Tonight, It’s What’s Up Front That Counts

by Helen Dugan

Rehearsals are over and now it’s the real thing. Costumes have been altered the necessary two or more times, all the lines have been memorized, and nervousness has been reduced to a minimum through two previous presentations. Tonight the case will come “The Sound of Music” for the third time. When the curtain goes up and the play begins, one will get the idea that these players have always been the people whom they are portraying; and that their actions and lines have always been the way that they are now being presented.

HA!

Play practices were not precise, calm, and tranquil; they were mass hysteria, bedlam, and madness. Once behind the stage, the most quiet student turns into an evil actor searching for a way to remove any last trace of sanity from the mind of their devoted director.

A typical conversation during a typical “Sound of Music” production may go typically as such:

Scene I
But Tony’s . . .
Well!

Well, Tony can’t come right now.
He’s . . . well . . . he’s . . .

Oh, you mean Tony is . .

“O.K. We’ll take a break till Tony gets back.”

Five minutes later.

“All right gang, let’s go! Act 1
Scene I
(ding, ding, ding, ding, ding, ding)

Now kids just ignore that bell. It’s only Mr. Softee. So let’s just — hey wait a minute kids — Act I Scene 1,”

Five minutes later.

“All right gang, let’s go! Act 1 Scene I — Please!

You don’t have to say good night this early just because your father’s home.”

“Patt, Betsy you’re on.

Where’s Max Dukes?

Betsy! She’s not . . . is she?

“I don’t think so. Here she comes.”

No Prudence. Now I’ll be glad to go to boarding school.

“Tina. That was beautifully executed Max Duker, but about how coming back to Act I with the rest of us?”

“O.K. Kids, let’s take it up to the gym so we’ll have more room.”

15 minutes later.

“Now every one please take note of the tape on the floor. Since we have no equipment here the names of the different pieces of furniture are written on the tape. Please take that into consideration when you’re walking through your part.

You mean those little white things are our furniture?”

“Don’t be smart.”

“Hey, Hey.”

“O.K. let’s go. Jimmy this scene doesn’t look right. You’re supposed to be standing on the window. Please get off the stage. It’s right up.

“Now everyone make your entrance . . . I meant just the people who are supposed to come in now.

The stage is cleared.

Now let’s try it again . . . No, John, you just walked through the staircase.”

“Hey, Hey.”

“Now let’s get serious, kids.”

“Hey, Hey, Hey.”

SG Adopts New Policy For Selection of Queens

by Vicki Tatz

The All-College Thanksgiving Dance will be held in the gym on Friday, November 27. The Carlyles will provide music from 9 till 12 p.m. Sports jackets for the men and appropriate dress for the women will be required. Admission is fifty cents, and students from other colleges are invited to attend.

The question of whether or not to establish a Day-Student Council and possible means for forming such a council is the subject of a discussion at a meeting which will be held on the second floor of the Commons, Thursday, December 3, at 3 p.m. Any student with an opinion or suggestions on this topic is invited to participate. Cathy DeAngelis will be the moderator.

Two new policies have been adopted by Student Government. The first policy states that all Homecoming and Cinderella Queen candidates must be scheduled to graduate at the end of that school year in which the election takes place. The second provides that the corresponding secretary of Student Government, who is now Bruce Ellefson, may ask any member of Student Council to fill in if that member is not available.

Wife of Dean

The powerful voice of Mother Abbe- nephal is beautifully executed by Helen Talbott, the wife of the College’s dean of men. She is a Wilkes grad- uate, and taught six years in the College’s music department in Colorado. She is soloist with the First Presbyterian Church of Wilkes-Barre, and a member of the Wilkes-Barre College of Bloomer Girls.

Thespians Bring Professional Ability to Current Show

by Stephen J. Gavala

The anxiously anticipated escapades of the Trapp family are currently being presented at the Grange Temple. Performances for The Sound of Music are scheduled for tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m., and a matinee on Saturday.

The cast abounds with talent, much of which has been gained through professional experience. With his role as Captain Von Trapp, John Hyer adds another superb performance to his repertoire, which ranges from soloist with various local organizations to opera, having appeared as Sharpless in Madame Butterfly. A senior music education major, Hyer was selected as one of the three soloists for the 1964 Pennsylvania Collegiate Festival.

Rhea Politis Simon, the youthful and vivacious Maria, during the past few years has been an active soloist through the region, appearing with Concordia. Active in many local or- ganizations, she is currently second vice-president of the Wilkes-Barre Women’s Club, sponsors of the production.

Letters to the Editor

WHY NOT CAMELOT!

Dear Editor,

The panic suggested in "Why Not Socialism?" is analogous to the content — hysterical. I suggest that the prevention in the pudding is the panic. The statements are so generalized and valueless in this item that any connoted influence of education seems purely coincidental. The writer has established point-blank (mainly blank) fact out of internationally unsolved economic problems with statements such as: "Socialism has been a failure wherever it has ever been tried." That is a brave statement, sir, but bravery misses the boat.

Our editor's declaration that "Under the socialist system, productivity declines and the standard of living is lower in a free enterprise system," with pudding proof since almost all Britons lack possession of two cars, is the epitome of super ignorance. Surely our "greatness" is not in our double-garage system. But then, of course, only an American could go one way in two directions at the same time.

His final oration is not worth a rebuff's value of ink. "Socialism is essentially an atheistic philosophy!"

Dare to have the insight to realize that socialism is not the ultimate goal. There just might be something else after that. Someday the dreaded 1964 will be deterred, but only when we, you and I, learn to work just as hard for peace as we have for war. If the road to public responsibility is via socialism, as part of our new peace effort, then yes, yes, and again yes. Public responsibility, this is why civil rights, this is why foreign aid, this is why.

Sure some of our legislation is being administered poorly, but then change the administration.

Pure capitalism is not the way to peace, for it lacks social welfare and the great impetus that is so needed to deter physical aggression — over the fence or over the con- vention. Our editorial, it was suggested that the struggle to the top is basically rational, but it is to be reminded that it is only romantic for those who come on top, and the rest.

You are the one to sweep Joan Doe under the carpet, not me. To kill Joan Doe is to murder all the multitudes who have been to bed on other days. How can you be so oblivious of the futility of Joan Doe to be his epitaph. Camelot, sir, eyes forward up.

A Faux Pause

Dear Editor,

I would like to publicly thank all the people who attended the L.D.C. election night party which was held in the American Student Association's new double-garage system. But then, thank you all.

to her widening array of character roles. She has appeared in several College productions including Enemy of the People, Music Man, and the lead in last year's production of Luigi Pirandello's It's So If You Think So.

Miss Nita Novy recreates for the Wilkes-Barre audience the role of Brigitta which she played on Broadway and in the national tour company of the Sound of Music. Miss Novy also appeared on Broadway as Baby June in Ethel Merman's Gypsy. She has numerous television appearances to her credits, including the Ed Sullivan Show.

Benny Dukas, the suave sophisticated tenor, is in a sophomore year. His individuality is what makes him an excellent person. He spent his time perfecting a variety of impersonations of famous actors. This year he appeared in one of the major roles of It's So If You Think So.

Elaine, adequately assisted by Max, portrayed with a gusto by Jim Estel, Iris Collins, Jane Morris, and Margaret Klein each shows a unique interpretation in the colorful characters of Sisters Berthe, Margareta, and Sophia, respectively.

This partial list of characters only begins to describe the many talented performers for the cast. One must attend the performance to discover the enormous quantity of energy involved in making this production a true reflection of the students' experience.

Class Unity and School Spirit

Among Goals for Fresh Nominees

Continuing the policy of giving the candidates for class office the opportunity of stating their platforms, the Beacon announces the following submissions from the candidates for offices in the freshman class:

WILLIAM ZEGARSKI

In view of the fact that our newspaper is the means of communication, I would like to take this opportunity of extending a personal platform to you, the freshman class.

I feel that if elected, I would make a good platform, my honesty and intelligence as my watchwords. I make no promises and give no guarantees. The freshmen class is my environment.

LOUIS H. ALBERT

I, Louis Hertz Albert, pledge that if I am elected I will carry out these promises:

1) Every two weeks the Beacon will carry a Freshman Forum in which all freshmen will be given an opportunity to express their opinions.
2) I will be available to all freshmen who come to me with any letter that meets the Beacon's requirements.
3) All meetings of any of the freshman groups will be open to any and all members of the class.
4) I shall promote school spirit.
5) It will be my policy that for class spirit unity day students, as they rightly should be, and dorm students who will take an active and equal part in the class and college activities.
6) I will promote academic excellence and recognize these people.
7) As president of the class of '68, I vow to arrive at our class and college activities.

NED WILLIAMS

I am a candidate for president of the class of '68. As president of the class, I will support the Beacon and Wilkes through fund-raising and fun-raising projects.

In my participation in extra-curricular activities I have given me the necessary experience and qualifications to serve as class president. In high school I was president of the band and Hi-Y Club. I was a member of the class of '63, which was elected class president.

I am elected class president, I will give the kind of leadership that is needed by the class and our school. I am a member of the Beach and Hi-Y Club and have been active in all our school activities. I have had experience as president of the class of '63, which was elected class president.

LESLIE MARINO

The position of a vice-president need not be a "do-nothing" position. The vice-president should act as a coordinating head for all freshman committees and use the full extent of his power to bring about the complete collaboration of the freshmen group.

I am cognizant of the extra work involved in being an officer as I was secretary of the Beach Club and an official of the junior and senior classes and executive board chairman of my senior class. I feel that the same sense of a united class is individual participation: it should be the duty of the elected officers to include every interested freshman in our class functions.

I have attended all the meetings of the class of '68 and help to make an organization that will be a benefit to itself, the college, and the community.

ROB BROWN

My name is Rob Brown, and I am running for the position of secretary. The freshmen class is my responsibility. I can handle the job, as I have I would have declined the nomination.

In high school I was treasurer of the freshman class. I have been a member of the freshman class for four years, a member of the honors society, band, basketball team, and golf team. If I am elected, I will bring to the freshmen the same understanding, interest, and help as I did in my position as a member of the freshman class.

PENN FARRAR

My name is Penn Farrar. I am a member of the class of '68 and am running for the position of vice-president.

In high school, I was active in the junior society, Band Council, Guard, and the Kayette Drill Team.

Outside of school, I was worthy Advocate of the Troop of Honor and an American Red Cross Scout. During 1963-64, I was a Rotary exchange student to Norway, and shortly after my return I was an active member of the Boar's Head Secret Society, waiting on the hard work of the faculty and the secretarial work in the Guidance Office, and experience on dance committees.

GAIL WALLEN

I am writing to the freshman class today to ask them to support me for freshmen class secretary.

Throughout high school I participated in a number of activities. I was a member of our high school newspaper, yearbook staff, chorus, Bible and Public Administration club, and I was a member of our high school basketball team.

My greatest desire is to help the freshmen class succeed in every way.
December Formal set for Manfield; Faculty Entertained on Monday

The Lettermen’s Club will officially begin the Christmas festivities on campus as they present their annual December 11. This year's theme is “Wonderland in White” and promises to be a delightful, jolly party, far from the dances of the past. The scene shifts to the Manfield Ballroom, eliminating the environment of the gym.

Herbie Green will play from 9 till 12 p.m., and the Lettermen will entertain with carol singing at intermission.

Santa Claus will also be present for anyone who wishes to sit on his lap and ask something special.

Morality Question
directs attention to the creation of a culture to serve human needs. Just as the emergence of the doctrine of individual responsibility brought an incalculable gain to the individual and to society, so this doctrine of cultural self-determination will bring another step forward if we have both the courage and the faith to undertake the remaking of our culture. We must face the task of reconstructing our culture and creating our own design for living, in which the age-old cruelties, frustrations, and deprivations may, we must hope, be mitigated, if not eliminated.

We cannot and must not set limits upon human potentialities, since we are unable to tell what can or cannot come into existence. But it does seem a fairly reasonable principle to say that what will come into existence will begin to reflect the inherent moving capacities of the human being.

We therefore propose this final thesis: that there are many possible avenues of human development from which we must choose; there is no law of self-sufficient erection or self-fulfillment which can function as an absolute guide in the manner of hard determinism. Rather, his potentialities lie scattered there beyond the horizon: and man, with all the wisdom which mankind can give him — and then to choose among them.

Justice: By performing my duties correctly and accurately, I give all the class the fullest extent of my effort. Justice is giving to people exactly what they deserve. The freshman class deserves the best and I intend to do my best.

UNITY: In order to have organization, a class must have unity. Unity is achieved when all the elements of a class are in harmony. It is the class spirit, and the class spirit I intend to help develop all aspects of this ingredient by seeking a balance between daring and conformity.

ACTION: This is the catalyst that activates any school government. Be fore justice can be given or unity achieved, one must act. I will not be behind or skip meetings but will attend all meetings and bring in new and active ideas. I hope that this letter will clarify my qualifications. In the letter I have written, I have given you my stance and ACTION that you have seen on my posters. Thank you.

Joseph E. Keifer

I wish to achieve the position to thank all of you who have helped up till now in the campaign. I am very appreciative of all your efforts.

My primary purpose for writing this letter is to explain to everyone in the Student Government representative that this is an important position to fill, especially when in the Student Government.

Tony Rapp

I have been chosen as a candidate to represent the class in the Student Government. Elections are a necessary part of the American way. Many elections, however, become popularity contests rather than genuine efforts to select the supposedly better man. The election before us now is a contest to determine who are most well liked by the class. Since there are no issues, it probably will not be any other way. Let me prove myself worthy of the campaign. I can only say that if I am elected, at the next election there will be issues.

John W. Bellano

As a member of the freshman class, I have been nominated as the office of Student Government representative. It is my intention that, if elected, I will do my best to represent the freshman class in the Student Government. Many people have asked me to clarify my platform of JUSTICE, UNITY, and ACTION. I have waited until now to do this in order to help.

Justice: By performing my duties correctly and accurately, I give all the class the fullest extent of my effort. Justice is giving to people exactly what they deserve. The freshman class deserves the best, and I intend to do my best. Unity: In order to have organization, a class must have unity. Unity is achieved when all the elements of a class are in harmony. It is the class spirit, and the class spirit I intend to help develop all aspects of this ingredient by seeking a balance between daring and conformity.

Action: This is the catalyst that activates any school government. Be fore justice can be given or unity achieved, one must act. I will not be behind or skip meetings, but I will attend all meetings and bring in new and active ideas. I hope that this letter will clarify my qualifications. In the letter I have written, I have given you my stance and ACTION that you have seen on my posters. Thank you.

Matt Flass

Sincerity is an incredibly difficult to express, especially when confronted by the trust and friendship which has been shown to me. But I should like to sincerely thank all those who have encouraged and supported me actively, or merely by encouraging me verbally.

My success and failure are closely akin. My success shall belong to all who have believed in me and my failure will not be failure at all; for the friends I have gained and the fun we have had, made this campaign an invaluable experience.

I hope I should be elected to the Student Government office, your trust will not be put asunder.

Jay G. Ruckel

I am a member of the class, and I would like to notify you of my candidacy for Student Government representative for the class of 1968. There is no purpose of this letter is to submit my qualifications and policies. My extra-curricular activities in high school included president and vice president of numerous intramural and extramural teams, and chairman of several committees.

Graduation was only the beginning of Jim Brown’s education

Because he joined Western Electric

Jim Brown, Northwestern University, ’62, came with Western Electric because he had heard about the Company’s concern for the continued development of its engineers after college graduation.
Jim has his degree in industrial engineering and is continuing to learn and grow in professional stance through Western Electric’s Graduate Engineering Training Program. The objectives and educational philosophy of this Program are in the best of academic traditions, designed for both expericed and new engineers.
Like other Western Electric Engineers, Jim started out in this Program with a six-week course to help in the transition from the classroom to industry. Since then, Jim Brown has continued to take courses that will help him keep up with the newest engineering techniques in communications.

This training, together with formal college engineering studies, has given Jim the ability to develop his talents to the fullest extent. His present responsibilities include the solution of engineering problems in the manufacture of molybdenum core rings, a component used to improve the quality of voice transmission.
If you set the highest standards for yourself,
you can appreciate the challenge, and have the qualifications we are looking for — we want to talk to you! Opportunities exist now for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, and for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. For further inforamation, get your copy of the Western Electric Opportunities booklet from your Placement Officer.
And be sure to arrange for an interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.
SOCCER TEAM TIES - GRIDDERS LOSE

Boobers Wind Up Season With Tie Against Dickinson

The Colonel boobers wound up their playing season last week in a spirited match with the Dickinson Red Devils. Neither of the teams gained a valuable point advantage in the game as they battled to a 2-2 deadlock. Rich Beck and Dave Thomas did the honors for Wilkes.

This past season seemed ill-fated for the Colonels. Although they had a losing season, the team did play well, only losing by small margins in a majority of their games. The team had one win and three ties against eight defeats.

Leading scorers for the Colonels this season were Bob Eureich and Larry Gubanich. This year's freshmen contributed much to the team effort this past season.

Next season will be a different story since six starters return for Coach Jim Perri. Rich Beck, Rich Harmon, Barry Harmon, Mike Hud-ick and Dave Thomas will prove valuable to next year's efforts.

My season surge continues as I picked 19 right and 4 wrong, bringing my season total to 126 right and 46 wrong for a 73.33 percent.

As the season winds into the last two weeks, Notre Dame still rules the country and has taken a giant step towards the national championship by crushing Michigan State. Other unbeaten giants - Alabama, Arkansas, and Nebraska are in hot pursuit. Nebraska owes the nation's longest winning streak with 13 straight wins. Another unbeaten team is Princeton, but because they play in the Ivy League they receive no national ranking.

My picks for this week will cover November 21 and 28, however there will be no publication during the Thanksgiving recess.

Crucial Game On TV Schedule

Butler and Barre Halls will play this week to decide the champions of the Dormitory Athletic League. Both teams have 4 wins and 0 losses.

The Roadrunners and the Simple Six will also play this week to decide the championship of the Independent League. They too have records of 4 wins and 0 defeats.

The winners of both games will meet to decide the champion of both leagues on November 22 at the Wilkes College Athletic Field. Wilkes students are encouraged to attend. The game begins at 2 p.m.

Albright Downs Wilkes With 2nd Half Avalanche

The Colonels dropped the final game of the season Saturday to the Albright Lions 48-14 at the Wilkes Athletic Field. The Wilkesmen completed the season with a 1-6 record. Albright finished with 8-1 and was in fourth place in the competition for the Lambert Cup.

The ball changed hands twice, the Colonels had the ball on their own 29-yard line and began to drive. Purta and Consmock carried for yardage, put the ball on the 49 yard line. Jack Trosko took the 9-yard drive by blasting through the line for the score. The PAT by Len Rhoads was wide.

Albright came back in the second quarter with Dan Manlove scoring from the five to end the 66 yard march. Joe Kearn's kicked the extra point. Wilkes received the kickoff but was forced to punt after three plays. The Lions took the ball on their own 33 and moved 67 yards in 14 plays for the touchdown. The PAT by Kearn's was wide. The Lions were kept from gaining the necessary yards for a tie three times in the quarter when the half ended.

Wilkes Gets Break

Wilkes got a break in the third quarter when an alert Colonel dove on an Albright fumble. The Wilkesmen capitalized on the error and were forced to punt after only three plays. Albright center, George Gonzales, bobbled the 44 yard line and blocked the punt for a safety. The Lions took the ball on the 11 and marched 49 yards with Frank Herzig rushing in from the three. Kearn's added the extra point.

Following a Wilkes fumble the Lions took it to the air driving 70 yards in 7 plays for the tally. The PAT was no good.

Albright intercepted a Wilkes aerial to set up the next score. Steve Schumacher hit Nellisk with a 36 yard pass for paydirt. The placement was blocked.

Albright's last marker came on a 37 yard march with Bartlett hitting Kearsen on a 24 yard pass play. Kearn's added the extra point.

Wilkes final score of the season came when Ed Consmock intercepted an Albright pass and streaked out untouched 34 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown. Tom Troxel hit Ron Gogolowski for the two point conversion.
