Delegates Support Independence For Colonial Peoples at Conference

A proposal on colonialism was the highlight of the college CCUN delegation’s achievements at the 1963 Mid-Atlantic Model United Nations Assembly, designed to support the United Nations’ Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples”, of December 14, 1960. The recommendations included:

That the Member Nations serve a term of three years. That the election of Member Nations take place every third year.

That committee legislation be passed by a simple majority vote. The proposal itself received a majority vote but was not passed because a two-thirds margin was required.

Wilton’s delegation was among approximately one-hundred ag- gregations from all over the United States led by Senator Thrus-ton B. Morton and the Honorable Jonathan B. Blaugh-man, Chairman, at the United States delegation of the United Nations.

A full itinerary, including a reception at the Senate Caucus Room (attended by many senators and congressman), Embassy briefings, congressional tours, visits to the World Bank, and a tour of Howard University, closed Sunday with a summing up of accomplishments.

ed. Majors Tour 2 Plants

In keeping with the education department’s policy of presenting students with experiences for teaching and visual aids put to practice, secondary and elementary education majors were taken on a tour of two prominent plants.

The place is Athens, 400 B.C. and Soractes states that the main wisdom is in the hands of man, and evil, attainment by “observation and consent.” He delivered a half thought-out truth and knowledge as that which is logical and a moral act.

The discussion then shifted to Soractes’ "Defense" and "Apology". The "Apologetic" reveals much of his perspective and beliefs. Soractes re-tests that he is not a teacher; he says he believes himself wise because the Oracle of Delphi told him so. He tested this by asking those who were believed to be wise questions, and discovered that they weren’t really wise at all.

Mrs. Klingerina ended by quoting Socrates as saying, "We go our ways — I do, and you to live your life, which is better, God only Joe Rogers is scheduled to speak at the Center on "Flying with the Stars of Flying." The meeting will be held in McClintock Hall at 8:00 p.m. Mr. G drinks announced that new members are invited to attend.

Campus Figures Discuss Tax Issue

One of the biggest national news stories this week occurred when President Kennedy's tax cut bill passed the House on a 399-17 vote, with the Republican minority opposing the measure.

Senator Dirksen, the Senate Finance Committee chairman, said the bill would provide a much-needed stimulus to the economy.

The bill is expected to bring in an estimated $24 billion over the next five years.

Prove of An Error

When the Dean's list was announced last week, three names were inadvertently omitted: Patrick Brady 3.40, Marshall Brown 3.28, Barbara Buckman 3.31. The Beacon apologizes for the oversight.

Scrutiny of last week's study would show that the error was not merely one of oversight, though. Names were not left out. Rather, a sentence or two was lost in the mechanical process of setting type. Mistakes were second to none.

Again, apologies to the omitted few and congratulations to all whose scholastic averages merit Dean's List recognition.

Dear Editor:

College life has two components, the curriculum and the extracurricular activities. My attitude has been that both components are vital in education. Every student and every faculty member should have a part in both aspects of campus life. The majority of my colleagues, I believe, share this attitude to some degree, also believe, contrary to the opinion expressed in the letter concerning invitations, that the faculty percentage-wise, have a better record of attending extracurricular functions than do the students.

In an age when social amenities are being sitetted to windmills and lew'ward, the effect of which is all too apparent in the social behavior of today's students, writing of invitations to a few affairs each year is almost the uniform etiquette exhibited by the students with reference to the faculty. Well knowing of the invitiation by the students is nothing more than an exercise in personal and does anyone suppose with a few of the students to share the pleasure of an affair with the faculty, I shall certainly not be insulter if none is sent to me.

The Dean's list is on the faculty of Wilkes College the more the merrier is my opinion in the community, many of which are off campus. The life of the college is not merely the classroom or the library, but a phenomenon known as student activity. There are many students who are attempting to be something for the students by not tagging cards that were "illegally" given by a student. It is a sudden with the change of seasons and in many white tags begin appearing all over the place. Rumor has it that one of the members of the administration has gone to visit Parrish one day, and on the approach to his spot to find a spot for himself, he must have an orderly parking lot would be in order. As for the parking lot, let it be noted that the College is engaged in the purchase of land for a new parking lot, and it is the time to buy one.

Sincerely,
Charles Reif

Dear Editor:

It looks as if we are getting back into the College parking situation. It wouldn't be natural not to have the Beacon editor for each semester on the issue. So be to consistent, I want to put a little more paper in the pudding.

I'm not playing Ignorant to the fact that inside the college is aware of the plight and the problem (all they can do alleviates the situation, I'm sure). Last semester it looked as if it were all over. I'm just saying that something for the students by not tagging cards that were "illegally" given by a student. It is a sudden with the change of seasons and in many white tags begin appearing all over the place. Rumor has it that one of the members of the administration has gone to visit Parrish one day, and on the approach to his spot to find a spot for himself, he must have an orderly parking lot would be in order. As for the parking lot, let it be noted that the College is engaged in the purchase of land for a new parking lot, and it is the time to buy one.

Barons Sets Freestyle Record as Memens Lose

The Wilkes swimming team dropped its final meet of the year to Harper, 62-34, despite a record-breaking performance by Captain Jack Barnes. Harper won only six of the eleven events, but built up its margin of victory by capturing a majority of second and third place finishes. Jack Barnes captured two first place finishes for the Colonels and set a new record by swimming the 100-yard freestyle in 58.5. Ron Daggett, Chuck Petrillo, and Ron Mas- ters also were first winners for Coach Young's men's squad. The women's team finished with a 1-6 record, but lack of manpower was mainly responsible for their losses. If Coach Young can pick up some added manpower to go with a fine returning nucleus, next year's team should have a winning season.

BASEBALL NOTICE

Initial workouts for pitching and catching candidates for the base- ball team will be held Monday at 4:00 p.m. in the gym. Players are requested to bring their own gloves and practice attire.

Information regarding the re- porting period for baseball players will be found in the official College Bulletin during the week.

GARDNER SEeks to Retain Crown

As Wilkes Competes in MAC Tournament

Today and tomorrow the Colonel mat squad will invade the Hofstra campus in hopes of regaining their second place position shown by last year's victorious boxing team. The grapplers are looking very strong against the balanced Hofstra squad now that they have had some practice time.

The Barons will be looking forward to the last time out and are promising an impressive showing in the Hofstra tournament.

Barons Split Series With Camden Bulldogs

Last weekend the Wilkes-Barre Barons' winning streak was snapped at 8 straight victories by the league leading Camden Bulldogs, but not before the Barons had handed the Camden team an embarrassing 142-122 setback on Saturday night at the West Side Armory. Camden was after its seventh straight win.

In Saturday's game, Camden was hampered by the absence of their big gun, Paul Arizin, who was forced to miss the game because of illness. Trailing 28-20, at the end of the first period, the Barons called Howie Montgomery (evidently forgiven for his absence in the last two outings) into the game along with Sherman White, injecting some spark into the Barons. Wilkes-Barre took a slight 55-53 halftime advantage.

In addition to being without Paul Arizin, Camden lost Russ Gorden when Gorden was ejected after some disagreement with the Barons' Ted Lockenhill. Gorden was high scorer for the Bulldogs when he left.

Wilkes-Barre's Jumping Jack Jackson continued to delight Baron fans with his dunkers and Leroy Wright and Sherman White also turned in outstanding performances, while Bob Keller was high man for both squads with 26 tallies. For Camden Bob McNull was leading scorer with 29, while Dick Gaines pushed through 28 points. At Camden on Sunday night, however, the Barons obtained and kept their home win streak of 10 games alive by turning the tables on the Barons to turn a 98 victory over Wilkes-Barre. Paul Arizin made an eleven point showing for Camden with Horace White and Hal Lear running wild in the game.

Sophomore Utilizes Talent in 3 Areas
In Theatrical Production, "Wildcat"

Most of us would consider ourselves lucky to have one outstanding talent. Christian Dempsey, sophomore transfer student from the University of Scranton, is gifted in three fields: art, music and drama. He is currently combining these abilities in the production of Wildcat, sponsored by the Junior Club of Scranton, for which he is set director, a member of the chorus, and a member of the cast.

As set director, Dempsey has shown his resourcefulness by managing to procure some backdrops from the original Broadway show, enabling his set design to be patterned after that of the original. He also plans to borrow the Main Street date from Music Man. An oil drip, essential to the main theme of Wildcat, will be erected on stage during the actual production. Dempsey's background experience for this position is evident, since he is an art major who hopes to become a painter. He especially enjoys doing sketches or portraits, and he prefers to work with pencil or charcoal, although he has dabbed with oils and watercolors. He stated that he likes some abstract art, but admits being more partial to some of the Post-impressionist art and the Fauvists. Of course, he is also a member of the Art Club.

Concerning music, Dempsey's favorite kind is folk music, although he also likes some jazz, for example, that of Miles Davis. He likes the Glenn Miller Brothers and not the Kingston Trio. He himself "tries to play," as he puts it, the guitar and banjo, and he used to belong to a group that called themselves the Ramblers (not to be confused with the nationally known group of the same name). While he has been at Scranton, he has been commuting from his home in Plymouth and attending rehearsals in Scranton several nights a week. Dempsey enjoys spending in Connecticut, "both seeing and working." He also reads philosophy, especially that of Kant and Spinoza.

Asked for any additional comments, he replied, "I can't think of anything right now for the play. "Wildcat" will be presented at the South Scranton Junior High School on March 14, 15 and 16. The March 14 show will feature a special student admission price of only $1. Come and see it."

PARKING NOTICE
Effective immediately, there will be no parking AT ANY TIME in the Stadium Lot for anyone without an authorized faculty parking permit.

For individuals without such authorization, this means that they cannot park in the lot after 5 p.m. on weekdays or at any time over the weekend. In other words, this no parking rule means exactly that "No Parking Is Permitted At Any Time." This lot will be checked daily, and this rule will be strictly enforced.

An added feature of this year's contest will be the free record dance which will follow the game, Nick Stefanowski, Rachel Phillips, and Doug Yeger are in charge.

CHEM MAJOR
Joe is convinced that these depart- ments have more than doubled their efficiency since the time, long past, that he was a freshman. He cites the new wing and the addition of three Ph.D.'s to the faculty as evidence of this progress.

Adding some wood to the Honor Code fire, Joe states flatly that it will never work. Because of the emphasis that is placed on grades, a student is under such great stress that he is "not capable of containing himself."

And what does a gravidagrader do after graduation? Joe hopes to earn his Ph.D. at Penn State University where he has a teaching assistantship.
