U. to P. Professor Discusses The Year and Middle East With IRC Members

This morning at 10 o'clock, Dr. "Mike" Kerivan spoke to the Political Geography class at the Political Science Department, which is professor of Economics and Political Geography at the University of Pennsylvania. He has circled the globe three times on a study tour of importance suggested by his "The Middle East," a half hour on his timely subject, and devoted a half hour to questions from his audience. This has been "Mike's" fourth visit here and from all indications, he will be back next year.

On Tuesday at 11 o'clock in Pickering Hall, room 508, Dr. John T. McEachern, general, representative of the U.S. Department of Labor, will lecture on "Labor and Wage and Hour and Public Contracts." The lecture is based on the Fair Labor Standards Act. All business classes are invited to attend this lecture.

Mr. Ted Krohn, chairman of the I.C.C. committee, attended a meeting at King’s College, where delegates from Maryland, Yeshiv, Mishiera, King’s and Wilkes discussed "Economic Aspects of Our Foreign Policy." Plans were made for the Middle Atlantic Conference to be held at Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, Maryland on December 27-29. This conference will be attended by Mr. Krohn, Bill Couster, and Lou Stieck, representatives of the Wilkes I.R.C.

Mr. Louis Bonanni, chairman of the I.G.G. committee, attended a meeting of the staff executive committee, composed of I.C.G. chairmen. Mr. Bonanni also attended several meetings of the I.R.C. chairman, held at Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Plans were made for the April convention which will be a mock national nominating convention on a non-partisan basis.

In answer to many requests from the student body, the I.C.C. releases the following on the workmanship of the campus:

(1) Everyone on the Wilkes campus is entitled to join the I.R.C.

(2) The club is co-ed, and encourages girls to join the I.R.C. activity.

(3) A student who has not attended two consecutive meetings before he is an ex-member.

Wilkes Novice Debating Team Shows Good Form at Temple U. Tournament

Taking up where they left off last year, the Wilkes Debaters continued their winning ways at the Temple Novice Tournament, held Saturday, December 1, at Temple University. The team beat getting the decision, "Wilkes" win over NYU marks the eighth straight time that a Wilkes team has defeated an NYU team in intercollegiate debating, and the win over Brooklyn College marks the fifth time Wilkes has defeated this school, Wilkes has yet to lose a decision to either school.

Dr. Kruger, coach of the Wilkes team, is looking forward to a very successful season. He feels that this year's varsity team, composed of Doris Gates, James Nevaras, John Martin, Fred Davis, and Paul R. Peters, will do well.

The affirmative team of Ray- nevs and Nevaras were rated "very good" and "outstanding" by the Brussels "Gazette," the "Gazette" being the "of the day." In the final debate of the day, the after the word had circulated that Wilkes was the team to "hear," a number of debate coaches from other colleges were on hand to hear the boys against Temple. The decision did not reflect the opinion of those present, nor of the Temple audience itself which magnanimously con- ceded that they had lost the de- bate.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of the BEACON:

Now that my three months' leave of absence from the company in Mexico City is drawing to a close (I leave Monday), I should appreciate your giving me a bit of space in which to express my gratitude for the help I have received from all of you teaching at Wilkes College. They have done much to make my brief stay here a pleasant one as well as a profitable one.

As you remember, I entered the College with a view to learning English and gaining a command of the language much greater than the one I had in September—thanks to my instructors and friends.

I shall ever remember kindly of Wilkes College. Yours sincerely,

Alfonso Tovar

EDITORIAL

AWARDS

Being that this is the week that the Beacon is making awards, we shall carry it a bit further by making a few more imaginary awards.

ORCHIDS

First, we should like to award the Cae 'n Curtin Club an orchid for its sterling performance of Gramercy Ghost. The Beacon makes this award in recognition of the time and effort the club members contributed to making the first major production of this school year a real success.

ROSES

Next, we toss a bouquet of roses to the Olive Debating Team which captured five victories in eight bouts at the Temple University Novice Debating Tournament. The debaters sacrificed much of their Thanksgiving Holiday to be prepared for last Saturday's Tournament.

VIOLETS

Yes, a bunch of violets to the Beacon. We are giving our selves a few posies for contributing to the college a loving cup, a cup which will be inscribed upon it annually the name of the winner of the Beacon Sports Staff selection of the Athlete of the Year.

DAUNDLENS

Fourth, we offer the Administrative and Student Councils a dandelion corsage for its slighting of the budget problem. In less than eight weeks the semester will come to an end. But do we have an approved budget? No.

POISON IVY

The winner of the poison ivy award must remain anonymous. However, the winner knows who he is.

It's due time that organizations stop pointing a finger of guilt toward the Beacon everytime that organization fails to get favorable publicity. At the beginning of the school year the Beacon asked every club to appoint a representative to the Campus paper. Those organizations that answered the Beacon's request are getting satisfactory coverage; those who haven't complied are "moaning the blues."

Colonel Basketball Team Opens Season With a Loss To Harwick

BY DOM YARICO

The Colonel Basketball team opened its 1951-52 season last Saturday evening against N. Y. They dropped the initial tilt to the visiting Engineers by a score of 78 to 55, but were able to gain three points. Wilkes was in the ballgame the whole way until late in the last quarter, when they were completely outclassed. The Indian's average height, four inches to the man became an obstacle to handle. The scrappy Wilkes cagers trailed by only nine points at half time and later climbed to within six markers of the York Staters. But with the help of their 6' 9" center, Zalubsky, the opponents forged ahead to their largest margin and were never overtaken. The big gun for the Blue and Gold was Len Bartroney, who dropped in five goals from the floor and added six charity throws for an evening total of sixteen points. Bartroney is a new recruit from the fine exhibitions put on by John Milliman and Joe Sikora who held down the pivot slot through the contest. Second highest scorer for the Colonels was Bob Benson who played his usual smooth game of basketball while contributing fifteen points to the total of the Colonels. Benson is an outstanding center and the players. The Colonels' defense was not bad either, and the score as it was, 78 to 55, was not so bad. The Colonels will be playing their first home game against the Farmingdale School at 8 p.m. tonight. The home games will be played at the Armory. The team's record last season was 10-7.

Honorable Mention:

First place on honorable mention goes to Al Malosh, co-captain of the football eleven and second baseman of the baseball team. Mighty Mike was a mainstay on defense on the gridiron and second baseman of the base ball team. He broke through the ball field, although he had never played the ball field position previously. Mike came to Wilkes without any football experience, yet he proved to be one of the most colorful men on the field. In baseball, batting, fielding, and general sportsmanship were topped by none. Malosh is in his last year at Wilkes—he's a darn good job.

Second, Zip Crammack, a graduate of last June, Zip played a little football as a guard, but his real worth came on the diamond. The stocky young man led the Wilkes matmen as captain and weighed in at 145 lbs. His record at the close of the season last year stood at 6-0. He was second on the team in runs scored and outweighted by 29 pounds in an exhibition. On top of it all, Zip was a stickler for conditioning—and showed it when he worked on his mechanics in the off season.

Third, Al Nicholas, Al was towered and feathered with injuries this year but still opened up on the football field. In my opinion, Alice's best work was not in athletics. Wilkes is a very big boy. Six feet guys found that out. Mike Malosh is here who could do anything at all with Mouse was a guy named La Rock from Ithaca, but this La Rock hasn't been beaten in so long that they call him Willie Hoppa. Mouse received a summons during wartime and he showed up and couldn't play. And the depth to which he and Malosh were co-captains was not bad either.

For pure speed the Colonels had no equal. Dave Benson, a Mining Engineer, was the sprinter. Out on the basketball diamond he would sail around the bars at a blazing speed. Inside he'd simmer down to a low roar with the same smoothness of a bat ter. Last season he turned in a credible job as a rookie on the basketball team and a terrific job as a rookie on the baseball team.

Cheers to the Boys:

Theatre Is Subject of Library Display

"Actors and Acting" is the subject of the current Library display. Anthologies of modern plays and books on the development of modern drama are being offered for the enlightenment of hopeful thespians. Among the volumes exhibited during the past week were two interesting autobiographies, "Memories of My Life," by Sarah Bernhardt, and "My Life in the Russian Theatre," by Nemirovitch-Dantchenko. The Burns Manuscript series of best plays is also available.

A group of reproductions of paintings by the French artists, Cezanne, have been placed on bulletin boards throughout the library.

A list of library hours is as follows:

- Weekdays: 8 A.M. to 9:30 P.M.
- Fridays: 8-10 P.M.

Students Show Small Interest in Blood Drive

The Freshman Class is leading the school in blood donor pledges! Mr. Partidge announced that about 50 pints of blood have been pledged so far, with a student enrollment of about 600, this doesn’t show much interest in the blood drive.

Students or faculty members who have given blood sometimes this fall are urged to go over to the Blood Center today to report that they have given and want to be counted as members of the Wilkes contingent.

If you are going to donate today, eat a light lunch, passing up milk and fatty foods; tea or coffee will be much better. Sandwiches and tea are served to you after you donate, so you can donate before you eat.

Mr. Partidge spoke at a meeting of the football team on Tuesday morning about our blood drive. He informed the players that the blood donated is not "sold by the Red Cross." He also stated that an average of 9 pints of blood is needed for every wounded soldier. Mr. Balston has given blood three times in the last 18 months. As a result of his speech, the football team has decided to visit the Blood Center as a group at 3:00 today.

Miss Virginia Dann, a Junior at Wilkes, has donated three times this year. She gave on September 27, so she will not be able to participate in this drive. Virginia says that she "felt better after she donated than before." She urges all comrades to join the drive and assures them that "the process won’t affect them in any harmful way."

Today is the tenth anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day. If you want to celebrate this day in a patriotic manner, JOIN THE BLOOD DRIVE!

Sport Dance Sat. Night

Joe Reynolds, Student Council President, announced that a Sport Dance will be held following the basketball game on Saturday, December 8th. The music for the dance will be provided by recordings.

Thatcher, Rosenberg Represents Wilkes At Bucknell Conference

Dr. Thatcher and Dr. Rosen reported on the life of public speaking as well as on the many duties of the school. They reported on their experiences while attending Bucknell University.

During the week of November 23 through December 3, Bucknell University sponsored a conference concerning Middle Eastern affairs. Dr. Thatcher and Dr. Rosen represented our faculty and school.

The topic of discussion was "Current Problems in the Middle East." Representatives of many of the United Nations spoke to those who attended in informal "classes." They were from Iran, Turkey, Egypt, Israel, Great Britain, and our State Department. Among the notables were Miss Dorothy Thompson, a widely known columnist, and Dr. Bayard Dudge.

The discussions ranged in many fields: Political Science, Sociology, Psychology, Religion, Geography, History, Education, Commerce, and Finance.

Dr. Thatcher and Dr. Rosen arrived Friday and Saturday respectively. They traveled by car. Through the courtesy of the school dormitories they were provided rooms. Receptions were held by various campus organizations.
