Fall Frolic Cabaret Party
Scheduled For October 21

By Vincie Machi

The Fall Frolic, the annual Student Cabaret Council Party, will be held this year on Tuesday, October 21, at St. Stephen’s Churchhouse on South Franklin Street. It was recently announced by Ted Wolfe, general chairman of the affair.

Reservations have been open all week and Marysh Mioszkwisk, chairman of the reservations committee, stated that there are still some tables open. There is room for about 500 people in the hall and all available space should be filled by the time reservations are closed next Wednesday at 1:30 P. M.

In keeping with the tradition of past cabaret parties, a “name” star will be on the program. The committee would not say who the performer will be, but he or she will be of the highest caliber.

Master of ceremonies will be Mr. Bones, a born and trained guru. The master of ceremonies will be Madam Lazonga, internationally known chanteuse direct from the Bal Tabarin in Paris. In from the Czech Petre in Chicago will be the all for the Allen Masters, the comic extraordinary. Also featured will be a variety of Missy Ennis and dances created by Paul Huff. The Demented will be featured.

Eight of the top bands, selected by the Band Council, will render several numbers.

Blake, has been the guiding hand behind the Cabaret Parties for the past two years, has been keeping the identity of the guest star a secret although clues to his name have been “leaking” out from behind Blake’s back. Secretaries for the affair have been going on for the past few days and indications lead the cast to believe that the show will be presented at the school. The floor show is scheduled for 5:30 P. M.

Music for dancing before and after the show will be provided by the Patsy Pettion and his orchestra.

In addition to Ted Wolfe, general chairman, and his assistants Gene Bradley and Jack Cali, committee heads include: Entertainment, Bob Spooner; Cast, Casters. Members Marysh Mioszkwisk; Make: Book-of-the-Month, Miss Williams; Refreshments, Jerry Wise; Setting, Janet Gearhart.
REV. SCHINDLER REVIEWS TRIP

Art Spengler
This past summer Reverend Carl Schindler, instructor of religion and of Romance Languages, was brought to fruition a long cherished ambition when he traveled to some of the Western European countries, his course in Rome, and his environs, once the great capital of the West. We are glad to report that he has returned.

Reverend and Mrs. Schindler de- parted for New York on June 10 on the S. S. Amsterdam and eight days later arrived in London, to travel to Holland, the cradle of Rembrandt, great 17th century humanist. Like countless other tourists, they were particularly impressed with the beauty and philanthropic plays for which Holland has long been renowned.

On the very first day, the re- ported Reverend Schindler, and his wife and daughter, which they have many in, Cologny, added Reverend Schindler, they made a remarkable observation in the first assay of the acuity of Allied pin-point bombing techniques. By taking the short, four minute walk from the railroad station in Cologny where they were to leave for the airport, they both realized, to their joy, that the operation did no other damage than those resulting from vibrations of exploded bombs.

Throughout many of the Ger- man cities, and in Paris, there was still evident of ut- ter destruction and desolation. The wounds of war have been long since ended but these wounds are still a frightening struggle for existence.

Reverend Schindler remarked that the University of Paris was virtually impossible to describe as the new, Russian section. The difficulties entailed in making such a visit are almost insurmountable. After a short trip to Denmark, Reverend Schindler and his family returned to Hamburg and made prepara- tions for the high point in the entire trip, the few days spent in Cologny. Naturally, Reverend Schindler stated, that a good wife knew how to make the most of the trip. Traveling through Switzer- land on a bus en route to Italy, Reverend Schindler's collection of knowledge was aware of the more prosperous condition of this country in com- parison to the other European countries he had visited.

As Reverend Schindler related, he arrived in Genoa without any facility whatsoever in the Italian language. Without any seeming assistance on his part he was liter- ally shoved into the housing house to which he was referred by the Italian immigration, a twinkle in his eye Reverend Schindler remarked that he would have been more than happy if he could have recalled the words in Latin for mistakes in pronunciation. Those new friends to believe that Latin is a dead language

In Vatican City Reverend Schindler was amazed at the opulence of the collection of objects and other items of interest he saw the decoration of Saints Peter's plus, the latter the God of Medi- cine. Reverend Schindler added that the Greek inscription on the latter statue when translated meant, "To him who is used to describe Jesus in the New Testament.

As Reverend Schindler was very enthuisastic in his description of the interior of the Vatican, he described the frequent visit to the untrammelled Isles of Capri, long the resort of em- perors and citizens alike.

Back in Germany for the last time, Reverend Schindler and his wife and both visited the camps for Eastern Zone refugees. An app- ailng inadequacy of housing fac- ilities was very important. In one Eastern Zone refugee camp, Reverend Schindler, twenty families were housed and in one ordinary high school classrooms were quartered.

The return leg of the journey took the group to Rome again, and there they parted. We are glad to report that Mrs. Schindler has successfully recovered his health and that they are now back at their home in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.
Johnny Florkiewicz Will Return to Action for the Colonels

Undeclared Records at Stake

Tonight the Colonels inaugurated gridiron relations with Ithaca College at Ithaca, N. Y., with the kickoff scheduled for 8:30 P.M. Wilkes will go into this game without having tasted defeat in their last eleven games, having won nine and tied two since being downed by Saint Francis in October, 1948.

In their opening game of the season, Ithaca defeated the University of Bridgeport, 19-0. Ithaca employs the "T" and "Winged T" formations and uses the platoon system. Coached by Harold "Peter" Hatch, who was one of "The Iron Men" of Ithaca along with Phil-adelphia's Eddie Sawyer back in '92 and '93.

Should Wilkes win the toss and elect to receive, Hatch will select his defensive team. At defensive ends will be Joe Corcoran and Joe essentials. The tackles are Bill Brich- koff and Floyd Wilson; guards; Joe Cali- drine and Joe Meza. Linebacker, Camillo De Santis and Bill Oakes; center, Tony Saw- lass and Clarence Corr; and at safety Pas- menna.

If Wilkes should kick-off, Hatch will use Bill Billy and Harold Means at the ends; Dick Backer and Steve Callender at tackles, John Lepetoe and Ted Murphy at the guard posts; and Tom Barcillo as the center. In the backfield Coach Hatch is fortunate in having two speedy cut-away backs in Pasman and DerCola. Gus Koch is the boy who'll be handling the ball for the "T." And at full back is Kirk-kendall, whom Hatch considers the best-plunging fullback he has seen in the last four years. With a crop of material like this Hatch's team should give the Colonels plenty of trouble.

After a week's absence John Florkiewicz will return to action for the Colonels. With running mates Castle and Pinkowski, Florky should hit his old stride. With the return of Castle, Coach Knapich has three good passers. Florky, Pinky, and Leo And then Ralston has THAT line—the same line that played havoc with the Bridgeport- porters. In Co-Captain "Pickles" Lewis, Wilkes has one of the finest guards in the state.

When the final gun goes off, one of the teams (buying a tie) will have fallen from the realm of the undefeated. It is always nice to watch a flashy "T-Team" in action, but somehow, the strength and power of a team like Wilkes hardly attracts any color from the game. So tonight it will be the "Winged T" against the single and double wings. Those who saw last Saturday night's battle know why GET BEHIND THE TEAM... Support the Colonels.

The Sporting World

Earl Jobes, Sports Editor

Tonight the Colonels hit the road for their last away game of the King's System. This game will be played at Meyers as a King's home game, when they travel to New York State to meet a strong Ithaca College eleven.

An idea of Ithaca's strength can be garnered by remembering that they downed the University of Bridgeport 19-0. If the Colonels down Ithaca, they will have hurled the toughest object that stands between them and an undefeated season. This game will be another test between the "T" system employed by Ithaca and the old single wing system employed by the Colonels. One thing is cer- tain; when Co-Captain "Pickles" Lewis leads the very strong Colonels into game into a game the opponents find the going tough.

Last Saturday night the Colonels, unlike mighty Michigan, continued on their march to an undefeated season. The Colonels, sparked by Lee Castle, defeated the University of Bridgeport 31-18 in a very fast and sizzling game. After witnessing the game we can under- stand why football is sometimes called rough and tumble. The University of Bridgeport had one thing to console them in defeat... their boxing coach discovered some boys who can really throw a left hook and right cross. What the U. of B. line lacked in football skill, they made up for in boxing skill.

Wilkes was fortunate to have Lee Castle to take up the slack in the backfield caused by the absence of big John Florkiewicz who was on the injured list. The Colonels also missed injured Chet Knappi who is sidelined with a back injury. This was supposed to have been Chet's 100th game of his career. The Colonels were also fortunate to have Bob Gorgas back in the line for the first time this year. Bob had been out of the lineup during the early weeks because of schedule difficulties. If the Colonels had had "Arriss" John Florkiewicz and Chet Knappi in the game, feel that the Colonels score would have been higher. "Arriss" John is always good for plenty of yardage, and Chet is one of the best linemen on the team.

Linemen, big Walt Henderbost, who played his usual good game at tackle, is sporting a deep purple eye shadow that was not bought at a cosmetic counter. Walt's run- ning mate, Gerard Washo, made one of the most vicious tackles seen by your reporter this year. Sammy Ellis, the Colonels' out- standing center made a beautiful, back to the ball, interception of a Bridgeport aerial. This play undoubtedly broke the back of one of the Bridgeport drives. Al Nicholas, the sophomore wingback brought the ball up on the 6 yard line, then unhesitatingly went over the goal for a touchdown.

Wilkies Keeglers Reorganize League

The Wilkes Bowling League will swing into action next Tuesday night at the Eagles Bowling Aca- demy, N. Washington Street, city, at 9 P.M.

Eight teams of rabid bowlers are ready to test the line and rack up the "stripes" and "spares." They are the Bookish, Kush Makers, Engi- neers, IRC, Norm, Thors, Chem- Club, and last year's champions- the GPA's. A team of faculty mem- bers is expected to enter the competition before the first ball hooks down the alley on Tuesday night.

A meeting of team captains will be held on Monday at 12:30 P. M. in Butler Annex to rehearse the league rules and by-laws, to arrange the schedule, and to plan for the distri- bution of awards.

The fans to their feet with a nice piece of broken field running on a punt return. Al came very close to going all the way as he did against Upsala last week.

Looking ahead to the King's game, your reporter saw a tough assignment for the Colonels. Con- sidering that King's met Bloom- burg after the Ithaca game, the King's-Bloom games mean little.

Another thing to consider is that the Monarchs met a team that had had a long victory string snapped, and they were able to go out and prove themselves. The people of the Valley that they were in their way out and Reports from the King's-Bloom game say: Again the Monarchs are light but fast; the Monarch offense looks better than their defense.

Getting ready to tonight's game, the Colonels will have the moral support of the band and cheer- leaders.

Due to conditions beyond our control we are unable to supply you with the usual column for your reporter. To all of you who read this column—"Thank you" and back the Colonels.
Meet The Colonels

The Colonels won again... their eighth straight game. And who are The Colonels? Don't ask and what contributes to his team? The majority of them have been playing the game since the December night since 1946. Their record for these three years is nine wins, three losses, and three ties.

Leading the ground attack for Colonel's was better known come to Wilkes high school after serving in the Pacific Theater. This was the first game that was undefeated until it met the Colonels. Finkley returned a recommendation form in yards and a touchdown. This is one of the longest running backs in the area. Besides being one of the best running backs in the state, he can pass with skill and is a candidate for the All-State backfield. Finkley's running mate, Francis S. Pickford is also from Nanticoke. Pinky is one of the smallest men on the team, but he is also one of the most powerful. The Pinky, who is a full back, is

Calif. Teachers Study Examination Practices

San Diego, Calif.—I.P.—Over four hundred faculty members at San Diego State College base the final exams in 81-100 per cent of the required courses, according to the recent findings of the Special Faculty Committee for the Study of Examination Procedures. Also, the majority of the professors determine the percentage of the work done in 21-40 per cent of the final exam.

The committee was organized last year for purposes of suggesting suggestions for improvement of the final examination procedures and directing the faculty's attention toward a critical consideration of procedure. As a result, questionnaires were prepared and sent to each faculty member with questions asking for the course under his instruction, percentage of the semester's work which the required subjects to review and upon which per cent of each semester grade he based the final exam.

To the question: "Do you feel that a final examination serves in a valid academic purpose in your subject?" 96 answered yes, while 32 answered no. To the question: "On the basis of present class size and teaching conditions, do you feel that more could be accomplished in teaching your subject through substituting 2-4 extra class meetings for the final examination?" there were 39 marked yes and 52 marked no.

Summarizing: the committee stated that the average final exam was based on the first quarter of the entire course but regardless of about one-third of the semester's grade. Also, the majority of the faculty answering the questionnaire believed that the final examination served a valid academic purpose in the course and one-third reported that 2-4 extra sessions would be needed to substitute.

The committee agreed on the principal that the final exam served a vital purpose in the educational system in that it checked the student's progress. However, it suggested that a good exam should be held at an agreed upon time, and a reevaluation of the final exam in preference to the spring break of emphasis over the examinations given at more frequent intervals.

IIIC Representative Attends WSSF Meet

Miss Dolores Passeri, secretary of the International Relations Club, represented Wilkes College at the Pennsylvania State Student Conference. The conference was held at the YWCA in Harrisburg on October 9th.

Mr. Winburn Thomas, head of the organization, was the principal speaker. Just back from the Pacific Northwest, he was invited for immediate assistance. In his speech he said, "The tuberculosis rate is high. The World Student Service program is really a long range. Fifty percent of the money is spent for medical supplies." Mr. Forrest D. Brown, general secretary of the Bucknell University Association acted as chairman of the meeting.

The purpose of the World Student Service Fund is to aid colleges and universities in war devastated countries. Last year students in the United States donated $51,000 in books and clothing. In addition, two hundred foreign students are entering colleges in Wilkes as a four-year exchange.

Last year Wilkes participated in a book drive. Later in the year the I.R.C. will sponsor another such drive.

The WSSF is sponsored by the Penn Valley Hillside Foundation, a member of the National Student Association, United Student Christian Council, and the International Student Service.

Mr. D. S. Otis Visits Classes

Mr. D. S. Otis, executive assistant to the State Education Department, visited the University of the State of New York and Wilkes College classes on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Otis will make a report to the department's executive committee of the University of the State of New York. The report is concerned with the accrediting of the state's colleges and universities.

The University of the State of New York is not a university in the sense of the word but is similar to the state department in that it has an administration of some kind.

STUDENTS ATTEND THEATRE CONVENTION

This Saturday Paul Thomas, Pat Boyd and Dave Edwards are going to attend the annual convention of the Eastern Pennsylvania Interglass Theatre and Radio Conference to be held at Bloomsburg, Pa., in order to ratify a new constitution. The purpose of the organization is to promote college productions and to encourage intercollegiate relations in general. Miss Boyd is the secretary of the Planning Committee.

Theatre and Radio Conference Reviewed

Twelve colleges of the Eastern Pennsylvania Interglass Theatre and Radio Conference have set a date for the development of an intercollegiate theatrical organization. The idea was conceived, and volunteered to be the center of the collection of intercollegiate theatrical organizations. A meeting last spring, held on the campus of Lebanon Valley College, was to the collection of intercollegiate theatrical organizations. The Wilkes programme brings playgoers to college where facilities are given to as many students as plays the way they are created.

The average college play which runs one or two nights will be able to charge a higher fare than their real program. The theatre at other colleges that are accessible and where there is one student, is not possible. There is no college where there is a student, is possible.

Another proposal of the conference is to encourage original playwriting and actual production of plays by students whose works are considered good material.

NEW EXAM SYSTEM AT SKIDMORE COLLEGE

Skidmore Bryn Mawr, N. Y. — (P. L. K.) A new examination system has been initiated at Skidmore College. Under this new system, some examinations are scheduled and some are not. Those examinations that are scheduled are given in the second part of the two-hour exam and must be taken when scheduled. The other problems are scheduled examinations. The unscheduled exams may be taken whenever the student desires, so long as they are spaced twenty-one hours apart.

In order to be greatest of profit to each individual student it becomes important that the administration that more time for review will not be used. Some courses allow one exam for the entire class, and some exams are held in the course of a semester, was desirable.

The plans of the success of the honor system on this campus in all subjects is, therefore, the faculty having sufficient confidence that unmechanized examinations will not be an ingredient of the course. Instead, the new system presents an opportunity for the students to take the tests they may not discuss exams during the examination period.

The honor system is not unwarranted, for during the past year the Philosophy department has had no problems, and has given tests in its large enrollment that could be taken any time within a given day. The results were considered completely satisfactory and of the interest of the faculty and student body.

The afternoon of Wednesday, October 19 is the time for the next coffee hour.

The coffee hour is an informal gathering of all professors and faculty. Its chief purpose is to enable students to meet their instructors outside of the classroom.

Mr. Parson, chairman of the coffee hour at Wilkes College. He came in contact with the idea at the University of St. Michael and last year initiated the idea on this campus. The coffee hour is held Tuesday, October 12. It was fairly well attended. The attendance for the coming gathering is expected to be much larger.

All coffee hours are held next Wednesday’s affair. The hour will be held only once every two weeks, and before the union they will be held two more gatherings, Thursdays, October 6, and Tuesday, November 15.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR YEARBOOK

Plans are now under way for a bigger and better yearbook than the college has ever had, but its success depends upon the cooperation of the students. Mr. Arthur Taylor, the chief editor, and some of the yearbook editors, announced.

A large and efficient staff is needed to pull the book through. Everyone interested in photography or other related jobs is urged to be present at the first Organization Meeting at 2 P.M. today at the office of the Wilkes Science Lecture Hall.

The Staff has appointed the following new editors: Leon Gilbert, editor; Marian Waltman, assistant editor; William Herber, business manager; Bob Sanders, art editor; Jack Butler, photography editor.

Another business content is being planned to express the enthusiasm received enthusiastically. The photography editors are working on a novel, which they have not yet disclosed. Last year’s Annals featured Homer Bones.

The staff urges all freshmen to have pictures taken at Bar STude Stile, South Franklin Street, on Wednesday, October 19, as soon as possible. So far, only the first half of the freshmen have turned in, and the deadline is Tuesday, October 25.

EMILIE JACOBSON TO SPEAK HERE

“Humor—First Aid to Understanding” will be the topic of Emilie Jacobson when she addresses a Wilkes College assembly next Tuesday at 11 in the Baptist Church.

The New York Rotary Club bulletin has referred to her as “the little lady with the big personality.”

The English journalist’s good humor, wit, and charm has won for her many new friends in all walks of life from the Peers of the Realm in Great Britain to the prisoners in the jails where she has entertained.

She is a widely traveled linguist and observer. While touring Italy she contributed a regular series of articles to the English press. Her stories were about everyday life in the great cities of Rome, Florence, Milan, Turin, Venice and Naples.

Jacobson has also been active in the English theatre. Her favorite roles were Lady Temple in Sheri-
