POSTERS, PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM, SPEECHES FEATURED IN SPIRITED ELECTION CAMPAIGN

NEVERS ATTENDS EXECUTIVE MEETING

BY DAVE PHILLIPS

Jim Nevers, who was elected to the office of Vice President of Pennsylvania College of Technology at the close of last week, attended this week’s executive meeting of the State I.C. at Cambria. At the previous meeting arrangements for the central regional meeting were made. It was decided that the club duties would be 12:30 per hour and should be paid.

It was also decided that Wilkes College will host the regional meeting; this is to be held at a later date than previous years. Wilkes is expected to host the meeting.

The location of the next PAIC executive meeting will be held at the University of Pennsylvania. Under consideration as speakers for this meeting are President A. W. D. Huff, Governor Fine, and Senator Woodworth.

The PAIC has adopted a bicentennial year celebration in connection with the bicentennial year celebration of the University of Pennsylvania. This year the bicentennial year celebration of the University of Pennsylvania will be held.

The final PAIC executive meeting will be held December 12th at Harrisburg.

Mr. Miller, Miss Hopkins

Mr. Miller, who succeeded Mr. George Erwin on September 15, is an active member of the Homecoming Week. Members of his committee are: Joseph Conroy, '45, William Kryger 44, Jeannine Kocyan 45, Gene Mayock 61, Dan Williams 48.

Other activities on the agenda for the Alumni during their Homecoming weekend include a coffee hour, a talk by Dr. Farly, a business meeting, a tour of the campus, a party at the Kingston House, and it is hoped a preview of the play "Beyond the Veil." This play will be presented at the Irem Club on November 25 for the purpose of raising scholarship funds.

ACTIVITIES SCHEDULE

Tuesday, Oct. 20: Orchestra Practice

Thursday, Oct. 15: Soccer Game

Friday, Oct. 16: Dance, Chamber Group;

Saturday, Oct. 17: Football, Homecoming Game

Next Assembly Speaker

The purpose of this week’s program is to recognize the outstanding student leaders. The program is under the direction of Mr. Partridge, and intends to take several courses in the field.

"A farm is a bank of land on which, if you get up early enough in the morning and work late enough at night, you’ll make a fortune—if you strike oil!"

One of the most interesting and exciting election seasons came to a close last week in the offices of the College. The choice of the President was a difficult one as it appeared to many that the candidates were well equipped for the position.

The choice in many cases was a difficult one as it appeared to many that the candidates were well equipped for the position.

THE END.
The Editor wishes to apologize to Mr. Jim Dull. It was reported in last week's Beacon that Jim was a Junior, to be called a Junior, is an error among errors. We're sorry.

The Faculty

The Wilkes College faculty has undergone a major change in personnel this spring. Virginia Payne, the oldest member of the English department, accepted a position at Blackburn Junior College and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.

The Wilkes faculty is not the only one to accept a new position. Miss Alice Anderson accepted a position at Belknap Junior College, and received her B.A. from Emory and Henry College in West Virginia, after which she studied at the YWCA Graduate School in Nashville, Tenn. Returning to Blackburn Junior College, Miss Neil taught English and served as director of student activities. While at Blackburn, Miss Neil continued her graduate study which was centered at the School of Higher Education. After receiving her Master's degree from graduate school in Nashville, Miss Neil went to Washington, D.C., where she was associated with the Field Service of the National Education Association. Miss Neil is a member of the general public relations work for the N.E.A., Dr. Neil also edited a N.E.A. publication, The Education News.
NJURY JINX REPEATS, WILKES LOSES SECOND; CROSS INJURED, BUT GRONKA SCORES AGAIN

By THOMAS KASKA

The Colonels grid machine collapsed again, last week. This time it was at the hands of a spirited Lebanon College. For the Wilkesmen it was a repeat performance of the Bloomsburg tandem. The blue and gold Repelled the air with upset flavor but disintegrated when Howie Gronka, controller of the big Bloomsburg backfield, showed up.

The Lebanonites grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second period and held that edge halftime. An up-sets impossible, the machine was working. Paul Gronka turned in the finest performance for an end ever witnessed in eight years of Wilkes football. His quick and accurate diagnoses of plays consistently upset the Lebanon offensive setup. Fullback George Petrides and Wingback Ronnie Fitzgerald brilliantly stemmed gain after gain on the ground, as the Wilkes offense rolled.

But the Colonels injury jinx caused the machine to sputter. Gronka, after hitting the Wilkesmen to their first score, interpreted a Sorren- to Musselman and was in- jured on the tackle. The team fell apart.

With Gronka out of the line, the down state eleven came alive. Sparked by the brilliant quarter- backing of Lou Sorren- ton and the Flying Dutchmen whipped up the game and put in the two TD's and a safety in the second half.

Colonels Move First: At the half, the Colonels led, the period, the local eleven took command. George Wilkes and Ronnie Fitzgerald alternated on the ground, the Colonels piled up the scores and had the ball.

Boozer Win Streak Haltered By Strowdush, 2-0

The victory streak of the Wilkes College soccer team was broken by a 2-0 defeat at the hands of Wyoming Valley College last Wednesday. The Wilkes booters went down to defeat by a score of 2-0. Thus ended the long victory streak of one win which the Colonels started last Saturday by beating Rider College 3-1.

Strowdush fielded an exceptionally strong team. This same team defeated Lafayette last Saturday 5-1.

One goal incident occurred in the game when Lee Hill of the Teachers collided with Ahmed Ka-

BATTLING BOOTERS

Wilkes Vs. Hofstra At Home Next Week

The highlight of next weekend’s homecoming celebration will be Saturday night’s Wilkes-Hofstra football game at Kingdon Stadium.

One of the largest crowds in Wyoming Valley football history is expected to be on hand for this second meeting of the two teams. Wilkes was nipped in the first meeting between the two teams last season at Hemp- sted, L. I., 20-13.

The kickoff is scheduled for 8:15 and students and alumni are ad- vised to get to the West Side early to avoid the run.

The game will mark the second appearance of the Colonels for George Bal- ton’s Colonels.

WBBF-TELEVISION SHOWS WILKES SPORTS FILM

Several football and soccer films have been shown on WBBF-TV, local NBC-TV outlet in the past two weeks and more are scheduled for the future.

Portions of the Wilkes-Blooms- burg and Wilkes-Lebanon football contests and the Wilkes-Strowdush soccer tilt were featured on the films.

The Bloomburg film was shown on Jim McCarthy’s Sports Review series. The Lebanon Valley film was shown last Sunday afternoon, the 4th, on Franklin D. Colett’s Motor Tunes news program.

The soccer film is done by Jack Curtis of the college public relations staff.

Motion pictures of the Ithaca game tonight are expected to be telecast either Sunday or Monday evening.

To Be Well Informed - Observe Library Board

All students should make a habit of reading the postings on the bulletin boards in the library.

Lettermen’s Project

LETTERMEN’S RAFFLE:

First Prize: 2 Tickets to the Army-Navy Game.

Second Prize: 2 tickets to the Plymouth-Providence game.

Third Prize: 20 pound turkeys.

Drawing will be held at Wilkes Bridgeport football game which will be played November 14, 1952.

JINX REPEATS, WILKES LOSES SECOND; CROSS INJURED, BUT GRONKA SCORES AGAIN

The Colonels grid machine collapsed again, last week. This time it was at the hands of a spirited Lebanon College. For the Wilkesmen it was a repeat performance of the Bloomsburg tandem. The blue and gold Repelled the air with upset flavor but disintegrated when Howie Gronka, controller of the big Bloomsburg backfield, showed up.

The Lebanonites grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second period and held that edge halftime. An up- sets impossible, the machine was working. Paul Gronka turned in the finest performance for an end ever witnessed in eight years of Wilkes football. His quick and accurate diagnoses of plays consistently upset the Lebanon offensive setup. Fullback George Petrides and Wingback Ronnie Fitzgerald brilliantly stemmed gain after gain on the ground, as the Wilkes offense rolled.

But the Colonels injury jinx caused the machine to sputter. Gronka, after hitting the Wilkesmen to their first score, interpreted a Sorren- to Musselman and was in- jured on the tackle. The team fell apart.

With Gronka out of the line, the down state eleven came alive. Sparked by the brilliant quarter- backing of Lou Sorren- ton and the Flying Dutchmen whipped up the game and put in the two TD's and a safety in the second half.

Colonels Move First: At the half, the Colonels led, the period, the local eleven took command. George Wilkes and Ronnie Fitzgerald alternated on the ground, the Colonels piled up the scores and had the ball.

Boozer Win Streak Haltered By Strowdush, 2-0

The victory streak of the Wilkes College soccer team was broken by a 2-0 defeat at the hands of Wyoming Valley College last Wednesday. The Wilkes booters went down to defeat by a score of 2-0. Thus ended the long victory streak of one win which the Colonels started last Saturday by beating Rider College 3-1.

Strowdush fielded an exceptionally strong team. This same team defeated Lafayette last Saturday 5-1.

One goal incident occurred in the game when Lee Hill of the Teachers collided with Ahmed Ka-

Boozer Win Streak Haltered By Strowdush, 2-0

The victory streak of the Wilkes College soccer team was broken by a 2-0 defeat at the hands of Wyoming Valley College last Wednesday. The Wilkes booters went down to defeat by a score of 2-0. Thus ended the long victory streak of one win which the Colonels started last Saturday by beating Rider College 3-1.

Strowdush fielded an exceptionally strong team. This same team defeated Lafayette last Saturday 5-1.

One goal incident occurred in the game when Lee Hill of the Teachers collided with Ahmed Ka-

Boozer Win Streak Haltered By Strowdush, 2-0

The victory streak of the Wilkes College soccer team was broken by a 2-0 defeat at the hands of Wyoming Valley College last Wednesday. The Wilkes booters went down to defeat by a score of 2-0. Thus ended the long victory streak of one win which the Colonels started last Saturday by beating Rider College 3-1.

Strowdush fielded an exceptionally strong team. This same team defeated Lafayette last Saturday 5-1.

One goal incident occurred in the game when Lee Hill of the Teachers collided with Ahmed Ka-
The Crowning was the highlight of "Operation Red Feather" which was the college's first affair of a series to be held for the purpose of raising funds for the 1963 Wyoming Valley Community Chest Drive.

Miss Dearden resided at 18 Lawson St., Wilkes-Barre. She was accompanied by Jerry Elias also a Junior. A committee composed of two Student Council members: Wayne Madden, president and Art Hooper, and the president of the Sophomore class, James McGuire, and Neil Zadoro, freshman class representative, chose Miss Dearden as queen.

Wayne Madden crowned Miss Dearden as Red Feather Queen. As queen, Miss Dearden will preside over the Wilkes College Red Feather Drive.

Chapter 20 Strives For Dignity, Decorum

By T. R. PRICE

There are on campus several organizations, amorphous in nature, loyal in commentary, notified if not exactly loved for their frankness. They are composed of those rare souls who think.

Amongst them are the Poet's Corner, Bier's Mob, and Chapter 20, of which we will speak.

Of the several groups, Chapter 20 is perhaps the least seen and least heard, and is certainly one of the least influential groups, both socially and politically, on campus.

One of the principles of the Chapter is the proliferation of dignity and decorum on campus—to no small degree.

By no particular effort of its own, but merely by the free expression of its ideas and ideals, the Chapter has become one of the important informal intellectual forces for personal freedom and dignity and for the suppression of the animosity or pomposity that is all too rampant at times among us.

It is the heartfelt aim and desire of Chapter 20 to advance the efforts of the campus in gaining a reputation for personal endeavor and general intellectual advancement. In view of this, it maintains its right to criticise, and its right to question, and its right to rebuff, and its right to retort and its right to ridicule and its right to censure and its right to censure and its right to censure and its right to censure and its right to censure.

In a green little way.

The green little grasses
Now tenderly wave
Over the green little chemist's Green little grave.

Students Invited to Join Economics Club

By LOIS LONG

Now is the time to grow some roots and help start a chapter of the Econo-
gia in a growing organization. Why not join the Economics Club? Now don't get me wrong. This is not the place of a falling organization. Quite the contrary. We're growing a one, but it's just a way of finding an idea and sharing an idea with you who would like to join us.

The Economics Club has some big plans outlined for the ensuing year, the first being an affair for all the members (we wouldn't mind a few non-members, too). It will be a winning that Alumni Association's department of economics and that we will take place in the Great Hall of Community and Finance.

Proving we do not only socialize, we next intend to conduct a forum concerning, not the safer tails when you do not discuss with us, but we do intend to discuss a very pertinent question pertaining to the Valley and this is in: The Effect of Oil on the Coal Industry and Wyoming Valley. In other words, Coal versus Oil. I was told to do six to eight hours worth and I'm not sure if I'll be able to, so as we're discussing the forum, YOU ALL ARE INVITED TO ATTEND. I guess I dropped word enough for you to go and learn more about this letter.

Not only do politics go to the Washington. The Economics Club is gathering there too. And you know one of our biggest affairs of the year. As I was saying... All you Wandering Economics Wonderers?

Chapter Candids

Ed Grognon on "crooning": I just started doing it last year. I could croon all day and like it.

If a man wants his wife to feel good about herself, he should take her downtown to the luxury of Dublin.

Now till next year", The battle cry of the... what is the name of that team... The Phils! No... Yes, the DODGERS!

After rezoning one of Miss Dearden's residence it was mistaken for the South Dakota Pappy was heard to say, "It's all right, Miss Dewey's, even my neighbors in the stars like when I eat three grapes for breakfast.

Mike Lewis... You must admit, my voice is better than hers, the same tone..." I don't know what kind of a reason to tell people that, and I don't think I will.

Nick Flannery, Jim Dunn, Mike Lewis...three stout fellows, indeed. all of whom had something on the spelling of his name as "Chin" or his name spelled in all right, just as long as I get my name in the paper."

Dr. Herbert C. Mayer Assembly Speaker On Tuesday, October 20

On October 20, Dr. Herbert C. Mayer, President of American University, will address the university, presumably concerning the topic, "America, Be Yourself." Dr. Mayer will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges. He will discuss the role of the American college in the national and world and in the field of education. Dr. Mayer has had the background and experience in his experiences with varied problems qualify him as an able observer and a capable commentator on the events that are happening today. He is widely known as a writer and public speaker of unusual ability. According to present plans, Dr. Mayer will be on campus for three days. In addition to speaking in American and in the colloquium classes,