McHALE CONTENDS SG JUNIOR ELECTIONS ON TECHNICALITY; 5 MOTHERS WIN FREE TICKETS

Elections for Student Government representative of the junior class are being held today in the cafeteria lounge from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Student Government had declared the previous election for these positions invalid after Gerard McHale, one of the seven candidates, challenged it. His name had been spelled “Gary” on the ballot by mistake. John Cavallini, Vicki Tatt, William Webb, and Harry Wilson had been elected.

Nominations for Student Government president have not been held yet. The Government meeting will be held to nominate candidates for president. Elections will be held in the cafeteria lounge on Monday, May 10 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Seniors are eligible to vote.

The winners of the Mothers’ Day Contest will receive free tickets for the Serendipity Singers Contest on Sunday. They are: Mrs. John Czajkowski, New Jersey; Mrs. John F. Donohue, Red Bank, New Jersey; Mrs. John Olszewski, Manville, New Jersey; Mrs. John L. Skib, Southwick, Massachusetts; Mrs. John S. Russell of Plains, Pennsylvania.

Reading Program Planned for Frosh by Paula Elke

A reading program for the incoming freshmen will be resumed again this fall. The program is intended to broaden the minds of the freshmen and initiate them about. Discussion of the required books will extend through the first four weeks of the term.

As last year’s discussion will be conducted by interested student proctors. The four books which the freshmen class of 1969 will be asked to read are Negro in America, by Arnold Rose; The Universe, by Fred Hoyle; The Zoo, a play by H. H. Ascher; The Prophet, by Kahlil Gibran.

ICG ELECTS VARKLETT CHAIRMAN

SG officers are: Margaret Kline and Sheryl Napoleon, secretaries, Standing George Varklett, chairmen; Steve Gavala, treasurer; Fred Merrick, vice-chairman.

At a recent meeting, future plans for the organization were discussed including the starting of a later group centering on controversial issues. There is also a possibility that Miss Genevieve Blatt, ICG director, may address the members. Andrea Collee is the new director of the Pennsylvania Science Fair which will be held at the Fairmont Junior High School.

Chairman Varklett stated that there will be an intensive membership drive next semester. He also stated that the current financial status of the organization has led to more than one-third of the SG funds being used up through various fund-raising projects.

Spring Weekend Completes Campus Calendar

Jo Russin Crowns Cinderella Tonight; Carnival, Singers Complete Festivities by Barbara Simmons

Spring will be officially ushered in at the college with the annual Cinderella Ball tonight. The program is scheduled as part of this year’s SGA-sponsored Spring Weekend. Tomorrow the Spring Carnival will be held all day, and a concert by the Serendipity Singers will mark the end of the weekend.

The Cinderella Ball will begin at 9 p.m. this evening at the Artemus Averill pavilion. Directions to the Country Club have been posted in the Commons, and flyers giving directions are being distributed today.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of Cinderella for 1965 by Jo Simporelli Russin, last year’s queen. The queen, whose name will not be revealed until tonight, was chosen by the students at a general meeting held at the beginning of the year. The candidates are: Barbara Bigas, Mary Dehaine, Marcia Madden, Judy Love, Maria McComb, Jane Charleston, Kay McNally, Nina Roosie, Pat Bragden, Barbara Bigas, Anita Minelli and Janet Ainsworth.

Joe Kiefer, Chairman, Spring Carnival certificates donated by local merchants. The tickets will be given to the four winners.

This year, the first runner-up will be announced. In the event that Cinderella would not be able to return to crown next year’s queen, the runner-up will take the place. In the receiving line will be Dr. Francis Michelin, Dean of Academic Affairs.

NAVAL OFFICE GRANTS $9700 FOR STUDY OF WATER FLEAS; REIF PRINCIPAL INVESTIGATOR

The Office of Naval Research has awarded a $9,700 research grant to the College for the study of the migration and influence of light on the movements of water fleas. The reason for the Navy’s interest in this project is that certain marine organisms react in similar manner to light and affect sonar and other navigational equipment. Predictability of such movement is considered of great value.

Dr. Charles B. Reif, chairman of the biology department, is the principal investigator for the project, which will begin under the guidance of student researchers. Dr. Reif has been active in this research project for several years and has always been interested in marine organisms.

Dr. Reif, a native of Washington, D.C., has resided in the Wilkes-Barre area since 1942. He has been chair man of the biology department since 1948. Dr. Reif received his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Minnesota, and did further graduate work at the University of Maine. He is affiliated with the American Fisheries Association, the American Microscopical Society, the Association of American Ornithologists, the American Society of Limnology and Oceanography, and the American Ornithological Union. American Association for the Advancement of Science, National Education Society, Pennsylvania State Education Association, Psychological Society of America, Association of Microscopy and the Society of Protozoologists.
Bunuel’s “The Young and the Damned” Dramatizes Environmental Difficulties

by Leona Sokash

In The Young and The Damned, Luis Bunuel dramatizes the misery of young people as they dwellers in Mexico City. The film clarifies the point that these people have no respect for the law. In The Young and the Damned, this environment is personified by the boy Jaibo. Although he can be considered its personification, the environment itself caused him to become a criminal. He did not go to its desires so that he is often seen as the administrator of its dark contemporaries.

Jaibo has broken out of a reformatory and has returned to this mis-

place because he feels, "It's good to be back on the streets. Immediately I start shooting and making my money."

Because an individual's criminal record is a successful comeback

revenge. They follow the old man

into an isolated field and beat him. They leave, and the blind man, his hair covered with blood, goes his way toward a chicken. The film of

often identifies violent acts with chickens, perhaps because of the animal nature of these acts and because of the animal nature of the attackers.

Jaibo believes that a certain Julian has betrayed him to the police. He uses a number of his gang, a boy named Pedro, to persuade Julian to leave his job and meet Jaibo. They go to Julian's lyceum and beckons towards a midnight of evil. In The Young and The Damned, this environment is personified by the boy Jaibo. Although he can be considered its personification, the environment itself caused him to become a criminal. He did not go to its desires so that he is often seen as the administrator of its dark contemporaries.

Jaibo has broken out of a reformatory and has returned to this mis-

place because he feels, "It's good to be back on the streets. Immediately I start shooting and making my money."

Because an individual's criminal record is a successful comeback

revenge. They follow the old man

into an isolated field and beat him. They leave, and the blind man, his hair covered with blood, goes his way toward a chicken. The film of

often identifies violent acts with chickens, perhaps because of the animal nature of these acts and because of the animal nature of the attackers.

Jaibo believes that a certain Julian has betrayed him to the police. He uses a number of his gang, a boy named Pedro, to persuade Julian to leave his job and meet Jaibo. They go to Julian's lyceum and beckons towards a midnight of evil. In The Young and The Damned, this environment is personified by the boy Jaibo. Although he can be considered its personification, the environment itself caused him to become a criminal. He did not go to its desires so that he is often seen as the administrator of its dark contemporaries.

Jaibo has broken out of a reformatory and has returned to this mis-

place because he feels, "It's good to be back on the streets. Immediately I start shooting and making my money."

Because an individual's criminal record is a successful comeback

revenge. They follow the old man

into an isolated field and beat him. They leave, and the blind man, his hair covered with blood, goes his way toward a chicken. The film of

often identifies violent acts with chickens, perhaps because of the animal nature of these acts and because of the animal nature of the attackers.

Jaibo believes that a certain Julian has betrayed him to the police. He uses a number of his gang, a boy named Pedro, to persuade Julian to leave his job and meet Jaibo. They go to Julian's lyceum and beckons towards a midnight of evil. In The Young and The Damned, this environment is personified by the boy Jaibo. Although he can be considered its personification, the environment itself caused him to become a criminal. He did not go to its desires so that he is often seen as the administrator of its dark contemporaries.

Jaibo has broken out of a reformatory and has returned to this mis-

place because he feels, "It's good to be back on the streets. Immediately I start shooting and making my money."

Because an individual's criminal record is a successful comeback

revenge. They follow the old man

into an isolated field and beat him. They leave, and the blind man, his hair covered with blood, goes his way toward a chicken. The film of

often identifies violent acts with chickens, perhaps because of the animal nature of these acts and because of the animal nature of the attackers.

Jaibo believes that a certain Julian has betrayed him to the police. He uses a number of his gang, a boy named Pedro, to persuade Julian to leave his job and meet Jaibo. They go to Julian's lyceum and beckons towards a midnight of evil. In The Young and The Damned, this environment is personified by the boy Jaibo. Although he can be considered its personification, the environment itself caused him to become a criminal. He did not go to its desires so that he is often seen as the administrator of its dark contemporaries.

Jaibo has broken out of a reformatory and has returned to this mis-

place because he feels, "It's good to be back on the streets. Immediately I start shooting and making my money."

Because an individual's criminal record is a successful comeback

revenge. They follow the old man

into an isolated field and beat him. They leave, and the blind man, his hair covered with blood, goes his way toward a chicken. The film of

often identifies violent acts with chickens, perhaps because of the animal nature of these acts and because of the animal nature of the attackers.

Jaibo believes that a certain Julian has betrayed him to the police. He uses a number of his gang, a boy named Pedro, to persuade Julian to leave his job and meet Jaibo. They go to Julian's lyceum and beckons towards a midnight of evil. In The Young and The Damned, this environment is personified by the boy Jaibo. Although he can be considered its personification, the environment itself caused him to become a criminal. He did not go to its desires so that he is often seen as the administrator of its dark contemporaries.

Jaibo has broken out of a reformatory and has returned to this mis-

place because he feels, "It's good to be back on the streets. Immediately I start shooting and making my money."

Because an individual's criminal record is a successful comeback

revenge. They follow the old man

into an isolated field and beat him. They leave, and the blind man, his hair covered with blood, goes his way toward a chicken. The film of

often identifies violent acts with chickens, perhaps because of the animal nature of these acts and because of the animal nature of the attackers.
Citizen Hardie Announces Arrival of Massive ‘Manuscript’ Magazine

According to editor Jack Hardie, the 1965 edition of Manuscript, the College’s literary magazine, will be released Tuesday. This year’s issue of seventy-two pages is the largest to be published in the magazine’s history. In fact, Hardie stated that because student response to Manuscript’s request for creative work has been so great, some of the works by undergraduates were not printed. He explained, however, that they would appear in next year’s edition.

This year’s volume includes seventeen poems and nine pieces of fiction, the 1965 edition will feature art work by Bob Ford and blurs of some of the contributing student’s work. The club has also set a new precedent by publishing the works of Edward Kay, a 1963 alumnus of the College.

At its Tuesday meetings the club conducts workshops at which members dissect and reconstruct sub articles. By participating in these workshops, any person interested in English, particularly in the field of writing, can learn the art of injecting style into an article and can acquire the ability to judge the value of the work of others. At the workshops, a typical Manuscript meeting may include lectures on poetry, prose, or fiction and problems. The organization also brings to the campus many provocative films with stimulating topics, and guest speakers are often invited to discuss the lines of the Long Distance Runner. Last Year at Marienbad, and Visi

Hardie encourages students, particularly freshmen, to join Manuscript for he feels that the club provides a ‘Challenge for the Young man’s or woman’s mind.” As for Hardie’s promises of “bigger and better things,” he said that the Manuscript club is planning a full schedule for the coming year, and in that it will continue to increase the number of films to be shown during the year. At the meeting this Tuesday, election for the position of editor will be determined at elections to be held on May 11. Dr. Philip Rizzo is the organization’s advisor.

Citizen Hardie Announces Arrival of Massive ‘Manuscript’ Magazine

According to editor Jack Hardie, the 1965 edition of Manuscript, the College’s literary magazine, will be released Tuesday. This year’s issue of seventy-two pages is the largest to be published in the magazine’s history. In fact, Hardie stated that because student response to Manuscript’s request for creative work has been so great, some of the works by undergraduates were not printed. He explained, however, that they would appear in next year’s edition. The club has also set a new precedent by publishing the works of Edward Kay, a 1963 alumnus of the College.

At its Tuesday meetings the club conducts workshops at which members dissect and reconstruct sub articles. By participating in these workshops, any person interested in English, particularly in the field of writing, can learn the art of injecting style into an article and can acquire the ability to judge the value of the work of others. At the workshops, a typical Manuscript meeting may include lectures on poetry, prose, or fiction and problems. The organization also brings to the campus many provocative films with stimulating topics, and guest speakers are often invited to discuss the lines of the Long Distance Runner. Last Year at Marienbad, and Visi

Hardie encourages students, particularly freshmen, to join Manuscript for he feels that the club provides a ‘Challenge for the Young man’s or woman’s mind.” As for Hardie’s promises of “bigger and better things,” he said that the Manuscript club is planning a full schedule for the coming year, and in that it will continue to increase the number of films to be shown during the year. At the meeting this Tuesday, election for the position of editor will be determined at elections to be held on May 11. Dr. Philip Rizzo is the organization’s advisor.

J. C. C. Presents Laurets’ Comedy; Salisbury Districts

The Drama Guild of the Jewish Center will present its final production for this season, the Arthur Laurets comedy, Laurel and Hardy, at 8 p.m. on May 8, 9, and 10 in the auditorium of the Center. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The play is an adult version of the surrealistic vaudeville fairy tale. The setting is moved from a castle to the sun-and-sea of seaside cottages of a fashionable Long Island Beach. The main theme is conformity versus non-conformity and what happens when people do not each off their own consent. The dialogue is carried on by a kiss from her non-conformist summer neighbor. In Salisbury is directing the comedy. Members of the cast are: Edel Adolph, Iris Dymond, David Dendree, Barbara and Bernard Grossman, Trudy Junker, Andy Thorburn, and Eli Wasserstrom.

Psych-Soc Group Observe Hospital

The Psych-Soc Club recently toured Retreat State Hospital. The club, which meets Tuesday at 9 p.m., was greeted by a 9 a.m. tour of the hospital and the observation of the patients and doctors. The club was directed by Dr. Charles R. Yost, superintendent.

Following the welcome, the club was shown slides on the Retreat Hospital treatment program. Dr. Bab- skie explained many of the patients history and then interrogated these patients, pointing out various aspects of their illnesses. The students were then taken to a hospital psychologist, spoke on psychological testing.

Following the lecture and demonstration, the club was taken on a tour of the hospital. The tour was accompanied by the club’s Mr. Donald Zellner of the psychology department.

Last Wednesday, the club toured the State Correctional Institution at Dallas. Dr. Juravlic Mowreec and Mr. Joseph Kanner accompanied the group.

Alumni Appeal Over 60% of Goal; Purpose Two-Fold

The College’s annual Alumni Appeal continues for the third year. The purpose of the appeal is to raise $10,000, less than $50 of the college is independent, non-denominational and non-tax-supported, it relies upon its alumni for support and strengthening of its services. The goal of this year’s campaign is $400,000.

The contributions from the alumni will be used to accomplish two pur-

Advise the Cell Services, it will enable others to see tangible evidence of the loyalty and support of the alumni and student. The Alumni Appeal, it will encourage further contributions from other friends of the College.

At the final report meeting held recently, total alumni pledges amounted to $18,700, which was greater than 50 per cent of the overall goal. The alumni campaign will continue for another month with active mail and telephone soliciting taking place each week from campaign headquarters in the Alumni Office.

TDR NOTICE

All TDR members who wish to attend the Senior Dinner to be held on May 15 are asked to make their reservations with any TDR officer as soon as possible.

Hamptons Completes Phase Two

Last weekend thirteen students from Hampton School, a private school in Virginia, were entertained on campus to complete phase two of the Hampton Exchange Student program. Six boys and seven girls, accompanied by two chaperones, arrived early Thursday evening. Their visit of activities began with dinner in the Commons, fol-owed by a tour of the campus. The students were sponsored by the student government and the Richmond News. In the afternoon the Hamptonites attended classes at the college, and in the evening they had their first close taste of the College atmosphere. The day ended with the students taking in a movie with Tom Ewbank, and the I.D.C. dance in the gym.

The students from Hampton were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Parley at their country home Saturday afternoon. The students participated in the outdoor sports such as softball, volleyball, tennis, frisbee, and baseball. The students also went to the weekly Friday night dance with local students and had a great time conversing and dancing in the Gym. The students left around noon Sunday after attending the relator’s services. Although this was the last event of the program, the students kept in contact with the other Hampton students and everyone had a great time.
Groh Triumphs Thru Experimental Theatre

day, and Pedro is left inside. He seems to beikki, the frustrations of his situation over a further crescendo that his actions are a desperate cacophony of his own creation. Someone is murdering his brother.

The director of the farm is informed of the discovery. Pedro is sincerely grieved and therefore promptly goes to the hospital to see his brother. There he finds his friend, the old retainer, who has been shot by a bullet in the head. Pedro is bitterly disappointed and yet grieved at the news. He starts to weep and we get a sense of the tender filial love that existed between the two men.

Benjamin presents the depressing thesis that tyrannically evil surrounding conditions have been responsible for the murder. Pedro is horrified at the idea that his heart's desire, his father's wish, could be frustrated in such a tragic manner.

Along with the memory of the murder, the month of April left us with a love of the world. April is the month of the young, and much of its beauty comes from the newness of its gifts. The new leaves on the trees, the gentle warmth of the sun, and the pleasant fragrances of the flowers all contribute to a sense of renewal and hope.

The students, appearing in the last issue, will appreciate the rich sense of the newness of spring and the promise it brings.

The students, appearing in the last issue, will appreciate the rich sense of the newness of spring and the promise it brings.
Schmidtmen Bow - Golfers In MAC's

Baseball Squad Suffers Shutout At Juniata, 4-0

The Colonels' baseball team lost 4-0 to Juniata College on the latter's home diamond last Saturday. The Wilkes record now stands at 1 and 7.

Juniata scored twice in the sixth and seventh innings to clinch the game.

Richie Klick, the losing pitcher, got the game's only extra base hit—a double. Bob Zielinski, Wilkes shortstop, got the only other Colonels' hit in the game. Don Engle, the winning pitcher, was the only player in the game to get more than one hit.

Klick fanned five strike-outs and allowed five bases on balls. Engle fanned five strike-outs and allowed two bases on balls.

Before enrollment at Juniata, Engle once starred at Luzerne High School. He is also the leading sandlot pitcher in this area.

Netmen List 5 Remaining For Season

The Wilkes netmen, with a 1-3 record, still have five matches remaining in which to better their below par performance. The Colonels have had some close matches this season.

Tomorrow the Wilkesmen tangle with Scranton University at home, with game time at 11 a.m. On Monday, the Colonels meet Moravian at home at 3 p.m., and then travel to Bethlehem for a return match with the Greyhounds the following weekend. Wilkes will be trying to avenge the slumping they suffered at the hands of Moravian last season.

Muhlenberg and Scranton will be the final two matches on the schedule, the former being home and the latter away.

MAC CONTENDERS -- 1 t. to Bob Brown, Bill Perrego, John Galina, and Dan Murray.

Four Duffers Enter Tourney At Wilmington

Having played at Moravian yesterday, the Wilkes golfers will be setting their sights on the Middle Atlantic Conference golf championship matches to be held at the Cavalier's Country Club in Wilmington, Delaware this Monday.

Last year the Colonels managed to place one man in the medal running as Bill Perrego captured a fourth place medal. Perrego is a sophomore from Dallas, Pennsylvania.

Gorth Welton Parvar speculated that this year's tournament would consist of approximately 25 colleges and universities and over 100 golfers.

The tournament will be 36 holes of medal play. Medal play is scored according to the number of strokes a player takes. Match play, on the other hand, is in the form of scoring used for the semi-finals, the winner being decided by the number of holes won.

In addition to Perrego, who will be competing again this year, John Galina, a senior, and Dan Murray and Bob Brown, both freshman, will be returning.

Wilkes will have two more remaining after the MACs, both at home. The first of the two will be a triangular meet with Scranton and Mansfield and the final meet will be against Albright.

Susquehanna Cops Close 54th Victory; Wilkes' 3rd Loss

The Wilkes tennis team dropped their season log to 1-3 after losing a 5-4 match to Susquehannas recently. Tom Rokita, remaining unbeaten, and Bill Douglas were the only victors in the singles matches, with Wilkes topping two of the three doubles matches. Dave Clotoman, Rokita, and Sheldon Lawrence and Joe Best gave the Colonels the margins in the doubles.

The loss for Wilkes was the second to Susquehannas this season. The Crusaders prevailed by a 7-2 score earlier in the season.

RESULTS:

Douglas (W), over Vanderford (6), 6-4, 7-5
Rossler (S), over Klem (6), 6-3, 6-0
Larson (S), over Klem 6-3, 6-1
Cusumano (S), over Best 7-5, 6-4
Wrigg (S), over Lawrence 6-1, 6-2
Doublers: Clotoman and Rokita (W), over Fisher and Vanderford 6-3, 6-4
Ludwig and Cusumano (S), over Doug- las and Rossler 6-4, 6-3
Lawrence and Best (W), over Larson and Wrigg 6-2, 1-6, 6-4

. . . For Your School Supplies

Shop at . . .

Grahams

96 South Main Street
PHONE: 825-5425

Brooks Barber Shop
1st Floor Blu Cen Bldg., WILKES-BARRE
A. Graham, Barber Tel: 48-8525

Appointments are accepted -- 1 Badgers
Manufactured -- One Size
Specializing in Easy Haircutting

PLEASE BE PROMPT ON APPOINTMENTS

GORE HALL LEADS DORM LEAGUE IN INTRAMURAL PENNANT RACE

Gore is fortunate to have in its midst the fine pitcher of Jenkins, who exhibits fine control, good speed, and plenty of stuff. Ken Wis- wall is also a handy man on the mound for Warner Hall. The winner was Jenkins and Wiswall absorbed the loss. Jenkins has pitched Gore to all of its victories.

In other Dorm League action, the YMCA downs Ashley Hall, to remain in the running, with a score of 11-2. Butler Hall tossed back Hollow- back, 16-11, and Miner defeated Barre, 6-2. The last games will be played Tuesday, with Gore meeting Miner Hall.

STANDINGS:

Gore 4-
YMCA 3-
Miner 2-
Warner 2-
Butler 2-
Asgard 2-
Barre 1-
Hollensbach 0-

3 CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
REX CATALDO
Barbershop for Men

STERLING BARBER SERVICE
Hairstyles for Men
Women

STERLING HOTEL
9 E. Northampton St.
320 Miners Bank Building

COLLEGE
Charms -- Rings
Brooches
Miniature Rings
Charm Bracelets

FRANK CLARK
JEWELER

“Don’t start something you can’t!”

Wilkes College
BOOKSTORE

Millie Gilman, Manager

“Don’t start something you can’t!”

Wilkes College
BOOKSTORE

Millie Gilman, Manager

beach beauties!

Young Barre Shop, Street Floor

Boston Store

Barre Engraving Co.

20 NORTH MAIN STREET

Wilke-Ba RR, PENNA.

Commercial Artist -- Photo Engravings
For Newspapers Catalogs -- Letterheads -- Year Books
Offset Negatives
PHONE 823-8894

3 CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
REX CATALDO
Barbershop for Men
Women

STERLING BARBER SERVICE
Hairstyles for Men
Women

STERLING HOTEL
9 E. Northampton St.
320 Miners Bank Building

COLLEGE
Charms -- Rings
Brooches
Miniature Rings
Charm Bracelets

FRANK CLARK
JEWELER

“Don’t start something you can’t!”

Wilkes College
BOOKSTORE

Millie Gilman, Manager

“Don’t start something you can’t!”

Wilkes College
BOOKSTORE

Millie Gilman, Manager

beach beauties!

Young Barre Shop, Street Floor

Boston Store

Barre Engraving Co.

20 NORTH MAIN STREET

Wilke-Ba RR, PENNA.

Commercial Artist -- Photo Engravings
For Newspapers Catalogs -- Letterheads -- Year Books
Offset Negatives
PHONE 823-8894

3 CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
REX CATALDO
Barbershop for Men
Women

STERLING BARBER SERVICE
Hairstyles for Men
Women

STERLING HOTEL
9 E. Northampton St.
320 Miners Bank Building

COLLEGE
Charms -- Rings
Brooches
Miniature Rings
Charm Bracelets

FRANK CLARK
JEWELER

“Don’t start something you can’t!”

Wilkes College
BOOKSTORE

Millie Gilman, Manager

“Don’t start something you can’t!”

Wilkes College
BOOKSTORE

Millie Gilman, Manager
RAINEY Y MAN BASKETBALL HELM

Chester HS Coach Replaces Ferris; Build-Up Halted

Ronald G. Rainey, who last season guided the Chester High School basketball team to a 21-1 record before losing out in the PIAA’s Class A playoffs to Steelton-Highspire, yesterday was named head basketball coach.

The announcement was made jointly by John Reese, athletic director, and Francie Micheli, dean of academic affairs at Wilkes.

Rainey, only 28, will join Wilkes's basketball team for next season after recent serving as head basketball coach at a high school in New York.

Rainey, named coach of the year in Delaware County in 1954, was recommended by Cumberland Pathways, a booking agency that promotes basketball games.

The new Wilkes coach is a native of Johnstown where he was varsity football and basketball player at Johnston High School. He was a three-year lettermen in high school, competing also in baseball.

After finishing his high school stint in 1954, Rainey enrolled at Luzerne Community College, then transferred to Wilkes College where he was co-captain of the Wilkes basketball team in his senior year of 1958.

He has a master's degree in guidance from Penn State and is a co-assistant coach for the Nittry Lions while working on his master’s. Following his graduation from college, Rainey taught for two years at Camp Curtin, Camp Van Dorn, and Camps Braddock and Greensburg and also served as head coach.

The new Wilkes coach served a six-months active duty stint in the Army, teaching a battalion basketball team at Fort Meade.

CHAMPION DRIVERS TO COMPETE IN 13TH CUMBERLAND CLASSIC

by William A. Mack, Editor, The Odyssey, Allegany Community College

CUMBERLAND, MD. — Ten o'clock a.m., Friday, May 14, a green flag will start its downward movement and before the projector is complete, the 130 group of drivers will have popped the clutch and left behind them the smell and smoke of burning rubber, opening the thirteenth annual Cumberland National Championship Sports Car Races in Cumberland Maryland.

Performance is the synonym for sports cars, and performance is what will be measured at the classic to be sponsored by C S C C chapter in 64; E L. Hall, E L. Hall is president in 64; Ed Walsh, Jr., modified Class D SCC champion in '64; and Bob Johnson, production Class A SCC champion in '64; Bruce Jenkins, production Class C SCC champion in '64; Bob Tutillius, production Class D SCC champion in '64; James Harris-Scott, production Class E SCC champion in '64; and Jim Hall, Bob Holbert, the pick shank, these are only a few of the greats to be at Cumberland, leaving behind a prestige that has made the races a Classic among the sports car set.

Sponsored jointly by the Cumberland Lions Club and the Steel Cities Region of the Sports Car Club of America, the races which are located in the downtown area of Cumberland are donated to the Cumberland Lions Foundation through the sponsorship of the races in the name of a winner and is distributed to the Cumberland Lions Foundation.

The dance will be staged at the Municipal Airport’s paddock area, and will be provided music by The Admirals of Baltimore (Md.). The Admirals have played the past several summers at the Ocean City Pier Ballroom.

College Talent: The dance will be held Saturday evening, May 15, and will continue at 9 p.m. There will be a nominal charge for admission. For the dance and during the band’s intermissions, talent from east coast colleges will provide entertainment.

Camping privileges will be available — the price only $6 for the three days. General admission is $3, and paddock privileges go for $5. In addition, ample lodging facilities are available throughout the area, and meals are more than reasonable, the local natives do not believe in uptight the people for the visiting Royalty.

Directions to Cumberland: Unnecessary to provide. No matter the direction of your travel — New York, Stroudsburg Defeated; Colonel Golfers 2-4

The Colonel suffers defeat East Stroudsburg State College, 14-14, in a match held recently at the Irem Temple Country Club. It was the second time this season that the Wilkesmen defeated the Warriors. The victory aided the Colonel logo 2-1 (the Moorhead results are not included), with two engagements remaining.

A fine performance was turned in by Middle Atlantic fourth place medallist Bill Perrego. Perrego turned in a 78 in the number one spot.

Leading East Stroudsburg was Jim Pitzmann, who, after a poor start on the front nine with a 43, came back with a 35 on the back nine.

RESULTS: Bill Perrego (W), over Terren Lindo, 3; John Colman (W), over Bob Spence, 3; Dan Murray (W), Jim Pitzmann, 2; Bob Brown (W), over Ken Huhn, 3; Leo Reiter (ESCC), over Bob Stoer, 3; Bill Kaylor (W), over Larry Helvig, 3.0

TOM ROKITA

Colonels’ Chances Fade with Five Games Left

Hopes appear to be dimming for the Colonel diamond squad to match last season’s 500 percentage. The Wilkes team has managed to fashion only one victory all season, depleting reserves.

Coach Rollie Schmidt will have to rely on just two players for his remaining matches. The Colonels have only five games remaining, only one of which is on the road. Wilkes has not looked at Chicago, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, or Miami — just follow the strange little fellow in the funny looking sporting cap and the green Volkswagen convertible. Even though he doesn’t have a sports car, he’s a real sport, and he’s on his way to Cumberland. (P.S.: In case you happen to be color-blind, we’re on the map.)