Five Music Majors Will Present Senior Piano Recital Sunday

Five piano majors will present a "Concerto Hour" Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. This program is their second semester recital.

Stephen Banks, sophomore, will play the Kabalevsky Youth Concerto, opus 50, No. 3 in D major. This is the last work in a trilogy, composed in 1952. Bernard Goldstein will play the orchestral score condensed for second piano.

Alberta Barbini, junior, will perform the "Largo" from Beethoven's Concerto No. 1 in C major with Thomas Hrynkiw playing the accompaniment.

Bernard Goldstein, junior, will play the "Rondo All'Ongharese" from the Haydn D major Concerto with Alberta Barbini playing second piano.

Thomas Hrynkiw, junior, will perform the "Allegro Con Brio" from the Beethoven Concerto No. 3 in C minor. His accompanist will be Stephen Banks.

Jean Ann McMahon, junior, will close the program with the "Adagio" and "Allegro Marcato" from the Grieg Concerto in A minor. Thomas Hrynkiw will accompany Miss McMahon.

Cold Weather Enthusiasts Meet to Form Ski Club

A movement which started as a snowball at the Winter Carnival a few weeks ago has turned into an avalanche. More than two dozen ski enthusiasts turned out for an organizational meeting of a college Ski Club last Friday.

At this meeting Bernie Cohen, a junior biology major, was elected chairman pro temp of the group and a committee consisting of Ted Toluba, Bill Hall, and Marsha Silvers was appointed to look into the possibilities of becoming a recognized campus organization.

On Tuesday evening, 14 of the infant club's members attended a meeting of the Wyoming Valley Ski Club. Those who attended had the opportunity to obtain information on the club's organization, hints on skiing, and area facilities. Three ski films were also shown.

Future meetings will be announced; anyone interested in the sport is invited to attend. Beginners are welcome.

Michelini Will Discuss Drinking At Next Assembly Program

One of the most familiar and friendly figures on the campus is Dr. Francis Michelini, the featured speaker at assembly next Thursday. Dr. Michelini whose topic will be, "The Physiological Effects of Alcohol on the Human Body," feels that early summers spent on his grandfather's farm and his grandfather's deep appreciation of nature probably awakened and influenced his interest in science.

Dr. Michelini left college after his freshman year to join the Army Air Corps where he was a radio operator. After the war he returned to college and received a B.S. degree in chemistry from Seton Hall University. He continued his studies at the University of Delaware where he earned his M.S. degree in biology.

While at Delaware he was awarded an Atomic Energy Fellowship for research on radioactive effects on plant materials. At the University of Pennsylvania, where he earned his doctorate degree, he continued his studies on plants and wrote his doctoral thesis on plant metabolism. As a result of this interest in the metabolic activities of plant materials, Dr. Michelini developed a side interest in alcohol producing plants and the physio-

Debating Team Places Seventh in Annual Garvey Tournament

The varsity debate squad participated in the 12th Annual Garvey Invitational Debate Tournament at King's last weekend. The squad, composed of John Campbell and Lynne Dente on the affirmative and Jerome Krasa and John Pikulski on the negative, compiled an overall record of six wins and four losses and placed seventh in a field of 34 schools entered.

The affirmative team met and defeated teams from Duquesne, Colgate, and Drew Universities while dropping decisions to St. John's, Hillcrest College, and Washington and Lee University. The negative team defeated teams from St. John's College, Ohio University, and Brandeis University while losing to Duquesne University and Augustana College, the tournament winner.

Entering the final round of the tournament which pitted strength against strength after the first round, the Wilkes team was actually in second place. However, since it dropped two decisions in the last round while the eventual winners picked up at least one, they dropped to seventh in the final standings.

Later in the semester, the team has scheduled meets at Pace College, Colgate University, Bucknell University, and College Misericordia. Plans are being discussed for entering the District 7 elimination meet at the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Virginia. This match is the elimination match for teams that will later participate in the national finals at West Point Military Academy.

logical effects of alcohol on humans.

His assembly subject was first considered as a lecture topic when the Pittston Lions Club asked him to speak to their group. Dr. Michelini feels the subject is of particular importance since many people have been presented with more myth than fact regarding the effects of alcohol. In his lecture Dr. Michelini will present the more up-to-date scientific view on the effects of alcohol.

He also plans to discuss some of the differences between the various types of alcoholic beverages in terms of their nutritional value and alcoholic content. In regard to alcoholic content, Dr. Michelini indicated that there is more to "proof" than is generally understood. He will relate some of the traditional myths referring to the effects of

Kiwanis Branch Formed By College Students, Known as Circle K Club

The organizational meeting of the Circle K Club of the Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis was held recently on the Wilkes College campus.

At this meeting Victor F. Baiz, chairman of the Circle K groups of the Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis, explained the objectives and functions of these auxiliaries, and then introduced A. H. Ackerson, Lt. Governor, Pennsylvania Kiwanis Division 15, who spoke at length about the Kiwanis in general.

Following a question and answer period, the club was officially organized with temporary officers being elected. William D. Carver will serve as president; Edward Comstock, vice-president; Michael Cebula, secretary; and Douglas Haughwout, treasurer.

Membership in the club is open to all the young men of Wilkes, but especially freshmen and sophomores are urged to join. All members will receive pins and membership cards on Charter Night to be held at the end of the semester.

Future meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

School Spirit Committee To Aid in Fashion Show; Spring Weekend Planned

School Spirit Committee made extensive plans for the second semester at their meeting on Monday. Immediate arrangements are being made for the intermission program at the Glamour show for the best dressed coed.

Among other undertakings of the Committee will be the investigation of the possibility of a weekend trip to the Middle Atlantic Wrestling Championship Conference at West Chester. The Committee also intends to charter a bus to the Scranton basketball game if there are enough students interested in it.

On the Spring schedule of the School Spirit Committee is the annual carnival and all-college outing which occur on Spring Weekend.

Appointments to the vacant posts on Committee were made at the meeting. Jim Jenkins was appointed as the new transportation chairman, and Leslie Tobias was made the new publicity director.

School Spirit is selling hats at the Bookstore. The hats have Wilkes emblems on them and are available to both men and women. They cost $1.75.

There will be a meeting of the School Spirit Committee on Monday at 4:30 p.m. in Stark 116 to decide when future meetings will be held. Each president of organization is asked to send a representative to the meeting. It is important that the organization representatives attend.

In the near future, School Spirit will sponsor a Spanish film in cooperation with the Spanish Club and Student Government.

alcohol, and then present the more accurate and actual effects on the body's nervous system.

Dr. Michelini will conclude his lecture by giving some of the medical-legal standards that determine the degree of intoxication and then discuss the amount of alcohol intake that normally would result in intoxication.

Accounting Internships Send Seniors Throughout Country

by Jerome Krasa

College seniors are often criticized for the semi-natural tendency they seem to have of allowing the quality of their work to slacken off during their last semester. Few, however, are granted the opportunity presented eleven of our students of leaving the campus entirely for the first six weeks of that semester.

The students in this case are senior accounting majors and they are participating in an annual program set up by the college to acquire field work in accounting prior to graduation. These internships are provided to give the student practice in the work he would be doing if he were an actual part of the firm.

The internship program, itself, is designed to last for six weeks, during which time the student acts as a regular part of the firm for which he is working. The program, this year, achieved national scope with one of the boys accepting an internship in the Los Angeles office of an accounting firm.

Mr. Robert Capin, instructor in the accounting department and head of the college internship program, said that the only function the college plays in the program is to get representatives of the firms to come to the campus to interview the students.

He noted that Mr. John Chwalek is responsible for having the firm send a representative but that once the representative appears on campus there is no further participation in the program on the part of the college. Each representative interviews students and makes an offer, which the student is free either to accept or reject.

Student Directors Present Two 'One-Acts' in March

Cue and Curtain is preparing for two one-act plays which will be produced on March 7 through March 10. The plays, The Happy Journey and The American Dream, are going to be directed by Emily Weinberg and Stephen Schwartz, respectively.

Both plays which will be dramatized are comedies. The Happy Journey, written by Thornton Wilder, is a light comedy, whereas The American Dream, written by Edward Albee, is a biting comedy. The latter is a play about the actions of people in our society.

Both casts have been selected for the parts. Those people selected for roles in The Happy Journey are Lynne Maslanka, Steve Panken, Marsha Hefferan, Buddy Landesman, and Walter Dexter. The cast of The American Dream are Dave Fendrick, Joan Pitney, Ruth Friedlander, David S. Peters, and Pat Chapracki.

Lighting for the plays will be handled by Mindy Weinberg and Ed Lipinski. Stage managers are Bob Dew and Jim Stanton.

TEA IS PLANNED

Theta Delta Rho will sponsor its annual Washington Day Tea for high school senior girls who are prospective members of the fall semester's Freshman class.

This tea will be held in McClintock Hall next Tuesday from two until five o'clock. Chairman Patricia Ropetski has announced that the honored guests are from high schools from the west side of Wyoming Valley.

The Warner Trio will present some of the entertainment as arranged by Joan Smith. Jane Woolbert is in charge of refreshments; Rachel Phillips, decorations; and Kathy Thomas, invitations. Faculty members are cordially invited to attend.

Clyde Roberts

Once he accepts the offer of a particular firm, the student has his transportation costs to and from his place of employment paid, if the firm is located out of town, and is paid a salary which Mr. Capin remarked averaged about $400 a month.

The intern's free time is his to use as he wishes and, in fact, he is responsible for all living expenses which he must take out of his salary.

This semester, Clyde Roberts is working for the firm of Haskins & Sells in their Los Angeles office and was able, so far, to do something Premier Khrushchev was unable to do while on tour of this country, that is, visit Disneyland.

Both Frank Kline and Ben Weaver are with the New York office of this firm. Leo Morgan and Morgan Reis accepted internships with the Chicago office of Price Waterhouse & Co. and James Siock is working for the Rochester firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

The remaining five students are working for firms in Wilkes-Barre. Stan Bigoski and Al Kishel are working for Laventhol, Krekstein & Co., Len Reese is interned at Stephen Zneimer, Joe Simoson is working with Abraham Marcus, and Robert Yetter is working for the First National Bank of Wilkes-Barre.

Before these boys return to campus, Mr. Capin will visit all the offices, except that in Los Angeles, to discuss the boys' progress and will be given a written report detailing the quality of their work and their overall performance with the firm.

The students are graded for their work and return to campus on March 19 to resume classes under an accelerated curriculum which allows them to finish the equivalent of a whole semester's work.

The firms taking part in the program are considered giants in the field.

AT STATE CAPITAL

State Education Is Subject Of Governor's Press Conference

by Wayne Thomas

The various aspects of state education was the major topic of discussion at Governor David L. Lawrence's college editors' conference held recently at the governor's office in Harrisburg. Approximately fifty student editors from all parts of the state were in attendance. Governor Lawrence stated that "we are trying to do as much as we can do for education with the amount of money at hand."

Dr. David Kurtzman, state secretary of administration, stated that a constitutional amendment which will permit the state government to grant scholarships and student loans has passed one session of the legislature and will be up again in the 1963 session. With regard to this amendment, the governor added that he believes that we do not have enough scholarships available in this country. He cited Dr. Jonas Salk as an example of a person possessing an intelligent mind which might have been lost to humanity if it had not been for the fact that he was able to receive an education despite the financial position of his family.

The governor also stated that he is strongly in favor of having community colleges. He stated that he felt we could use high school facilities in the town or borough so college students could attend classes at night. This way they could be employed during the day if they so desired. "We could bring the college right to them," he stated. "They could stay at home and families that otherwise could not afford to send a member of the family off to school and pay board would be able to educate their children." The governor recommended that our school buildings be occupied all year in order to adequately provide for the state's educational needs.

Governor Lawrence expressed a desire to provide the highest possible salary for our teachers. He stated that America will win the cold war in the classroom and that the federal government as well as the various state governments are doing everything possible to raise our educational standards.

Dr. Kurtzman stated that a plan is now in progress which will combine Pennsylvania's weaker school districts. Under this program, the state will have approximately one hundred school districts. At present, the state is divided into some 2400 districts.

Senator Joseph Clark, who also participated in the conference commented on federal plans for aid to higher education. Senator Clark stated that a higher education bill has passed both houses of Congress and will go to conference shortly. One billion five hundred thousand dollars will be provided by the bill for long-term, low-interest loans to private and public institutions for construction of academic facilities. The Senate bill, which has the support of President Kennedy, also provides for some 212,000 scholarships of which Pennsylvania would receive between 21,000 and 30,000.

Letter to the Editor . . .

Dear Sports Editor:

Your letter came as quite a surprise to me! I read your letter and announcement, and I still can't quite believe it. I feel very honored to be part of such a group that encompasses 10 years.

I would like to thank the people who voted and who thought enough of my basketball ability to include me as a member of the Dream Team. Little things such as this certainly make one feel a bit warmer inside; I only wish that I could be on hand to take part in the festivities on February 10. Unfortunately, St. Louis is quite a distance from Wilkes-Barre, and since time is rather short, I find it necessary to stay here.

Either Younsu Koo or George Elliot, I hope, will be happy to accept my award and forward it to me. And may I thank you for it in advance.

Again, thank you for the consideration.

Carl Van Dyke

Chemists Visit Sites Which Relate to Major Plan Future Trips

The Chemistry Club recently made a day-long trip to the Merck Chemical Company plant in Danville. The Merck Company is a local division of one of the nation's largest refined chemical producers. At this time, members of the club also visited the Joseph Priestly House in nearby Northumberland, Pa.

Priestly, an English scientist who experimented with air, oxygen, and respiration, spent his last years in America, and his Northumberland home contains the original laboratory apparatus used in his experiments.

Continuing their investigation of local industrial facilities, the club will visit the Stegmaier Brewing Company and the Scranton plant of Capitol Records in the near future.

Also on the club agenda are a bake sale and the selection of a delegation which will attend a science conference in North Carolina. These events are still in the planning stage.

The Chemistry Club, as a member of the Intercollegiate Chemical Society has been designated as host organization for the annual banquet of the area society, which includes groups from Misericordia, Scranton University, and King's College. Co-chairmen for the banquet are Stanley Karmilovich and Jerry Lawrence.

Symphonic Band, Concordia in Concert

by Barbara Lore

Refusing to wait for Spring's thaw and subsequent reawakening, the world of music happily provides a myriad of events to brighten the long, dreary remaining nights of winter.

One of these is a community musical event of significance, the midwinter concert of the Concordia Singing Society, which will be held on Friday, February 16 at Irem Temple, 8:30 p.m.

This affair, Concordia's 83rd annual winter concert, will combine the talents of Mr. Robert Lovett, chairman of Wilkes College Music Department, the Wilkes College Symphonic Band under the direction of Mr. Larry Weed, and Marjorie Casselberry, Concordia accompanist, as well as the voices of Concordia. Tickets may be purchased at $1.10 for students, $1.65 for general admission, and $2.00 for reserved seats.

Bucknell Orchestra Concert

Under the baton of Kenneth Josephson, assistant professor of music at Bucknell University, the Bucknell Symphony Orchestra will present a varied program including works of Schubert, Shostakovich, Dvořak, and Saint-Saens at Clarks Summit-Abington High School on

STUDENT SKETCH

Alumnus Returns for Courses To Prepare for Dental Study

by Gloria Zaludek

How does it feel to relive an exciting experience? What adjustments would one make if he were, for instance, virtually step back in time and become a college freshman again? After a five year absence Joseph Trosko returned to Wilkes and did a double take! Campus changes made him feel once again like a freshman in a bewildering atmosphere.

The beloved little cafeteria had become a huge dining area and the center of campus life. Coffee, which was served only at meal time, is now offered all day. He found that chemistry, once taught exclusively at Conyngham Hall, is now taught in the attractive and well-equipped million dollar Stark Hall science building.

Joseph Trosko

Joe is a 1955 Wilkes graduate who has returned to secure several additional credit hours in physics and organic chemistry which he will need to enter Pennsylvania State University School of Dentistry.

Graduated from the College with a bachelor of science degree in secondary education, Joe coached football here for one season. He then taught physical education in the Plains school system. He taught sophomore biology in Somerville, New Jersey and general science in Nutley Junior High School. Joe also worked in the laboratory of the Robert Packer Hospital in Sayre, whence his desire to study dentistry.

Students will remember Joe for his outstanding athletic record here — he played four years on both the football and the baseball teams. He was captain of the football squad and was named "All-State" in the Little All American team. He won the outstanding lineman award and the Joseph Gallagher Award for leadership and team spirit.

While a full-time student Joe was a member of the Lettermen's Club, the Education Club, and participated in several Cue and Curtain productions. His favorite role was in "Androcles and the Lion." In this play he was a warrior whom Little Julius Caesar tried to induct into his army. Incidentally, Little Caesar was portrayed by Mr. George Ralston, Dean of Men.

Joe has noted many other interesting changes in campus life which have occurred while he was away. He recalls that the first floor of Chase Hall, now offices, used to be a coed lounge where all campus "Big Wheels" revolved. "At that time," he said, "the Lettermen were in charge of the freshman hazing program. They told us that Wilkes was the friendliest campus in the world, and we freshmen had to smile at all times. The Lettermen saw to that!"

"Unfortunately, students have grown apart," he continued. Joe was referring to the gradual separation of dorm and day students. "For instance, male residents and commuters shared lounges in the men's dormitories. Now these lounges are strictly for dorm men."

He said that attendance at athletic events was better and somewhat more spirited than it is today, and would like to see the area big three — King's College, the University of Scranton, and Wilkes College — compete for an Anthracite Trophy in sports.

Joe, who resides in Plains, has enjoyed his college years. "Most of my lasting friendships have been made here. I have been exposed to many excellent teachers whose worth can never be fully appreciated. Indeed this Valley is fortunate to have a college of such high caliber."

His adjustment to the status of a campus "newcomer" may be stated in one word: attitude. Joe believes that one can be happy and successful if he desires it and works toward that goal. His campus adjustment is also aided by his bride of one year, Janet, who is a secretary in the college administration offices.

'Amnicola' Accepting Pictures to February 23

The Amnicola staff has announced that approximately 100 pages of the yearbook are ready for printing. This year's Amnicola will contain more art work than previously, and instead of grouping isolated clubs and organizations, the groups will be arranged in accordance with the cover of the book.

The Amnicola is now accepting photographs for the yearbook from those students who have not had their picture taken by Bill Williams, the publications photographer. Any size posed photographs, glossy or dull texture, will be accepted. Students are asked to print their name, address, and class year on the back of the picture. Deadline for submission of these pictures at the Amnicola office: Sturdevant Hall, is next Friday.

American Legion Is Site Of Junior Dinner-Dance

The Junior Class has made final arrangements for their dinner-dance on March 10. It will be held at the Wilkes-Barre American Legion Post on North River Street.

A selection of either roast turkey, roast beef, or baked ham will be served at 8:30 p.m. for the buffet dinner. Immediately following this meal, the guests will dance until 12 p.m. with music provided by a local orchestra.

Tickets are now on sale for four dollars per couple and group table reservations are being taken. Reservation and ticket sales close March 5.

Committees functioning under the direction of the three co-chairmen, Mary Regalis, Jane Palka, and Rosalie Kakauskas, are as follows: Rowena Simms, table decorations; Marshall Brooks, orchestra; Alice Cole, chaperones; Patricia Rossi, publicity; Merle Benisch and Brent O'Connell, tickets.

Dr. Eugene Hammer and Arthur Hoover will chaperon the affair.

Sunday, February 18, at 8:15 p.m. This appearance, featuring a 45-piece student music organization, is a segment of Bucknell's annual tour of high schools in Pennsylvania and neighboring states. Adult admission price for the affair is one dollar while the student admission fee is fifty cents.

Matmen Face Powerful Moravian; Draw with Millersville State

Tomorrow evening the Greyhounds of Moravian College will clash with the Colonel matmen as part of the wrestling-basketball twin-bill. The meet will commence at 7:00. This year's Greyhound squad boasts a number of returning letter-winners and are expected to provide stiff opposition for the Reesemen. Reports have it that Moravian is strong, fast, and experienced. They are currently enjoying another successful campaign.

The Colonels will be trying to duplicate the victory they gained over Moravian last season. The Greyhounds up to that point were undefeated and the setback by Wilkes spoiled one of their finest seasons.

A decision in the final bout last Saturday evening enabled the grapplers to tie a strong Millersville State squad, 14-14. Heavyweight Bob Herman secured a 5-1 victory over Stan Carnahan to clinch the tie for the Colonels, whose record is now 3-1-2.

The Reesemen went off to an early lead as Brooke Yeager won by a fall in 2:25 minutes over Sam Jones of the Marauders. Brooke applied a cross-body press to pin his agile opponent.

Dave Puerta performed well enough to register a 5-3 verdict over Millersville's Charlie Lott at 130 pounds.

Wilkes dropped the 137 and 147 pound contests as Wagner pinned Nick Stefanowski in 4:55 minutes and Russ Meyerson decisioned John Gardner, 9-6.

With the score knotted, 8-8, Bob Ziegler outclassed Hank Kenberdine, 11-4, in an exciting contest. At 167, Jim McNew, a freshman participating in his first match, led until the final 30 seconds. At that point Marauder Dave Hower got a reversal and a predicament to pull ahead of McNew and collect a 5-4 victory. Jim was substituting for injured Bob Ainsworth.

Ted Toluba turned in an expert performance at 177 and was barely beaten by Millersville's Walt Kottneyer. Kottneyer, a senior, has yet to be defeated in collegiate competition. A neutral in the final period gave him the 4-3 decision.

Trailing in the meet, 14-11, Herman then came on to gain the 5-1 decision and gain the tie with the favored Millersville team.

Hoopsters Host E-town, Upsala During Weekend; Moravian Cops Thriller

Overtime Action

Colonel cagers will have a busy weekend with MAC games tonight and tomorrow evening. In tonight's action the opponents will be Elizabethtown with Upsala providing the nightcap opposition in tomorrow's twin-bill. Last season the E-towners edged the Wilkesmen, 80-76, in an overtime contest while the Upsala Vikings fashioned a 44 point second half to down the Colonels, 80-74.

Last Saturday evening Moravian College had to go into two overtimes to down a highly-spirited Colonel squad, 71-69. The regulation game ended with the score knotted at 61-all and each squad added four points in the first overtime. In the second five-minute overtime the Greyhounds sent three shots through the hoop to end the marathon.

Moravian opened the contest with an eight point lead but the Colonels closed the gap to tie the score at 23-all on the shooting of Harvey Rosen. The Greyhounds put on a full-court press and added twelve points to their total before the Colonels could break into the scoring column again. Halftime came with the visitors holding a 37-27 margin.

The Davismen surged the second half and tied their taller opponents, 57-57, in the closing minutes. Top shooting by Rosen and two clutch baskets by Tom Pugh led the comeback. The two squads traded baskets in the closing moments to end the regulation time.

In the first overtime Rosen and Ernie Kosman traded baskets and Wolfson put the Bethlehem men into the lead before Pugh knotted the score for the twelfth time with a pair of free throws.

Kosman was the big noise in the second overtime as he ripped the nets with three jump shots for the margin of victory. John Moore and Don Matthey scored for the Colonels. Rosen was the top scorer for the Colonels with 30 points while Kosman hit for a like number for Moravian. Moore took runnerup honors with 14 points.

Ziegler Chosen 'Beacon' Athlete; Decisions Millersville Grappler

For the third consecutive week the "Athlete of the Week" laurels go to a member of Coach Reese's wrestling team. This week the honors go to Bob Ziegler, a competitor in the 157-pound division.

Bob, a freshman, has been a mainstay of the mat squad throughout the season. In the past two meets he turned in particularly convincing victories. Against Lycoming, the Allentown native romped to a 7-0 decision over Bob Wayne. He was in command all the way as he racked up a number of predicament points to fashion the win.

Bob Ziegler

Last Saturday in the Millersville meet, Bob handed Hank Kenberdine of the Marauders an overwhelming defeat. He came close to pinning Kenberdine on several occasions, rolling up the highest score of the evening.

Bob has improved through the season and at present is performing in expert style.

He is a graduate of Allentown-Allen High School where he was an outstanding grappler. In his senior year he captained the squad while earning District and Regional Championships. He also was named Outstanding Wrestler of the Year in 1961 at Allentown-Allen.

Bob Ziegler has proved to be an important part of the Wilkes wrestling picture and no doubt he will continue to maintain this position of prominence in the future. The Beacon Sports Staff extends congratulations to Bob and we wish him continued success.

Morgan Receives 'Cager' Plaque

WILKES' MR. BASKETBALL OF THE DECADE — George Ralston, dean of men, presents George Morgan with a plaque designating him BEACON'S "Outstanding Colonel Cager of the Fifties" during half-time ceremonies of last Saturday's basketball game. Members of the Dream Team were introduced by Sports Editor George Tensa and presented with certificates of achievement by John Reese, director of athletics.

George Morgan, George Gacha, and Ed Davis were present to accept their awards with Younsu Koo and Joe Morgan accepting awards for Carl Van Dyke and Len (Batroney) Bartlo. Van Dyke and Bartlo are both working in the mid-west and found it impossible to be present for the ceremony.

Education Club Plans Meetings; Announces Coming Bake Sale

by Sandy Potapezyk

The first meeting of the Education Club for the spring semester was held last Tuesday. President Patricia Rossi introduced the newly-elected officers of the club who are: vice-president, Carol Rhines; secretary, Alice Cole; treasurer, John Tredinnick; corresponding secretary, Sylvia Yurkon; and librarian, Ruth Ann Zionce. Members of the publicity, social, and constitutional revision committees were also named.

John Tredinnick presented the club with an estimate of the budget for the next year. Since the club is in need of funds, a motion was made to have a bake sale to be held either on March 1 or 6.

Among the future activities of the club will be a field trip to be held March, an education film to be shown in April, and speakers at the oncoming meetings.

The newest project undertaken by the club is a liaison meeting between high school students interested in teaching and members of the Education Club. This activity will be held early in April. It will give students in high school a chance to familiarize themselves with Wilkes College. These students will also have an opportunity to acquaint themselves with some aspects of the teaching profession.

Miss Rossi also announced that the Education Club has a new office in Sturdevant Hall. In the future, articles of educational interests will be placed on the bulletin board adjacent to the office.

A blue stone, 1961 GAR high school class ring has been lost on campus. If found, please call VA 2-0203.

Ten Finalists Selected For 'Glamour' Magazine Best Dressed Coed Show

The Associated Women Students will sponsor a fashion contest for Glamour magazine at the gym on February 25. The exact time of the affair has not been decided as yet.

Members of AWS met on Wednesday to pick the ten finalists. The judges of the contest will include faculty members and student representatives, but members of the audience can also participate in the affair by voting for their choice of best-dressed coed. Ballots will be available and the audience can indicate their choice by encircling the name of the contestant.

The judges will base their decisions on poise, good grooming, posture, and the ability of each coed to recognize the type of clothing in which she looks best and to dress accordingly.

Mimi Wilson will act as fashion commentator. Elaine Kozemchak will design the setting of the gym so that the contestants will appear to be stepping from the pages of Glamour magazine.

While the final tabulations are being made, refreshments will be served. Afterwards, amid suspense and excitement, the judges will announce the winner.

Finally, after refreshments have been served and ballots have been counted the judges will announce the Wilkes Glamour fashion queen.

LOST AND FOUND

A plaque annually designating and honoring the outstanding member of the Education Club has been lost or misplaced. Mary Alice Isganitis and Elaine Szychowski request that anyone knowing of its whereabouts contact them or any officer of the club.

ACCOUNTING INTERNSHIPS

(continued from page 1) the field of accounting and Wilkes is fortunate to have the program at the college. Mr. Capin said that, although all colleges in the country don't participate in the program, our students are in competition with boys from colleges throughout the country.

He further noted that if the firm liked the performance of the intern working with it, a permanent job after graduation was not unusual. Here, also, the college stays free of the boy's choice.

The reason for Roberts being sent so far west, Mr. Capin said, was that Haskins and Sells wants to see how eastern college boys fit in with their western office. This is the farthest one of our students has been sent in this program.

Commenting on last year's program, Mr. Capin concluded, that our interns were compared favorably with those from other schools and a number of them were offered permanent positions with the firm with which they had interned.

TDR Valentine Queen Chosen

Miss Merle Benisch was crowned Queen of Hearts by Miss Barbara Piledggi, sorority president, at the Theta Delta Rho Valentine semi-formal last Friday evening. Miss Benisch received a bouquet of pink carnations and white pom poms, and a charm bracelet. Her royal duty consisted of distributing goblets to all male escorts during intermission.

Lettermen Go It Again At Annual Cherry Chop

"Can she bake a cherry pie Billy boy, Billy boy?" Nobly the Lettermen's Club will ease the pain of male students forced to answer this query negatively by serving free cherry pie during intermission at the Cherry Tree Chop next Friday evening.

Lest cynics too hastily conclude that cherry pie is the only boon offered by the Lettermen at their annual soiree, consider these other attractions. Dr. Francis J. Micheli, former monopolistic holder of four consecutive Pie Eating Championships, will attempt to recapture his title from Jerry Mohn, defending champion, who gorged his way to glory last year.

Buzzing saws and groaning men will usher in the traditional log-sawing contest featuring Dr. Micheli and Dean Ralston pitted against two hardy opponents representing the Lettermen's Club — a further enticement to diversion-seeking students.

To conclusively squelch any arguments against attending, Rick Rees and Jerry Mohn, co-chairmen of the affair, respectfully submit the theory that the fifty cent donation is tax deductible since its destination is the Lettermen's Scholarship Fund — indeed a charitable cause.

Famed Film to Be Shown

"Pather Panchali," a film with five international awards as its claim to fame, will be presented by the Manuscript Literary Society next Friday at 7 p.m. in Stark Hall, room 116.

This film was produced in India and written in the Hindustan dialect. Admission to the showing is free and refreshments will be served.

Students are reminded that any literary or art work of their undertaking will now be considered for publication in the Manuscript, campus fine arts magazine.
