WILKES COLLEGE  STUDENT WEEKLY

Vol. XXVI, No. 23

WILKES COLLEGE, WILKES-BARRE, PENNSYLVANIA

FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1962

Yearbook Problems Will Be Topic For Forthcoming Campus Seminar

"Building a Better Yearbook" will be the theme of a campus seminar, scheduled for Saturday, April 28. According to Dr. Francis J. Michelini, dean of academic affairs, between four and five hundred students from high schools, colleges, and universities throughout northeastern Pennsylvania are expected to attend. Charles Dolan, Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas, will direct the yearbook seminar.

The all day session, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the gym, will treat problems in editing, preparing, and publishing a yearbook. Lunch in the Commons will follow the morning sessions. The seminar will reconvene in Stark Hall for afternoon sessions devoted to photography, layout, and composition.

Discussions will be held in the general session. The group meetings will be addressed by Matt J. Lynott, seminar chairman, and Dr. Edward Devoe, chairman of the 1962 Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association Eastern Meeting, both outstanding figures in educational publishing.

Butler Open House To Acquaint Day Hops With Dormitory Life

Men of Butler Hall will take time off from their academic, social, and sports schedules to hold an open house today. The dormitory, located on River Street near the entrance to Stark Hall, will be open from two until six this afternoon.

Erwin Guetig, dormitory president, has announced that the purpose of the event is to acquaint day students with aspects of dormitory life on campus. All interested persons, however, are invited to attend.

Two special features are in store for those in attendance. First, the men of Butler will conduct guided tours and answer any and all questions presented by the visitors; secondly, refreshments will be served.

Richard Blisick is treasurer of the dormitory, Donald Bogart is secretary, and Mr. Arthur Hoover is dormitory proctor.

Econ Club to Distribute Tickets to Rocky Glen

The Economics Club will distribute twelve hundred strips of free tickets for amusements at Rocky Glen Park. These tickets are good for April 29 only, opening day of the Park. They are compliments of Ben Sterling, park owner.

This is to acquaint students with the park facilities so they will have an idea of the activities available to them at the All-College Outing on Sunday, May 13. The Economics Club and the School Spirit Committee are making all arrangements.

President Gerald Moffatt of the Economics Club announced that the tickets will be available to all students from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Commons on Monday and Tuesday. One strip of tickets per student is the limit to be handed out.

Amusement tickets for the All-College Outing will be on sale in the Commons starting Wednesday, May 2. A strip of twenty tickets will cost $1. Two guest passes will be given for each strip purchased. Picnic lunch tickets will also go on sale that day at a cost of $1 per day student.

Sale of tickets will continue during school until Friday, May 11. A booth will be set up at the Carriage on Saturday night, May 12, in one of the parking lots for

Cue 'n' Curtain Will End Theatrical Season With Ibsen Play

The Cue and Curtain players are making final preparations for their next production, Enemy of the People, written by Henrik Ibsen, and adapted by Arthur Miller. The play will be presented at 8 p.m. in Chase Theater beginning Wednesday, May 2 and continuing through Saturday, May 5.

This three act drama takes place in a Norwegian village, which has just developed a thriving business in mineral springs and baths. The conflict begins when Dr. Stockman, played by David Fendrick, discovers that the water being used in the springs is polluted. Stockman suggests that this situation be corrected, however the townsfolk and stockholders oppose Stockman's suggestion because of the additional expense they would incur. As the play progresses, the conflict becomes more involved, and eventually is interestingly resolved.

Additional members of the cast are Phil Diskin, Morton Kiil; Joe Muccino, Billing; Mary Russin, Catherine Stockman; Marc Hirschman, Peter Stockman; Keith Ackerman, Hovstad; Joey Chwalak, Morton; Linda Farrar, Egil; Martin Brennan, Captain Horster; Barbara Stevens, Petra; Harris Tobias, Aslaksen; Ed Gavel, the drunk.

Directing the entire production will be Mr. Alfred Groh, adviser to Cue and Curtain and member of the English department. He will be assisted by the following directors and chairmen: Andrew Palencar, art director; Dolores Amir, student director; Barry Gintel, play executive; Robert Dew and James Stanton, stage managers; Warren Hartman and Walter Dexter, lighting directors; Romelle Gomba, costume chairman; Barbara Gallagher, makeup chairman; Ellen Sundel, property and furniture; Robert Schechter, publicity.

Barry Gintel, president of Cue and Curtain, announced that there will be a workshop this Saturday at 10 a.m. in Chase Theater. Anyone interested in any phase of the theater is invited and urged to attend.

Freshman Fling Planned

The Accounting Club will sponsor the Freshman Fling on April 27 in the gymnasium.

The Fling is part of Freshman Weekend intended to show high school seniors visiting the campus a weekend college dance.

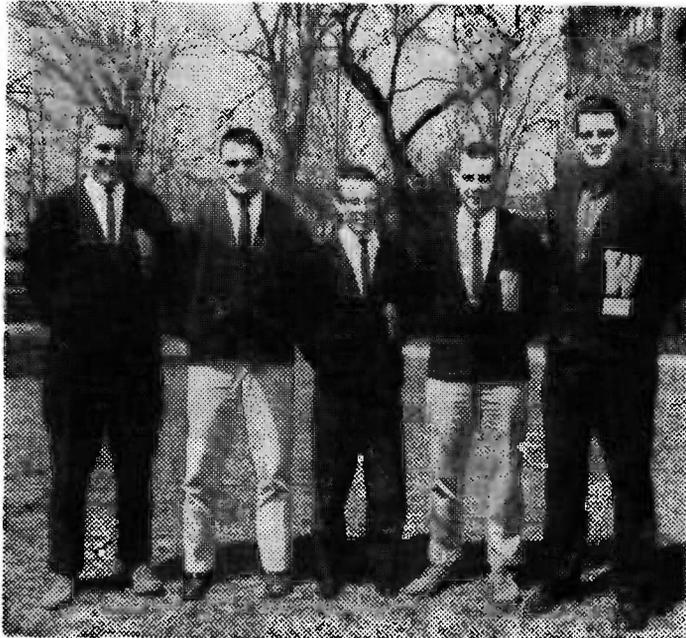

As a feature attraction, a barber shop quartet will render intermission entertainment reminiscent of an era now almost forgotten on the American campus scene.

Jay and the Imperials, a local dance band, will provide music for dancing from 9-12 p.m.

On May 4, Accounting Club members will travel by bus to the New York City accounting firms of Price Waterhouse and Arthur Anderson.

IDC Hosts Incoming Freshmen On "Typical Campus Weekend"

The Inter-Dormitory Council will host prospective freshmen during the April 27 "Freshman Weekend" on campus. Approximately eighty high school seniors will take part in a "typical campus weekend" to become acquainted with the college, its dormitory life, and its academic and social functions.

As guests of the college the prospective freshmen will room with dormitory students and talk with members of the administration and department chairmen. They will also be the guests of the Accounting Club at the Friday night dance.

Saturday's agenda includes baseball and tennis meets and an afternoon pops concert at the gymnasium. Pete Greenberg, president of the IDC, will address the prospective freshmen and answer questions concerning campus academics, and sports life. They will also meet Mr. Reese, director of athletics, and members of the football team.

After dinner — a picnic at Kirby Park — the prospective freshmen will be the guests of Sterling and Barre Halls at an evening party at Sterling Hall. They will return home Sunday afternoon.

Chairman for "Freshman Weekend" is Nick Allesandro. Assisting him in program planning and dormitory assignments are Merle Benisch, Jerry Burk, Marsha Hochberg, Joseph Lipinski, Richard Morgan, Carol Plonner, and Joan Smith.

Spanish Film to Be Shown

"How bitter can life be?" asks the Spanish language film, Calle Mayor (The Lovemaker) presented by the Modern Language Department this afternoon and this evening in Stark Hall. The film, with Spanish dialogue and English subtitles, will be shown at 5 and 7 p.m.

The story is that of a girl whose first encounter with love ends disastrously. The tale is woven amidst the atmosphere of Spanish small town life.

According to the Saturday Review, Juan Bardem, the writer and director, "uses the motion picture as a probing instrument, a device to lay bare the instincts and emotions of whole sections of society whose values reflect the troubled nature of our times."

A Critics' Prize and Special Citation was awarded to Betsy Blair, the star, at the Venice International Film Festival in 1955.

Manuscript Sponsors Renowned World Film, 'Hiroshima, Mon Amour'

Hiroshima, Mon Amour, acclaimed by critics and the general public the world over, will be presented on campus by the Manuscript Film Society. The showing will be at 7 and 9 p.m. on Friday, April 27, in Stark 116.

Time magazine, commenting that it was "Love in a mass grave," said in reviewing the film: "Acclaimed in France as 'a thousand films in one': an atomic horror movie, a pacifist tract, a Proustian exercise in recollection, a radioactive Romeo and Juliet, as a matter of fact, it is all these things and more — an intense, original, and ambitious piece of cinema."

Said the Saturday Review of Literature: "No more genuinely moving picture has emerged in years; none has ever been made in quite this way before. If less than ninety minutes of the film seem longer, it is not through any lack of technique, but because mysteries and miracles have been worked with time."

"It is not the shock of the events of the story, the deep involvement with the principals, that perhaps causes the sense of an extended duration. The viewer, too, moves backward in time, lives through his past identification with Hiroshima, considers his own feelings towards the affairs in Nevers, the encounter in the new city of Hiroshima."

"If Hiroshima, Mon Amour" is not an outright pacifist film, it is pervaded by a profoundly pacifist feeling, for the individual Japanese soldier no longer seems the enemy he once was, nor does the Japanese of the present. Time changes the

Lettermen Use Pastel Shades for Spring Theme of Showers Ball

For those who are superstitious, Friday the thirteenth brings bad luck, but according to co-chairmen Erwin Guetig and Pete Winebrake, fortune will smile upon those who attend the April Showers Ball this evening.

Magical colors of pastel shades of green and pink will adorn the scene of the Lettermen's annual affair, which will be held at the American Legion, North River Street. In the center of the ballroom, there will be three petal-covered parasols.

Musical strains from Herbie Green and his orchestra will be heard from nine to twelve. During the intermission, the Easter Bunny will make a guest appearance and pass out surprise favors to his favorites.

Paul Aquilino, chairman of programs and tickets, announced that tickets are still available, and the price of the ticket is $2.50 per couple.

The Lettermen request that no men wear tuxedos and that no women wear corsages. These suggestions have been made to lighten the expense for those attending the semi-formal.

Mr. John Reese and Mr. George Elliot will be chaperones for the affair.

Assisting Guetig and Winebrake, are the following: Edward Gavel, decorations; Donald Eller, favors; and Brooke Yeager, publicity.

Circle K Receives Charter

The college chapter of Circle K Club received its charter from the International Circle K group recently. At this time, the local Kiwanis presented the club with a gavel, gong, banner, and a set of flags in addition to its charter. Membership pins and sweatshirts were presented to the club's 33 members.

The administration has provided a filing cabinet for the club's materials and has also given it a regular meeting room, Conyngham 109, in which the club will meet on Tuesday.

The club's constitution has been accepted by the Student Government and the club is now a recognized college activity. One of its first functions was its sponsorship of a group of orphan children at the donkey basketball game.

perspective. The hated dead can now be mourned. What is to be hated now are the blistering forces that sear and destroy life, that collect individual human lives into ranks of enemies.

"It then becomes difficult to detail and outline the entire story of Hiroshima, Mon Amour. It is not simply a love story, it is not a document, or a plea for peace. It is a creative work, lovingly, poetically written by the French novelist Marguerite Duras, conceived cinematically by Alain Resnais, acted with purity by a French actress and a Japanese actor. It is, of course, a work of enormous dignity, a landmark in motion pictures."

EDITORIALS—

A New Record

The Red Cross has announced that a total of 118 pints were collected at the recent campus Blood Donor Day. Although the amount was slightly more than half of the goal of 200 pints, this figure looms much larger when compared with the results of past drives. The total collection of 118 pints represents the highest amount collected since Blood Donor Days were originated on campus in 1950 and far surpasses the previous high of 63 pints set in May, 1960.

An additional item should be mentioned in connection with the drive. Although the total amount collected was only 118 pints, some additional 40 students were turned away from the gymnasium because of a lack of parental consent which is needed by all students under the age of 21 who desire to donate blood.

The results of the drive are a good indication of what can be accomplished with a little effort. It is hoped that these results will spur members of the student body on to an even greater response next semester when perhaps the goal of 200 pints may be realized.

Wilkes - Hampton

The second phase of the Wilkes-Hampton exchange program will take place shortly after Easter when twelve Wilkes students will journey to Hampton Roads, Virginia to spend several days on the campus of Hampton Institute. This visit, part of the program which brought Hampton students to Wilkes two weeks ago is one designed to promote not only an understanding of life on other campuses, but an even deeper understanding of the problems faced by other groups. The Hampton exchange program stands as a symbol of brotherhood and of the relations which bind man to man.

Holiday Ahead

We have been informed via the college calendar that Easter vacation will begin next Wednesday. We of the Beacon staff would like to take this opportunity to extend best wishes to everyone for a happy holiday. Along with this wish, however, goes a warning to all who may be driving during the holiday period. An increased amount of traffic will be traveling the nation's highways particularly for the period beginning next Friday night and ending the following Monday. A little extra caution, care, and consideration can save a great deal of time, expense, and perhaps even a human life — so drive carefully.

Trustees Seek Name For Athletic Field

For the first time in the history of the college the student body has been given the opportunity of naming a piece of campus property as the Board of Trustees seek a fitting title for the Artillery Park athletic field.

The Board of Trustees is considering three already submitted names — Dadorka Field, Sullivan Field, and Pennsfield. From a group of names which will include the student contributions the Board will choose the most suitable name. To aid them in making their decision, board members request that students include a short explanation of their reasoning along with the name they submit.

The field, the former Artillery Park and home of the Wilkes-Barre Barons Baseball Club, was taken over by the 109th Field Artillery seven years ago. The college obtained a long-term lease from the 109th, under which they will provide caretaker service and increase the attractiveness of the area, with no cost to its owners.

The field is also available to the 109th for special occasions and physical conditioning of their men, and to the community during the summer through the Recreation Association. Serving as a combination baseball diamond, gridiron, and soccer and field hockey field, the area was initiated last spring by the Athletic Department.

Students may submit proposed names and accompanying explanations in written form to the 'Beacon' at its Bookstore mailbox.

CHORUSES HOLD ALL-COLLEGE HOP

The combined college choruses will sponsor an all-college dance on Easter Monday evening in the gymnasium.

Ray Nutaitis Quintet will provide music for dancing from 9 to 12 p.m. Admission for the dance is 50 cents. Refreshments will be served.

All college students, home for spring vacation, are invited to attend. Theme of the dance will be D.B.T.W.C., Dance for the Benefit of the Treasuries of the Wilkes Choruses.

Members of the dance committee are: Bob Evans, general chairman; Dave Jones and Ray Frey, band; Bob Gloman, tickets; Janet Gibbon, refreshments; Lynne Dente, publicity; Carolyn Rhone, decorations.

EDUCATORS MEET IN COMMONS

Members of the Education Club will host a Classroom Teacher-Future Teacher Conference on the second floor of the Commons from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Attending the conference will be students from area colleges and teachers representing public schools in northeastern Pennsylvania. The conferees will participate in discussion groups and will be guests of the Education Club at a noon luncheon.

At their recent meeting Education Club members ratified a new constitution and prepared it for submission to the Student Government. At the meeting a film, "Dorothy O'Connell," was shown.

STUDENT SKETCH

Eller Excels as Sports Star, Student, and Working Family Man

by Jerry Shilanski

Most of us still go along with "old Tom Jefferson" and all that stuff he had to say about men being equal, but it certainly makes some of us wonder when once in a "blue moon" an extraordinary individual is born.

Now it is quite evident that one of two things happened to Donald F. Eller: either the moon was blue on a night twenty-two years ago or he just took what he was given and developed it to a fine point of perfection. In this case the latter proposition appears to be the more reasonable — and besides, no one can seem to remember a time the moon turned blue.

Don Eller

This senior business administration major has developed into the epitome of courage, drive, conscientiousness, thoughtfulness, stamina, patience and a host of other virtues that could fill this page. This is not a publicity release from the Eller fan club — as far as this reporter knows, none exists — but after reviewing a record like Don's I am not sure one shouldn't be started. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Donald F. Eller and her two children (Jacqueline Dale, 3, and Don Jr., 10 months) of 29 Carey Avenue, for they are certain to be charter members.

Don was here at Wilkes only two weeks when he went home for a weekend and returned married. That was back in 1958 just a few months after he and Ruth Ann Gessner had been graduated from the Woodstown, New Jersey, High School. It was at the same high school that Don began to develop into a "persona extraordinaire." He was an outstanding member of the football, track and baseball teams. He was a member of the Student Government and received a citizenship award upon graduation.

With a record like that behind him it wasn't hard for Don to acquire a scholarship here at Wilkes, but when he acquired a dependent the college didn't raise the revenue. There was only one solution and Don took it — work. He has done everything from working on the gym crew to selling rings for percentage commission. There was one time after the two other dependents came along that Don recalls having as many as five jobs at once. "It's not so bad," he reiterated, "but my family does suffer. It seems like I am never home."

In addition to coming so close to the Dean's List that he could smell it, as Don put it, he has racked up a tremendous score in the sports department. Don played four years of varsity football for Wilkes and in his final season was chosen co-captain of the team, was elected to the Eastern College Athletic Conference All Star Teams, and received the Joe Gallagher Memorial Award for outstanding sportsmanship. No one seems to know how, but he still found time to play intramural basketball and softball, was named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, was a member of the Society for the Advancement of Management, Secretary of the Wilkes Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and an outstanding President of the Lettermen's Club.

A tone of anticipated relief suggested that it wouldn't be too long before all his struggling would be over and he could afford to buy his wife a new dress occasionally. He is anxious to get to work for his next employer, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Smith, Inc., which is an investment counseling firm. Don will work in the main office in New York, as a security analyst, after he completes eighteen months of training in which he will learn to advise investors on what to buy. Don also plans to attend New York University to earn his Master's Degree in Banking and Finance.

In summing up his feelings about Wilkes Don pointed out that he believes, even if grades do not show it, that he has gotten as much if not more out of his college experience as most students. (Continued on page 1)

Opportunity Available For Students to Study Foreign Culture Abroad

To help acquaint American students with foreign culture and at the same time to enable them to finish their normal four year undergraduate course, Syracuse University is providing a semester of academic study abroad. Students will spend a semester in Florence, Italy pursuing their regular curriculum while they learn something of foreign life.

All courses, except those in Italian language and literature, are taught in English. The faculty is composed of American and Italian instructors. Although there is no language prerequisite, students are required to take Italian while in residence.

Qualifications for admission to these programs include: the student should be a junior, students from other universities may be admitted if they have the approval of their home university, a 'B' average is preferred, although lower marks may be accepted if the student shows ability, and applications must be in before April 15th for the fall semester.

While in Florence, students will live in private homes which will allow the student to become acquainted with Italian family life. Normally students will spend the semester with two different families, and only two students will live with the same family at the same time.

Students will be required to follow four basic rules:

1. conform to family that is responsible for overnight trips
2. receive permission for overnight trips
3. remain in Italy during the semester
4. no automobiles or scooters during the semester.

'BEACON' APPLICATIONS

Letters of Application for Editorial positions on next year's 'Beacon' staff must be submitted by April 27. Letters should contain applicant's qualifications, year, and experience. Positions open will be: editor-in-chief, news editor, feature editor, sports editor, and business manager. All letters should be addressed to Mr. Francis J. Salley, Beacon's faculty advisor.

Shawneeites Capture I-M Title; Edge Warner in Overtime Contest

Intramural basketball finally came to a long-overdue conclusion last Wednesday evening as the Shawneeites, American League champions, defeated Warner Hall, leaders of the National League, in a thrilling overtime contest. This game was the climax of an unbelievably complex playoff which saw the Shawneeites and Warner Hall emerge as winners in their respective divisions.

Wednesday's contest was marked by accurate shooting on both sides interspersed with offensive and defensive lapses. Matt Himlin led both teams with 23 points and Ron Borek led the losers with 22. Other players hitting in double figures for the Plymouth team were Ray Marchakaitis with 16 and Fred Bryantz with 10. Bud Menaker and Pete Kundra hit with 16 and 14 respectively for Warner.

The end of regulation time found the score deadlocked at 57. In the overtime period, the Shawneeites used a fast break to outscore their rivals, 9-4, and destroyed the championship hopes of the men from Warner.

Golfers Host Moravian In MAC Home Opener; Royals Here Thursday

The golf team hosts a powerful Moravian College squad in their home opener on Tuesday. Teeoff time is listed for 2 p.m. at the Irem Temple Country Club. This will be the second outing for the Wilkes divotmen, while the Greyhounds have three matches under their belt.

The Colonel duffers opened their campaign yesterday against an undefeated Scranton University team. The results were too late to meet press time of this issue.

Coach Welton Farrar will count on the lettermen Dick Bellas, John Adams, Jim Ward, and Frank Lepore to team with freshmen Chet Kolley and John Occhiato for a solid golf sextet. Bellas has been undefeated in the past three seasons and will be out to extend his undaunted record in the Moravian meet.

General outlook of the Moravian team is another winner. Harvey Kope, freshman mentor at the Bethlehem college, a nucleus of six lettermen and three very promising newcomers form this year's squad.

Jim Repasch, last year's No. 1 man, has been hard-pressed for that job this season by Sandy Hutchinson. Both Repasch and Hutchinson are 70 shooters. Bob Pastir will probably shoot No. 3 but has been pressed by freshmen Fred Laist, New Jersey Scholastic champ in 1961, and Barr Schmoyer. Other returning lettermen are Dick Wilsey, Ralph Atkinson, Dick

Kruczek Earns "Athlete" Honors; Tosses Four-Hitter in Opener

With the arrival of Spring sports and the beginning of another edition of our national pastime, it is appropriate that the first Beacon "Athlete of the Week" honor should go to a member of the Colonels' baseball squad. For his fine pitching performance in the team's initial contest, Joe Kruczek has received the nomination.

The veteran hurler handcuffed the Mules of Muhlenberg College, allowing only four hits and a lone tally. The Mule score was driven across on a two-out single by Tom Rothrack in the sixth inning.

With the exception of the sixth inning, Joe stymied the Mules' attack, using primarily a fast ball and a curve. He recorded three strikeouts and did not issue a single base on balls. Joe also contributed to the Wilkes offensive with a single and a run scored.

Although he received excellent defensive support from the team, Joe was the central figure in the victory as he displayed poise and confidence on the mound in setting down a succession of Muhlenberg batters.

A native of Manville, New Jersey, Joe is a sophomore residing in Butler Hall. He is majoring in history. During his freshman year, he participated in football, basketball, and was a letter winner in baseball.

It appears that Joe has improved greatly since last season when he had a rather disappointing record. He is throwing hard and his control has been somewhat amazing. He and Bob Fleming have been designated to form the core of the Colonel mound staff.

A fine athlete at Manville High School, he won letters in football, baseball, basketball, and track before coming to Wilkes.

We on the Beacon Sports Staff extend congratulations to this personable young man and we wish him continued success in leading the Colonels to a winning campaign.

Series Films to Be Shown

Thanks to the Biology Club, Wilkes students will have a chance to relive the excitement of the 1961 World Series between the Yankees and the Reds. These games were classed by many sports fans as the best in years. Via film, these two fine baseball clubs will be fighting it out again in Stark 116, Tuesday, April 17, at 11 a.m. A friendly invitation has been extended to any interested students.

ENGINEERING CLUB

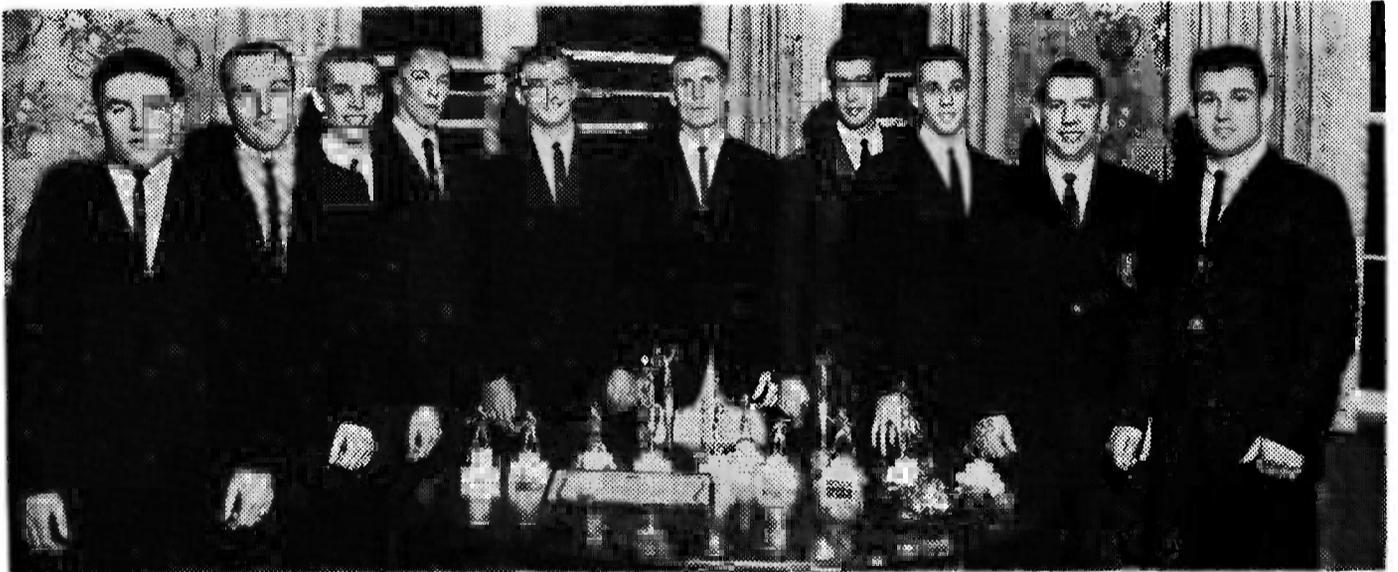

Members of the Wilkes College Engineering Club will sell "Kathryn Beich" candy for the next two weeks in order to finance a trip to the Endicott, New York IBM plant on April 18.

A.W.S. MEETING

Associated Women Students will hold a membership drive meeting today at 12:15 p.m. in Pickering Hall, Women's Lounge. All coeds are urged to attend.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

The Student Assembly Committee will not meet on Sunday in Mrs. Doane's house as previously scheduled. All members will be notified about the time and place of the next meeting.

CREAM OF THE CROP — Pictured above are the Wilkes athletes who were judged outstanding in their individual sports for the past seasons. They were honored at the annual awards dinner held at the College Commons recently. Athletes who qualified also received letters at that time. Selected as outstanding were, from left: John Gardner, MAC 147-pound wrestling champion; Jim Brunza, outstanding football lineman and NAIA All-American; Jack Barnes, outstanding swimmer; Bob Fleming, outstanding baseball player; Bob Januszko, outstanding golfer; Ted Toluba, Athlete of the Year, MAC 167-pound wrestling champion and outstanding wrestler and soccer player; Bud Menaker, outstanding in tennis; Harvey Rosen, outstanding basketballer; Don Eller, Gallagher Memorial Award for Sportsmanship; and Tom Krisulevicz, outstanding football back.

Dilworth Discusses Issues In Address to Campus Group

Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia and Democratic nominee for governor of Pennsylvania, addressed a group of students on campus Tuesday. He was accompanied by his wife on this his first trip of the campaign into Luzerne County.

Mr. Dilworth outlined what he considered to be the major differences between his stand and that of his opponent. He then discussed the basic issues of the campaign and offered ways by which he would conduct the governor's office, if elected, in light of the problems facing the state.

Following his address he opened the floor to students' questions and answered many on subjects ranging from education and its needs in the state to the necessity of attracting new industry to alleviate the problems of unemployment.

His program is basically one of carrying forth the accomplishments of the present state administration. However, he also has several suggestions which he feels will improve the quality of the state's government.

Included among these are proposals for allowing the governor to succeed himself in office and in this way provide a realistic basis for advocating a revision of the state's outmoded constitution. In addition, he favored the extension of the state's civil service coverage to lessen the amount of patronage available to the governor.

Although he feels that the state revenues could suffice to meet his proposed programs for the length of his administration without any increase in taxes, he does advocate a revision of existing tax sources with a view to closing many of the existing tax loopholes.

As a concluding note I say, for a guy who has worked, raised a family, participated in extracurricular activities, and remained in the upper 20 per cent of his class, there should certainly be no regrets except from those of us who will lose a man that really typifies the spirit of Wilkes College. Hats off to Donny — you do deserve it!

Who's A KICKSHAW?

Dairy Dan Is A KICKSHAW!

A real Kickshaw is so many things — it can be a whim-wham or a fribble, on the other hand it could be a fiddle-faddle, or even a fingle-fangle. In some areas it is a gew-gaw or knick-knack, and sometimes a fricandecau or a ponhaus.

But for DAIRY DAN, Kickshaw is a rare delicacy. Kickshaw is a noun meaning dainty goody (coll.), regale (now rare), luxury, bonne bouche (Fr.), morsel, choice bit, tidbit (U.S.), piece de resistance (Fr.), savory, ambrosia, nectar, sweetmeat, and finally, a tuck (slang).

Musicians Perform In High Schools On Statewide Tour

For the first time in the history of the college, members of the music department will tour several Pennsylvania high schools.

The band, chamber music ensemble, and brass ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Weed, will perform in schools in the southern and southwestern parts of the state next Wednesday and Thursday while the woodwind ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Gasbarro, will present concerts in high schools next Monday and Tuesday. Both groups will present two to three concerts a day in as many small schools as possible.

The tour, which will be expanded in the future, will not only give the students the opportunity to perform in public, but will also give high school students a sample of the college music department.

Members of the band will present a portion of their concerts in the assembly program on April 26. Selections will include "Jubilee Concert March" by George Kenny, "William Byrd's Suite" by Gordon Jacob, "Crown Imperial" by Sir William Wottan, and "Holiday for Trombones" by David Rose.

In addition to the band selections, the chamber music ensemble will perform "Bachianas Brasileira" by Heitor Villa-Lobos, and the brass ensemble will play Giovanni Gabrieli's "Sonata e Pian e Forte", the first piece ever written for specific instrumentation and dynamics.

Twelve Students Travel To Virginia in Phase Of Hampton Program

Mary Alice Gabla Contending that understanding is essential to education, the college will again participate in the Hampton Exchange Program thus giving its students opportunity to supplement the classroom with experiences from life.

Twelve undergraduates have been chosen to visit Hampton Institute at Hampton Roads, Virginia, April 25-29 to gain from and impart to their fellowmen insight into their respective problems.

The men and women comprising the group are: Nick Alesandro, Jerry Berk, Mike Bianco, Richard Blisick, Jerome Krasa and Ted Travis-Bey, Linda Ewing, Cathy DeAngelis, Elaine Kozemchak, Estelle Manos, Roberta Slotnick and June Vaananen.

Highlighting the trip are receptions held at faculty homes where topical issues will be informally discussed. The students have also been invited to a formal dance as well as to a swimming party and have been asked to participate in all other Hampton campus activities.

Arrangements have been made to have each Wilkes student room with a Hampton student.

Accompanying the local aggregation are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pinkowski, Miss Mildred Gittins and Mr. George Elliot.

Music Teachers to Hold Competition on Campus

The instrumental teachers of the Luzerne County public schools will conduct a musical competition on campus tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. This event has been instituted by the teachers to help raise the standards of instrumental music in public schools.

All junior and senior high school students who have been qualified by the director of their school music department are eligible to enter the competition. The students will play a standard selection and one of their own choice. A panel of three judges, made up of the teachers from the various schools will rate the student.

The student may use any instrument and the panel of judges will be composed of specialists on the particular instruments that they are judging.

In addition to the solo, the student will take a written and a standardized test which will be administered under the direction of Mr. Larry Weed. The results of the instrument solos and written tests will determine the winners of the awards.

Winners in the junior high school division will be awarded certificates while the senior high school students who win in their division will be awarded medals.

Approximately fifty students have entered the second annual competition, doubling last year's entry. When the scoring has been completed, the winners will be notified and honored with their parents at an awards banquet.

Spring Weekend Has Carnival, Cinderella Semi-Formal on Agenda

by Barbara A. Lore

Spring weekend will be ushered in with an Oriental flair on campus May 11 as the gymnasium is transformed into a Teahouse of the August Moon for the Cinderella Ball. Visitors to this world of bright yellow, orange and gold hues will whirl around an Oriental court yard to the music of Gene Dempsey.

At the stroke of twelve, a senior girl selected by student vote from a group including Rachel Altavilla, Ruth Ann Boorum, Judy Butchko, Louise Gatto, Joyce Glanville, Marsha Hefferan, Estelle Manos, Carol Thomas, Nancy Tinklepaugh, Patricia Riviello, and Arline Jones, will become queen of this Far Eastern wonderland.

Language Clubs Plan Weekend in New York

The language clubs have planned a weekend in New York City and a dinner at the Continental Inn as their activities for the next few weeks.

On the weekend of April 27-29 the language clubs will journey to New York City for a program of educational entertainment. The participating group, consisting of German, French and Spanish students, will depart from Stark Hall at 5 p.m. on Friday, April 27.

After their arrival in New York each group will enter into activities that suit its particular interest. For example, the German students will visit the Goethe House, attend the play, Emile, the Detective, and also see a play by Ibsen.

Reservations for the group have been made at the President Hotel. Chaperones for the trip are Mr. Disque, Mr. Ribas, and Miss Dworski.

Florence Gallagher, president of the German Club, has stated that anyone who wants transportation to and from New York City for this particular weekend can make reservations for the bus by contacting one of the language teachers or Miss Gallagher.

The Continental Inn is the location of a dinner to be held on May 6, under the sponsorship of the French Club. Members of the other language clubs have been invited to attend. Foods on the menu will be prepared according to French cuisine.

According to Gail Roberts, persons interested in helping to stage this extravaganza should contact any of the following committee chairmen: James Walters and Gail Roberts, co-chairmen; Harvey Rosen, tickets; Bonnie Jenkins, program; Louis Coopey, favors; Ted Begun, band; Richard Burns, refreshments; Catherine DeAngelis, Cinderella selection; Joseph Shamba, pageant; James Jones and Virginia Mason, decorations; Fred Smithson, invitations and chaperones; Patricia Ropetski, table decorations and gifts; Mary Lee Vannoy, publicity; and Jeff Gallet, coat check. Tickets for this informal affair can be obtained from Harvey Rosen or members of Student Government at a cost of $2.50 per couple.

Continuing the weekend's festivities, the School Spirit Committee will sponsor Spring Carnival on Saturday evening beginning at 7 p.m. in Parrish Hall Parking Lot. Two huge clowns at the entrance to the lot will welcome visitors to a world of concessions, variety acts, refreshments, and open-air dancing. For a $1 fee, used to cover cost of the carnival and the band, organizations on campus will have an opportunity to rent concession booths and thereby raise funds for their activities.

To further entertain celebrators the owner of the fairest male legs on campus will be presented — a result of a diligent search by Linda Paonessa, Merle Benisch, Elaine Adams, and Mary Francis Barone. Coordinating the entire affair are Jerome Shilanski, chairman of Student Spirit Committee; James Jenkins, physical arrangements; Gloria Lewis, refreshments; Catherine DeAngelis, entertainment; Leonard Yoblonski, lighting; James Tredinick, public address system and electrical fixtures; Elaine Kozemchak, decorating; and George Gavales, band.

Students will conclude their weekend funfest with an All College Outing at Rocky Glen Park on Sunday, sponsored by the Economics Club. Highlight of this affair, which will feature refreshments and dancing, will be an intramural-faculty baseball game. To furnish "carless" students with free transportation, School Spirit Committee will sponsor a bus to the park with a stipulation that those interested sign in advance.

To facilitate student's enjoyment of the park facilities Ben Sterling, owner of the park, has arranged for a special Nickel Day and for two free tickets to be presented to everyone purchasing one dollar's worth of tickets; School Spirit, mindful of student's ravenous appetites has arranged for a picnic lunch — $1 to day students and free to dorm students.
