

Economics Club Fined; Carnival Highlights Semester Break; Spring Concert will Host Snowflake Queen Candidates Selected Serendipity Singers

by Vicki Tatz

Representatives from the Economics Club and the Women's Chorus were present at the Student Government meeting last Monday night. The inconsistency between the prices of tickets sold before and at the dance on December 4 was discussed. Such a procedure is against the policy of Student Government, which requires all organizations to submit an activity form for approval. Once a form is approved all the information contained on it, including the admission price, must be adhered to. Both the Economics Club and Student Government emphasized that the Club's intention was not to take advantage of students, but that the discrepancy was due to an oversight. Since the Economics Club had assumed responsibility for the activity form, it was fined five dollars.

Thursday, January 7, a meeting was held to discuss the formation of a Day-Student Council. The eleven students who attended are planning to hold another meeting in Stark 116 on Saturday, January 30, at 2 p.m. All those students who are interested are invited to attend.

Graduate Returns To Entertain Student Body In Assembly

At a recent assembly Thomas Hrynkiw, pianist, was featured. His program included Bach's Partita #6 in E Minor, Schumann's Fantasia Opus 17, and Ballade #4 by Chopin. He concluded his program with Prokofiev's Concerto #2, accompanied by Stephen Banks, a 1964 Wilkes graduate who is also a student at the Manhattan School of Music.

A graduate of the College in 1963, Hrynkiw was awarded a scholarship by the Manhattan School of Music. There he was chosen by Dr. Hugh Ross as the pianist for the professional chorus, Scola Cantorum, and toured with this organization during his first semester. He has studied under Robert Goldsand and is presently in the master class of Dora Soslawski.

While at the College Hrynkiw was a student of Anne Liva. When he was a senior, he was the first student at the College to give a recital during an assembly program. He was also the first student to have a record of his senior recital sponsored by the College. While still in his final year, he was chosen to perform Tchaikovsky's B Minor Symphony with Leopold Stokowski and the Scranton Philharmonic.

Hrynkiw has also appeared with the Wilkes-Barre Philharmonic, the Niagara Falls Philharmonic, the Binghamton

The annual Winter Carnival will be held this year at Buck Hill Falls on January 29. Tickets, which are $1.50 per person, can be purchased from Millie Gittens at the Bookstore. No tickets will be sold after Monday, January 25.

The new calendars for next semester are now available, and can be obtained at Chase Hall.

Don Ungemah has requested that any student who has a suggestion for the senior class gift contact him.

Student Government has also decided that the Serendipity Singers will give the spring concert at the College on Sunday afternoon, May 9. This year the College will assume full responsibility for the concert. For previous performances, arrangements were such that Student Government would not lose money in the event of a failure, but the organization received only twenty per cent of the profits. The Serendipity Singers will receive $300 or sixty per cent of the intake, whichever sum is greater.

Philharmonic and with symphony orchestras in Detroit, Dayton, Erie, and Schenectady. He is presently musical director of the Pennsylvania Ballet Company in Philadelphia and spends three days each week rehearsing with them.

The Collegians, under the direction of John Hyer, a senior music major, presented their annual assembly program yesterday. Included in the selec-

Planning the Winter Carnival are Arthur Hoover, Mordecai "Jack" Brooks, and Jack Barnes.

Diane Alfaro, Marie Persic, and Lois Petroski are the three finalists in the competition for Snow Queen at this year's Winter Carnival, to be held at Buck Hill Falls in the Poconos on Friday, January 29. One of the three will be crowned by reigning queen Cathy DeAngelis at the dance in the Inn that evening.

During the day, starting at 9:30 a.m., there will be skating, skiing, and sledding, and refreshments may be bought at the newly installed snack bar. Reduced rates will be in effect for skate and ski rental, and sledding is free. Skates may be rented for fifty cents for the day. Four dollars will cover ski rental and use of the ski lift, which will be operating from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Dinner will be served, cooked to order, in the main dining room from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m. From 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. a dance will be held. The Inn has accommodations for pool, card playing, checkers, chess, and other similar games. During the intermission of the dance, the crowning of the Snow Queen will take place.

Tickets cost $1.50 each and are being sold in the College bookstore. For those who do not have other transportation, a bus will be leaving for the Carnival from the South Street Faculty Parking Lot at 8:00 a.m. Reservations for seats are one dollar per person and may be made when buying tickets. The last day to buy tickets and make reservations is Monday, January 25. Those driving to the affair may pick up maps and directions to Buck Hill Falls at the bookstore.

DEBATE TEAM TAKES THREE AT VILLANOVA

The College debating team travelled to Villanova University for a power-matched, switch-side tournament on the weekend of December 11-12. The team, consisting of Andrew Thorburn and Al Airola, won three and lost two matches. They were victorious over Villanova University, Messiah College, and the University of Pennsylvania, but they were defeated by Connecticut University and Lehigh University.

Their coach and advisor, David Fendrick, accompanied the team. Two novices, Gail Wallen and Kathy Vose, observed the debates and took notes on the procedure, expressions, and cases of the contestants.

During the mid-semester vacation, the Debate Club will prepare for another power-match, switch-side tournament at Johns Hopkins University on January 29-30. Participating in this tournament will be Andrew Thorburn and Ephraim Frankel with Al Airola and David Fendrick as observers. Fendrick will also judge some of the debates.

OLIVIER STARS IN MANUSCRIPT FILM

The Manuscript is presenting Shakespeare's Henry V tonight in Stark 116 promptly at 7 and 9:30 p.m. The movie portrays the life of a powerful man whose courage and pride allow him to overcome every obstacle. The uncompromising personality of Henry V allows him to court the daughter of his enemy with no fears or regrets.

This celebrated screen classic, starring Laurence Olivier, has received an academy award for its outstanding performance. Those wishing to attend are asked to be on time, since the play is lengthy and will last more than two hours.

Booters Acclaimed in MAC Tourney

Although the College soccer team finished the 1964-65 season among the "also rans" with a 1-3-8 record in Middle Atlantic competition, the Colonel booters produced a college first in placing three of its varsity members on the first team of the All-Northern Division soccer selections.

Eurich, senior co-captain of the team, has gained acclaim from the Beacon this season as Most Valuable Player on the squad. Hudick has been consistent on defense this season and, in the opinion of the Beacon, has shown outstanding effort. Beck, while only a freshman, succeeded in copping team scoring honors this season. Eurich was named to the first team inside right position, while Hudick and Beck hold down the left halfback and outside positions respectively.

Seniors Display Art Forms

"Portraits and Dreams" is the theme of the senior art exhibit which is now being presented at Conyngham Annex. Those seniors who are exhibiting their work are David and Thomas Michael Balutanski, and Keith Ackerman. The exhibit, which will end tonight, is open to the College and the public and features pictures in the various media of the art world.

EDITORIALS

Fore

The success of the overall sports program at the College can certainly not be attributed to any one person. Just as in other areas of endeavor, it is cooperation that determines its fate from the conception. Our golf team is certainly not an exception, for without the cooperation of the members at the Irem Temple Country Club, it would be without a home course.

Mr. Welton Farrar, coach of the golf team, informed us that this is the tenth year that the College has received permission to use the Irem Temple Country Club for meets and practice sessions. Dr. J. B. Marshall, Greens Chairman at the Country Club, along with other members, has not only been generous in making the course available to the team, but is also interested and concerned with its progress.

In 1961 the Country Club was the site for the MAC Tournament, in which 23 colleges and 100 golfers participated. Those participating considered it the finest course on which the Tournament had ever been held. The courtesy of club members in turning over their course at that time and in aiding tournament play made both the College and community appear in a most favorable light.

Perhaps one of the reasons the College has been fortunate in having the use of the course is that the team members in the past have always been praised for the respect they have for facilities made available to them. Their conduct should set a standard for each of us, because it shows that manly decorum not only makes for better sportsmanship, but also strengthens favorable community relations.

SG ADOPTS NEW POLICIES GOVERNING CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

by Vicki Tatz

As a result of recent occurrences on campus, Student Government has adopted a series of new policies governing student activities. A copy of these changes will be sent to all organization presidents. The policies are as follows: (1) All recognized organizations must maintain an account with the College Finance Office, and all financial matters must be handled through this Office. For purposes of comparison and general information, organizations should submit to the Director of Student Activities and Student Government a simplified statement of expenses and income one week after an event and any specific suggestions for improvement of a similar event in the future. (2) For any organization that is granted a date on the college calendar and contracts to use the services of a band or performer(s), a written contract is required. Further, a copy of that contract must be filed with the Director of Student Activities two weeks prior to the scheduled event. (3) A definite policy should be established relative to the procedures and practices to be followed when two organizations sponsor jointly an approved activity prior to that activity; i.e., a standard 50-50 distribution of work, profits, losses, etc. (4) All rules included on the activity regulation sheet will be dealt with under Section IV of the policies.

New rules concerning activities are: (1) Campus organizations which are awarded a calendar date should be required to comply with the information submitted on their request and approval form. For example, the admission price approved by the Student Government on the activities form and the admission price advertised by a sponsoring organization should not be changed to accommodate the sponsoring organization. (2) When an organization is granted a date on the calendar, they should be provided with a written statement of policies covering their duties and responsibilities relative to the affair, particularly their responsibility to the Public Relations Office. This involves (a) keeping that office fully informed and (b) adherence to the practice that all publicity must emanate from that office or be approved by that office. (3) More effective and positive enforcement of the "no smoking" rule in the gym at college dances must be made. (4) Furthermore, a careful reading of the policies recorded in the Student Handbook should be read by all club presidents and chairmen of all activities.

High School Student Likes College Dances

Dear Editors:

I read in Wilkes College's paper, the Beacon, a couple of weeks ago, where you (A.P.) were mad because high school students came to a Wilkes College dance. Yet the sophomore class president (Ed. P.) advertises a college dance to my friends (high school students as I am. He did a good job too). Many of us high school kids came.

I am confused. What is your policy? Does Wilkes College say one thing and do another?

I think that it is time you be honest with yourselves. We high schoolers enjoy your dances, and your organizations (classes, clubs, Student Government, etc.) want our money. It is time you got rid of any rule which keeps us high schoolers from your dances. Either that or it is time for you to change your own rules.

Freshman Selected Miss January

Ghengis Khan of English Department Sometimes Uses Bedside Literature

by Nancy Leland

"English just excites me, that's all." These words, spoken by Mr. Warren DeArment, describe his feeling toward his position as a new member of the College's English Department, where he teaches freshman English. A graduate of Dickinson College and the University of Pittsburgh, Mr. DeArment had originally intended to go to law school, but became more interested in teaching English. He chose the College because he has "a proclivity for small liberal arts colleges". Besides, he needed a job. He enjoys college teaching and plans to continue in the field. Mr. DeArment hopes to obtain his doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh, where he taught on a graduate fellowship. In order to receive his doctorate he must first take the comprehensive exams and finish writing his dissertation, the subject of which is the literary theory.

Mr. DeArment dislikes 8 a.m. classes as much as anyone, and describes himself as "Ghengis Khan" at that hour. Never arriving more than ten seconds after the late bell has rung, he stands before his class, takes out a gold pocket watch, opens it, and lays it before him on his desk, referring to it from time to time during the class period. Mr. DeArment explained that the watch was his grandfather's, and holds a great deal of sentimental value. Lighter moments in his classes, when not discussing Anna Karenina, may be spent disputing the possibility of perfect love, sometimes with the benefit of Mr. DeArment's bedside literature.

Mr. DeArment's classes are always pervaded by his dry wit, as certified by his students. He does not, however, limit this wit to his class discussions. Corrected themes often display his unlimited irony. One such theme, a descriptive essay, spoke of a 'friendly' lane with multicolored trees. Mr. DeArment questioned the author of the theme, "Oh, and did the trees say hello?" Whereupon the corrected theme was returned with the answer, "No, their mothers taught them not to speak to strangers."

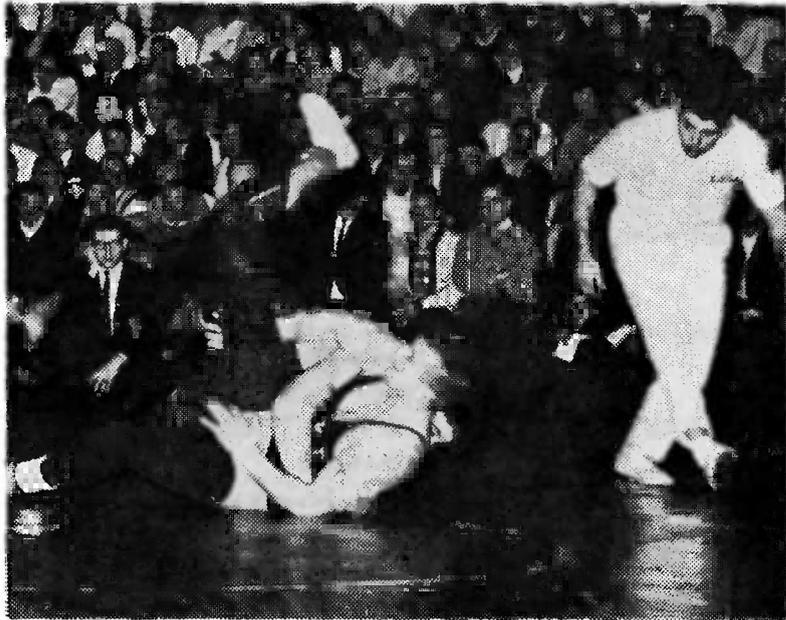

Warren DeArment

Mr. DeArment was born in Burnham, Pennsylvania, near Lewistown. He served two years in the army, where he attained the rank of first lieutenant, the position he now holds in the reserves. During his service he was active in counterintelligence. He and his wife, who was his hometown sweetheart, now reside in Wilkes-Barre with their four-year old daughter. Their home is conveniently located near the College.

In spite of his many obligations: family army teaching and dissertation, Mr. DeArment finds time to listen to his favorite types of music: swing and progressive jazz.

Rose Bowl Concluded; Grapplers Cop 2nd Win

Colonel Hopes of Rose Bowl Champion End as Carr Loses

On December 29 the final matches were held concluding the 1964 Wilkes Open Wrestling Tourney which saw 345 wrestlers participate in the largest open meet of its kind in the nation.

Although wrestling unattached, due to ineligibility, Wilkes' lone representative in the final matches was John Carr occupying the 167 lb. slot.

After rigorous preparatory training and crash dieting, in order to loose in excess of 40 lbs., Carr battled his way to the finals where he met John Rushatz of Lehigh.

Rushatz, however, proved to hold the upper hand as he pinned Carr in 8:58 in a match which saw both boys near exhaustion.

Carr received high acclaim while a student at Hanover High School.

While there he excelled in wrestling and became state wrestling champion for his class.

After finishing at Hanover, he went to Pitt for a time before transferring to Wilkes. When the Spring term begins Carr will be eligible for the Colonel squad and is expected to hold down the 167 lb. berth.

The University of Pittsburgh won team honors in the Open with Lock Haven second and East Stroudsburg third.

Navy's Wayne Hicks was named outstanding wrestler in the even after having attained the most falls in the least amount of total time.

John Rushatz 167 lb. champion mentioned above also scored the greatest amount of points per individual.

Grapp'ers Hand Post Cagers Continue Losing Season; Initial Defeat In Drop 8th Tilt To Elizabethtown Record Setting Meet

The Wilkes matmen defeated C. W. Post 26-6 at Brookville, Long Island last Saturday. It was Post's initial defeat of the season after convincing wins over such highly rated teams as Seton Hall, New York University, and West Chester State.

Ned McGinley, Dave Hall, and Bill Tinney defeated their opponents to keep their unbeaten streaks alive. Vic Altonen and Bill Stauffer won via the decision route. France Olexy won by a fall in the 177 pound class. Bill Stauffer set a record by defeating his opponent 25-2, the most points ever accumulated by a Wilkes grappler in a single bout. The team is now 2-1 for the year.

Results:

- 123 McGinley W (P) Breslow 4:02
- 130 Ingegna P (D) Ruckel 6-3
- 137 Altonen W (D) Pomora 8-0
- 147 Stauffer W (D) Trent 25-2
- 157 D. Hall W (P) J. Hall 3:20
- 167 Ingegna P (D) Cook 12-4
- 177 Olexy W (P) Delvechio 7:08
- HWT Tinney W won by default over Cordano

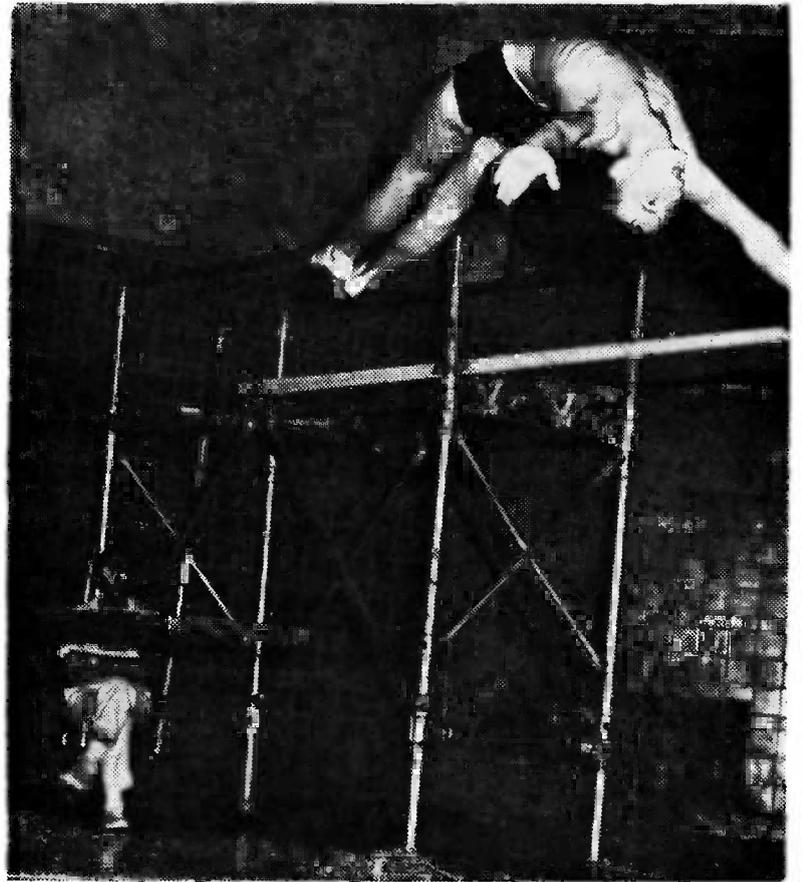

The Wilkes Cagers have been unable to put together a winning combination of players so far this season. Recently they were decisively outmatched by Elizabethtown and Lebanon Valley. The Colonels now have a winless (0-8) record.

The Colonels were unable to check the strong force behind the Elizabethtown team. Elizabethtown produced 106 points to the Colonels' 62, with the half time score 50-32. Dale Nicholson was high for Wilkes with 16, followed by Chanecka with 12, and Smith with 10. This was the seventh conquest against one loss for Elizabethtown, making them prime MAC contenders.

The Colonel cagers travelled to Annville to play Lebanon Valley and were handed another staggering defeat, 101 to 75. The first half was difficult for the Colonels as they lagged 57-33. The second half proved better as Lebanon Valley only outscored them by two points. Dale Nicholson was high for both teams with 22 points. Chanecka played well and produced 19 points.

Tomorrow Wilkes travels away to play Delaware Valley.

Mermen Downed 59-36 by Harpur In Second Contest of Season

Pictured is Rich Herrmann, freshman diver on the Wilkes swimming team in competition against a surprisingly strong Harpur team at the Y.M.C.A. The Harpur swimmers downed Wilkes 59-36 in the Colonels last outing to bring the home log to 0-2. In their initial meet, the Wilkesmen bowed to Lycoming 62-33.

Harry Heesch, returning letterman, posted the only individual first place in the Harpur meet in winning the 50-yd. freestyle, while the Colonel 400-yard free-relay team consisting of Heesch, Jim Pirino, Jack Barnes and Jon Carsman downed Harpur's entry. The Colonel host East Stroudsburg State College at the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow at 4:30.

Athlete of the Week

Due to the outstanding performances exhibited by Colonel wrestlers Dave Hall and Bill Stauffer in last Saturday's meet with C. W. Post, the Beacon has deemed it necessary to select two Athletes of the Week for this issue.

Highlighting the meet was Bill Stauffer occupying the 147 lb. class. In a match in which he completely overwhelmed his opponent, Stauffer decisioned Ron Trent 25-2. By defeating Trent by such a large margin Stauffer set a new record for the most points accumulated in a single match by a Wilkes wrestler.

Stauffer, a freshman from Freeport, Long Island, started the season out on the losing end, however, quickly rebounded to capture his next two matches and possess a 2-1 record at this time.

Sophomore Dave Hall filling the 157 lb. slot displayed a performance not to be overlooked by any means. By pinning John Hall in 3:20 Dave continued along the undefeated path to bring his record to 3-0. Hall, a second year varsity grappler from West Pittston, met the same opponent in last year's meet with C. W. Post. At that time, however, Hall was forced to be satisfied with a evenly classed matched which ended in a 5-5 draw.

Now in full swing!

Office work in Europe is interesting

SUMMER JOBS IN EUROPE

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg — You can earn $300 a month working in Europe next summer. The American Student Information Service is also giving travel grants of $390 to the first 5000 applicants. Paying jobs in Europe include office work, resort, sales, farm, factory, child care and shipboard work just to mention a few. Job and travel grant applications and complete details are available in a 36-page illustrated booklet which students may obtain by sending $2 (for the booklet and airmail postage) to Dept. J, ASIS, 22 Ave. de la Liberte, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. Interested students should write immediately.
