, however, is that they themselves will benefit, either directly or indirectly, from one or more of the 56 agencies supported by the United Fund.

Actually, there should be no need for putting the campaign on such a competitive basis as the plan outlined in the story on the previous page. We, as adults and citizens of a country upon which so many blessings have been bestowed should be grateful for the chance to help ourselves, rather than accept aid from others.

One of the "Marks of An Educated Man", listed on the first page of the college catalog states:

"He is conscious of his responsibility as a citizen, and participates constructively in the social, economic, and political life of the community."

Certainly, no better test of a "citizen's responsibility" could present itself than the challenge to each Wilkes student to do his part in seeing that the goal set before us is attained.

U. S. Marine Corps Recruiters Here Next Wednesday, Thursday

by Lillian Bodzio

Next Wednesday and Thursday, October 5 and 6, a Marine Corps Officer Selection Team will visit the college to interview students who are interested in becoming officers in the Marine Corps.

Primarily there are three programs: one for freshmen, sophomores and juniors; one for seniors and recent graduates; the other for women who are juniors, seniors, or recent college graduates.

The first program, popularly known as PLC (Platoon Leaders Class) can be summed up briefly by the following features:

- Remain in school with draft deferment.
- No on-campus meetings or drills — just two summer courses at Quantico, Virginia.
- Pay while in summer training — and increased pay later as an officer, by reason of seniority.
- Commissioning on graduation day, followed by three years active duty.

Under the OCC Program, for seniors and recent graduates, completion of a ten week Officer Candidate Course at Quantico, Virginia, is followed by commissioning as a Second Lieutenant and three years active duty.

In the case of aviators, the active duty obligation is approximately a year and a half longer because of flight training.

Under the WOTC program for women, who are juniors, seniors, or recent college graduates, the juniors will attend two six-week summer training courses at Quantico, Virginia, one six-week course after their junior year and six more weeks after graduation.

Seniors and recent graduates will attend twelve consecutive weeks of training. Upon completion of this training, they will be commissioned second lieutenants, and will serve on active duty for a period of two years.

The Marine Corps Selection Team will be stationed in the cafeteria for the convenience of all interested students.

 organization in comparison with other groups.

Additional support of the United Fund by Wilkes students was evident this past week. On Tuesday evening, the cheerleaders and the freshman class participated in the United Fund kickoff parade. The Wilkes Chapter of the Jaycees, of which Hugh Gladstone is president, has been kept busy decorating electric poles in the Wilkes-Barre area with United Fund posters.

On Friday, October 7, the United Fund Dance will be held in the gymnasium. This project is under the direction of the freshman class and will feature the music of Jack Melton and his band. An added attraction at this dance will be intermission entertainment by the Collegians and a WARM disc jockey. Admission will be fifty cents.

This dance will also receive considerable publicity on several local radio stations and a large turnout is expected.

HOMECOMING ANNOUNCEMENT

All heads of campus organizations are urged to submit forms containing their specific plans for Homecoming decorations to the IDC mailbox immediately. Homecoming displays will be judged the evening of October 14.

JUNIOR CLASS EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETING

The Junior Class Executive Council will hold an organizational meeting on Monday night at 6:30 in Pickering 203. All interested juniors are urged to attend. The only requirement for admission to the organization is an active participation in class activities.

LIBRARY NOTICE

Anyone who operated the motion picture projector last year for the Library should please come and sign up again for this year. Anyone who is interested in learning how to run the projector and show movies for classes may come to the Library at their convenience and talk to Mr. Krohle or Mr. Eidam.

Debate Society Formulates Plans For Coming Year

by Frances Olack

The first meeting of the Debating Society was held last Tuesday at the group's headquarters located in the rear of Barre Hall. The squad's advisor, Dr. Arthur Kruger, announced that the following members of last year's debating team are returning this year: Frank Rioski, acting president of the Debate Society; Jerome Krasa, Brent O'Connell, and Barry O'Connell.

The newcomers to the squad, who will form the nucleus of this year's novice team are Bob Bomboy, David Jaikes, and Frances Olack. There are several other students who have indicated an interest in joining the squad.

All students are invited to come to the team's meetings which are held each Tuesday at 11 a.m. Previous debating experience is no requirement for joining the squad.

The Debating Society has made plans for an extensive season with many tournaments in the offing. In the immediate future the novice team plans to attend a debating clinic at Lehigh University, to be followed by a novice tournament at Temple University the first week of December.

The initial effort to be attempted by the varsity squad will be the annual St. Joseph's tournament in Philadelphia which will be followed by the New York University "Hall of Fame" tournament.

The society is giving consideration to an invitation extended to it by the University of Toronto. Only twenty-five American schools have been invited to participate in this outstanding and exclusive tournament.

- PERSONALS -

by Robert S. Evans

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ungar of 17 Maffet St., Wilkes-Barre, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, Senior Elementary Education student, to Benjamin Levy, graduate of the University of Scranton and presently attending Fordham Graduate School.

Miss Marie Realmuto, 1960 Cinderella candidate and graduate of Wilkes, is attending Queen's College for her Master's degree in Education.

John Northrop and James Swabach were hosts for a party honoring Suzan Lehman, Toby Brandt and Nancy Frey on the announcement of their acceptance into the Chestnut Hill - Ambler Organization.

Miss Vicki Kovacs, senior student, majoring in Elementary Education and former Secretary of the Class of '61, recently became engaged to Harold Garini, a senior majoring in Secondary Education at King's College.

Miss Ann M. Kosik, Pittston, recently became engaged to Raymond S. Litman, a senior Business Administration major. Miss Kosik is a graduate nurse employed at the Moses Taylor Hospital in Scranton.

On campus, Litman is vice-president and technical director of Cue 'n' Curtain. His off-campus activities include working for Sears, Roebuck and Company at the Gateway Shopping Center in Kingston.

Flood to Address Dems

by Jerome Krasa

Congressman Daniel J. Flood will speak to a meeting of the Wilkes College "Students for Kennedy-Johnson" Club on Friday, September 30, at noon in Pickering 203.

The incumbent Congressman of the Eleventh Congressional District, Mr. Flood, is campaigning for re-election. He is also working actively in behalf of Senator Kennedy, having campaigned recently with the Senator in West Virginia.

An informative discussion of the issues of the campaign will be given by Congressman Flood. All interested students are welcome to attend.

Presenting The Issues

by Jerome Krasa

Foreign policy is the primary issue of this presidential campaign. A thorough evaluation of the record of both candidates is necessary. Let us first consider the experience of Mr. Nixon.

Much has been made of his "kitchen debate" with Mr. Khrushchev, but what really went on in the kitchen? Mr. Nixon agreed that this country was behind in such fields as development of rocket thrust, but made it clear that in the field of color television, we were ahead of the Russians.

In South America, he provoked hatred both to himself and the country he represented. In other parts of the world, he presents a very unfavorable image.

Compared to this, John Kennedy is an extensively travelled individual and an expert on the problems of Africa. Three years ago he outlined a solution to the Algerian question which is now being followed by President De Gaulle.

Although the Republicans try to make it seem as though Senator Kennedy would have "apologized" about the U-2 incident, in reality, he said that it would have been better to express regrets than to have lied and been found out.

This study now leads to a general comparison of Democratic and Republican foreign policy.

The Democratic Party has always embodied the element of bipartisanship in foreign policy. Recent Democratic administrations used the best the Republicans had to offer, including John Foster Dulles, and Senators Vandenberg and Austin. Senator Kennedy would continue this bipartisanship. He would also have available a wealth of experience to serve him. Such men as Adlai Stevenson, an expert on Western Europe; Chester Bowles, whose specialty is South-East Asia; Averell Harriman, an authority on Russia; and others would be prominent in his administration.

It might be logically argued that these experts would be available even to a Nixon administration; however, it seems that the Republicans have never availed themselves of any Democratic assistance in this manner. President Eisenhower has not used even one Democratic advisor and Nixon will continue Eisenhower policies. Again the best Democratic brains would not be used.

And they are needed. The Republican Party has a lack of foreign policy experience except for Mr. Lodge. Christian Herter and C. Douglas Dillon had no previous experience before being named to the State Department. Nixon's foreign policy experience is nil.

In an analysis of Eisenhower's foreign policy, we find an error which, it seems, Mr. Nixon will continue to make. This country will give economic aid only if the recipient country is willing to accept military bases. India, Syria, Egypt, Iraq, and others have joined the neutralist camp rather than accept bases.

But these losses are minimized when we face up to the disastrous last six months. In Japan, key to the defense of South-East Asia, the friendly Kishi Government fell. In Pakistan, Turkey, Laos, and Norway, friendly governments fell mainly because of this issue. What will happen to Africa and South America if this policy continues?

The Republican Party has failed miserably. The Spirit of Geneva was followed by the Rape of Norway, the Spirit of Camp David preceded the collapse of the Summit Meeting. Cuba, a mere ninety miles from Florida, has become a Communist camp. America can not afford four more years of such leadership. We need a man of Senator Kennedy's proven ability to initiate a program of action to restore American prestige to former great heights.

Foreign policy is indeed the number one issue in this campaign, and Nixon is quite inexperienced in this field.

The most fitting testimony to his inexperience came from none other than Dwight Eisenhower, himself. Asked at a news conference earlier this year to name one major idea of Richard Nixon's that he adopted, the President answered, "If you gave me a week I might think of one. I don't remember."

High-Spirited Gridders Seek First; Downed by Lebanon Valley, 14-8

Tomorrow afternoon the Colonel football team will travel to Bethlehem to take on Moravian College in an effort to pick up their first win of the season. Wilkes, bolstered by eleven returning lettermen, of which only three are seniors, lost to Lebanon Valley, 14-8, in the season opener.

The Colonels' spirits have been high, with only a few minor injuries up until Tuesday afternoon when Marv Antinnes was injured during an intra-squad scrimmage. Dr. Griffin, team physician, who was fortunately present to give first aid to Antinnes, stated that he had sustained a "clavicular separation" in his left shoulder. He was taken to Nesbitt Memorial Hospital for x-rays to determine whether or not any bones had been chipped. How soon he returns to the team depends on the extent of damage to the ligaments.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Dobrowalski Earns First "Beacon" Award; End Sparkles on Defense

Al Dobrowalski, (No. 82, above), senior gridiron standout at end this year was named the first "Athlete of the Week" for his outstanding offensive and defensive performance against Lebanon Valley last Saturday.

He was named outstanding lineman of the game and also received honorable mention on the All-East team of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference.

A 1957 graduate of Plymouth High School where he lettered in football, Al started his collegiate football career in his sophomore years as center and this year was shifted from center to offensive end and defensive halfback. Majoring in Secondary Education, he is also a member of the Lettermen's Club and the Education Club.

Booters Go to Rider With Loss of Roberts; Beaten by Alumni, 3-1

by George Tensa

Tomorrow the soccer team will travel to Trenton, N.J. to meet a strong Rider College squad. Rider was one of the top offensive teams in the nation last season and featured a high-scoring line which carried them to national recognition last year.

The last meeting between the Colonels and the Roughriders was in 1958 when the Wilkes booters blanked the visitors, 4-0. In series play, the two teams are tied at three victories each.

The Colonels suffered a severe blow last Saturday when Clyde Roberts, veteran lineman at outside left, was injured during the alumni-varsity game in Artillery Park. He will be lost to the team for an indefinite period of time. The loss of Clyde's "big foot" will be felt as Coach Ferris was counting quite highly on him to help offset the lack of experience on the team.

After a scoreless first half which featured topnotch defensive play by both backfields, the Alumni erupted for three goals in the third quarter to down the Varsity, 3-1.

After four minutes of play in the second half, Tim Jenkins, Alumni outside right, took a pass from inside left John Reese and dented the net from thirty-five feet out to put the Alumni ahead, 1-0. Moments later, Younsu Koo intercepted a Varsity pass and set up a "head" shot for Tom Ruggiero to collect the second Alumni goal.

Clyde Roberts put the Varsity in the scoring column midway in the third frame when he took a pass from inside left George Tensa and booted it past Alumni goalie Bob Payne and into the net. Moments later, the Alumni added an insurance point as Carl "Hummer" Havria, outside left, blasted the ball out of the reach of goalie John Adams.

Coach Francis Pinkowski, in switching to an "I" from the straight "T" formation from which the Colonels operated last year, has switched Frank Q Spudis from end to quarterback to plug the gap left by the graduation of Ray Yanchus.

In other changes made, Al Dobrowalski has been shifted to end and Bob Herman has taken over at center with Don Eller moving from the halfback position to the line as guard. Paul Aquilino will continue to call the signals as quarterback along with Spudis and Jim Brunza has been shifted from guard to halfback. Tom Krisulevich continues as halfback, Marv Antinnes as fullback, Ed Gavel as tackle, Jerry Mohn as guard, and Rick Rees as an end.

The game tomorrow shapes up to be another tough one for the Colonels as Moravian sports a strong team which has weak spots only in pass defense and offense. Top-heavy with fifteen freshmen, the 'Hounds are building for the future and are admittedly looking to 1964 as the year when they hope to have a powerful team.

Last Saturday the Colonels opened their 1960 season by dropping a 14-8 decision to Lebanon Valley College at Annville. The lone Wilkes score came halfway through the final quarter when Ray Marchakaitus ran forty yards with a ball which had been deflected from the arms of Lebanon Valley quarterback Wesley MacMillan by Wilkes lineman Jerry Mohn.

The two teams engaged in a scoreless first quarter before Brooks Fletcher recovered a fumble for the Dutchmen early in the second. The Lebanon Valley team made the game's first deep penetration mid-way in the second period after taking a Colonel punt on their own thirty-eight yard line.

Moving behind a series of three first downs, the home team was on the Wilkes two with about only two minutes left to play when halfback Lester Holstein took it across and Dave Miller added the extra point with a boot between the uprights.

The major portion of the second half was a nip and tuck battle and with three minutes left in the third period Wilkes mounted a serious threat which moved the ball to the Lebanon Valley five where the Colonels were stopped on downs.

Marchakaitus' touchdown run was the highlight of the game for Coach Pinkowski's men. Marv Antinnes plunged for the two extra points.

About halfway through the final frame the Dutchmen struck again with an intricate series of plays which brought them into scoring position. Holstein scored from the two and John Yajko added the extra point with a placement kick.

Freshmen Dealt Penalties At Tribunal

CCUN Holds First Meeting

by Jerry Shilanski

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations held its first formal meeting of the year on Tuesday of this week.

At this meeting Vincent Capo, president of the club, outlined the projects and topics to be considered for this semester. He also emphasized the purposes of the CCUN, which is to inform and educate American college students about the great issues of these times and the inner-workings of the international forum.

Plans for the upcoming United Nations Day and Week, October 24, were discussed. It was announced that Mr. Clark M. Eichelberger, one of the foremost authorities on the United Nations, will be in the area that week. He has been engaged to speak at a forum held at the Hotel Sterling, and to the Wilkes student body.

The primary subject for the local CCUN discussions, this semester, will be the Congo crisis. Members have chosen countries, whose views they wish to represent in the future debates.

The Wilkes Collegiate Council, with its twenty members, is one of 275 student affiliates of the American Association for the United Nations. Membership is open to all students interested in doing something about the problems and future of this country and the world.

Meetings are held weekly, at 11 a.m., in room 104, Pickering Hall.

Junior Class Meets, Elects S.G. Reps.; Good Year Predicted

by Leona A. Baiera

The Junior Class held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday. Joseph Shambe, junior class president, opened the meeting by asking for nominations for Student Government representatives to fill two vacancies. Those appointed were: Mike Bianco, Bob King, Elva Chernow, and Ralph Pinsky. Elections for Student Government representatives will be held this Wednesday from 10 to 3 at Chase Theater.

Plans were then discussed for the United Fund Drive. Dick Belles, chairman of the Junior Class for the United Fund, formed a committee to aid him in collecting donations for the campaign. He and his committee will collect donations from day students. Each student is requested to give $1.00 to the United Fund. Only day students from the class will be solicited since dormitory students will be solicited separately.

President Joseph Shambe then announced that this year's class council will be comprised of those people who will voluntarily give their services to the class. Anyone interested may join, the only qualification being that members must remain active in the class council to be considered a member in good standing.

A report of the Junior Class Book Sale at the beginning of the fall semester showed a profit of $18.50.

Tentative plans for bringing a famous personality to the campus, as last year's Junior Class did, was discussed. More information on this will be expected at a future class meeting.

The meeting closed with a few words by the President on his ideas for a successful year.

Bio. Club Plans Field Trips

by Pat Rossi, Mary Alice Isganitis

The Biology Club recently held their first organizational meeting. Forthcoming plans will include a geological tour which will be led by Dr. Charles B. Reif, professor of biology.

Considered also on the agenda is a plan to tour a Philadelphia medical school. Other field trips will be to the Geisinger Hospital, the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Administration Hospital, and the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital laboratories.

A series of evening meetings will be held which will feature prominent physicians who will speak on topics within their particular fields. One of last year's programs will be carried over to this year's agenda. Representatives from various other departments will present lectures on the relation of their particular fields to the study of biology. Among the speakers this year will be Dr. Bastress, professor of chemistry, and Dr. Symmons, professor of sociology.

Plans for social programs will include the annual Biology Club dance which will be held on October 14 in conjunction with Homecoming Weekend. Admission is 50 cents, and the dance committee is planning a surprise for intermission.

The executive committee of the club consists of Bill Davis, president; Robert Martin, vice-president; Jane Jablonski, treasurer; Rosalie Kackauskas, secretary; and William Raub, program chairman. The advisors of the Biology Club are Dr. Reif, Dr. Michelini, Mr. Freeman, and Mrs. Namisniak.

Trips on Acct. Club List

by Michael Landesman

The Accounting Club, which meets every Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Parrish 35, under the leadership of Fred Pello, is planning many interesting events for members. Included are trips to the New York Federal Reserve, the stock market, and a business machine show. A very interesting survey of the accounting courses offered at Wilkes, and the opinions of students, teachers, and graduates in the accounting field as to the value of these courses, is also planned.

It should be a very enjoyable and informative year for the club members and all students interested in gaining an insight into the business and financial worlds will profit greatly by attending.

I.C.G. Outlines Plans

by Gloria Zaludek

An informal meeting of the Inter-collegiate Conference on Government was held on Tuesday evening to briefly outline to the new members the organization's plans.

The club's president, Steve Robertson, announced a series of four lectures to be given in October by two Democratic and two Republican speakers. Pat Rossi has been named publicity chairman for these events.

The club has scheduled two debators to appear at the assembly program on November 3. Scheduled for this same day will be a mock presidential election. Ed Regalsky will be chairman.

I.C.G. will also sponsor a dance on Friday, November 4.

Chief Justice William Roots Presides Over Rebellious, Insolent Yearlings; Class Indicted on Penalty Box Crime

by Steve Robertson

A milestone in the annals of justice was created on Monday, when the Freshman class was finally brought to task for the gross misdemeanors they have been perpetrating since their arrival on campus.

Chemists Hold Meeting

by Mary Frances Barone

Last Tuesday, the Wilkes Chemical Society held its first meeting with Dave Edwards presiding. Among the topics discussed was the freshman initiation party which will be held on Wednesday, October 5, at 7:15 p.m. John Turner was named general chairman of the affair.

A committee was formed to take charge of the club's homecoming display. Judy Gavenas and Stan Karmilovich will be the co-chairmen of the homecoming display.

Nominations were held for the Society's executive council. Members from each class were nominated to the council. The election will be held at the next meeting which will take place on October 4.

Before the meeting was adjourned, an announcement was made that all members wishing to join the American Chemical Society must have their money in to David Lear by October 18.

Tribunal this year has a distinguished staff. The Honorable William Roots is chief justice, with Walter Buzby and Glenn Bebe serving the trying positions of Prosecuting Attorney and Defense Attorney, respectively.

These men have shown a tremendous amount of judicial acumen during this brilliant display of courtroom justice.

The Freshman Class was charged collectively with stealing the penalty box from the cafeteria. This is truly one of the most terrible crimes ever witnessed on this campus.

As their penalty, the whole Freshman class was informed that they would be required to carry toys or dolls to school with them on the following Thursday. These toys were collected at the end of the day and donated to the Salvation Army.

Many of the Freshmen received the penalty of working on the new Student Union, a project of the Inter-Dormitory Council. These projects are all part of the new constructive orientation program that the college is initiating.

Kickline Tryouts Held; Jan Bronson to Lead Group

Econ. Club Elects Folek and Sokira

by Jim Jackiewicz

At Tuesday's regular meeting of the Economics Club, the members present elected Walt Folek and Dave Sokira, both commerce and finance majors, to the Economic Council. The Council is concerned primarily with the reviewing and purchasing of corporation stocks for the club.

Also, at the meeting, a number of forthcoming club activities were discussed. Lois Agostini, chairman of the Homecoming display committee, produced several tentative plans for the club's exhibit. However, nothing as to the definite nature of the display was decided.

Plans for the club outing, which will be held sometime after Homecoming, were brought up and a number of suggestions as to the nature and location of the affair were made. The club will decide on one of these suggestions in the near future.

Finally, the group discussed the annual field trip. Among the places the committee members are considering as possible destinations for the trip are Bethlehem Steel and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company building in New York City.

pointed! The high-stepping gals of the Kickline are holding their daily practice under the able direction of Jan Bronson.

Miss Bronson, a transfer student, was a member of a Kickline group at West Chester State College. Upon transferring to Wilkes, she decided to start a similar organization on campus, and last year began coaching a group of interested girls. Last year, students had the opportunity to see the group perform for many school activities including the Winter Carnival, and the response was enthusiastic. Since that time, the Kickline has become an active campus organization, and will perform for Homecoming, the Winter Carnival, a few school functions and club meetings.

Tryouts were held last week and those chosen to complete the 'Line were: Sherry Downing, Barbara Piledggi, Joan Pitney, June Vaananen, Pat Chapracki, Rosemarie Hug, Barbara Stevens, Ellen Sunde, Alice Powell, Pat Brady, Anne Sadovi, Carolyn Warren, Mary Ann Lee, Carol Roush, Lynne Dente, Lynn Joseph, and Jeanne Bonomo. Last year's members who will return include Merle Benisch, Roberta Slotnik, Linda Renner, Bianca Moscato, Peggy Churchill, Anne Leggeti, Gloria Silverman, Sandy Biber, Nancy Tinklepaugh, Elaine Kozemchak, Pat Keibler, Jan Bronson, and Linda Paonessa.

Peggy Churchill is co-captain of the Kickline, Elaine Kozemchak is treasurer, Linda Renner is corresponding secretary, Nancy Tinklepaugh is publicity chairman.

The Kickline will complete the school year by holding a dinner dance at which all senior members of the line will be presented with words
