Passing of Librarian, Mrs. Dorothy Malloy, Is Loss To Campus

Mrs. Dorothy Malloy

Each individual on campus as well as the college as a whole has suffered a great loss with the death of Mrs. Dorothy Malloy, who was an ardent and tireless librarian. Her death occurred late Sunday at Mercy Hospital where she had been a patient since late Saturday morning.

Mrs. Malloy, who had been a librarian of the college since August, 1962, was a graduate of College Mestriconia. While a member of the College Mestriconia library staff, she earned her master of arts degree from Marywood College, Scranton.

Born in Larksville, Mrs. Malloy was graduated from St. Vincent's High School, Plymouth. She was a member of the West Side Central Catholic High School Parent-Teacher Association and the Mother's Club. She also belonged to the Pennsylvania Library Library. She was an avid member of the Wyoming Valley Floral Club.

Surviving are her husband and three sons, John, Jr., a freshman at the College, Daniel, and Patrick, students of West Side Central Catholic High School, Kingston.

LETTERMEN MAKE PLANS for TEA & XMAS FORMAL

A faculty tea and Christmas formal are among the future plans of the Lettermen's C.I.A. President Dan New is planning a special meeting of the Student Government Committee last Thursday morning.

The recent Student Government-SDC interchange over I.D.C. budget has been discussed by the Student Government Committee at the special meeting of the Student Government Committee last Thursday morning.

George Evancho, president of I.D.C., discussed a budget figure of $100,000 to $400,000 with the committee members.

In their original calculations, Student Government figured I.D.C. expenses at $440, subtracted $100 of their expected income from this figure, and offered them a $325 budget.

Evancho contended that income-producing projects such as the concessions at athletic events and Student Union machines were specifically designed for the support of the foreign orangutan and designated for the agency Fund which is separate from the regular E.A. or intra-curricular activities fund.

His questioning resulted in the appearance of Jim Jones and Dick Burse, Student Government Treasurer and President, respectively, at the IDC meeting last week to explain the manner in which the budget was decided. At that time, the two groups agreed to re-discuss the Government before another budget committee meeting.

In this re-meeting, Evancho stated the inability of I.D.C. to operate efficiently with the budget tentatively allocated to them. He also commented that many other organizations had received budget increases and that I.D.C., representing an expanded student population, was also entitled to an increase. Jones countered with the statement that only those organizations that showed sufficient need had received additional funds. He further explained that Student Government was asking only that IDC apply $100 from its dance date income toward the budget and that any other income may be toward the support of their own budgets.

Since the budget meeting was only for purposes of discussion, no decision was made. But Jones pointed out that if IDC re-submitted an adjusted budget request, it would, of course, be considered.

Entr'acte Notes . . . We wish to clarify any misconceptions which may have arisen from last week's Beacon story. Mr. George Elliot, I.D.C. advisor, did not discuss the proposed IDC budget for the junior class. The tentative allotment was announced.

Presentation to Student Government

1968 Throne of Blood

The MANUSCRIPT Film Society, a non-profit organization, is presenting an adaptation of Shakespeare's MACBETH by Akira Kurosawa, one of the world's most outstanding film directors. Tonight at 7 and 9 in Stark 116, Kurosawa has brought a new dimension to this absorbing version of Medieval Scotland's vital cultural conflict and visualizing the shocked and amazed audience. The spectator's view of the world is shaken by the images of its own amoral decadence and the imagination, that is experiencing effects of cinema seldom matched in its splendidly moving presentation of these elements.

Concerning the Japanese interpretation of MACBETH, Professor Rudolph Arnheim of Sarah Lawrence College, said: "From now on, when I think of Macbeth, there will appear in my mind the definitive images of Kurosawa's characters, voices and film-viewers' feelings.

Morgan Explains Peace Corps To Students

by Marshall Evans

Miss Joan E. Morgan, program co-ordinator of the Peace Corps, recently visited the Campus to explain the Peace Corps program to the students. Miss Morgan explained that the Peace Corps is a volunteer organization in which young men and women volunteer two years of service in underdeveloped areas of the world. Miss Morgan explained that the Peace Corps is a two-year program which trains individuals in various fields of study and provides them with a working knowledge of the culture and language of the area.

Community development is a primary goal of the Peace Corps. This goal is achieved by providing technical assistance and training to local communities. Peace Corps volunteers also work with government agencies and non-governmental organizations to promote economic and social development.

Those interested in the Peace Corps program who were unable to visit Miss Morgan may obtain further information from Mr. Hoover. The Beacon will provide news supplements of Peace Corps activities twice a year to keep students informed of current happenings concerning this organization.
If this week's story on the IDC-Student Government budget disagreement seems vague and general, there is a valid reason. We just couldn't plow through the mass of figures to the facts.

Realizing the importance of this issue, the BEACON staff attempted to corroborate the "facts" brought out at Tuesday's budget meeting by a check of the figures with both sides before the story was released.

The BEACON staff members, all upperclassmen, all familiar with the problem, were equally astonished to find that some of the figures given in this subsequent check not only disagreed with the report from the meeting, but also with each other.

As a matter of fact, we are not even completely certain of the $480 figure mentioned in the adjusted IDC request. Student Government has a figure of $485 and to confuse matters more, both figures were mentioned by IDC at the budget meeting.

In addition, at the time of this printing, both sides differ on whether or not IDC has, in actuality, submitted a new budget request.

We are confused and concerned. If after attending meetings and talking with representatives from both sides, we don't know quite what is going on, and are not sure whether to believe IDC or Student Government, evidently others feel the same way.

And what's more can a logical conclusion come out of this cloud of confusion and innuendoes.

Certainly neither Student Government nor IDC want misconceptions circulating about this situation.

We are therefore printing the entire statement of the IDC president who disagreed with some points in our story last week. Student Government is certain they can clarify their position on the pages.

The responsibility for "clearing the air" lies with both organizations.

WITH Deepest Sympathy

The sudden death of Mrs. Dorothy Malloy of our Library staff has saddened not only her colleagues but the student body as well. Although Mrs. Malloy was with us only for a year, this relatively short time, she made many friends through her quiet, efficient, and always pleasant manner to students and faculty alike.

Mrs. Malloy exuded that rare quality—a genuine interest in her fellow human being—which encouraged students to approach her with their problems, confident of their solution as well as of cordial treatment.

Her loss will be deeply felt both in her family and on our campus.

SIBLEY RECOGNIZES THE NEED FOR A BASIC READING PROGRAM AND GROUPING WITHIN CLASSES

by David Stowe

George Siles is the new resident of Parrish 44. With this office space goes the obligation of heading the Elementary Education Department at Sibles, and Mr. Siles brings ample qualifications. Born and reared in this area, he graduated from Sibles, and then attended the University of Delaware where he worked on his thesis. He is currently working on his doctorate in the field of curriculum and student supervision.

Previous to returning to Wilkes, Mr. Siles taught in Madison Township, New Jersey and was Chairman of Foreign Languages at Farmdale, Long Island. In both places he knew and worked with Dr. Halper. In comparing local schools with the Long Island system, Mr. Siles pointed out some interesting facts, such as the need here for a basic reading program and grouping within classes. Eventually he hopes to see seminars with elementary school principals to discuss such issues.

Mr. Siles believes that the student teaching program at Wilkes is excellent and that the student teachers are very good. He also believes that the student teaching program is very important for the development of the student.

In the little free time that he has, he enjoys going to the Giants every Sunday on television. He recalls with enthusiasm the time he was and some friends going over Western Europe with sleeping bags.

asked if he, his wife, and two little girls were happy to be back in Wyshtown Valley, he replied, "Yes, but then we are happy anywhere."

The remaining candidates have not contacted the Beacon, and the elections will be held on Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the lounge of the cafeteria.

Cox Checkmates Campus In Commons

On Fridays, from 9 to 10, the game room is the historical hallmark. That is the time when the “Checkmate” is hosted by Dr. Cox. Dr. Cox says that the first eight steps in chess are the most important, which are also the most fundamental. But it seems that the whole game is being played and players are well versed in the fundamentals of chess to the students, since no few know them.

Also, I would like to see a regular time set aside for chess games. Dr. Cox admires the game, but he says his greatest difficulty is finding some one to play against him. So all you brave chess players, and even you chickens hearted ones, prepare yourselves to be down to Stark Hall Fridays from 9-10, or to the Commons from 12-1, and try your skill. This is a CHALLENGE!

IMG Seeks To Fulfill Democracy; Offers In-Service Training

The Institute of Municipal Government, under the direction of Dr. Hugo V. Mailer, chairman of the police department, is being engaged in various community services its members have been doing for a while. The support of IMG were supported primarily by the College and by local officials until 1969, when Fred Ford generated a substantial sum to help meet the costs of its program.

The fundamental purpose of the programs of IMG is to “help make America a better place to live by assisting in the semi-autonomous structure of local government.” As long as it can retain the capacity to solve its problems.

Other projects in which IMG is engaged are the “Wilkes-Barre Project, which concerns an area of land which will supposedly be used for the construction of a dormitory, student center, and gymnasium. This project is being conducted in cooperation with the Wilkes-Barre Housing Authority and involves a nine acre area of land which will supposedly be used for the construction of a dormitory, student center, and gymnasium.”

In addition to in-service training, IMG also conducts surveys which provide information concerning problems of local government officials. Recently representatives of IMG have conducted surveys of the Wilkes-Barre Development Project. The survey is being conducted in cooperation with the Wilkes-Barre Housing Authority and involves a nine acre area of land which will supposedly be used for the construction of a dormitory, student center, and gymnasium.

Pigeons V. People

The Pigeon may not be considered a human being, but if they were, it would then be possible for them to have rights. The Pigeon is considered a threat to the environment and people, so it must be eliminated.

As everyone knows, there are certain people who are trying to eliminate the Pigeon from our city. They have used various methods to try and drive them away, such as using traps, poisons, and even guns.

The Pigeon is a threat to the environment and people, so it must be eliminated. The Pigeon must be eradicated.

A new organization, the Photography Club, is making its debut on campus Monday. The group will welcome all interested students to its organizational meeting in the Chase Photo Lab (Room 111) at 3 p.m.

The only requirement to join are that the person have a camera and an interest in photography.

The group also plans to hold a “Miss Seasons Contest” to end in June. Each participant will have four photographs, two each from the Beaudin and Amicon, and select a Miss Month. Photographs of the month winners will be printed in the campus newspaper.

Debaters Attend Workshop At Lehigh

The College debaters recently attended an interdisciplinary workshop at Lehigh where they were focused on the art of debating, rather than the debate decision tournaments normally held.

The demonstration debate, facilitated by debaters from Lehigh for the affirmative team, and from Rutgers, for the negative team.

After a luncheon for all the participants, a practice debate between winners and Lehigh students was divided into two rooms, while the debaters watched and evaluated the performances.
Ted Travis-Bey Gains BEACON "Athlete of the Week" Laurels

Scatback Notches Two Touchdowns in Sparking Colonels to 1st home win

by Merle Bolen

After a brief struggle with the soccer team the BEACON returns to the endeavors of the Colonels football squad for its selection of the "Athlete of the Week." In this issue the laurels are being awarded to Ted Travis-Bey, a fearless little halfback whose performance may appear to have been somewhat overlooked this season. Quite on the contrary, Ted's sparkling action on the gridiron has been closely observed in each contest.

Known for his elusiveness and agility Ted has more than once produced seemingly impossible gains in yardage when about to be thrown for a loss by opposing linemen. With his speed and maneuverability he has the power to elude and ward off his assistants who try in vain to thwart his endless drives.

Ted played football for Phoenixville High School and was also a member of the baseball team and the basketball team. He also served as President of the Student Council and was a member of the National Honor Society.

Ted is an asset which the Colonels are fortunate to possess as can be seen by his having been named the MAC halfback of Wilkes College last year. In addition to this he ranked among the top ten in MAC rushing averages.

Against Delaware Valley last Saturday Ted produced two touchdowns and numerous gains in other occasions. The first time the Colonels received possession of the ball the plucky scatback culminated a 56 yard drive with a 9 yard scamper over the goal line for paydirt. Later in the second quarter he came through with a beautiful 50 yard burst off tackle for the second Wilkes tally.

For his excellent effort, Ted has been named this issue's "Athlete of the Week."

Delaware Valley Tastes Defeat 19-13; Colonels Finish Away Tomorrow

The Wilkes College Colonels dropped the Aggies of Delaware Valley last Saturday, but almost lost the game because of breaks. The Colonels gave up two touchdowns which resulted directly from two miscues. The first was a pass interception and the second was a fumble in their own end zone in punt play. Ed Brominski took a turn at running the Wilkes attack, and led the Colonels to an early lead with a 6-yard run by a yard scamper by backer Ted Travis-Bey. Brominski's kick for the extra point was wide.

Delaware Valley bounced back with a drive of their own, which carried the Aggies to the Colonels' 34. At that point, halfback Paul Purta of Wilkes intercepted a Gary Ulrich pass on the one-yard line. Honolulu's defense could not find running room and were forced to punt after four downs.

By David Dugan

My luck continues to run as 1 pick-18 out of 23 right. My record now stands at 23 right and 24 wrong, with 2 ties for a 66.5 percentage.

Last week the members of unbeaten and untied major college teams was reduced to one. Texas is that team as it had McCallum and Princeton suffered their first defeats. Mississippi remains as the only other unbeaten team, suffering one tie. Among the unbeaten teams, Navy leads the pack with Pittsburg, Alabama, and Michigan State racing as strong challengers. These three teams alone led the best three teams in the country: (1) Texas, (2) Mississippi, (3) Navy. Just looking ahead a tremendous game for the Cotton Bowl would be Texas, with its great ball control and defense, against Navy and the passing of Roger Staubach.
