First Annual Careers Conference Marks Progress On Wilkes Campus

John Chwielek, Director of the Placement Bureau at Wilkes, has announced that the Careers Conference program is being rounded out for the event, March 3rd and 3rd, with culmination of months of work and planning. The program has been released, and it glitters with the names of many famous men and women in business and industry in northeastern United States.

The Chairman of the Board of the Armstrong Cork Company, H. W. Prentis, Jr., will deliver the first speech as principal speaker. His talk will be on “Private Competitive Business - Bottom of Freedom”.

Other speakers will be Ray Irwin, Director of Placement, Bucknell University; Paul W. Boyton, Supervising Employment, Society-Vafon Oil Company; New York; J. C. Niece, Director of Personnel, Sears, Roebuck and Company; A. N. D'Aubert, Swift and Company; Walter DeMartini, Vice President in charge of Sales, Kaiser - Franz Corporation; J. Craig Sweeten, Director of Placement, University of Pennsylvania; Harold Fischer, Director of Placement, Franklin and Marshall College; Ruth G. Pendell, Commissioner, State Civil Service Commission; J. Tally, Manager, Price Waterhouse Accounting Firm, Philadelphia; Robert Bachman, Lvmie, Pichoir Advertising Agency, Wilkes-Barre; Harold Walker, Calco Chemical Company, Boundbrook, N.J.; Howard G. Anderson, Director of Educational Placement Bureau, Cornell University; Edward Dohone, City Editor, Scranton Times; Jack Woltz, Head of the Division, Union 97; Ted Barry, Sales Representative, International Business Machines, Binghamton, N.Y.; Melissa Stuart, Educational Director, McGraw Hill Publishing Company, New York; and Edward J. Ryan, Director of Personnel, Department of Public Assistance, Harrisburg.

There will be dinners and luncheons during the two-day affair for faculty members and guests at the conference.

The conference provides the golden opportunity for undergraduates in college and high school alike to obtain the answers to many questions about employment and professional opportunities. The conference will be open to the public as well as to high school and college students.

Wilkes Debaters Face Rough Competition In Brooklyn Tournament Today-Tomorrow

Facing some of the most outstanding colleges in the country, the Wilkes Debating Team will add more victories to its rapidly mounting score of successful battles at the Brooklyn College Fourth Annual Invitation Debate Tournament (in Brooklyn)

Supported by Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, director, the group will compete with such well-known debating teams as those of West Point, Annapolis, Princeton, University of Pennsylvania, Vermont, Penn State, M.I.T., King's Point, Barnard and Brooklyn College.

A trophy will be awarded to the winning team, to be judged on the following eleven points: analysis, experience, evidence, rebuttal, adaptation to opponents, grammar, language, voice and points and (continued on page 2)

Cue 'n' Curtain Begins Activities For Workshop Theatre Project

The Cue and Curtain has announced that it will present a group of one-act plays in the near future. During the past week, the organization issued an appeal for actors and directors. Because of the fact that no more productions will be given this semester, the organization has embarked on a series of short experimental plays which are designed to give workshop experience to a large number of students.

The Cue and Curtain Dean of Dramatics, Peter Marojo, has directed "Refund", a satirical look at college education, "The Summons", a supernatural play, and "The Boy with the Girl", a play which has been written by Jim Gaban and Dale Warmoth, respectively. Terry Anderson, who

MEET THE ARTISTS...

The first exhibit of work by students of the Wilkes College School of Design will open Friday, March 9th — 3 to 5 p.m.

Many of the students whose work will be shown in the first gallery exhibition at the Wilkes in the Barre Annex to greet visitors to the exhibition. This exhibit includes work done in the art classes of last summer for the day and evening classes of the first term of this year.

On display are drawings in pen and ink, water colors, pastels, mediums, drawings in wash pencil and charcoal. In color there are still-life studies, water color and the color and design classes.

Also on display are examples of layout, both conventional and modern, by the students of Advertising and Design.

The works will be on display from Friday, March 9th, through the end of every afternoon, Monday through Friday.

 Theta Delta Rho Plans Tea and Fashion Show

Theta Delta Rho will present its second high school tea on March 15, from 3:30 to 5 in the Girls' Lounge. This tea, spotlighting a Wilkes' Day theme, will honor a second group of Senior girls from high schools in the valley, and will introduce them to Wilkes College.

Kay Read is general chairman, and chairman of the costume level are: Hostess- Connie Olafsen; Invitations- Mary Lammeaux; refreshments- Eleanor Kamensky; Entertainment- Rose Marie Collett; Clean-up- Helen Williams.

On Tuesday, April 3, at 8 p.m., the Wilkes Center at the Intercollegiate Center, will sponsor a fashion show, "College Chick Shopper". The clothes shown will be lent by Pomery's, and will be integrated with the central theme. The theme will feature clothing worn through a sunny, moon-drown. Pomery's will also supply all props and technical assistance. The show will be in the gymnasium, and tickets will sell for 60 cents, tax included.

Nancy Fox is general chairman of the fashion show; Rose Marie Collett is serving as her assistant, costume supervisor; tickets, Nancy Fox; advertisements, Sue Crow; publicity, Jane Salwoski. These seven girls will select the twelve Wilkes' Day themes, and the models will be chosen on the basis of (1) height and (2) poise and (3) posture.

This is the first time a fashion show has ever been presented at Wilkes College, and the sorority invites all the students to attend and see the lovely models and fashions.

Wilkes Choral Club Gave Concert Monday

A performance of "King David" was given at the Jewish Community Center by the Wilkes Choral Club last Monday night. The program was presented for the Wyoming Valley Chapter of the National Hillel Foundation.

Before the program, Mr. Cobleigh, director of the Choral Club, told the audience that the union comprising the performers has only two times every spring to give their unique presentation on the wrong notes are being sung, Mr. Cobleigh reports that the program was well received and refreshments were served afterwards.

Solistes were: Miss Nancy Bos- toon, soprano; Miss Marcia Tabor, mezzo soprano; and Mrs. Helen Billings, mezzo soprano. Mr. Henry Treblicz was the pianist.

The contagious fever of speculation which has gripped the campus for the last two weeks will finally be thrown off this evening, when the long awaited battles between the faculty and administration leave the faculty members high and dry.

The teams have been keyed to a high pitch in anticipation of the games. And each of them claims a secret weapon or a fantastic play to carry it through to victory.

Although among heavy ticket holders, matches like these usually last only a half hour, in order to give the faculty the chance to play the games.

Many of the faculty members are counting on the student bodies to make the matches an unqualified success. Many of the students are counting on the students to make the matches an unqualified success.

I. R. C. Reorganization Meeting Success; Future Events Listed

The IFC had a reorganization meeting last Tuesday at which was discussed the possibility of the resignation from this office to the presidency from Harry Illsley who graduated and is now employed at NYU Law School.

Chairman Charles Coffrey will lead the IFC in the selection of about nine members of the group. The IFC members of the group have been chosen on the basis of five different criteria. The IFC members of the group will be chosen on the basis of five different criteria.

The club also decided to send delegates to a conference on I.S. Foreign Policy held in Princeton on April 6th and 7th.

In the field of domestic affairs, the members have been putting their efforts toward the March 27th assembly. Many of the students have been getting ready for the progress of the Hoover Commission Repel will be discussed. Speakers chosen for the program are Ann Belle Perry, Charles Coffrey, Raymond Cava, Stephen Kali- novich, and John Murtha. Nancy Fox will read the Bible while Joseph Coffrey will act as the pro-
ED. NOTE: This is the first of a series which, we hope, will stimulate students of facts andologies, do's and don'ts, concerning the Atom Bomb.

An atomic bomb is no ordinary bomb, but it is a bomb. Its explosive power is a thousand times greater than any known TNT bomb, it produces intense heat and light as well as highly penetrating invisible rays, and in its wake it leaves radioactive substances capable of causing great harm to human beings. The destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki by Japanese High Explosive Bombs. But there are other things to remember.

In the very near future, as part of a national defense program, somewhere, there will be test "Alerts", bomb warnings, on the Wilkes campus. These Alerts, or "A" bombs, will be the same as those used for High Explosive Bombs.

Students are advised to remember:

1. If you are in a building, go to the nearest antiaircraft shelter. You can get there in ten minutes.
2. If you are in a street, go into a shelter right away.
3. Keep your back toward the wind.
4. Avoid direct exposure from a window or any other opening.
5. Students in the dormitories should, until the blast wave has passed, keep a glass barrier between themselves and the windows. If the blast wave is strong enough, a glass plate can be used as a deadly machine gun.
6. The safest place inside a building is a basement, or other protected shelter.

Student Government Reports

by Connie Smith

Meeting on the first of March, the Student Council finances got the second semester off to a very good start. Mr. Eirich reported that he had received a report from the Administrative Council on the Student Council's request to have a student member as a permanent member of the group. The Administrative Council explained that S. C. members were only temporary in the group and that a number of the subjects discussed in their meetings were either strictly administrative problems, or matters not ready to be presented, they could not grant the Council's request.

The Council decided to purchase keys for each member, to show their participation in the Student Council.

The Council then passed a resolution that organizations shall obtain permission from the Council in order to sponsor any money-making projects. Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Catlin and Mr. Park went on record in favor of this resolution.

And then came the discussion of the Cinderella Ball which was to take place the first of May. After all kinds of discussion on the various facets of the dance, the following things were decided. First, the group agreed to charge $1.00 at the door for the ticket, which of course means more work for all. Anyhow, the chairmen are as follows: Decorations, Connie Smith; Tickets and Hamilton, Bill Lewis; Music, Jack MacDonald; Dance, John Reilly; Refreshments, Alex Cathro; Gifts, Henry Merrolli; Voting, Joe Reynolds, Bob Eltus; Band, Wade Haynoss.

Last, but not least, the Council decided to poll the Student Body on their opinions concerning the Council and the Associated Students. Copies of the ballot were distributed, and the results are still to be tabulated.

ALUMNUS INTERVIEWS CARLETON CARPENTER OF MOVIE, THEATRE, AND "ABA DABA" FAME

by W. Thomas Littleton

Remember LOST BOUNDARIES? Carleton Carpenter portrayed Andy, the girl's boyfriend. To attempt a role of six or seven lines, to make an audience like and dislike you at the same time, and to be remembered well enough by the public to be considered for future work was a difficult task.

Remember SUMMER STOCK?

I don't believe he opened his mouth more than a hundred times. It was nothing. Yet he had the ability to create, through personal experience, a role that made many in the audience remember and refer to him continually.

THREE LITTLE WORDS

...was so annoyed by the "boom, boom" of the music that he stopped his singing to ask me if I was going to cut the buttons off his coat! It was this little scene that really started his public career.

Dr. Kruger

As for his play in Dr. Kruger, I don't think Mr. Carpenter is what you would call a natural. But he certainly did a very good job. He must have been given a lot of advice.

Unsuccessful Basketball Week-End Highlighted By An Owl Named Milky

The Wilkes College basketball team had an unsuccessful week-end as they dropped games to Temple and Ithaca. The Ithaca game on Friday night was close for three quarters as Wilkes led at the half, 32-30, and was trailing by only two points at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

The team ran out of gas in the final stanza and the Ithacans scored 21 points to the Colonels' 12. Hartung and Pettiet were high for Wilkes with 15 and 13, respectively. Howard was high scorer of the game for Ithaca with 17 points.

On Saturday night, Wilkes ran into a man named Milky. Milky scored 20 points, 14 points of the rest of the Temple squad scored an aggregate 25 points. If Milky had been sick or decided to stay home, Wilkes might have had a chance. The Owl may not have any vowels, but he possesses a new in-termediate scoring mark for points scored in one game. He also set a national collegiate record for average points per game.

Jake Bater stated, "What could he do. He faked one way and swish, he was three feet in front of you. What a ball player!"

The man, Milky, wouldn't have seen a record if Wilkes had put up a deep freeze. The Wilkes team apparently decided to give the pa-trons their money's worth. They played at full speed, and Milky set a record.

INTRA-MURAL NEWS...

The Moody Mumbler of the Blue League defeated the Missing Links, the representatives of the Gold League, last Friday night in the Intra-Mural Playoffs. The Blue League scored 42 - 35. Moody Mumbler. Goldman started the Moody Mumbler with 15 points and Morris kept the Missing Links in the battle. The Missing Links were leading at the half, but the McMumblers came back with a rash in the third quarter when they scored 16 points and held the Links to two goals a foul. The referee was Woodfild and John.

Another unit of the Intra-Mural All Star met Wilkes' Jr. before the Harpurr game. Mr. Partridge has announced that the Intra-Mural Volleyball tournament will begin on March 15. Eight teams are scheduled to compete.

Handball, boxball, and tennis are to be introduced into gym classes next week. To date, in-termediate action has been given in basketball, soccer, dodge ball, and volleyball.

LOCAL BLOOD BANK LOW ON ASSETS (TAIN'T FUN MAGEE)

The following letter, received by Dr. Parley from S. Clay Borland, Executive Director of the Wyoming Valley Chapter of the American Red Cross, states simply a situation that exists in fact.

"Any kind of local emergency, such as a train wreck, or flood or extensive fire, would find this area without sufficient blood in stores. The only way the blood bank can be filled is for YOU personally to donate. The letter, in part, reads:

"During the months of January and February, 1961, we have collected only about 50 per cent of the established quota for Wyoming Valley. This can only mean that blood may not be available when needed. The increased quota for the Armed Forces, especially the sending of type O blood to Korea, has made it very difficult to keep any reserve on hand at the Regional Blood Center. In fact, Thursday of this week, Mr. Bowes, Center Administrator, stated that we did not have any type O, AB positive blood in reserve.

THE MANUSCRIPT INVITES

One and all to contribute material for the SPRING MANUSCRIPT. Material may be submitted to any member of the Manuscript Staff or placed in the Manuscript box in the Library.

"The Regional Center is open every Friday from 12:00 noon until 6:00.

"We would greatly appreciate your assistance in interesting members of the Wilkes College faculty and students in participating in the Program and being donors if possible. The age limits are from 18 years through 50 years, however, those 18, 19, and 20 must have a release signed by their parent or guardian. The releases are available at the Center."

HARRY CONOVER TO RECEIVE PICTURES OF BEAUTY CONTEST COEDS NEXT WEEK

By CHUCK GLOMAN

Photographs of the twenty-five Wilkes coeds competing in the 1951 Amnicola Beauty Contest are nearing completion and early next week will be in the hands of model Harry Conover, who will select the Campus Queen and five runners-up.

The delay was due in part to the difficulty of arranging a suitable schedule for the coeds to meet and be photographed. Competing in the contest are Ann Smith, Ann Azat, Lucille Jacques, Ann Belle Perry, Isabel Eckler, Betty Lou Jones, Beryl Colwell, Ruth Carey, Frances Trembath, Irene Janoski, Rita Martin, Florence Kovlack, Carol Ross, Nancy Baer, Joan Yonkaca, Jane Carpenter, Phyllis Deliber, Myra Kortzav, Joan Liberase, Morrie Weltman, Lois Ann Shaw, Mary Way, Phyllis Bogushefski and Elaine Travis.

Candy Jones, wife of the famous model director, wrote Editor Guarra, "Please tell your contestants that it isn't necessary to submit bathing suit photos since Mr. Conover, when judging beauty through photographs, looks for warmth and personality in the smile—a natural, out-of-door, well-scrubbed look and an intelligent sparkle in the eyes rather than glamour and sophistication."

The popular cover girl added that her husband will enjoy participating in the contest since Wilkes-Barre is "too close to both of us. (Candy Jones, native of this city, is a graduate of Meyers High School.)"

In 1950, Conover, himself a model for a New York agency, saw possibilities in the modeling field as a business and decided to start his own agency. Since then, he has helped hundreds of girls (most of whom were college coeds) use modeling as a springboard to a career in movies, radio and television. Famous for the distinctive names he gave his models, the glamorous executive has discovered many well-known magazine covers.
