Student Union Dedication Today

IDC members and other interested students are renovating the basement of Barre Hall for the new Student Union building.

Open House To Be Held During the Afternoon; Building Not Completed

Three years of untiring work by joint committees from the various dormitories has finally produced a worthwhile dividend. The efforts of these committees under the chairmanship of Danny Lyons, and with the aid of present I.D.C. president Jerry Berk, have led to the establishment of a Student Union Building for Wilkes College.

This Student Union Building is located in the basement of Barre Hall, and is open to day as well as dorm students. Its purpose is to provide a relaxing atmosphere in which students can eat their lunch and relax. Although not yet fully completed, the building does, at present, contain soda machines as well as a juke box to provide music for dancing. In the future, I.D.C. hopes to add additional pieces of furniture, a ping pong table, and dorm pictures which will add to the fireside atmosphere. If students support this project, as I.D.C. hopes they will, a soup and sandwich machine may be an additional facility which will be available in the near future. School spirit has also promised a T.V. set to the Student Union Building.

Since today marks the dedication of this building, open house will be held from noon to 5 p.m. There will be free refreshments served, and the juke box will provide music for dancing. Everyone is invited and urged to attend.

After the initial open house today, the Student Union Building will remain open during the entire school day, with provisions eventually to be made for evening hours.

The Student Union Building will be run by a governing body composed of five students. One sophomore or junior will be selected from Barre Hall to serve for a one year term, two dorm students, one male and one female, will be elected by I.D.C. for two-year terms, and Student Government will elect two representatives, who will serve for one year.

I.D.C. realizes that although many years of preparation have gone into this project there is still room for much improvement. Anyone who has any suggestions for improvement is asked to contact Danny Lyons at Hollenback Hall or Jerry Berk at Warner Hall.

UN Representative Has Varied Background; To Speak at Assembly

Mr. Philip Deane, Director of the United Nations Information Center in Washington will be the featured speaker at next Thursday's Assembly. His topic is a timely one, as the UN stands as the only truly international forum for discussion of the many problems of our troubled world.

Philip Deane is a pen name for Gerassimos Theodoros Christodoulou Svoronos-Gigantes. He is the son of a Greek general. He was educated in Paris, as well as Athens.

Mr. Deane escaped from Greece during the German invasion of 1941. From this point onward, his life reads like an exciting but unbelievable tale of adventure. He fled to England and, after becoming the best cadet in the Royal Naval Academy at Dartmouth, served in the Royal Navy.

After the war, he returned to Greece as Director of Information for the Greek Ministry of Coordination. In 1948, he joined the London Observer, which sent him as a correspondent to Korea two years later. After only 13 days, he was captured and incarcerated by the North Koreans for 33 months. Mr. Deane recorded his experiences as a POW in a book, Captive in Korea, which was printed in five languages.

Following his release from Korea, the Observer sent him to several world trouble spots including North Africa, India and South Asia. Mr. Deane came to Washington in 1956 and in 1960 he became the Observer's UN correspondent.

During this time, Mr. Deane appeared frequently on Canadian TV and wrote a series of articles on the Canadian identity, for which he received the Bowater Award. He was appointed to his present position in 1961.

He and his wife, born Molly Fry of Wales, have two daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Deane collaborated on a novel set in India, The Chidish Brides.

Valley Flooded with Silver Dollars; Many Recipients Reap Double Bounty

by Barbara A. Lore

Shades of William Jennings Bryan — Wyoming Valley stepped back into the past this week as over 500,000 silver dollars were put into local circulation.

The "eagles" were used as part of the payroll of local anthracite coal companies to visually demonstrate the importance of coal mining to Wyoming Valley's economy. With the arrival of nine armored trucks from the U.S. Mint in Philadelphia, carrying silver dollars to 5,000 coal miners, the valley ushered in Anthracite Silver Week.

Solons To Sponsor Annual T.G.I.F. Party

T.G.I.F.? Yes! "Thank Goodness It's Friday." That's the familiar greeting on campus for the fifth day of a hectic week of work and study.

What is a better way to celebrate the arrival of a Friday than with a T.G.I.F. party? Tonight on the second floor of the Commons the Student Government will act as host of this informal get-together.

Gail Roberts, chairman of the affair, has stated that admission, entertainment, and refreshments are all free. Your eyes are not deceiving you; it is FREE!

Students will join in jam sessions to provide the music. So if you play the banjo or the bongos, bring your instruments along and join in on the highlight of the evening.

Millie Gittens and Mr. Hoover will chaperone the affair this evening from 9 to 12.

Senior Pictures Scheduled

Elaine Adams, editor of the Amnicola, has announced that senior pictures will be taken by Ace Hoffman. Every senior is responsible for making his own appointment for the sitting, which will cost $3.00. Girls must wear white, tailored blouses, with collar and no jewelry. Dark suits and white shirts with conservative ties are the attire for the boys. The background for the picture is to be dark.

If an individual desires to go to another photographer, he will be responsible for turning in the glossy to the Amnicola office. Ace Hoffman will send the glossies directly to the college. All seniors must have their pictures taken by November 30.

This week has thus been declared by Mayor Frank Slattery of Wilkes-Barre for the express purpose of emphasizing the anthracite industry's importance to the local economy. In conjunction with this celebration, local merchants in Wilkes-Barre and surrounding communities have joined in the week-long observance with sales, awards, and contests.

These coins have reaped a double bounty for some of the recipients since many of them are worth more than their face value, because of certain mint markings or condition of the "cart wheels" themselves. Dedicated numismatists have found this payroll a treasure house of rare coins since some of the bags shipped here had not been moved from the mint in 40 years.

Some of the most exciting finds included an 1860 silver dollar worth $15, eighteen various silver dollars dated from 1886-1902 worth a total of $128.50, and a practically new 1872 silver dollar worth $60.

The potential of this find is evidenced by the report of one avid collector who reported that one bag screened yielded a silver dollar for every year from 1872 to 1902.

There will be a sale of 1962 year-book pictures, candid and group shots, to be held next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 23-25, from 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. Prices will range from five cents to twenty-five cents, depending on the size of the picture.

"Richard III" Featured In Initial Film Program; Stellar Cast Assembled

Sighs of despair and shocked horror will rend the air of Stark Hall tonight as Shakespeare's magnificent villain, Richard III marches across the screen in the initial presentation of the Manuscript film program.

Produced and directed by Lawrence Olivier, England's noted Shakespearean actor, the film features pageantry, social portraiture, and all the political elements that made possible a hunchbacked king's career of brutality and crime in medieval England.

Olivier, who also stars, has assembled a formidable cast of Shakespearean actors including Sir John Gielgud, Sir Ralph Richardson, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Claire Bloom, and Pamela Brown to support him. Critics reviewing the film, ranging from Parent's Magazine to the psychology faculty of Sarah Lawrence College have used only superlatives in describing it. Harris Tobias, editor of the Manuscript, has announced that the film will be shown once at 7 p.m. Cookies and coffee will be served at intermission.

Music Highlights UN Day

The Wilkes College Chorus of ninety voices and the Wilkes College Concert Band will participate in the program commemorating United Nations Day to be held in the Wilkes College gym Wednesday, October 24 at 8 p.m. The Wilkes College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Richard Chapline, will join with the Apollo Women's Chorus, Howard Williams, director; Concordia Singing Society, R. E. Lovett, director; King's College Glee Club, Bronis Voveris, director; Misericordia Choir, Sister Carmela Marie, director; and the Oratorio Society, Clifford Balshaw, director, to sing from Mendelssohn's Elijah. Richard Chapline will be baritone soloist. The combined U.N. chorus will be under the direction of R. E. Lovett, chairman of the Music Department.

The band, directed by Don Marcase, will play various selections during the course of the program. Alfred Groh of the English Department will read a poem of his own composition commemorating

ALUMNI NEWS

Alumni plans for the near future call for two chapter meetings to be held in two of our nation's most prominent cities. On Friday, November 2, at 8 P.M., Maryland's largest metropolis, Baltimore, will be the scene of an alumni chapter meeting to be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

The following day, Colonels of the years past will meet in our nation's capital. This meeting, which will take place at the Sheraton Park Hotel, will also start at 8 p.m.

U.N. Day. These events, coupled with a procession of nationalities featuring representatives of various countries, will highlight the program.

The entire program is under the direction of the U.N. committee headed by the former Dean of Women, Mrs. John Doane.

EDITORIALS—

Congratulations Day Hops

Day students have once again shown their willingness to help. In contrast to the 78 per cent donations for the United Fund received from dorm students, day students' contributions have soared to a staggering 9 per cent.

Because the campus has attained only one-third of its $1200 goal, Jerry Moffatt, head of the students campaign, has extended the United Fund drive until next Friday at 5 p.m.

One interesting sidelight to the yearly drive is the fact that another local college has attained and even exceeded its $1.00 per capita donations; whereas this campus has never reached a $1.00 per capita student goal.

Wanted - Stolen Goods

Will the person or persons who stole over $100 in art supplies please return said stolen goods? No questions will be asked.

Dozens of tubes of oil paints — more than any one person could use — and a lifetime supply of brushes were reported missing from Conyngham Annex last Friday.

The thief apparently had time for scrutiny. He searched the cabinets and selected only the best supplies. In several instances he opened painting boxes, removed what he needed, then closed and replaced the boxes.

Easily accessible, the supplies were improperly stored in cabinets without locks. According to a member of the art department, "Locks were ordered two years ago."

Will the Library Extend Hours?

A rumor on campus concerning extended library hours may possibly be true. In response to student clamor regarding a too-short library schedule, the administration is considering a temporary extension of hours.

Permanent time extensions will depend upon the success of the initial extension. If students and faculty show an interest and use the library's facilities during the later hours and possibly on weekends (definite hours have as yet not been set), the librarians will plan for a permanent schedule.

Misuse of the library will eliminate the possibility of extended hours, and may even result in a cut in the present schedule. This "misuse" includes undue noise, loud talking, and illegal removal of books.

Earthworm Subjected to "T" Maze for Doctorate Of New Psych Instructor

by Alis Pucilowski

A product of Troy, New York, Mr. Donald K. Zellner, psychology instructor at Wilkes, was graduated from Hamilton College. He attended Syracuse University, and is currently composing his doctorate thesis on "The Effect of Removal and Regeneration of the Suprapharyngeal Ganglion on Learning and Extinction in the Earthworm."

Mr. Zellner has also taught psychology and a laboratory course at Harpur College, N.Y. His future plans consist of further research and college teaching.

Asked his opinion of Wilkes, Mr. Zellner stated, "It is somewhat analogous to Troy; there is an old-fashioned flavor in the town itself."

His taste in music covers a wide range from the Budapest String Quartet to Tennessee Ernie and Johnny Cash. He dislikes operas; he enjoys Haydn.

He prefers non-fiction to fiction. Anecdotal and popularized history is his favorite reading material. He praised Vladimir Nabokov for Lolita. "Nabokov has a wonderful way of innovating English," he said.

Asked his opinion of the Common Market, Mr. Zellner stated that it is a good idea for Europe. "Although foreign competition may cost the American manufacturer money, this same foreign competition is good for the buying public." (continued on page 4)

STUDENT SKETCH

Local Beauty Queen Offers Service to College and Community

"I believe that every student should join some group and really work to make it a better organization for the student's own sake and for the sake of the college."

Thus spoke Barbara Piledggi, senior elementary education major and a firm believer in practicing what she preaches.

Whereas this "preaching" took place only last Tuesday, the practicing has been in progress for some time. In Kingston, where she spent her high school years, Barbara actively participated in the Junior Red Cross and Pi Delta, a service sorority.

Coming to Wilkes in the second semester of her freshman year, Barbara wasted no time in sharing her talents with her college and community. The college has seen her as a major-ette and a member of the Kickline, the Education Club, and Theta Delta Rho. Her dedication to these organizations have merited her having been chosen secretary of TDR in her sophomore year, captain of the Kickline in her junior year, and president of TDR in her junior and senior years.

The community, too, has benefited from Barbara's practicing what she preaches. She has done much work for the Salvation Army, and she served last year as Wilkes' chairman for the March of Dimes and just recently as the chairman of the Kingston area for the Danny Thomas Leukemia Drive.

With her past and present being dedicated to service, it is of little wonder that Barbara Piledggi has chosen teaching for her future.

Colonel Gridders to Battle Dragons

Batter Bears in Thrilling Tilt; Bruising Line, Key to Victory

With last Saturday's Homecoming victory on their ledger, the Colonel gridders will journey to Philadelphia tomorrow to meet the Dragons of Drexel Institute of Technology. The Drexel eleven recorded a victory last weekend by edging powerful Lycoming, 17-14, with a 24-yard field goal by quarterback Gene Bishop in the final ten seconds of play.

Halfback Joe Buffalo is the young man on the improved Dragon squad which has a 2-1 overall record thus far and is 2-0 in conference play. Buffalo, 5'-8", 160-pounds, is one of the speediest backs in the

Ted Travis-Bey and Friend

Southern conference. He posted a rushing average of 4.4 yards per carry last season and is continuing along these lines this season. His running mates include halfbacks Al Wagner, John Schlichter, and Harry Purnell, a bruising fullback.

Deep at Quarterback

As with the other teams Wilkes has played this season, Drexel is well-stocked in the signal-calling department. Seniors George Carre and Gen Bishop are spelled by sophomore Fran Covetti. It was Covetti who engineered the drive which set up the game-winning field goal last Saturday in Williamsport. All are accomplished passers and the rangy Bishop is the best runner among the quarterbacks.

Coach Tom Grebis has plugged the gaps at guard and end which plagued the Dragons last season. The Drexelmen are big and fast and will present a tough problem for the Colonels.

Colonels Down Ursinus

The gridgers bagged their initial victory under Coach Roland Schmidt as they smashed the Ursinus Bears 12-6 in last Saturday's Homecoming contest.

A 75-yard drive for a fourth period touchdown capped the Wilkes scoring crushing blow to the Ursinus eleven. However, the most spectacular accomplishment of the Colonels did not occur until late in that final stanza. This feat was the holding of the Bears for eight downs inside the Wilkes 5-yard line. This was one of the most thrilling goal-line stands seen in a Wilkes game in many years.

With the Colonels leading 12-6, Ursinus penetrated the Wilkes defenses to a first down on the five. Four plays later they were situated on the one and Wilkes took over. A fumble on the first Wilkes play gave Ursinus the ball again on the five. Coach Schmidt then rushed in his beefiest linemen and they proceeded to stymie each of the Bears four thrusts at the goalline, frustrating any Ursinus hopes of victory.

Bears Get Gift Score

Ursinus scored in the first period as a bad pass from center on a punt sailed over Bill Mulford's head and came to rest on the Wilkes 12. After several ground plays, quarterback Don Emmert hit Joe Ser-marini on the one. Emmert then plunged in for the score. A pass for the 2 point conversion fell incomplete and the Bears held a 6-0 half-time lead.

After an exchange of punts in the third period, Tom Trosko intercepted an Emmert pass on the Ursinus 40 and raced it back to the 16. Frank Wallace carried twice to the 4 and then Don Brominski lugged the ball to the one and then in for

Entire Colonel Line Earns "Athlete" Honors

by Clark Line

This week the BEACON breaks the bonds of convention to institute an unprecedented feature in this column. The BEACON has selected the entire Colonel line as the "Athlete of the Week" for this issue. The "Athlete of the Week" group includes guards Pete Winebrake, Dick Blisick, and co-captain Jerry Mohn; tackles Chuck Adonizio, Chuck Cherundolo, and Len Rishkofski; ends Ron Grahowski, Roger MacLauchlin, and Ed Reese; and centers Bob Herman, Bill Meneeley, and Bob Daly.

In the Homecoming game with Ursinus, the line played the major part in presenting the alumni with a 12-6 victory over the Bears.

To single out a few of the linemen, we would like to mention first of all, Bob Herman. Bob, as usual, played his tough style of football. In numerous tackles on plays coming through the line and at times impatiently penetrating the Ursinus line to break up plays before they could be started, Bob stood out as one of the heroes in a tremendous team effort, with Bill Meneeley and Bob Daly providing support which was by no means paltry.

In the closing minutes of the game, another hero of the day was born in the person of Dick Blisick, who put forth an indefatigable effort against the Ursinus Bears. When he helped keep the Bears from scoring, only to have the Colonels fumble on their first play after taking over, Dick dug right back in and led the frustration of another Ursinus threat, to give the Wilkes rooters an exhibition of an exciting goal line stand, and some anxious moments right up to the final seconds of play. Not to go unmentioned are Jerry Mohn and Pete Winebrake who helped Dick present a solid center to the Colonel line.

Instrumental in turning the Ursinus end plays into the waiting arms of Chuck Cherundolo, Chuck Adonizio, and Len Rishkofski, were two sophomores ends, Ron Grahowski and Rog MacLauchlin along with junior Ed Reese.

Both on offense and defense, the line played tough sharp football, taking 156 yards from Ursinus and allowing the Bears only 54. In salute of a great team effort, the BEACON honors the Wilkes line as "Athlete of the Week."

Time Out!

by JIM JACKIEWICZ, Sports Editor

SO THEY WON!

Excitement was the keynote of last Saturday's gridiron victory over Ursinus. The Colonels' defensive front line was outstanding in holding the Bears to 54 yards rushing and in pulling off an electrifying goal-line stand which in fact, won the game.

On the opposite side of the evaluation ledger, we have the Colonels' defensive secondary which allowed the Bears 142 yards via the aerial route. It seemed that there was a Bear receiver open as each pass play unfolded as quarterbacks Don Emmert and Dennis Quinn completed 14 passes. Tom Trosko made some fine plays in the secondary, the most important of which was an interception which he raced back to the Ursinus 16 to set up a Wilkes score. Bill Mulford also played a fine defensive game but the rest of the backfield made mistakes and Upon viewing the performance rendered by the soccer team did not play a consistently good game.

The Colonel ground game was especially impressive as they reeled off 154 yards. Halfback Ted Travis-Bey displayed his broken-field running skills as he darted off with leading ground-gaining honors. Frank Wallace, Bert Schiffer, John Gardner, Ed Comstock each rushed for sizable gains during the game. Only 6 passes were attempted but the pair of completions sustained the final touchdown drive.

Although the gridgers finally came off with a victory, they may not relax. The Dragons from Drexel will not play dead. Their quarterbacks will be trying to riddle the Wilkes secondary with their aerials, and may well do it. Improvement is needed.

SOCCER RELAPSE

Last Saturday against Fairleigh-Dickinson, it appears that they have lapsed into the coma from which they had awakened in their previous game. Hustle and teamwork were sorely lacking as they failed to record a single tally. Other symptoms of the sleeping sickness were numerous misjudged headballs and quite inaccurate shooting.

SON OF LITTLE KNOWN FACTS!

The BEACON statisticians were on the job again last weekend at the football game. The results of our compilations pointed to a complete victory for Wilkes. Not only did the Colonels outclass the Bears in yards gained and scoring, but they also bested them in fumbles, 6-1. Ed Comstock, Ted Travis-Bey, Frank Wallace, Bert Schiffer, and John Gardner all lost the handle on the football, with Travis-Bey turning the trick twice. He did, however, recover one of the bobbles himself.

The Colonels also edged Ursinus in penalties sustained—22 yards to 20 yards. Also, Wilkes had one punt blocked to none for Ursinus and also had one extra point blocked while blanking the Bears in that department. The Colonels ripped off one bad pass from center while completely throttling the Bears on that account.

It's no wonder we won.

Booters on Road Swing, Will Battle Dutchmen; Lose Homecoming Game

by Harry W. Wilson

Tomorrow the soccer team journeys to Hempstead, Long Island to meet the Flying Dutchmen of Hofstra College. The Colonels will be out to avenge last year's 3-0 loss to Hofstra with kickoff time set for 2 p.m.

Next Wednesday the soccermen will travel to Allentown, Pennsylvania to oppose Muhlenberg College with gametime set for 3:30 p.m. The Colonels handed the Mules a 2-1 setback last year and will be out to defeat the Mules again.

Last Saturday Fairleigh-Dickinson defeated Wilkes by a 3-0 score. Sam Egan scored the visitor's first goal in the second quarter, and the score was 1-0 at halftime. The visitors iced the game by scoring two goals late in the fourth quarter. Egan countered another goal, and Joe Clark added another to give the visitors a 3-0 win. Poor teamwork and lack of hustle hurt the Colonels and the soccermen did not play as well as they did in defeating Lafayette and Stevens. This setback gave the Colonels a 3-2 overall record, and a 2-1 record in the Middle Atlantic Conference.

On Wednesday afternoon the Ferrisemen closed out their current homestand with a 2-0 loss to the Bullets of Gettysburg College. Although the Colonels had 18 shots at the Gettysburg net, they failed to score for the second straight

"Pop" Schmidt Proves Versatility; Excels as Printer, Clarinetist

by Mary Alice Gabla

Congratulations are in order for a vital member of the Beacon organization — our printer, Stanley "Pop" Schmidt is celebrating his 50th year as a bandsman.

"Pop's" success as a clarinetist and printer belie the commonly held theory that no man can do two things well.

Appropriately, he marked his golden anniversary in music by performing with the Stegmaier Gold Medal Band as it presented a "Night of Music" last Monday evening in the Irem Temple auditorium. Pop performed during a program that included Joanne Netter Herron, well known soprano who has sung with symphonic units in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, as well as with the Oratorio Society.

Since beginning his career as a clarinetist with the well-known Alexander Band in 1912, "Pop" Schmidt has played with numerous orchestras and bands in the region and has taken part in hundreds of concerts.

Few people in the audience last Monday realized that the Schmidt in the clarinet section was the same Schmidt who printed the programs.

Edgerton Outlines Plans for English Club; Papers To Be Presented

Lynne Dente

Dr. William Edgerton, English department head, briefly outlined future plans at the organizational meeting of the English Club Tuesday evening. Dr. Edgerton stated that the meetings will "provide opportunities for people interested in books and ideas to get together regularly."

At each meeting a member of the group will present a paper dealing with any subject of particular interest to that member. The aim of these papers is to present treatments of out-of-class books and ideas about which students want to know more details. Following the presentation, a group discussion of the paper will be held. Papers should be prepared with the Dr. Edgerton stressed that these enjoyment and interest of all in mind.

The eighteen members of the club who were present then drew lots to determine when each would present his paper. It was decided by the group that topics would be announced a week previous to presentation in order that members would have time to acquaint themselves with the topic before the meeting.

Next Tuesday Mr. Stanley Gutin, English instructor, will speak to the group. The meeting will be held in McClintock Hall at 8 P.M. Everyone is invited to attend the meetings.

Makeup Artist Displays Talents For Cue and Curtain Production

Is it possible to make up approximately 65 people in two hours for a stage production? Although this sounds improbable, Barbara Gallagher can attest that it can and must be done.

As makeup chairman of Cue and Curtain's forthcoming production "Music Man", Barbara's work will seemingly begin only in the last few days of production, but it must be accomplished with efficiency and speed. Of course to accomplish this ideal, her work plan must be previously outlined and her schedule organized in advance so that the final, crucial, practical application will flow smoothly.

A junior English major, Barbara is enthusiastic about the campus theater in general as well as the upcoming production. Her initial introduction to the theater in her freshman year has made her a staunch advocate of the informal atmosphere and the feeling of accomplishment membership brings. She believes that one gains a feeling of personal satisfaction from behind the scenes in viewing the stage presentation come to life.

As evidence of her academic as well as artistic prowess, Barbara has not only been the recipient of a Pennsylvania Power and Light Company Scholarship but also a dean's list student for three semesters. In addition to her activities at Cue and Curtain, she is president of Weiss Hall, present member of the Manuscript and I.D.C., and a former member of I.C.G.

Passes Decisive

Shortly after the Wilkes score, the Colonels again took the ball on their own 25. On a 3 down and 10 play, Brominski lofted a pass to Ed Reese which he gathered in and raced to the Ursinus 23 for a 52-yard gainer. Later Brominski hit Ted Travis-Bey with a 17-yard aerial which he ran to the one. A touchdown by Brominski followed an exchange of fumbles. The heroic goal-line stand completed the afternoon's action.

The Colonels had 156 yards rushing to 54 for the Bears. Ursinus, however, held the edge in passing, completing 14 of 25 for 142 yards to 2-6 for 68 yards for Wilkes. Each team had 14 first downs.

The POLITICAL SCENE

by Fred Smithson

With only a little more than two weeks until election time, Bill Scranton and Richardson Dilworth are speeding up their campaign schedules. The campaign trail is a long rough ride and requires a tough skin and a stout heart. A political campaign with such high stakes requires an experienced orator like Cicero, with a brain like Einstein which is able to retain small insignificant facts — the physical health of a football player, and the hide of an alligator. Success in such an endeavor as politics can catapult a person to fame, prestige, and a good salary. But failure can result in heartbreak and disillusionment.

Republican Scranton, an ex-beau of President Kennedy's sister Kathleen, is a quiet, composed, and intelligent millionaire. He seldom gets ruffled and is usually forced by the party bosses to lash back at his more caustic opponent. Recently though, since the big push is on, Scranton has become more invective and is beginning to trade blow for blow with Dilworth. He says he is nobody's man. In this way he denies being owned by the big oil and coal lobbies. Claiming that he will bring new industry into Pennsylvania and reduce the numbers of unemployed, Bill Scranton is beginning that final big push for his seat in Harrisburg.

Dilworth is not sitting down while Scranton is stumping the Keystone State. Dilworth is Scranton's opposite in many ways. He is emotional, high strung, and as he himself admits, "I have a tendency to shoot for the jugular." Dilworth is an old campaigner and has left many a Republican opponent lying in the dust behind him on the campaign trail. Dilworth's record, slightly tarnished by the Philadelphia scandals, shows an intelligent, forward-looking politician.

As mayor of Philadelphia, Dilworth cleaned up the city physically and brought in millions of dollars in industry. Being the old pro that he is, Dilworth no doubt has home stretch plans prepared, himself ready, and his whip in his hands.

The next two weeks should prove tremendously interesting to those political forecasters in the school and to the various political figures around the country. The Keystone state elections are figured to be the main event throughout the country. The students of Wilkes College have a seat on the fifty yard line for this political tussle.

Starting for the big Pennsylvania team I predict Richardson Dilworth at quarterback, Joseph Clark at flanker back, and Genevieve Blatt running at the center position.

By any other name... not as sweet

Juliet (by way of Mr. Shakespeare) said it first: "That which we call a rose, by any other name would smell as sweet." The rose, maybe, or even Romeo himself would have been the same by another name. But, alas, it is not so in men's clothing. The UNIVERSITY SHOP name in your suit means the very best in quality, style and workmanship. No other name stands for so much.
