Junior-Senior Party Tomorrow Night

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTIONS TODAY IN CHASE THEATER UNTIL 2 O'CLOCK

The results of the political race may be seen in Chase this afternoon. Voting began at 8:30 and phone voters are permitted. The number of competitors has increased, with the number of candidates for Student Council now being 12. For a list of those running, see page 8 of this week's Beacon.

Four representatives from each class will be elected. The winners will be announced at 2 o'clock. The next Student Council meeting is scheduled for next week.

The candidates for the election are:

This year's election has been very exciting. As an old saying goes, "The students have always been a bit more professional in their selections."

The candidates will be announced tomorrow afternoon. The winners will be chosen based on their grades and school activities.

11 POPULAR GIRLS SELECTED AS CANDIDATES FOR COMING CINDERTella

As announced early this week, eleven candidates have been selected for the Cinderella Ball. The choices of different clubs on campus vary the candidates and the students are then permitted to vote on them.

The eleven girls selected to run are:

The candidates will be announced tomorrow afternoon. The winners will be chosen based on their grades and school activities.

GREAT SEASON FOR DEBATERS; PRINCETON, HARVARD, PENN, RUTGERS AMONG ADVERSARIES

BY PAUL B. BEERS

Wilkes would hardly dare challenge the University of Pennsylvania, or Navy, or even Rutgers in football, but we beat them all in debating. The forthcoming debate will take place on February 27th.

Our Debating Society is located in the student union, where we debate on a broad range of topics.

We participated in three tournaments. In the N.Y.U. Hall of Fame, we defeated a team from Harvard, and we scored a victory against a team from the University of Pennsylvania, winning 6-3 by a majority of votes.

The debate took place in the main hall of the student union, where we debated on a broad range of topics.

The debate was won by a majority of votes, as we debated on a broad range of topics.

The debate was won by a majority of votes, as we debated on a broad range of topics.

FASHIONABLE TDR ENJOYS SUCCESS

Tuesday evening found the Gym transformed into a glamorous fashion show, as Wilkes opened its 1953-54 season of excelling excitement.

The show was sponsored by the Junior Class, and we were dressed in the latest fashions of the season. The costumes were designed by students, and the lighting and music added to the atmosphere.

An attendance of almost two hundred attended the show, and the students were dressed in the latest fashions of the season.

The scene was set in the main hall of the student union, where we debated on a broad range of topics.

The debate was won by a majority of votes, as we debated on a broad range of topics.

The debate was won by a majority of votes, as we debated on a broad range of topics.

CHEMISTS ATTEND KING'S MEETING

Both the students and the faculty of the Wilkes College Chemistry Department attended the Annual Intercollegiate Chemistry Club Conference sponsored by the King's College Chemical Society.

This year the conference included a lecture by Dr. E. M. Wadlau, who spoke on "Science, Art, and the Sciences in Today's World."

The conference was held in the main hall of the student union, where we debated on a broad range of topics.

The debate was won by a majority of votes, as we debated on a broad range of topics.

The debate was won by a majority of votes, as we debated on a broad range of topics.
GENTLEMEN, a joke

"How about a kiwi?"

"Sure, I have scruples.

"That's what I mean by having scruples."

The Long was walking in the woods one day when he came across a cat dressed in a bathing suit. "Say," said the Long, "there's no ocean here, let alone any water to drink."

"Sure," replied the cat, "but I'm the crazy beach."

---

"May I have another cookie?"

"Another cookie, please.

"Please, mother.

"Please, mother what?"

"Please, mother, may I have another cookie?"

"Hell no, you've had six already."

The sunrick lightly trickled through eyes into the crystal pool. Odysseus awoke, wiped the salt water from his eyes, and peered cautiously over the edge of the bush. There, in the stillness of the pool, he noticed her little body bending to and fro as she dipped lines into the campus McGregor. The vigorous reaction ended quickly, mind the pink marble. For some minutes the Wanderer sat spellbound, his eyes riveted to the swaying body. Then he lost his tongue, for he could no longer hold his peace. "Gosh," he hissed, "double-jointed.

---

Zoe Visitor: "Where are the mothballs?"

"Keep 'em in the back in the pantry, honey.""Visitors: "Would you come out for peanuts?"

"Want some peanuts?"

---

Well-dressed man, cigar in rolling, can't tell with the air from an airplane. "That wasn't the washroom after all."

I drink to your health. After all my worries, you can make me laugh and get up close to me. I drink to my health when I'm alone. I drink to your health, honey. I've damned near ruined my own.

A man in a bar noticed a Mob cop, shoving down glass after glass of beer as fast as she could be served. She reached out with her hand for the next beer while the first one was still half full. "The god damn thing is huge, you know," the Mobster on the shoulder. "Hey, she asked, "is that any way to drink beer?"

"Sure I answered the Mobster, "Can't do it any other way since my accident."

"What happened?"

"Man," answered the Mobster as she paled at the memory, "I once had a glass of beer knocked over."

---

Sheldon in the living room, cleaning his sword. "How much broadened Sheldon's mind."

He: "Darling your eyes are like deep pools of sparkling water; your lips are like little red rosebuds wet with the morning dew; your teeth are as white as the heart's pearl; but you have the darndest looking nose."

I have never seen on anything except an African antetser."

"Daddy, don't the witches make their brew anymore?"

"Sure, only now they call it coffee."

"Governmental""Government: "But you're HEER."

"You're Governmental."

"I'm the government, why?"

"I'm not sure, but I'm not with a change," she said with a snobbish smile.

"Oh, a thousand parodius," she said. "I didn't know your condition."

---

STUDENTS REACTED VIGOROUSLY, SPEEDILY ON AMENDMENT

Prompt action on the part of the assembled students cleared up the controversy engendered by the Student Council's announcement that the proposed Nevers Amendment was designed "to protect the students from subversion". Realizing the dangers inherent in investigating am- biguous legislation, the general academic freedom plays in our society, a quickly-formed coalition including such divergent elements as the leaders of last semester's Students for Ike and Volunteers for Stevenson, the intellectuals of Post's Corner, and the middle-class Beers' Mob, quickly (1) wrote a BEACON editorial condemning the resolution, (2) drafted an amendment to the proposed resolution, and (3) contacted the Student Council in order to clarify the situation.

The amendment is designed to limit the fact that a misinterpretation on the part of some members of the Council of Nevers' intent in sponsoring the resolution. Realizing the dangers inherent in investigating am- biguous legislation, the general academic freedom plays in our society, a quickly-formed coalition including such divergent elements as the leaders of last semester's Students for Ike and Volunteers for Stevenson, the intellectuals of Post's Corner, and the middle-class Beers' Mob, quickly (1) wrote a BEACON editorial condemning the resolution, (2) drafted an amendment to the proposed resolution, and (3) contacted the Student Council in order to clarify the situation.

The amendment is designed to limit the fact that a misinterpretation on the part of some members of the Council of Nevers' intent in sponsoring the resolution. Realizing the dangers inherent in investigating am- biguous legislation, the general academic freedom plays in our society, a quickly-formed coalition including such divergent elements as the leaders of last semester's Students for Ike and Volunteers for Stevenson, the intellectuals of Post's Corner, and the middle-class Beers' Mob, quickly (1) wrote a BEACON editorial condemning the resolution, (2) drafted an amendment to the proposed resolution, and (3) contacted the Student Council in order to clarify the situation.

The amendment is designed to limit the fact that a misinterpretation on the part of some members of the Council of Nevers' intent in sponsoring the resolution. Realizing the dangers inherent in investigating am- biguous legislation, the general academic freedom plays in our society, a quickly-formed coalition including such divergent elements as the leaders of last semester's Students for Ike and Volunteers for Stevenson, the intellectuals of Post's Corner, and the middle-class Beers' Mob, quickly (1) wrote a BEACON editorial condemning the resolution, (2) drafted an amendment to the proposed resolution, and (3) contacted the Student Council in order to clarify the situation.
Colonels Still Seeking First Victory

By WALT CHAPKO

Saturday afternoon will see a strong Susquehanna team visit Kirby Park. Last season Susquehanna beat Wilkes 7-6 at Selingrove in their only meeting. The Wilkes players remember the beautiful outdoor May day a few years ago.

The Wilkesmen were entertained by elegant girls dancing in long gowns, rustic couples dancing to fiddle music, a grand parade of beauties aspiring for the May Crown; after this entertainment, the Wilkes team was also treated to a beating by the Susquehanna boys! Maybe we can't put on such a grand display at Wilkes, but we can at least return the beat- ing. See you at the game.

Tuesday afternoon the Colonels traveled to Williamsport and were upset by a fast-moving Lycoming nine, 7-5. Wilkes fell behind by 2 runs in the first inning and never caught up. Lycoming scored for a 14-3 shellacking by Wilkes at Williamsport last year. Coach Partidge made many changes in his line-up but failed to come home with a victory.

"Boozer" Davis was shifted from third to second, Batroney was moved from second to short, Trou-k from left field to third base, and "Guadalcanal Joe" was put behind the plate. Freshman Jim Kachinski came through in fine style with two hits. The new combination started to click in the late innings.

1953 Baseball Schedule

April
25—Susquehanna University H
28—Cornell STC H
May
2—Cornell STC S
5—Emory University S
8—Rider College S
15—Bucks County STC H
16—Bloomington STC H
23—Stroudsburg STC S
29—Allbright College H
Home; A-away; n-night

SPECIAL PRICE ON TUNES

John B. Stetz
Expert Clothier
57 & 59 MAIN ST., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

There's lots of excitement around the dance floor—greeting old friends, making new ones. Part of the fun of campus parties is the pause to enjoy a Coke. It's delicious...refreshing, too.

MUSIC LOVERS

Students interested in second concerts (all types of music) are requested to bring suggestions to Dr. Kitchin in the "suggestion box" in the library or to contact Mr. Sheldon Schreiber, head of the music department, and work and also your preference for time.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
KEystone BOTTLING COMPANY © 1953, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

THE QUICK JIMBO

The quick Jimbo
Lots of excitement around the dance floor—greeting old friends, making new ones. Part of the fun of campus parties is the pause to enjoy a Coke. It's delicious...refreshing, too.

AUGUST MARRIAGE FOR ALEX CATRHO

As announced last week, Alex Catrhop and Carol Wallace will be married this August 29. Carol, a former dorm student here and a member of the cheerleaders, lives in Albuquerque, N. M. Alex, a prominent campus leader, is a junior and lives in Huntington Station, N. Y.

The couple plans to live here in Wilkes-Barre until Alex graduates in 1964. He will then get a commission as an ensign in the U. S. Navy.

PETE WURM FACES JUNE MARRIAGE

The other day senior Peter Wurm announced his coming marriage "sometime in June" to Miss Sheila Shutter of Philadelphia. Pete, a dorm student, has spent three years at Wilkes, winning one season. He is also a member of the band and Club of Court. His freshman year was spent at Upsala University.

Colonel Sport Shorts...

Tailback Bill Verold tied quarter- back Eddie Davis for scoring leadership on the 1952 Colonel football team. Both men scored 30 points, or 3 touchdowns. Bill Fitzgerald was third with 18 points, 12 of which were kicked in with 12. Howie Gross scored 9, and the next three tied for 5.

Music lovers interested in second concerts (all types of music) are requested to bring suggestions to Dr. Kitchin in the library or to contact Mr. Sheldon Schreiber, head of the music department, and work and also your preference for time.

JORDAN

Est. 1871

Men's Furnishings and Hats of Quality

9 West Market Street
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

FOSTER'S

(formally)
Esquire Menswear

* 75 South Washington Street
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

SAFE AT HOME! You'll get home promptly as planned with all-weather certainty no other travel can match. Consult your local railroad ticket agent well in advance of departure date for detailed information.

EASTERN RAILROADS
PERCIVAL-MATHILDA, LIBRARY LOVERS

About 8 o'clock there was a rustle of paper and out of the circulation file jumped Percival, the Library mouse. He didn't jump very fast or far and at first I thought he had overeaten.

"Squawk," said Percival slowly as he jumped upon the charging machine, barely making it.

"What in the world sits you!" I asked.

Percival sat down and leaned his head on one paw. "It's spring," he said dreamily.

"Flipping," he repeated, "and spring has the same affect on mice as anyone else."

"Oh," I said, "I didn't know. But Percy, old boy, don't tell me you're falling in love."

"You," replied Percival, his little black eye starring in no space.

"Percy," I replied, "aren't you being a little corny?"

Percival gave me a hurt look. "You don't understand. You have never met Mathilda."

"Mathilda? No, I don't believe I have. Does she live in the library?"

"No, Mathilda is a field mouse."

I met her while spending last week end in the country. You know, it sort of presents a problem, too."

"How do you mean?"

"You see, it's like this. Mathilda has always lived in the country and I'm not sure if she will like living in the library. You know how much noise those students make. Mathilda is very sensitive about noises."

"She hasn't been to the library yet?"

"No, she is planning to come next week-end though, and I'll tell you all about it the next time I see you. But I've got to be going now."

Percival disappeared almost as fast as he came.

"That certainly was abrupt," I thought. "But then I guess under the circumstances you can't expect him to act much different. He is lucky he doesn't have to mix study ing with his remaining, like the rest sitting at the table in the study room. In such cases one probably does well at neither and the studying probably suffers most."

At the age of 58 Pudge Heffelfinger, who starred in football at Yale and is one of the all-time greats, played 88 minutes in a pro game.