

"APRIL SHOWERS" TONIGHT

Wilkes Two-Man Debate Team Seeks Top National Honors at West Point

The Wilkes debate team of Fred Roberts, a junior from Dallas, and Bruce Warshal, a senior from Pittston, left Wednesday for West Point in quest of the national debating championship. They were accompanied by their coach, Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, Associate Professor of English and Director of Forensics at Wilkes.

The Wilkes team qualified for the nationals by surviving the District 7 Elimination Tourney. Other District 7 representatives include Princeton, George Washington, Navy, and Penn. A total of 36 teams from all over the United States are vying for national honors at West Point. Opening contests began yesterday morning.

In keeping with the importance of the event, the National Tournament is the longest and most grueling debate tournament in the country, calling for real endurance as well as skill. During Thursday and Friday each team debates eight times on the national collegiate debate topic of compulsory unionism, four affirmative and four negative, with strength being paired against strength after the second round.

Tonight at the Tournament Banquet, held annually at Collum Hall, the top sixteen teams will be announced. Tomorrow eliminations will continue for four more rounds, with one team finally emerging as the national champion. Automatically invited back to defend the crown it won last year will be Augustana College of Illinois.

Wilkes entered the nationals with an impressive record of 37 wins and 6 losses, compiled in such tournaments as Johns Hopkins, Harvard, and Boston. At Boston, Wilkes defeated three District 8 representatives, Dartmouth, MIT, and Eastern Nazarene, as well as Princeton, winner of this year's District 7 tourney.

This year marks the fourth in the last five that Wilkes has won the distinction of competing at the Point. In 1955 the Wilkes team of James Neveras and J. Harold Flannery, Jr., placed second in the nation, dropping a 5-4 decision to Alabama in the twelfth and final round. Last year John Bucholtz and Jesse Choper of Wilkes placed ninth in the standings and second in team points. Neveras, Flannery, and Choper won watches for their outstanding performances, Choper placing third in the individual rankings last year.

In preparation for their forthcoming test, Wilkes worked out on Sunday with the University of Pennsylvania, the only other Pennsylvania team to qualify. The Penn team employs the same techniques and style of debating developed by Dr. Kruger. Both teams have enjoyed great success this year, with Penn succeeding Wilkes as the winner of the Harvard Tournament.

RETAILERS ELECT

Three juniors were elected as officers of the Wilkes Retailing Group at a meeting of that organization last Thursday in Pickering Hall.

George Schall, from Kingston, was elected Co-ordinator; Beverly Gates, from Hazleton, was elected Secretary; and Bob Dominick, from Plains Township, was elected Treasurer.

ELEVEN CINDERELLA CANDIDATES CHOSEN

Eleven senior coeds have been selected by members of the student body to represent their class at the annual Cinderella Ball scheduled for Friday, May 9. The affair, sponsored by the Student Council will be formal, the only dance of its type during the spring semester.

Campus lovelies who will compete for the much coveted title which will be bestowed upon the lucky winner in a campus-wide contest include, alphabetically: Virginia Brehm, Marilyn Carl, Carolyn Goeringer, Virginia Leonardi, Theresa Mazzarella, Judy Menegus, Linda Passarelli, Maryan Powell, Peggy Stevens, Mary West, and Ruth Younger.

Ed Kotula, Council President, has announced that John B. Stetz of Wilkes-Barre has notified him that Wilkes students can rent tuxedos at his clothing store below the usual cost.

Jack Melton and his orchestra will provide music for the formal from nine until one. Tickets for the affair are being sold for only two dollars per couple.

COUNCIL ELECTIONS THURSDAY AT CHASE

Ed Kotula, President of the Student Council, has announced that Student Council elections will be held next Thursday, May 1, in Chase Theater. Nominees seeking election to represent the various classes will present their nomination speeches at next Tuesday's Assembly.

Freshmen seeking election to the council are: Nick Gatto, Bob Amey, Bob Sanders, Bill Davis, Sandy Unger, Martha Menegus, Jean Schall and Judy Alinkoff.

Kotula has urged all students to support their classes in the forthcoming election.

CUE 'N' CURTAIN TRIP

The members of Cue 'n' Curtain made a trip to New York City, Saturday, March 22, to see "The Three Penny Opera" at the Theatre de Lys in Greenwich Village.

After the performance the group visited several places of interest in the city.

Members taking the trip were: Pat Ide, Arlene Martin, Marian Laines, Virginia Lyons, Cleidith Miller, Paul Abrams, Steve Cooney, George Richards, Robbie Stevens.

On April 21 three members of Cue 'n' Curtain, Steve Poleskie, Fred Malkemes, and Eugene Price, participated in a program at Wyoming High School. The three were judges of three one-act plays presented by the high school students.

Lilac Time to be Theme Of Annual Semi-Formal; Herbie Green Will Play

by Jim Eidam

A long-awaited event, the Lettermen's April Showers Ball, will be held tonight in the Wilkes gymnasium, which is brilliantly decorated for the occasion. The semi-formal dance will begin at nine o'clock and will feature the music of Herbie Green and his orchestra. Tickets, at three dollars per couple, will be available at the door for those persons who have not already purchased them. A no-corsage ruling will be in effect.

HAMPTON TO VISIT WILKES NEXT WEEK

by Marion J. Klawonn

The annual Hampton Exchange program will be completed next weekend when a delegation of Hampton students will visit the Wilkes campus. The program entails an exchange of students for one weekend during the spring semester.

Mim Thompson, Lynn Goeringer, Judy Richardson, Arlene Martin, Stan Novak, Ed Kotula and Gordon Roberts represented Wilkes at Hampton during the weekend of April 11.

The students involved in this exchange visit for a weekend and get an opportunity to see the other college. The main purpose of the exchange is to promote brotherhood between the southern college and Wilkes.

The Hampton delegation will be feted to a round of activities while at Wilkes. They will attend a special dinner sponsored by the Inter-Dormitory Council, who planned the activities. The delegation will attend the IDC dance on Friday, May 2, and will be the guests of Dr. Farley at his farm on Saturday. On Saturday evening they will attend a party to be held in their honor at Sterling Hall. Miss Joan Rishkofski heads the planning committee.

TDR Nominees Chosen

Theta Delta Rho officers and a special nominating committee composed of two representatives from each class have nominated the following for TDR executive offices:

President: Pat Bedeski, Mary Homan, Pat Yost.

Vice-president: Fran Bishop, Moncey Miller, Judy Richardson.

Treasurer: Barbara Bachman, Pat Fushek, Ellen Kemp.

Secretary: Pat Bellardinelli, Vicky Kovacs, Martha Menegus, Sandra Schaffer, Sandra Ungar.

Elections will be held on Monday, May 5, from 11 to 1 in the Commons. All TDR members are requested to cast their ballots at that time.

FREE FILM THURSDAY

The French Department will show the movie "Letters from My Windmill" (Les lettres de mon moulin) Thursday, May 1 at 11 A.M., 3 P.M., and 7:30 P.M. in Stark Hall (rear 154 South River Street), Room 116. All three showings will be open to the public. No admission fee will be charged.

The decorations at the gym will feature a general springtime theme, with a real fountain in the middle of the floor. Mint green and yellow crepe paper will adorn the ceiling, and the background, created by Walt Glogowski, will adhere to the theme of "Lilac Time".

The Lettermen have announced that a watch will be presented during intermission to a queen to be selected by the officers and the senior members of the club. The watch has been presented for the occasion through the courtesy of Kay Jewelers, South Main Street.

The following chairmen have been actively engaged with their respective committees during the past weeks to help make tonight's affair as successful as those in previous years. General co-chairmen Mike Goobic and Bernie Raddecki have been assisted by the following committee chairmen — Decorations, Sam Puma and Ray Yanchus; Programs, Art Richards; Tickets, Gil Gregory and John Harvey; Refreshments, Carl Havira; Chaperones, George Gacha; Publicity, Rodger Lewis; and Backdrop, Walt Glogowski.

Members of Theta Delta Rho have assisted the Lettermen by decorating the tables with special favors and arrangements. Women of the sorority will also be on hand at the door tonight to sell the tickets and take care of the cloakroom.

Members of the Lettermen's Club wish to express their thanks to Kay Jewelers for the watch they donated, and to TDR for their assistance in decorating.

COLLEGE POLICY

It is college policy that students at Wilkes take courses on campus and in the order prescribed by the catalog. When it is in the interest of the student and the college, courses may be taken at other institutions. But in this contingency the student must obtain the consent of the graduation committee. Without this consent no credit will be allowed for work taken at other institutions, while the student is enrolled at Wilkes College.

It is contrary to College policy for regularly enrolled day students to take courses in the Evening School. Exceptional circumstances may make it desirable for the Deans, with endorsement of the faculty advisor, to grant permission for day students to take evening courses.

NOTICE

There will be a BEACON meeting today at noon on the third floor of 159 South Franklin Street.

EDUCATION CONFERENCE WILL MEET HERE TODAY

The Northeastern District Department of Classroom Teachers of the Pennsylvania State Education Association will sponsor a conference on Wilkes campus today from 9 A.M. to 3:15 P.M. Prospective and practicing teachers will attend the conference to exchange ideas and to discuss the opportunities and problems of education. The future teachers hope to gain inspiration and information from the close contact with experienced people.

Mrs. Margaret Morris of Kingstons, President of the Northeastern District, is general chairman of the conference. Wilkes students aiding in the arrangements are: Margaret Jones, president of the Wilkes Education Club; Naoma Kaufer, coffee hour and registration; Rita Matis-kella, guides; and Nancy Bonham and Barbara Bachman, posters.

The program for the day is as follows:

- 9:00-10:00 A.M. Registration and a Coffee Hour
- 10:00-11:00 A.M. Lectures in Stark Hall with welcome from Dr. Farley
- 11:15-12:30 P.M. Discussion Group Meetings
- 1:00-2:00 P.M. Luncheon
- 2:00-3:00 P.M. Discussion groups reconvene
- 3:15 P.M. Meeting of Students Education Association of Pennsylvania, Northeast District.

Subject: The River Common

Students are reminded that the River Common area is not Wilkes College property.

In the early Spring, the City Park Commission extends great effort in seeding the River Common area, and they pride themselves in keeping the park in an attractive condition. Ball playing on the area will destroy the new grass.

Students are urged not to play ball or games of any kind on the area. To stroll or lie on the grass is quite permissible but games are absolutely prohibited.

The College has appreciated the cooperation of the Park commission, and we ask the students to cooperate.

EDITORIAL—

Mind Your Manners, Children

It was a shame to notice the discourtesy of about thirty Wilkes students at the assembly last Tuesday. The aforementioned minority evidently did not share the enthusiasm for the singing of the Collegians that was shown by the rest of the students. Maybe they were just starving to death and wanted to get to lunch, but the rudeness they displayed by leaving before the end of the program is inexcusable.

Perhaps the next time an assembly is held at the First Presbyterian Church the doors should be locked to prevent such an incongruous display of apathy before the public, and the performers. Perhaps the assembly period could be changed to one o'clock so that hunger does not dominate our manners.

The Collegians are one of the finest singing groups in this area, and to insult their singing merely shows the students' lack of plain culture.

A course in music or assembly manners might teach us when a program is over, what an encore is, and we might even learn the appropriate point at which to applaud; witness the time when the entire assembly burst into applause right in the middle of a solo being sung by one of the Warren Boy's Choir members.

A CROSS-SECTION OF YOUTH TO CONVENE AT ENCAMPMENT

A cross-section of American youth will meet this summer in Riverdale, New York, and in Berkeley, California, for an intensive six-week study and exploration of democratic ideals and leadership techniques.

Representing varied cultural, economic, racial, and religious backgrounds, these 200 young adults, ages 18 to 23, will exchange opinions and experiences with each other and with leading Americans in the 13th annual Encampment for Citizenship. The program is sponsored by the American Ethical Union.

The Encampment is a training ground for responsible citizenship. It provides its students with close-up views of vital sectors in our country's daily life. There are field trips and personal discussions at factories, unions and social welfare agencies. There are also guest lecturers, discussion groups, workshops, and film forums. All give students an opportunity to examine democracy's history and meaning, farm and rural problems, and challenges faced by our nation. Students put much of what they learn into the student-developed government which runs the summer community.

The Encampment is located on the campus of the Fieldston School in Riverdale, New York, and at the International House in Berkeley, California. It is staffed by experienced men and women from well-known colleges and civic institutions throughout the country. They live with the students in dormitories and work and study with them.

A recreation program is an important part of each day. There are facilities for swimming, softball, tennis, and a library, theater, and music room. These are supplemented by trips to major league baseball games, theaters, and sight-seeing excursions.

The cost per individual for the program is $350 for the full six weeks. Many partial and full scholarships are available from the Encampment Scholarship Fund. For further information contact Mr. Bhaerman of the Education Department, or write The Encampment for Citizenship, 2 West 64th Street, New York 23, New York.

Library Conference

The Wilkes College Library will be host tomorrow, Saturday, April 26, to the regular spring meeting of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Library Association. The library staff, which includes Mrs. Nada Vujica, head librarian; Mr. George Ermel, catalogue librarian; Mrs. Alice Schappert, circulation librarian; and assistants Elena Dovydenas and Marcia Rizzo will serve as hosts.

Registration will begin at 9:45 A.M. in the Stark Science Hall. Dr. Farley will address the representatives from the various northeastern Pennsylvania libraries at 10:15. Several speeches on various phases of library work will be given by the representatives in the morning. A tour of the Wilkes Library will begin at noon.

Luncheon will be held at 1 P.M. in the Commons.

The afternoon session will include a speech on college and reference section news by Mr. George Ermel.

General chairman of the program is Elizabeth Papsansky of the Scranton Public Library. President of the association is Margaret Mary Fisher, King's College.

IRC Members at Meeting

Nine members of the Wilkes International Relations Club, accompanied by Mr. Hotson of the Economics Department, attended an Intercollegiate Council on Government at Harrisburg last weekend.

Sessions were conducted along the lines of a model Congress, and the various representatives were members of congressional committees. The following were the Wilkes delegates and the commit-

ENGAGEMENTS.

Stein-Lebowitz

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lebowitz of 79 Beach Street, Wilkes-Barre, announce the engagement of their daughter, Evie Ann, to Jerome Stein, son of Mrs. Ida Stein Barish of Manhattan.

Miss Lebowitz is a sophomore elementary education major. Mr. Stein was graduated from Wilkes last June with an A.B. degree in biology. He is now a student at the New York College of Medicine.

The wedding will take place June 15 in the Ohav Zedek Synagogue, Wilkes-Barre. Les Weines, former classmate of the groom-to-be, will be best man.

Olivia-Fatsie

Mr. Frank Fatsie, 218 West Magnolia Avenue, Hazleton, announces the engagement of his daughter, Eileen, to Robert R. Olivia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Olivia, 624 Cleveland Street, Hazleton. Miss Fatsie is the daughter of the late Katherine Fatsie.

Miss Fatsie is a senior social studies major at Wilkes and is employed at the Hazleton Public Library. Mr. Olivia is a sophomore music student and also teaches clarinet and saxophone at the Market Street School, Hazleton.

Lord-Radler

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Radler of 342 West 8th St., Wyoming, announce the engagement of their daughter, Audrey Jean, to James E. Lord, son of Prof. and Mrs. B. Everett Lord of 786 Market Street, Kingston.

Miss Radler is a senior secondary education major and has recently completed her practice teaching at Coughlin High School. Mr. Lord is a sophomore engineering student.

A June wedding is planned.

PERSONALS

Robert E. Moran, band director of Wilkes, was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Collegiate Bandmasters Association at the 11th Pennsylvania State Intercollegiate Band Festival held at Moravian College, March 16.

Dr. Konstantin Symmons addressed the Wilkes College Faculty Seminar at its first meeting, Friday, April 14, on the topic, "Some Recent Comments and Observations on American Culture and Personality".

Several Wilkes College education students have accepted teaching positions in various districts. Joe Ludgate will teach elementary school in Clarks Summit, Nancy Schmalzriedt in the Wilkes-Barre City Schools. Paul Tracey will teach social studies in Havre de Grace, Maryland; Bob Jacobs, German and science in Meyers High School; Henriette Abenmoha, French in Hackensack, New Jersey; Emma Minimier, elementary school in Pennsbury, Pennsylvania; and Mary Louise Onufer, German and English in Union Township, New Jersey.

Members of the Wilkes College Education Club toured the Lafayette grade school in Wilkes-Barre on Thursday, April 17, to learn about actual teaching practices and also to view the relatively new city school.

Writer and Producer

Howard "Skinny" Ennis, a graduate of Wilkes, 1955, is presently working at station WFIL-TV in Philadelphia, where he is the writer and producer of a morning show. His show is along the lines of a general information format including news items of interest to the viewing audience.

Prior to his position at WFIL, "Skinny" had a western program at the Binghamton television studio where he was known as "Dusty Dan". His show appeared every afternoon. Since his departure from the "Dusty Dan" role, the Binghamton studio has reported numerous letters of inquiry, asking where "Dusty Dan" had gone.

The students of Wilkes will best remember "Skinny" Ennis by his excellent acting in past Cue 'n' Curtain productions at the college which include, Girl Crazy, The Nervous Wreck, All In Fun, Charlie's Aunt, Androcles and The Lion, and various one-act plays. In the summer of '55, "Skinny" appeared on the Sid Ceasar Show as an usher during a movie scene.

Students interested in writing to "Skinny" Ennis can send their mail in care of WFIL-TV, 46th and Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Any Name Will Do!

The hostess was making final arrangements for an elaborate reception. "Nora," she said to her veteran servant, "for the first half-hour I want you to stand at the drawing room door and call the guests' names as they arrive."

Nora's face lit up. "Thank you, ma'am," she replied. "I've been wanting to do that to some of your friends for the last twenty years."

Nice going, M.J. How's your garden these days?

In This Heat?

The Western Reserve University Reserve Tribune reported that — Girls make better Eskimos than men.

Why? Because they can get along with less clothing, says the newspaper. Editors weighed the winter clothing of one coed and one male student — everything from "unmentionables" to cuff links — and learned the girl wore 8 lbs., 12 ozs. of clothing, the boy 15 lbs., 3 ozs. — almost double.

National Hookup!

On Saturday, April 19, at exactly 1:40 p.m., a portion of the Eastern Colleges Science Conference (held at Wilkes) appeared on the National Broadcasting Company's weekend program, Monitor.

Don Stevens of Station WBRE narrated the 3-minute tape, in which he highlighted the purpose of the science conference.

A scientific experiment was also recorded on the tape, that of the sound of a mimosa plant withdrawing its leaflets from the stimulus of heat.

Confucius No Say!

... Killing Time is not murder; it is suicide.

... When all is said and done, usually more is said than done.

... Defeat only leaves a bitter taste if you swallow it.

New Room!

The Associated Collegiate Press reported some comments of students from the University of Michigan concerning the serving of beer in a student union taproom. The dean of men, Walter B. Rea, was quoted by Michigan Daily as saying, "If students are to drink and learn to drink like ladies and gentlemen there might be a better way than having to go off campus to drink." The University of Wisconsin has a student union taproom. Dean Rea commented that he didn't think it would ever go across at U.M.

Comments by students at U.M. were as follows:

... It could pose a problem to those under age — maybe segregate those under 21 from those over 21.

... We came here to study, not to drink.

... Drunkenness wouldn't be much of a problem. Social pressure would keep most from overstepping limits.

... Fabulous — but there are many questions on how it would be run.

... A realistic step towards a more sensible approach to the drinking problem.

... It would put too much responsibility on the union.

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL BEGINS, UMPIRES NEEDED; PAY, $1 A GAME

Al "Minnie" Manarski, student director of the intramural softball leagues, has announced that the teams have begun their schedules, but that there is a lack of personnel to handle the games as umpires.

Manarski, in his new role, was an all-round athlete at Wilkes before his athletic eligibility ran out this year, but he is keeping his hand in the diamond sport by handling the scheduling and assignment chores of the student leagues.

In an effort to provide the players with interested and capable umpires, says Manarski, the fee per game is $1.00. With twelve games scheduled each week for three weeks, an opportunity for some extra spending money is open to those who wish it.

The first week of play was marred by several forfeits. A few teams failed to be present with their full roster. Schedules for the entire season are posted on the bulletin board. For the convenience of our readers, next week's schedule of play is listed below:

Scranton Tops Golfers, Team Meets Sem Tues., Then Idle 'til May 10th

Under new head coach Welton G. Farrar, the golfers got their six-meet schedule underway this week on a somewhat sour note, dropping a 13½-4½ decision to the Scranton Royals at Irem Temple Country Club.

The score was an improvement, however, over the 17½-½ drubbing suffered last year at the hands of the same Scranton team. The encouraging weather of the past few days has made an even greater difference in the team. With grounds in more decent playing condition, the long drives are beginning to appear and the team seems ready for its exhibition match next week against the Wyoming Seminary team.

After that meet, the fairway Colonels will have a rest of nearly two weeks. They hope to use that time in readying a good lineup for the hot-and-cold Lycoming Warriors who will invade the Irem course on May 10. Lycoming, in its last meet, lost to St. Francis, 12-6.

Within six days of the Lycoming match, the Colonels will travel to Scranton, then host Moravian and Lycoming before the end of their schedule.

At the end of the season, Farrar hopes to send four men to the Middle Atlantic Conference Tournament, to be held at the American Legion Country Club in Mount Union. The tourney each year attracts the top collegiate golfers from the Conference, and coach Farrar is confident that he will be able to send a delegation which will represent Wilkes well.

TOMORROW'S TENNIS MEET AT MORAVIAN

Tomorrow the Colonel netmen journey to Bethlehem to take on the Moravian Greyhounds in their second tennis meet of the season. On Thursday they will take to the road again for a meet at Muhlenberg College.

For the first time, a Colonel tennis squad is entered in league play as one of the 18-school Northern division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

To qualify for championship of the loop, an institution must schedule at least eight matches with six different conference teams; and must play at least six of the matches, no less than four of them with teams from its own division.

Unless the Kirby Park courts are in playing order for the next home contest, May 12, Wilkes will be unable to fulfill any of these requirements.

A conference champion will be determined at the season's close by a playoff between the winners of the north and south league titles.

Don Stein, Labor; Don Wilkinson and Tom Oliver, Taxation and Finance; Gordon Roberts, Polls.

Stein and Wilkinson were among those appointed to state offices. According to Gordon Roberts, Wilkes representatives were successful in the passing of two bills dealing with labor and taxation and finance. The group submitted a bill proposing federal aid to education which was not passed, but through some "political maneuvering" they managed to defeat three additional opposing bills.

DIAMONDMEN PLAY ALBRIGHT, MIKE DYDO NAMED 'ATHLETE'

Wet grounds and threatening weather caused a postponement, until last night, of the Wilkes-Muhlenberg baseball game scheduled for Wednesday at Allentown. The game was played too late to meet the BEACON's press deadline.

The Colonels entered the contest with a 2-2 record, but hold a perfect 2-0 mark in Middle Atlantic Conference play. They hold wins over league foes Scranton and Moravian, while the ever-rough Rough Riders of Rider and the Warriors of Lycoming have turned in decisive wins of 9-2 and 7-2, respectively.

Tomorrow the Colonels travel to Albright for another conference tilt, they will host Scranton at Artillery Park, Tuesday, April 29 at 4 o'clock. On Wednesday, they will journey up to Ithaca for a non-league game with the Bombers, who will provide next Saturday's home opposition.

In the Moravian game, Wilkes captured the free-swinging contest, 11-5, after staying off a determined 8th inning Greyhound rally.

Dydo Named "Athlete"
Mike Dydo was the hitting hero of the day, getting three hits in four trips to the plate, one of them a mighty 360-foot drive over the left-field fence. Dydo scored three times, drove in three runs and played errorless ball at first. For this feat, he won the Beacon's Athlete of the Week Award. Space limitations in this week's issue prohibit the full coverage which the towering infielder so richly deserves.

Warriors Utilize Miscues
On Monday, taking advantage of a butterfingered Wilkes crew which committed five errors, the East Stroud Warriors scored once in the first and three times each in the second and third innings to coast to a 7-2 victory in a darkness-shortened non-league game.

The Warriors' Opplinger pitched a three-hitter, scattering the hits well throughout the six-inning game.

7 COLONEL BOWLERS SEEK TITLE HONORS

Sunday afternoon at 4:00, seven Wilkes bowlers will compete with some 150 men from approximately forty colleges and universities throughout the eastern half of the nation.

The seven representatives are: Dan Lewis, Pete Maholik, Hillard Hoffman, Ron Phillips, Emil Petrasek, Paul Katz, and Dick Myers. They will leave for New York Sunday morning and arrive at the Bowlmor Recreation, scene of the 8th Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Match Game Championships, after noon.

The tournament will be a straight elimination process, each bowler rolling eight consecutive games across sixteen alleys. Total pins will determine the semi-finalists. The sixteen top scorers will return the following week for eight more games to decide the eight finalists. Sunday night, May 4, the eight will bowl in head-to-head competition under the Petersen Point System, top man to be declared the Champion Intercollegiate Bowler of the Eastern Half of the United States.

Cue 'n' Curtain 'Holiday' Next Week

Marian Laines and Jerry Luft Will Share Spotlight Roles In Romantic Comedy of Manners

Mr. Al Groh, director of the Wilkes College Cue 'n' Curtain, announced that Marian Laines and Jerry Luft have been selected to play the leading roles in Holiday, the last major production of the group for this year. Holiday, a comedy of manners by Philip Barry, will be presented at the Irem Temple Thursday, Friday, and Saturday — May 1, 2, and 3.

Miss Laines, former president of Cue 'n' Curtain, has played in several Wilkes College musicals. Earlier in the year, she portrayed the Mormon's wife in Paint Your Wagon. Miss Laines will also head the costuming committee.

Luft starred in the two other major productions at the college this year. In Paint Your Wagon, he played the leading role of Ben Rumson, founder of the town. He also portrayed the prosecuting attorney in Witness for the Prosecution. He was more recently seen in the Cask of Amontillado, one of the group's three one-act plays.

Supporting roles will be played by experienced members of Cue 'n' Curtain. These include Nicki Rosenbaum, Sandra Shaffer, Phyllis Judge, Steve Poleskie, Stanley Yurkowski, Robbie Stevens, and Carroll Davenport.

Staging will be handled by Paul Abrams; Joe Oliver will act as technical director. Marianne Levenski will furnish the set design; Howard Allen, lighting. Steve Cooney is in charge of publicity.

Students will be admitted Friday and Saturday nights on their activity passes. The Thursday evening performance is for the Valley high school students. Additional tickets may be purchased for one dollar at the bookstore. Kiwanis season tickets will also be honored.

BEACON, AMNICOLA POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Mr. Cathal O'Toole, Amnicola advisor, has announced that applications for yearbook editorial positions are now being accepted. Letters of application may be addressed to Mr. O'Toole, care of the college, and must be in his hands before Wednesday, May 7.

Positions available for the '58-'59 Amnicola are: Editor, Assistant Editor, Photo Editor, Art Editor, Copy Editor, and Business Manager. Letters should state experience, if any, on a yearbook staff, positions held on a yearbook staff, major, year and position desired. Positions will be awarded on the basis of these letters. Letters of application for staff positions are also being considered at this time.

As announced last week, the Beacon is also accepting letters of application for the '58-'59 year. These letters must be addressed to Mr. Francis J. Salley, and should be in before Monday, May 5.

Positions to be awarded on the basis of these letters are: Editor,

I.D.C. STRONGLY RECOMMENDS HOBO HOP AS SPRING TONIC

by Marion J. Klawonn

Friends, are you caught in the vise? Have the spring activities taken your government check before you even got a good look at it? Are you having trouble borrowing enough money to go to the 'Cinderella'? Are you tired of dressing up? Well, the IDC is giving you the chance to kill two robins with one rock.

On May 2, the IDC will hold the "Hobo Hop" — an informal affair if there ever was one. The intermission program will feature the choosing of the best worst dressed girl and the best worst dressed boy. Each winner will receive a ticket to the May 9 Cinderella Ball.

A further attraction to the dance will be the music of Bob Moran and his Ivy Leaguers. The band will play a wide selection of music from 9 to 12. Tickets can be obtained from any IDC member or at a special table which will be set up in the Commons next Wednesday. Tickets will be on sale at the door. Price is fifty cents.

The new members of the editorial staffs of the Amnicola and Beacon will not be announced until the last issue of the Beacon on May 16. In order to meet this deadline, the Amnicola and Beacon advisors, Mr. O'Toole and Mr. Salley, must have the letters before the announced dates. The final date for Amnicola applications is Wednesday, May 7, and for the Beacon, Monday, May 5.

BIOLOGY LECTURE

Dr. T. Raymond Foley, obstetrician, addressed the Wilkes College Biological Society at their evening meeting, Wednesday, April 23.

His presentation entitled "The History of Operative Obstetrics" concerned the difficulties encountered in surgical delivery, the control of chemical balance during pregnancy, and the medical advances regarding obstetrics.

Dr. Foley, a graduate of the New York Medical College, served with the U. S. Air Force and is presently the chief obstetrician at the Wyoming Valley Hospital.

WHAT IS A POOR LOSER?

MARGOT BANNISTER, GRINNELL COLLEGE Bitter Quitter

THE MENTAL MARVEL mentioned above is so studious he made Phi Beta in his junior year — of high school! When he walks into classrooms, professors stand. The last time he got less than 100%, the proctor was cheating. When it comes to smoking, he gets straight A's for taste. He smokes (All together, class!) Lucky Strike! Naturally, our student is fully versed on the subject of Lucky's fine, light, good-tasting tobacco. He's well aware that it's toasted to taste even better. So when someone asks him for a cigarette, he's happy to spread the good taste. And that makes him a Kind Grind! Assignment: try Luckies yourself!

Don't just stand there... STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use — and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, New York.
