THETA DELTA RHO PLANS HOST OF SOCIAL EVENTS FOR YEAR

By ALMA FANUCCI

Theta Delta Rho held a meeting on October 26, at 7 P. M. in Chase Hall.

In the absence of Doris Banks, who was unable to make up the social calendar for the semester, Master Broad gave the following dates:

November 18--A tea will be given in the Presbyterian Church Library for the girls lounge at Chase Hall.

November 20--A social with a dance at which Russ Andaloro will play.

November 22--A sorority meeting at which it is hoped, more girls will attend than have been coming.

March--A St. Patrick's Day tea.

November 21--A tea will be held for the parents of the girls in the stores in the city.

They will show them the house plans and plan a dance at which Russ Andaloro will play.

Wilkes Reaches 85% of Intended $2000 Goal for Community Chest

PETLON'S STRATEGY MAY BE HONORED

By GEORGE KARUS

The third annual Community Chest drive kicked off officially on Monday, October 25th, and was concluded on October 26th with the school total of $1500 out of $2000 of its goal. The goal for this year's drive was set at $2000, or 500 more than its goal of $1500 last year's drive was met with more enthusiasm and donations than to meet the $1500 quota. When this year's drive officially closed, the school had already $500 away of the mark. Ronet Petlon acted as chairwoman and was assisted in her task by second-year students Robert Smith of the faculty. Mr. Petlon's campaign strategy was to approach individuals and request a donation of whatever size they could give and supervise each campus organization in the soliciting of funds for the drive. The Letterman's Club sponsored a dance on October 15th and had pledges to the picture at the door and contribute the proceeds to the Community Chest. However, the athletes must have crossed their signals, and they failed to capitalize on their break by not doing as they had originally planned. Last year the Community Chest Committee of Wilkes sponsored a sport dance in the Collegetown, and there were pledges to collect a total of $500, which surely helped to put last year's drive over the top. Mrs. Petlon has issued the following statement, which can be considered as pledge to the Community Chest; of this amount the faculty and administration have contributed $1150, and the remaining $850 by the student body.

REGISTRAR ANNOUNCES

The posting of political campaign literature, announcements of recruitment, and advertisements along the sidewalks, along the streets, and along River Street, the area within the bounds of the College, must not be done without the permission of the registrar, and the unkind condition does not add to the prestige of the College.

Posters of announcements, etc., will be removed from the rear of buildings in other sections of the campus not located on city property.

MID-SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS are scheduled as follows:

Monday, November 11. All mid-semester grades should be reported to the office by November 15.

Students will receive their mid-semester grades from their advisors during the week of November 17.

April--Breakfast party to be held on Chase lawn. Much work will be required to make the affair a success.

April--A hay ride with a whale watching party.

April--A bridge party.

May--A tea to be held at which the girls will donate cakes, pies, etc.

May--A Mother's Day tea at the homes of various sisters.

June--A banquet to be held for the seniors at the homes of various sisters.

At this point in the meeting, the question arose as to whether the girls would have their own Tea. The girls have already spent $200 in the tress-few years ago to buy pins.

Miss Harker suggested the sending of invitations to the seniors as the cost of a handbook of the suggested entertainment. The handbook of the suggested entertainments will have as a part of it, an advertisement for the seniors, and the ladies would bloom just about the time the February semester is ending.

The girls feel that if they can find ways of earning money they can give the club prestige. They decide the bridge party and bake sale for that purpose.

The president, Evelyn Penal- gom, suggested the girls make favors at the meetings, and at the sorority meetings, or fill stockings for the children's wards. The girls approved.

The question of the jackets was brought up. Although there are 50 ordered, the company claims the order is not big enough to sell them at a discount rate. The jackets will most probably be paid for the cost added for the emblem. The order will be filled within three weeks. November 24 will be the date for the sorority dance.

Dance bands were suggested and Russ Andaloro received the major- ity vote. The committee on the affair are as yet incomplete.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Petlon discussed the possibility of the girldormitories, giving the girls helpful advice on how to handle things as very important in girls' lives. The girls asked questions concerning etiquette and graces at teas and social gatherings.

The final act of the meeting was the announcement of the 85% that the Community Chest had reached.

John Metcalfe To Address Assembly On Election Day

To Avoid Blocking Free Traffic Flow

John Metcalfe, famous reporter, and lecturer, will speak at the Assembly on Tuesday, November 9 on the topic, "When a World Changes." He is well qualified to talk about this subject, since he has had twenty years of international experience.

This year, the American Legion has appeared on the American lecture platform for eleven consecutive years, during which time he has traveled across the country to deliver his lecture to numerous audiences. Mr. Metcalfe was born in Dresden, Germany, and has been a correspondent for the University of Notre Dame from 1920 until 1922. He has reported in this field of journalism for ten years, the last two years spent in the Washington Diplomatic Correspondent for Time magazine and the New York Herald Tribune.

In order to gather inside information on the activities of the subversive activities of the Bund and the Nazi, Mr. Metcalfe spent six exciting months during 1938 in that organization, disguised as an American journalist, reporting his activities to the Associated Press. In 1922, he continued in this field of journalism, and was later appointed as the Washington Diplomatic Correspondent for Time magazine and the New York Herald Tribune.

Car Parkers Asked To Avoid Blocking Free Traffic Flow

Complaints have reached the administration concerning the parkers blocking the sidewalk at the corner of South Franklin and South Streets. It is most undesirable for any possible visitor, or any members of the campus, to walk the cars already parked from leaving the lot.

The occurrence has been happening daily, and the officials of the lots are planning to take action to stop the permanent parking problem. A sign has been placed at the 50th sign that warn cars park in the driveway that if they continue to park there they will be towed away. The warning will be carried into effect if drivers continue to ignore the common courtesy of parking.

Another parking lot is located further down on South Franklin Street, and it contains plenty of parking space. However, many campus owners of the college seem reluctant to walk the extra distance.

The officials charged the point is that the sloping lot will be the last request for consideration of the drivers. Next Monday will be the final chance for keeping the lot free.

SILETH GROUP PLANS CUBA TRIP

Miss Martha Silseth, Spanish instructor, is sponsoring another trip to the island this vacation. The trip will start on December 26 and return midnight January 2. Most of the tourists will be in the Parisian Airlines. The itinerary will cover Havanna, Morro Castle, night tours and tours through the country. All expenses, with the exception of meals, are covered by the tour. Anyone who is interested in the trip should contact Miss Martha Silseth on the second floor of the Guidance Center. All students, and especially Spanish students, should make an effort to hear "On Wings of Imagination," an outstanding program which will take place on December 7 at 7:30 p.m. This week's program is about the Chicanos.

Mansfield Ties Colonels, 7-7

By BILL APPELBAUM

The Wilkes College Colonels played a tie game with the Mountaineers from Mansfield last Saturday and, when the game ended in a 7-7 score, Wilkes led by John Florkiewicz, crossed the Mountaineer goal line in four minutes of the first quarter, then limited the Mansfield team to one touchdown to earn the tie.

Wilkes kicked off to the Mansfield team and when the Mountaineers got nowhere Wilkes took over on its own 49-yard line. With Florkiewicz carrying, the Colonels rolled for eleven yards to the Munsfield 22. Burian carried for four, then tossed it to Pete Dokas, who caught it on the Wilkes 36. He caught it over his shoulder and went on to score. Tackle Tom Dombroski kicked the extra point.

The paging attacks of both teams were hampered considerably in the second half because of the steady downpour of rain. On the last play of the game Jack Feeney attempted to kick a field goal from the Mansfield 30-yard line, but the kick was short of the mark.

Wilkes rolled up 10 first downs to Mansfield's eight, and gained a total of 165 yards, compared to Mansfield's 164. The Colonels completed three passes out of eight attempts, while Mansfield tossed seven and made good on four of them.

"Tomorrow" Offers Writing Contest

By BOB SANDERS

In 1946 a short story contest was originated for all college undergraduates by the editors of TOMORROW, one of the nation's leading literary magazines. This contest has a two-fold value in that it gives encouragement to future writers and a financial reward by awarding $500 as first prize, $300 as second and $100 as third. All accepted stories will be published in the magazine's established publishing rate of $100. The judges of the contest are the editors of TOMORROW, the Creative Age Press, book publishers.

The object in "Tomorrow" has been widely approved by outstanding journalists and literary critics such as Herschel Brickell and Harrison Smith of the Saturday Review of Literature, and for the third year in succession Martin Gardner has used many of TOMORROW's short stories in his annual collection of the Best Short Stories of the year. Copies of TOMORROW have been sent to Kirby Hall for any reference needed by those contesting in this contest.

All entries are not to exceed 4,000 words and are to include the following: a self-addressed envelope to contain the manuscript and the envelope: College Contest, Your Name, Wilkes College, Your mailing address. A self-addressed envelope should accompany the manuscript. The deadline for the contest is December 15th, 1948.

Economics Club Has Noteworthy Record: Plans Active Semester

By CHER OOMICINSKI

The Economics Club of Wilkes College, which has been very active in the past in organizing trips to various industrial plants in order to furnish first hand information to its members, has recently reorganized, and is planning to continue its good work.

The club, which was organized in the Winter semester of 1947, carried its original officers until it lost them all through graduation last June.

Through the hard work of its former president Eugene Repotic, the club made it possible for its members to visit the Okomite plant and the Bell Telephone Co. in Wilkes-Barre, and the American Car and Foundry plant at Berwick.

Perhaps the most interesting trip undertaken by the club was a visit to New York City. There they visited the New York Stock Exchange on Wall Street, where they had the good fortune to be for the opening of a day's business and to see the vast amount of business carried on in the seemingly utter confusion.

The club also visited the Federal Reserve Bank, where they saw, in one room, nine hundred million dollars in gold bullion which is stored there for credit of foreign countries.

As part of this same trip they paid a visit to the United Nations buildings, where they saw the Security Council in session, and where the Economic Council prepared a special session and program for the Wilkes students.

The high light of this trip was reached when they were requested to ask questions of the Economic Council.

The newly reorganized club has already presented this semester a guest speaker in the person of Mr. Duke Wulpert, representative of the Coca Cola Bottling Company.

They are contemplating presenting many other guest speakers as well as movies pertinent to the work of the club.

Major League Flashs

The axe continues to fall on the football managers. The last victims are Bucky Harris of the Yanks, who was released last night. This shift has been a severe blow to the Philadelphia Phillies. The Philadelphia Phillies also bought Tommy Heinrich of the Cardinals to fill the position formerly held by Bucky Harris. Another change was Jack O'Neill replacing Ted Lyons as manager of the White Sox. The Colonels have a couple of players deals completed lately. The Philadelphia Phillies also bought pitcher Russ Meyer from the Chicago Cubs for $25,000. The White Sox have their eyes on Bob Dillinger and the Browns with the presence of the Browns earning cautious notes at the Red Sox fat back roll.
