Zawadski Announces Registration Schedule; Old System Reinstated

Students will pre-register with their advisors for the fall semester, 1965-66, during the following periods: juniors and engineering students, March 22-26, seniors, March 27, and freshmen, April 5-9.

Alphonso Zawadski has announced that the old system of registration has been revived. Students will report to their advisors on the appropriate dates and select their required courses. After registration forms have been completed, one copy will be given to the student; the advisor will retain his copy and the original will be returned to the Registrar. The Registrar will then issue an assignment to students for each course. A master registration chairmen decide the number of pre-registration permits for each course.

Language Dept. Shows 3 Shorts

The modern foreign language department will present Daudet’s Letters. From My Windmill on March 23 from 11 a.m. to 12 p.m. in room 409, it will continue from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Auditorium, and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. in room 116. The film is a comedy directed and produced by Marcel Pagnol from the book by Alphonse Daudet. In “The Three Low Maasas,” the devil assumes for the first time the shape of a person and so torments the priest with talk about the Christmas dinner that the priest loses himself in gluttony and problems ensue.

“The Elites of Father Gaucher” is the story of Brother Gaucher who invites some homemade brew and its recipe from his Aunt Bepoini. The final segment, The Secret of Master Courtois, is a sentimental story about an old miller who, for 18 years, has been pretending to compete with the newfangled steam mills.

Solons Organize For Cinderella; SKG Keeps Keifer

by Vicki Tatze

Committee chairmen for the Cinderella Ball have been selected. The general chairman, Jack Brooks, Ron Czajkowski, and John Simonsen, were appointed recently. Al Saidman is publicity chairman; John Lore, ticket chairman; Jane Sauer and Lois Petrussi, gifts; John Cavallini, program; Ken Antonini and Mully Bovey, food; Inez Risten, invitations; Darlene Moll and Norma Falk, decorations; Ned Williams, refreshments; and Summer Hayward and Mrs. Ann Rish, commentary. The Modern Aires, a ten-piece orchestra, have been engaged. The student body will vote for a Cinderella Queen at the March 25 schedule. A new policy was initiated providing that if someone is a Homecoming Queen, she is ineligible for Cinderella Queen. All printing, of tickets and so on, should go through Ed Walker, public relations office.

Annual Appeal Finalizes Plans; Breakfast Held

A breakfast meeting was held at the college, recently, to finalize plans for the impending Wilkes College Annual Appeal. Divisional leaders and captains attended the affair presided over by Peare Scovell, general chairman of the community phase of the campaign.

Speakers were Dr. Francis Michelini, speaking on behalf of Dr. Eugene Frye, director of the Wilkes College Community Committee, and Andrew Eugene Ruth, vice-president of the Alumni Association. Attorney John D. Hall was in charge of the alumni phase of the campaign.

The purpose of the campaign is to solicit contributions for the College’s scholarship funds. The kickoff dinner for this year’s appeal is scheduled for March 23 at 6 p.m. in the College Commons.

The Student Activities Committee has changed its meeting time to Thursdays at 4 p.m. in Stark 116. An advisor should be represented at these meetings.

The intercollegiate hootenanny was successful, reported co-chairmen Matt Fliss and Elaine Cogin. A net profit of approximately $240 was made. At least 800 people attended. It was suggested that a special category be established for single performers.

Mr. was decided by majority that there would be only one showing of the Manuscript film on March 26, with Tom Court and the Betty Club Dance.

Tickets for the Serendipity Singers will go on sale March 29.

A canvas sign was purchased by Student Government for $20.

The I.C.G. was granted $125 for a dance.

American Forces In South Viet Nam - Military Strategy or Military Mix-Up?

In the United States following a successful policy in South Viet Nam? This was the question put to the student body this week. Although the subject is occurring in the Far East, it will affect us all within the year. The issue of importance concerns, most of whom are of draft age.

Susan Baker Since the United States has always taken a stand on this issue, it is likely that this question exists, it right for our country to wish South Viet Nam. Although it would have been a better job for the United Nations, the United States had to choose sides. There would not or could not act. The situation is desperate, and we as a country, there is no way we can fight a defensive war in which we never violate enemy terri-

Thomas Rinnelini I heartily agree with the American position. I think it is about time we initiated some action to fight those who have a right to live in that area, rather than letting them bring the war to us. We have finally awoken, and it is too late. One thing I hope is that this war will not be won or end-

Bill Zeegarck It seems that, as Americans, we are too proud of our way of life. We are trying to "force" our will on another country. The people should be allowed to choose their own government, and to choose their own Sam forcing them through the door of capitalism.

Ivan Schonfeld The conflict is partially ideological, and partially self-centered. To defend Viet Nam against communism is right, but to prolong the American anguish by their own deaths is wrong. More and stronger action must be taken. Defending Viet Nam only gives America a smaller population by lowering the Viet Nam forces. If we are to defend Viet Nam only takes if we are to defend Viet Nam.

The Student Stars emerged thumped, thrown, trampled, bar triumphant over the Faculty Flashes, who were equally thumped, thrown, and trampled in the recent Donkey Basketball Class-sponsored annual by the senior class. At the end of the fourth quarter, the score was tied, 14-14, making overtime play necessary, much to the dismay of all the thumped, etc., riders. Fortunately, Jim Jenkins, early in the overtime period, scored a field goal for the Stars, thus ending the game with a victory for that team, offsetting the Flashes' victory of last year.

The faculty team was partially crippled by the loss of Stephen Rasi, who injured his elbow when he was tossed from his donkey. His was the only major accident which occurred, although there were some dangerous and spectacular aerial stunts displayed by the other riders, all of whom sustained minor bumps and bruises at one time or another and in one place or another during the course of the game.

When the Stars had a comfortable margin over the Flashes, the student team substituted its all-girl second string. This gave the girls a chance to practice, the faculty a better chance to even the score, and the spectators a chance to enjoy themselves even more. Marie Shatlock startled everyone with her dramatic, unspectacular triple-and-a-half forward flip and beautifully executed one-point landing.

The Faculty Stars Win

In spite of the advantage given to the faculty, the Stars managed to win the game, which provided everyone, especially the donkeys, with a good time.

An attendance of approximately 800 marked the Second Annual All-College Hoop-a-rama sponsored by Student Government. The first prize of $100 was won by the Hawk Trio of Brown and Bray.

ICG Reps Travel To Stroudsburg

On Sunday, March 21, representatives from the College board of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government will travel to Stroudsburg for the College to attend the regional convention of the I.C.G.

Twelve area colleges will participate in this convention. Approximately 50 colleges will participate in the Harrisburg conference under direction of Mrs Genevieve Blatt, co-founder and chairman of I.C.G. on that occasion.

The College has been selected to head the committee on Health Education and Welfare. Stephen J. Gayda will chair this committee. Others participating will be members of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, which will meet at Stroudsburg College to attend the regional convention of the I.C.G.

This project involved visiting various schools and holding conferences, which the local teachers, supervisors, and administrators attended in proportion to the functions.

As an extracurricular activity Mrs. Bremer helped lead a troop of Girl Scouts. Projects included hiking, swimming, cooking and handwriting - the last of which occupy the girls' leisure time in the United States.

Both Mrs. Bremer and Mrs. Bremer have traveled extensively. Among the countries they have visited are Malaysia, Thailand, India, Afghanistan, Lebanon, Turkey, and West Europe; their travels also took them to Viet Nam and Hong Kong.

Mrs. Bremer was born in Saigon, Viet Nam, attended grammar schools in Japan and China, and received her B.A. degree in 1943 from Sweet Home College University in 1962. Mrs. Bremer was born in Pittsfield, Massachusetts and attended the University of Massachusetts and the University of Illinois.

Two Classes Sponsor Dinner Dance

The Freshman-Sophomore Dinner Dance will be held Saturday, March 27, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Sterling from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. Music will be furnished by Herbie Greene's Orchestra. Dr. Harold Cox will be guest speaker. Tickets are $1.25 each and may be purchased from the following members of the ticket committee: chairman Judy Simmons and Joni Kitchens; freshman Rich Harmon, Brian Stickland, Dan Watkins, and Ned Williams; and sophomores Neil Remland, Barbara Simms, Gene Szucsko, and Diane Wynee.

In this first joint dinner-dance, the two classes are splitting the costs of the affair. The freshman class, which has at present no funds, hopes to raise half of the expenses through its own committee, which will be held from the gym from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m., with music furnished by Mel Wynne and the Rhythm Aces. Tickets are 75 cents each.

Decorations for the dinner-dance will be on the general theme of daisies; bouquets of these flowers will be given to each girl. Refreshments will be served in suquirela style. Class presidents report that 50 to 60 couples have already signed up for the affair.

McGinley Stopped In Quarter-Finals

Wrestling coach John Reese recently accompanied John Carr and Ned McGinley to the NCAA college division wrestling championships at Gold- en, Colorado. The journey was not made an easy one by the 167-pound champion. McGinley drove a car in the preliminaries and lost a 4-3 decision to Custer of Western State College in the quarter-finals of the event. Custer went on to win last year's junior college championship.

In gaining the 167-pound crown, Carr continued his stellar season since coming to Wilkes. Carr recently captured the 167-pound championship in the Middle Atlantic wrestling championships at Gettysburg, giving Wilkes its first MAC champion since 1962. In 1960, Carr was the Pennsylvania State high school champion at Hanover High School as a senior. While at Hanover, Carr brought notice to the school by taking four district titles and participating on the championship squad which was the first in the school's history.

High School Student

Carr's outstanding record in high school earned him a scholarship to the University of Pennsylvania where he continued his mat career. Carr placed 3rd in the Eastern wrestling championships before transferring to Wilkes last year.

With wrestling fans awaiting his eligibility for the Wilkes varsity, Carr went to work for the Colonels at the beginning of the second semester. The waiting was of course made easier by the Colonels' successful season. Carr went on to a 5-0 record to finish the season. Wrestling for Wilkes (un-attached) in the Wilkes Open Wrestling Tournament, Carr gained the final by fall over John Ruschart of Lehighton.

In the NAIA NCAA tournament, Carr ran up against a stubborn contender in Sam Cereceres of California Poly-Osioho. Carr, however, managed to come up with a fall in 5:39. He was trailing 5-2 at the time. With his victory in the small college nationals, Carr is eligible for the NCAA major college and university tournament scheduled for March 25-27 at the University of Wyoming at Laramie. He is currently training for the event, Carr surpassed the effort by Brooke Yeager in the small college nationals last season. Yeager placed second in the tournament.
