Circle K's Challenge Spurned, Campus Organizations Fail To Respond To "Bearing Of Arms"

by Ruth Petillo

After strenuous campaigning by Dean Ralston and the Circle K Club, Blood Donor Day, which is now taking place in the gym, should be a success. Participating students have already scheduled appointments between 9:45 a.m. and 3:45 p.m.

Freshmen to Re-Meet Big Brothers, Sisters

by Harry Rustin

An event which has never taken place in the history of the college will occur this Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4:30 in the gymnasium. It will be a re-meeting of the freshmen with their Big Brothers and Sisters at an informal gathering. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided and as Rich Shemo, representing the Freshman Orientation Committee, stated, "will serve as a supplement in meeting once again with your counterpart in the Freshman Big Brother/Sister Program."

In the past, the Big Brother/Sister Program has gone beyond the first group meetings. Individuals have, in some cases, maintained personal contact, but occasionally freshmen did not see their Big Brother or Sister for months at a time.

A letter was sent out to each freshman telling them of this event. TDR offered assistance by addressing and stuffing the envelopes. The affair is being sponsored by the Student Government.

The occasion will provide the freshmen with an opportunity to re-establish contacts, compare experiences, pose questions, and in general, have a good time.

The success or failure of this meeting will determine whether or not it will be continued in the future.

A new feature added this year to stimulate interest in the program is the Circle K Club's Challenge of Arms. The members have stated that the members, as a group, will donate more blood than any other campus organization or group. It is hoped that campus organizations will take on this challenge, and the winners will be awarded a trophy for their efforts. The number of members in the organizations will be taken into consideration, and judgment will be decided by percentage.

Seeking to go beyond last year's attainment of 137 pints of blood, the campus as a group will try to surpass the present goal of 200 pints.

Any student who has donated blood will be given the right to obtain blood for his own or his family use. In order for this plan to be effective, the College must have a sufficient number of pints deposited in the blood bank.

For those students who for some reason cannot donate blood today but would like to do so in the near future, information concerning this may be obtained by contacting Dean Ralston or any member of the Circle K Club.

ICG Holds Dance Tonite

A unique activity is being held in the gym tonight. A dance. This dance is being sponsored by ICG. This dance will feature Bobby Baird and his band. Along with Bobby Baird will be his band. Along with his band will be an admission charge of fifty cents. Along with this admission charge will be a person holding fifty cents. ICG hopes it's YOU.

Stuart A. Jed and Jim Liouwski, co-chairman respectively announce that plans for a homecoming during intermission are being formulated.

NOTE

Everyone who wishes to give blood, but is unable to do so Friday, October 18, can make arrangements with Dean Ralston or Circle K for a different time.

Homecoming Weekend Nears; Four Display Awards Offered

Charlotte Wetzel

The weekend of October 25 will mark the celebration of the Sixteenth Annual Homecoming on campus. Student Government, which is in charge of this affair, has been arranging the final details.

Members of Student Government and the Beacon staff will cast their votes to determine which college will reign as Homecoming Queen. From a list of ten selected, the Queen and her court will be chosen.

Activity will commence next Friday night after the arrival of the alumni who will tour the campus to view the various displays set up by the dormitories and campus organizations. Four awards will be presented in the following categories: men's dormitories, women's dormitories, club displays and a student-as-chosen awards committee.

After the alumni have had an opportunity to judge the displays, there will be a caravane to Kirby Park, where a Bonfire and pep rally will be held. Those who wish to participate are asked to convene in front of Butler Hall at 7 p.m. The Homecoming Queen and her two princesses, as well as members of the football and soccer teams, will be the guests of honor. Members of Kapp, Chi Omega, and Majorettes will also be introduced. In addition, the winners of the campus displays will be announced.

Immediately following the bonfire, TDR will sponsor a sports dance in the gym. Marie Shutock and Leslie Tobar are completing the plans for Friday night's program.

Meanwhile, the alumni will gather at the Host Motel for a Warm-Up Party. This affair will be the prelude to the alumni dinner dance which will take place at the Dorian Room of the Host on Saturday night.

For alumni and undergraduates alike, Saturday's activities will begin at the athletic field with the soccer game in which Wilkes opposes Hofstra at 10 a.m.

Before the football game which features Wilkes vs. Denel, there will be a car caravan to the athletic field at noon. The Queen and her court will ride to the game in convertibles. Dr. Bailey will officially crown the Queen during the pre-game ceremonies.

At half-time awards will be given to the winners of the Homecoming displays and to the owner of the best-decorated car in the caravane. The Kapp and the Majorettes will perform to the accompaniment of the Wilkes College Band.

Highlighting the close of Homecoming Weekend is the undergraduate dinner dance sponsored by Student Government. John Campbell, chairman of the dance, has announced that tickets will cost four dollars per couple. There will be dancing at the mummy of Bobby Baird from 7 to 12 p.m. A dinner featuring roast beef, Italian and Swedish meat balls and Hawaiian-style, will be served from 7 to 9 p.m.

Four awards were recently given for outstanding academic achievement. Mrs. Daniel Detwiler, President of the Wilkes Faculty Women, presented an award to the highest ranking woman student from the previous year's Freshman class. The award was given to Lois Anne Petroski.

Mrs. Iva Heale, former President of the Wilkes-Barre Business and Professional Women's Club, presented the second award to the outstanding Junior or Senior woman student. This award was given to Catherine D. DeAngelis.

A third award was presented by Mr. Herbert J. Morris in memory of his daughter, who was born and died on this campus. This award went to Joyce Ann Cavallini, Joyce maintained an average of 3.80 for three years straight. The final award was presented by Rosemary Hagem, President of Theta Delta Rho, to Clara Helen Draper, the most outstanding T.D.R. member.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Mrs. Koerner and I would like to congratulate those responsible for Parent's Day for the truly outstanding job that they did. It was a most enjoyable day from start to finish. As our son is a senior, our only regret was that it had not been inaugurated three years ago.

As parents, we are greatly interested in the school and our children. Through our participation in Parent's Day, we have learned a great deal about Wilkes College, its faculty and students.

We sincerely hope that Parent's Day will become an annual event at Wilkes College.

Sincerely Yours,
Milton Koerner

THE APATHETIC ONLOOKER

The Apathetic Onlooker
by Jack Hardie and Olen Schreider

In the cafeteria the other day we chanced to overhear our two Sophomore friends discussing faeries and brownies and, because we have interest in W.B. Yeats too, we thought we would join the conversation.

"Yes," we interrupted, "Irish folk-lore was one of the formulating influences on Yeats' poetic imagination." (Of course you must remember that . . .

"W.B. Yeats? asked Miss Dover.

"A genius, Eliene," of course, we continued, "deeply affected by . . ."

"But we weren't discussing an English course," explained Lena.

"If not English, Miss Genetler, what other course includes Yeats' poetry? Wilkes has no course in Folk-lore or Mythology.

"Faeries and Brownies," said Lena tersely, "is a game we play in the gym.

"Oh, of course," we exclaimed, "an Education course. Learning games to show the kiddies at recites when you have your music course, I'm sure you're confused no longer certainly, an Education course. Probably get those credits for it, eh?"

"This," cried Eliene indigenously, "is our physical education course. We play these games in the girls' gym classes!"

"Adults! Playing faeries and . . . Do you write poetry?"

Miss Dover picked up a book and began to read. Lena lit a cigarette. We tried to look casual as we quietly left the cafeteria, hiding Yeats under our coats.

THE BALLOT BOX

Research on Prejudice

by Vince McHale

The research study was carried out at Rutherford, N.J. by the Research Center of Fairleigh Dickinson University's College of Business Administration. The principle aim of the study was to determine the interplay of conscious and unconscious prejudices in the nation's jury boxes.

The findings of the study revealed the basis of prejudices in the nation's jury boxes. The study and the interplay of prejudices in the nation's jury boxes.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused is prejudiced by the speed and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and in that district where in the crime has been committed.

One does not need a course in Constitutional Law to realize this is the Sixth Amendment to the Federal Constitution. But what is a "speedy and public trial," what constitutes an "impartial jury?" It is true that the amendment specifically refers to "criminal prosecutions," but what of its application in the equally important area of civil litigation?

In this area, these are perhaps the two most important problems facing the American judicial system today. For example, is the accused in such a proceeding by an impartial jury? Let’s find out.

In addition to the multitude of man's imperfections, current history seems to point to one outstanding fault that appears to know no bounds - prejudice. Bearing this statement in mind, it is not surprising that this is the result of finding by a group of researchers who carefully concluded an extensive probe into the fears and biases of 500 men and women from various parts of the nation. The main focus of this science is not an easy one for the prejudice researcher, but the problem problem yet yours.

In bankruptcy, the problem is not yours.

THE HEAT'S ON

No longer can minors caught in establishments serving liquor skip bithrough the raid, the subpoena, and the hearing itself with no scars and perhaps even a check for testifying against the owners.

For the State Liquor Control Board has finally taken the "fun out of foiling the owners" - with a "crack down" on minors and a tightening of the state laws.

A recent change in the statutes makes the minor in such a situation responsible for his own conduct and liable to as much as a $100 fine and several days imprisonment.

When he testifies against the cafe owner, he also testifies against himself - leaving him wide open for a lot of trouble and expense.

IS IT WORTH IT?

TWO PLUS TWO EQUALS THREE

Since each of us is aware that enrollment at our college is steadily increasing, we are apt to presume that the impact created by student movements would also increase in the same proportion. This, however, is generally not the case, and to substantiate my statement, I would like to compare the student conducted United Fund Campaign results for the past three years.

In 1960, the total amount contributed was $1,148, in 1961, it dropped to $1,090, and finally, last year, we reached our lowest total of $756. These facts definitely show a lack of interest on the part of the students in their campaign, for if each student had contributed his $1.00, the increased enrollment would have been evident in an increase of total contributions.

Our problem, as it exists, can be remedied, and this remedy can be administered immediately. The procedure would be a simple one, and would merely involve the effort on the part of each student to contact his class representatives, and make his individual contribution. Once this has been accomplished, this year's campaign totals will begin a new trend in the right direction.

Comstock Shines For Wilkes, But Colonels Lose To PMC 15-12

Vie With Ursinus At Collegeville Tomorrow

Ed Comstock was outstanding in last Saturday’s match-up at the West Pittston athletic exceptional effort was not enough to provide a margin for victory for the Wilkes Colonels, who dropped their third game in as many starts. Comstock broke two tackles for 70 yards on 21 carries for an 8.1 yard per carry average, which earned him the “ECAC Outstanding Back” award and also the BEACON “Athlete of the Week” award.

PMC capitalized on a Wilkes fumble to draw first blood in the game. In the second period, with four minutes remaining, the Colonels rebounded on drives by Comstock and Don Bronzini into a punt from theрид the score. At the half was a 6-0 tie, as Bronzini’s PAT attempt was wide.

After a scoreless third period, Frank Wallace returned a punt to the Wilkes 41. On the next play, Comstock carried the pigskin on a 52 yard touchdown run through the middle of the PMC defense. The extra point failed.

The Cadets, fired up by a Homecoming crowd, roared back with a drive that covered 62 yards and resulted in another PMC score. Bob Heiser joined the game by booting the PAT, but just for insurance the Cadets trapped Frank Wallace back to punt from the 80 yard line where they made two total.

At Ursinus Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon the Colonels meet the Bears of Ursinus in a game at Collegeville, Pa. Last season the Wilkes team displayed a tremendous effort on both goal line stands turned back the Bears 12-6.

Last year the Bears were lucky to score even once against the Colonels with all the breaks going their way. Ursinus had the ball twice in succession inside the five yard line and failed to score on the terrible defensive effort of the Wilkes line.

Coach Richard Wharton, in his 4th year at Ursinus, has 13 returning lettermen. Included among these veterans is senior quarterback Ron Emmer, who scored the only Ursinus touchdown last year. The game will get under way at 2 p.m.

Beacon ‘Athlete’ Award Goes To Ed Comstock

Due to his brilliant display of offensive running in last Saturday’s heart-stopper, Ed Comstock has been chosen as this week’s “Athlete of the Week.”

OMSTOCK

In this short, 3-1/2‘ tall, 140 pound freshman, Comstock has shown up in unexpected places to score for his team. His ability to make players miss him is uncanny and his determination to get to the end zone is formidable. The Colonels are 5-0-0 against the ECAC and the “Athlete of the Week” award might just be the icing on the cake for the Cadets.

Pat Davis Sparks Hockey Team In Moravian Win

As a result of quick thinking on the part of freshman Pat Davis, the hockey team recently scored a 4-3 victory over a tough Moravian squad.

Davis broke down within inches of the goal, tapped the ball home from his prone position when the opposing goalie moved aside. This action, within the last few minutes of play, broke a 3-3 tie to win the game.

Pat also put in two of the other goals. Becky Croom also scored.

Boots Reach Halfway Mark With 1-4-1 Log After Draw With FDU

With the season half completed, the Wilkes College soccer team brought its long winning streak to the Ferris by reminding both opponents they can improve on this record during the second half of the schedule.

The Colonels dropped a 1-0 squeaker to Stevens last Wednesday but bounced back on Saturday to battle the Madison campus team of Fairleigh-Dickinson to a 1-1 tie.

The contest with Stevens indicated, as in past tilts, that a scoring threat is definitely in the offensive line. The Colonels were somewhat afeared to score, the Colonell defenders never ceased to perform admirably.

In the game with Madison, the Wilkes defensive unit sparkled as they shut out their opponents. The Colonels defensive backs was similarly blanked, and at the end of regulation play, the Colonels were still leading 1-0.

Two five-minute overtime periods were played, but neither team was able to break the deadlock for the contest at the New Jersey college.

Outstanding defensive play by left fullback Larry Schenck, right halfback Dick Buck, who was the offensive line by the line play of Dick Morgan and Walter Loew.

The booters will play two games at home this week, meeting Muhlenburg Wednesday afternoon and challenging Hofstra tomorrow morning.

Basketball Booted Aniqueated In Switch To Intuition

For College Grid Picks

by David Degen

After another disastrous week, I decided to close my astrology book and rely solely on my own intuition. With the last two ads, I begin on this week’s selections.

Tuna vs. Arkansas — An important game which will decide the Southwest Conference championship, and perhaps the National Championship.

Penn State vs. Syracuse — Z. backfield is one of the most explosive in the country, able to break through Syracuse’s line, which averages 228 pounds.

Princeton vs. Colgate — The Tigers sport one of the finest backs in college football in Casino Kacavaz; that’s enough for Princeton.

Wisconsin vs. Iowa — It will be Wisconsin’s backfield against Iowa’s line.

Pittsburgh vs. West Virginia — Pitt is too powerful both up front and in the backfield.

Oklahoma vs. Kansas — Joe Don Lpez and Jim Graham are the Sooners’ backfield threat, while the Jay-hawks will be depending on the gifted running of Gayle Sayers.

Mississippi vs. Tulane — The Rebels have too much for Tulane, which has nothing but a tough schedule.

You are cordially Invited to Join the staff of...
New College Art Club To Hold Meeting, New York Trip Topic

The New College Art Club is holding its first organizational meeting this Tuesday. The club, created for all those interested in art, will discuss plans for the academic year as Saturday workshops, field trips, movies, demonstrations, and lectures. The club, announced Bill Pucliwoski, will undergo a complete change, calling for a “more dynamic and exciting” policy.

Next Wednesday through Friday, the members of the club are holding an art sale and exhibition in Conyngham Annex. All media will be on sale at reasonable prices.

On Saturday, Nov. 9, the Art Club will make the first of two planned trips to New York City. A bus has been chartered and cost of a round-trip ticket is five dollars. Anyone is welcome to go. Reservations should be made by Nov. 1 with Jan Petrich, president of the Art Club, or Ron Kocsis, treasurer. A registration blank has been placed in Conyngham Annex for those wishing to sign.

The group as a whole will visit museums and art galleries; there will also be time for individuals to visit other points of interest in the city.

Accompanying the group will be Miss Charlotte Lord, a member of the English department, and Mrs. Marini, the secretary in the Placement Office.

Debate Team

Miss Charlotte Lord, advisor to the Debate Club, has announced the autumn agenda for the teams. The topic for this year is: Resolved, that the Federal Government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates.

The College varsity and novice teams will travel to Marywood Wednesday for inter-collegiate debates. No decisions will be given.

Nov. 1 and 2, the varsity team will travel to LaSalle. They will again debate at Villanova Nov. 22 and 23.

The novice debaters will compete with Temple University Dec. 7.

Representing Wilkes in varsity debating are Jim Tredinnick, Rosemary Rush, Doug Kistler, and David Levy.

Members of the novice team are Gerald McCale, Al Arola, Paul Bachman, and Paul Mocko.

In his lecture entitled “The Psychological Effects of Alcohol” Dr. Francis McHale discussed the problem of alcoholism and the effects of alcohol upon the body at a recent AWS seminar.

For future lectures AWS hopes to engage such authorities as marriage counselors and other prominent citizens of the community to speak on topics of general interest to Wilkes students and the public.

The College chapter of AWS is as perhaps the attempt to form a cohesive unit of women students who can strive to promote a well-rounded and well-informed student body.

The College chapter of AWS is a member of the national organization of AWS. Six sister members of AWS include Wilkes College, Bucknell University, the University of Pittsburgh, and a host of others.

As of yet, no official AWS meeting hour has been decided upon; however, Miss Kaaran Graham, Secretary of AWS, has announced that all women students are invited to join. These women students interested in joining can contact either Dana Saladen, president, or Kaaran Graham.
